Triggs And Murray Faulkner, Connelly New Soph Officers

In the sophomore class elections held last Tuesday and Wednesday, John Triggs of Brockton, Massachusetts, was elected president by a plurality of nine votes over John Cassidy of Jersey City. The vote was one hundred sixteen to one hundred seven. Other officers elected were: vice-president, Robert D. Murray of Providence; secretary, Walter Faulkner of Hamden, Connecticut; treasurer, Robert Connelly of New Haven, Connecticut.

The vote was light as only three hundred-fifty-two sophomores, or 64% of the class, availed themselves of their duty to vote. The turnout, in as much as they had two days to vote, revealed a complete lack of interest in the election by the class.

Stephen Sulavik with sixty-four votes and Louis Ottaviano with sixty-two votes were the other unsuccessful presidential candidates.

Vice-president Robert Murray and secretary Walter Faulkner had pluralities of twenty-two and twenty-three votes respectively over their nearest

Air Display, Motorcade, Girls Included In Spirited J. A. Rally

In one of the largest displays of spirit shown by any organization on the P. C. campus in many years, the Junior Action Party climaxed a week of intensive campaigning by staging a mammoth rally on the campus Monday, replete with a motorcade, an aerial display, and women.

Headed by Finbar McCarthy and having as their candidates Alfred Navarette, Joseph Murray, Frank Conley, and Tom Holleran, and in an effort to revive some of the old time campus spirit, the party offered as its chief attraction a crew of girls from Pembroke headed by Miss Ginne Krause. Also included in the rally was a pair of motorcycles driven by A. D. Duva and Mal Di Semone. In the royal car, a Cadillac convertible driven by Roy Bartlett, were the candidates for president and vice-president, Alfred Navarette and Joseph Murray. The other cars were occupied by the party's press agent, Finbar McCarthy, dressed in a raccoon coat, derby hat, and smoking a cigar, and a few of the girls, carrying bouquets and sitting on a bearskin rug. The third car, driven by Leo Boulanger, completed the party of girls. Also in-

The plane also carried a fifteen foot streamer from the tail.

During the rally McCarthy presented Navarette with a silver cup and the latter presented McCarthy with a bottle of liquor. After the rally the

Herb Waters Wins Cross-Country Race

Herb Waters, a resident of Donnelly Hall, running for the Science team, won the Freshman cross-country race yesterday in the fine time of 9 minutes, 6 8/10ths seconds. The race was between runners of the Arts and Science teams.

Despite the efforts of Waters, Arts defeated Science by a score of 26-29 as a result of bunching their runners for important points.

Waters will run for the Freshman team this afternoon against Holy Cross.

Information Given On Student Program Of Fulbright Act

The Fulbright Act, Public Law 584, is the newest government aid to students. Through this bill graduate students may study abroad for one academic year. The U. S. The countries in which scholarships are available are: Australia, Austria, Belgium, Luxembourg, Burma, China, Egypt, France, Greece, India, Iran, Italy, Netherlands, New Zealand, Pakistan, Philippines, Turkey, and the United Kingdom.

The following questions, compiled by the Institute of International Education, are those most frequently asked by American students contemplating applying for a United States Government grant to study abroad under the Fulbright Act.

ELECTION

Electioneering at the College reached its peak of intensity this week. Flamboyant posters, ingeniously contrived, decorated bulletin boards, doors and walls. One gay pennant even flapped from the outside of Harkin's Hall. Some life-sized effigies which advertised the wares of promising candidates were situated at strategic points. School politics was in high gear.

Electioneering, with its campaign posters and literature not only provides a good deal of fun for all concerned but it also is a means of developing traits of initiative and leadership, which are the aims of a college education. Candidates for office must take the initiative even to toss their hats in the ring while those who win have an opportunity to display their leadership.

After the electioneering is over, the candidates put their fate in the hands of the student body. Those who cast their votes must decide on the basis of qualification the best men for the various offices. The test on which the vote is based should be one of character, personality and scholarship. In these qualities are found the material of leadership.

If the wrong man got into office, we feel sure that the fault lay not with the voters, but the non-voters.

ARCHITECTS OF PEACE

The United Nations celebrated its fourth birthday Monday, and with impressive ceremony President Truman laid the cornerstone for the new U.N. building in New York City before the assembled delegates of the 59 member nations.

Huge sums of money are being expended in order that this fitting memorial to the unity of nations will endure and withstand the ravages of time. Precise engineering, harmonized with the split-hair calculations of the architects and the technical know-how of the artisans, is producing a magnificent edifice that will remain intact for many years to come.

Can the architects and engineers of peace produce a like effect in the harmony of nations, a harmony that will withstand the repercussion of an atomic blast, be it on Bikini Atoll or behind the Iron Curtain? We fervently hope and pray that they can.

MUSIC

The opening of the Rhode Island Philharmonic Orchestra on Dec. 6 points to the need for a greater interest in good music here in Providence.

We at the College should support the Philharmonic not only for our own enjoyment and benefit but also in order to help raise the cultural level of Providence. Certainly, if we haven't yet started to become familiar with classical music it is time we did. While jazz and the like have a definite place in the world of music it remains true, nevertheless, that classical music has a universal appeal that is timeless.

For great music never dies. Through the centuries its quality and beauty remain in demand while popular music is forever fading and changing.

We needn't feel that we must be avid students of good music. Though inexperienced in the world of

CAMPUS TOURS

By James C. Williams, '50

Brown's daily paper reports that they are having trouble interpreting the Rules for Student Government which is part of the Cammarian Club's constitution. The Cammarian Club governs student activities. The Code is the second step in the development of student government at Brown.

A long range schedule for examinations is a recent innovation at Brown. Previously exam schedules had been published, as are our own, a week or two before they took place. This new system was instituted at the request of the students and of the faculty. It will enable both to allocate their time better. The idea of spreading the examinations over as long a period as possible has also been adopted.

Perhaps the "Cowl" could add another feature which I have observed in most of the papers of other schools, that is, a list of Coming Events. A brief chronological list of those events which are to take place in the immediate future, and possibly containing a very concise explanation or description of the event also, would keep students easily posted on activities.

Maybe the "Cowl" should add a column featuring movie reviews. It could be made comparable to the book review section. If the "Cowl" editors would, just for a moment, adopt a realistic attitude they would realize how few P. C. men can read or do read. Yet they all go to the movies.

"The New Hampshire" recently gave forth with a long editorial entitled, "Grading the Profs." It begins in realizing that the issue is highly controversial. Many fear any such system because they believe that students would use it to voice their personal disappointments and prejudices. Obviously, their argument would run, a failing student will transfer his own ineptitude to his teacher. However, such things can be taken into consideration in judging the student's appraisal.

There would be, the editorial points out, many advantages to such a system. "It could be used to determine the relative merits of the teaching staff." "The grading of professors can also be of immeasurable assistance to the administration in determining the effectiveness of both individual instructors as well as entire departments."

When I read the brief paragraph which I have quoted below it struck me as remarkably applicable to some of our own professors who cause their bewildered students to wonder at the philosophic possibilities of having a trinity of four. "Many professors are prone to feel that their methods and personal philosophies are not to be questioned. Their technique is that of the dogmatist—to the student they are apparently 'little gods.'"

The editorial ends by saying that "it must be realized that many professors will not favor such an undertaking." But, "an intelligent professor will take his student's comment seriously."

It seems to me that the simplest and the least objectionable of such systems would be to have each senior serious music, we should not shy from it. The secret is to relax and enjoy the music. The taste for it will come as a matter of course.

When the Philharmonic opens in Providence on Dec. 6, a large delegation from the College should be there to welcome it. It will be an evening well spent.

THAT'S THE SPIRIT

To paraphrase a familiar ditty: There's no spirit like school spirit. This spirit was amply demonstrated in the recent elections, and from here it looks good. It gives one, among other things, sufficient material to store away in the book of anecdotes about college life for the edification of the next generation. It's something this campus has been sadly lacking since the pre-war days and now sorely needs. Don't stop now, men. Keep up the spirit. It's good.

CLASS ELECTIONS

CAMPUS QUIPS

By Bob Simpson-Dan Shea

We have received our Hooper Rating. After finding out that we owe Hooper three points, we retch once more anyway.

The class elections dominate the campus. Therefore they deserve our attention. We are rating the elections on the basis of the fervor and effort which the nominees have put into the campaign.

The Seniors are quite active. They have entered into a campaign which appeals to the poetic sense of the student body. Such nebulous knowledge as "Foil Flurried Foolosophers" or "Chock Childish Chatter" have been thrust upon us. This reeks of that mechanical device known as "Poetic Illiteracy". We would rate them as pseudo-cultural.

Juniors CRIPES!

The Sophomores have been creating quite a clamor which smacks of the mobbish instinct of the Freshmen and the newly found erudition of the Juniors. Neither of which are particularly desirable. They have promised everything but a private rotunda for the athletes. One of the nominees has even gone so far as to promise to bring back football New around here sonny, aren't you?

Rating — boorish.

To the Freshmen, who won't be in elections for a few weeks, we hope you won't be misled by the over-active thyroids of the upperclassmen. This whole business of elections is a very serious affair. Know your classmates, nominate cautiously and vote wisely.

We have a gem.

This morning the distinguished chairman (that's a physical distinction) of the philosophy department, told his kiddies that if they were to ride the rays of the setting sun, they would eventually slide into all the planets of the universe. Let me have a drag of that before you throw it away, Father.

Answer of the week. One of the students was asked: "Name one of God's gifts to Adam?" Answer: "Eve". Well, here comes the sun ray from Mars. Goodbye, now.

Navy Wants 1200 Aviation Trainees

Wanted: 1200 Naval Aviation Cadets. This offer has been tendered by the Secretary to all qualified, unmarried American men between the ages of 18 and 27.

In selecting the applicants preference will be given to those who have graduated from an accredited college in a course normally requiring four academic years to complete. However, applicants who have graduated from by obtaining the maximum of education successfully completed not less than one-half the requirements for graduation in a four-year college course may be able to meet the minimum requirements.

In commenting on the program, the Chief of Naval Personnel reiterated the Navy's policy of "Stay in School." The Navy encourages students to stay in college and graduate, being convinced that young men will serve themselves and their country better by obtaining the maximum of educational background. However, for the students who having successfully completed college or must leave after two years due to economic or personal reasons, the Navy offers an unsurpassed opportunity for young men to qualify as Naval Aviators.

Selected applicants will be enlisted as naval aviation cadets and ordered to naval air flight training. They must agree to serve on active duty for four years unless sooner released and must remain unmarried until they win their wings.

Upon successful completion of the course the NavCads will be designated as Naval Aviators and commissioned as Ensigns in the Naval Reserve or as Second Lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve. Those who fail in flight training will be discharged from the service, or at their own requests transferred to a classification in the Naval or Marine Corps Reserve for which qualified. Depending upon the needs of the regular service, a limited number of those who qualify as naval aviators may, after not less than 18 months' active commissioned service as reserve officers, qualify for appointment as career officers in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps.

In announcing the Navy's NavCad program, Secretary Francis P. Matthews commented: "It is of vital importance to our National Security that Naval Aviation strength be assured by the maintenance of a well trained Reserve. The Naval Aviation Cadet Program offers splendid opportunity for young men to qualify as naval aviators, to win an officer's commission and join that select group of men who contribute to the supremacy of America, Naval air power."

Detailed information on the NavCad program, including application blanks, may be obtained from the nearest Naval Air Station, Navy Recruiting Station, or Office of Naval Officer Procurement.

Present Painting To Father Slavin

The Rev. Robert J. Slavin, O.P., President of the College, was presented an oil painting of himself, done by Mr. De Cotis, at a dinner meeting of the Newport Chapter of the Providence College Alumni Association. General Chairman of the affair was Mr. James Marr.

Veterans Reminded Of Entrance Rules

A reminder to veterans that the law will not permit them to take GI Bill courses in schools which have not been in operation on their own for at least a year, nor in schools not having approval of an appropriate State Approving Agency, was issued today by H. P. Mara, Chief, Vocational Rehabilitation, office of the Veterans Administration.

Mara urged all veterans planning to go to school under the GI Bill, with certificates of eligibility now in their possession, to make certain the school is permitted by law to offer training to veterans at Government expense. A veteran may check the status of the school he wishes to attend by calling at, or writing to, his nearest VA Office.

Certificates are valid, according to Mara, only in those educational institutions or training establishments where GI Bill training is permitted by law. If a veteran enters a school that has not been in operation for a year or does not have Approving Agency Approval, he will receive no subsistence and he will be required to pay his own tuition and supply costs, even though he has a certificate of eligibility. Hence the necessity or having the VA check present certificates.

Veterans who apply for certificates of eligibility after November 1 need not check the status of their school. All certificates issued after that date will bear the name of the course and the school, and will be good only for the designated course and school.

Glee Club Appoints Ben de Lellis, '51

Ben DeLellis, '51, was appointed chairman of the Constitution Committee of the Providence College Glee Club last Wednesday evening at the regular meeting of that organization. Appointed to serve on the committee were Ben Danehy, '51, Francis Farren, '52, James Sweeney, '52, Paul Kerrigan, '52, and Charles Schlegel, '52.

In making the appointments, Vin Messler, '50, President of the Glee Club, stressed the need of a strong constitution to enforce attendance at meetings. "The Glee Club," he said, "is now a major extra-curricular activity. Those who wish to belong to it and make trips with it must recognize this fact and give the Glee Club preference over other less important campus organizations when a conflict arises. All members of the Glee Club are expected to attend all meetings and must be prepared to make every trip that the Glee Club undertakes."

Veterans Urged To Support Legislation

The Student Congress, through a notice on its bulletin board, urges all veterans to take a special interest in Bill S-2596 that has just passed the Senate and is reported out of committee in the House.

This bill would nullify certain V. A. restrictions under Public Law 266, which are to take effect November 1.

The restrictions that this bill would overcome are: a) the invalidation of existing certificates of eligibility and entitlement; b) limitation of G.I. ed-

Debaters Open With Intramural Contests

The Providence College varsity Debating Club, The Barristers, started its season Monday, Oct. 24, with the first of a series of intramural debates.

This year the Club has a new moderator, Rev. Irving A. Georges, O.P., of the Philosophy Department.

The Club plans a very active season this year, with intramural debates several times a week, and several inter-collegiate road trips. The schedule calls for a trip to the tournament to be held at the University of Vermont, Nov. 18, 19. Stops will be made at Middlebury College, and St. Michael's College. Next semester the team will make a trip to New York.

The Club has a large group of new members and four members of last year's team, Francis J. Parente, Gerard Cadorette, Peter Burns and Henry J. Keenan, all SENIORS.

Taunton Club Elects J. Lynch President

Four Seniors were elected as this year's officers for the Taunton Club at a meeting held last Friday evening at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Taunton. The officers are: James F. Lynch, Jr., President; Edward J. Castle, Vice-President; James E. Blount, Secretary, and William R. Silva, Treasurer.

New Freshmen members were welcomed at the meeting. An intramural football team was organized. The policy of monthly Communion in a body will be continued.

According to James F. Lynch, President, the club's plans for the coming year include a raffle, a Christmas party and a dance. Mr. Lynch, in discussing the policy of the club, said: "Although the club is still in the process of expansion, we believe that the Taunton Club will grow to be a real factor in the social life of Taunton students."

ucation benefits to one course; c) the statement that transfers from one institution to another may be permitted by the VA only if the transfer can be made without loss of credit; and d) the requirement that veterans who change their course must submit "complete justification that the course is necessary for employment."

Rev. F. V. Fennell, O.P., treasurer of Providence College, wrote a letter to the Honorable Amie J. Forand, Congressman from Rhode Island, urging him to back the bill on behalf of the 815 veterans who are in the school.

Congressman Forand in a return letter promised Fr. Fennell that he would do his best to pass the bill in the next session of Congress reconvening in January.

In the meantime, the Student Congress urges all veterans to write their Congressmen and ask them to back this bill in order that the interest of veterans will not be bypassed through these restrictions.

P. C., HOLY CROSS X-COUNTRY RUN TODAY

SPORTS PANORAMA

By Dave Connors, Jr.

FIRST TIME . . .

For the first time in the history of Providence College a Cross-Country meet will be held on the campus when the Friars play host to the Holy Cross harriers this afternoon at 4 o'clock. P. C. had a Cross-Country team a year ago for the first time but all meets took place on foreign courses.

Harry Coates, the Friar mentor, does not expect too much from his harriers this afternoon, but there is a suspicion that Holy Cross might run up against a fairly strong array of distance men when the P. C. contingent lines up at the start of the race. While Coates has made no secret of the fact that Cross-Country at P. C. at this time is little more than a conditioner for track, it must be remembered that Coates never goes in for a thing half-heartedly. Although his main objective at the present may be to get his runners in condition for the winter meets on the board tracks, I wouldn't be surprised to see the Friars make a creditable showing this afternoon.

The spectators at the meet this afternoon will be able to sit in the stands on Hendricken Field and see both the start and the finish of the race. In addition by scampering to the top of the stands a good part of the race will be in view of the spectators.

Coates plans to send the Varsity harriers off on their three mile run first and then immediately afterwards send the Frosh away on a two mile course. By doing this there should be continuous action at the finish. The Frosh runners should come across first with their Varsity brethren right behind.

SECRET PRACTICE

By now most of the students have seen the SECRET PRACTICE sign hanging on all doors of the gymnasium in Harkins Hall. With the introducing of a new system and many other phases of the game demanding the full attention of all in the gym, Coach Cuddy has decided to keep all but the players and managers from the confines of the gym at least for this season. It is hoped that the students realize the problem a new coach is confronted with and will not think too harshly of this action on the part of Cuddy. In fact at most colleges it is the practice to conduct sessions in this manner.

Beginning next week, the Varsity will be moving to Mount Pleasant for most of their practice sessions and the Athletic Office has issued a notice that no spectators will be allowed to watch practice there.

This was one of the stipulations set forth by the Mount Pleasant authorities when they granted the use of the gym to the P. C. Team.

DROPPING BY THE WAYSIDE:

Last week saw another batch of upsets on the football fields of the nation, and there are few undefeated and untied major teams left, the most prominent being Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Cornell, and California. And this list promises to be reduced before the season goes much farther. Where and when is hard to tell, but footballs take funny bounces, and it is very difficult in this day and age for a team to go through the season with a perfect slate.

Every year about this time the fans all over the nation start talking of the dream game. This year everyone would like to see Notre Dame and Army play and before many more weeks the papers will be filled with demands for such a contest. Last year it was Michigan and Notre Dame and the year before the same two teams were the subject of much controversy as to their relative merits and there was much agitation for a contest between the two.

I think the simplest solution to all this hodge podge would be for all these teams to get back on the Notre Dame schedule. Notre Dame always seems to be the party of one part when this seasonal dream game is talked about.

Friar Basketball Drills Continue

By Francis S. Kane

The honeymoon is over. Life, with all of its hard work and vigorous trials, must now be experienced once again. Thus, may the present state of affairs confronting the Providence College basketball team be described.

With only five and one half weeks remaining before the opening contest, Coach Vin Cuddy has begun to drive his charges at an accelerated pace through a full weekly schedule.

Now that the preliminary organization period has been completed and with most of the athletes beginning to round into fair condition, it is possible to step up the pace and get down to the very arduous and necessary task of mastering fundamentals.

Coach Cuddy, who is a firm believer in the theory that a successful attack can only be developed from a basis of sound fundamentals, is conducting each practice session with particular stress being placed on the mechanics required of a player in his system.

Operating from a modified fast break with attached play patterns, the system demands exact execution of certain individual skills if any degree of success is hoped for.

So without even a tendency toward eliminating any of the numerous practice moments necessary to becoming proficient in each particular pass or pivot, both coach and squad drive onward toward the fleeting quest of perfection in their art.

Looking slightly further into the future, several other aids are also being prepared to help the squad ready itself for Assumption on December third. The most important of these is probably the two scheduled practice games to be played with the University of Connecticut at Storrs.

The first of these engagements is to be held early next month. At this time, Coach Cuddy will gain an opportunity to observe the progress that his charges are making and the outcome of the meeting will definitely effect the tempo that is to be set in later practice sessions.

Sometime immediately before the opening of the schedule, a second meeting will be held with the probable purpose of putting the finishing touches on the squads' style of performance.

Frosh Candidates Report To Martin

Candidate for the Providence College Freshmen basketball team reported to Frosh coach Hal Martin Monday of this week. For the first week or so Martin plans only light drills with calisthenics and outdoor running.

Next week the Frosh candidates will be in the gymnasium every day. With the Varsity squad scheduled to hold a majority of their practice sessions at Mount Pleasant, the Frosh will have Harkins Hall to themselves.

Martin had the Frosh outside during the first few days of the week, and the boys did plenty of running. A large turnout of candidates answered the first call, with quite a few real big boys among them.

CRUSADERS FAVORED OVER FRIARS FRESHMAN RACE ALSO SCHEDULED

By Jack Shea

Coach Harry Coates will send his Friar harriers into their first formal competition this afternoon as the Crusaders from Holy Cross invade Providence in quest of their first victory. Holy Cross has lost to powerful Yale, Dartmouth, and Harvard so far this season, but a loss to any of these Ivy league powers is no indication that the visitors from Worcester are not plenty strong. The race will get underway at Hendricken Field at 4 p. m.

New Haven Club Still Winning

By Dick Boulet

Five games were scheduled in the intramural football game last week. In the closest game of the week, Guzman I and Guzman II played to a 6-6 tie. Last year's champion, the New Haven Club, stamped itself as the team to beat, by walloping the Soph Science squad, 37-6. Senior Science stayed in the running with its 27-6 win over the Avengers, as did the La Salle I team by virtue of an 18-0 victory over Pawtucket. In the fifth game scheduled, the Taunton Club was awarded a forfeit victory over the Rex Travelers.

After three weeks of play three teams are still undefeated, La Salle with three wins, and New Haven and Senior Science with two apiece. Scorings thus far are Heavren and McGurkin, of New Haven, each having scored 13 points. Close on their heels are Poirier of La Salle and Brady of the Avengers, both of whom have scored 12 points.

The football skill competition will start Monday, October 31st. Anyone wishing to compete should sign up in room 106. Events included are passing for distance and accuracy, punting for distance and accuracy, and a three-man team—total yardage kicking contest.

All cafeteria quarterbacks interested in seeing some good touch football can do so by walking over to Hendricken Field any afternoon about one o'clock.

The P. C. forces will be led by Captain Gerald McGurkin, the high flying Burnside Eagle. The remainder of the Providence Varsity squad will be composed of Bill Keenan, John McMullen, Frank Kilbride, Frank Hannaway, Frank Lusier, Bob Couture, Paul Berthiane, and John McConnell. Holy Cross will bring a varsity team composed of Co-Captains George McVey and William Feeney, along with Richard Ahern, Henry Jerome, Paul Gannon, Ed Cunningham, Lawrence Becklerle, Tom O'Donnell, and Carroll Measley.

A Freshman Cross Country race will also be held between the two squads. The P. C. yearling team consists of Dick Johnson, Bob Tiernan, Dick Tiernan, Herbert Waters, Dick Sydlowski, Jean Gagnon, Guido Galli, John Fontaine, Paul Barrett, and James Gorman. The Holy Cross Frosh will be led by Captain William Brennan. The remainder of the team includes Edward Coughlin, Ralph Williams, Salvatore Marra, Armand Garafalo, and James Brogioli.

The Varsity race will be over a distance of three miles. The runners will start by circling Hendricken Field twice, going out the gate and down to Annie Street, below St. Thomas House. They then will cut across the Good Shepherd farm, go up Huxley Avenue to Eaton Street to River Avenue, through the River Avenue gate to Hendricken Field, around the field once and then out and around the course once again. A spectator sitting in the stands at Hendricken Field therefore will be able to view the race at four different stages.

girls were taken on a tour of the campus and then served dinner in the cafeteria. They expressed delight at the proceedings. After lunch they were escorted back to their dormitories by the committee.

The party's platform is a revival of old-time spirit. Said an official statement: "We feel that the average student graduates without ever knowing half of the other students graduating with him and we are out to change this by offering more rallies and religious activities with individual student participation. In this way an active student can get to know all his fellow classmates. We feel that college social life is almost as important as academic life, so, with ardent enthusiasm we start out on a new program of greater student participation in each and every activity already on the campus. Whether our bloc is selected or not, we will do our best to spur all student activities."

4. Is an undergraduate eligible? At present, awards are given only to candidates holding a Bachelor's degree or its equivalent by the time the award is accepted.

5. Are these scholarships open to all qualified U. S. citizens?

Yes. Where qualifications are equal, veterans receive preference, but lack of veteran status does not disqualify. Women and married students are also eligible.

8. May I apply at any time and for any country?

You may file a preliminary application card at any time for any country listed, but application blanks are available only on announcement of the opening of a competition for that country. If you send in a preliminary card, you will be notified when the competition opens.

9. Are there any limitations as to fields in which I may study?

No, except where an announcement of a competition so specifies.

10. How do I gain admission to an educational institution abroad?

The U. S. Education Foundation or Commission abroad will obtain admission to a foreign educational institution. Your preference will be considered in so far as possible, but acceptance of the placement as arranged is a condition of an award.

11. What are the terms of award?

Awards are made entirely in the currencies of the participating countries and ordinarily cover transportation, tuition, books or equipment, and maintenance for one academic year. All arrangements for transportation are made by the Foundation.

12. How much maintenance allowance?

This varies according to the cost of living in each country. It is sufficient to meet normal living expenses during one school year. It does not cover the expenses of a family, but when the student is accompanied by a dependent the maintenance grant may be somewhat higher. Transportation of dependents is the financial responsibility of the student.

13. May a veteran receive benefits under Public Law 346 and 548 concurrently?

Yes. However, a veteran may choose to postpone his G.I. benefits until his return, and depend upon Fulbright funds exclusively for normal expenses.

14. May I apply for a short-term chapter, established only since 1948, to approximately one hundred. The members, who are grouped into a students and adults section, are pledged to strive for Christian perfection in a manner befitting their secular mode of life, and, forming an integral part of the Order of Friars Preachers, share in all the spiritual favors of the Brothers and Sisters of the world-wide Order.

While, at present, the students section has no professed Tertiaries from among whom officers could be elected, Father Rubba explained that in order to promote efficiency and coordination, the following men have been appointed as acting officers: Edward R. Coogan, '50 of Fall River, Prior; Edward Dragon, '50, of Pawtucket, Novice Master; Edmond C. Micarelli, '50, of Providence, Secretary; and Anthony E. Williams, '50, of Bristol, Treasurer.

The profession will highlight a year rich with spiritual value. Last Friday night at 7:30, a series of hour-long meetings to be held every week for Tertiaries and other interested persons as a part of the extension school program, was inaugurated in room 208 of Harkins Hall. The initial session was attended by the Most Rev. Emanuel Suarez, O.P., Master General of the Dominican Order, who gave his blessing, as well as the Apostolic blessing of the Holy Father.

The Friday night meetings will be conducted by Father Rubba, the Rev. John J. Jurasko, O.P., and the Rev.

VETERANS' ACCOUNTS

Veterans' accounts will be closed Oct. 29. Books and supplies must be obtained before that date at the College Bookstore.

William A. Hinnebusch, O.P. The latter preached a highly successful retreat to a crowded group of Tertiaries at the Cenacle, Newport, September 20, 21, and 22.

Father Rubba noted that "only one meeting a month is obligatory by rule, but all members are urged to attend the weekly meetings on Friday." He also reiterated that all students are welcome to join the Order.

The rule of the Order is best stated as being the code of conduct of any good-living Catholic. The Tertiary, living in the world while partaking of the life of the great Dominican community, can spread the Catholic way of living most effectively by example, for his rules are those followed by sincere and enlightened Catholic men and women.

Following a period of probation, usually lasting three months, during which the potential member may "think it over," he may, if he wishes, enter the Order as a novice for a period of one year. During this time the novice should read the office or say three Rosaries daily. At the end of his novitiate, he may, if he desires, and if he is approved by the Director and Council, be accepted into the Order.
