

Providence College

DigitalCommons@Providence

Commentary

1776 (1976)

Fall 12-5-1975

Letter from R.L. Pelkington, O.P.

R. L. Pelkington, O.P.
Providence College

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.providence.edu/seventysix_commentary

Part of the Theatre and Performance Studies Commons

Recommended Citation

Pelkington, O.P., R. L., "Letter from R.L. Pelkington, O.P." (1975). Commentary. 1.
https://digitalcommons.providence.edu/seventysix_commentary/1

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the 1776 (1976) at DigitalCommons@Providence. It has been accepted for inclusion in Commentary by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@Providence. For more information, please contact dps@providence.edu.

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE

PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND 02918

Theatre Arts Program

5 December 1975

In honor of our nation's two hundredth anniversary, Providence College Theater Arts Program is planning to stage the patriotic musical dealing with the birth of our country, "1776". The production of "1776" will be the most challenging production ever staged on the Providence College campus. Unfortunately, it will also be the most costly.

To help make "1776" a successful salute to our nation's founders, we are planning to help subsidize the expenses of this production by accepting advertising in our Theatrical Programme. "1776", the musical in which Rhode Island's contribution to the cause of American Independence is a key feature, is scheduled to be staged from February the 17th through the 22nd. It will have a potential audience of 2,500 patrons.

We ask you to help share in this Bicentennial pageant by subscribing to one advertisement. Please fill out the enclosed form and use the self-addressed, stamped envelope. Thank you for your kind consideration.

Sincerely,

Rev. R. L. Pelkington, O.P.

Rev. R. L. Pelkington, O. P.
Chairman
Theater Arts Program