THE WORLD'S A STAGE

Since all the world is a stage, the Theater Arts Program at Providence College is not just a program for students who desire to acquire theories and skills in preparing themselves for the professional, community and academic stages, it is also a means of acquiring a liberal arts education through the theater.

Religion, Philosophy, Sociological and Political trends as well as the sciences in theater technology have all found an open forum on the stage down through the ages. A serious student can realize the artistic and creative side of the human person as well as the intellectual side of the human person in the Theater Arts Program at Providence College.
