Message

In just over half a century, Gian Carlo Menotti's opera, Amahl and the Night Visitors, has taken its place alongside Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker and Händel's Messiah as one of the most beloved of all modern Christmas classics. Like his illustrious predecessors, Menotti captured in music and drama that special mixture of mystical wonder and miraculous joy which exemplifies the Christmas spirit. Inspired, so it is said, by Bosch's painting, the Adoration of the Kings, colored by the composer's own childhood memories of Christmas traditions in Italy, and written originally for television, (the first opera ever to be so conceived), Amahl had its premiere on Christmas Eve, 1951, in a national broadcast by NBC-TV. With its magical blending of drama and comedy, fable and history, medieval morality play and lushly lyric opera, Menotti's masterpiece became an instant classic. Today it continues to move and enchant audiences, both young and old alike.

Biographies

Elizabeth Grace, '08 (Amahl), is a junior at Providence College and studies music with a concentration in performance. She studies voice with David Harper and previously studied with Barbara Youmans. In addition to singing with the Opera Workshop, she has also performed with the college's choral groups I Cantori, Women's Chorus, Liturgical Choir, and with the Early Music Ensemble. A Massachusetts native, she has sung with numerous choral groups in the Southeastern Massachusetts area and is currently a cantor at St. Mary's Cathedral in Fall River. In addition to her musical concentration, Elizabeth also studies theology and is a member of the Honors Program

Marie Putko, '09 (Amahl), As a sophomore Music major, Marie has performed with I Cantori, Concert Chorale, Women's chorus, Liturgical Choir, Schola, and Opera Workshop. She studies private voice with Hillary Nicholson. She played Sarah in the Providence College production of Company and will perform in the spring production of Funny Girl. This past summer she was a member of the PC Touring Choir in Russia, and she also gave private voice and piano lessons from her home in El Paso, Texas. She would like to thank her family for their constant love and support, and for traveling all this way to see the opera!

Nancy Anastadis, '08 (His Mother), a senior at Providence College, is thrilled to be a part of Amahl. She is currently involved with PC's productions of Agnes of God and Funny Girl as well. Nancy's favorite moments at PC have included playing Jenny in Company, Julie Jordan in Carousel, and being in Brigadoon as a freshman. A Theater major and Music minor, Nancy plans to enter graduate school in the fall to pursue her MFA. Her experiences at PC with her teachers and friends have been magical and hold a very special place in her heart.

Kevin Black, '09 (King Kaspar), Kevin Black is a junior at Providence College with a double major in Music and Theater. This is his third year participating in Opera Workshop. Additionally, Kevin has appeared on the Blackfriar's stage as Mr. Snow in Canousel, Larry in Company, and will play Eddie in Funny Girl this upcoming spring. During the summer, Kevin is a music director for the Sayville Summer Opera Workshop and was conductor for The Magic Flute and The New Moon. After graduating from Providence College, Kevin hopes to attend graduate school and continue pursing a career in opera and theater.

Thomas Leschke, '10 (King Melchior), originally from Oshkosh, Wisconsin, is currently in his sophomore year at Providence College. He is a member of the Liberal Arts Honor Program, and is a pre-med student with a music performance major. This is his second year in Opera workshop and was Peter in last semester's performance of Company. In addition to classical music, Tom plays the guitar and is a singer/songwriter in the process of producing a CD with his brothers in Wisconsin that is to be released next fall.

Nicholas Hebert, '10 (King Balthazar), Amahl and the Night Visitors marks Nick's third performance with PC Black Friars. Previously, Nick performed in Carousel (Ensemble) and Company (Paul). In 2008, Nick can be seen in the Spring Production of Funny Girl, where he'll be preparing for the role of "Nick Arnstein." Nick is a junior at PC, studying Health Policy Management and American Studies. When Nick is not on stage or in the classroom, he enjoys playing intramural sports and working at the Office of Academic Services as a "Civ Tutor." Nick thinks Amahl is a wonderful story, serving as an important reminder for the upcoming Christmas celebration. A special thanks to Nick's parents and his two brothers for their continuous support. Nick would like to thank David, Hillary, and everyone else involved in making this production such an amazing experience.

James Parker, '09 (The Page), Born in California and now living in Maryland, James K. Parker III is making his stage debut tonight. Mr. Parker is a third year student at Providence College, majoring in Music Education with a concentration on Euphonium. He currently studies with Kevin Kane. Along with Opera Workshop, Mr. Parker is the principle Euphonium player for the Providence College Wind Ensemble. He is also a member of The Gil Evans Band, Providence College Concert Chorale and Providence College Traveling Choir. Mr. Parker has played in the pit orchestra for the college's production of Carousel and will be performing in the pit for the up and coming show, Funny Girl. Mr. Parker has be a guest player for the Festival band and for the Providence College Orchestra. Outside of the music world, Mr. Parker is an active member of the Board of Multicultural Affairs and the Vice President of Afro-Am. Mr. Parker would like to acknowledge his mother for helping him in reaching his goals and all of the family and friends that have also helped push him to where he needed to be. He would also like to thank David Harper and Hilary Nicholson for all the hard work they put in helping us make this show a success.
