THIS VOLUME RECORDS THE NEWS STORIES OF THE START OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS AT PROVIDENCE COLLEGE.

THE CONTESTS PLAYED IN 1920 WERE UNDER-TAKEN WHEN THEIR WERE ONLY TWO CLASSES—SOPHOMORES AND FRESHMEN-- ENROLLED. THE SAME SITUATION EXISTED FOR THE BASEBALL SEASON IN 1921.

WITH THE ENROLLMENT OF A THIRD CLASS IN THE FALL OF 1921 FOOTBALL COMPETITION WAS BEGUN. VARSITY BASKETBALL WAS ALSO STARTED IN DECEMBER OF 1921 BUT THE SPORT WAS DISCONTINUED AFTER THE FIRST GAME IN JANUARY 1922. IN SPITE OF THE FACT THAT ONLY THREE CLASSES WERE ENROLLED THE COLLEGE ENGAGED IN A FULL BASEBALL SCHEDULE WITH VARSITY TEAMS OF LEADING COLLEGES IN NEW ENGLAND.

WITH THE ARRIVAL OF THE FRESHMAN CLASS IN THE FALL OF 1922 THE FULL FOUR CLASS CYCLE WAS COMPLETED AND FOR THE FIRST TIME THE PROVIDENCE TEAMS WERE IN A POSITION TO COMPETE ON EQUAL TERMS WITH THEIR COLLEGE OPPONENTS.

Bentley Stars for Losers, Scoring Six Field Goals and Nine Points on Tries from Foul Line. Hill, Haslam and Dunn Make Nine Baskets Apiece.

Rhode Island State College opened its basketball season last evening in Kingston with an exhibition game with Providence College. The visitors were greatly outclassed by the fast State collegians, who rolled up a score of 87 to 25.

The game was an excellent exhibition of teamwork on both sides, but Coach Keaney's boys showed an exceptional cleverness in getting the ball through the basket.

Bentley was the only man on the Providence College outfit who gave the Rhode Island boys any trouble. He scored six out of the eight floor goals made by Providence College and made good on nine foul tries.

Dunn, Hill and Haslam of Rhode Island each scored nine baskets, and Hudson was just behind with a total of seven.

CITY COLLEGIANS

TRIM LA SALLE 3-2

Coach: Duff's Providence Boys
Open Season with Victory.

ERRORLESS BALL BY LOSERS

McCaffrey Pitches Great Game, Allowing but Three Hits and Fanning 12.—Dolan Saves Team in Ninth, by Catching Hot Line Drive with Two On.

The Providence College team opened its baseball season yesterday afternoon at Davis Park, handing the La Salle team a 3-2 defeat.

McCaffrey pitched a great game and should have had a shutout but for two bad throws by Dunphy, the misplays of the third baseman costing both runs, assisted by a wild throw by Langello. McCaffrey allowed but three hits and fanned 11 men.

The defense work of La Salle was commendable, the team playing errorless ball. The Providence College boys were the first to score, tallying in the first inning for one run. Langello worked his way to first, stole second and was batted in on Burke's Texas League. In the seventh frame the Black and White scored two more runs. Tully led off with a single to centre and stole second. Dore, the next man up, fanned, but Cal Casey came through with a bingle to right for one base. Dolan kept up the good work by slamming a single to right. Casey: Casey. This ended the scoring for the city college nine.

La Salle up to the eighth could do nothing with McCaffrey's baffling delivery. In this inning the academy boys scored a couple of runs. Robinson worked for a starter. McGeough flied out to Burke, but Morrissey singled to left, Robinson taking third on the play. Wholey slammed the apple for one base, Morrissey scoring from third when Dore threw the ball to second to take Wholey, Dunphy fumbling on the throw to third.

In the ninth La Salle looked dangerous when, with two men on the bases and two out, a stinging line drive was stabbed by Dolan, thus ending the game.

For the collegians, Casey, with his stellar pitching. Dore and Langello starred. For the Maroon and White, Eagan and Robinson were in the limelight.

Academy Team Mixes Hits with Errors at Hope Field.

FIVE RUNS IN FIRST ROUND

Visitors get away to fine start with three. Providence Team ties knot in score in second after which invaders shoot into commanding lead.

Dean Academy defeated Coach Paddy Duff's Providence Collegians 13 to 6 at Hope Field. Coach Sullivan's boys started to pile up a score in the first inning. A wild throw mixed with a fielder's choice and two hits netted three runs. The Black and White came right back in their half and scored two runs. Burke hit safely to second, Dunphy followed with a single, but McCaffrey struck out. On a pitched ball to the batter, Burke scored when the catcher threw to second to get Dunphy, the receiver fumbling. Curran came through with a base hit and two runners scored. The Collegians tallied another in the second inning. Casey got to first on an error. Tally sacrificed him to second, Langello knocked a two-bagger, driving in Burke and tying the score. The boys from Franklin came back strong in the fourth inning, making four runs. Bjorkman started with a single and Barnes walked. Rothmick struck out. Casey hit to Tally, who fumbled, putting three men on the bases. Preo hit to Dunphy, who threw to Curran for a force-out, but the catcher dropped the ball and Bjorkman scored. Eastburn knocked out a single, driving in Barnes and Dean. Preo scored when Asbury, the next batter, was thrown out at first. Dean scored two more runs in the fifth on a fielder's choice and a walk and an error. Providence College rallied in their half and made three runs. Langello flied out, Burke was passed, Dunphy was hit by a pitched ball. McCaffrey scored on Burke, who hit to the second baseman, who fumbled. Curran was hit by the pitcher. Dunphy scored on Doran's timely hit to centre field. Casey drove a Texas league to left, tallying McCaffrey. Providence College did not score for the rest of the game, Jenkins pitching air-tight ball.

The academy boys corralled four more runs in the last inning.

New Lineup Does Well.

Boston, May 18—After losing a tough game to Brown seconds Monday, the Providence College team came to Boston to-day and registered a 6-3 victory over the Massachusetts Institute of Technology nine.

Dunphy, who usually looks after the hot corner for the local team, performed on the mound yesterday and gave a very creditable exhibition.

M. I. T. started to tuck the game away in the opening chapter, scoring two runs on a couple of free passes, a single and a fielder’s choice. They added another in the third inning but never had another chance for runs.

The Providence College boys cut in the fourth session and outplayed Boston lads in every department the rest of the game.

With the score 2 to 0 against Burke, the first man to the plate, drew passes and immediately stole second. Dunphy came through with a screaming single and McCaffey followed with another in the same place. Dore and Curran were out but D’Angelo slammed out a single and the inning netted two runs.

The batting rally lapped over into the fifth and sixth innings, the visiting lads gaining a counter in each frame. Dunphy’s no run hit in the seventh added another tally for his club, while D’Angelo’s three bagger in the eighth produced another score.

Besides twirling a fine game Dunphy registered three hits of the timely order and fielded his position like a big leaguer.

D’Angelo, playing his first game with the team, fitted in nicely at second base, while Langello in right field was a big improvement over former games.

HARVARD UNIVERSITY 2nds: 9, PROVIDENCE COLLEGE 3

(The newspapers in Rhode Island and Boston did not print an account of this contest. However, Matthew Carolan, sports editor of the ALEMBIC, the college's student publication, reported on the game as follows:

"In a dull and uninteresting game, Harvard 2nds beat us on Thursday, May 26, by a one-sided score of 9-3. McCaffrey was in poor form, and Harvard bunching hits together with several passes and a couple of errors, allowed them to pile up a seven run lead, put the game on ice in the first two innings. Dunphy finished the game in great style for us, being touched for only one single in the last six innings, but lack of hitting prevented our threatening at any time to take the lead."

GAME PLAYED: JUNE 1, 1921

PROVIDENCE STAGED A RALLY IN THE SIXTH, NETTING THREE MORE RUNS. CAROLAN STARTED WITH A TWO-BARRIER. DOLAN BUNTED SAFELY. CAROLAN DROVE A TEXAS LEAGUER TO LEFT CENTRE, FILLING THE BASES. CAROLAN SCORED WHEN THE CATCHER ALLOWED THE BALL TO GET AWAY FROM HIM.

HANDRON WAS TAKEN OUT, AND TENIAN, THE CENTRE FIELDER, WAS PUT IN TO STOP THE ONSLAUGHT. BUT THE LOCAL COLLEGIANS FOUND HIS DELIVERY FOR TWO MORE RUNS. KELLY, THE DIMINUTIVE SHORTSTOP, MADE A TEXAS LEAGUER, SCORING DOLAN AND CASEY. BURKE SINGLE. KELLY ATTEMPTED TO SCORE, BUT WAS THROWN OUT AT THE PLATE. LANGELLO SUFFICED THE DAY BY GREAT PLAY IN THE FINAL ROUND.

THE 'Worcester' collegians tallied one in the seventh. T. Burke singled, stole second and scored on Ryan's two-base hit. The Holy Cross basemen got to Dunphy in the ninth for three hits, and aided by an error, scored three runs. With one out and two on the bases, Tenian drove a wicked drive to right field. D'Angelo, who replaced Casey, came in on the dead run and made a shoestring catch, throwing to Curran at home in time to get the runner, and ending the game.

The score:

PROVIDENCE: 1 RUN, 3 HIT
HOLY CROSS: 4 RUNS, 9 HITS

Fine Fielding.—Visitors Make

Nine Safeties, All Were Scattered.

Boston, June 6.—In a heavy hitting contest at Newnham Heights this afternoon Boston College took the measure of Providence College, 12 to 3.

Dunphy, on the firing line for the Providence boys, was found for 14 hits, including two home runs. The home run total would have been higher had it not been for the fine fielding of Burke in left. In the fourth inning he raced for a ball off Patton’s bat and after a long run jumped into the air for a wonderful one-handed stab. Two were on and two down when he made the putout.

In addition to Burke’s fine fielding Spencer Kelly at short was called upon for nine chances all of which he handled in clever style. Casey also contributed a great catch of a line drive.

Boston’s big inning was the eighth, in which they pushed four runs across, although they had enough to win without them. The Providence team collected nine safeties, but none of them came close enough together to do much damage.

Some snappy plays were turned in by the Boston boys, but they were not called upon for as much work as the Providence team. Curran, the Providence catcher, did not get a putout.

Comerford and Wilson with three hits apiece were the heavy clubbers for the winners, while Curran and Casey led with the willow for the defeated outfit.

PROVIDENCE TRIMS EAST GREENWICH

College Football Team Victor in Opening Struggle by Score of 28 to 0.

ACADEMY DEFENCE WEAK

Opposing Backs Tear Big Gaps in Line, Making Long Gains.—Joe McGee Runs 60 Yards for Touchdown

Providence College broke into the football world yesterday afternoon with a 28-0 victory over East Greenwich Academy at the latter's grounds. The game was uninteresting, the collegians outplaying their rivals, although using nothing but straight formations.

The Providence College backs tore through the Academy line repeatedly for long gains, while the home team could not penetrate the collegians' line successfully. East Greenwich made but three first downs, these being due to the work of their halfback, Pollitt.

The only spectacular play of the game was made by Joe McGee of the college team, when he intercepted a forward pass and ran 60 yards for a touchdown.

In the first half, Providence College seemed a bit timid, but in the second they showed a tower of strength. Beagan, Hagan, Tierney, and Frank McGee played fine football, opening many gaps and breaking through the Academy boys' line, throwing the backs for losses.

In the backfield McGee was the individual star, but all of the men showed well. The Egan brothers, Cassidy and De Luca showed themselves to be high-class performers, continually tearing off big gains.

For East Greenwich, in the backfield Pollitt and Lundy starred, while on the line Turkoff played a strong game.

The lineup:

PROVIDENCE LOSES TO BOSTON, 25-0

Local Collegians Put Up Stiff Argument Against Heavier Team on Wet Field.

STRONG IN DEFENCE WORK

Tackling of Coach Huggins's Men

Feature of Contest at Newton Heights—Fumbles by Both Teams Frequent

Boston, Oct. 8.—Boston College greeted Providence College at the Heights this afternoon with a 25 to 0 defeat in a game marred with frequent fumbles. In the second half, when a driving rain swept the gridiron and drove the spectators out of the stands under the trees, there was plenty of loose work, more excusable. The Boston backs fumbled several times when in a position to score in the closing periods. The eleven from Rhode Island was light, as compared with the Maroons, and was forced to play a defensive game most of the way.

The Providence lads played a strong defensive game and showed ability to tackle well. Their work on the kick and punt formation was weak at times, and Boston College several times ran the ball for many yards before being stopped.

During the first half, the weather was ideal and a good crowd watched the game from the stands. Between the halves, a driving rain drenched the iron, and the spectators were forced to huddle under the shelter of the trees and watch the second half.

Boston College adhered strictly to straight-line plays and Darling, Mathews, Kelleher and Corcoran made several huge gains on off-tackle plays, and through the left side of the Providence line. Only once did Boston attempt a forward pass, and that came in the last period, when Mathews heaved a pass over the goal line to Tony Comerford for a tally, Boston's final score.

Boston kicked off to Providence and the manner in which the visiting backs hit the line gave the impression that a close game would result. Three fumbles, two by Providence and one by Boston, ultimately gave the ball to Boston on the Providence 55-yard line. Seven minutes at the line by Darling, Mathews and Keahane produced the first score, the former plunging across the goal. The fleet-footed Darling received the ball on his 10-yard line and ran down the field.

Providence kicked off and right there the feature play of the game was staged. The fleet-footed Keahane received the ball on the Providence 55-yard line. Seven minutes at the line by Darling, Mathews and Keahane produced the first score, the former plunging across the goal. The fleet-footed Darling received the ball on his 10-yard line and ran down the field.

Boston gained the second touchdown shortly after, when Keahane recovered a Providence fumble on the 32-yard line. VISITORS THREATEN TWICE

Best Opportunity to Tally Comes with Ball on Six-Yard Line. Intercepted Pass Kills Chance

Special to the Journal.

Boston, Oct. 15.—Outweighed man for man and facing a team of more experienced players, Providence College went down to a 6-0 defeat at the hands of M. I. T. on the latter's field to-day.

The visitors put up a splendid brand of football, twice being in a position to score in the first half, and once in the second. They lacked the scoring punch.

In the second period, with the ball in field, Joe McGee made 11 yards on a cross-down play, but failed to gain yardage. On the fourth down, a pass from Egan to Lehan added 15 yards more. Egan tried another pass, which M. I. T. intercepted on their 10-yard line. Lehan immediately punted and McGee ran the ball back to M. I. T.'s 5-yard line. With 15 seconds to play McGee tried to drop kick but failed, Coleman blocking the ball.

In the third period, on a series of line bucks by Lehan, Taylor and Ferguson, M. I. T. marched 60 yards for a touchdown. Ferguson missed the goal. Again in the fourth period, Ferguson made 30 yards on two runs and this time same ended with the ball on Providence's 40-yard line.

For Providence, Dwyer and Tierney played great football on the line, while in the backfield Joe McGee and Mickey Graham starred. For M. I. T., Ferguson, Lehan, and Taylor were the backfield stars, while Coleman and Shipley did well on the line.

LA SALLE ELEVEN TAKES 17-12 GAMF

Springs Surprise by Defeating Providence College Second Team at Hope Field.

D'ANGELO IN SPOTLIGHT

Back on Beaten Team Recover Two Fumbles and Scores Touchdowns.—Wholey Kicks Goal from Field

Stirring the Providence College second eleven like a cyclone at Hope Field yesterday afternoon, the La Salle Academy boys sprang a surprise by winning 17 to 12. The last half of the game was replete with spectacular running by both sides. Wholey kicked a goal for La Salle in the first period.

Wholey kicked off for La Salle in the second period and McKenna returned 20 yards. Cap. McGough's men held the college players and finally took the ball. Wholey and McGough made some good plunges through the line. With 35 yards to go for a touchdown the ball was fumbled and D'Angelo's left end, made a spectacular run for the collegians' first score.

With the college team having a lead of three points La Salle received the kickoff on the five-yard line. McGough on the first play broke through and washed down the field for a touchdown. Wholey kicked the goal, making the score 10 to 9.

Another La Salle fumble was recovered by D'Angelo, who scored a touchdown.

At the start of the last quarter La Salle from midfield, worked the ball off tackles to the three-yard mark where McGough dove over the line for the second touchdown. Wholey again kicked the goal.

In the second period Providence made five touchdowns. Joe McGee made a 15-yard run in her run of the period, and then a 35-yard run after recovering a blocked punt. The half ended with a score of 52 to 0 in favor of Providence.

In the third period Coach Huggins put in substitutes and even they were no match for the School of Design. The score was made two touchdowns against the Design men. D'Angelo scoring once on a 5-yard run after recovering a blocked punt. In was in this period that Design made their only first down.

The fourth period started with another touchdown for Providence in the first seconds of play. Crawford recovered a blocked kick and ran 40 yards for another touchdown. Beagan kicked the goal. McGee and Graham were responsible for the 12th and 13th touchdowns, respectively, Beagan kicking both goals.

The powerful Holy Cross second team, strengthened by several of the 'Varsity squad, defeated the Providence College even by a score of 19 to 7 at Hope Field yesterday. The score fails to indicate the closeness of the play, the odds being almost a battle trimmed of thrilling feats.

The ball see-sawed back and forth, both teams losing it on downs on several occasions. The Black and White boys faced the same weight handicap that they have met all year. They looked like pygmies against the giants on the Worcester eleven. It was a case of David vs. Goliath, the only thing the Providence boys lacked being the altitude.

Bruissard of Holy Cross was the individual star of the game. The Southern boy carried the ball twice as much as the rest of the Holy Cross backfield put together. He picked his holes with an experienced eye and on every one of his starts gained ground. Keating also played a fine game, intercepting a pass and running 35 yards before McGee dropped him on the home team's five-yard line.

On the line for Holy Cross John Cooney, formerly of Hope, starred, the big captain breaking up plays with the ease of a white-tie.

For Providence College Capt. Joe Cooney was the stellar performer. He tore the Purple and White line to shreds and made four gains around the ends. Cassidy and Charlie Egan both showed up well in the backfield. On the line Kelliher, Crawford, D'Angelo and Dwyer played great football, the last named being in every pile.

Capt. McGee won the toss and elected to receive. Capt. Cooney kicked to Graham and on a criss-cross McGee ran 9 yards before being downed. Graham fumbled and Kelliher recovered for Providence.

McGee made five yards off tackle, but Graham lowed two. On a deep pass McGee dropped the ball in Providence's possession on Holy Cross' 25-yard line.

In the second period Providence lost the ball on downs but on a poor pass from Cooney of Holy Cross centre Kelliher recovered for the home team. Providence made but two yards on three downs. On the last down a pass from McGee to Kelliher gave Providence the first score of the game. Beagan kicked the goal.

In the third quarter Bruissard's great work scored two more touchdowns. Forward passing and end runs were responsible for the scores. Bruissard also tried a drop kick, but the ball hit the bar.

In the final period it looked as if Providence would score again. With the ball in his possession in midfield, McGee threw a pass to D'Angelo, which netted 25 yards. He tried three more forwards, but they all grounded. McGee attempted a drop kick, but failed and the game ended with the ball on Holy Cross' 35-yard line.

It was in this period that McGee made a beautiful punt, the ball going high and sailing 65 yards.

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE READY FOR CONTEST IN KINGSTON

Basketball Schedule Also Calls for Game with Brown.

Providence College will send a strong team against the fast Rhode Island State quintet at Kingston tonight. Manager Ed Kelly, although handicapped with but a few weeks to draw up a schedule, has arranged about a dozen games with some of the leading college basketball teams in the East. The list includes games with Brown, the Crescent A. C., considered one of the best amateur clubs in the country; Holy Cross, Boston and St. Francis College, Brooklyn.

The college five is fortunate in obtaining the services of Bill Donovan as coach. He is a well-known baseball and basketball player from Springfield, Mass., having played on many strong teams. With his wide experience and, using as a nucleus Joe McGee, former Seton Hall and Holy Cross star; Peterson, clever forward on the East Greenwich Academy team last year; Bentley, a prep star from Connecticut; Frank McGee, who played on the Woonsocket High five; Fred Hasney, forward on the St. Thomas club, and Crawford and Heroux, the prospects for a championship team are very bright.

Coach Donovan has been grooming the players for the past three weeks in preparation for the games with the State College, Brown and Holy Cross. The student body is enthusiastic over the showing made by the players in practice and are confident the team will give the Kingston five a great battle.

Owing to the fact that Providence College has not a gymnasium large enough for the crowds which will attend the home games, the manager has arranged to play them at Infantry Hall.

The schedule:

- Dec. 6—Rhode Island State, at Kingston.
- Dec. 14—Holy Cross, here.
- Dec. 16—Brown, at Brown.
- Dec. 21—Crescent A. C., Brooklyn.
- Jan. 17—Boston College, Boston.
- Jan. 27—Holy Cross, Worcester.
- Feb. 3—St. Francis College, Providence.
- Feb. 10—Boston College, Providence.
- Feb. 14—Clarke University, Providence.
- Feb. 21—Submarine Base, New London.
- March 4—Clarke University, Worcester (pending).

Rhode Island Centre Gets Five Goals from Field and Three on Fouls—Visitors Out of Condition

Rhode Island State opened the basketball season last evening and defeated Providence College, 35 to 19. The game was slow throughout and neither team showed much brilliancy. The Providence boys were very tired in the second half and three times were forced to call time out for rests.

Rhode Island showed little of last year's speed and cleverness and many times threw away golden opportunities to score. Tribolet led in basket shooting for State with 13 points. For the Providence five Joe McGee was the leading scorer, making all but one of his team's points.

Providence College made only three baskets, the remaining points being tallied on goals from fouls.

WALSH MAKES SEVEN GOALS
Forward Leads in Scoring from Floor—Carroll Tallies 10 Points from Foul Line—Losing Guards Weak

Holy Cross defeated Providence College last night at Infantry Hall by a score of 56 to 10. The quintet from Worcester played rings around their rivals and never once was the outcome in doubt. McLaughlin played a wonderful game, the stalwart centre being in every play and passing very accurately. This boy is so tall that it requires no effort on his part to drop the ball in the basket. Walsh led with seven goals from the floor and 10 from the foul line.

Providence College started the scoring when McGee passed one to Donovan and the Black and White captain made a perfect shot. Then Holy Cross got under way, passing expertly and shooting from difficult angles. The Holy Cross forwards realized the weakness of the Providence guards and caught them unaware frequently.

Kerns and Riopel had a banner night for fouls, Riopel being penalized six times and Kerns five. Carroll missed but three goals from fouls, while McGee was considerably off form, getting but three out of ten. At the end of the first half Holy Cross led 28 to 9.

In the second half, Holy Cross scored 28 more points to one for the local boys. Donovan hurt his ankle badly in the first few minutes of the second half and could not get up any speed from then on.

Dan Sullivan of Syracuse stated after the game that Holy Cross has the best quintet that he has seen in many years. Everything worked like a clock and not a slip was noticed by the spectators. McLaughlin, Walsh and Carroll were the chief luminaries for the visitors while McGee, Donovan and Crawford played well for the home boys.

In the preliminary game Bryant & Stratton defeated the Providence College Freshmen, 29 to 27. Egan, Slade and Holland were the stars of this game.

SNELL'S MEN IN FINE TRIM

Regulars Will be Replaced by Substitutes in Order to Give New Material Chance to Show Wares

Providence College will meet the Bru-nonian basketball five in Lyman gymnasium this evening, the contest starting at 8 o'clock. This will be the last opportunity Brown supporters will have to see the Bears in action until the game with Trinity on Jan. 7. During the vacation period Coach Snell's men will make a short trip, meeting Seaton Hall, New York City College and Brooklyn Polytech on Dec. 22, 23 and 24, respectively.

The hillmen should win to-night's game without having to extend themselves and probably every man on the squad will be given the opportunity to display his wares. There is a lot of material that Coach Snell has not yet seen in action, and the clash with the Providence College quintet will give him the chance he has been looking for.

The hill-toppers looked good against the fast aggregation from Connecticut State and the men are improving fast. The passing of the Bears Wednesday night was not quite up to standard, but their defensive play was nearly perfect. Mitchell and Wagenknecht are working well together at the forwards and Brown should be able to throw a smooth-working machine on the court for the first big game of the season, with Colgate on Jan. 17.

The probable starting lineup for to-day's Game is:

BROWN FIVE DEFEATS PROVIDENCE, 48 TO 12

Fine Passing of l-Toppers Baffles Opponents in One-sided Contest. — Mitchell Cages 10

Basket — J. McGee Stars for Losers

The best-looking basketball team Brown has had in many years did the Providence College five to its list of victims in a game played at Lyman gymnasium last evening. The plucky Providence collegians could not cope with the smooth passing of the Brunonian machine and the Bears romped away to a 48-12 victory.

At the end of the first period the count was 25 to 6. The playing throughout this period was much faster than the large score would indicate and the winners were forced to work hard for every basket. The playing was exceptionally clean and the fouls called were the result of the aggressive work that featured the contest.

Providence College came back strong in the first few minutes of the final period and scored four points. J. McGee took the initial tip-off and tossed in a basket from past the centre of the court. It was a mighty shot and the crowd gave the Black and White star a big hand. He made two free throws in rapid succession, but the Brunns were not to be denied, and with Mitchell and Barrett playing the leads the Bears started an offense that gave them 23 points to the visitors' two during the remainder of the half.

The Brown quintet showed the effects of the defensive style of play in which Coach Snell has been drilling them. Providence could not get a hold of the ball within shooting distance of the basket and Peterson's basket in the closing minutes of play resulted from the only close shot the losers had during the evening.

Capt. Miller played his usual brilliant game at guard and was ably assisted by Pittenger and Barrett. Barrett played part of the game at centre and looked very good. Big Jim has a keen eye for baskets and his size and speed make him an ideal floor man. The gridiron star tossed in five goals from the field during his short stay in the game and his passing was excellent.

J. McGee, playing at forward, turned in the best game for Providence. He was in the centre of play at all times and seemed very adept at the dribble. He scored eight of the visitors' 12 points and his shot from the first tip-off in the second period was the longest registered at Lyman gymnasium this year. His brother, F. McGee, played part of the last period at centre and looked good.

Mitchell, in the opinion of many fans who have followed Brown basketball teams for years, is one of the best forwards to ever wear the hill uniform. In every contest he has stood head and shoulders above the other members of the team and last night caged 10 goals from the field besides tossing in one goal from the free throw mark. His passing was not up to his usual standard last evening, but he was without doubt the outstanding star of the contest.

This was the last home game for the Brunonian squad until Jan. 7, when Providence will furnish the opposition on the local court. The Bears will spend the first three days of next week in preparation for the games with Seaton Hall, New York City College and Brooklyn Poly Tech, to be played on the enemies' courts on Dec. 22, 23 and 24, respectively.

Seaton Hall is reported to have a strong combination this season, but Coach Snell is confident his men will come out of the three games on the big end of the score. The Brunons are playing the best brand of the court game they have displayed, according to Dan Kelly, former Springfie Id and Harvard star, who has been officiating in hill-topper basketball for many years, and he expects the team to turn in an impressive record this season.

New York, Dec. 21—The Crescent Athletic Club basketball team of Brooklyn continued its winning streak tonight when it defeated the Providence College quintet on the Brooklynites' court. The score was 48 to 20. It was the eighth consecutive victory of the season for the winning team.

The new mooners got the jump on the collegians and rolled up a commanding lead in the first few minutes of play. At the end of the first half, the locals had a 19-point advantage over their opponents. The score at this stage was 27 to 8.

During the final period, several second-string players were sent into the Crescent lineup. The substitutes also outplayed the visitors and scored 21 points to the collegians' 12 in this half.

Hasney put up a fine game.

PROVIDENCE NO MATCH FOR TEXTILE

Millmen Run Up 61 Points in Basketball Game Last Night.

The Textile School basketball team soundly defeated Providence College last night in the Textile gym before the purrers' whistle called a halt. TheTextile team chalked up a total of 61 points for the local school and only 19 for the visitors. Textile started fast and three baskets were scored in the first five minutes of play by Smith and Matthews. These two players were responsible for 39 of the points made by the Textile team and were the stars of the game.

Lowell played a one-man defense and left Capt. Lombard to guard the home basket and his fast blocking enabled the Textile forwards to keep the play in the visitors' territory. Matthews, the star forward of Textile-Providence Game, scored several long shots from the middle of the floor and he, together with Matthews, formed a great combination.

With the score at the end of the first period 26 to 9 in favor of Textile, Coach Cushing sent his second-string players into the game and even then the score was run up to 61 points. McGee and Cummings did the best work for the Providence team. The conclusion of the game an enjoyable dancing party was held in Southwick Hall under the auspices of the athletic association of the school. Dancing continued until midnight.

The teams and score of the game were as follows:

Textile: Marshall, Matthews, Connell, Smith, Matthews, Cert. R.; McGee, G.; Davio, C.

Providence: Crawford, McGee, G.; Lamb., C.; McGee, L.; Peterson, F.

Final score Textile 51. Providence College 19.

McCaflrey and Brennan Probable Battery for Invaders.—Team Winds Up Training with Batting and Fielding Work

Coach Duff's Providence Collegians held a short workout yesterday afternoon preliminary to today's game with Harvard at Soldier's Field, Cambridge. Yesterday's session was the climax to more than five weeks of intensive practice, both in the cage and at the field. The workout consisted of batting and fielding.

The Black and White mentor is optimistic over the outcome of the battle with the Crimson and feels confident his charges will give the "Big Leaguers" a hard fight. Providence is a likely-looking outfit and is expected to make a creditable showing.

The Black and White mentor will carry 17 men to Harvard. Jack McCaffrey and Fred Brennan will probably open as a battery against Captain Conlon's warriors. The other members of the squad are Larry Kelliher, Considine and LaPoint, pitchers; Mcgee, Cassidy, McCullough, Holland, Fied, Coleman, infielders; Morrissey, Beck, Graham, D'Angelo, outfielders, and Curran and Tierney, catchers.

Fied, Coleman, Holland, Mcgee and Cassidy are giving a good account of themselves in the infield. It is possible that Mcgee will start the game at the initial sack.

Coach Duff will not have to worry over his catchers. Fred Brennan, Charlie Curran and Art Tierney are showing good form. Brennan knows the college game, having gained some valuable experience last year, which will stand him in good stead in his work this spring. He has played a lot of baseball in amateur circles and was the catching mainstay on the baseball at Little Rock College last year. Curran did the backstop work for Providence last year. He has a great arm, he is an all-round man and shows practically every position except pitcher. Tierney, the other dependable behind the plate, was the catcher last year on the St. Thomas Aquinas nine of last year.

INFIELD PLAYS POORLY

McCaffrey's Fine Work on the Mound Is Neutralized by Erratic Fielding. — Crimson in Fine Form

(From a Staff Correspondent of the Providence Journal.)

Cambridge, April 8.—Providence fell a victim to Harvard in the opening attraction of the Crimson schedule this afternoon at Soldier's Field, 8-0. The Harvard twirler pitched a fine brand of ball, and consistent hitting from his delivery was well-nigh impossible. Providence was unable to put across the necessary singles when hits meant runs. This tells the story in a nutshell of the first Providence College defeat at the hands of Harvard.

Practically every member of the Providence College student body, numbering 250, attended the game. There was no turning point in the contest such as fans like to see. The battle was Harvard's from the start, and at no time did Coach Duff's lads threaten to overcome the substantial lead of the Crimson after the fifth stanza. Jack McCaffrey's fine pitching was marred by poor support given him in the infield, which was unsteady at critical moments. However, the rangy lad pitched fine ball, allowing the Crimson batters but seven hits and sending six men back via the strikeout route.
The Providence youngster gave local enthusiasts a start when, in the first inning, he struck out Conlon and Gordon on 3 pitched balls. They were the two first men to face the Providence twirler. McCaffrey had almost complete control at all times, passing but two men. The Black and White twirler did not allow a hit until the fourth inning.

Eddie Goode, pitching mainstay, turned in a good day's work, allowing three hits and fanning seven men. Behind Goode the Crimson collegians played with absolute confidence and accepted every chance. Conlon gave a good exhibition of fine fielding. Murphy had a good day, getting two hits out of three times at the bat.

Brennan held McCaffrey in fine style, the stocky youngster showing good judgment in handling the pitcher. His throwing to the bases was commendable.

Frankie Holland had a perfect day in the field.

Harvard's big inning was the fourth, when, aided by three singles, a sacrifice, an error, a pass and a double steal, the Crimson corralled four runs. In the fifth with two men on the paths Murphy had a double to deep left center, scoring both runners. The seventh was another rally for Harvard. Coach Slattery's men got another tally by opportunity hitting, assisted by poor fielding on the part of the visiting collegians, an error, a wild throw and a sacrifice giving Harvard a fly-run lead. With two out in the eighth McCaffrey walked and the next man up singled. A slip-up sent the pitcher home with another run.

When Coach Slattery's men came to bat, McCaffrey looked fine when he struck out Conlon and Gordon. Jenkins, the next man up, rolled to Field, who threw to Cassidy, ending the inning. The two teams went on even terms until the fourth when Harvard broke loose and piled up a four-run lead.

Harvard produced another tally in the seventh, when, after Conlon hit to Coleman, Joe McGee dropped the pill. Morrissey caught Gordon's high fly on the base lines. A short fly in the infield by Jenkins fell safe. Beck took care of the 500-foot fly in center, and with two men on Murphy sent a hard drive to center, scoring Conlon and Jenkins.

PROVIDENCE FALL BEFORE MIDDLEBURY

Coach Duff's Warriors Beaten 8-7 by Vermonters on Hope Field, Batting Rallies in Fifth and Eighth Turning Trick

Providence College lost a hard-fought battle to Middlebury by the score 8-7 at Hope Field yesterday afternoon. It was a nip-and-tuck affair after the fifth inning. It was all Providence until the fifth session, the inning which spelled defeat for the Black and White at Harvard. The entire student body saw the battle and cheered the players under the leadership of Mat Carolan.

With Larry Kelliher going well and his teammates hitting the apple for long bingles for a total of five runs to their opponents' two, the seventh may have seemed early in the game as though Providence would have little trouble in giving the Vermonters another setback. Larry turned back nine men to the bench. On the other hand Coach Duff's men hit two Middlebury pitchers for 10 hits, Hastings, the man who finished the game, being called in the eighth. In this inning Providence staged a rally and scored two runs on a long single by Morrissey with one man on the bag, a wild throw and a walk.

Coach Morey's lads came out in the fifth and gave Providence a scare by plugging up three runs and giving them an even score. This was brought about by a walk, a triple, a passed ball and a costly error. The winners made the score 8-3 in their half of the eighth, when Connelly, after Papke fanned, drove a double to centre field, quickly followed by a fumble, a sacrifice and two singles.

The fielding and hitting of the inner Providence defense showed a big improvement, handling 12 chances without an error. Holland at the keystone bag had a big day in the field and with the stick, accepting five chances without a bump. He poled out two singles and a double out of five trips to the plate. Feld had an easy day at short, getting but one opportunity, but run the bases wild and drove in two runs with his singing two-bagger in the third. He managed to bang out, besides his timely double,
Capt. McCaffrey’s warriors piled up a substantial lead, when they hitched another run to the score in the fourth. After Coleman fanned McGee drove the pill to centre field for two bases and made the third station, when the centre fielder threw the ball wild. Brennan squeezed McGee home on the next play.

In the last of the ninth, with the stands up and yelling for a rally to give Providence the game, Larry Kelliher walked and advanced to second on a wild heave by Hastings to first base to get him off the bag. Holland advanced him with a nice sacrifice. When the catcher dropped his third strike, Beck raced to first safely and Kelliher came home. Then Morrissey smashed out a long single to centre, counting Holland. Morrissey died at second trying to steal. Feld ended the game by a snappy grounder to Gallagher, who completed the play himself.

PROVIDENCE LOSES TO BOSTON COLLEGE

Visitors Stage Four-Run Rally in Sixth Inning and Land Contest, 8 to 3.

McCaffrey SKIDS BADLY

Vargas Pitches Fine Ball for Invaders Until Eighth Inning, in Which He Allows Home and Two Singles

Playing in weather more suitable for football matches, Providence College lost an uphill fight to Boston College on Weston Field yesterday afternoon, 8-3. Despite the cold and biting wind which swept across the field throughout the entire game, it was an Interesting battle. It was Providence’s game until the sixth, when Vargas, the winning hurler, started a rally with a pretty single that resulted in the Bostonians piling up a four-run lead with the score 4 to 2. The game went but eight innings in order to allow Boston to make train connections.

Previous to the sixth it was a pitchers’ battle between McCaffrey and Vargas, with the local boy having the better Providence but Vargas hard and consistently, but when hits meant runs they were not there. The score knotted at 2-2 at the opening of the sixth, it looked as if Capt. McCaffrey’s sluggers would eventually win out. The local collegians seemed to break up the game with a Maroon and Gold twirler, and also played confidently behind their captain. But with two down in this inning, and with Tom Phillips on the paths, Boston practically won the game with the aid of a pair of singles, a wild throw and the interference by the catcher with a runner going home.

Coach Duffy’s charges went out in the last inning and nicked Vargas’s delivery for another tally. Morrissey poled out the first ball pitched for a home run over the left field fence.

Aside from the fatal sixth and a little wildness on his part in the fifth inning, McCaffrey had Coach Hendricksen’s men baffled. Time and again he had them guessing at his baffling delivery and peculiar change of pace. “Mac” sent back six men via the strikeout route. Not a hit was registered off his offerings until the fifth inning, when Capt. Halligan came through with a fly safety between short and third. Capt. McCaffrey fanned three batters in this session.

The Phillips brothers were the lumberjacks on the Newton college team. Tom, the outfielder, banged a single and a home run, batted in a run and scored two himself, while his brother Ed had a perfect day behind the mask, not a Providence man pilfering a sack.

Boston College did not score in the opening frame, due to the good work of Holland and Brennan. With two out and two men decorating the bases, Catcher Brecknan sent a pop to Holland on second, who turned the ball to the stocky receiver in time to get Halligan, who tried to go home on the fly.

In their half, Holland led-off man, drew a pass, but Beck fanned. When Morrissey hit a grounder to the pitcher, Holland was caught on second by Dowd. But Feld turned in a slashing two-bagger to right field, scoring Joe Morrissey. But was thrown out when Cassidy drifted to Palmer, who threw to Foley.

Boston did not score in the second frame, but Providence added another tally and made the count 2-0. Larry Kellifer caught the first ball pitched on the nose, the sphere going into deep centre for two bases. Frankie Holland, in an attempt to advance Larry, went out trying to bunt on the last strike. With two men on, Joe Morrissey laid down a nifty bunt, which scored Kellifer.

In the first half of the fifth, Boston knocked the score. With three men hugging the sacks "Mac" issued a ticket to Wilson, forcing in Vargas. Ed Phillips made it three out by fanning.

It was in the sixth inning that Coach Olaf Hendricksen’s lads put the game on ice. It happened with two out and Phillips on second. Vargas batted out a single, sending in Phillips. Palmer drove a Texas leaguer to left field and Foley walked. Brennan in trying to get Vargas threw the ball too low, Boston pitcher tallying. Palmer followed soon afterward when Brennan interfered with the runner coming home. Captain Halligan in sent in Foley with a single.

The rest of the game, exclusive of the last inning, was void of features. In this session Coach Duffy’s collegians brought the stands to their feet with a rally. Joe Morrissey opened with a circuit drive over the left field fence. But Feld drove a hard single to right and Cassady followed suit, with a chance of driving two runs in. Jack McCaffrey sent up a high fly which was caught by the catcher. McGee walked, filling the bags, but Fred Brennan flied out.

—Holland out, running outside base line. Holland out, foul bunt on third strike.
Brilliant pitching by Larry Kelliher was the main factor in a 3-1 victory scored by Providence College over Clarke University at Weston Field yesterday. It was the Black and White’s first triumph of the season.

Turning loose a great burst of speed and some finely breaking curves Kelliher had the visiting collegians baffled practically all the way, no less than 19 falling on strikes. At the end of the sixth inning indications pointed to a no-hit, no-run game, not one of the visitors having reached first base.

Fowler, the Clarke second sacker, opened the seventh inning with a weak grounder down the first base line. McGee waited too long for the ball and then narrowly missed tagging the runner who was credited with a hit. Kelliher put on a little more steam and retired the next eight men via the strike-out route. This brought Fowler to bat again in the ninth and with two men out he proceeded to further smear Kelliher’s record by sending a fast hopper through the box. Fied made a pretty scoop of the ball behind second base, but was in no position to throw out the runner. Kelliher issued his first pass to the next batter and Fied juggled D. Price’s grounder, thereby losing an opportunity to retire the side and end the game. Fowler overran third base and Fied’s throw to Brennan boxed him between third and home. Brennan’s return to Cassidy was too low and the runner counted.

Kelliher tightened and ended the contest with his 19th strikeout. Freddie Brennan worked well with Kelliher, holding him up in fine style.

Ryer served up the shoots for the losers for the first five innings, during which he was jolted for six hits, tallying nine bases. Pellitter supplanted him in the sixth and fared much better, allowing the winners only two safeties and no tallies.

The Smith Hillers ushered in the pastime with a pair of counters, Holland was passed and advanced to third on Beck’s infield out and Morrissey’s long hit to centre. Fied got a life and Holland counted when Smith slipped up on a ground ball. Fied stole second and completed the circuit on McGee’s safe blow to centre.

Two more runs were made in the second frame. Brennan went around to second when Colwell threw his grounder wild and a passed ball advanced him to third. D’Angelo brought him in with a line single to centre, which went by the gardener, allowing D’Angelo to reach third. An effort to cut him off at the plate on Holland’s grounder to short felled, and Holland was thrown out a moment later stealing.

With two away in the fourth, D’Angelo gave the horsehide three-base trip to deep right, and on Holland’s single D’Angelo co right field for Providence in fine style. He led the attack with five hits in as many trips to the plate, one of them, a triple, being the feature of the game and also scoring twice. Fied seconded him, his will being responsible for a double and single out of four tries.

Visitors Unable to Solve Delivery of Newton, While Fitzgerald is Touched Up Freely and Kelliher Finishes Game

Burlington, Vt., April 20, 1922. Providence College fell in defeat before the University of Vermont nine here today in the opening game of the latter’s home schedule. The score was 6 to 0. Aside from one bad inning, the third, Providence played excellent baseball but in that fatal session, a series of mishaps, coupled with bunching of hits by Vermont, enabled the latter to pile up five tallies. Providence was unable to solve the delivery of Newton, while Fitzgerald was touched up freely in the third and was replaced by Kelliher who was very effective although too free with his passes.

Middlebury Beats Providence, 3 to 1

Home Run by Gallagher in Eighth with Man on Base Decides Game

Special to the Journal.

Middlebury, Vt., April 27.—Middlebury College defeated Providence College here this afternoon, 3 to 1. No scoring was done until Middlebury’s half of the seventh, when Timberman made the initial tally. Providence came back with one in the eighth, but Gallagher in Middlebury’s half of this inning drove out a home run, scoring Hastings. Providence got two men on bases in the ninth, but they were left.

McCarthy held the home team to four hits. The visitors got six off Witham. The score:

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE LOSES TO NORTHEASTERN AT BOSTON

Losers Give Weird Exhibition of Baseball in 12-8 Game

Boston. April 29.—Kelliher got away to a terrible start against Northeastern University this afternoon, and as a result the game was lost to Providence College before the first inning was over, barring extraordinary good luck. The good luck did not come and Northeastern took the contest, 12 to 3.

In the opening inning, Kelliher gave the first four men to face him free bases to first base. Rosenblatt singled, sending in two tallies of the afternoon. Two more scattered hits, together with two more bases on balls and a pair of outs ran Northeastern's score to seven for the inning. In the second, the Providence hurler began to locate the plate, and he gave but five more passes during the remainder of the struggle.

Poor defense paved the way for Northeastern's two runs in the sixth. Field scrambling successive grounders by Rosenblatt and Newman. Dawe's double sent the runners home.

Providence got a run in the third and added the final pair in the eighth. Coleman got a pass, Magee and Brennan hit, Kelliher walked and D'Angelo sent in two men with a single to deep left.

Home Run by Evans of Victors with Bases Loaded is Feature of Dismal Contest.—Visitors Pile Up Seven Errors

Special to the Journal.

Springfield, May 1—Springfield College kept their baseball slate clean here this afternoon by tripping the Providence College outfit for an 11-2 victory. The winners' heavy hitting was one of the features of the game, 11 solid smashes being made off the delivery of Fitzgerald.

Springfield opened their scoring early, putting five runs over the plate in the third inning. A home run clout by Evans with the bases loaded in this inning accounted for four of the runs. Bearse and Malette, the local twirlers, allowed but three hits.

COLEMAN BANGS OUT HOMER

Connecticut Outfit Gets but Three Hits Off McCaffrey, Who is in Fine Form Throughout.—Six Blows for Winners

Special to the Journal

Hartford, Conn., May 3—Providence College finished on the winning end of their game with Trinity here this afternoon, pushing over the telling counter in the 10th inning for a 3 to 2 victory. All kinds of baseball sensations except heavy hitting featured the battle, with a home run in the second inning by Coleman of the visitors standing out as the headline in the batting. Providence won the game in the 10th when a tally came home as the result of two errors and a sacrifice hit, the final score being 3 to 2.

The locals failed to hit McCaffrey’s benders. The Providence hurler was in fine fettle and 12 Trinity men who walked up to the plate did nothing but carve the ozone. Three scattered singles were all Trinity could collect off McCaffrey. Providence reached Brainard and Toble, who worked on the slab for the locals, for nine safe hits.

The contest was anybody’s from start to finish and at a dozen times during the afternoon a brace of clean singles would have settled the game one way or the other, both teams seeming to be able to rise to the occasion and mow down any sign of a rally. The most spectacular hit in this direction came in the final inning when Providence College showed the bags with only one down. Fied sliced and fell to connect, selling 3 slow roller down to third. Robinson scooped it up on the run, threw to Nordlund at the plate, retiring McCaffrey and then the catcher doubled the runner at first. Brainard retired the Providence men in order in the first, two on easy infield grounders and the third by a strikeout, but Trinity also failed to get a man to first in its half of the inning.

The first Providence batter in the second also went out easily and then Coleman lifted the first offering to deep left, where, just inside the foul line, it rolled under the fence for a home run. Trinity tallied twice in the fourth but the visitors knotted the count in the seventh, Brennan opening with a hit and went to second on a sacrifice. Holland advanced him a base on an infield error and he scored on McGee’s single. The winning tally came in the 10th when Kelleher, the first man up, was safe on Cram’s error. Fied sacrificed him to second, Coleman flied out to Cram and then Ford grounded to the infield. Norman and the runner collided at first, the Trinity man dropped the ball and Kelleher scored.

The score: Providence 3; Trinity 2.

STATE COLLEGIANS
BEAT PROVIDENCE

Timely hitting, combined with poor fielding by Providence College in the seventh inning, enabled Rhode Island State to emerge the victor, 5-3, at Kinsley Park yesterday afternoon. A large crowd was in attendance and was treated to a fine exhibition.

Although Providence got the same number of hits as the winners, Turner was successful for a time in keeping the hits scattered. The result was that the State pitcher got away with but two runs scored against him. It was not until the eighth frame that he was chased to the showers. The score at the beginning of the seventh read 1-0, with the local collegians on top.

Freddie Brennan held both pitchers commendably and his "pep" throughout the entire fight kept Capt. McCaffrey's boys on their toes. His throwing to the bag was fast and accurate.

The fans gave "Red" Graham, who replaced Bill Beck in center, a good hand when in his initial trip to the plate, he pooled out a triple. The sorrel-topped youngster came home on McCaffrey's sacrifice.

TURMERpitched good ball during his stay on the hill, and was supported well by his team mates. When Providence threatened in the eighth frame, the State coach yanked him in favor of Edwards. The Black and White had Edwards in hot water in the final session. Graham's triple, followed by a walk and a sacrifice by Jack McCaffrey, produced a tally.
Brennan, aside from one misplay, played his usual fine game behind the bat. Joe McGee was in the spotlight in batting with a circuit smash, triple and single in five times at bat and drove Frankie Holland home on two occasions.

With the score 9-0, against them, Providence went out and brought six runs across in the last half of the fourth frame. With Cassidy, Graham and McCaffrey, decorating the sacks as a result of an error, a sacrifice and a walk, Frankie Holland banged out a beautiful single to centre, clearing the bags. McGee sent Holland home with a triple to deep left. Larry Kellinger was safe on a wild throw by the shortstop and McGee counted a single, two-bagger by Bud Fied tallied Larry Beck, up for the second time in this inning, needled off a pretty single to left, but Fied, in trying to go home on the throw was caught at the plate.

Providence continued by batting rally in the fifth frame. Blanchard was sent in to stop the onslaught but his offerings were treated roughly. He gave Cassidy a pass for a starter, but Graham was out on a fly to the third baseman. Fred Brennan came through with a single and Dick Cassidy reached third. McCaffrey singled, scoring Cassidy and Brennan. H. Farwell was pushed into the fray to stop the rally. Holland flied out, but McGee singled, putting his captain on second. Kellinger ended the inning by forcing McGee at second.

Coach Duff's charges proved dangerous in the seventh by pushing over two more runs and forging ahead. A single by McCaffrey opened the stanza and was followed by a roller by Holland on which McCaffrey was thrown out by the shortstop on a nice play. McGee drove out a home run.

STATE WINS, 2 TO 1,
FROM PROVIDENCE

Kirby's Drive in 10th Scores Wright for Winning Run in Close Contest.

EDWARDS HURLS FINE BALL

Holds Visitors to 2 Scratch Hits While Kingstonians Garner 7 Off Invading Pitchers.—Field Injured Trying for Winning Hit

Rhode Island State and Providence College battled 10 innings yesterday afternoon on the Kingston field before the Kingston team bunched hits on McCaffrey, winning, 2 to 1. Edwards, hurling for Rhode Island, held the visitors to two scratch hits and had the game well in hand throughout. Kelleher took the mound for Providence and pitched well for five innings, but his wildness made Coach Duff detail McCaffrey to the mound, although the change helped the Kingstonians to gather seven hits off the visiting pitchers.

The contest was well played and not until the 10th did the State Collegians get a chance to break the tie. Edwards started in by bounding a high grounder by third and Smith was sent in to run for Edwards. Lucey sacrificed, Smith went to second and Wright's single to left sent Smith toward home. As he was rounding third he was called out by Graham, who ruled Kirby interfered on the coaching line. Wright stole second during the mix-up and Confrey walked. Kirby's drive proved fatal to the Providence hopes in more ways than one, for Field made a stab at the ball and dislocated his shoulder.

Kelleher was wild in the pitches, but he kept out of danger until he walked Lucey in the fifth. The last ball on Lucey was over Brennan's head and Lucey took second on a blocked ball. Wright sacrificed and Lucey scored.

Morrissey was the individual star for the visitors.

PROVIDENCE LOSES TO BOSTON COLLEGE

Victors Have Little Trouble in Banging Out 16-0 Win Over Rhode Islanders.

FORD'S WILDERNESS COSTLY

Hurler's Lack of Control and Misplays by Mates Help Roll Up Large Score.—Seven Runs in Sixth

Special to the Journal.

Boston, May 17.—Boston College humbled the visiting Providence College boys this afternoon by a score of 16 to 0. Harry Mullowney, the Boston College southpaw, was in the box after a rest of two weeks and the Providence lads found him for but two hits.

Boston College was able to roll up a big score by taking advantage of Ford's wildness and misplays by his supporters, coupled with finding the ball for hits when they meant runs. The big inning was the sixth, when seven tallies were jammed over.

Capt. Halligan and Frank Wilson led the way with the stick. Halligan cracked a home run in the fourth with two men on bases. Siston also contributed a four-sacker, the blow coming in the eighth, a clout that sailed well over the head of Centre Fielder Beck.

Coach Hendrickson took Tom Phillips from the outfield and put him on third base in place of Foley, who is injured. He performed like a star throughout. Whelan was a tower of strength at short.

Providence fielded fairly well on the whole, but was helpless at bat. Ford started in good shape and his support was good during the early sessions, but in the sixth, when Boston College began hitting, Ford added to the trouble by growing wild.

In the fourth, Lockwood tripled to left. Saltnick singled, giving the sailors their first run. McCaffrey forced the next two men to hit to the infield, and they were thrown out. The collegians bunted their total to six in this inning. Brennan singled. McCaffrey sent an easy roller to Morrisey, who fumbled, allowing Brennan to reach second and McCaffrey landed on first. Morrisey moved both runners up a bag on a neat sacrifice. Holland sent an easy roller to short, which he booted, allowing Brennan to score. Metee got a life on first and tallied his captain, Lopez, the dusky three-sacker, returned the ball to second where Holland was caught napping. Metee plied second, but Field ended the scoring.

Providence added another in the sixth. Morrisey walked, with one out and immediately stole second. He made third when the catcher dropped the ball. Morrisey came home after the New London backstop allowed the ball to get by him. Umpire Keough called out Holland when he fouled on the third strike. Morrisey was passed and stole second, but stayed there the field struck out.

CONTEST MARRED BY ERRORS

Seven Misplays Behind Kelliher, Who Pitches Good Ball, Prove Undoing of Duffy’s Charges, Who Hit Ball Well

Special to the Journal

Lowell, May 27.—Lowell Textile School team this afternoon beat the Providence College nine by a score of 9 to 3, most of the Textile runs being presented through the loose fielding of the visitors. Costly errors by the Providence team in the third, fourth and eighth innings, aided by timely hitting and fine base running by the locals, was responsible for all the Textile runs.

Providence outbatted Lowell, but the hits were not timely, many men being left on the sacks. Farwell was hit hard, but was at his best in the pinches. Kelliher pitched good ball, but was hit hardest with men on the bases, often after the side should have been retired, although his own slips aided the home team materially.

Brennan’s batting was the bright feature of the college men’s game, the husky catcher contributing a single and triple with men on the sacks. Farwell wobbled a little in the eighth, but easily disposed of the visitors in the final frame.

McCAFFREY'S TRIPLE BEATS NORTHEASTERN

Providence College Hurler Wins Own Game, 6-5, with Timely Drive in Ninth Round of Contest at Davis Park ...—200° See Battle

Before 2000 baseball fans at Davis Park yesterday afternoon, Providence College defeated Northeastern University of Boston, 6-5. It was McCaffrey's great pitching, which held the Boston batters, and his single in the last inning which won the game for the Black and White.

The Providence fans were treated to some fine catching by Charlie Curran in his first appearance in a regular game this season, but the Providence young gunsman held his captain in fine style, and his throwing to the bags was well-nigh perfect, but two men stealing second on him. Curran needed another man off first in the early part of the game and threw out three players at second.

Spencer Kelly stepped to the plate in the last inning, with one out, and posted the score of a long single to deep left.

The next batter died out, but Capt. McCaffrey scored a triple to center, which sent home Kelly with the winning tally. The diminutive second baseman had but one opportunity to show his wares on the defense and made the best of it. This was his first appearance in a regular game and he showed plenty of fight.

The individual star of the battle was Capt. McCaffrey, who gave one of the best exhibitions of hurling in his college career. He had his opponents almost at his mercy. He mowed down 14 Northeastern batters in eight frames, not walking one in the game and he showed plenty of fight.

With the score tied, 5-all, in the eighth frame to win the game, Jack McCall came through with a pretty single to left, but Kelliher sent Kelly home. The winning pitcher then had two on, but went out on a long fly to the center fielder. With Kelly on first and a chance to win the game, Jack McAffrey came through with a two-run base hit, lining the horsehide for three bases and scoring Robbins.

With Feid at the plate, the pitcher threw a wild pitch and two on field, but Kelliher sent Beck home. The winning pitcher then had two on, but went out on a long fly to the center fielder. With Kelly on first and a chance to win the game, Jack McAffrey came through with a pretty single to left, and one out as the result of Kelliher flying out.

Coed Kelly got his first hit of the game, a pretty single to left, but Kelliher sent Kelly home. The winning pitcher then had two on, but went out on a long fly to the center fielder. With Kelly on first and a chance to win the game, Jack McAffrey came through with a two-run base hit, lining the horsehide for three bases again.

The lads from Providence, who fielded to Robbins for the third out, were still an enigma to the Northeastern bitsmiths. Coach Jeffries's changes tightened their score by adding a spark of speed to their lineup. With two out, Coed reached first on Riccio's fumble and stole second. Feid walked. A smacking single through the middle by Kelliher sent Melne home. The winning pitcher then had two on, but went out on a circuit hit.

With the score tied, 5-all, in the ninth frame to win the game, Jack McAffrey came through with a pretty single to left, but Kelliher sent Kelly home. The winning pitcher then had two on, but went out on a long fly to the center fielder. With Kelly on first and a chance to win the game, Jack McAffrey came through with a pretty single to left, and one out as the result of Kelliher flying out.

The Providence team went to the bleachers in the eighth frame to win the game, Jack McAffrey came through with a pretty single to left, but Kelliher sent Kelly home. The winning pitcher then had two on, but went out on a long fly to the center fielder. With Kelly on first and a chance to win the game, Jack McAffrey came through with a pretty single to left, and one out as the result of Kelliher flying out.

HOLY CROSS SWAMPS PROVIDENCE, 15 TO 0

Double Squeeze Play Features One-Sided Contest at Kinsley Park—Victors Tally Seven Runs in Fifth Round

Providence College fell before the champion Holy Cross team, 15 to 0 in a one-sided game yesterday afternoon at Kinsley Park. Horan, conqueror of Harvard, and one of the finest pitchers to ever wear a Holy Cross uniform, hurled them over for Coach Barry's collegians. He was complete master of the situation after the second frame, when the local collegians had two men on the paths with one out.

McCaffrey started for Providence and worked finely until the fifth frame when the Worcester lads scored seven runs.

The game was as nice a battle as anyone would like to see for the greater part of five innings. Up to the fifth Barry's men were only able to tally twice and these runs came in the third stanza. Both nines were fighting hard and it began to look as if Providence might get away with a victory or at least lose by a close score.

But in the fatal fifth the storm broke over Coach Duff's outfit, and when it was over the Worcester collegians were out in front 9 to 0. The seven tallies were the result of some loose work on the part of Captain McCaffrey's ball throwers, who previous to that time had been playing "heads-up" ball and timely hits. The Purple clubbers up to this period were able to nick McCaffrey's delivery for only two clean hits.

The Holy Cross combination was well-nigh perfect in their playing at bat and in the field. In the sixth with Gautreau and Gagnon on the paths, Simondinger, the "Babe Ruth of college baseball," got the signal from Jack Barry to work the squeeze play. It was done, bringing in not only Gautreau from third but tallying Gagnon, who raced around from the key- stone station. The clever centre fielder poled out a Texas leaguer to centre, which should have been taken care of handily. Maguire worked the hit and run play, with the result that Simondinger reached the third station with plenty of time to spare. Doherty batted a hard one to Frankie Holland, who made a pretty throw to McGee, nailing the runner at first for the final out.

In the Providence team's turn to bat, Feid flied out, but Beck walloped the first hit for Providence and reached second when Horan walked Curran. With one out and two men on the paths, the next two hitters, Kelly and McCaffrey, went out on easy flies to the infielders. Aside from the ninth, when a Providence man got on the paths, the Black and White never proved dangerous.

Neither nine was able to do anything in the first two innings, although both teams threatened to break the ice in the second. Len Dugan hit safely for Holy Cross through short. When Simondinger attempted to bunt, but missed by a mile, Dugan ventured too far off first, to be caught by McGee on a perfect throw from Curran behind the bat. A moment later the clever centre fielder poled out a Texas leaguer to centre, which should have been taken care of handily. Maguire worked the hit and run play, with the result that Simondinger reached the third station with plenty of time to spare. Doherty batted a hard one to Frankie Holland, who made a pretty throw to McGee, nailing the runner at first for the final out.

In the Providence team's turn to bat, Feid flied out, but Beck walloped the first hit for Providence and reached second when Horan walked Curran. With one out and two men on the paths, the next two hitters, Kelly and McCaffrey, went out on easy flies to the infielders. Aside from the ninth, when a Providence man got on the paths, the Black and White never proved dangerous.

The Purple pushed two runs across the plate in the third stanza by hitting the ball at the opportune time. McCaffrey walked Horan and Martin to start the inning. Dugan came through with a slashing single, which skimmed along the third base line, scoring Martin and Horan. Leo Duggan went out; McCaffrey to Kelly, who covered first on the bunt. Gagnon and Len Dugan were easy outs.

Nothing of damaging nature was done in the fourth, but the Purple sluggers scored more than made up for their failure to get any by counting seven in the fifth stanza the Providence clubbers went up in the clouds. Horan, the first man up, worked "Mac" for a free pass and was moved up a peg by Len Duggan. Maisie sacrifice. Goutreau got his base hit, and allowed Holy Cross to tally almost at will. Although they got but two hits from the offerings of Horan, yet they hit the ball hard, only to have their hits pulled down by one of the fleet Holy Cross fielders. Morrissey was the luminary on the Providence nine, the tall lad pulling down four high ones. Kelliher relieved McCaffrey in the seventh with one out, and the best the Worcester clubbers could get off Larry was three hits and two runs. He held them safely during most of his time on the mound.
Maguire, who will soon step into the big leagues, scored Dugan and Simondinger with a triple to deep right centre, the hitter making home when D'Angelo and Field juggled the ball in the field on the relay. Doherty got a life, and Martin made a fine single, the ball bouncing on McCaffrey's leg. Doherty made third on the play and scored when Holland hit the runner with the ball, allowing him to leg home with another counter. During the skirmish around the home plate the husky Holy Cross catcher reached third and a moment later tallied when Curran, in returning the ball to McCaffrey, threw wild. Horan, up for the second time in this frame, fanned.

Coach Barry's men added two more in the sixth on fine base running and poor pitching by McCaffrey. The hurler became good-natured, handed passes to Gautreau and Dugan and hit Gagnon. At this point of the game, with practically everyone expecting an extra base hit, Simondinger tapped the ball in front of the plate. Simultaneously with McCaffrey's windup, Gagnon and Gautreau started for home, with the result that they reached home, one close upon the heels of the other in one of the prettiest squeeze plays seen here in a long while. Maguire struck out and Doherty flied out to Morrissey.

Martin started the rally in the seventh which netted his team mates three more runs.

The ninth sent the Holy Cross total to 15. When Providence came to bat in their half they had nicked Horan's delivery for but one hit and not a man had reached third. D'Angelo, first man up, gave the horsehide a ride for one base, but Morrissey flied out to Leo Dugan. Holland hit to Maguire, who threw out Holland, Maguire to Doherty. D'Angelo made second on the play, but attempted to get to third. He was thrown out by at least a foot by Gautreau.

HOLY CROSS DEFEATS PROVIDENCE, 33

Veteran Worcester Eleven Piles Up Five Touchdowns,
But is Given Hard Fight.—Creegan… Drop-kicks Goal from 35-Yard Line

Game played: September 30, 1922

Special to the Journal.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 30.—Fighting courageously from start to finish, Providence College football team lost to Holy Cross here to-day by the score of 33 to 3. The battle, which took place under a hot sun and under conditions more suitable for baseball, was fast throughout. Intricacies which forced Providence players out made the last quarter flag. The game was witnessed by more than 2000 enthusiasts, including a crowd of 500 Providence College students and friends. Holy Cross scored five touchdowns and booted three goals. Creegan drop-kicked the Providence team's three points.

Although the Providence team was out-weighted at least 10 pounds to a man in every department and faced practically the same team that will play Harvard next Saturday, the White and Black athletes made many dents in Coach O'Donnell's line. The much-heralded Bruissard and Riopel did not show the class that was expected of them, although both contributed to a great extent to their team's points.

Creegan (left) was in the lineweight to a great degree, breaking up play after play. He tackled hard and cleanly. The Providence line showed to good advantage especially in the third quarter when but one touchdown was registered and that in the first few minutes of the play.

Three forward passes were worked successfully by the Purple for a net gain of 40 yards, while the local collegians completed three in five attempts. Franny Kemps, who generally throughout the greater part of the game, made a first down on one pass. The blonde-haired forward ran the ball back after a punt through a swarm of the Purple players for 33 yards.

With but a little more than a minute to play, Creegan rushed into the fray and, after two plays were executed, dropped back to the 35-yard line and drop-kicked the pigskin over the crossbar for one of the game's features.

Bill Beck kicked off to O'Connor of Holy Cross, who ran the ball back eight yards to the 40-yard line. Bruissard was given the pigskin and produced eight yards through the centre of the line. Simondinger made it first down on the next play and Riopel played through the 15-yard line. A forward pass was tried, but was incomplete. The next aerial attack was successful and Mahaney brought the ball within a yard of the goal.

Riopel played through on the next play for the first touchdown of the game. After the kickoff the ball seeped back and forth and the Holy Cross backs were given a surprise by the sudden strength of the Providence collegians. The Providence collegians finally made a march down the field, the latter part of the quarter and planted the ball on Providence's eight-yard line.

An outstanding feature of the day's work was the all-around playing of Peloquin. This youngster plunged the Holy Cross line time and again for substantial gains. He received a big hand when he went off the field, after being forced out by an injury. The line worked wonders, especially Conner, Beck and Alfred.

The Providence college team made seven first downs, a commendable showing. The Holy Cross lads were giving all they had in order to ensure positions in the game with Harvard.
Crowley, with a foot to go, went over for another touchdown. Bruissard made the extra point by dropkicking.

Near the end of the third quarter Providence with the aid of some good work on the part of Nolan and Kempf made a couple of first downs, bringing the ball to midfield. Holy Cross recovered a fumble and aided by a 45-yard run by Glennon and a couple of line plunges by Mahaney brought the pigskin within a few yards of the Providence goal. Riopel with five yards to go made the touchdown. The score was 27-0.

The playing of the Providence collegians improved in the fourth period, notwithstanding the loss of several of the sturdy linemen. A series of end runs and crossbucks by Comcovitch, Mahaney and Glennon added six more points to the Holy Cross total. Mahaney going over for the final touchdown of the game. When Glennon punted to Kempf, the little quarterback made a 35-yard run, bringing the ball to midfield. A clever forward pass from Graham to Triggs made it first down for the White and Black. Graham went through center for a yard. Frankie McGee made 25 more yards on a neat forward pass from Graham. With but less than a minute to play, Creegan drop-kicked from Holy Cross's 33-yard line for three points.

Touchdowns—Riopel 2, Crowley 2, Mahaney.
Points after touchdown—Bruissard 2, Glennon.

Providence College Gridders Capture Easy Victory
Over Textile School Eleven in Bay State.
Visitors Lose Tally on Offside

[Special to the Journal]

Capt. McGee and his Providence College gridders went to Lowell yesterday afternoon and came home last night with their first scalp as a "Varsity" eleven, defeating Lowell Textile College, 14-0. Both touchdowns were scored in the last quarter by Triggs and Bud Fraser. Brickley and Triggs made the extra points after touchdowns.

Providence College received a hard jolt at the beginning of the fourth quarter when, after recovering a fumble, Capt. McGee ran for a touchdown, only to be told on his return that a Providence man was declared off-side.

In their marches to two touchdowns the Huggins-coached machine made nine first downs, while its opponents made but two, both occurring in the second quarter. The nearest approach to the Providence goal was the 22-yard line, when a trick play, combined with a forward pass and two end runs, took the pigskin to the mark only to be lost on downs.

The White and Black gridders arose to every occasion to great advantage, giving as fine an exhibition as the local college followers would wish. The line made big holes for the backfield and was just as competent when breaking through and getting the man with the ball.

A smashing attack and uniform exhibition of the secondary forces was a feature of the Providence play. Every man in the backfield hit the line hard and low and, as a result, made big gains. The work of Peloquin, Triggs, Fraser, Tarby and Brickley was of high order, this quartet making a commendable showing both on the offence and defence.

It was Bill Conner who really started the march down the field when he broke through and blocked a punt, recovering the pigskin on Lowell's 38-yard line. McGee helped the good cause along a few minutes later when he got his hand on the ball when Sutcliffe let it get away from him on an end run on Lowell's 20-yard line. A series of line bucks carried the ball over for the first touchdown, Triggs making the extra point by dropping over the goal posts.

Lombard of Lowell started the game, kicking to Capt. McGee on Providence's 22-yard line, who ran the ball back 13 yards. Quarterback Kempf gave the ball to Joe Tarby, who made five yards through tackle, followed by a plunge through centre for two yards by Peloquin. Triggs made it first down for Providence.

Tarby again took the ball for a two-yard gain and Peloquin made it first down. Kempf failed to give a successful forward pass with the ball 30 yards from the Lowell goal. Peloquin made a yard and Tarby punted to Bridgham, who was downed in his tracks on the Lowell 15-yard line. On the next play Bridgham punted, the ball being touched down by a Providence player on Lowell's 38-yard line. Tansey made a yard.

Providence was off side on next play and was penalized five yards. On a pretty end run Tarby made eight yards. Peloquin took the ball for three yards and made first down for Providence. Kempf got nothing through centre, but Peloquin tore off a 12-yard run for a first down. Although Tarby and Peloquin reeled off a couple of nice line bucks, Providence lost the ball to Lowell on the latter's seven-yard mark.

Kempf received the punt of Bridgham, who was downed on Providence's 38-yard line. After Peloquin made five yards on two line bucks, an unsuccessful forward pass was tried. The pigskin was scooped by Lowell when Trigg's punt was blocked, Capt. Lombard recovering on 32-
Lowell on a reversal of which threatened a yard Providence line. Lowell could make little progress and Bridgham was forced to punt to Kempf, who was downed on the Providence 17-yard line.

Four yards were gained by Peloquin and Tarby. The ball was fumbled back to Tarby, but Tarby being downed for a four-yard loss, Brickley recovered the ball when T.'s punt was blocked, on the Providence nine-yard line. Peloquin and Brickley made five yards, but Tarby was forced to punt to Bridgham, who was downed on the Lowell 42-yard line.

Lowell on the next few plays showed a reversal of form and made a march which threatened the Providence goal. In their march down the field Lombard and Smith were the luminaries. Several trick plays apparently upset Coach Huggins's outfit, which brought the ball to Providence 22-yard line. The half ended with the pigskin on the 22-yard line.

The third quarter opened with Triggs kicking to Olsen on Lowell's 11-yard line, who ran the ball back 20 yards. Lowell was forced to kick, Bridgham punting to Tarby, who made 10 yards. Providence then failed to make a first down, and Triggs put the ball up to Sutcliffe, who brought the ball up to the Lowell 38-yard line. When Sutcliffe went through, he fumbled, Capt. McGee recovering and running 35 yards for a supposedly good touchdown, but a Providence player was declared off-side on the play, giving Lowell the ball on the Providence 50-yard line. The Providence backfield then made a grand march down the field to their opponents' five-yard line. Here the quarter ended.

Fraser, the diminutive quarterback, went over for the second touchdown. Arthur Brickley lived up to all the traditions of a Brickley by drop-kicking for the extra point.

The ball sawed back and forth during the remaining few minutes and the game ended with the ball on Lowell's 30-yard line.

Vanquish New York City College Eleven in Contest Held in Lewishon Stadium.

CHARLIE BRICKLEY HELPS

Gives Pointers to Providence Men
After End of First Half,
Second-String Men Given Chance

Special to the Journal

New York, Oct. 14.—Although outweighed at least 10 pounds to a man, the shifty Providence College eleven defeated New York City College at Lewishon Stadium this afternoon, 16-7. The result was never in doubt and the Huggins-coached machine demonstrated its superiority in decisive fashion.

The first score was by Triggs, who went over the line after less than four minutes of play. It all happened when Tanenbaum punted to his own 35-yard line, after finding that his backfield men could make little headway. Then a forward pass, a recovered fumble, and a few line bucks brought the ball to the one-foot marker, where Triggs found little difficulty in acquiring six points for the initial touchdown of the game. Arthur Brickley failed in the drop-kick for the extra point.

Shortly afterward Brickley failed by less than an inch in a placement kick from New York's 10-yard line. The brother of the famous Harvard star, however, more than made up for what he missed by running back a punt 70 yards for the second touchdown. The extra point after touchdown was made by Triggs on a drop-kick.

When the boys retired to their quarters at the end of the first half, Coach Huggins and the famous Charlie Brickley of drop-kick fame, gave the local collegians a few pointers to use to advantage. The White and Black athletes showed the results of the talk and continued to play the brilliant game of the first half. The only time that Coach Neville's charges showed any fight in the battle was when Coach Huggins sent his second team into the game. However, the yearlings held them to the lone touchdown and the drop-kick after touchdown.
It did not take the Providence players long in the third quarter to add three more points to their already healthy score. A kick from placement by Brickley from New York's 32-yard line gave Coach Huggins's eleven a field goal. The winners apparently eased up, as the New Yorkers proved dangerous only on one occasion, the last quarter, when two forward passes, end runs and cross bucks put the ball in the shadows of the Providence goal posts. With the ball on Providence's 25-yard mark, a long forward pass, Garvey to Bauer, scored a touchdown. The extra point was scored by Tannenbaum by a drop-kick.

The game opened with Triggs kicking off to Farber on his 30-yard line, who ran back 10 yards. The New Yorkers found the Providence line impregnable and Tannenbaum was forced to kick, missing the ball out of bounds on his own 35-yard line. The pigskin was advanced to the city college's 15-yard line only to be fumbled. Bill Conner, however, played "Johnny on the Job" and recovered for Providence. A series of line bucks and an end run by Farley placed the pigskin on the one-foot mark, Triggs putting the ball over for a touchdown. The point after touchdown failed, Brickley missing the uprights by a hair.

After Peloquin ran the kick-off by Kennedy back for five yards to Providence's 35-yard line, a march was made by Capt. McGee's collegians which brought the ball to their opponents' 32-yard line. A near field goal from placement kick missed the goal posts, according to the officials. The ball apparently hit the right post and bounded in, but was declared nil.

The fleet backfield star, immediately afterward, made a brilliant 70-yard sprint for a touchdown, after receiving the ball on kick-off on his 30-yard line. The Auburn-balled lad squirmed and pushed his way through practically the entire New York team and was aided by some fine interference by his mates. The point on a drop-kick was made by Triggs. The score 16-0 in Providence's favor, Coach Huggins gave his second string men an opportunity to show their wares. Coach Neville's men were able in the last quarter with two minutes to play, to put over a touchdown. Tannenbaum threw a beautiful forward pass from Providence's 28-yard line, to Bauer, who made the touchdown. Garvey drop-kicked for the extra point. The game ended with the pigskin on New York's 35-yard line.

The third quarter saw the White and Black collegians pulling off some fine plays, making innumerable first downs. When the ball was on New York's 35-yard marker, Brickley called for a placement kick by himself, Triggs holding the ball. The pigskin cleared the uprights comfortably.

With the score 16-0 in Providence's favor, Coach Huggins gave his second string men an opportunity to show their wares. Coach Neville's men were able in the last quarter with two minutes to play, to put over a touchdown. Tannenbaum threw a beautiful forward pass from Providence's 28-yard line, to Bauer, who made the touchdown. Garvey drop-kicked for the extra point. PROVIDENCE READY FOR OPENING GAME

Team Will Face Powerful New London Submarine Base Eleven To-day.

GOVERNOR TO SEE CONTEST

Mayor Gainer and Bishop Hickey Will Also be Present. — Students, Accompanied by College Band, to Hold Parade

The spotlight will be played to-day on the Providence College-New London Submarine Base battle, which will be the chief attraction on the programme here. The gridiron tussle will be graced by the presence of Bishop Hickey, President of Providence College Corporation; Governor San Souci, Mayor Gainer and Brown University officials. It is the intention of those in charge to make the opening the biggest event in the short history of the college, which covers a little more than three years.

The playing field, situated at the left entrance to the college and adjoining the campus, is in readiness for the large crowd which is expected to be present. A wire fence has been placed around the field and accommodations for the seating of nearly 2000 people have been provided.

It is the plan of the Providence College Athletic Association to start the festivities off with a parade to the field by the entire student body, accompanied by the college band. As the guests arrive appropriate cheers and selections by the students will be given. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

After the practice session yesterday afternoon Coach Huggins declared his charges were ready for the fray. The unusually large list of members requiring the daily attention of doctors has not helped the hopes for a victory to any extent. For the past three weeks the Providence mentor has been forced to keep at least three or four of his most likely men on the bench on account of injuries. But notwithstanding the loss of several of the guards, the coach is confident his warriors will furnish plenty of fireworks.

The Providence line will be about the same as that which started the New York City College game last Saturday, with the exception of one of the wings. Coach Huggins will probably start the McGee brothers on the ends. This will give the White and Black two of the fastest step-players on the squad.
Providence College Eleven, Which Plays New London To-day

Capt. Clarke and his powerful New London Submarine Base eleven mowed down the Providence College eleven in the opening game of the dedication of the new athletic field yesterday afternoon, 42-13. The sailors' triumph was attributed to the poor physical condition of Coach Huggins' squad, and might have been different if a few of the disabled regulars were in the lineup.

A crowd of more than 3000 attended the game. Shortly after the gates were opened hundreds took seats in the reserved section and others were satisfied with positions on the sidelines. Previous to the appearance of the teams, led by their captains, a parade from the college by students, headed by their band, made its way to the field. Included among the marchers were Bishop William A. Hickey, Rev. Dr. William A. Noon, President of Providence College, Governor Emery J. Sanborn, Mayor Joseph H. Galner, Commander Christie of the British Embassy at Washington, D. C. and other city and state officials and members of the faculty of Providence College.

As both elevens appeared on the field those in the stands stood up and extended a rousing reception. Capt. Clarke was at the head of his squad, with Capt. Joe McGehee loading his charges upon the field.

The ball—which was used in the game—was thrown on the field by Bishop Hickey. For the first period Providence trailed Sub Base by seven points, but turned the tables in the second quarter and tore the sailors to pieces, knotting the score at 14 apiece. The local gridders scored their final touchdown in the last quarter with less than five minutes to play. Previous to making the count, they were being rushed off their feet by the sweeping attack of Capt. Clarke's battlers. When Fielding attempted a long forward pass to Capt. Clarke, Gene Gilmartin intercepted the ball on his 40-yard line and raced for a touchdown. It was easily one of the feats of the afternoon.

Throughout the last half Capt. McGehee's team mates were—the defensive end and were given little opportunity to charge up the field on account of the tremendous driving power of New London. When the White and Black athletes did get the ball, much of the time they stepped on the field until 9-7 trudged off the field after tucking a win over Providence College. The New London captain, who is a man of considerable experience, showed a clever eye for picking the opposition's weak spots and made several long runs himself, being on the receiving end of several pretty forward passes. The Base captain scored 24 of his team's points, with Fielding the fleet Indian gridders, making the other 19, a total of 43.

On his way to the goal posts he was aided by his teammates, especially Joe Brickley, who put out Clarke by dumping him when he was within tackling distance of Gilman within a few yards of goal line. The game ended shortly afterwards without the Sub Base scoring further, with the ball on New London's 28-yard line.

Capt. Clarke won a toss and elected to receive, Triggs kicking to Morse, who ran the ball back 13 yards to his own 25-yard line. Locke and Capt. Clarke made nine yards between them through the centre and the captain put the ball on Providence's 33-yard line by squirming his way through the whole Providence line. He avoided the secondary defence with the exception of Brickley, who managed to get his arms around the fleet New Londoner, even though two of Capt. Clarke's men were giving him interference. The auburn-haired youngster was left for a few minutes as the result of the tackle.
Huggins's men took the ball away from the sailors on Providence's 28-yard line, but lost the pigskin when Morse recovered a fumble by Triggs, giving the ball to the tars on Providence's 27-yard line. Capt. Clarke gave the ball to Locke, who made three yards through right tackle, followed by an imitation by Fielding for three more, and a first down by H. Clarke.

With the ball on the 20-yard line, Locke worked his way through the Providence line for the first touchdown. Although Capt. Clarke missed the uprights, the placekick after touchdown was allowed to count, as a Providence man was declared off-side.

Albertson received Trigg's kick-off and ran it back to his own 25-yard line, where H. Clarke moved it up to the 30-yard marker by a line plunge. Conner recovered the ball when Locke fumbled on his own 20-yard line. After trying a forward pass unsuccessfully, Arthur Brickley dropped back and made a vain attempt to score a field goal from placement. The navy boys worked the ball to their 48-yard line by a series of end runs and cross bucks, aided by the clever running of Fielding. The quarter ended with the score, New London 7, Providence 0.

Capt. McGee and his mates made a complete turnover in the second quarter and made their heavier opponents look sick. After the two Clarkes made nine yards between them, Providence recovered the ball on a fumble on the sailors' 30-yard line. Joe Triggs threw a long forward pass to Joe McGee, which netted the local collegians a gain of 33 yards, putting the ball on their opponents' 20-yard line.

A series of line bucks by New London were of no avail and when Fielding let the spheroid get away from him, Joe Tarby was on the ball on New London's 28-yard line. After trying a forward pass unsuccessfully, Arthur Brickley dropped back and made a vain attempt to score a field goal from placement. The navy boys worked the ball to their 48-yard line by a series of end runs and cross bucks, aided by the clever running of Fielding. The quarter ended with the score, New London 7, Providence 0.

The New London captain mixed them up between, them, Providence recovered the ball on a fumble on the sailors' 20-yard line. Joe Triggs threw a long forward pass to Joe McGee, which netted the local collegians a gain of 33 yards, putting the ball on their opponents' 20-yard line.

The Providence players were not given a chance to handle the ball and the sailor boys scored another touchdown on a pretty forward pass from Fielding, on Providence's 38-yard line, to H. Clarke, who romped over with another touchdown. Clarke made another point by a placement kick. Cross bucks, aided by the clever running of Fielding and Capt. Clarke, who wormed his way through part of the New London eleven for the final touchdown of the game. Arthur Brickley failed on a drop-kick for the extra point.

When Triggs kicked off to Capt. Clarke, he ran the ball back 33 yards from his own 10-yard line. Clarke zigzagged his way through the entire Providence team, only to be pulled down by Arthur Brickley, who was the only man between him and the White and Black goal line. The New London captain mixed them up on the next few plays and went over himself for the next touchdown, also making the extra point with a placement kick.

The Providence players were not given a chance to handle the ball and the sailor boys scored another touchdown on a pretty forward pass from Fielding, on Providence's 38-yard line, to H. Clarke, who romped over with another touchdown. Clarke made another point by a placement kick. This made the score, New London 7, Providence 0. The ball was moved up to Providence's five-yard line, after several long runs by Locke and Capt. Clarke, where it remained at the end of the third period.

The last period brought an avalanche of touchdowns, principally through the brilliant playing of Fielding and Capt. Clarke. This pair worked havoc with Coach Huggins's line.

Toward the end of the quarter, with the ball on Base's 40-yard mark, a forward pass from Fielding to Capt. Clarke was intercepted by Bill Allmaratin, who wormed his way through part of the New London eleven for the final touchdown of the game. Arthur Brickley failed on a drop-kick for the extra point.

YEARLINGS PLAY FINELY

Home Eleven's Backs Tear Visitors' Line to Tatters in Touchdown Marches.—Connor and Beck, Forwards, Star

The Providence College football team more than made up for the defeat at the hands of the Submarine Base by overwhelmingly beating the United States Coast Guard of New London yesterday at the new Providence athletic arena, 26-0. Coach Huggins presented a formidable defense and a more powerful attacking set of backfield men than last Saturday. All departments worked with such unison at the New Londoners failed to gain through the line and only proved dangerous when they resorted to an aerial attack, which for the greater part of the second period caused more or less consternation by its unexpected success. It was after a few minutes of play that the first Providence score was chalked up on line plunges. After the kick-off and a punt, Providence got the ball on the sailors' 30-yard line. Franny Kempf plugged with Capt. McGee and Triggs until they had the ball on their opponents' 20-yard marker, where Gilmartin spied a hole big enough for two men made by Connor, which he used to good advantage in scampering through for the initial touchdown. Triggs added another point with a drop-kick.

Another march was made after Capt. McGee recovered a fumble by one of the Navy's backfield men on Coast Guard's 30-yard line. A series of line bucks sent the ball to the five-yard line, where Triggs squirmed through for another touchdown. The big fullback failed on the drop-kick after the touchdown.

Gilmartin skirted the Navy's left end for an additional touchdown in the third quarter and Capone, not to be outdone, scored his first touchdown for the college. Although Triggs failed for the point after Gilmartin's touchdown, Arthur Brickley sent the ball clear through the uprights for the extra point after Capone's score.
Notwithstanding the absence of a few of the regulars who were on the injured list, the yearlings that came sent in by Coach Huggins performed their work impressively. The playing of Condon and Crawford on the flanks for Providence increased the hopes for a successful season to a marked degree. The two lads were working hard at all times and broke up play after play. Crawford was given his first opportunity of the season, and if his work in yesterday's game is any criterion he is a fixture on the team.

In the last quarter Condon pounced on a Navy fumble on the life savers' eight-yard line and Providence got a touchdown. Again in the third quarter the auburn-haired wingman threw Baker for a 12-yard loss.

The Providence College backfield worked exceptionally well. Every man in the secondary defence was plugging the line for fine gains and making hard tackles. Capt. McGee fitted nicely into his old post at right half. His long run around the end and his charges against the Coast Guard line were hard and punishing. Although Joe did not have the distinction of scoring any of the touchdowns, yet he was responsible in a great measure for the entire battle. Triggs intercepted a forward pass on his own six-yard line. The rest of the half was a one-sided affair with the ball on the Coast Guard's territory. At the end of the half Providence was leading by 13-0.

The Providence backfield worked the ball on a fine march up the field to the New Londoners' 10-yard line, where the ball was lost on downs by an inch. Despite a 15-yard penalty inflicted on Providence for forward pass, Condon got the ball to his opponents' seven-yard line, which was recovered by Frankie McGee, the Huggins-coached machine carried the ball to their opponents' seven-yard line. Again Gilmartin scored the touchdown with a neat slide off left tackle. Triggs failed to make the drop-kick count and the score stood, Providence College 13, Coast Guard College 0, at the end of the third quarter.

The last period was a battle to see who could complete the most forwards, and in this department the New Londoners outshone the local collegians. Providence took the ball away from the life savers on their 40-yard line and managed to place it within scoring distance only to lose on downs.

In the very first play, with the ball in their possession, Rowland, the pivot man, threw the ball too high, allowing the ball to roll toward the New Londoners' goal line. Condon broke through and covered the ball for Providence on the Navy's 15-yard marker.

Capone squirmed through for the final touchdown of the afternoon. The rest of the period was a punting duel with aerial attacks featuring.

Providence Collegians, Regarded as “Second-Raters,” Administer Bitter Pill to Connecticut Eleven.
Put Up Battling Offensive

Although Providence College went up to Storrs, Conn., yesterday afternoon as a “setup,” the biggest surprise of the year was sprung on Coach Tasker, when Providence made him and his warriors taste a bitter pill in the form of a stinging 10 to 0 defeat. The Aggies went into the game outweighing the local collegians by at least 10 pounds to a man, and su­ premely confident that they could take the measure of their so-called “second raters.”
What the White and Black athletes lacked in weight they made up in a stubborn fight, which never, during the entire game, showed the least let-up. It was a fine tribute that the athletic authorities paid Coach Huggins and his youthful warriors after the game.

The Providence gridders uncorked a baffiling offensive and an almost impregnable defence. This was especially apparent in the second and fourth periods. In the former period after Brickley zigzagged his way following the kickoff to his own 35-yard line, Frannie Kempf, who replaced the auburn-haired field general, gave the ball to Gilmartin, Triggs and Peloquin, who advanced the ball to the shadows of the farmers’ goal, where Jack Triggs threw a pretty forward pass to Joyce, netting the White and Black 19 yards. Then Triggs made two yards and Gene Gilmartin slid off tackle for a touchdown. The extra point was made by Triggs, who drop-kicked.

During the third and the greater part of the last session the two teams battled fiercely up and down the field, exchanging punts, but at the same time Providence showed its predominance in all­ around playing. Toward the latter part of the final period, the ball was advanced to Connecticut’s 27-yard line after Joe Tarby’s alert pickup of a fumble of an opposing backfield man and two plunges by Slattery and Gilmartin, which placed the pigskin on the farmers’ 17-yard marker. Arthur Brickley, from seemingly impossible angles, dropped back to his own 20-yard line and drop-kicked, the ball sailing between the uprights comfortably.
The latter three points were made with two minutes to play.

Coach Huggins has every reason to be proud of his charges, who, before the game, were set down by the agricultural college as “easy pickings.” The Conneticut eleven got no nearer than the 31­ yard line and were lucky to get that far, a 15-yard penalty bringing the pigskin to this point. The Huggins-coached machine forsook little trouble in blocking by line, as their opponents used nothing but line plunges and only once in a while would – a play that would throw off the defence in any way. On the few occasions that they did try to advance the spheroid on a trick play they were smeared for heavy losses. The ends in this department showed up in high order and considerable credit for breaking up many plays should go to the men who had charge of the flanks.

Coach Huggins’s strategic move of placing Tarby on one of the ends was emphasized in yesterday’s playing. In fact, his playing for the entire afternoon was one of the outstanding features of the brilliant Providence victory. His teammates, Frankie McGee and Joyce, found little trouble in getting through and covering the man with the ball. Their continual breaking through caused such worry to the opposing backfield men when they recieved the ball that it was a common occurrence to see the secondary defence of the Aggies let the ball get away from them to be picked up by a Providence man.

Every time Jack Triggs punted to the opposition, both ends would be down under the punt quicker than lightning and when the wingmen laid their hands on the man with the ball he came to the earth with a crash. It was the final quarter when Tarby’s brilliant playing featured. When Moreland tried a fake kick, he fumbled on his own 27-yard line, the ball being recovered by Joe.
Shortly afterward Tarby’s recovery of a fumble was responsible for the addition of three more points when Brickley kicked a field goal.

Too much cannot be said of the linemen.
Every man of the first defence opened large holes for their backfield man to pierce and were just as equal to their tasks when an opening backfield man attemmed to gain through any part of the
The big boy had the piling-up continually in line. Henry Reall got into the on the Job when he recovered a Connecticut fumble. Jamgotchian, in his new potion of breaking through as has been seen on the Providence eleven this season. The old reliable Beck. Alford and Conner com-ination on the line was at its best and it did not take the Aggies backfield long to realize that they were up against a real stone wall.

In the backfield the luminaries were Brickley and Gilmartin. Although three men distinguished themselves Jack Triggs, by his clever punting and consistent line plunging. Bos. Slattery, Pelouqin, Frannie Gilmartin and Capt. McGee were also men on whom Coach Huggins depended and who came through with flying colors. B. kley ran his team like a Charlie Bueil, picking his plays with an eagle eye and mix. 'em up just enough to throw the Connecticut gridders off their balance. Arthur was most feared by the collegians of the Nutmeg State. Besides engineering the plays in a scintillating manner he contributed three of the points when they kicked the uprights by a pretty drop-kick from a difficult angle. The clever toe artist missed the uprights by inches in the beginning of the first half on a placement kick from his own 46-yard line, the ball sailing through the air almost on a line and missing by a very close margin.

To Gene Gilmartin, the shifty Providence back, goes the credit for the touchdown. This local youngster, being outweighed by about 25 pounds, stayed the limit, and had almost as much fight in him when the whistle blew for the end of the game at the start. With the ball on the Aggies' eight-yard marker, Frankie Kempf called for as kin tackle play, with Gilmartin handling the ball. Gil punting from his own yard marker, and with unexpected ease scammed across the goal line for the initial and only touchdown of the game. The fleet backfield man contributed his powerful attack throughout the game and was, in a great measure, responsible for some of the big gains made.

The game opened with Brickley kicking off to Hurley, who ran his ball back 10 yards to his own 33-yard line. The lads from the Nutmeg State could advance the ball only to the 38-yard line where Eddy punting. Then followed an exchange of punts which kept the ball from the 30-yard line. The Aggies' backfield turned the game into a great measure, responsible for some of the big gains made.

The third quarter was a repetition of the second period with Connecticut producing a score for the first part of the quarter when they marched down the field to Providence 34-yard line, the nearest approach to the White and Black goal. Here Jack Triggs saved the day by intercepting a forward pass and on the next play kicking out of danger.

But the final period showed Coach Huggins's charges at their best, the local gridders making gaining after gaining through the line and at will around the ends. The several new plays introduced by Coach Huggins during the p week were worked to perfection. Near the end of the period Joe Tarby recovered a fumble which gave Providence the ball on Connecticut's 27-yard line. Bob Slattery and Gilmartin brought the pigskin to the 17-yard marker, where Arthur buffered it over to the eight. Triggs dropped back about 12 more yards, and on a difficult angle, cleared the uprights on a pretty field goal. The ball was on the losers' 22-yard line when the game ended.

PROVIDENCE SQUAD
IN LIGHT WORKOUT

Coach Huggins's Hopefuls Ready for To-day's Game with Boston University.

NOTABLES TO BE PRESENT

Many City, State and Church Dignitaries Will Participate in Dedication of Hendricken Field.

Jamgotchian Injured

Coach Huggins gave his Providence College football team its final workout yesterday in preparation for the battle with Boston University this afternoon at Hendricken Field. The session was unusually light.

This contest will be important because of the fact that the local college eleven has almost reached the pinnacle of success, with Boston University the only obstacle. Boston has made trouble for every college that has stacked up against Gordon Cochrane and his team of huskies.

A victory for Boston will put them in fighting trim for their major game, that with Tufts, the final on Coach Whelan's football schedule, the Saturday following.

Another incentive toward the Bostonians chalking up a win is the fact that they have not taken a game this season.

If Providence College can defeat Capt. Tony's warriors the season at the new Catholic college will be an unqualified success.

It was announced by the coach yesterday that Jamgotchian, than whom there is no harder worker on the squad, has a fractured collarbone. He will be of no use to the eleven the balance of the season. This is a severe blow to the team, as the husky player was coming along at a rapid clip. In fact, Jamgotchian was a man who could be used at any position on the outfit with the exception of quarterback.

Although out a part of season with an injury to his back which he received in the battle with City College of New York, he was almost invaluable to Coach Huggins. In the Connecticut Aggies setto the dearth of linemen forced the Providence mentor to use Jamgotchian at left guard. At this position he played a stellar game and the team seemed to be set for the season with such a man filling this hole.

It is improbable that Capt. McGee will be found on the eleven which starts against Coach Whelan's athletes. The White and Black leader's knee is still causing him considerable trouble.

Before the game there will be simple exercises in charge of the faculty of the college and students at which Bishop Hickey, Governor San Souci, Mayor Gainer, Governor-elect William S. Flynn, city, State and church dignitaries are expected to take part. Shortly before the start of play which will be at 2:30 o'clock, students, members of the faculty and invited guests will meet in the assembly rooms of the college, where a parade will be formed to march to the field. The college band will head the marchers and during the game and intermission will play college songs.

The management has procured the services of an announcer who will make known at different intervals of the game the scores of other contests.

The teams will probably line up as follows:

Deaf Defeats Providence: Cochrane's Brilliant Work Features 7-0 Victory. Huggins's Team Springs Surprise by Holding Visitors to One Touchdown

With an eleven rated stronger than the one which held Dartmouth College to a 17-7 victory last week, Boston University defeated the light but fast Providence College football eleven yesterday afternoon at Hendricken Field, 7-0. A large crowd saw the contest.

Dr. Whelan's gridders came here with the idea that they were about three or four touchdowns better than Providence, but ran into a great surprise party. Their only marker was made by means of an overhead attack, coupled with straight rushing. A forward pass from Cochrane to Worcester nettied 20 yards and placed the ball in the shadow of the goal. A pretty end run by the same Cochrane, and line backs by Tonry and Williamson advanced the pigskin to Providence's one-yard marker, where Buster Williamson went over for the touchdown. Cochrane made the extra point by a drop kick.

The crowd had expected a spectacular aerial attack from Coach Whelan's lads, but Coach Huggins's proteges smothered the forward passes, 10 out of 11 times. The only successful pass netted 20 yards. Two of the passes were intercepted by Providence players and helped to keep the ball out of the danger zone. Several times Cochrane threw forwards half the length of the field to Worcester or Williamson.

The Providence College backfield showed the results of fine coaching in the way they met the attack of the Boston University team.

Coach Huggins's wingmen showed great ability in breaking through and getting down under passes. The exhibition of Joyce was easily the best of the game. Time and again he broke through at top speed to smash interference. On two occasions he threw Cochrane for big losses. Tarby's clean, hard tackling was a treat. On punts and kickoffs Joe was down under the drives with plenty of agility.

Shortly after the opening of the second half, with fresh men in the game, the Whelan-coached eleven made a march down the field from the Providence 37-yard line. Quarterback Worcester missed up his plays and depended on Cochrane about four-fifths of the time. To come through, with the result that the pigskin was on Providence's two-yard line with one down to go. On the hidden ball play Worcester failed to make the necessary yardage and the pigskin went to Capt. Motte's warriors on the one-half foot line.

T. Cochrane, the popular Boston halfback, should be given the bulk of the credit for the victory, for it was his spectacular runs on the kick-offs and punts which were responsible for many gains. Cochrane stood head and shoulders over his teammates. His punting and throwing of forward passes were only those the best seen on the Providence field this season.

The game started with Buster Williamson receiving the kick-off by Jack Triggs on his 15-yard line and returning it to his 40-yard line. Williamson came through on a cross block for 10 yards on his first down. Joyce broke through on his next play and threw Williamson for a nine-yard loss.

Cochrane was forced to punt to Brickley who brought the ball to his own 50-yard marker after a run of 20 yards. Although Peloquin could not gain through left tackle, Jack Triggs found lost place for three yards. Triggs punted out of bounds on Boston University's 27-yard line.

On the first play Connor threw Cochrane for a loss. Cochrane dropped back several yards and threw a pretty forward pass to Worcester which advanced the pigskin 20 yards.

A forward pass and an attempt by Worcester to bore through the line failed. Williamson went through right tackle for 12 yards, followed by an end run by Cochrane for a first down with the ball on Providence's 15-yard line. Nine yards were made by Tony and Cochrane, but Williamson lost two when he tried Connor's position. The clever Cochrane came through, making it a first down with the ball on the white and Black's three-yard marker. One more yard was made by Capt. Tony through centre. Williamson squeezed through for the touchdown, and Cochrane dropped-kicked for the extra point.

Toward the end of the second period Coach Whelan took out everyone in his backfield but Cochrane with the idea of resting them up for their return to the fray at the third quarter. Providence played at her best offensively in the second quarter, Capt. McGee and Triggs going through for substantial gains.

The third period started with Cochrane kicking off to Capt. McGee, who ran the ball back to his 20-yard line. Neither McGee nor Triggs was able to dent the Boston line and Triggs was forced to kick to Cochrane, who caught the ball on his 40-yard line and ran it back to Providence's 37-yard marker.
After Williamson and Tonry had made five yards, Cochrane went around right end for a first down. Two yards were made by Carlson, but Williamson lost them on the next play. Carlson again took the ball for an eight-yard gain and Williamson came through with a first down.

Carlson made two yards, with Worcester getting away with another, bringing the ball to Providence’s two-yard line. With two downs to go Cochrane could not gain through the line and Providence took the ball on downs when Worcester could not carry the ball only to the half-yard line. Triggs kicked the ball out of danger.

The remainder of the game was an exchange of punts with Cochrane getting the better of Triggs. With two minutes to play, Worcester ordered everything opened and Cochrane tried unsuccessfully on several occasions to complete a forward pass. One of the punts to Worcester travelled 50 yards and went straight into the hands of the Boston quarterback, but he allowed the ball to get away from him. The game ended with the ball on Providence College’s 27-yard line.

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE DROPS 15-6 BATTLE

Coach Huggins's Eleven Beaten by Canisius in Snow Storm at Buffalo, But Fights Ditch.

Frank McGee Makes Score

[From a Staff Correspondent of The Providence Journal]

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Providence College, as great in defeat as it has been in victory in play this season, put up a hard and bitter fight against Luke Urban's Canisius College outfit at Buffalo this afternoon, but was defeated, 15 to 6.

The never-say-die spirit was as prominent as any this season. Providence's only score came in the last two minutes of play on blocked Canisius punt with the kicker on his own goal line. The game was played in more than an inch of snow and throughout the battle the flakes flew thick and fast and prevented anything in the line of scintillating plays. The overhead was worked to near perfection by Capt. McGee's warriors and added further glory to the weavers of the white and black.

Snow put the field in such a condition as to cause many fumbles. Coach Huggins' men were on the job and when on several occasions with Canisius threatening, one of its backfield men fumbled, at least two Providence athletes covered the ball. This department and the open air attack of Providence College made a fine impression on more than 3000 Buffalo enthusiasts who braved the storm to witness the game.

After Triggs kicked off to Mahoney, who returned the ball to midfield, a march, aided by a five-yard penalty, carried the pigskin to the Providence one-yard line, where Donahue scooted through for the first touchdown. Guernieri, however, failed on the point after touchdown, when his drop kick was blocked by Billy Beck.

The other touchdown was one of the kind that takes the heart out of any eleven. After several exchanges of punts in the last part of the first quarter Triggs booted the ball to midfield. Several Canisius men permitted the ball to go, and several of the Providence players fully expected the ball to be touched down. Instead, however, Weldon scooped up the pigskin and behind perfect interference and reversing his field twice scored the second touchdown. Again Beck blocked Guernieri's drop kick.

Although Providence was mostly on the defense the first half the third quarter saw the team back into its old fighting trim. The Providence collegians took the ball from Canisius several times and threatened their opponents' goal continually; but couldn't penetrate when within the 10-yard mark.

In this quarter Urban's men worked the ball to the Providence 20-yard line, where Nig Lynch sent over a nice drop-kick for three points.

Coach Higgins ordered his quarterback to open its bag of tricks. Starting off a forward pass from Arthur Brickley to Gilmartin was good for 37 yards with a touchdown to go. Jack Triggs made four yards through left tackle and Capt. McGee added three more. Triggs could not make anything through the line and a forward pass from Triggs to Joyce was missed by a hair.

McCormick immediately punted to Gilmartin, who was downed on his 48-yard line. A forward pass from Triggs to Joyce netted Providence 20 yards. Another pass was tried unsuccessfully, but Triggs made three yards. Providence tossed the ball to the opponents on the home team's 22-yard line.

Guernieri punt to Pelouquin on Canisius's 40-yard line. Kirky made eight yards on a forward pass, but Franklin, the Woonsocket lad, intercepted another pass on his 18-yard line. Guernieri tried to punt, but Heall recovered for Providence on Canisius's 18-yard line. Two more forward passes out of three landed the ball on the five-yard mark, where it was lost on downs.

On the next play Billy Beck broke through the Canisius line and blocked Guernieri's punt. There was a wild scramble for it when it bounded behind the Buffalo team's goal line, with Joyce, Joe Ryan and Frank McGee chasing it.

To Frankie McGee, the clever White and Black end, goes the full credit of the touchdown. Young McGee pounced on it for Providence's six points. His brother Joe's drop-kick for the extra point failed, being blocked. The game ended a few minutes later with the ball in Canisius territory.

Score: Canisius College 15, Providence 6.

Playing true to their season's form, the Providence College football eleven defeated the clever St. Stephen's aggregation by the score of 22-13 on Hendricken Field yesterday morning, in one of the hardest and cleanest gridiron struggles seen on the Providence field this year. A large crowd turned out to pay their respects to the team coached by Fred Huggins, which has gone through an exceptionally hard schedule in a highly satisfactory manner. The score represented three touchdowns and a field goal for the White and Black and two touchdowns for St. Stephen's College.

The spectacular offense of the visitors kept Coach Huggins's lads on their toes every minute of the battle. Deloria, the Sioux Indian fullback, was the ace of the New York team, his forward passes being as sensational as has been witnessed in any tussle this fall. He was ably assisted by White.

On the offence the Providence backfield had a difficult time checking White's end runs and his forward passes, one of which brought St. Stephen's its first touchdown, were sparkling.

The Providence victory was featured by the work of Joyce, who put up the best battle of his career at Providence College. Never an end run was tried without the New Yorker getting his hands on the ball-carrier and in most instances throwing him for losses. "Chizel" was not satisfied and reaped further honors by recovering a fumble on his opponents' 12-yard line and, one play later, receiving a forward pass from Arthur Brickley, going over the St. Stephen's goal line for a touchdown. Joyce made it two scores for the morning's work by completing another forward pass for a second touchdown.

Tarby, on the other flank, also starred. A triple pass from Brickley to Triggs and then to Tarby was without doubt the banner play of the game and placed Providence in a position to force ahead for they were at the time trailing their opponents, 13-10. The forward pass was good for 35 yards and was converted into a touchdown when Joyce gathered the pigskin behind the New York Staters' goal line on a pass from Brickley. This put the local collegians ahead and filled them with fighting spirit.
Arthur Brickley and Frannie Kempf, the White and Black field generals, deserve great credit for the manner in which they guided their respective eleven to victory. Although Kempf was not in the game as long as Brickley, still he showed keen judgment in the choice of his plays. Brickley's open field running, his criss-crosses and end around plays were marvelous to say the least, and added dash and vim to the Providence backfield. After piloting his eleven within the half-foot line, within two minutes after the whistle had blown for the starting of the game, the sorrel-topped youngster squirmed through for the first touchdown. His drop-kick was successful for the extra point.

Several times during the rest of the game he amazed the stands by his brilliant end runs. In the third quarter the Everett star dropped back to the 40-yard line and kicked a 40-yard field goal sailing over the centre of the uprights.

Though the backfield, Triggs, Captain McGee, Peloquin, Gilmartin, Sherry, Nolan and Creagan made fine impressions and when the opportunities were to had they met them successfully. Captain McGee and Triggs made large dents in the St. Stephen's line and bored through the forward wall. Gilmartin split off several times for long gains through the tackles where large holes were made by the white and black jerseyed athletes.

The secondary defence, after the first touchdown was made on a long pass, worked in harmony. No less than 23 passes attempted by the New Yorkers, and yielded them 10 yards, notwithstanding the fact that but eight were completed. Of the remainder eight were intercepted by Providence players.

Of 15 attempts by Providence at the aerial style, 10 were successful for 107 yards, two of them resulting in touchdowns. Two passes were intercepted by the opposition, but were not returned because the Providence eleven was in St. Stephen's territory.
