Bill Stenson

Mr. George O'Brien, P.C. Director of Public Information, spoke to the team members and to Coach Edward Brennan immediately after the victory. He received fragmentary, but candid, replies from the excited victors.

Jim Harkin "wasn't nervous until it was over." He was "more nervous in the faculty game," referring to a practice session in which the College Bowl team played a team composed of Father Haas, Fr. Hick, Mr. Brennan was uneasy during the early part of the game, but was generally confident "we trounced them so well before the game; he didn't feel down once it got started." Bill Stenson likewise was nervous before the game, but he felt secure until "about 40 points into the second half." Mr. Brennan was uneasy during the early part of the game, but was generally confident "we trounced them so well in the three practice games."

Mr. Brennan feels that the victory "makes obvious a fact that most of us already knew, but perhaps the rest of the world didn't." P.C. produces an exceptionally fine grade of student. I am as proud of these boys for their achievement as I am of athletes for theirs."

When asked what he felt about our facing next week a "big name" school, Columbia, Father Haas replied, "The history of Ivy League and other schools that have reached the College Bowl is not too illustrious, but P. C. has never had it easy. We've always had to work from an 'underdog' position for our victories."

Mr. Brennan expressed a different point of view: "Next week it will not be Providence College playing Columbia, but four of our best playing four of their best." He feels that our best are as good as their best. NEXT WEEK Next week will be Columbia's second appearance on the College Bowl. In 1959, the second game of the seven-year-old series, Columbia was defeated by Northwestern; that score was 165-130.

Columbia was requested by the College Bowl in March to prepare a team. The final selections were made in April and since then they have been concentrating on nightly practice sessions.

The team captain is Lila Evans, a senior chemistry major from Forest Hills, Long Island. Derek Randall, 20, is a senior Oriental studies major from New York City. Jeffrey Ross, 20, is a junior government major from Cincinnati, Ohio. Steven Ross, 20, is a junior history major, also from Forest Hills.

Mr. John Minicucci is the coach of the Columbia team. An assistant dean, he is Director of Student Activities and a member of the English faculty. He is a graduate of Columbia.

A Unique Privilege

Newton was an invaluable aid in presenting the students' viewpoint.

The control of the parties will lie in the hands of the seniors themselves, that is, the class moderator and the class officers. Any student who behaves in an ungentelemanly or ungentlemanly manner or who exhibits any evidence of overconsumption of beer or alcohol will be asked to leave and will be subject to social probation and disciplinary action.

It is essential that the rules which have been agreed upon be carefully adhered to. The precedent which this party sets will almost totally determine whether or not more parties will be held. According to Senior President Minicucci, "The privilege which the faculty has given us has not been easily obtained, but it certainly can be easily lost if the rules of conduct are violated."

The Control of the parties will lie in the hands of the seniors themselves, that is, the class moderator and the class officers. Any student who behaves in an ungentelemanly manner or who exhibits any evidence of overconsumption of beer or alcohol will be asked to leave and will be subject to social probation and disciplinary action.

It is essential that the rules which have been agreed upon be carefully adhered to. The precedent which this party sets will almost totally determine whether or not more parties will be held. According to Senior President Minicucci, "The privilege which the faculty has given us has not been easily obtained, but it certainly can be easily lost if the rules of conduct are violated."
Editorially Speaking

The Friar plus 2...

"You must admit, we're still a second half club."

The statement was, perhaps, a bit incongruous considering the situation, but then again, maybe it wasn't.

So, "Fabulous Friar FOUR" (to coin another of the Post-Sun. night phraseologies), and just when all appeared to be in order, it couldn't.

It could mean that Providence College is at last "coming of age" in a long-awaited manner, and especially to the individuals who appear from campus. We hope that it is what ELSE they do have at Providence College? So now we can show them!

We can show them that intellectual activity has at last become a self-asserting force here at P. C., that theological-philosophical controversies are the bare Minimum of this activity, and that perhaps, the long-promised "new era" has begun in earnest. I don't suppose a "post-bowl pep rally" behind the walls of Aquinas Hall late Sunday night would be considered the ideal personification of this "era," but it says a great deal for the "new" type of P.C. Gentleman! We need not recognize this novel portrayal of intellectual capabilities, if for no other reason than for a sense of recognition of a growing element.

As for Columbia . . . "touch"!

We Salute . . .

The Friar takes its hat off to . . .

The G.E. Friars for their impressive win against Suffolk University in the College Basketball. The Providence Friars have deteriorated to a nauseating condition, especially on the road. But to turn in license plates of students returning from the license plates of students returning to campus after room check.

This sort of "policing" does not belong on the campus, especially in the hands of the Pinkerton men. A casual glance to insure that cars coming into the parking lot have PC stickers would be sufficient. But to turn in license numbers to some "central authority" would lead to a very uncomfortable situation. This could only result in confrontations such as "Where were you last night?" or "Who was driving your car?" The first should be known by the prefect and the second is no one's business.

Let us hope that campus security will continue to protect us and not attempt to harass us.

MEMO FROM THE EDITOR

"That was the Week that Was." The past seven hectic days have been exciting ones for the entire Providence College Community. The victorious College Bowl Team set the stage by adding an air of enthusiasm to the campus. The administration, not to be outdone by the students, granted the senior class a rather unique privilege.

But, was this the week and are these the people who deserve all the credit? We think not. In fact, we would like to express our gratitude to those who worked diligently behind the scenes to make this an eventful week.

Hats off to Mr. Ed Brennan and the four men who represented P.C. so well! How many of us think of the hours which were spent in selecting this team? This victory was no accident. Four young men were given a task—to make P.C. a winner—and this they did in grand fashion. But there is more to this team than the present members. Competition, coaching, and preparations were all part of this victory; anyone who assisted the team in any area certainly deserves some credit.

As for credit, a great deal should be given to those who assisted the seniors in securing the privilege to bold cocktail parties on campus. Surely, congratulations should be extended to the seniors. Let's not drop the subject here, for a great deal of praise belongs to those other than students.

One of the prime movers for this privilege was Mr. Arthur Newton who gave 100% of his efforts to this cause. Mr. Newton has been often depicted as the goer who chases long-haired students through the corridors. However, there is another side to this man, THE COWL can vouch for the fact that Mr. Newton has gone "to bat" for the students on a number of occasions.

Together with Mr. Newton, we might show our appreciation to the Very Rev. William Paul Haas, O.P., and the rest of the administration. They were willing to meet and discuss the problem of serving liquor on campus with representatives of the senior class. A number of compromises evolved from these conferences will enable the seniors to bold such an event in the immediate future.

Since a variety of events seem to point to this week as "The Week That Was," let us hope that this week has brought about an air of cooperation which will enable us to say that "This Was the Year That Was".

GERALD G. McCLURE

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"YOU SENT FOR ME?"
1. What's eating you?
Can't decide on dessert?
Worse. Can't decide on a job.

2. How come? The recruiters are swarming the campus.
The kind of job I want just doesn't exist.

3. Give me the picture.
I'm searching for meaning.
I want to be of service to mankind.

4. You can get a job like that with your eyes closed.
The trouble is, I also want a slice of the pie.

5. Then why don't you get in touch with Equitable?
Their whole business is based on social research. As a member of their management development program, you'll be able to make a significant contribution to humanity. And, pie-wise, the pay is fine.

Make mine blueberry.

---

Editor's Note: The author of this column, Mr. Georgios Pan Piperopoulos, is a member of the Providence College faculty in the Department of Sociology and a Fulbright exchange scholar.

He has served since 1960 as the U.S. correspondent for the Daily Press in Greece, and has been an editor of the "Atlantic Greek Daily" in New York.

He wrote a series of guest editorials concerning the difference between American and European students for the "College Legian."

In plain English it means: "Who knows?"—and that's a sensible question, I think.

Sex, sex, sex, (I thought I'd mention it). Check the newspapers, read the literature; hear the conversations on college campuses; pick the magazine of your choice (like the playmate?).

Siga Epsilon XI, as real as they come in everyday affairs as bread and butter. A controversial subject; presenting it, you may be bewildered, mystifying, troubling young and old, men and women: SEX!

And only to think that the loss of Eden would make—you know who—no more sensible, a warmer, a more endearing, a more beloved, a more lovely, a more pensive, a more sensuous, a more temperate, a norer. Has it ever stopped really, has it ever ceased being what it is? Depressed, suppressed, jeopardized, prohibited and yet always coming up in your face, as a horizon, that you press into water in vain.

IT'S A GREAT NATION! You are a marvelous people! Great experimenters, never ceasing to investigate, to explore, to criticize, to analyze in an attempt to understand. But, "Chi Lo Sa?"

The conflicting ideologies, the "pro" and "con" arguments, the very subject of sex, is not something new to a foreigner. What is novel, and strikingly pertinent, is the extent to which the people of this country are discussing the subject of sex, though, is a sui generis reality. It cannot be argued in an objective, rational manner; it cannot claim followers in "pro" and "con" from the population as well as the intellectuals. The subject of sex, though, is a sui generis reality. It cannot be argued in an objective, rational manner; it cannot claim followers in "pro" and "con"...

5. Then why don't you get in touch with Equitable? Their whole business is based on social research. As a member of their management development program, you'll be able to make a significant contribution to humanity. And, pie-wise, the pay is fine.

Make mine blueberry.

---

By Georgios Pan Piperopoulos

Editor's Note: The author of this column, Mr. Georgios Pan Piperopoulos, is a member of the Providence College faculty in the Department of Sociology and a Fulbright exchange scholar.

He has served since 1960 as the U.S. correspondent for the Daily Press in Greece, and has been an editor of the "Atlantic Greek Daily" in New York.

He wrote a series of guest editorials concerning the difference between American and European students for the "College Legian."

In plain English it means: "Who knows?"—and that's a sensible question, I think.

Sex, sex, sex, (I thought I'd mention it). Check the newspapers, read the literature; hear the conversations on college campuses; pick the magazine of your choice (like the playmate?).

Siga Epsilon XI, as real as they come in everyday affairs as bread and butter. A controversial subject; presenting it, you may be bewildered, mystifying, troubling young and old, men and women: SEX!

And only to think that the loss of Eden would make—you know who—no more sensible, a warmer, a more endearing, a more beloved, a more lovely, a more pensive, a more sensuous, a more temperate, a norer. Has it ever stopped really, has it ever ceased being what it is? Depressed, suppressed, jeopardized, prohibited and yet always coming up in your face, as a horizon, that you press into water in vain.

IT'S A GREAT NATION! You are a marvelous people! Great experimenters, never ceasing to investigate, to explore, to criticize, to analyze in an attempt to understand. But, "Chi Lo Sa?"

The conflicting ideologies, the "pro" and "con" arguments, the very subject of sex, is not something new to a foreigner. What is novel, and strikingly pertinent, is the extent to which the people of this country are discussing the subject of sex, though, is a sui generis reality. It cannot be argued in an objective, rational manner; it cannot claim followers in "pro" and "con" from the population as well as the intellectuals. The subject of sex, though, is a sui generis reality. It cannot be argued in an objective, rational manner; it cannot claim followers in "pro" and "con"...

5. Then why don't you get in touch with Equitable? Their whole business is based on social research. As a member of their management development program, you'll be able to make a significant contribution to humanity. And, pie-wise, the pay is fine.

Make mine blueberry.

---

By Georgios Pan Piperopoulos

Editor's Note: The author of this column, Mr. Georgios Pan Piperopoulos, is a member of the Providence College faculty in the Department of Sociology and a Fulbright exchange scholar.

He has served since 1960 as the U.S. correspondent for the Daily Press in Greece, and has been an editor of the "Atlantic Greek Daily" in New York.

He wrote a series of guest editorials concerning the difference between American and European students for the "College Legian."

In plain English it means: "Who knows?"—and that's a sensible question, I think.

Sex, sex, sex, (I thought I'd mention it). Check the newspapers, read the literature; hear the conversations on college campuses; pick the magazine of your choice (like the playmate?).

Siga Epsilon XI, as real as they come in everyday affairs as bread and butter. A controversial subject; presenting it, you may be bewildered, mystifying, troubling young and old, men and women: SEX!

And only to think that the loss of Eden would make—you know who—no more sensible, a warmer, a more endearing, a more beloved, a more lovely, a more pensive, a more sensuous, a more temperate, a norer. Has it ever stopped really, has it ever ceased being what it is? Depressed, suppressed, jeopardized, prohibited and yet always coming up in your face, as a horizon, that you press into water in vain.

IT'S A GREAT NATION! You are a marvelous people! Great experimenters, never ceasing to investigate, to explore, to criticize, to analyze in an attempt to understand. But, "Chi Lo Sa?"

The conflicting ideologies, the "pro" and "con" arguments, the very subject of sex, is not something new to a foreigner. What is novel, and strikingly pertinent, is the extent to which the people of this country are discussing the subject of sex, though, is a sui generis reality. It cannot be argued in an objective, rational manner; it cannot claim followers in "pro" and "con" from the population as well as the intellectuals. The subject of sex, though, is a sui generis reality. It cannot be argued in an objective, rational manner; it cannot claim followers in "pro" and "con"...

5. Then why don't you get in touch with Equitable? Their whole business is based on social research. As a member of their management development program, you'll be able to make a significant contribution to humanity. And, pie-wise, the pay is fine.

Make mine blueberry.
Kowalski. Mr. Gantry has played comer to Trinity Square, will appear in the role of Stanley in Birmingham, Raleigh and many other off-Broadway successes. She was last seen at Trinity Square in the roles of Blanche's suitor, Mitch. Mr. Gallery, in his first season with this company, will play the role of Blanche's suitor, Mitch. Mr. Gallery, who has played in repertory theaters across the country, is well known to Shakespearean students through his portrayals on Folksway Records.

The opening night performance of A Streetcar Named Desire will be at 8:00 p.m. at the Trinity Square Playhouse at 7 Bridgham Street. All evening performances after the opening will begin at 8:30 p.m., with matinées scheduled for 2:30 Saturdays. Students and group rates are available for all performances. Tickets may be reserved or purchased at the Trinity Square Box Office, "A" The Arcade, or by calling 551-4823.

Camera Club Contest

The Providence College Camera Club plans to sponsor three photography contests this year. Entries for the first, which has "Night Life" as its theme, will be accepted until November 20. The second and third contests, entitled "Still Life" and "Girls," are scheduled for January 20 and April 30, respectively. The only requirements for entries are that the photographs be at least 8 x 10 inches and related to the theme of the contest. Winning photographs will be published in the Cowl. In May many of the entries will be displayed in an exhibit in the Harkins Hall rotunda.

Members of the Camera Club are entitled to free use of the darkroom, chemicals and tanks for developing, a dryer, and an enlarger. The club works closely with the Cowl and the Veritas. Also available for use on assignments for these student publications is a new 35 mm. camera.

Besides the customary coverage of campus social and athletic events, club members intend to do a great deal of work in color photography this year. Those who are experienced in this field will instruct others.

Officers of the Club are: president, Harold Ayotte; vice-president, Roy Traugott; treasurer, Fred Lamb; secretary, John Dawber. Anyone wishing to join the Camera Club should contact one of the above officers at the Cowl office or the photography darkroom on the first floor of McDermott Hall.

A Rose by Any Other Name Would . . .

Rumor: Use of the name "the Rock" in reference to the new John D. Rockefeller memorial library on the Brown campus has apparently met with disfavor. Some students, it has been whispered, have solved the situation. They now call the library "the John."
Letters to the Editor

Cocktail Party... (Continued from Page 1) 100 million non-Catholic Amer­
icanos, 29, the Cadet Officers Honor­
Club opens its 1966-67 season... the President of Military...
Mr. Palumbo . . .

(Continued from Page 1) and was responsible for the development of the West River Industrial Park.

The St. Antoninus Club, which was founded in 1941, is concerned with enabling its members, most of whose major is economics, to attain a full understanding of economic conditions and their influence upon society. This is accomplished through discussions of current economic events.

This will be an organizational meeting for the club and is open to all economics majors, especially freshmen and sophomores, and to anyone else interested in attending.

Father Quirk said that the St. Antoninus Club is planning a series of talks by authors in various fields where economics majors may find careers. The program also calls for invitations meetings with the social science clubs of many of the Catholic women's colleges. As a final event, the club will sponsor the St. Antoninus social and banquet.

D. E. S.

(Continued from Page 1) Universities. The purposes of this Society are to recognize academic accomplishments, to foster scholarly activities and to provide an intellectual meeting ground for its members. Recognition of high academic excellence is given upon membership and the promotion of scholarly and cultural endeavor is fostered by the activity of individual chapters.

The meeting, which was held in Aquinas Lounge, was called to order by Mr. Timothy Welsh, '65, president of Theta, Mr. Welsh is presently attending graduate school at the University of Virginia. The Rev. Royal J. Gardner, O.P., chaplain of Theta, said the opening prayer.

Mr. Welsh presented the candidates for induction, and Rev. John A. Welsh, president of Delta Epsilon Sigma, accepted them as members of the Society.

The new members of Delta Epsilon Sigma are:

Societies: In Lee P. Berigan (Business Accounting), Ronald H. Cole (History Ed.), Michael P. Cumano (Sociology), Richard A. Damiani (Humanities), Joseph P. Dolan (Humanities); Daniel D. Dunigan (Sociology), Charles R. Hadlock (Physics), Robert A. Hinck (English), Robert J. Iovino (Modern Languages), John A. Laid (Economics); Harvey R. Martin (History), Richard J. Miller (Humanities), Vincent J. Morgan (Gen. Science), John S. Nanci (Business), Paul A. Pelletier (English), Robert A. Sacco (Mathematics), Dennis A. Savio (Biology), Bradley J. Sullivan (Chemistry), John J. Tanne (Mathematics), Michael A. Taraborelli (History Ed.), Douglas G. Vrona (Biology), and Philip S. Sacco (Chemistry).

Junior: Raymond J. Bausz (Biology), Raymond F. Boyle (Mathematics), David A. Byrnes (English), Roderick A. Campbell (Chemistry), Roland A. Champagne (English), Charles F. Collier (Modern Languages) Ed., Norman A. Deslens (Biology), Michael F. Doody (English), James M. Harkin (Political Science), James C. Horner (English), Ramon J. (Sociology), Eugene A. Kessler (Mathematics), John M. Kiely (English), Robert H. Larkin (Chemistry), Dennis R. Lord (Humanities), William T. Mccue (History), Joseph Mancini, Jr. (English), Jackson R. Morrow (History), John J. O'Hare (Political Science), David H. Roland (Biology), Donald H. Sauvigne (Business), John S. Silva (Chemistry), Robert T. Smith (Humanities), and Andrew S. Sorbo (History).

Four faculty members were also inducted. They are: Father Robert Quinn, of the Education Department; Father T. A. Collins, of the Theology Department; Dr. Mark R. Ricker, of the Chemistry and Science Honors Department; and Dr. Frederick Donovan, of the Education Department.

In his remarks, Father Lenegon told the group that he was very proud of the tutoring program which Theta conducts. He also said that he was glad to see students honored without the specter of accomplishments of the field and stadium.

"Hold fast to the idea of the fellowship of honor," he said. "It's what this organization is. It's what we do. It's what we're all about."

Father Lenegon also inducted. They are: Father Robert Quinn, of the Education Department; Father T. A. Collins, of the Theology Department; Dr. Mark R. Ricker, of the Chemistry and Science Honors Department; and Dr. Frederick Donovan, of the Education Department.

Four faculty members were also inducted. They are: Father Robert Quinn, of the Education Department; Father T. A. Collins, of the Theology Department; Dr. Mark R. Ricker, of the Chemistry and Science Honors Department; and Dr. Frederick Donovan, of the Education Department.

In his remarks, Father Lenegon told the group that he was very proud of the tutoring program which Theta conducts. He also said that he was glad to see students honored without the specter of accomplishments of the field and stadium.

"Hold fast to the idea of the fellowship of honor," he said. "It's what this organization is. It's what we do. It's what we're all about."

Later in the year, Theta will sponsor a series of lectures by distinguished members of the faculty and a Communion break fast.

S E C T I O N S

Societies: In Lee P. Berigan (Business Accounting), Ronald H. Cole (History Ed.), Michael P. Cumano (Sociology), Richard A. Damiani (Humanities), Joseph P. Dolan (Humanities); Daniel D. Dunigan (Sociology), Charles R. Hadlock (Physics), Robert A. Hinck (English), Robert J. Iovino (Modern Languages), John A. Laid (Economics); Harvey R. Martin (History), Richard J. Miller (Humanities), Vincent J. Morgan (Gen. Science), John S. Nanci (Business), Paul A. Pelletier (English), Robert A. Sacco (Mathematics), Dennis A. Savio (Biology), Bradley J. Sullivan (Chemistry), John J. Tanne (Mathematics), Michael A. Taraborelli (History Ed.), Douglas G. Vrona (Biology), and Philip S. Sacco (Chemistry).

Junior: Raymond J. Bausz (Biology), Raymond F. Boyle (Mathematics), David A. Byrnes (English), Roderick A. Campbell (Chemistry), Roland A. Champagne (English), Charles F. Collier (Modern Languages) Ed., Norman A. Deslens (Biology), Michael F. Doody (English), James M. Harkin (Political Science), James C. Horner (English), Ramon J. (Sociology), Eugene A. Kessler (Mathematics), John M. Kiely (English), Robert H. Larkin (Chemistry), Dennis R. Lord (Humanities), William T. Mccue (History), Joseph Mancini, Jr. (English), Jackson R. Morrow (History), John J. O'Hare (Political Science), David H. Roland (Biology), Donald H. Sauvigne (Business), John S. Silva (Chemistry), Robert T. Smith (Humanities), and Andrew S. Sorbo (History).

Four faculty members were also inducted. They are: Father Robert Quinn, of the Education Department; Father T. A. Collins, of the Theology Department; Dr. Mark R. Ricker, of the Chemistry and Science Honors Department; and Dr. Frederick Donovan, of the Education Department.

In his remarks, Father Lenegon told the group that he was very proud of the tutoring program which Theta conducts. He also said that he was glad to see students honored without the specter of accomplishments of the field and stadium.

"Hold fast to the idea of the fellowship of honor," he said. "It's what this organization is. It's what we do. It's what we're all about."

Later in the year, Theta will sponsor a series of lectures by distinguished members of the faculty and a Communion break fast.

Last year, thousands of lawyers, bankers, accountants, engineers, doctors and businessmen went back to college.

And not just for the football games.

We'd like to clear up what appears to be a misinterpretation. It is somewhat popular on campus to decry a business career on the grounds that you stop learning once you start working for Cliché Nuts & Bolts. That idea is groundless.

We can't speak for Cliché, but we can for ourselves—Western Electric, the manufacturer and supply unit of the Bell System. 6 out of 10 college graduates who have joined us over the past 10 years, for example, have continued their higher education. How's that for openers:

W.E.'s Tuition Refund Plan lets employees pursue degrees while working for us. Over 6 thousand have attended schools in 41 states under this plan. We refund more than $1 million in tuition costs to employees a year.

To name another program: advanced engineering study, under the direction of Lester Head, is conducted at our Engineering Research Center in Princeton, N. J. Selected employees are sent there from all over the country for a year's concentrated study leading to a master's degree.

You get the idea. We're for more learning in our business. After all, Western Electric doesn't make buggy whips. We make advanced communications equipment. And the Bell telephone network will need even more sophisticated devices by the time your fifth reunion rolls around. The state of the art, never static, is where the action is.

At Western Electric, what's happening is the excitement and satisfaction of continued doing and learning. If this happens to appeal to you, no matter what degree you're aiming for, check us out. And grab a piece of the action.

WALDORF TUXEDO COMPANY

285 Weybosset St.
Providence

Opposite Round Top Church

THE FINEST IN MEN'S FORMAL WEAR...

285 Weybosset St.
Providence

3833 Warrick Ave.
Warwick

THE COWL, NOVEMBER 20, 1966
Sports Car Club Holds Display For Enthusiasts

The Sports Car Club and the Pride of Al Picariello present a display for the students. The club secured the help of the interest of the student's union, the Student Intramural Director, and several other college facilities. The main function of an intramural director is the organization and enforcement of rules for an athletic program for the students. The main problem Mr. Louthis has faced this year has been facilities. This year, the club has twenty-nine teams in the football league yet the football stadium can accommodate only two teams. Since the track team is part of the program, other smaller facilities, most notably Raymond Hall, cannot be considered. There is hope, however, that certain infractions and other complaints will be made available for use by the club.

The Intramural Program

The Intramural Program here at Providence College has kept up with the recent expansion of student activities. Under the guidance of Mr. Peter Louthis, the Student Intramural Director, a vast number of athletic teams have appeared. There seems to be a wider range of activities than ever before.

Imagery of Car's Owners

The car's owners gave a lecture on the design and engineering of the car. This car has dual windscreens, a car designed British roadster. The car has been to many high schools and has been run in a few races. The Allard was the pride of Al Picariello in those days, but Pete was a student at the time and has since then been a competitor in all manner of events. The car's owner has accepted the position of athletic trainer at Providence College. Seventeen years ago he assumed the duties of intramural director and, under his direction, it has steadily progressed. Despite his busy schedule for the past eighteen years at P.C., Mr. Louthis managed to find enough time to publish his Masters in Physical Education from Boston University. The car's owner has steadily progressed. Despite his busy schedule for the past eighteen years at P.C., Mr. Louthis managed to find enough time to publish his Masters in Physical Education from Boston University.

Frosh Track

(Continued from Page 8)

The frosh team continues to impress the students. The frosh team has been a formidable obstacle in the way of the other teams. They have bested all of the teams except for the New England All-Stars.

More on Club Football

We've got some more word on the progress of the Club football program. The team is steadily leading the league and is in a good position to win it.

More on Club Football

We've got some more word on the progress of the club football program. The team is steadily leading the league and is in a good position to win it.

Intramurals

(Continued from Page 8)

The intramural program has been a success. The students have shown great interest in the program. The main problem Mr. Louthis has faced this year has been facilities. The club has had to use Raymond Hall, which cannot be considered. There is hope, however, that certain infractions and other complaints will be made available for use by the club.

Frosh Track

(Continued from Page 8)

The frosh team continues to impress the students. The frosh team has been a formidable obstacle in the way of the other teams. They have bested all of the teams except for the New England All-Stars.

More on Club Football

We've got some more word on the progress of the club football program. The team is steadily leading the league and is in a good position to win it.
Football Story: Met 'B' Takes Two

The Friar harriers continued to bring the key to next week’s Varsity meet by winning the annual cross country run, making it five consecutive New England championships. This is one year in recent New England championship history in which the title is up for grabs, the teams that win in going to have to go out hard and stay together all the way to the wire.

The race efforts turned in by the co-captains, Harris and Campbell, will have to be turned even bigger effort this Monday if the Friars are to finish the season not only as the first place in New England but also in the string of this year’s pennant race. The victory was marred somewhat by the result of a player penalty charged against him, as the R.I.C. booters took on goal were just a little too easy to bring the crowd to its feet. From the start PC dominated the game and things pointed to wards their first victory. Their old menace, the fourth period, proved true again, however. The Friars scored only their first goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars managed eight. Three of these shots came during the fourth period as PC tried to score several times which continued to elude them. Following the game, Coach Pupperopolus stated in an interview that he thought the students has been so great that he will organize a varsity and junior varsity this spring.

Soccer Facts — Father Haas

November has arrived, bringing with it shorter days, colder winds, but also a string of crucial football pairings that will shape the outcome to this year’s pennant race.

The Met B Club continued to defy the losing tradition common to New York athletic teams by downing the Scolly Longhorns 12-0, Thursday, for their fourth consecutive victory. Though the offense was spotty, the Met defense was superb, as the Friars registered for one touch down and one field goal. Peter Reade registered the first score by way of a 44-yard pass from Paul Piperopolous. After Kieran O’Callahan, who has made our team this year.”

The Friars had their first real test of the season in meeting New England’s Westfield State University, the fourth period with Waterbury quarterback Dan Samela throwing 5 touchdown passes. In his last start against Waterbury, he had 5 pass completions for 4 touchdowns. The score held at 1-0 until the final minutes of play.

The score held at 1-0 until the final minutes of play.

As a result of Jack Doyle’s 20-yard punt, the Friar harriers won their third victory in a row, bringing the key to next week’s Varsity meet by winning the annual cross country run, making it five consecutive New England championships. This is one year in recent New England championship history in which the title is up for grabs, the teams that win in going to have to go out hard and stay together all the way to the wire.

The race efforts turned in by the co-captains, Harris and Campbell, will have to be turned even bigger effort this Monday if the Friars are to finish the season not only as the first place in New England but also in the string of this year’s pennant race.

The victory was marred somewhat by the result of a player penalty charged against him, as the R.I.C. booters took on goal were just a little too easy to bring the crowd to its feet. From the start PC dominated the game and things pointed to wards their first victory. Their old menace, the fourth period, proved true again, however. The Friars scored only their first goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.

The Friars scored their only goal in the third minute of the second quarter on a shot by Roy. The score held to 0-0 until the penalty in the fourth period, with 15 minutes left.