PROVIDENCE
COLLEGE

Department of Theatre, Dance, and Film

2 March 2010

Dear Dominican Fathers and Sisters:

The Providence College Department of Theatre, Dance, and Film invites you to attend its production of Louisa May Alcott's Little Women, adapted by Mary G. Farrell and Caolan Madden. This production will be directed by Mary G. Farrell as well, professor at Providence College. Performance dates at the Angell Blackfriars Theatre in the Smith Center for the Arts are Friday March 26th through Sunday March 28th, and two weeks later, Friday April 9th through Sunday April 11th. Curtain times are 8:00 PM on Fridays and Saturdays, and 2:00 PM for the Sunday matinees. The Box Office is open 1:30-5:00 PM Monday through Friday, and one hour before curtain. To reserve your complimentary tickets, please call (401) 865-2218.

In this version of the much-loved story of the March family, the author herself appears as the catalyst to bring her characters to life. Scenes of Jo, Meg, Beth, and Amy, and their circle of friends and relatives in their 19th century New England home give us insight into the upbringing that led Louisa Alcott to write a book based on her own experiences. Between scenes, traditional music of the Civil War period will be performed by PC student musicians.

We hope your schedule will permit you to join the students and faculty of the Department of Theatre, Dance, and Film for Louisa May Alcott's Little Women. Your support of our work in the performing arts at Providence College is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

The Department of Theatre, Dance and Film
