THE BLACKFRIARS

T H E A T R E

1992 - 1993 SEASON

Wizard Of OZ

Based on the book by Frank L. Baum
Music and Lyrics by Harold Arlen
and E.Y. Harburg

To celebrate the 75th anniversary of the college, the Providence College Theatre Department is reviving an American classic with a Blackfriars' twist! This new and innovative look at the family favorite is sure to be a treat for young and old alike. Directed by P.C. Professor Mary G. Farrell, this production will run for three weekends.

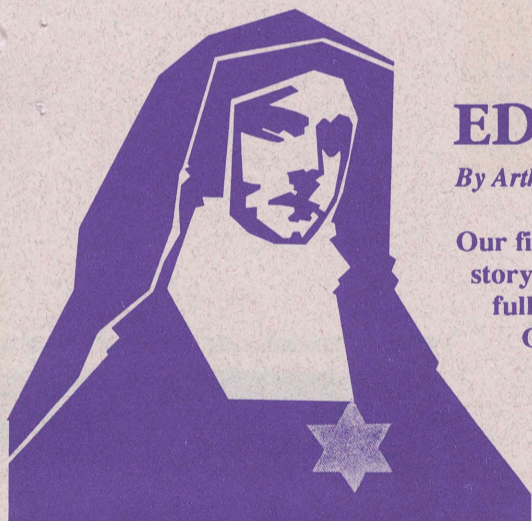

NOVEMBER 6-8, 13-15 and 20-22

Arms and the Man

By George Bernard Shaw

Written in 1893, the Blackfriars Theatre's second production is set against the backdrop of war. This Shaw classic is the story of love, honor, deception, and the craving for Chocolate! This production is under the direction of P.C. Professor Rev. Matthew Powell O.P.

FEBRUARY 12-14 and 19-21

EDITH STEIN

By Arthur Giron

Our final presentation is the controversial and intriguing story of a Jewish woman who became a nun. Her search for full expression of her faith leads her first to a Carmelite Order and then to Auschwitz. The production is directed by P.C. Professor John Garrity.

Welcome to the Blackfriars 23rd Season and Providence College's 75th Anniversary!

The Theatre Department has forged a vision and tradition of college theatre that is insightful, unique and provocative. Season after season, near-capacity audiences have seen this vision realized. Last year was no exception.

Last season began with the exciting production of OUR COUNTRY'S GOOD directed by John Garrity. After an excellent two week run, the show was chosen to compete at the renowned American College Theatre Festival where it was performed for audiences including the best college theatre students and teachers from the Eastern region. To accept this prestigious honor, two special performances were held to help fund the trip to Connecticut where the Festival was held in February. Many members of the college and the community came to these additional performances, some for the second time!

The second production was the delightful RING ROUND THE MOON, which gave the entire cast the chance to work with New York guest director Christopher Tebbetts. The season ended with the classic ROMEO AND JULIET, magnificently directed by Mary G. Farrell. Once again, the audiences were treated to the unsurpassed excellence that they have come to expect at Blackfriars. The evening performances were nearly sold out and two special morning shows were given for area high school students.

As you can see, last year was an enormous success. This year's performance season promises to be just as thrilling! This upcoming season you'll be able to reacquaint yourselves with a great classic by George Bernard Shaw, discover the moving talent of Arthur Giron, and revel in a musical classic for the entire family. Order your tickets to the 1992-93 season today!

See you at the Theatre!
