Senate Tables Letter Of Commendation

The Faculty Senate last week voted to table a letter of commendation to the administration for the handling of the residency controversy.

By a 12-10 vote, the senate tabled the Fr. John Cunningham composed and introduced letter which commended the Administration "for the steps it has already taken in establishing and maintaining effective lines of communication especially with students and joins the President of the College in regretting the recent lapse in communication relative to the tuition increment and the requirement of on-campus residency."

The letter also commended "students and campus representatives who have maintained the right balance in the conflict and have made available an explosive situation from deteriorating into a state of affairs which would seem to have complicated the entire academic community."

In the discussion concerning the letter, Dr. Mario DiNunzio of the English Department said that the letter was not a "blank check for the administration," but rather an acknowledgment that both the Administration and the students were responsible for the current situation.

Fr. Quinn, O.P., said that there had been no lapse in communication because the college catalog had mentioned the possibility that these measures might be acted upon.

The motion to table the letter was made by Mr. Joe King and, despite Fr. Cunningham's statement that he felt that the Faculty Senate would be "shirking" its responsibility by agreeing to the letter, the motion was carried by a vote of 2 to 1.

In the area of academic affairs, Dr. Rene Fortin's commitment to the Arts and Humanities, a bill submitted by Mr. Richard Murphy of the English Dept., (Continued on Page 5)

Bach Festival Opens Arts Week; Photos, Jazz, Folk To Follow

A "Week of the Creative Arts" opened at PC last evening with a 8 o'clock presentation of the Bach Festival Chamber Orchestra andingers at Harkins Hall Auditorium.

The program of Bach, Brahms, Hindemith and Vivaldi was performed by the Rhode Island Civic Orchestra under the direction of Dr. Louis Pichieri. An exhibition of the photography of John B. Philiber, assistant director of motional picture at the National Museum, is scheduled to open today with a 10 o'clock reception and will be open daily throughout the week. An exhibition of the photography of John B. Philiber, assistant director of motional picture at the National Museum, is scheduled to open today with a 10 o'clock reception and will be open daily throughout the week. The work will be on display in the lower lounge of the library, at 2:00 P.M. and will include a presentation of the library, at 2:00 P.M. and will include a presentation of the art of film making.

On Friday, February 21, the Providence College Jazz Club will present a Jazz Concert by the Berkley Jazz Quartet at Aquinas Lounge at 8:30 P.M. Sunday, February 23, the "Modern Folk Sound" with Ray Sickinger, singer, accompanied by Jack Falcone, will appear in the lower lounge of the library at 8:00 P.M.

On Monday, February 24, there will be a harpichord concert by Rev. Thomas D. Colley, S.J., Brown University Music Department. Tuesday, February 25, will see the film, "L'Ventura", shown at Albertus Magnus Auditorium at 8:00 P.M.

"The Week of the Creative Arts" closes Friday, February 28, with a presentation at Aquinas Lounge, at 8:30 P.M. of the Oral Interpretation Club, "Negatives / Positives: Currents in Twentieth Century Literature."

Fr. Haas discusses points with Bill Connolly (L) and Dan Graziano prior to "Statements." (Cont'd Page 9)

Poll on Residence Director

Congress Lifts Its Face, Wants P.C. To Do Same

Monday night's meeting of the Student Congress saw a flurry of action on a number of proposals concerned primarily with the reform of present College regulations regarding social and academic conditions.

The first proposal, introduced by Dan Graziano, '70, called for a preferential student poll to be conducted by the Congress which would be used to determine the prime student choice for the position of Director of Residence. The results of the poll will then be forwarded to the administration for consideration in its selection of the director. The proposal was passed by a voice vote of the Congress.

The second proposal, later tabled by the Congress to allow for a further sampling of the student body by the representa tives, called for RITT-committee oriented officers to take the oath of office separately from the actual graduation exercises. The Congress agreed to postpone a vote on the matter until the completion of a student poll which would indicate student opinion on the issue.

A second Graziano proposal was then introduced which was directed toward the improvement of the social and academic life at P.C. The proposal was composed of a list of suggested reforms dealing with resident and non-resident student problems, and a greater emphasis being placed on the position of the faculty. The motion was passed by a voice vote and will be submitted to the administration as individual proposals.

The final proposal submitted at the meeting advocated the creation of a green and colored dress regulations currently in effect which were interpreted as a preference for the administration to maintain the status quo.

Among the major committee recommendations was that of the Student Congress constitution committee. Several changes suggested by the committee were introduced for approval.

After lengthy debate, it was agreed that both the president and vice presidents of the senior, junior, and sophomore classes will now serve on the Congress. Present regulations allowing only for the class presidents to hold a seat on the Congress was reversed.

The Congress also voted to elect its own faculty advisors in the future and that the position of Student Congress chairmen will henceforth be composed of a list of suggested reforms, and that the position was passed by a voice vote of the Congress, elected by the student body.

Freshman Mixer Nets over $500; Marred by Theft

The first mixer to be sponsored by the Freshman Class netted an estimated $500 and was considered by the class officers to be a great success. One of the highlights of the mixer was a performance of the group called the Marts. This Boston group is composed of ten members, five of whom considered it the best band to appear at a mixer this year.

According to Rich Kontos, a social chairman, "the mixer on the whole was a great success and it came off real well." Kontos added that he was not that security forces were not what they expected.

"The police were not as effective as they should have been," he said, "and a lot of the failures of the mixer could have been prevented had the police taken a more effective look. Next time we will take better precautions by having better security measures."
Separate the Academic and Social Presently, an offense against the social and academic aspects of the College committed by an on-campus resident student can result in disciplinary action suspending or revoking a student's academic career. Under this current disciplinary policy of the College, the dorm student thus bears a heavy liability of which his day-hop and apartment-dwelling classmates are relatively free.

Take a case in point. Each fire extinguisher in the residence halls bears a card which warns: "King Scholarship," as Dr. Thomson so sensitively described at "Statements: Part II.

When Father Haas and Father Cunningham say that as long as I can see our backs are against the wall and our only case and am in agreement with. Hundreds of students want parietals. And I fully understand their reasons. So, as far as I can see our backs are against the wall and our only alternative is to: "Should Providence College, or any college be Catholic?" In a word, about what I think I have come up with the question that really is behind many of the doubts, conflicts and complaints of the student body lately. Fr. Haas and others have often defended the concept of the Catholic university. But there has been precious little dialogue on the matter. We would be interested to hear from students, especially, but faculty and Administration at last, what their thinking about this question is.

BRIAN MAHONEY
Forget The Hang Ups

Theoria Sorrow

Letters to the Editor
Murphy Scores Senate for Inaction

Thomson Replies to Editorial Concerning Faculty Standards

To the Editor:

On last Wednesday the Faculy Senate met and pass a resolution supporting both management and students in their administra- tion for their respective handling of the "crisis" over off-campus residence to all students.

The students did handle the situation with dignity, sensitivity, and the administra- tion met a just compromise and is able to function in its current situation with the ob- presented. This is certainly a real step toward the "lines of commu- nication" in are fact open.

Somehow, however, the Faculty Senate seems to have missed the point. The president wants to both analyze and fa-to the Chief Executive as well as suffered the consequences of hoped that some of these char-miliarize himself with as many be due to the inexperience of fact is, there has been no sub-be taken quite seriously by both spite of the bureaucratic con-position in the Nixon hierarchy, the future president of the United States are open to him.

might want to encourage greater examination of pages 85-95 in while observing the president's inappropriate to change political con-

The era of supporting corrup- tion, conservative, intrinsically dishonest institutions for the sake of anti-communism should be ended. I think we can do this, but we must not, and we need no longer, appease the American administration.

Likewise, a reconsideration of our relations with the European countries is needed. To our supposed allies, is in order to have the opportunity to test this idea is in the back of Nixon's mind as he prepares for "working"

Tenure was necessarily con-

action, they are entitled to our same, of course, holds true for the administration, but in the case of the Faculty Senate, we might ask whether a number of the faculty's representatives in the Senate would be better off if the top priorities of the important place the students have in the administration and the College community. By refusing to commit themselves to an in-

and a commendation of both simply due to the inexperience of families are unable to deal with one and a commendation of both

Somehow, however, the Faculty Senate seems to have missed the point. The president wants to both analyze and fa-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-

Tenure was necessarily con-
Carolan Club
To Conduct Food Survey

A food survey will be conducted by the Carolan Club Food Committee Thursday to gather suggestions for the improvement of food in Raymond Hall.

According to Kevin Bowman, a representative of the Carolan Club committee, the survey will ask students what they like about the food, what they don't like, what they would like changed, and what they would like to see added. The survey will be passed out by the committee on Thursday and will be collected the same day.

Political Science
Student Receives Wilson Fellowship

Austin D. Sarat, a Providence College student majoring in Political Science, has been named a Designate by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

It has also been reported that Sarat will be named a Woodrow Wilson Fellow by the college where he will do his graduate study work. He will be a member of a Delta Chi Epsilon Sigma, national honor society of which Rev. Joseph L. Lennon, O.P., director of community affairs for Providence College, is national president.

Sarat has participated in the Municipal Intern program with the City of Providence during the last two summers and has also been a Legislative Intern with the Rhode Island General Assembly. He is a member of Delta Chi Epsilon Sigma, national honor society of which Rev. Joseph L. Lennon, O.P., director of community affairs for Providence College, is national president.

He has participated in the Municipal Intern program with the City of Providence during the last two summers and has also been a Legislative Intern with the Rhode Island General Assembly. He is a member of Delta Chi Epsilon Sigma, national honor society of which Rev. Joseph L. Lennon, O.P., director of community affairs for Providence College, is national president.

The Dillon Club also plans to continue their efforts in the upcoming spring play, "In White America." Mrs. Betsy Argo has agreed to take command of the student company and work toward a target date of May 15, 1969, for the final production.

Mrs. Argo is now presently working in the Providence College School System and has directed the efforts of the Orleans Summer Theater on the Cape, and the Jewish Community Theater group in Providence. The new directorates have worked in developmental theater and is one of the founders of the Trinity Square Repertory Company. Her talent was brought to the attention of the student group by one of the student members.

Don Carson, the president of the group, said that the Genesians need the talents of everyone who feels that he has something to offer. There are many positions available in this.

Your faculty advisor asks you for advice?

Think it over, over coffee. The Think Drink.

For your own thin drink mag, and try and get your name and address to Thin Drink Bag, Dept. N, R.O., 1222 W. New York, N.Y. 10029, the Internal and Coffee Organization.
Fr. Cunningham Realistic, Hopeful

(Ed. note: Following is the submission of Dr. John F. Cunningham, President of the Faculty Senate and Director of Residence. It presents his current thoughts about the state of the College and his position as a factor in the present struggle going on around the College.)

I am not ashamed of the white habit I wear. I can wear it with pride not for what I am — all of us know we are not what we should be — but because the ideal it represents is a noble one and, more concretely, because many great and good men, my brother Dominicans, have worn it before me. I have enough faith in students to think that they will accept me for what I am whether I wear this habit, a roman collar, or a turban. At the same time, I do not propose to defend academic incompetence in anyone merely because of the way he dresses. One of the things I proposed to Dr. Thomson last evening was: "If 75 percent of a total group of students support a charge of incompetence in a professor, with good evidence, will you dismiss the professor?" I obviously cannot dismiss a professor. But I am a member of the Committee on Academic Bank and Tenure and have been since its establishment. And I give you my word that I would never vote in support of such a professor, either for tenure or promotion in rank.

Committees Do Bring Progress

If we are to become the institution that the vast majority of the academic community wants to become, we have to work with each other and not against each other, on committees and at every other level. Committee work is sometimes exasperating and frustrating. At the same time it is one of the progress. I do not shirk such a price that has to be paid for responsibility; I welcome it because it is the only way I can see progress continuing. I don't have to recite a litany of progress for you. The indisputable fact is that committee work has been made over the past four years: the creation of the office of Vice President for Academic Affairs and the appointment of that office of a man for whom I have boundless respect and admiration, the establishment of a Department of Psychology, the election of depar­ tamental chairman, the approval of a Pass-Fail system which came from a group of your peers, etc. Has enough been done? Decidedly not. But have many of the right things been done? In the face of a strong reactionary viewpoint, I say that they have.

If there be — no, let's be honest — since there is incompetence in the classroom, let's not engender a litany of progress. That's the very thing we re­ sist in others and rightly so. It does no good for the day students to complain to each other about the quality of the work of the Alumnus or for a group of residents to do the same thing in a dorm room, let us do it. I tend to think it is the only way I can bring an end to it. We cannot do without virtue, without venon or ran­ cor. I know the moral and physical right­ ness, do something responsible to eliminate it. You will find many helping to help you if you have the courage of your convictions. Don't be afraid to put your name to a statement if it is one in which you honestly believe. But remember in writing up a petition alleging pro­ fessional incompetence a name and, of course, I will respect my judgment. I won't find it difficult.

Strongly Against Parietals

Let me turn for a moment to some academic matters. Those of you who are residents are, I'm sure, aware of my position on pari­ etals. I am quite prepared to be accused of having a celli­ fonic, perhaps even a demented, kind of belief. But I mean it. I am a Dunning to see that the formation of a dormitory coun­ cil, 1969, 1970, and from now on 200. I have sent to the Vice President for Student Relations a request that the Mural Lounge be open as soon as possible, and that the gym be open all day Saturday and from noon to 8:00 P.M. on Sundays. I will try to see to it that this request is acted on with all haste. Knowing the efficien­ cy of Dr. Duffy, I'm certain that it will be. These things are needed now; they have waited too long. I shall also ask representa­ tives from the Carolan Club to meet with me to discuss the formation of a dormitory council. While I have some reservations about such a project, I consider it a negotiable item and am willing to be convinced of its feasibility.

In reorganizing the office of Director of Residence this year, I assured Fr. Haas that I was most anxious to relinquish the position at the end of the cur­ rent academic year. I tell you now that I am willing to retain the position for the com­ ing year, if Fr. Haas and the resident community wish me to do so. I shall ask the President of the college, the President of the Carolan Club, and other student leaders their opinion on this matter and I propose to write to all resident students for next year's Director of Residence.

The proposal to eliminate the parietal system is a determining vote. Acceptance of this proposal is a reason why I cannot withdraw my nomination from Fr. Haas. It is not an issue of policy, but a question of running for the office, but nothing of the sort. It is a question of running for the office and I see no reason why the students and faculty should not be sought and seri­ ously considered in such a mat­ ter.

Dan Ryan Commended

I have known Dan Ryan for many years. He is a good man in a battle, but I have to think to its all been a big good cause. As long as we have student leaders like Dan Ryan and Jim Montague, I have great hopes for student life. Last night I publicly commended these two students and many like them. I did not do so merely to throw the weight of my endorsement so or to make them.' I did so because I meant it. If I single out the student leaders of the Senate for special commendation, it is simply because I have come to acquainad with what he has been doing. When the history of Prov­ idence College is written, I hope and perhaps only, all of us, the present and future students, will be able to say that words came from a group of students. The proposal be amended so that grade warnings be given not only to freshmen, but to all classes.

Hennedy also argued that grade warnings would be a good indication of a student's work, for some major assign­ ments are not submitted until late in the semester.

Proposing for the retention of the quarterly grading system, Mr. Gustave Lonso said that the system was adopted because of the pressures from professors and some guidelines on how a student was evaluated. With the principle of the Political Science Dept. said that he considered quarter­ ly grading useful, but felt that the proposal be amended so that grade warnings be given only to the freshmen, but to all classes.

Hennedy also argued that grade warnings were a good indication of a student's work, for some major assign­ ments are not submitted until late in the semester.

Speaking for the retention of the quarterly grading system, Mr. Gustave Lonso said that the system was adopted because of the pressures from professors and some guidelines on how a student was evaluated. With the principle of the Political Science Dept. said that he considered quarter­ ly grading useful, but felt that the proposal be amended so that grade warnings be given only to the freshmen, but to all classes.

Hennedy also argued that grade warnings would be a good indication of a student's work, for some major assign­ ments are not submitted until late in the semester.

Proposing for the retention of the quarterly grading system, Mr. Gustave Lonso said that the system was adopted because of the pressures from professors and some guidelines on how a student was evaluated. With the principle of the Political Science Dept. said that he considered quarter­ ly grading useful, but felt that the proposal be amended so that grade warnings be given only to the freshmen, but to all classes.

Hennedy also argued that grade warnings would be a good indication of a student's work, for some major assign­ ments are not submitted until late in the semester.
Fr. Haas, Roy Clark Face-Off...

(Continued from Page 1)

(Continued from Page 3)

Letters...

Sincerely,

Adam Ehlert
Class of 1954

Sincerely yours,

Jean-Yves Dran

FROM PAGE 3

The student representative urged the passage of the Bourke-Boisvert academic reform, which would revise the current curriculum and reduce the credit requirements in philosophy and religious studies to six.

Clark stated that the Corporation and the faculty have been working on what is going on at the campus. He also said that the administration was making policy making decision with the students. The administration must continue to keep communication channels open, he added.

He concluded by saying that if P.C. fails, it will not be because of the student body. "We will reveal new ways to correct the areas needing reform," he said.

Fr. Haas presented his views concerning the atmosphere of the university. He said that the evaluation is an instrument to achieve the goals, and like a dull sword can be sharpened. He pointed out various reforms that have been initiated to better operate the institution.

Haas told the Corporation and the Faculty Senate from unjust criticism. "No one here really understands the Corporation," he stated. "I am careful in your criticism of something about which you know nothing. I respect the Corporation; it must consider its own problems before it can cope with others. The Senate is just discovering its possibilities; I won't make the changes until it has a chance to discover its manhood."

Fr. Haas refuted the accusation that says that he has been selling a false image of the P.C. student. "I am not selling the apple pie, clean shaven individual as a typical P.C. student, for he doesn't exist. I believe in the Big Brothers as part of P.C. but the "dirty thirty" are also a part of this college. I'm not interested in selling a phony image that does not exist and which I and you don't believe in."

Fr. Haas also stated that he has never been interested in power for its own sake or for any sake. "I am interested in the possibility of serving people, not controlling them," he said.

The college president stated that he respects the Student Congress as it honestly speaks for the student body. He mentioned the importance of democracy in college life for the college, for the faculty, and for the student himself. "Rational discussion is the life blood of the college. This type of discussion has been taking place here at Providence."

In the question and answer period, the question of the possibility of parietals in the campus dorms was asked. Fr. Haas answered by saying that he rejected the Student Congress hill parietals because he believed that it would contribute to the overt sexual activity of unmarried couples. He would prohibit open house on Sunday afternoons, however.

From just criticism, the professor added. "I am not interested in selling a phony image that does not exist and which I and you don't believe in."

Sincerely,

Sincerely yours,

Jean-Yves Dran
St. Thomas More, RWJC
Fall Victim To Frosh Five

Providence College's freshman basketball team brought its season's record to 12 and a last week while downing Roger Williams College and previously undefeated St. Thomas More Prep of Colchester, Connecticut.

The big story in this evening was the scoring punch of the predominately sophomore team. The defense was overlooked due to a lack of manpower and the need to play the forwards in their rightful spots. The defense was overlooked due to a lack of manpower and the need to play the forwards in their rightful spots.

... Nick Baidi might not rack up as many triples down the field line this spring. It seems that the left field fence might be a few feet shorter than usual.

The following night, Providence entertained Saint Thomas More Prep and delighted a capacity crowd of 3,600 by beating the visitors 83-76.

The game was nip and tuck in the first half, with neither squad able to furnish a sizable lead. A flurry of 12 points by Bruno DiGregorio, former North Providence All-Stater, however, saw Saint Thomas take a twelve point lead early in the second half.

Donnie Lewis and Wilkins then led a determined Friar comeback that turned the game around as Lewis scored 10 points in the second stanza to give him 25 points and Wilkens added 17 points each as the big story in this encounter, though, was the strong rebounding of Bailey and Lewis which enabled the home team to cut down the huge lead and then maintain it, as Bailey was top rebounder with 21 rebounds, while adding 13 points.

Their efforts trumped a fine display of shooting and ball-handling by DiGregorio, who finished with 30 points, to lead all scorers.

The frosh will next meet the young Crusaders of Holy Cross Saturday night at Worcester.

An important meeting of all members of the track team will be held Monday, February 24 in the afternoon. The meeting will be in room 107 of the Library.

The SPORTSDESK tips its hat to sophs Tom Tilton, Mickey McNeill, Bill Miller, Lenny Miragliuolo (any relation to the hoop star?), Jeff Schulz, Dennis Quigley, Willis Quinn and Willie Whiting. How about eight fans traveling to Bowdoin this Saturday?

If you have looked at our basketball record to date you may have noticed a very unusual pattern. We have won four, dropped four, won three, dropped three until now we are "scared to death to compete with the state's leading small college team."

The gentleman advocates (in jest?) picketing of the campus through use of motorcycles running throughout the grounds. I myself would not mind seeing such a match up, although I might feel sorry for Bryant after it's over.

Our famed school spirit is wearing a little thin of late, in some spots, notably hockey. A bus list was put up for the P.C.-B.C. game and a grand total of nine (9) were willing to pay fifty cents a ride to the auditorium and take in a hockey game. Tonight I'd like to see someone there to counter the expected crowd from Brown. A little support can go a long way.

Basketball is different, perhaps because of an on campus rink. Last weekend eight sophomores drove 500 miles to Niagara Falls in order to cheer on the five. The SPORTSDESK tips its hat to sophs Tom Tilton, Mickey McNeill, Bill Miller, Lenny Miragliuolo (any relation to the hoop star?), Jeff Schulz, Dennis Quigley, Willis Quinn and Willie Whiting. How about eight fans traveling to Bowdoin this Saturday?

If you have looked at our basketball record to date you may have noticed a very unusual pattern. We have won four, dropped four, won three, dropped three until now we are "scared to death to compete with the state's leading small college team."

The SPORTSDESK tips its hat to sophs Tom Tilton, Mickey McNeill, Bill Miller, Lenny Miragliuolo (any relation to the hoop star?), Jeff Schulz, Dennis Quigley, Willis Quinn and Willie Whiting. How about eight fans traveling to Bowdoin this Saturday?

If you have looked at our basketball record to date you may have noticed a very unusual pattern. We have won four, dropped four, won three, dropped three until now we are "scared to death to compete with the state's leading small college team."

The SPORTSDESK tips its hat to sophs Tom Tilton, Mickey McNeill, Bill Miller, Lenny Miragliuolo (any relation to the hoop star?), Jeff Schulz, Dennis Quigley, Willis Quinn and Willie Whiting. How about eight fans traveling to Bowdoin this Saturday?
Revenge Minded Friars Battle Brown Tonight

Coach Lamoriello's sextet left Boston College with the impression that they had been through a grinder Monday evening as the Friars never gave in. The final outcome was 7-4 Boston College but following their 7-0 set.

BU squad was led by a two goal attack of both Mike Byrne and Paul Hurley, one of the leading scorers in the East and their team. Steve Cedorchuk, an outstanding playmaker for Cha- nan, was the Joe's, a very weak re-bound- team, displayed two outstanding ballplayers in Hauer and Kelly. Hauer is only 6'3" but he battles every inch of the way, much in the same manner as former Holy Cross star, Keith Cross.

As Season Nears End

Wednesday, the Friars met and the Providence hock- yer set for a battle with Notre Dame, Purdue, Villanova. As Season Nears End who earned the green hero wreath for his 18 points (6 of 8 from the field) and 10 rebounds. Clary was aided by Walt Violett's 13 points. Violated was choosy about his shots, but of the six he did attempt, five found the basket.

Hoopsters Set Sights On Crusaders Saturday

South Carolina Moves Up

Two upsets propelled two new entries into this week's top ten. Frank McGuire's South Carolina Gamecocks upset second seeded North Carolina, earning the team a long overdue national recognition. South Carolina is the only team to defeat third ranked La Salle. Duquesne shocked Villanova in Pittsburgh and may have leapfrogged the Cat's NCAA tourney bid. The Dukes moved into the eighth spot, while Jack Kraft's charges bowed out for this week.

The Providence Friars jumped off to an early lead and the overpopulate goalies in the season. Byrne scored a penalty shot, pulled the rope, and accounted. The left short was assisted by Steve Cedorchuk rammed a short home sixty-six seconds later. On the ensuing face-off', Tim Smythe, a right winger on the third line asked around a Friar defense- man for the score. This led the Friars to the 2:24 mark Chris Byrne rammed a shot in goaler McPhee skating around a Friar defense- line height, and Mullaney are lacking drastically in front of the contest it appeared that a grinder Monday evening as the PC squad was short-

In the game played Saturday evening at 4:00, Providence, ECAC Goalie of the Week.

GAMECOCKS "V" MARTY IN THE BEGINNING AND THE ENDED WITH LARRANAGA FOR THE SECOND CON- TEST; FOR THAT MATTER, THERE WERE NO WAKABASHI IS AN OUTSTANDING PLAYMAKER FOR CHA-

We're at 2:24 when Byrne scored, and the two goal attackers were able to stay with the very powerful some Terrier was always pres- ent to cancel out the on the 7th.

BU squad was led by the two goal attack of both Mike Byrne and Paul Hurley, one of the leading scorers in the East and their team. Steve Cedorchuk, an outstanding playmaker for Cha- nant, was the

In Varsity Basketball

Saturday, Feb. 20. Brown University, at R. I. Auditorium, 8 p.m. Bradford Col- lege, at Brunswick, Maine. All games broadcasted by WDOM AM and FM.

This Week In Sports

South Carolina is the only team to defeat third ranked La Salle. Duquesne shocked Villanova in Pittsburgh and may have leapfrogged the Cat's NCAA tourney bid. The Dukes moved into the eighth spot, while Jack Kraft's charges bowed out for this week.

Two upsets propelled two new entries into this week's top ten. Frank McGuire's South Carolina Gamecocks upset second seeded North Carolina, earning the team a long overdue national recognition. South Carolina is the only team to defeat third ranked La Salle. Duquesne shocked Villanova in Pittsburgh and may have leapfrogged the Cat's NCAA tourney bid. The Dukes moved into the eighth spot, while Jack Kraft's charges bowed out for this week.

Bob Brown and Brian Hussey participated as usual. The two prognosticators earnings, through the game never-say-die Hawks kept the heat on until Jim Larranaga's two foul shots with one minute remaining. Bob Brown and Brian Hussey participated as usual. The two prognosticators earnings, through the game never-say-die Hawks kept the heat on until Jim Larranaga's two foul shots with one minute remaining. Bob Brown and Brian Hussey participated as usual. The two prognosticators earnings, through the game never-say-die Hawks kept the heat on until Jim Larranaga's two foul shots with one minute remaining.

Both teams made frequent backtracking mistakes, and it seemed that no one wanted the ballgame. For example, PC ran the Hawks off the floor in the first six minutes, but then proceeded to play miserably, subsequently blowing an 18-point advan- tage. As usual Larranaga, the team's leading scorer, at 19 ppg, was the center of the de- fense, but an outstanding passing consecutive game, he compiled a poor shooting statistic. Mul- lainey had never seen the Hawks' Snyder, but the star sophomore could not elude him. Instead of passing off and waiting for help from his mates, Larranaga forced numerous shots in his attempt to shoot himself. Colucci led the team in scor- ing with 20 points, scoring heavily in the beginning and the end. It was Andy Clary who earned the green hero wreath for his 18 points (6 of 8 from the field) and 10 rebounds. Clary was aided by Walt Violett's 13 points. Violated was choosy about his shots, but of the six he did attempt, five found the basket.

Captian Andy Clary tips one in as St. Joe's Dan Kelly stands by.

What's the International Law on the Formula One in the United States? has been getting strong scoring from 67" Bob Kissane and 61" Jack Adams. Holy Cross is not strong in outside shooting outside of Kissane, but depends on an ag- gressive defense which has held the opportunity to underplay 40% from the floor. If the Friars can get consistent outside shooting, the pressure will be on the Cross.