Electron Tally Announced
by R. Ghobor
On Tuesday, November 6, at 3:30 p.m., the faculty senate met to announce the results given by the senior and junior nominees for the two student seats on the Providence College Corporation. Later that evening, the six nominees were interviewed on the Student Congress Hour of WDOM (7 p.m.) for a debate of various issues. The last half-hour of this show was devoted to comm.

On November, Wednesday, 7, from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m., the election for the Corporation positions was held in the Student Center - lower level. A multi-point system of voting had been employed. Denis Kelly and Leonard Taddei were the largest vote-getters. A breakdown of the senior candidates vote was: Kelly 1422, Callebaut 997, Bourdon 1232 points; and Coffey 257 points. The Junior nominations were as follows: Taddei 1068 points and Medeiros 949 points, a close second.

The names of the four seniors and three juniors, as a video was shown of the Tuesday night debate, the election results, academic records from the Dean's office, listing of each candidate's activities, and recommendations from the Senior Student Congress President will be presented to the Standing Committee of the Providence College Corporation. It is their decision, as to which student will comprise the two Corporation seats. It is an open position, and vote; the junior will also have a seat, but it is void from voting.

The tentative date for the first Board Meeting is December 2nd.

Ring Weekend Successful
by Ann Frank, News Editor
Junior Class Ring Weekend, according to those in attendance, was a huge success. Pete Cinogrono and Jack Rudnick, co-chairs, Louis Zullo, and the other members of the committee were responsible for the memorable three days. At the Friday, November 9, '89's mixed, the crowd gathered to dance and listen to the Bluebird group whose music pleased nearly the whole audience. The Beatles song was well received. The Friday night washer game was disappointing, as the P.C. gridders succumbed, '19-20." The "come close" was given by Louis Zullo, speaking of the Saturday, November 10, competition. Lathe that evening, the much awaited Chateau-de-Ville dinner-dance became a reality. Dressed in semi-formal attire, the Junior Fairs and their dates converged upon the Warwick night spot. At the top of the spiral staircase, professional photos were taken; the fee was nominal. Rings which had been ordered and paid for, were handed out in the second floor lobby. Fr. Francis Oklahoma P.O.P. representing Fr. Peterson, President of the College, blessed the rings.

Seated at the head table were: Fr. Frank, Fr. Milmore, Fr. DiNata, Fr. Quigley, Fr. Walsh, Fr. Morris, Mrs. Fr. McPhail, Fr. McMahon, Fr. Cunningham, Dr. Thomas, Mr. J. M. Hickey, Mr. Zullo, and date, and the co-chiefs Pete Cinogrono and Jack Rudnick and their respective significant others. Dr. Thompson is reported to have said that he attended the function because of his nearness to the class of 79, having taught many through the D.W.C. program.

The pre-nominal feasts were initiated by the co-chiefs, Pete Cinogrono and Jack Rudnick, who gave speeches. Louis Zullo, president of the class then spoke. "Ring Weekend is the culmination of fourteen months of hard work and good times, tensions and decisions." His speech centered on the theme of the class developing community spirit for "many things we take for granted the various aspects of life.

The main course was roast beef and assorted fixings. The orchestra was "Jazz Wrapp" and provided a soft sounds and rock, according to Zullo. The atmosphere of the purpose Room was well attended. It was catered: sandwiches and coffee were served. Jerry Walls entertained the crowd by playing oldies.

The Weekend ended with the Sunday Mass celebrated by Fr. Walsh for the intentions of the class. A brunch followed. The "COWL" faculty sat at the head table.

WDOM Will Expand Hours
by Mary McKee
WDOM's General Manager, Very optimistic following the monthly staff meeting yesterday. It looks like WDOM will be able to expand its hours well into the new years. While few details are present, the broadcast day is 14 hours, running from 5-11 p.m. The expansion will be into the morning hours so that the station will begin broadcasting at 10-1 a.m. daily.

"I feel that a good indication of our progress is that we are very definitely still going on the air during vacations this year, something we haven't been able to consistently, in the past. The spirit of the people we have this year is outstanding."

In other developments at WDOM, Station Manager Gregory Varon said that this is this "the free air" policy at Wednesday's meeting. Under this new policy the DJ's will be free to go to campus organizations or other spearheading activities. "WDOM, along with the COWL, forms the most efficient channel of communication on this campus, "stated Varon, "and everyone will have the opportunity to use it." He named Patrick Fanning '76 as coordinator of this policy.

Committee Investigates Issue
(Editors Note: As the Student Congress enters the final weeks of its legislative session, members begin to take stock of their work ...)

What are the objectives of the Academic Research Committee? As chairperson Barbara Jackson explained, "the Committee was established by the Student Congress to work for the improvement of the college's academic endeavors."

In other developments at WDOM, Station Manager Gregory Varon said that this was the "free air" policy at Wednesday's meeting. Under this new policy the DJ's will be free to go to campus organizations or other spearheading activities. "WDOM, along with the COWL, forms the most efficient channel of communication on this campus, "stated Varon, "and everyone will have the opportunity to use it." He named Patrick Fanning '76 as coordinator of this policy.

The Faculty Senate met Wednesday afternoon to discuss the growth of faculty evaluations. The meetings will meet at 1:30 p.m. and will meet again today. The major accomplishment was the passage (24-1) of a bill (73-451) which would permit assistant professors to serve as departmental chairperson if approved by all amendments to the faculty manual. This is expected if the President of the College continues to support the bill.

Three other votes were taken. John Henney introduced a bill on behalf of the faculty status committee concerning the making of changes in the rules concerning stipend, scholarships, it passed 27-6.

Two other measures were introduced, one regarding merits and both passed. The first of these would award two faculty members on the College Building Committee, the other asks that an annual Statement of the College's financial situation. The vote on this was the closest of the day, the opposition garnering three votes against the two faculty members used to support both of his bills was that they were in the "spirit of greater faculty participation" that Fr. Peterson stressed in his address in September.

The remaining items on the agenda — faculty status was postponed until next week and will be discussed at the 27-6. The Senate recessed at approximately 2:30 p.m. in the Thursday session.

Senators: The absence of refreshments especially one goal of the Senate purely jeopardized the ability of some students to purchase meals and sleep alone. The Audio Visual department, beginning late selling up, was at risk to get a ground loop again this time. That department seems to do a better job at student productions than Faculty Senate meetings.

Faculty Senate introduces Bills
The Faculty Senate met Wednesday afternoon to discuss the growth of faculty evaluations. The meetings will meet at 1:30 p.m. and will meet again today. The major accomplishment was the passage (24-1) of a bill (73-451) which would permit assistant professors to serve as departmental chairperson if approved by all amendments to the faculty manual. This is expected if the President of the College continues to support the bill.

Three other votes were taken. John Henney introduced a bill on behalf of the faculty status committee concerning the making of changes in the rules concerning stipend, scholarships, it passed 27-6.

Two other measures were introduced, one regarding merits and both passed. The first of these would award two faculty members on the College Building Committee, the other asks that an annual Statement of the College's financial situation. The vote on this was the closest of the day, the opposition garnering three votes against the two faculty members used to support both of his bills was that they were in the "spirit of greater faculty participation" that Fr. Peterson stressed in his address in September.

The remaining items on the agenda — faculty status was postponed until next week and will be discussed at the 27-6. The Senate recessed at approximately 2:30 p.m. in the Thursday session.

Senators: The absence of refreshments especially one goal of the Senate purely jeopardized the ability of some students to purchase meals and sleep alone. The Audio Visual department, beginning late selling up, was at risk to get a ground loop again this time. That department seems to do a better job at student productions than Faculty Senate meetings.

The meeting of November 14 will probably be in closed session to take up the matter of a violation of the faculty manual. Specifically that matter of concern is the outside activities of a faculty member without the approval of the Provost Office.

The current evaluation is being conducted in an orderly fashion and with serious intent. Committee members are convinced that the proctor is worth the "effort and energy they are willing to devote. A recent report to the Senate had even become involved, Maureen Connor had contacted several colleges and universities across the country, requesting their opinions, and an extensive faculty evaluation. The responses were received, helping the Congress committee members feel that it would be better to wait until the evaluation is well established; or have its results used at the summer's discretion of the day.

The current evaluation is being conducted in an orderly fashion and with serious intent. Committee members are convinced that the proctor is worth the "effort and energy they are willing to devote. A recent report to the Senate had even become involved, Maureen Connor had contacted several colleges and universities across the country, requesting their opinions, and an extensive faculty evaluation. The responses were received, helping the Congress committee members feel that it would be better to wait until the evaluation is well established; or have its results used at the summer's discretion of the day.

The current evaluation is being conducted in an orderly fashion and with serious intent. Committee members are convinced that the proctor is worth the "effort and energy they are willing to devote. A recent report to the Senate had even become involved, Maureen Connor had contacted several colleges and universities across the country, requesting their opinions, and an extensive faculty evaluation. The responses were received, helping the Congress committee members feel that it would be better to wait until the evaluation is well established; or have its results used at the summer's discretion of the day.
Turkey Day Travel Hints

Thanksgiving trips, slippery pavements, and poor visibility can add up to a real triple threat to drivers, according to CHARLES W. SHELDERS, JR., EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR of the RHODE ISLAND COUNCIL ON HIGHWAY SAFETY. "Unfortunately, Thanksgiving so often coincides with the first winter storms of the season and neither drivers nor their cars and equipment are ready for traveling in this kind of weather," the safety official said.

Getting your car ready for winter driving is obviously the first step, he pointed out. "Make sure your car is in first class condition, paying particular attention to those items that affect traction and vision, such as brakes, tires, lights, defroster and windshield wipers. "Good tires with good treads are important all year round, but even more so when pavements are slippery. Snow tires can be a real help for pulling through snow. Studded snow tires, particularly when used on all four wheels, are still better for added traction on icy pavements. For severe snow and ice conditions, however, reinforced tire chains are far more effective so be sure they are in the trunk of your car and ready for use before starting out on a winter trip," the official advised.

The other added hazard so often associated with winter weather - poor visibility - is the longest of darkness, rain, snow, frost, sleet and fog, he said. He urged drivers to check the entire windshield, not just a peephole - and the side and rear windows as well, pointing out that good visibility to the side and rear is essential in today's heavy traffic. "Replace streaking windshield wipers and make sure you have an adequate supply of anti-freeze solution in your windshield washers before starting out on a Thanksgiving trip," Shields warned.

Finally, he urged drivers to check with the weather bureau, state police or local motor clubs before starting out on an extended trip. "If the weather is already bad and reports indicate that more of the same is on the way, it's foolishly to start out and subject yourself and your family to the possibility of a serious accident," he concluded.

Watergate Lecture Planned

Could there be anything virous, righteous, or noble behind the events of Watergate? The recent rules of conduct in American society appear to be based on ethical or moral considerations of men interacting with one another. Today we Americans have witnessed a paradox within our government that questions the very foundation of our freedom to choose. Today we Americans are pur­ porting to protect our choice. Shields advised.

Professor Kateb has accepted the invitation to talk to the Providence College Community on the topic. Dr. Kateb is presently the Vice- President of the American Society for Political and Legal Philosophy. The lecture will take place on Thursday, November 29, at 7:30 p.m. in the Guild Room (Alumni). Phi Sigma Tau, Providence College's chapter of the National Political Science Honor Society, will sponsor the symposium, students, faculty, and the public to attend this informative lecture.

Whale Swims with Symphony

by Mosby Dick

On Saturday evening, November 17, Francis Madeira will conduct the Rhode Island Philharmonic Orchestra in a program featuring the whale humback as soloist. The concert will take place at 8:30 p.m. in Veterans Memorial Auditorium in Providence. Tape recorded sounds of 10 humback whale are a part of a work by Alan Hovhaness entitled "And God Created Great Whales" which uses sounds from the underwater Bermuda. The work was com­ missioned by Andre Kostalanetz and premiered by him in 1970. This will be the first performance of the work in Rhode Island.

Another oceanic work to be performed that evening is "La Mer" by Debussy. This is a set of three tone paintings reflecting the various moods of the sea. Also included on the program are two works by Tchaikovsky — "Mohoriana" which was com­ posed as a tribute to Mozart and incorporates several of that composers melodies. and "Francesca da Rimini", a sym­ phonic fantasia based on the fifth canto of Dante's "Inferno."

Tickets are available at the office of the Rhode Island Philharmonic Orchestra. The Arcade in downtown Providence or by calling or the Orchestra at 831-8132. For mail order orders include a stamped, self-addressed and 41 cent envelope with the check.

KELLY'S RESTAURANT has part time
Assistant Manager Openings

3 or 4 nights per week.
Good pay, flexible hours.
Call 434-0200, Mr. DiSala for appointment.

THE NEW YORK DOLLS are coming.

at The Viking Convention Center

THE VIKING HOTEL

Newport, R.I.

TICKETS are available at: all Ladd Stores, Music Odyssey, Sully's, and the Surf Store.

TICKETS ARE:
$4 in advance
$5 at the door

YOUR FAVORITE BEVERAGE WILL BE SERVED
Friday, November 16, 1973

CARE's Thanksgiving Plea

THANKSGIVING WEEKEND — Bob and end, road trip. Come to Central Jersey, Garden State Pkwy., 1-80 Patterson, I-80 Mt. Olive, Somerville, New Brunswick, Franconia, Union or Central Jersey and celebrate.

JOBS in Business Consulting. Frequently the difference between success and failure at the entry level is due to the job applicant's personal initiative and ability to get real in no other organization. How will be in the Placement Office on November 29 to hear about Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps.

JOBS in Business Consulting. Frequently the difference between success and failure at the entry level is due to the job applicant's personal initiative and ability to get real in no other organization. How will be in the Placement Office on November 29 to hear about Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps.

JOBS in Business Consulting. Frequently the difference between success and failure at the entry level is due to the job applicant's personal initiative and ability to get real in no other organization. How will be in the Placement Office on November 29 to hear about Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps.

JOBS in Business Consulting. Frequently the difference between success and failure at the entry level is due to the job applicant's personal initiative and ability to get real in no other organization. How will be in the Placement Office on November 29 to hear about Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps.

JOBS in Business Consulting. Frequently the difference between success and failure at the entry level is due to the job applicant's personal initiative and ability to get real in no other organization. How will be in the Placement Office on November 29 to hear about Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps.

JOBS in Business Consulting. Frequently the difference between success and failure at the entry level is due to the job applicant's personal initiative and ability to get real in no other organization. How will be in the Placement Office on November 29 to hear about Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps.

JOBS in Business Consulting. Frequently the difference between success and failure at the entry level is due to the job applicant's personal initiative and ability to get real in no other organization. How will be in the Placement Office on November 29 to hear about Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps.

JOBS in Business Consulting. Frequently the difference between success and failure at the entry level is due to the job applicant's personal initiative and ability to get real in no other organization. How will be in the Placement Office on November 29 to hear about Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps.

JOBS in Business Consulting. Frequently the difference between success and failure at the entry level is due to the job applicant's personal initiative and ability to get real in no other organization. How will be in the Placement Office on November 29 to hear about Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps, Peace Corps.
Ms. Laise Sworn In

On October 16, as Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger looked on, Ambassador Carol C. Laise was sworn in at the State Department, as the first woman Assistant Secretary of State.

For the many other women in the career Foreign Service, it was a pleasant evening spent by Ambassador Laise...

Fine Arts Fans Enjoy Wheaton Trio

by Bob St. Jean

Twice a year, the Providence College Fine Arts Committee, last Wednesday evening, presented the Wheaton Trio. Torna was a pleasant evening spent by the fans of the fine arts. Since its founding in 1967, The Wheaton Trio of Wheaton College, in Norton Massachusetts, has toured extensively throughout the New England area presenting concerts, seminars, and workshops. They have received wide acclaim for their innovative and interesting interpretations of classical music. The three members of this extraordinary group are Victor Rosenbaum, pianist, who is Assistant Chairman of the Fine Arts Department at the New England Conservatory of Music, Nancy D'Amato, violinist, Associate Professor of Music in Performance at Wheaton College, and Joel Moreschello, cellist, a member of the orchestras of the United States since 1976.

The program included works by Beethoven, Hayden and the first performance of a work written by Marilyn Currier, a faculty member of P.C. The turn-out for the performance was good; the audience was welcoming and well-dressed. The evening was enjoyable, well-produced, and well-served.

A.E.D. Sponsors Blood Drive

A blood drive, sponsored by Alpha Epsilon Delta, the premedical honorary society, held in Room 203 in the Slavin Center, was another successful one. Red and white, the whole room was filled with people donating blood. The blood was flown to St. Joseph's Hospital, the society was chaired by Al Gardner with assistance from Judy Sullivan, Ken Mortyce, Paul Barber, and Chris Evans. The program included works by Beethoven, Hayden and the first performance of a work written by Marilyn Currier, a faculty member of P.C. The turn-out for the performance was good; the audience was welcoming and well-dressed. The evening was enjoyable, well-produced, and well-served.

A.E.D. Sponsors Blood Drive

A blood drive, sponsored by Alpha Epsilon Delta, the premedical honorary society, held in Room 203 in the Slavin Center, was another successful one. Red and white, the whole room was filled with people donating blood. The blood was flown to St. Joseph's Hospital, the society was chaired by Al Gardner with assistance from Judy Sullivan, Ken Mortyce, Paul Barber, and Chris Evans. The program included works by Beethoven, Hayden and the first performance of a work written by Marilyn Currier, a faculty member of P.C. The turn-out for the performance was good; the audience was welcoming and well-dressed. The evening was enjoyable, well-produced, and well-served.

Student Congress Passes Energy Cutback Bills

( Editor's note: The following bill was passed Monday night and sent to the Committee For Administration.)

BE it hereby enacted by the Student Congress of Providence College, sitting in session November 12, 1973, that:

I. Christmas vacation will be extended until January 31, 1974. To make up lost time caused by this extension, the entire Spring recess, from May 17 to June 1, 1974, will be extended to include the Easter break, which was to be one week, and Midyear break, which was two weeks.

II. The following recommendations have been approved for consideration:

a. Students will be asked through the Dorm Councils to restrict use of radios, televisions, stereo, hot plates, lights, and any other electrical appliances, especially during high rate usage periods.

b. Formulate and organize car pools for commuters coming to and from the College campus.

c. Formulate car pools for residents coming to and from their homes on weekends.

d. Lower the temperature on the campus in all buildings to the level of 60 degrees to conserve the energy needed by the P.C. campus.

e. Reduce and regulate the use of Providence College official cars.

f. Reduce the hours of the Gymnasium, St. Vincent Center, and the Library.

g. Restrict usage of Bathroom and Hallway lights in all dormitories.

h. Close windows, draperies, open doors, and natural lighting as well as possible, especially during breakfast and lunch and turn off all possible lights.

Ring Activities Planned

by Denise Levesque

The Student Council Class Ring Committee has been meeting weekly since September, planning various activities to raise money. This year's theme could be coming in from different companies, and the committee will begin to seriously consider them.

The past few weeks the Sophomore class has begun sponsoring two mixers. The first one was at October 30th in Alumni Cafeteria. On Friday night, the Sophomore class sponsored the mixer at Hammond Hall for the Juniors as part of their Ring Weekend. The Sophomore of St. Joseph's Priory in 1972.

Rev. Kenneth Sullivan, C.P., received his A.B. from Providence College in 1950, and was ordained as a priest in Washington, D.C. five years later.

He studied Philosophy at the Dominican House of Studies, Rain Forest, Illinois, and at St. Joseph's Priory in Somerset, Ohio. He studied Theology at the Dominican House of Studies in Washington, D.C.

After his ordination, he was assigned as a parochial assistant at Sacred Heart Parish, Jericho City, New York (1947-1949), and at St. Anthony's Parish in Newark (1949-1953).

As Prior and Pastor, Fr. Sullivan served at St. Pius in Providence, Rhode Island, from 1956 to 1960. He was then appointed Pastor of St. Gertrude's Church in Cincinnati, Ohio. He was a member of the Providence Knights of Columbus, and was a member of the Chairman of the Committee on Taxation.

He is past president of the Providence College Alumni Association, and is a member of the President's Council at Providence College.

Famous Naval Architect Entertains Sailing Club

by Rosemary McBride

A group of about fifty members of the Providence College Sailing Club proudly welcomed Mr. Halley Herreshoff as guest lecturer for their November 6 meeting at 8:30 p.m. in the 14 Hall of the Slavin Center.

Mr. Herreshoff, a prominent naval architect, spoke on his work in the field of naval architecture and the relation of the ships he has designed to the history of shipbuilding in Rhode Island, especially in the relation of ownership to his grandfather, Nathaniel Herreshoff, who started the business in 1913. His work too has been used for sailing.

The Herreshoff Company built many of the U.S. Navy boats including the first torpedo boats. After talking about the ships, Mr. Herreshoff went on to discuss the yacht racing of today. He stated that "the design and development of the vehicle is as important as the actual sport itself." Due to the better understanding of aerodynamics and the better quality of materials, the overall quality of the ships is improving. Also, the crews engage in the same kind of rigorous training and practice that Olympic athletes do. Consequently, there is more competitiveness new than ever: "this is simply a great time for sailing."

Mr. Herreshoff continued by visiting St. Raymond of the past and recent America Cup winners and contenders. He also related stories about the negative aspects of yacht racing, mainly the great distances of racing. The cost of a million dollars is needed for each America Cup Race, the cost of the larger yacht is greatly increasing. Yacht races are becoming more and more complicated.

Lastly, Mr. Herreshoff showed a film on model-testing techniques at M.I.T. A ship model tank with a wind tunnel and propeller tank was used. Mr. Herreshoff said: "Model experimenting greatly aids boat design today."

A brief question and answer period ensued, with coffee and donuts for refreshment afterwards. Helen Herrgroff remained to answer questions and to chat with the club members.

YOU COULD BE ADVERTISING IN THIS SPACE

Classified Ads, Display Ads and Notice Ads Accepted.
Research (Con't.)

generalized enough to accommodate a switch of major in the first year; flexible enough, in allowing free elections for the student to explore other areas; it is not considered an unreasonable limitation on the student. Exceptions to this are, notably biology and business accounting, which plan fairly rigorous and constricted programs of study. A person choosing a major in such highly specialized fields would have more clearly defined academic and career goals early in college.

The Committee on Academic Research has been encouraged in its work by the receptive and accommodating attitudes of Father Peterson, Dr. Thomson, Father Milmore, and the people in the Deans’ Office. This committee, as well as all other Congress committees, welcomes student feedback and participation. Eager to use this helpful in indicating student attitudes, needs, and suggestions for their field. They are available to help you make the most of your college education.

Weekend (Con't.)

Weekend cost approximately $9,000; "our funds are low, we are planning various money raising projects," stated Zullo. There seems to be an upcoming project, the brainchild of Bob Murphy and Bill Pinto; it is undisclosed as yet, however.

The Weekend was the result of hard work and much time spent; it ran smoothly, "the three days seemed to fly and now it is all a big let-down," stated Zullo. "I'd like to turn the clock back to Friday afternoon and begin again," he continued.

There is talk of a semi-formal dinner-dance for the second semester; it would be the second get-together of the class in a two and one-half year period.

Creative Writing Courses
Inspire Alembic Contributor

by J. Nowakowski

The Alembic, Providence College’s literary publication, will make its initial appearance on campus sometime next week. This will be the first in a series of four to be offered this year. This issue will be entirely devoted to poetry and photography and will be approximately sixteen pages in length. As in the past, the format will be the same, a small booklet. Unlike past issues, however, this one will be comprised mostly of female authors. In the past only about five or six girls contributed to the Alembic on a regular basis, but this year there has been more interest shown, and more contributions submitted for publication. Pat Slonina, the editor of the publication, sees this new interest as stemming mainly from the creative writing courses offered by the Providence College literary publication, will be offered this year. This issue will be the first in a series of four to be published sometime before Christmas. In that issue Pat says the Alembic is always open to new writers as well as old. "If you have any material that you would like to submit for publication, or if you have any reactions on the material that will be published please don’t hesitate to see me," stated Pat. The Alembic office is located in the Cowl office, 108 Slavin Center.

The Alembic is totally a student publication, run by students for the students. A poem by Jane Lunn, the faculty advisor, will be in this issue Jane has been especially helpful in arranging the magazine for publication. She has also been a source for the increased student interest in poetry not only through her creative writing course, but also because she has arranged the poetry series this year.

A second issue of the Alembic will be published sometime before

MORE THAN ONCE UPON A TIME

ONCE, A KNIGHT, IN ORDER TO GET CLOSER TO THE EARTH, EAT TOMATOES, AND PICK UP A FEW CREDITS, DID JOIN THE MEDIEVAL U. AGRICULTURAL COMMUNE.

WHERE HE TOOK TO THE CHORES AT HAND WITH DETERMINATION

AND COURAGE

AND DISPLAYED A KEEN MIND FOR INNOVATION.

His musical ability won him a place in the barnyard chorus,

And he did join his fellow student farmers on an evenings hayride ("Their wagon stocked with plenty of frosty-cold Schaefer Beer, the beer with whom they could depend on not to fade the whole night long.

When you're having more than one

Does baby need a new pair of imported shoes?

If you drive an imported car, you probably know how it feels to be so attached to a hunk of metal that you actually start caring for it. (You'd really have to own one to know.) You can only give it the very best. So when it comes to replacing your baby's tires, you really shouldn't put on anything but Continentals.

Did you know that Continental tires are original equipment on VWs, Porches, and Mercedes. And that more than half of all European imports cross the Atlantic sporting Continental tires. Incredible!

Continentals, in case you didn't know, are made in Germany under the strictest quality controls in the world!!

There's another reason why you should be replacing your worn out tires with Continentals... the price... our price.

At the Dayton Tire Warehouse in Cranston and at all Bargain Tire Centers around Rhode Island, you can buy these great tires at real discount prices. There's nothing wrong with them. They're brand new. First quality. The works.

Check out this for prices: 560 x 15, standard VW size, full 4-ply white wall for only $19.18 (plus $1.52 for Uncle). Radial bargain 165 x 15, black walls for VW, Volvo and other sports cars for only $27.28 (plus $1.96 for Uncle).

This isn't a sale or anything. And these are only a couple of our everyday prices. Check them against anyone else's everyday prices.

If you really care about your baby, you'll buy Continentals. And if you care at all about saving money (joke) you'll come to the Dayton Tire Warehouse or any of the six Bargain Tire Centers in RI.
Corporation Election

It would not do justice to the many people who have striven to place a student on the Board of Trustees to let last week's election go by without comment. A complete reevaluation of the election and its procedure is what we hope will be forthcoming, but for now, certain factors come to mind.

First, the 10-degree or more below what our temperatures Nancy Gleason, Rosemary Lynch, Rita Hurley, and Jack Cindy are interesting topic. The focal point of the efforts of the Student Congress have been directed towards parking regulations and security re-evaluation. At this time the Editorial Staff of The Cowl wishes to praise the Board for its efforts to rectify the deficiencies surrounding these two subjects. Many of these issues, one would believe, should the Student Congress be involved in these Administrative areas of the College?

It seems to the Board, that parking and security changes are necessary. We are, however, questioning the fact that the Administration has shifted the buck to the Student Congress. After all, parking and security are responsibilities of the Administration and not of the Student Congress. We applaud the Administration's efforts to this point. This year's Congress has spent long and tedious hours trying to extract solutions from extremely touchy problems. Yet, these hours should not be spent in making the student Congress into an administrative body.

It seems that again the Student Congress has been picking up the proverbial Administrative scrap, and doing someone else's job. The fact remains however, that the Student Congress has been equal to the task.

Members of the Congress should have taken part, but only to a certain extent. The administration, in effect, has been passed the buck to the Student Congress. All of these votes could have changed the election results considerably. All of these votes have been done procedurally. In procedure, would be political innovators, don't waste your time and ours.

Administrative Responsibility

We are now in the midst of the twilight of the first semester and a retrospective glance at the efficiency of our student leaders is an interesting topic. The focal point of the efforts of the Student Congress have been directed towards parking regulations and security re-evaluation. At this time the Editorial Staff of The Cowl wishes to praise the Board for its efforts to rectify the deficiencies surrounding these two subjects. Many of these issues, one would believe, should the Student Congress be involved in these Administrative areas of the College?

It seems to the Board, that parking and security changes are necessary. We are, however, questioning the fact that the Administration has shifted the buck to the Student Congress. After all, parking and security are responsibilities of the Administration and not of the Student Congress. We applaud the Administration's efforts to this point. This year's Congress has spent long and tedious hours trying to extract solutions from extremely touchy problems. Yet, these hours should not be spent in making the student Congress into an administrative body.

It seems that again the Student Congress has been picking up the proverbial Administrative scrap, and doing someone else's job. The fact remains however, that the Student Congress has been equal to the task.

Members of the Congress should have taken part, but only to a certain extent. The administration, in effect, has been passed the buck to the Student Congress. All of these votes could have changed the election results considerably. All of these votes have been done procedurally. In procedure, would be political innovators, don't waste your time and ours.

It's time for the Student Administration to shoulder the responsibility of the administration's efforts to this point. This year's Congress has spent long and tedious hours trying to extract solutions from extremely touchy problems. Yet, these hours should not be spent in making the student Congress into an administrative body.

It seems that again the Student Congress has been picking up the proverbial Administrative scrap, and doing someone else's job. The fact remains however, that the Student Congress has been equal to the task.

Members of the Congress should have taken part, but only to a certain extent. The administration, in effect, has been passed the buck to the Student Congress. All of these votes could have changed the election results considerably. All of these votes have been done procedurally. In procedure, would be political innovators, don't waste your time and ours.

Elected Responsibilities

Much speculation has been made as to the cause of the confusion, resignations, and poor organization of the student government in recent times. Unfortunately, I feel there is a lack of communication between these organizations. The reason for this lack of communication may be that the people who serve on these organizations are lethargic or have no interest in the problems of these organizations, and it is a lack of reaching the goals and carrying out the functions of the organizations.

We applaud the efforts the people who work together, there inevitably be a clash or a joining of opinions and interest, sometimes both.

In order to survive these petty fights and factions, the people who serve on these organizations must seek and discover their true interests and work together with only the good of the organization and the overall success in mind.

When a person is elected or appointed to a position in student government by other students, it is that elected student's responsibility to represent the people who place him in that office, and not further his personal interests by bickering and threatening resignation and adding to the confusion in our administration. A little more communication and a little less argument would perhaps solve a serious problem.

Ecology Action for P.C.

In an effort to comply with the President's request for special energy conservation, the Providence College Administration first planned to establish a new schedule for all campus buildings. As the schedule has been changed, several days of inactivity was anticipated and the schedule set for the fall semester. This schedule will be in effect for the entire fall semester. Some students, however, have claimed that it is an aid to weather dependent. This statement is the order of the day, and we will work hard on it.

The Providence College's institutional plan is one of the largest in New England. The plan is designed to cut down the consumption of fuel and electric energy. This will enable us to cut down the consumption of fuel and electric energy. This will enable us to cut down the consumption of fuel and electric energy.

Wiley: ‘It’s time for the Student Administration to shoulder the responsibility of the administration’s efforts to this point. This year’s Congress has spent long and tedious hours trying to extract solutions from extremely touchy problems. Yet, these hours should not be spent in making the student Congress into an administrative body.’
THE RATHKELLAR

Now Offers

SANDWICHES

to compliment the liquid diet of

BEER, WINES, and COCKTAILS

---

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Mark Granato’s Statement of Friday, November 2 which appeared in the Cowl under the headline “Mark Granato’s Speech Discips Recent Rumors” prompts me to respond. First I must protest his contention that “anyone who could entertain any idea of this sort (attempting to buy the respect of the administration) must be a bit demented.” I believe I am still in control of all my faculties and that what I wrote in my article entitled “1300 Folly” with regard to the administration is still true. The crisis at Providence College is its “go-along, get along philosophy.” The administration has legitimate significance in legislative bodies, but when student organizations decide to spend 1000 student activity dollars on a security car when it would have supposedly been just “like a single drop of rain” for “Providence College,” to buy the car it smacks of co-optation. The Providence College should be uniting students and pressing legitimate demands, and not gathering up what amounts to a campaign fund from student organizations.

As for the present Congress’ track record, I see it as largely collecting on projects begun a long time ago, and not initiating any new projects that will alter the quality of the institution. So as to avoid falling into the trap of the old Congress’ “imagination,” I propose a return to some of the basics. The Congress should be concerning itself with the student demands and pressing legitimate issues on campus.

Sincerely,

Chris Farrell

---

BULLETIN Columnist Praises “Cowl”

Editor’s note: In John Halstay’s SPORTSCOPE, found in the 3 November issue of THE PROVIDENCE EVENING BULLETIN, the following story, entitled “You’ve Come A Long Way P.C.” appeared. THE COWL reprints this story, courtesy of THE PROVIDENCE EVENING BULLETIN.

College newspapers as a rule do not move much, but I have found some fascinating reading in a special publication put out by a number of Providence College undergrads on the staff of the school paper, “The Cowl.”

That would be the Cowl’s 16-page supplement called, “A Score Age,” which, in a way, is a history of the college at the college during the coming—of-age times since the scholastic year of 1883-84. It is an excellent idea and well worth the looking, for anyone who has been associated with Providence College, or even just touched by it—now, then or ever.

Much of it concerns the emergence of the college in sports, and through sports, in that it is quite fitting. It is a fair statement, I say, to say that sports, and particularly basketball, have been a prime vehicle and catalyst for Providence College. It remained for the late president of those emerging years, the Very Rev. Robert J. Slavin, O.P., to note what the Friars first appearance in the National Invitation Tournament in New York meant to the school.

“We have had more than 700 years of Dominican scholarship,” Father Slavin said in a way that was his, “and nobody ever heard of us until we put five kids on the floor of Madison Square Garden.”

The paragraph describes the whole spectrum of life not just the sports, at the college in those two decades. This is done by reprinting some stories from the Cowl of 1983, in combination with currently written pieces that look back and compare. I’d forgotten much of it, as this served as a memory-jogger and I am glad. It is a bittersweet picture that comes up, as our memories begin to fade.

The beany was a large issue, back then. Freshmen were balking at wearing them, as freshmen always did, even though it was clearly stated in the student handbook at the time that the wearing of the beany was a matter of opinion. An 1983 editorial in The Cowl went on at length in predicting dire things for Friars who did not wear the beany. It would be a future measure of one’s sincerity, it said sternly, and some day the question might be asked: “Did he wear his beany faithfully and proudly, or didn’t he?”

But, quite correctly, they cite as the prime mover of those days as Father Slavin, who served as president from 1947 until his death in 1961. Those were the days when things began to happen with the Friars.

It was “important,” the handbook said, to learn the cheers and songs of the college. Possession of liquor “or the least sign of intoxication is cause for the黄埔y student from the dance,” the handbook warned in the section on conduct at proms and such. (Now the college runs its own rattskeller for the students.)

Many good men have been part of the warp and woof of making Providence College, and many of them are given their due in this paper. But 1983 sports year was not without its points. There was a swimming team added. In 1984 the college was permitted to conduct a “Career night” on the English Dept. Meets" The English Department conducted a "Career night" on Thursday, November 8 at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Rodney Delasanta was the speaker, as he spoke respectively on the need for "imagination," Dr. Curran and Dr. Jacquette, of the department dealt with "the hiring problems faced by women." Mr. Yamekoub, head of the Counseling Center plan. This might move the Congress out of its middle man predicament. If this is still ob- jectionable, let’s form a Student Faculty Board and get some real power.

Sincerely, Chris Farrell
Two New Albums Criticized

by Nick McIntyre

Two albums came to my attention this past week. The first is the effort by a local group who are a terrific live band. The other is a follow-up to an amazing debut album by one of the music industries most underrated talents. I hope for much from both of these albums. One turned out to be everything I had hoped for, the other is mildly disappointing, but in a pleasant way.

For Everly

Jackson Browne

Asylum '82

With "Saturate Before Listening" still ringing in my ears, I took Jackson Browne's second album out of it's unique jacket and set it on the turntable. I hoped for something comparable to that explosive debut album. What I heard was something better. Jackson Browne may not be able to bring the house down in concert but there are few that can rival him as a rock in the composer.

I think it is safe to say that Jackson is the most extra-ordinary lyricist to develop on this side of the Atlantic in quite a few years. The band deals with the problems of society as a whole and in a retrospect, his songs of the period and those of John Wesley Harding, give one the feeling that we are living in dark days. Better (I'm screwed up let it be known that I do enjoy Dylan). In contrast, Jackson Browne's songs seem to deal with individual problems although some of these can be extended to a wider category. There is not a poor song on the album, there are four songs which stand out. "Take It Easy" yes the same one opens the album. After listening to another interview with Jackson his Jackson's rendition still comes across as one of the most refreshing things I've ever heard. The arrangement is terrific, his voice is sharp at his best of any guitar work in our times. "Ready Or Not" is an off beat rocker about a guy who's made his girlfriend pregnant. I didn't know whether to take this one as a sad song or as a comedy. Either way it is great.

The outstanding cuts on side two are "Red Neck Friend" and the little song. "Red Neck Friend" is the obvious one for a single. It's probably a little too complex for AM, but it flows very smoothly and is tight and compact. It's also the most danceable song on the album. "For Everly" is beyond explanation. It is very personal but beyond mentioning that it titles says alot, I cannot think of any suitable description. I do feel that this second album is a fantastic one. The album ranges from pretty to perfect. I assume they took no action to有着一个乐队的演出，但我不知道是否有任何实际的改变。

For Everly

Jackson Browne

Asylum '82

The album is a follow-up to an amazing debut album by one of the music industries most underrated talents. I hope for much from both of these albums. One turned out to be everything I had hoped for, the other is mildly disappointing, but in a pleasant way.

For Everly

Jackson Browne

Asylum '82

With "Saturate Before Listening" still ringing in my ears, I took Jackson Browne's second album out of it's unique jacket and set it on the turntable. I hoped for something comparable to that explosive debut album. What I heard was something better. Jackson Browne may not be able to bring the house down in concert but there are few that can rival him as a rock in the composer.

I think it is safe to say that Jackson is the most extra-ordinary lyricist to develop on this side of the Atlantic in quite a few years. The band deals with the problems of society as a whole and in a retrospect, his songs of the period and those of John Wesley Harding, give one the feeling that we are living in dark days. Better (I'm screwed up let it be known that I do enjoy Dylan). In contrast, Jackson Browne's songs seem to deal with individual problems although some of these can be extended to a wider category. There is not a poor song on the album, there are four songs which stand out. "Take It Easy" yes the same one opens the album. After listening to another interview with Jackson his Jackson's rendition still comes across as one of the most refreshing things I've ever heard. The arrangement is terrific, his voice is sharp at his best of any guitar work in our times. "Ready Or Not" is an off beat rocker about a guy who's made his girlfriend pregnant. I didn't know whether to take this one as a sad song or as a comedy. Either way it is great.

The outstanding cuts on side two are "Red Neck Friend" and the little song. "Red Neck Friend" is the obvious one for a single. It's probably a little too complex for AM, but it flows very smoothly and is tight and compact. It's also the most danceable song on the album. "For Everly" is beyond explanation. It is very personal but beyond mentioning that it titles says alot, I cannot think of any suitable description. I do feel that this second album is a fantastic one. The album ranges from pretty to perfect. I assume they took no action to

Two New Albums Criticized

by Nick McIntyre

Two albums came to my attention this past week. The first is the effort by a local group who are a terrific live band. The other is a follow-up to an amazing debut album by one of the music industries most underrated talents. I hope for much from both of these albums. One turned out to be everything I had hoped for, the other is mildly disappointing, but in a pleasant way.

For Everly

Jackson Browne

Asylum '82

With "Saturate Before Listening" still ringing in my ears, I took Jackson Browne's second album out of it's unique jacket and set it on the turntable. I hoped for something comparable to that explosive debut album. What I heard was something better. Jackson Browne may not be able to bring the house down in concert but there are few that can rival him as a rock in the composer.

I think it is safe to say that Jackson is the most extra-ordinary lyricist to develop on this side of the Atlantic in quite a few years. The band deals with the problems of society as a whole and in a retrospect, his songs of the period and those of John Wesley Harding, give one the feeling that we are living in dark days. Better (I'm screwed up let it be known that I do enjoy Dylan). In contrast, Jackson Browne's songs seem to deal with individual problems although some of these can be extended to a wider category. There is not a poor song on the album, there are four songs which stand out. "Take It Easy" yes the same one opens the album. After listening to another interview with Jackson his Jackson's rendition still comes across as one of the most refreshing things I've ever heard. The arrangement is terrific, his voice is sharp at his best of any guitar work in our times. "Ready Or Not" is an off beat rocker about a guy who's made his girlfriend pregnant. I didn't know whether to take this one as a sad song or as a comedy. Either way it is great.

The outstanding cuts on side two are "Red Neck Friend" and the little song. "Red Neck Friend" is the obvious one for a single. It's probably a little too complex for AM, but it flows very smoothly and is tight and compact. It's also the most danceable song on the album. "For Everly" is beyond explanation. It is very personal but beyond mentioning that it titles says alot, I cannot think of any suitable description. I do feel that this second album is a fantastic one. The album ranges from pretty to perfect. I assume they took no action to

Evaluating (Con't.)

After several alternative forms of the questionnaire were dis- cussed it was decided that using an established survey, such as the University of Wisconsin's, which is used at several colleges, would be the most meaningful way of gathering the information. The survey could be used for its application to Providence College.

Next semester the full form of the questionnaire will be distributed to the general student body. It has not yet been deter- mined if this will be done during class time, at pre-registration for courses, or some other time. The second semester will be used to comment on the particular form of and use the data from the particular form of the survey. The results will be used to evaluate the particular form of the survey.

The Committee's suggestions that the student participation is initiated (of the Student offices, individual departments, and other staff such as counseling) for the evaluation of the results is a result of the student population.

The Committee's suggestions that the student participation is initiated (of the Student offices, individual departments, and other staff such as counseling) for the evaluation of the results is a result of the student population.

The Committee's suggestions that the student participation is initiated (of the Student offices, individual departments, and other staff such as counseling) for the evaluation of the results is a result of the student population.

The Committee's suggestions that the student participation is initiated (of the Student offices, individual departments, and other staff such as counseling) for the evaluation of the results is a result of the student population.

The Committee's suggestions that the student participation is initiated (of the Student offices, individual departments, and other staff such as counseling) for the evaluation of the results is a result of the student population.
For Something New to Do: The Ark and Wooden Naval

by Peggy Martin

Amid the numerous complaints of nowhere to go and nothing to do, some diversion may be found in the way of two very different and interesting after-school programs. The "Wooden Naval" and "The Ark" are youth-run organizations that are trying to furnish entertainment and enjoyment in their own way. For instance, a few coffeehouses, independently managed clubs, to a committee of the BOG, the Wooden Naval has attempted to provide many changes and to grow to be one of the best and busiest spots on the Providence College campus. With Terry Miggios as General Manager and Entertainment Chairman, the Naval has attempted "to provide entertainment every weekend and a place for the students to go."

This coffeehouse, without any relaxed brings in local talent and gives opportunities to all types of music from folk to the fifties. Terry expressed a desire for any P.C. performers to contact him or Don Jay, for they are always looking for new performers. The students are encouraged to notify the Wooden Naval so that the goal of the cafe is opened every weekend can be fulfilled. Through a community effort of many people the revival and revamping of the Wooden Naval has become a reality. Father Duffy spent many hours with Terry and Don ironing out problems and working out the format. Further student participation comes from Ed McCormack, beverage manager; Bob Balass, assistant beverage manager and bartender; and Publicity is handled by Mike Decker, Dave Danieli, and Frank Marzellega. A piano lent to them by Father Haller, is another example of the community effort. Also, the Naval can be booked for other social functions, such as dorm parties or poetry readings and the coffeehouse also creates an opportunity for some student enjoyment. Thus would it seem that the Naval has succeeded in its aims.

The "Ark" is the coffeehouse, located on 165 High Street in Pawtucket offers entertainment but also tries to create a group of "dedicated Christians", the "Ark" encourages people to come in and listen to their talent. There is no admission fee, and refreshments are free. Previously these youths had a free coffeehouse, which was called the "Pawtucket" but because of government cutbacks and all activities on the second floor of an old architect the "Ark" community is developing an outlet program, and through contributions will be able to spread out to a community house as well as a coffeehouse. Open every Saturday from 8 to Midnight the administrators of the "Ark" wish to give people a chance to go and maybe a way to learn or just "feel their love." However, Ken Poirie and Dave Andrea, stressed that there was no high pressure advertising or attempts to convert, but that they just wanted to create a place for people to come, have a good time, and opportunity to talk and think.

It is quite evident that the Wooden Naval and the Ark vary in many of their methods, but both are attempting to give a workable structure for the enjoyment and development of a college's student life.

On Review:

The Ghost Dance

by Marta Skelting & Henry J. Golembeski

The theme of non-violence and passive resistance is a key point of this play. The Ghost Dance, the new play by Terrance McNally, is being presented at the new Ledderer Theatre. And although the themes of non-violence may be combined with the plight of the American Indian to achieve a goal of social enlightenment, these critics felt that, in the process, the goal was not achieved.

The Ghost Dance portrays some of the meager and darker aspects of the White Man during the late 1800's. Ironically, all of the White characters in the play are what one might term "liberal"; there appear to be a great deal of interest in the condition of the Indian, yet it's destined to bring the downfall of the Indian culture. The play also brings out some of the more serious whole, that a Messiah has come and will wipe the white man from the earth, is essentially harmless. But it is a matter of principle and over this principle, conflict takes place between McLaughlin and Sitting Bull with the result being the deaths of Sitting Bull and the rest of his tribe.

The ghosts are said to be the spirit of the Indian reservation. Yet the strong points of the play, the portrayal of the white man's liberalism, also seems to be its weak points. Speeches are paraphrased from Theodore Roosevelt's book. The Winning of the West an' have a tendency to become repetitious, boring, and tiresome. Even though the dignity of the Indians was brought out by Sitting Bull, some of the inflections in his speech could not help but make one wonder if the context was Delancy Street rather than the Dakotas.

Social Consciousness appears to be the major goal of the play. After experiencing such consciousness it may be hoped that citizens input into the government may change the present political situation from one of passivity and acquiescence to action. Yet in producing such a play with a heavy political content, much of the character's time can be spent in delivering political or semi-philosophical homilies, this in turn leads to a rather shallow depth of character which converts an aesthetic experience into a political one, — one that we did not enjoy. Even if Adrian Hall's desire is to present plays which do portray the needs and aspirations of the audience, it shouldn't be done at the expense of the aesthetics of the production. We found Ghost Dance, Although, it was full of relevant moments, to be lacking in character development and at times poorly acted. Its notable successes were in the staging, lighting, and the supporting cast.

Ghost Dance written and directed by Stewart Vaughn, Dakota songs supervised by Richard Cumming, Ethnic dances supervised by Julie Strandberg, set design by Eugene Lee, lighting by Richard Deces, costumes by James Berton Harris, properties by Sandra Nathanson, Stage Managers Franklyn Keyes, and David Butler. Ed Hall (Kicking Bear)

Sitting Bull

Ed Hall (Kicking Bear)

McLaughlin George Martin

Catherine Weldon Anne Thompson

Sitting Bull Richard Kneeland

Sgt Bullhead Robert J. Colonna

Porcupine Bruce McGill

Kicking Bear Ed Hall

Eastman William Damkoehler

Dr. Charles David Butler.

James Berton Harris, properties

Managers Franklin Keysar, and supervised by Julie Strandberg, by Richard Deces, costumes by

Jame Berton Harris, properties

by Sandra Nathanson, Stage

Managers Franklyn Keyes, and David Butler.

Dr. Charles

William Damkoehler

Kicking Bear Ed Hall

McLaughlin George Martin

Catherine Weldon Anne Thompson

Sitting Bull Richard Kneeland

Major James

George Martin

General Nelson

A. Miles

Buffalo Bill

Corf

Ralph Recker

Mrs. Marie

Catherine Weldon

Christie Weldon

Buffalo Bill

Cora

Zachary Miller

Ed Hall (Kicking Bear)

McLaughlin Barbara Orson

Catherine Weldon Anne Thompson

Joshua Boudreau

Zachary Miller

Col. Edwin Drum

Timothy Crowe

Barbara Orson

Anne Thompson

Christie Weldon

Timothy Crowe

THE COWL, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1973

Page 9

Economics Club to Sponsor Lecture

The Saint Antoninus Club, an economics and religion club, will sponsor a lecture on Wednesday evening, November 14, in the Chapel Center, room 217. The guest lecturer that the Club will present is Mr. Tierney. Mr. Tierney is an Assistant Director of Harvard's Center with program Rhode Island. His lecture will be dealing with the Health Care Delivery System in Rhode Island — What's Wrong?

According to a Club member, "slides will be shown to accompany the lecture." The Saint Antoninus Club has planned a refreshment period, including beer, for the Wednesday evening meeting. "All are welcome," he continued.

STOP PUTTING TWO PAPERS TOGETHER TO ROLL ONE SMOKE!

USE e-Z-Reader

THE ORIGINAL DOUBLE WIDTH CIGARETTE PAPER

Ask for e-Z-Reader at your tobacco counter now.

A NEW WAY TO ROLL TOBACCO NO MORE PAPER TO HANDLE

For more information write to:

S. W. ORGAN COMPANY

267 W. 25 Street, New York, N.Y. 10001

"I write to survive the darkness by signaling my light, for music, celebration wordlove, the interpretation of experience..."
Kerala Kalamandalam Company Featured

Indigenous to Kerala in the extreme southwest of the Indian peninsula, Kathakali dates from the sixteenth century, although it has roots in much older forms of theatre. Most performances in Kerala are all-night affairs presented in the precincts of temples. Because the actors must be masters of dance, mime and gesture, they undergo a rigorous training from childhood, learning to perform great Hindu epics.

In addition to its vigorous acting and hypnotic mime, Kathakali is especially noted for its elaborate makeup, colorful costumes, and bewitched headresses. Since the make-up process can take up to four hours, the Kalamandalam company must begin preparations for an evening performance as early as 11:00 p.m.

The Kerala Kalamandalam was organized in 1930 to preserve and encourage the growth of Kathakali. It has become the leading teaching institution for Kathakali and also maintains the finest touring company. It includes the most famous actors, drummers, singers and makeup artists in Kerala.

This Company is the finest in India and such is the demand for its performances there is seldom a "night off" during the performing season. Most of the principle actors also act as Asans (teachers) at the school.

In 1967, Kerala Kalamandalam first toured Europe and came to Expo '67. All its performances at Jean-Louis Barrault's Theatre des Nations Festival, the Holland Festival and Expo '67 were sold out. In London, they gave 15 performances in the West End to general acclaim. The Times (London) called them "undeniably the revelation of a great tradition" while the Daily Telegraph commented that Kathakali "offers acute human observation and probably no stage tradition can boast of a more brilliant bunch of amusing villains." The Observer ballet critic wrote: "The costumes, make-up and nimby are a marvel — a model for any budding Carabosse or Rothbart... wonderfully beautiful to watch... and bask in the dazzle of antiquity and ritual splendour."

The Kerala Kalamandalam Kathakali company, will perform the story of Mahabharatha on Saturday, November 17 at 8:00 p.m. in Brown University's Alumni Hall.

Chaplain's Corner

"One is The Loneliest Number"

There was a story in the magazine Change not so long ago that went something like this. A young college student was speaking with an interviewer. "In high school it was easy. I could put things off till the end and then I'd cram. No sweat! The marks were decent, the social life great. I knew a lot of kids and went out often. It was really fun and I had a good time. I was involved and people knew me."

The student then went on to tell about how college was on everybody's mind toward the end of senior year. Would they get in a school? Would they get in a school they wanted to go to? Graduation came around and then a summer job. The job was boring but you could look forward to going away to school in September. The idea was exciting. The day arrived and we were off. "In the midst of their parents, two sisters and Uncle William, they suddenly felt lonely. Everyone was there, waving and screaming and all that. and I was going through all the rituals I guess you're supposed to go through at times like that, when I began to see, of all things, my future going through my head. This may sound sort of strange to you, but I guess I didn't know I was heading this way was all excited about coming up here to school, but that was really all. I really didn't know what I wanted to do. I mean. I said a whole lot of things about having a career and following my dad, stuff like that. But I didn't have a plan in my head. I didn't have the slightest idea what I wanted to do. I just wanted to get into the school, and once that happened, I didn't have anything else to shoet for. I'll tell you, at that airport I wanted more than anything else just to stay home. I was turning every which way inside. You know? You talk about not knowing where your head's at. That was me."

And so school began. There were a great bunch of people around, nice kids, pretty friendly. Then came the quarter and exams and grades and the call home. Marks were pretty bad. "I wanted to say something over the phone but I guess they'd tell me to 'hang up'. What gets me is other kids I don't seem to work and still do okay. A few said the test was easy but that really kills me. I studied ten to fifteen hours for one exam. I never did that in high school but I still didn't do well. You know, it can get pretty lonely around here."

Lonely in the middle of a crowd! Some claim that pretty well sums up our age. Despite the crowds a lot of college students can get pretty lonely. It's due in part to a time in life. Young adulthood is a time when someone attempts to put it all together in one large idea: personality, career, etc. But that is never an easy thing to do. It is especially difficult today. Students can become very sensitive and self-conscious. They can't feel at home or at ease or be themselves.

Perhaps the nature of the college experience itself produces loneliness. Very often the environment is one of competition. Marks can come to symbolize worth or value or success and so everyone competes. It's win or lose. If I don't get good marks, the teachers or parents or classmates or grad schools or employers question my worth. "Everyone always asks what you got in an exam. I hate that. I get mad and embarrassed too. I always say that the test wasn't bad. That covers it. But I can't seem to work and that bugs me. I sit in the library every night. I open the book and in five minutes my mind is off somewhere. I always wanted to go to college but now I think maybe I ought to quit, go home and get a job. But what kind of job?"

Is there any antidote for loneliness and/or that feeling of isolation? I'd like to think so, at least in part. How? Perhaps the solution might be community, P.C. is supposed to be a community of people working for and with each other. No one here is supposed to be anonymous. Everyone is supposed to count, to be important. Priests, faculty, administrators, staff are here to promote the growth of every student. Students among themselves are supposed to support and encourage each other. Every body is supposed to care. That's the theory. It's also the only way to live.

Kathakali Dance Theatre of India

E & J PIZZA

Thanksgiving Special

CHEESE PIZZA 79¢

All other reg. size pizzas 31c off normal price

Call Your Orders Before You Leave Home
They Will Be Ready on Arrival

751-2251

Delivery Man for P.C. Wanted

AT YOUR CAMPUS STORE
Thank you for your patience. I am an AI and I am working to improve my understanding of language. I will do my best to provide a helpful response.

I am currently unable to read or interpret the content of the image you provided. If you have a question or need assistance with something else, please let me know.

I am here to help. Please ask me anything.
Beat The Experts

It's once again time to BEAT THE EXPERTS. This week the special COWL panel of experts (Uncle Jack, Bob Murphy, John Busaccarini, Len Lefshet, and new expert Tom Tavolone) tip their hats to John Brady Tavolone following Friar safety.

It was a sad note then that the senior players (including center Ed Carriero) all key factors in the struggle and build-up of Friar football ended their careers. But the fans as well as fellow team mates realize the great part they played in the course of the game of much of what attempted to do was futile. With 5:58 to go Westchester after a long scoring drive got a touchdown and captured the lead. PC's final chance in scoring range also was unsuccessful and lost possession of the ball. When they finally gained another chance for a score of some kind, the time ran out with a disheartening 20-19 loss to Westchester following Friar safety.

The PC program has come a long way, and with many fine players returning next year, the future looks even brighter.

by Cindy Krausch
Westchester Community College crushed any hopes of a PC-Marist showdown and rematch for the ROCC championship game. PC, who came back to overcome an early 7-0 deficit, managed to create a lead of their own, lost it and the game in the final four minutes, 26-19. Each team held the other scoreless for most of the first quarter. Westchester built a lead of nine points, but gave it up later to tie the score 10-10 to gain that early lead. Westchester's lead was not to be broken for most of the first half. Barrington Warriors (3-7-3) played aggressively. But the PC offense was not to be denied.

The PC soccer team ended its season with a 14-1-4 record, the program's best season in its 11 years. The PC soccer program has come a long way, and with many obstacles to even allow football to exist at PC this year. A continual crunch of shoulder pads and helmets, for what was to be a futile effort to score. PC was not to be denied.

PC once again was in field goal range, yet the wind factor and the long distance kicked the PC ball too far and gave it too much. The ball curved right around goalie Lutz and landed in the corner of the net. PC went out with a disheartening 20-19 loss to Westchester following Friar safety.

The Friars kept up the attack, however, and made Lutz work. Kevin Haverty's shot was blocked by Bob Lutz and the ball would roll past the goal line, but a shot by Tsochantarios put the ball in goal. PC went 25 yards in the next two minutes, but with 4:45 gone in the first half, the Friars struck quickly for the first score. Tim Gilbride gained control on the left and chipped a long lead pass to Pat Farrell. Pat Farrell cut midfield and beat his defender to the ball. Goalie Lutz came out, but it was too late, as Farrell's drive went over the netminder's head. The PC defense held the Friars 1-0.

The Friars didn't waste any time bringing in the play back to the Warrior goal. Tim Gilbride moved the ball back to the midfield. Tim Gilbride hit a shot from the left, but it was too late, as Farrell's drive went over the netminder's head. Westchester's lead was not to be kept for long for the impatient John Tavolone started off the third quarter by carrying 19 yards into the end zone to score. PC was now up by one point in the opponent. The third quarter also saw an interception by senior guard John Gilbride, who in ending his college career played an outstanding game at that position. John Tavolone added yet another touch down to his credits with a wide open shot from Brian Cary and PC went out in front for the first time, 15-15. Another penetration, but this time it was through Tsochantarios. Tavolone came through once again and with the help of the offensive line had little trouble going over for the two points.

The Friars mounted as Westchester's offensive line began a choppy drive down field. Choppy mainly because of a PC defense that allowed no holes for penetration. With so much at stake for the victor both teams did not want to take any chances. This Don Joy boots one through the uprights.

Booters Trounce Barrington, 3-0
End Campaign with 6-2-3 Slate

by Paul Pontarelli
The PC soccer team ended its 1973 season on a winning note when it blanked Barrington College on November 6th. The game was played at Hadrien Field on a very windy and extremely cold afternoon. Despite the weather, the Friars came out hungry and played aggressively. But the Barrington Warriors (3-7-3) played well some of their finest soccer of the year and made the Friars work for the victory.

Within the first minute the Friars knocked on the Barrington door. Kevin Haverty latched a throw-in to Pat Farrell, who in turn passed off to Xavier Manciana. X got off a nice shot, but Warrior goalie Bob Lutz came up with a fine diving effort in stopping the shot. At 2:30 Manciana got in behind the defense of the game, all that could be heard on the sidelines was the constant beating of the wind on pads and helmets, for what was to be a futile attempt to score. PC was not to be denied.

The ball curved right around goalie Lutz and landed in the corner of the net. PC went out with a disheartening 20-19 loss to Westchester following Friar safety.

The PC program has come a long way, and with many obstacles to even allow football to exist at PC this year. A continual crunch of shoulder pads and helmets, for what was to be a futile effort to score. PC was not to be denied.

The PC defense was markedly improved over last year that it was. Special thanks go to John Brady Tavolone, and Richy Kless the tri-captains who devoted so much of their energy to behind the scenes in the offensive and defensive field action; and who surmounted so many obstacles to even allow football to exist at PC this year. A special salute to the coaching staff, and Father Driscoll and Mr. Bagley who stuck with the guys all year offering their time and services.

My own personal gratitude goes to Richy Kless and the members of the Football Club Staff and Board who placed themselves at my disposal and helped so much in contributing their time for the benefit of my articles.

The PC Women's AA announced the special event of a final shootout, sponsored by the Boston Celtics, this Friday evening 6-7:30 in Alumni's to all eligible. This event is open to PC women and others to two a team. Rules and particulars can be obtained any time this week from Mrs. Bert at the Athletic office. Winners are eligible for an all expense paid trip to California, via Boston finals.

Sign ups for intramural basketball and hockey are taking place now. Any women with partially filled teams are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Bert at the center or Connie Velleux. (761).