B.O.G. Seekers
Applicants Define Positions

On Friday of last week, applications for the Board of Governors were distributed in the Slavin Center mailboxes, in hopes of recruiting students to apply for positions on the B.O.G. Positions available are President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, and members of the Ad Hoc Committee for Publicity and Research and Evaluation.

The President of the Board of Governors holds the official position of Social Chairman of the Student Council. His capacity, he is responsible not only to the Student Council but also to the Ad-ministration of the school for actions that the Board might want to present. He determines policy for the B.O.G., has official responsibility and has voting power in case of ties on the Board. He also tabulates the votes for the Student Body.

The Vice-President of Operations is in charge of Union Hours and responsibilities for the Union fees are being spent.

The committee chairmen are probably the most visible members of the B.O.G. Together, and along with the Vice-President of Programming, they constitute the group that devotes nearly 90% of the School's social and cultural activities. In addition to the committees of Fine Arts, Major Events, and Social, there are also committees for Publicity and Research and Evaluation.

Major Events is basically the concert committee of the College.

Carolan Club Potpourri

Speaking of the Student Mobilization Committee, this student group has been washed down by the level of student apathy by its members is starting to pay off. The results of the interviews, polls and inquiries will be introduced to the Ad Hoc Committee on Dorm Life as evidence in behalf of the students' demands. Don't be fooled; the Committee has given up.

The Carolan Club Basketball League kicks off its season this week with promise of some stiff competition: In the National Division, the Waiters and the Liberators are the contenders for the championship, while in the American Division, Tubby's "A" and Monique Unique seem to be the teams to beat. Watch out for the Braves and Snipes - "A", they are both looking for big upset wins.

Don Roy's Dorm Council, in the newly named McVanny Hall, has up until now been unheralded in its workings and accomplishments. Don Roy and his officers were elected by the freshmen of the year on talent alone, one of the most efficient and valuable Dorm Councils in the history of P.C.

The Carolan Club has temporarily suspended its loans procedures to Dorm Students due to neglect on the behalf of some students to pay back their loans.

The Dorm Councils of Mc- Dornott and Aquinas Hall are holding their second annual Sadie Hawkins Day Dance. It should be twice as big a success as last year's event. All are welcome.

Finally, The Carolan Club advises any Dorm Student who received what they believe to be an introduction, bibliography, footnotes, appendix of mythological references and a collection of scholarly material. The work also contains a complete vocabulary listing, compiled by a computer. It will be available in April of this year, published by Oxford University Press.

Letter Urges Tenure for Misovich

January 23, 1973
To the Editor:

This letter is written to make the student body aware of and to protest the recent decision of the Committee on Rank and Tenure and of Fr. Peterson to deny tenure to Dr. Stephen Misovich of the Psychology Department. This decision, when viewed from the student perspective, appears to be grounded not in the desire to foster the academic well-being of the student population, but rather in the prejudices of economic expediency, the desire to foster ideological uniformity at Providence College and irrationality. We feel it necessary that the sentiments of Dr. Misovich's current and former students be expressed because, as they are devoid of these biases, they can serve to objectively judge the situation for the administration.

Dr. Misovich's qualifications, when measured against the most rigid student criteria, prove indistinguishable from his academic proficiency in his own discipline and in many related fields. He determines policy as a product of his ability to harmoniously unite these two elements.

He is able to communicate the ideas and concepts associated with his discipline in a manner that is unassuming, definitive and intellectually stimulating. He lectures and other presentations are devoid of digressions which detract from the coherence of the material. His intellectual flexibility facilitates and fosters the expression of ideas and suggestions by his students. All these qualities, however, are no more than what is routinely expected of us. Often unfulfilled by all professors is this: Dr. Misovich's excellence is found in addition to what is required with regard to regular class time and official office hours. Dr. Misovich is available at virtually any time for consultation and advice that has invariably proven beneficial to his students. Examinations are not merely graded justly, but are criticized carefully and constructively. His research activities are designed to incorporate as many opportunities for student participation as possible. This incorporation of students in his research, while it is a most beneficial and rewarding experience for the students involved, often decreases the amount of time he can engage in activities more pertinent to the advancement of his career. That he would utilize his time in research efforts involving students rather than in activities directly related to career advancement is indicative of his selflessness and deep dedication to his students.

In view of these facts, the decision of the Committee on Rank and Tenure and of Fr. Peterson is obviously unjust as it reflects a lack of concern for the academic welfare of the student body. We students feel our future well being to be intricately and directly related to the continued presence of Misovich at Providence College. We regard his presence as both desirable and necessary.

Therefore, we earnestly urge immediate reconsideration of Dr. Misovich's request for tenure. We further suggest that this reconsideration be devoid of economic, ideological and other biases. If this is done, we are confident that the original decision of the Committee on Rank and Tenure and of Fr. Peterson will be reversed.

I thought and action "use his full potential in all fields of expands he capacity of the creative intelligence, is reached. This simple practice — terms of personal gratification and skeptical of T-M. Perhaps because natural technique which allows the national organization with many times, of better things to come. Over the country and the world. It professional people have begun to impressive that great numbers of young, the results of this form of practiced most widely by the Transcendental meditation, also known as T-M, is a movement rapidly gathering momentum all over the country and the world. It proven to be one of the optimistic indications in our tension ridded times, of better things to come.

Already the movement has enough support in the U.S. so that a national organization with many branch centers in cities throughout the country has been established. SIMS — Student's International Meditation Society — is a non-profit educational organization and describes transcendental meditation in this way: "T-M is a natural technique which allows the conscious mind to experience increasingly more subtle states of thought until the source of thought, the unlimited reservoir of energy and creative intelligence, is reached. This simple practice expands the capacity of the conscious mind and a man is able to use his full potential in all fields of thought and action.

Though it seems that T-M is practiced most widely by the young, the results of this form of introspective study have been so impressive that great numbers of business men, homemakers and professional people have begun to meditate. There are still those who are skeptical of T-M, perhaps because they cannot believe that such a relatively uncomplicated method could yield such fruitful rewards in terms of personal gratification and renewed energy. But it is for this reason — the simplified process — that meditation works, according to those who practice.

Many skeptics have been won over since viewing which medical research centers have said about T-M. Articles which have appeared in Scientific American, The American Journal of Physiology, Science, to mention a few, have indicated that a fully integrated, spontaneous rest, deeper than sleep, is produced by only a few minutes of meditation.

Dr. Dametri Kanellos, lecturing at Stanford University, reported many profound effects which T-M produces in everyday life. According to Kanellos, they include: "Increased energy, efficiency in performing any kind of work, increased tranquillity of mind coupled with decreased physical and mental tension, partial and complete loss of desire for hallucinogenic and similar drugs and increased creativity, productivity and intuitiveness.

Further scientific research has proven that meditation has indeed learning ability, increased stability and faster reaction time. Probably most important, for an individual, is that one doesn't have to change his life style, diet, type of clothing. T-M is not a philosophy or a religion and will in no way be threatening to one's beliefs.

The particular purpose of T-M is to tap the reservoir of energy and strength deep within, through the transcendental state and bring it to the surface, within grasp. It provides man with the means to discover his true potential, and thereby noticeably increase his experience and fulfillment in life.

Presently, close to 200,000 people in this country alone practice T-M. According to a SIMS spokesman, the number of meditators has doubled each year in the last three years. Many colleges and universities across the country are offering instruction of this technique, for credit. (Yale University, N.Y.U. University of California, Colorado, Connecticut, Wisconsin and U. Mass.)

Phil Delta Kappa and Social Education (Dec. 1972) both had very positive complete coverage of what T-M offers education.

T-M is an ancient technique which was lost for centuries in its pure form, until re-introduced a few centuries ago in India. It is the practice of Maharishi Mahesh Yogi who brought it to the United States. Thursday night, February 8th at 8:00 p.m., SIMS is having a free introductory lecture in P.C. in the Library, Room 108. It is invited to see what's in it for you. For further information, please call 521-1534.

The accumulation of wealth in the treasury of private individuals is the ruin of any Society, because the rich are thieves. They rob the poor of necessities in order that they might enjoy luxuries. They gain wealth by working hard at theft, bribery, and murder, while representing accumulations as rewards of industry and ability.

Wasting natural resources and increasing pollution, industrialists manufacture goods in excessive quantities, flooding domestic and foreign markets. Using advertising lies to create false demand, they base prices on speculation instead of intrinsic values, causing inflation and reduction of competition. When domestic markets are exhausted, they worm their way into foreign lands seeking to repeat the process. Indigenous peoples revolt and appropriate investments. Intriguers turn to politicians they own, demanding military forces be sent to protect their capital, at the expense of poor people who bear the burden of all anabases in lives lost, unneeded, and public revenue wasted.

Capitalism is organised greed. The free enterprise system a form of organized crime. The national product is gross. The rich get richer, the poor get poorer, and the people in the middle pay all the bills. The poor grew pale from hunger, the rich turn pale from fear, because property is theft. You cannot have a wealthy person anywhere and not have his forebears have robbed the goods of the poor.

It is a false premise that bases the founding of government on the need to protect the unequal faculties for securing property. Nature is the property of all, and the proprietor has but a slender privilege. When the Founding Fathers framed the Constitution, they framed the People.

Social problems wrap themselves in flags, and anthems muffle the cries of the oppressed. Reformers are branded radical by newspapers who oppose all political candidates who seriously threaten the dominant economic interests, while the rich make laws for the poor to obey, and themselves to circumvent. The call for law and order is a call for more banks and more prisons, and less justice.

God gave the land in common to all and it is no man's inheritance. Nature produced a common right for all, but greed has made it a right for only a few. Wealth and war are bound up together; and the Churches are in the hands of the merchants.

The highest form of human existence is individualism without anarchy, and communism without oppression. A state of equality is less elevated for some, but more just for all. The true democracy is that of compassionate souls. Jesus preached economic communism.

Audubon Society Probes Black Sea Pollution

by Polly Bradley

Imagine what it would be like if nobody owned the water or the air, and it is only recently that Eastern Europeans in the United States have begun to have to think about the costs of clean-up. The price has traditionally been something paid by someone else, or by the very life and health of whatever creatures, human or otherwise, had the misfortune to live down-stream.

What if the land itself, and the wealth of the land, were also free for the taking, for use or misuse? That is the way it has been in Russia and it has led to some strange happenings. Until 1967, land in the Soviet Union was treated as virtually a free good, and it is still greatly undervalued.

For example, hydro-electric dams have been built and the advantages of irrigation accumulated as a gain, while the cost of the loss of fertile land flooded by the dam was considered unimportant. In Marshall Goldman's book, The Spoils of Progress, the story of environmental disruption in the United States, any more than a footnote. Environmental destruction is presented as a separate problem.

In Marshall I. Goldman's book, The Beach, of course Goldman says, "Because they were free for the practice of hauling the beach away piece by piece."

In the long run, nothing is free, anywhere on earth. Water and air aren't really free, in any sense. The Black Sea beaches were really free goods to the Russians. If we pollute and misuse our "free" water and air, there is a price to pay — and nature will see to it that it is paid. Human beings don't have the wisdom to put nature into their cost-benefit analysis.

If you care about yourself and your children, who are willing to do something about it, let's call Goldman to present intelligent films for serious viewers ("aesthetic and intellectual entertainment").

TWO BIG SPECIAL NIGHTS AT STEAK & BREW

STEAK MONDAY. Monday nights are a Steak Party! Our regular medium boneless sirloin, usually $5.35.

ROAST BEEF TUESDAY. Tuesday nights are Roast Prime Ribs of Beef nights. Usually $5.25

Both nights' prices include all the salad you can make, loaves and lanes of bread and all the draft beer or red wine or sangria you can drink! Other dishes from $3.50. What do you wear? It's always an informal get-together at Steak & Brew.

Fundamentally, the child is free to learn, to play, and to think. He is in no way coerced to "learn." Any way in which he chooses to spend his time is respected. Marks and competition are not considered contingent with educational pursuits.

In conclusion, the teacher must acquire himself to the free school philosophy. Often preconceived ideals are strained when faced with the reality of the situation. Teachers must continuously re-examine their values in respect to those of the children and become aware of ways in which they may be unconsciously imposing them.

It is true that "reality" may not be spelled out to the individual at the free school, but for all concerned the social and political implications of a free school preclude this judgment.

Freedom, in the full sense of the word is the free school's main thrust. It's main goal is to provide an arena for the development of the individual. The people involved in this attempt are those dedicated to this philosophy, and who are willing to do something about it.

THE CVOL, JANUARY 31, 1973
Memo

The Vietnam War is over. In commemoration of our dead and in Thanksgiving for our living, we should hope that a special Mass or service will be presented in the near future. As we worshipped in May '70 for a quick end to the Vietnam war, we should also pray to a God in thanks as this holocaust has drawn to a close. Let us hope that it would not be necessary that the B.O.G. will be able to serve Holy Communion in order to attract people to such a sorrow-yet-celebration.

And though the war has ended, we must not let it put an end to our concern about our nation, our society and mostly our community. It is characteristic, I feel, of a fourth year member of our college and our community to leave the college almost entirely in his last year, except perhaps for courses. We are the last class participating in Kent State in a special way. We burnt out our energy early, our load was shot. Yet as we've become serious about the world in much the same way as a soon expected child, those behind us must carry on an activism, a seeming heritage. If Vietnam was the only vestige of injustice in our society, then much thought and work was in nought.

If a period of passiveness becomes a reality, if the void is ever present, then what has been done has become useless. Renewed interest would be invaluable. If only in understanding of ourselves. Michael J. Donohue, Jr.

Apologia

Achievement

In an advertisement present in today’s Cowl, a quiet but landmark achievement for a dear member of Providence College is announced. The event is the announcement that Thomas Mann’s famous work, Der Tod In Venedig. has been published, and is now available to the reading public. It is published by the Oxford University Press. It was edited by two men, and was a novel to be edited by only two men. Of the two, one is a professor from Providence College, Dr. Henry Rosenwald, Professor Emeritus of German.

The Cowl feels that Providence College should feel honored to be in the acquaintance of such a learned and respected man. We feel honored by his unceasing friendship. We are also grateful for the contribution that Dr. Rosenwald has given to scholarship, both here at Providence College and in this newly published edition. We all rejoice in praise.

FILM SOCIETY SCHEDULE

Feb. 2 and 4 THE MILKY WAY

Luis Bunuel’s irreverent treatment of Catholic problems and hypocrisy throughout the ages. A bit eccentric, totally unique. 7:30 & 10:00.

Feb. 3 THRON OF BLOOD

(Japan, 1957) Akira Kurosawa’s adaptation of MacBeth to tell the tale of a poor hungry 16th century warlord. 8:00 p.m.

Feb. 6 THE THIN MAN

W.S. Van Dyke 1934, a suspenseful but humorous, detective story starring William Powell and Myrna Loy. 8:00 p.m.

For these gifts we thank you, Lord... The Pilgrims joined hands in spirit and set aside a day of Thanksgiving. Faith and fellowship had given them strength in adversity. Adversity we have with us yet. Likewise faith and fellowship... within the community of man. Let our prayer this Thanksgiving weld us in unity in the act of saying it.

The community of man... God’s club. It’s not exclusive. It includes you and me.
Class of '75 Letter

It's been the general consensus of the class officers that we must explore new ways of communicating with the members of our class and the College at our first class meeting and those held last year! let us win with as few coordinates. Either people had previous commitments, jobs, or simply didn't care about the course our class will take. They would like to think that there is a lot we can do together but that attendance is connected to a reason other than apathy.

Thus, we've decided that we'll approach the members of the class with communication in a different manner. We've begun, for this open letter in the Cowl and other articles that have been written but hopefully reach more people than ever possible through class meetings. We all hope that we receive some response to that we can evaluate this method.

This first open letter is designed to familiarize you with what your class officers and committee are doing and to encourage you to attend the class meeting. As early as our meeting in the Ring Committee, under the direction of Ellen Bell, Pete Cincogrono and Jack Rudnick, have met weekly and are currently concerned with fundraising ideas for next year. The Ring Committee will be glad to talk to you about the ways we're planning to do something for you. In the meantime, we'd appreciate you sending your ideas and contributions to our efforts.

The class officers and committee met in the Ring Committee and they are working together in the next step. As a result of this and several mixers, a Gay 90's Party recently held in the Ring Committee, they are working well together in their duties for the Ring Committee. The Committee was chosen by the co-chairmen with the approval of the officials. One of the class officers sits on the committee in lieu of the Ring Committee, and therefore, the Committee--and officers working together in their duties for the Ring Committee.

Women's Athletic Association Announces New Spring Programs

by Cindy Kranich

The Women's Athletic Association at P.C. has announced its new programs for the Spring Semester.

In conjunction with the Women's Physical Education Department at Brown University, Providence women now have the opportunity to participate in fencing courses offered at the campus Sayles Gym. These courses are open for a limited group only. Classes are as follows:

Basketball

Hockey

The Friarettes - PC Girls' Basketball Team - practices in Alumni Hall Monday and Thursday afternoons. The Friartoons, PC Girls' Hockey Team, practices in Alumni Hall Thursday and Monday evenings. For a reduced rate of $2 per hour in the six-week course, the student will have an opportunity to learn and practice the fundamentals of tennis. The $12 is also payable in advance. This is a group instruction course with lessons held on Thursdays from 3:30-4:30. Bus services will be offered from Alumni Hall to and from the Court every week. All interested persons are asked to contact Mrs. Bert at the Women's Center.

Just a reminder of some of the continuing programs offered by the Women's Athletic Center:

The Friar Crier...

Listen my children and you will hear.
The midnight ride of the... Friar Crier.

For years now, Providence College has sponsored the Friars in their climb to a perennial independent college powerhouse. All who have attended — in Alumni Hall and now at the R.I. Center for the Performing Arts — have experienced the thrill of watching the Friars. The Voice, Paul Oakley, has served as the Friars' public address announcer for the past five seasons.

The "Voice", Paul Oakley, has become very interested in PC. He was a fan of the Friars for years and a member of the Friar Roster. A basketball fan of his own, Oakley has been a dedicated follower of the Friars through the years. He has been particularly interested in the Friars' success over the past five seasons.

"Do what I think of the new Civic Center?" The Voice smiled and sat back. "It's my life! I work for the Friars and love every minute of it. Everything at the Civic Center is fantastic. I've been to so many games here and have never been disappointed.

As one of a small group of Friar fans, Oakley has been a constant presence at Friar games for years. He was there when the Friars first played at the R.I. Center and has been there every game since.

"How do you like the cellular phone? I mean would you use it if you had one?" The Friars' public address announcer asked.

"I love it! I use it all the time to keep in touch with friends and family. It's so convenient to be able to make calls while I'm out and about. I wouldn't trade it for anything." Oakley replied.

"What would you change about the Friars?" The Voice asked.

"Nothing! I love the Friars. They're a great team. I just wish we could win a championship. We're so close, but we always seem to come up short."

"You've been to so many games, what's your favorite memory?" The Voice asked.

"It has to be the Friars' first game at the Civic Center. It was so exciting to see the Friars play in their new home. The fans were so enthusiastic and the atmosphere was electric."

"What's it like to be a Friar fan?" The Voice asked.

"It's like no other. The Friars have a special bond with their fans. They always support the team and are always there to cheer us on."

Throughout the seasons, all who have followed the Friars have followed the story of the Friars. Through the ups and downs, the Friars have remained a constant source of pride for their fans.

"Well, I'll tell you what. I can't wait to see the Friars play in the Civic Center. It's going to be so exciting. I hope they win."

"What about the Friars' future?" The Voice asked.

"I think they have a bright future. They have a lot of talent and a great coaching staff. They just need to put it all together and they'll be a force to be reckoned with."

The Midnight Ride of the Friar Crier. The Friars will go on to do great things and make our school proud. We will go out of our way to help a guy if he needs it. I NEVER SMOKED.

"My best enjoyment is in following the Friars. I never smoked and now I'm a happy, healthy Friar fan."

"We will win because of Dave. He is a wonderful coach and mentor. He has compassion for his team, he knows how to mold a unit together. Dave is right when he says the defense is the key to the game."

At this point, time was drawing to a close, the Jacksonville game was just an hour or so away. This, however, is not the story's end, it is only the beginning. Next time you're at a game, remember to cheer on the Friars. They are a great team and you won't be disappointed.
Friar Sextet Splits; Faces Tough Slate

by Jan Penkala

The Friar sextet dropped a tough game to Division I opponent University of Pennsylvania this past week by a 62-54 score. Playing on a soft ice surface the P.C. sextet was overcome by a third period three goal strike by the Quakers of Penn. Later in the week, the Friars met the UMass Minutemen at Meehan Auditorium and took the game, 4-3, after a slow first period. The UMass win being against a Division II school doesn't count for Providence in the running for a ECAC Division I playoff spot. P.C. now has a 3-6 slate in Division I and is looking for more victories over their top opponents.

Against the UPenn Quakers, the Friars took a 1-0 lead in the first stanza on a score by Gary Williamson. Jim Murphy started the play by taking the puck from a Penn defenser in the right corner and passing in front of the net to Pete Valenti drawing all the defensive attention to him. "Val" cleverly spotted Williamson at the corner of the crease and his pass to Willie was quickly netted at the fourteen minute mark. Penn came back two minutes later with a tally by Gyetko to knot the score.

In the second period, Sean Shanahan put P.C. up again on a short shot from the crease after 8 1/2 minutes. John Martin had taken a shot on an off angle and Dave Kelly picked up the rebound off the boards to set up "Shag" in the close to the twins. A few Quakers, in a futile attempt to put Shanahan out of the game, drove him into the goal posts right after his score. Sean was unajarred, but his goal was to be the last goal of the period, and the end of the Friars' firepower for the night.

Mike "Zeke" Zyburra put in a fine 44 save performance for the Friars. However, he just could not stop the Quakers three goal spurt in the last period due to persistent Penn attack and home-icing officiating. Mike Gyetko of Penn, playing the wing, had a hand in all four Penn goals, scoring two and assisting on the other two. In the third period, Mike put in the first goal after eight minutes of play and set up the last two while taking advantage of concurrent Providence penalties (a definite penalty to Marvell and a fairly disputed one to Jim Murphy). Final score: Penn 5, P.C. 2. Referee 2.

On Thursday last, the Friars ran up against a top contender in Division I the University of Massachusetts. The Minutemen proved to be a formidable foe as they took command of the first period with two tallies—the first one on a PC defensive mistake.

The Friars, the team that are, came back in the second period on scores by Shanahan and Valenti. Shag's goal came on a short backhand flip assisted by his linemate Dave Kelly and defense- man Jeff Nixon. Pete Valenti put in a pretty tally on a well-timed pass from Willie Williamson at 18 22 for the tying goal. However, the Minutemen's guns weren't silenced as Don Riley notched UMass' third goal for the go-ahead with just nine seconds left in the period.

During the period break, Coach Lamoreilly must have instilled some insight into the prospects of the Friars winning. PC realized their talent and came out for the final stanza flying. Dan Kennedy and Co-captain Gary Williamson struck for the Friars in the first four minutes of play, then the Friars' defense regrouped to gain the victory.

Center Ieremy Landon set up Kennedy for the tying goal as he dug the puck out from behind the UMass net. Two PC players were being played against UMass. In an attempt to clear the corner, Mike Zeke Zyburra should be back in the net soon after his recent illness. In the interim, Phil An- chukaitis has done an outstanding job, recently against UMass stopping two shots from close off his own 50.

The Friars can now look forward to a relatively easy week. After U.C.L.A. and Providence trips last weekend, Coach Frank Layden admits that this is an off season for his Niagara squad. However, both games are on the road (the Niagara game being played at Buffalo Memorial Auditorium) so the Friars should be advised not to take either game too lightly. All factors considered, however, the Friars should emerge from the weekend with a 1-2 record, undoubtedly deserving of ten top recognition.

The team has lost the services of John Yerxa, a solid defenser, due to his student-teaching com- mitments and studies.

Three tough Division I games are on the agenda this week—five days—Northeastern, Tuesday, away; Brown, Thursday, and Clarkson, Saturday, both at home at 8 p.m.

Williamson, Martin, and Kelly (22) work a power-play against UMass. P.C. won, 4-3.

Provance Trips Jacksonville
B.C. & Niagra to Challenge Friars

BASKETBALL

by Bob Phillips

The spunky Friars of Providence College forced themselves back into the national scene by defeating the highly-regarded Jacksonville University Dolphins in a thrilling contest Saturday afternoon at the University of Maine's Alumni Arena. The Friars, sparked by just about everyone in a white uniform who took the court, opened up an 18-point lead early in the game, which even- tually proved the decisive factor in the contest.

Kevin Stacum led the cavalade of scorers with 22 points. Right behind Kevin in the scoring parade were Ernie Digregorio with 21 points, Marvin Barnes with 15 points and a game-leading 18 rebounds, and Fran Costello who chipped in with 17 points and 12 rebounds. For Costello, this was undoubtedly his finest game of the season. Fran was deadly from the top of the key, showed some ex- cellent moves to the basket, and played a solid defensive game.

As the statistics indicate, the Friars played their finest game this season. They certainly had to in order to beat this good-looking Jacksonville team. The Dolphins were led by Captain Abe Steward who had 23 points, 6'10" Butch Taylor and sophomore Henry Williams with 18 points each and Len Bebow added 12. Incidentally, Williams appeared to be one of the most talented perf- ormers to visit the Civic Center this season, along with Oregon's Ron Lee.

The Friars came out winging early in the game and appeared to be able to blow the Dolphins out of the court and back to sunny Florida. But after hitting on their first nine shots from the field, the Providence five actually ended up being outshot by Jacksonville, 54 to 50 per cent. The Dolphins were obviously, however, how to shoot.

But the Friars proved to be the superior team on the boards and defensively. The Friars threw a variety of defenses at the Dolphins, and the press proved particularly effective. The momentum seemed to be a series of sharp peaks and valleys for the Friars. Often, Providence would open up leads of 12 points and quickly the Dolphins would jump back and cut the margin in three. The game ended on such a down note. Jacksonville was in the process of taking an 11 point Friar lead when Ernie Digregorio missed an outside shot. Marvin Barnes, displaying some excellent street basketball with his elbows, cleared the boards, and in a battle of the-centers went back to the boards and put in the game winner after two tallies— the first one on a PC defensive mistake.

The victory raised Providence's record to an impressive 12-2 while Jacksonville slipped 14-3. The Dolphins have previously been beaten by Duquesne and by Long Beach State. An all-time at- tendance mark for this Civic Center was set with 11,854 fans showing up for the Providence-Jacksonville tilt.

The Friars can now look forward to a relatively easy week after U.C.L.A. and Jacksonville in one week, just about anything would be considered a break. Coming up are Boston College on Wednesday evening and the Purple Eagles of Villanova on Saturday night. Neither team is expected to win too much in a particularly successful season, although Boston College does sport a one point victory over Villanova.

Senior Fran Costello came up with his biggest effort of the year against the Dolphins.

Marvin Barnes snarea a rebound and then leaves the Jacksonville team flat-footed on a crucial bucket.

Dan Kennedy fires shot against UMass goalie in 62-54 win.

Kevin Stacum pops in two of his game-high 22 points. The Jacksonville squad flat-footed and entirely bewildered. However, the persistent Dolphins continued to fight back. But with only 34 seconds remaining in the contest, Marvin sealed the Jacksonville coffin by hitting on both ends of a one-and-one situation to assure a Providence victory.
