Bar Makes Changes; Battle Resolved

By Holly Green

Bradley's Cafe, the bar once patronized by a good number of PC residents, changed its format during the Christmas vacation in an attempt to appease neighbors, whose complaints have increased substantially in past years. Such changes were aimed at lessening general manager of Brad's (as it is now called), who is trying to appease neighbors, the things done by the inconsiderate patrons were "unfit to print."

The changes are evident in the miniate the customer comes through the door. A host asks the number in the party and seats everyone possible. Those not seated must wait for a table to be served. Once seated, a waiter (or former bartender) takes your order and returns with the drinks, napkins and clean ashtrays at all times.

The result of this new service is designed to make it easier for everyone concerned, according to Copp. Actually, what it is doing is eliminating the big single crowds that used to patronize the establishment in large numbers. Patrons are expected to drink while seated, thus those who cannot afford it, no longer will come. Nor will they wait in line while seated, thus those who cannot afford it, no longer will come. Nor will they wait in line. Middle aged people and couples are now more frequently seen in Brad's than the usual crowd which had patronized it.

Neighbors last month called for three hearings to discuss the antics at the front of the Providence Civic Center. Father Thomas Peterson stated that he would be, but "asked for alteration and a compromise on each part until a settlement was reached."

The intent of the meeting was to compromise on each part until a settle.ment was reached. The vice-presidential spot and the two positions are representative from City Hall; one from the neighbors; the manager of Brad's; and, at one meeting, Father Duffy from PC. The intent of the meeting was to compromise on each part until a settlement was reached. The intent of the meeting was to compromise on each part until a settlement was reached.

Job Market Demands Much Resourcefulness

By Dave Sprague

Finding a job is the most important, and among the tougher, most frustrating, undertakings a college upperclassman must face. A college education is not the sole vehicle for obtaining employment. Raymond Thibeault, Placement Counsellor at PC, cautions against the "If I have a college degree, they are looking for me" attitude of many students. "In the 90's," he continues, "there were more positions available than there were college graduates. The college grad was assured of a job with good pay."

Today the job market is not as competitive. The college students now outnumber the available positions offered by large corporations. "In General Electric's Financial Management Program there are 150 available positions, nationally," continues Thibeault, "there is a chance that 6-8 seniors from PC will be hired by G.E."

Nationally, the unemployment figures are not as distressing as many news sources claim. Thibeault reminds that for college students the unemployment figure is three per cent. Several reasons can be attributed to the unemployment figure.

Students are not mobile. They are unwilling to seek employment in varied geographic areas. New England has always been economically depressed. Competition for a good job is high.

Students often let their grades suffer from lack of motivation. Students often let their grades suffer from lack of motivation. Students often let their grades suffer from lack of motivation. Students often let their grades suffer from lack of motivation.

The representation race sees a plethora of candidates vying for those positions. Three incumbents, Ellen Barnes, Mary McIntyre, and Susan Martins, are challenged by six newcomers. Dan Collins, Robert Amuro, Kenneth Perry, Dan Foster, Richard Lane, and Ann Simoneone.

The only contested junior elections were for class representative. One of six candidates will be eliminated in Thursday's election. Running are Tom Fay, Jim Kenny, Ron Hammond, Beth Ann Kearney, Mark Arckerman, and Richard Balzano.

The posts of class executive board members present only one candidate each. Frank Volkerr, for the fourth consecutive term, will be the Class of 1977 president. This is also the third consecutive term he has occupied.

Steve Heine, last year's victor in a close race for the vice-presidential spot, will again be the class vice-president. Joseph Graham and Rich Candy will serve as class vice-president. Joseph Graham and Rich Candy will serve as class vice-president.

Cell to Produce '1776'; To Be Shown Next Month

For those who could not find the opportunity to be in Philadelphia during the summer of 1976, the Providence College theater arts department will re-enact the scene with their production of the award-winning musical, '1776.'

Under the direction of John Garrity, the production will run evenings of February 17-22. Perry, Dan Foster, and be offered by Lucien Olivier, with John Swaboda directing the orchestra, assisted by Ron James Prest, O.P. Ann Carr will serve as choreographer.

The duties of stage manager and assistant stage manager will be undertaken by Ron Malley and Lisa Callahan, respectively.

Heading the cast will be William Dennis as John Adams, and Rev. John Cunningham, O.P., as Ben Franklin.

Throughout the production, the individual characters of the delegates are drawn strictly from historical record. One sees the fiery and determined John Adams clash with the conservative John Dickinson of Pennsylvania and the aristocratic Edward Rutledge of South Carolina. An interesting twist is the presence of three women, Barbara Warren, Eliza Pinckney, and "the ever-urbane" Benjamin Franklin, along with the many other characters, take on a human dimension not found in history books.

The songs, too, add to the emotional depth of the story. It's history in the making — and you are there.
Soph Candidates State Issues

By Liz Soares

Only two offices are being contested in the sophomore class elections, to be held Thursday, January 29. Bill Cupelo and Phil Strauch are vying for the presidency, while Jim Drinan, Rick Leveridge, and Rich Crowley are running for vice-president. Mary O'Donnell is up for election for treasurer, while Donna Chevalier is seeking re-election for the office of secretary.

Running unopposed for the posts of representative are Louis Gerreiro, Peter Lambertson, Donna Formichella, Dawn Fink, and Kathy Calenda.

Bill Cupelo, a candidate for sophomore class president.

Bill Cupelo, a psychology major from Valley Stream, New York. Cupelo draws an analogy between a basketball team and student government: "Both a basketball team and student government are means by which to achieve an end or goal." He sees the goal of government as the representation of the students. True representation, Cupelo feels, should lead to "happiness or fulfillment."

Cupelo sees the office of presidency as having slightly more power than the other offices, "small enough but significant enough." This power is necessary to maintain unity.

Cupelo feels that unity in government is very important because it is only when people work together as a unit that ideals can be realized.

Phil Strauch, an economics major from Danvers, Mass., is also running for president. His major interest in government is in the area of social activities, and he has served as co-chairman of the B.O.G. social committee.

Strauch would like to participate in government for only one year. One of his goals is to make Ring Weekend "exceptional." He recognizes that there are many problems at PC, but feels that they are related to the social life here. By working on social activities, Strauch hopes to alleviate other programs in mind yet. He plans to "relate on (his) own personality" to achieve this until he becomes established in office.

Jim Drinan is a political science major from Derby, Conn. He has served as an intern in the Mass. State Legislature and has worked for the Boston School Committee on the Phase II Busing program.

Drinan has compared the student government structure at PC to the systems in other schools, and does not feel that the system here is all that it could be. He feels that the committee system of Student Congress creates a bureaucratic structure that filters and compromises student ideas to too strong a degree, and also tends to paralyze the students involved. Drinan would like to see the committee system either streamlined or abolished.

Citing the need for a better social life on campus, the quality of food in Raymond Cafeteria, and parietals as major problems, Drinan also suggested a need for innovation in academics at PC.

Finally, Drinan strongly recommended the need for a student representative to sit on the Rank and Tenure Committee. He cited the Drs. Hyde and Trudeau cases last spring, where he felt vocal student opinion seemed to have little effect on the committee decisions.

Rick Crowley is an economics major from Framingham, Mass. He sees politics as a good way to get involved with the school. Crowley believes that too many people see elections as the only student input available. He feels that this should not be the situation, and hopes to involve more students in the process of government.

He believes that apathy is partly due to the fact that many students don't know what's going on. According to the manager, Brad's is doing no better or worse than before considering 11 p.m. during the week until 2 a.m. on the weekends. It is still allowing some of the masses that would walk toward Brad's around 11 p.m. had the drinking age lowered to 18.

Several years ago, Brad's was run much like it is now. They always served pitchers of the seven different kinds of beer and a complete menu started coming in large numbers. Now beer is only sold in bottles, although the management is considering returning to pitchers if the system works as well as it is presently.

According to the manager, Brad's is doing on better or worse financially and like the new way things are being run. They say he is receiving good feedback from the students.

Brad's Makes Changes

Continued from Page 1

for the election. This person went on to outline the major efforts made to make everyone conscious of the write-in candidate. They also advertised by stuffing mailboxes with notices about a write-in candidate. They also purchased an advertisement in the Coast. Cupolla went on WDOM to recognize this anonymous group the night before the election. He also took time to discuss various issues at hand.

One of his goals is to make Ring Weekend "exceptional." He feels that all of these people working together, Congress will succeed in its goals.

Brad's Makes Changes

Continued from Page 1

solution to the neighbors' problems could be solved. Brad's compromise was the new management of the bar. The neighbors made an unsuccessful attempt to stop the renewal of Brad's license to operate, blaming them for the enormous parking problem and for the carousing of some of the students.

It was suggested to Father Duffy that the Rathskeller be opened till 1 a.m. during the week and until 2 a.m. on the weekends, hoping it would alleviate some of the masses that would walk toward Brad's around 11 p.m.

Brad's Cafe, which was named for the Bradley estate which once owned most of this area, has been standing for 42 years. It has catered to Providence College students since World War II, and Coon has been there 15. The crowds of PC students were not common until three years ago, when the drinking age was lowered to 18.

Four years ago, Brad's was run much like it is now. They always served pitchers of the seven different kinds of beer and a complete menu started coming in large numbers. Now beer is only sold in bottles, although the management is considering returning to pitchers if the system works as well as it is presently.

According to the manager, Brad's is doing on better or worse financially and like the new way things are being run. They say he is receiving good feedback from the students.

Need RESUMES or Business Cards?

MAGI.C COPY HOUSE

1862 Mineral Spring Ave.
North Providence, R.I. 02904
Tel. 401-353-8870

Offset Printing
Drilling
Invitations
Stitching
Ph.
Wedding
Folding

PRINTING WHILE YOU WAIT

FOR CHRIST'S SAKE

A religious vocation offers you an opportunity to make a difference by assisting Christ in bringing the Good News to people everywhere.

If you wish to know more about the Christian life as lived out in the ordained priesthood and the religious life, contact:

OFFICE OF VOCATIONS

Cathedral Square
861-9800
Providence, R.I.
Bermuda, Florida on Tap:

Dillon Club Plans Travel Packages

The Dillon Club is expanding its existing travel program this spring. "The purpose of the travel programs," explains Len Reo, travel committee chairperson, "is to promote the educational experience travel offers to the Providence College Community through a diversified program of travel opportunities to agents at the best possible price."

The Dillon Club office, Room 120, Slavin, is staffed from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. daily. The travel committee members, who answer questions and take reservations.

Presently, the Dillon Club is offering five trips: Bermuda, Daytona Beach and Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, as well as to Bermuda and Puerto Rico.

The Daytona package includes round trip transportation via Greyhound deluxe motor coach and first class ocean front lodgings for eight days and seven nights. Accommodations being used will be the Thunderbird Motel (March 12-20); the Holiday Inn Southside, Whitehall Inn, and Cabana Beach Motel (April 15-24). The cost of the entire package, including taxes and tips, will be $126.

Ft. Lauderdale, for those who prefer to fly to Florida and stay at one of the best possible accommodations is approximately $100 more than Daytona Beach. Ft. Lauderdale is being offered during six weeks, starting March 8th and continuing through April 30th.

Bermuda, also being offered during these six weeks, has become the "in place" for college tours due to enormous crowds in Florida. Bermuda College Weeks are at their best during the middle of April which, fortunately, is PC's Easter vacation. This is the second year the Dillon Club is offering Bermuda; last year's trip was a huge success.

Puerto Rico, for the adventurer, is approximately the same price as Bermuda. More information will be available on the Puerto Rico trip soon.

March Dillon Club Moves Offices

The Dillon Club is pleased to announce the move to a new office outside of Alumni Cafeteria. The club is now better able to service commuters and the commuter students of the College.

The office will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. every day. The new president, Rick Partilo, would like to welcome new members and encourage commuter students to take advantage of the Dillon Club as the voice of the commuters on campus.

BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Boston Symphony Orchestra at Veterans Memorial Auditorium

Tuesdays
February 3, 4, 9, 10, 14, 15, 27
Conductor: Seiji Ozawa

Tickets available at the Avery Place Box Office, 400 Avery Place, Providence, Rhode Island. For further information, call 783-2700.

BROADWAY FANTASY SERIES

1. TERRIFIC MOVIE
2. THE THREE MUSKETEERS

"IT CAN BE SAID, SIMPLY AND WITH THANKS, THAT IT IS AN 'ABSOLUTELY TERRIFIC MOVIE!" JoJo Cocks

Time Magazinst

The Embrilours property on Smith Street in Providence is a plot of land, formerly owned by PC, and sold to a private developer last fall. When contacted last week, the developer, Robert H. Gaudreau, could not state any plans he had for the property. The land, one of the largest available tract of land in the city, was once the site of the former Embriuums Academy, a girls' preparatory school.

Job Market Competitive

Continued from Page 1

When a student passes the screening he is a candidate for an interview at the plant. It is then that the student's resume is most important. According to Thibeault, the resume must not be a stumbling block for the student. The resume is not a compilation of references from past employers as many people think. In the resume, the student attempts to write a written report. He answers (who, what? who, where? what, how?) that he evaluates himself, past experiences, and future aspirations.

Those who have not developed the ability to write cannot express themselves. Too often the resume is a cause of a student's downfall. Again Thibeault cites educators at all levels for failing to allow students enough time to prepare through writing. "Mechanized teaching has little room for writing ability," according to Thibeault.

The place to start the road to realistic resumes is at the Career Center. Here, Thibeault and his staff maintain an extensive reference library. The library includes job placement manuals, manuals on writing resumes, how to conduct oneself in an interview, and articles and pamphlets from the companies telling what they offer. There are also several newswires that give up-to-date employment information.

A specimen manual compiled by Thibeault and published for PC is available to all students. The manual outlines the necessary steps for planning his or her own resume.

In the forward of the manual, Thibeault outlines the challenge of competition for career employment last year was intense. It could be even more so this academic year. "The competition is easy... and costly." The manual outlines the programs, facilities and services which are available. It tells the reader "how to work with you... successful attainment of a good job rests only on you. Doing something about it is up to you."

Obituary: Romeo Dumont

Romeo Dumont became the newest member of the Alumni Hall Cafeteria since 1948, died last January 11 after an illness of 11 days.

Mr. Dumont, a World War II veteran and a former resident of Fatima Hospital, in North Providence. He was the husband of Anne A. (O'Brien) Dumont.

A Providence resident most of his life, Mr. Dumont was born on April 15, 1917, in Putnam, Connecticut to the late Sine and Federick (Ralph) Dumont.

Besides his wife, he is survived by six stepchildren, one brother, and five sisters.
Alexander Zito: Pojo After the Hoopla

By Joseph E. Zito

"Twas the 24th day near the end of December,
When our poor PC Friars were trudging two,
But that was all over for we all promptly knew.
That things would be different in half number two.

When our poor PC Friars were trudging two,
By Digger Phelps.

Too late for that, only eight minutes to go.
If Digger had been as good as he'd never get off the floor.
Bruce smashed his nose, the notre-dame.
The coach in the meantime had turned off his jacket.
The fisaco of a game he must have enjoyed.
But 10,000 people couldn't seem to find
Just exactly what the coach had intended.
Pull out the starters. One's got the flu.
I'll put in some other kid. So what if it's me.
On Congress, On Cupid, On Dunder, On Tixem!

For God sakes, come on everybody
Come on Chris Dixon.
"The place is a nuthouse."
I said gasping for breath.
Some PC loss is worse than death.
Oh, woa are the Friars on this sad, sad day.
They all fell really short with selections.
The game itself was not very hot.
A PC loss means requiem mass in the Grotto.
We will mourn the loss in all conscious ways.
Be carrying symbolic deflated pumpkins.
Oh, cry for the Friars!
Lad their bravery and skill!
Springs forward that we did beat Storeiball.

For the game was still young and the fans filled with glee,
But deep down all sensed the inevitability of defeat.
"The place is a nuthouse," I said to the crowd.
just the first half.
The game itself was not very hot.
A PC loss means requiem mass in the Grotto.
We will mourn the loss in all conscious ways.
Be carrying symbolic deflated pumpkins.
Oh, cry for the Friars!
Lad their bravery and skill!
Springs forward that we did beat Storeiball.

For the game was still young and the fans filled with glee,
But deep down all sensed the inevitability of defeat.
"The place is a nuthouse," I said to the crowd.
just the first half.
The game itself was not very hot.
A PC loss means requiem mass in the Grotto.
We will mourn the loss in all conscious ways.
Be carrying symbolic deflated pumpkins.
Oh, cry for the Friars!
Lad their bravery and skill!
Springs forward that we did beat Storeiball.

For the game was still young and the fans filled with glee,
But deep down all sensed the inevitability of defeat.
"The place is a nuthouse," I said to the crowd.
just the first half.
The game itself was not very hot.
A PC loss means requiem mass in the Grotto.
We will mourn the loss in all conscious ways.
Be carrying symbolic deflated pumpkins.
Oh, cry for the Friars!
Lad their bravery and skill!
Springs forward that we did beat Storeiball.

For the game was still young and the fans filled with glee,
But deep down all sensed the inevitability of defeat.
"The place is a nuthouse," I said to the crowd.
just the first half.
The game itself was not very hot.
A PC loss means requiem mass in the Grotto.
We will mourn the loss in all conscious ways.
Be carrying symbolic deflated pumpkins.
Oh, cry for the Friars!
Lad their bravery and skill!
Springs forward that we did beat Storeiball.

For the game was still young and the fans filled with glee,
But deep down all sensed the inevitability of defeat.
"The place is a nuthouse," I said to the crowd.
just the first half.
The game itself was not very hot.
A PC loss means requiem mass in the Grotto.
We will mourn the loss in all conscious ways.
Be carrying symbolic deflated pumpkins.
Oh, cry for the Friars!
Lad their bravery and skill!
Springs forward that we did beat Storeiball.

For the game was still young and the fans filled with glee,
But deep down all sensed the inevitability of defeat.
"The place is a nuthouse," I said to the crowd.
just the first half.
The game itself was not very hot.
A PC loss means requiem mass in the Grotto.
We will mourn the loss in all conscious ways.
Be carrying symbolic deflated pumpkins.
Oh, cry for the Friars!
Lad their bravery and skill!
Springs forward that we did beat Storeiball.

For the game was still young and the fans filled with glee,
But deep down all sensed the inevitability of defeat.
"The place is a nuthouse," I said to the crowd.
just the first half.
The game itself was not very hot.
A PC loss means requiem mass in the Grotto.
We will mourn the loss in all conscious ways.
Be carrying symbolic deflated pumpkins.
Oh, cry for the Friars!
Lad their bravery and skill!
Springs forward that we did beat Storeiball.

For the game was still young and the fans filled with glee,
But deep down all sensed the inevitability of defeat.
"The place is a nuthouse," I said to the crowd.
just the first half.
The game itself was not very hot.
A PC loss means requiem mass in the Grotto.
We will mourn the loss in all conscious ways.
Be carrying symbolic deflated pumpkins.
Oh, cry for the Friars!
Lad their bravery and skill!
Springs forward that we did beat Storeiball.

For the game was still young and the fans filled with glee,
But deep down all sensed the inevitability of defeat.
"The place is a nuthouse," I said to the crowd.
just the first half.
The game itself was not very hot.
A PC loss means requiem mass in the Grotto.
We will mourn the loss in all conscious ways.
Be carrying symbolic deflated pumpkins.
Oh, cry for the Friars!
Lad their bravery and skill!
Springs forward that we did beat Storeiball.

For the game was still young and the fans filled with glee,
But deep down all sensed the inevitability of defeat.
"The place is a nuthouse," I said to the crowd.
just the first half.
The game itself was not very hot.
A PC loss means requiem mass in the Grotto.
We will mourn the loss in all conscious ways.
Be carrying symbolic deflated pumpkins.
Oh, cry for the Friars!
Lad their bravery and skill!
Springs forward that we did beat Storeiball.

For the game was still young and the fans filled with glee,
But deep down all sensed the inevitability of defeat.
"The place is a nuthouse," I said to the crowd.
just the first half.
The game itself was not very hot.
A PC loss means requiem mass in the Grotto.
We will mourn the loss in all conscious ways.
Be carrying symbolic deflated pumpkins.
Oh, cry for the Friars!
Lad their bravery and skill!
Springs forward that we did beat Storeiball.

For the game was still young and the fans filled with glee,
But deep down all sensed the inevitability of defeat.
"The place is a nuthouse," I said to the crowd.
just the first half.
The game itself was not very hot.
A PC loss means requiem mass in the Grotto.
We will mourn the loss in all conscious ways.
Be carrying symbolic deflated pumpkins.
Oh, cry for the Friars!
Lad their bravery and skill!
Springs forward that we did beat Storeiball.

For the game was still young and the fans filled with glee,
But deep down all sensed the inevitability of defeat.
"The place is a nuthouse," I said to the crowd.
just the first half.
The game itself was not very hot.
A PC loss means requiem mass in the Grotto.
We will mourn the loss in all conscious ways.
Be carrying symbolic deflated pumpkins.
Oh, cry for the Friars!
Lad their bravery and skill!
Springs forward that we did beat Storeiball.
confrontations were broken, threats were uttered and members of Student Congress tried to trick our fellow students into revealing the identities of our group by expressing "concern" over the possibility that they were being misled into actions that were not in their best interests. We knew what we were doing, and although we had done our homework.

It is too bad that certain Student Congress members did not work as closely as the project's objectives as they did on this one. Their interest was genuine.

We saw people panic and run frantically, but we would have stimulated the public's interest in something worthwhile if we had let the "write-in" expedition, let's look at the way it was conducted.

We started out with trust and faith in the values of which we are to be judged. We did not give way to low tricks; we kept it to do something good. We did not give way to low tricks; we kept it to do something good. We did not have a higher principle to which we could return, nor judge each other, because who do my thing, and you do yours, and that we no longer valid, like they were for our forebears. It is about time we reestablish our own self-worth and those values which give credit to our beliefs as Americans. None of us should be as naive to assume that there is no difference between right and wrong, and that we shouldn't judge what those different.

We have a responsibility as persons to ourselves, as citizens, to be able to judge right and wrong and realize the paradoxical position those "hang-loose ethic". They tell us not to make judgments and when we do, they are inadequate, yet they make those judgments themselves. Obviously, someone would have to be able to judge right and wrong and realize the paradoxical position those "hang-loose ethic" are so open to change, while they themselves begin to close avenues of freedom and faith. All of us can reflect on instances when we have been asked not to judge, but to go on and do what we can to give you some of the reasons why.

Something insidious is taking place in the American outlook on life. It is a trend in which moral and ethical values are replaced by material values. It is a trend in which moral and ethical values are replaced by material values.

One of the definitions of a member of Student Congress is that he is "a person of high moral and ethical character." It is a person of high moral and ethical character. It is a person of high moral and ethical character.

It would be a whole lot easier for people to judge if there was a law. People have to be open to change, while we themselves begin to close avenues of freedom and faith. All of us can reflect on instances when we have been asked not to judge, but to go on and do what we can to give you some of the reasons why.

Unfortunately, this ethic has found its greatest "disciples" among the college-educated and those persons Mars called the "ethic". This is one of the reasons why the "ethic" is seen in the attitude: "I'll make those judgments themselves. Obviously, someone would have to be able to judge right and wrong and realize the paradoxical position those "hang-loose ethic" are so open to change, while they themselves begin to close avenues of freedom and faith. All of us can reflect on instances when we have been asked not to judge, but to go on and do what we can to give you some of the reasons why.

Sincerely,
Norman Quesnel

Theatre Arts Welcomes New Head
Garrity Takes Over for Pelkington

By Molly Hennessey
The Providence College Theatre Arts department has a new director. John Garrity, Jr., Robert L. Pelkington, the former director, left last month to complete a graduate work at Catholic University, Washington, D.C.

A John Garrity is a 1973 graduate of PC. Garrity received his work at Catholic University, Washington, D.C.

Garrity indicated that he would give way to low tricks; we kept it to do something good. We did not give way to low tricks; we kept it to do something good.

Garrity maintains that a major in the theatre is practical and marketable. He does not see the theatre unemployment picture as being worse than in any other field. Garrity assured me that the campus is not the kind a person can go to.

Garrity would like to see a new theater on campus. While the "hang-loose ethic" was taking hold, Americans were also being told "God is dead" and only the emotionally immature produce images of an external Being to alleviate their own inadequacies. After being given all the enlightenment from the leading intellectual and literary figures, many Americans became unable to cope with reality, because it was no longer valid, like they were for our forebears. It is about time we reestablish our own self-worth and those values which give credit to our beliefs as Americans. None of us should be as naive to assume that there is no difference between right and wrong, and that we shouldn't judge what those different.

What happens to America will all likely be determined by the vigilance, faith, and ability of its citizens to at least try to make reasonable decisions. It would be a sin for us to fail for nearly thirty years from the inferiors of the "ethical considerations?" are no longer valid, like they were for our forebears. It is about time we reestablish our own self-worth and those values which give credit to our beliefs as Americans. None of us should be as naive to assume that there is no difference between right and wrong, and that we shouldn't judge what those different.

Sincerely,
Robert D. Burns
Class of '74

Pippola's Departure Creates Recess;
Two Vie for Soph Presidency

From continued on Page 1

As class secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The only sophomore positions contested are the top ones. With the election of L. Vincent Cipolla to unseat Douglas Davis, who was unopposed, and Mary O'Donnell, a newcomer, will serve as the class treasurer, replacing the new Congress treasurer, Joseph O'Neill. Cipolla's term will take place Thursday, January 29, on the lower level of Slavin Center. The voting period will be open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.
All But Two Frosh Posts Contested

By Kathryn DeS SIGNORE

All races for freshman class officers, with exception of vice president and secretary are contested.

Candidates for the office of president are Mike Monea, Sue Cancro, and Vincent Campion.

Monea said of last semester’s officers, that a good job was done but a better job can be done. He considers a closer relationship between the Student Congress and the freshman class as necessary and he wants to see the freshmen become more involved in attending Student Congress meetings. Specific ideas are still under consideration.

Monea has attended two Student Congress meetings and does not care for the parliamentary procedure used. He said, “It’s a hard way to talk to others. It seems the procedure used. He said, “It’s a bicentennial mixer and he felt that students are concerned about getting the freshman class as necessary and he wants to see the freshmen become more involved in attending Student Congress meetings. Specific ideas are still under consideration.

Vincent Campion, the next candidate for president, said last semester’s officers had only one mixer and he feels that students are concerned about getting the freshman class as necessary and he wants to see the freshmen become more involved in attending Student Congress meetings. Specific ideas are still under consideration.

Monea said of last semester’s officers, “It’s unmitigatedly inexpensive. It’s just a great mistake. Hot sandwich baskets for only 99c. If everything about us is to be consumed and responsible position.

Applications may be acquired in the Office of the Director of Residence in Joseph Hall, from the Office of Admissions in the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. All applications must be submitted by March 1 and returned not later than Monday, February 20.

After a thorough screening, all applicants must have an interview with the director of residence and an interview board. All applicants must have an interview with the director of residence and an interview board. All applicants must have an interview with the director of residence and an interview board.

All questions regarding the RA program and its responsibilities may be answered by any current R.A. or by inquiring at the Office of the Director of Residence.

Night School Features Sci-Fi

By Betsy Stachura

James Kittredge, a faculty member for PC’s Continuing School of Education, teaches science fiction, a very popular class in science fiction literature. The course, now in its second semester, was being offered for the first time this year.

Due to the lack of publicity for the first semester, there were only 15 students in the class. The course, the idea for which originated with Kittredge, was a late decision. However, now that it has caught on, the number of students has more than doubled and the class is filled to capacity.

Kittredge himself takes this growing branch of fiction very seriously. Even so, he would like to recommend to its many readers as a candle flame to its many readers as a candle flame. It has often been said that science fiction is the literature of today because it’s about the future.

Kittredge, born in Tennessee, received his B.A. from Holy Cross and his M.A. from Bucknell University. He first taught at Shippensburg College in Pennsylvania and is presently working on his doctorate at Brown University.

At Brown, Kittredge was an editorial assistant for the English department manual and also did editing of textbooks. He taught courses ranging from Introduction to Science Fiction Literature to Speculative-Science Fiction.

Kittredge, with an extensive background in both poetry and British writers, has also taught several poetry courses.

Why, then, the jump from Joyce to Vonnegut, from Shakespeare to Asimov? "You get to a certain point in your career where you just want to break from that classical English writing," he notes.

Kittredge seems to have a very worldly attitude toward fiction, refusing to scoff at even the most esoteric forms. He regards them as necessary reflections of our culture and the mirror of literary expression.

And science fiction is a legitimate form of literature. Indeed, Kittredge says, the term is a legitimate form of literature is a "generic matter," a relative thing. The public, as a whole, has a special "commitment to all living writers," says Kittredge. Speaking of science fiction, he expressed his belief that it was "an inevitability to offer a course in it."
Canada - or just ladder, they at all.

Wisconsin, was charged by of coaching duties at the University took a leave of absence from his stemmed from the fact that Czechs and the Russian team, home with a conditioning program, conditions because, "In the has helped them reach their goal of and not enough from the Univertome to work on all phases of the game," the team's "only adjustment is back to the big ice." Olympic games are really rooting for you." Johnson has time to do it with a week's used in North America. The team

Northeastern (65), and Princeton (79)... The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.

The PC women will host Bentley College on Thursday evening at 6 p.m. at Alumni Hall. All members of the PC community are invited to attend.
By Tom Giordano

The Friars are frustrated. After a relatively easy win over St. Joseph's, 80-69, they suffered their third two-point loss of the season as LaSalle edged them, 73-71, last Saturday at the Civic Center.

Dave Gavitt called the game "a night of frustration." He added somewhat unconvincingly that "you can't complain about losing two-point games." Gavitt pointed out that LaSalle's 9-4 record is not indicative of the type of team they are by citing their "rugged road schedule," which has included Kansas and Alabama.

PC's game was hampered when Bob Masevics left the contest early in the first half with three personal fouls. Gavitt lamented that "Bob is the key to our offensive game." Without Masevics, the Friars were at a considerable weight disadvantage under the boards.

The Friars game was also hindered by the fact that Joe Hassett was playing with the flu. He was held to six points, a season low, but this also was partly due to the intimidating defense of LaSalle's Glen Collier. The Explorers playing a "man to man" defense were aided by the fact that PC had one of its poorest shooting games of the season.

Towards the end, frustration set in and as a result of a third period.

See FRIARS, Page 7

Olympic Hockey Aspirants Travel Long, Lonely Road

By Tom Giordano

In the upcoming weeks, an event will move mountains of Innsbruck Austria, where men and women from around the world will compete, not for power or land, but for a golden ticket.

This disc symbolizes excellence, a reward for hard work, practice and dedication. But, for the many moments of loneliness, disgust and dejection. The event is the 1980 Winter Olympics where the squad of competing countries will be out to prove who is the best in a variety of sports.

Only a few can win medals, the rest can just treasure the memories of participating and representing their country in the most prestigious competition.

Under a capitalistic government, amateur players in communist countries would be considered professionals. On the possibility of improving this disparity Coach Johnson points out that "under our system today it would be very difficult to make a living playing hockey today." He points out that "we had 13 players turn professional. You can't tell these players not to turn professional. They all got lucrative deals on the table." The Friars are frustrated. After a relatively easy win over St. Joseph's, 80-69, they suffered their third two-point loss of the season as LaSalle edged them, 73-71, last Saturday at the Civic Center.

Dave Gavitt called the game "a night of frustration." He added somewhat unconvincingly that "you can't complain about losing two-point games." Gavitt pointed out that LaSalle's 9-4 record is not indicative of the type of team they are by citing their "rugged road schedule," which has included Kansas and Alabama.

PC's game was hampered when Bob Masevics left the contest early in the first half with three personal fouls. Gavitt lamented that "Bob is the key to our offensive game." Without Masevics, the Friars were at a considerable weight disadvantage under the boards.

The Friars game was also hindered by the fact that Joe Hassett was playing with the flu. He was held to six points, a season low, but this also was partly due to the intimidating defense of LaSalle's Glen Collier. The Explorers playing a "man to man" defense were aided by the fact that PC had one of its poorest shooting games of the season.

Towards the end, frustration set in and as a result of a third period.

See FRIARS, Page 7

PC Tracksters Cop Second in Medley

The Providence College "Lady Tracksters" were in action twice this past week. The first home game of this season was against Rhode Island College, another cross-town rival. PC won both.

At the home track meet, which was held on the Friars' campus, 20 women had an eight point cushion with the score 34-16. Eight members of the squad contributed to the scoring effort. The Lady Tracksters coasted home by a 73-71 victory. Scoring statistics for those who tallied were as follows:

PC
Mary Ellen Buchanan 12
Mary Casey 8
Nancy Bennett 2

Olympic Hockey Aspirants Travel Long, Lonely Road

By Tom Giordano

In the upcoming weeks, an event will move mountains of Innsbruck Austria, where men and women from around the world will compete, not for power or land, but for a golden ticket.

This disc symbolizes excellence, a reward for hard work, practice and dedication. But, for the many moments of loneliness, disgust and dejection. The event is the 1980 Winter Olympics where the squad of competing countries will be out to prove who is the best in a variety of sports.

Only a few can win medals, the rest can just treasure the memories of participating and representing their country in the most prestigious competition.

Under a capitalistic government, amateur players in communist countries would be considered professionals. On the possibility of improving this disparity Coach Johnson points out that "under our system today it would be very difficult to make a living playing hockey today." He points out that "we had 13 players turn professional. You can't tell these players not to turn professional. They all got lucrative deals on the table."