The Friar's Formal, edition 1955, is now in the possession of the College. The dance was one of the high lights of the year, featuring a set of flowers and a masque that like the of which has never been seen on this campus before.

In the Alumni Hall over one hundred couples synthesized to the music of Hugo Stoza and his orchestra. So enjoyable was his music, at the climax of dance, that the spectators at the basketball game, Paul Connolly, secretary of the Providence Club, which Miss Wall represented, has been served with her appeared to the alumni at their disconcert the same night. Saturday night Miss Wall was presented to the spectators at the basketball game by Paul Connolly, secretary of the Providence Club, which Miss Wall represented.

In addition to being crowned queen of the Friar’s Formal, “Her Majesty” was Queen of Homecoming Weekend, having been served with her award to her alma mater by her committee of the Providence Club, which Miss Wall represented.

Highpoint of the dance itself was the crowning of Ann Wall, queen of the dance, by the Very Rev. Robert J. Slavin, O.P., President of the College, who was a special guest at the affair. Charles B. Schneider, O.P., moderator of the club, made the announcement.

Friar Firemen Establish 2-0 Emulous Record

Since the days of the muley loaded market, the effectiveness of a wagon has been measured by the size of the team behind it. Although the P.C. rifle team uses twenty-two caliber Remingtons and .30-30s, the skill required is more subtle.

This year’s team looks to be the best yet. Coached by Sgt. George Lawrence, his team of hardworking and able Janits, they have reached off seven straight victories and hope to add many more before the season’s end in April. Among the victims who have succumbed to the marksmen’s talents are Canisus, U. of Tennessee, U. of Wisconsin, and Edmund Trzinski, will be produced this time.

The Friar Firemen will again be firing in the New England Rifle League this year, in which they finished third last year. The team, B.U. and the Coast Guard Academy had season. In addition to the two aforementioned, B.U., U.C. of New Haven, and Providence are also in the league.

The remainder of the cast is Daniel Larney, Fred Sieverts, George Shapiro, better known as Animal. His role will be to find out who is the spy. The production is unique for the Players. It uses 8s for the first time in many years. The cast is all male and it is in musical. Richard Ross is in charge of the stage crew, assisted by Jack Welsh.

Vet Club To Hear Rep. J. E. Fogarty

The Veterinarian’s Club of Providence College, newly organized, will hold its next meeting in the Guild Room at Alumni Hall. The meeting will be on Thursday, December 13th at 8:00 p.m. The main speaker for the evening will be John E. Fogarty, United States Congressional representative from Rhode Island. He will speak about the current legislation and the benefits it will provide veterans.

It is anticipated that members of the Providence College community and the general public will attend this meeting. The organizers hope to create a platform for discussions about the importance of supporting veterans and their families.

Pyramid Players “Stalag 17” To Have Three Performances

The Pyramid Players production of “Stalag 17,” written by Donald Bevan and Harold Kreisler, will be presented December 12, 12, and 13 in Hopkins Hall auditorium; curtain time is 8:30 p.m. It is the first non-musical production by the Players in several years. Directing the show is Rich McCarrhey, ’57.

Tickets for the play are now on sale. Courtesy Gerry, business manager, has announced that tickets can be purchased for $1.00 from any member of the cast, or at the stage crew. Students will be admitted at the door free, if they show either their bus­ nis card or the student activity book.

The play, set in a German prison camp, was a success on Broadway and in Hollywood. The plot of the story is to detect a German spy, who has been placed by the German official in the barracks. It is generally believed by the prisoners to be Sefton, who has the inability to crack everyone is the way wrong. Seton in turn appoints himself a committee of one to find out who is the spy. The suspense mounts until the spy is forced to reveal himself or be killed by his own soldiers.

Among the principals are Hefy played by James McVicar, the barracks leader, Price, the security officer, is Dave Harrington. Francis Brennan plays Sefton, the German spy, Leo LeBaron is Harry Shapero, better known as Animal. His body, Shap, is played by Ray McInerney. Corporal Schultz is played by Jack Walsh.

The production is unique for the Players. It uses 8s for the first time in many years. The cast is all male and it is in musical. Richard Ross is in charge of the stage crew, assisted by Jack Welsh.

Rebels With A Cause...

Saturday, 2,000 students of Georgia Tech publicly manifested their opposition to Georgia Tech's ban on the Sigma Rho, in which the school would be opposing a team which has a negro on its squad. By this act, the students demonstrated their lack of discrimination.

As Northerners, we ignore Governor Griffin's statement explaining the incident as "bad timing" and "bad weather" and have a good time..." and hope that this is the many projects of the university of Georgia Tech's condemnation and its end with our generation. Segregation has merely been a political tool, unchallenged in its reign, and has brought nothing but disgrace to our country.

We have allowed the recognition of this snobbery to drop their snobbish "social rules" and feel that the inherent part of this group of people is to be more lenient towards truculent monsters. If these incidents are not settled and this unjust wrong righted, the Cupid of that long-ago, four year battle with the Christian world and set down the same as a conversation, and have nothing to do with our country.

All partisans governors should heed this demonstration: your endorsement does not belong to the greatness of this country.

We would like to congratulate the Southern students for this demonstrated courage, and wish to add that the students who/gave the students who had rebelled for, and sincerely hope that they will be the means to the abolition of segregation.

Growth Greets Alumni

Dramatists have always pictured Home-Coming as a time for affairs, a time for Most-likely-To-Succeed is a pathetic mess and a failure. The boy at the bottom of his class has probably been working hard and one leaves feeling a little discontent.

As they viewed the growing campus, they must have experienced a greater pride in the old school ties.

The Undergraduates was a very successful week-end, crowned by a victory over the "nations' greatest". The boys were able to make the most of the coming season and one leaves feeling a little discontent.

They are the same, saw and were pleased. They may have looked over the ground of the old graduates, but they must have felt a little younger and more alive as they revisited the field of that long-ago, four year battle with the professors. Old friendships were renewed, and, but more they had a chance to drift away in school spirit was revived,

But were the science-men to find some animating principle. When an idea was such a mind Vital, though metaphysical-

To such, an event, I think Would cause unspeakable joy. Science, applied by thought would shrink To its component parts again.

The view-point, the rhyme-scheme, and the meter, are all traditional in composition, and in the poetic sense, or formal, of the poems we hear a modern man, speaking to his age.

His cynicism finds expression in many of the poems, but there is intelligence. "Art Y, Scene 5" are outstanding:

No parole for my disgusted soul, no tears Will wash away my labor of three years.

No signs vieciously ablate my rapture--

The short stories this year seem more commercial than in recent times. There is an indication, or so to say, in fiction, that old things are coming back. The studentx were more interested in the poetry, and in the poetic sense, or formal, of the poems we hear a modern man, speaking to his age.

It is believed that the production done in the superfly professional in which the Players will raise their position on campus.

On Saturday, December 10, the Barristers will send novice teams to the second annual St. Anselm’s Novice Debate Tournament. Representing Providence College will be Francis Shaw and Thomas Mosinuga on the affirmative, and Joseph Shaw and Robert Hanson on the negative. This tournament is constantly attended by some of the top debating teams in New England, such as M.I.T., Bates, Vermont, Boston College, and many others. This year with a particularly strong team the Barristers are hopeful of placing in a high position at the close of the tournament.

Swimming Club 55-56 Roster Is Announced

It was announced this week that the swimming team of P.C. has tentative meets with St. George’s Woonsocket Junior College, De La Salle Academy, Holy Cross, and Quissett Naval Air Station.

The mainstays of the Friars at the meet will be Peter Harrington, ‘77, Bill Sweeney, ‘75, Bob Gilchrist, ‘75, Tony Doyle, ‘59, and Paul Grady, ‘58. The remainder of the team will be selected by the coaches in practice. Any students wishing to join the team should see Bill Sweeney.

Fabulous Five Honored at Alumni Luncheon

The Varsity Club of Providence College welcomed back the alumni to their hall and paid special honor to the “fabulous five” of 1928-1929 last Saturday before 200 faculty, alumni, students, and guests. John E. P. Murphy, ‘27, brought back memories of the 1929-1930 and introduced the various special guests of the luncheon.

Father Slavin, our president, welcomed back the alumni and stressed that a gymnasium such as Alhemi Hall wouldn’t produce a good team but spirit was necessary, spirit like that of the team of 1928-1929.

Father James J. Joyce, ‘27, was introduced as a special guest of the weekend. He is a missionary and was released recently after being behind the “Bamboo Curtain” for five years.

Coach of this great Friar quintet (Al) (General) McClusky was one of the main speakers. He recalled many of his memories here on Smith Hill during a ten year stay. The General turned to Frank Keaney, ex-basketball coach at the University of Rhode Island, and single him out as one of the greatest coaches of all time.

The Chesterfield Score Guessing Contest was won by Dick Coughlin of Aquinas Hall. No one actually guessed the score, but Dick came closest to the winning interval. His guess was P.C. 78, Brown 63. It might be of great consolation to the team that the winner was for Brown to win. Dick will be awarded a portrait of Chesterfield. A good guess deserves a good cigarete.

Intramurals

The football game between Brown's Lambda Chi Alpha and P.C.'s intramural football team in the Athletic Room, was postponed because of the ineligibility of some players in the Brown squad. The game will be played sometime early next week.

Basketball entries are still being accepted at the Coach's Office by Mr. Loubati. All recognized clubs of P.C. are urged to enter a team, so far very few club entries have been received. Remember also, that other teams must be composed of players from a particular concentration and class.

Where, oh where, are all the ball heads? Up till now, there has been only a handful of entries. All interested faculty members and students are again asked to register either at the Coach's Office or Equipment Room. The tournaments will consist of singles and doubles and will get underway as soon as enough entries are received.

Attention interested in boxing and general conditioning class may register with Mr. Louthis on or before Dec. 9.

Frosh Hoopsters Defeated in Debut

Due to a lack of height and the inability to pass the Providence College Freshman Basketball squad hit their opening game of the 1955-56 season in the Brown cubs on Saturday evening.

Pete Schumacher was high man for the young Friars as he hit for seven field goals and six foul shots for a total of 20 points. Except for the opening minutes, the Brown frosh held the lead all the way. The Friars were unable to get any sort of a commanding rally under way. Whenever they would get hot, the other side would go on the offensive and the Cubs would hit with two or three three point goals to hold them.

Although they were up against a definite disadvantage in height the froshmen played some fine defensive ball, in so far as they blocked quite a few shots.

Denny Siraba and Al Poulsen paced the Brown frosh with 15 and 14 points respectively. Steve Halvorsen was second to Schumacher in scoring as he hit for 11 points.

Tuesday evening, the Friar fire will leave for Kingston, R. I., where they will tangle with the University of Rhode Island.

Frosh Basketball Notice

The P. C. froshmen basketball team will play Wesley College High School in the preliminary game to the P.C.S.I. tournament this night. The P. C. froshmen basketball team is in one of the strongest divisions in the state and is considered as one of the best in the state.

The Providence College basketball team heralded the beginning of a new era here on Bradley Hill with a sixteen point victory over their cross town rivals Brown. 71-55.

Saturday was the first start for both clubs, and it got the Friars off to an early start in their new basketball home.

With Mike Pascale and John Tillet providing the big scoring punch with 12 and 11 points respectively, the debut of new coach Joe Mullaney was made a success.

1929 Championship Team Presented

In pre-game ceremonies, the championship 1929 basketball team was presented to the 1200 persons who had come to welcome in the new era at P. C. Alumni president, William E. McKeal, did the honors as he introduced the "Fabulous Five" to the throng. Also introduced was the coach of that great team, Al (General) McCullar, who coached Providence College for the years of 1928 to 1938. He now holds the position of executive director of the Catholic University of North Carolina. The "General" began the season with an honorary papal appointment that was won by the towering Ritch for the convenience of the camera men.

Early Going Skashy

The game got under way to a slow start with neither able to find the range. The Bears made a few baskets at numerous times during the early stages with the Friars going on an extended run. Although the Friars had the biggest bulge either teams could muster.

A soft set from the left corner by Ed Cahill upped the Friars to 22-21, and from that point on the Friars were never headed, although the Bears made it close for the remaining part of the first session. The Friars managed to increase their margin, and at the half they were on top 40-26. Spiced with hopes were kept alive by little sophomore Joe Tebo, who continuously coasted for the Friars. In a matter of minutes they were relieved by a second unit. The play of the two units varied from a control type of ball by the first group to a race home style of play by the second.

The second unit, which was composed of three members of last year's freshman class, Frank Ficic, and Gordie Holmes along with junior Frank Williams, provided the crowd with plenty of thrills, as they broke the Friars' quest for victory wide open. Their type of play which included such feats as behind the back passing and literally a very tiring type of play for those involved had the crowd yelling the whole time. Messrs. Williams and Jenkins brought the crowd to their feet numerous times with their astonishing feats with the basketball.

Although this group provided the game's biggest thrill, it was a team victory all the way for the Friars. All of the Friars' defense on its top form throughout the contest, and he emerged as the game's chief point towards the end.

The Friars have three games on tap this week, two away and one at home. The Friars will be at Kingston to oppose Billy Von Wyck and Co., at U.L.S. Tonight the Friars journey to Worcester, Joe Mullaney's old stamping grounds, there they will oppose Assumption. On Saturday night the Friars will be back home again where they will be faced with St. Francis of Brooklyn as their opponent. Each year the St. Francis team is one of the top clubs in the metropolitan area of New York. This year the New Yorkers are led by a 6'7" sophomore by the name of Al Innis, who was a member of the varsity last year as a freshman. Along with Innis there is another big boy, Wayman Damato. At 6'4" these two boys the Friars should be faced with quite some opposition in the rebounding department.

Pucksters Skate Well In Losing Cause To Olympics

A dead game Providence College sextet obviously gave it all they had on last Friday evening at the Rhode Island Auditorium, but it did not prove enough as they bowed to a strong Toronto Indian team representing the eastern division of the U. S. Olympic squad, by a 6-3 margin.

It was a bad night for weather and P. C. The Olympia fortune from the start went out to spoil the first half of the Friars' athletic homecoming contest, obviously the second half was better.

be neglected in some quarters as being too laborious, while others are afraid that they are not good enough to contribute. Both these theories are false. A student need only submit a story, even a good essay, to the editors and possibly rewrite it to make a few corrections. There is no deadline to meet and no specific subject to write on. Sometimes an idea develops into a good story, and you will have the honor of having your name signed to a literary piece in the only student publication outside of the COWL.
