

THE PROSE POEM: AN INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL

Volume 5 | 1996

Geography Bob Heman

© Providence College

The author(s) permits users to copy, distribute, display, and perform this work under the following conditions: (1) the original author(s) must be given proper attribution; (2) this work may not be used for commercial purposes; (3) the users may not alter, transform, or build upon this work; (4) users must make the license terms of this work clearly known for any reuse or distribution of this work. Upon request, as holder of this work's copyright, the author(s) may waive any or all of these conditions.

The Prose Poem: An International Journal is produced by The Berkeley Electronic Press (bepress)
for the Providence College Digital Commons.
<http://digitalcommons.providence.edu/prosepoems/>

Bob Heman

GEOGRAPHY

There was a circle where the tower was built. There were three circles where the wife changed into salt. There was a square where the tablets were broken. A line was all that was left after the boat sailed by. The triangles indicated the place where the murders took place. The single dot represented the eye of the serpent. The mountain where the sacrifice didn't occur was the only horizon they were allowed.