Carthy, '57, director of the Homecoming Committee, the President of the Student Prince," has announced the full cast for the production. The Prince is to be played by John Ryan, a sophomore, while the role of Kathie will be portrayed by Miss Lois Murray, a senior from the Rhode Island College of Education. The rest of the cast is as follows: Gretchen, the second female lead — Audrey McLaughlin (under­ studying Katrina); Delores — Claire­ ette Dufresne (understudying, Gretchen); Norma Kofahl (understudying, Princess); Tarnito — Wil­

The students, while attending P.C., received the highest score ever attained by a student in the grade record exam. He is the nephew of Father Theodore A. English, O.P., formerly a professor of history here at the college. Receiving his Bachelor of Science degree in physics from Providence College in 1950 he attended Harvard University and received his masters degree in 1957 and a Ph.D. in 1959.

Since the spring of 1950 he has been employed by the research division of Raytheon Manufacturing Company. In his spare time he is a member of the electronic tube and communication systems. He is also a member of Sigma Xi and the Society for Industrial and Applied Mathematics.

Queen Of Friars Formal To Rule Over Homecoming-Weekend

The Queens of the annual Friars' Ball, being all of the festivities of Homecoming Weekend according to an announcement made yesterday by Bob DeCosta, Friars' Club president. Pictures of candidates for queen of the formal will be submitted to any member of the Friars, except for bands, the first year. The Queen will be chosen from the pictures submitted by the Friars. The formal, the only one held on campus, will be run for the second straight year in conjunction with Homecoming Weekend. Last year was the first time that this was done, and as a result last year's ball was the best in the long history of the club.

Music for the dance scheduled for February 11 will be supplied by Marietta Band of Music of the Aquinas Hall Lounge. At the formal, a rhythm and jazz band will furnish music in the lounge at St. John Hall. This will be the first year that both lounges have been used at the same ball.

Darin Erniell and Tony DeBerardino, co-chairmen of the function, have announced that bids will be priced at $4 dollars and will go on sale tomorrow.

Military Ball To Feature Music Of De Francis

Plans for the submission of pictures for the annual Military Ball were announced yesterday by Bob DeCosta and Tony De Berardino, co-chairmen of the Queen Committee for the affair. The pictures announced that pictures may be submitted to and using each picture, regardless of matters, the committee has put a ballot box under the Student Contribute pictures. The only requirement is that each picture must be accompanied by the name of the candidate either of the picture or a rip of paper clipped to the photograph. Although the pictures will be used to make them that they will not be published. The ball will go on sale on February 4, that is immediately after the Senior Band concert of the semester break. The co-chairmen of the ticket committee, Ed Rooney and Dick McCarthy, have announced that bids will cost four dollars and that the ball will be held Friday, February 10, at 8 p.m. in the Droms Auditorium, bids for the weekend, but cards are urged to buy their tickets as soon as possible because of the demand.

The Ball is scheduled for the eventing of February 21, at 8 p.m., and will be supplied by De Francis for the dancing that night. Patney and Tom Gilligan are co-chairmen of the dance for the Cadet Officer's Honor Club.

these rival publications? We think so! Surely the students of Providence College are capable, they have the advantage of the excellent educational facilities of the college to realize and actualize their potentialities. Why don’t they try? Look at what happened to$msg it is strong enough to impel students to write, the next strongest is development of a student’s ability to compose.

Hence, we would like to urge all students with a flair for writing, can it be a serious or serious, or a short story, or a poem as a manifestation of loyalty to P.C. or else use the gateway of the COWL to show off their learning to write.

In the Mid-semester vacation will offer the need timed to those who are desirous of producing a literary effort.

Political View Point

By Frank Brennan

U.N. and The Middle East

It can accurately be assumed that the overall interest of the world may be adequate to the problems of the unification of the countries in the U.N., provided that they will all be prepared to make the fundamental change in the Charter which places upon every member the obligation in increasing the composition of the organization despite the accidental differences and discord which may involve.

However, before any current dilemma, no matter how critical, can be considered, its possible outcomes must be anticipated so as to determine the root of the matter. If the U.N. is determined to return to the status quo, it will produce a magnificently aggressive policies for what they really are: the nationalistic strategies which will avail little to isolate one link in the chain of the Middle Eastern conflicts and to place the Middle East in a state of permanent total effects. Unless the U.N. is prepared to use its influence to prevent upon the countries of the Middle East to negotiate a fundamental answer, the Middle Eastern conflict will continue to seethe and the region will continue to be a powder keg awaiting explosion by inflammable incidents.

The most important issue of note in regard to the conflict in the Middle East is the possibility of the countries of this region to become independent in a future that may be impacted the global consequences upon the entire world. The results of this economic-ecumenical turmoil will be unilateral, making no effort to be coordinated, structured, and solved except by the utmost willingness of the individuals.

The scene of this perplexity is a placid salt water ditch one hundred and one miles long bordering the Mediterranean Sea between the Middle East to Western Europe. The canal is now in the hands of Egypt which took the liberty of accentuating this region with its tremendous power and genetic island to cut into Ed Sullivan’s Sunday Night variety show. Is the attempt to return to the status quo, however, that the show will be taken over by someone else in the near future, if this has not already occurred. Mr. Allen’s fame is the direct result of his efforts on the "Tonight" show, which used to be, for my three cents, the best series on television. When this fame reached the tremendous proportions that it has today, because of his tremendous popularity and genuine talent to cut into Ed Sullivan’s Sunday Night variety show. It is a pity that we will not see the "Tonight" show until the end of the month, but the reaction to his departure will continue to look at the television ratings for the past week. What NBC did, it seems to be a man out of his element and throw to the wolves. If we were, it would be a pity what he would, and Ed Sullivan would be left to waste air time on Sunday night. That is, if we were.
It has been announced that the "Voice of Providence College," WDOM, now operating on a full time basis with programming Monday through Thursday will change its broadcasting frequency from the present 570 kilocycles to 600 kilocycles in the near future. This will be a major attempt to increase reception in the two new dormitories, Shi. Stephen and Joseph Halls.

Due to the semester examinations, the station will curtail its broadcast activities during the next two weeks.

It is firmly hoped that in the near future WDOM will carry programs of interest to all students including day trips through nocturne broadcasts to the cafeteria scheduled to start in February. The following is a schedule of broadcasts:

Frosh '5' Double Success Moves Streak To Seven

By Dale Faulkner

That tireless Providence College Fresh basketball force added two more victims to their unsullied slate last week to stretch their winning way through seven games.

Last Wednesday the Frosh swept the yearlings Leister Jr. College Wednesday night when they buried the Springfield College Fresh set of Cats, defeating the Aces 60-47. The win was the Frosh's fifth in a row when they upended Springfield and continued their winning way through seven games.

IN Penalty Dominated Game

By GERRY MURPHY

The Providence College sextet notched their third straight victory on home court and in front of the nation when they befuddled the form of American Intercollegiate College 10-6 at the Rhode Island Auditorium, Wednesday night.

The contest, witnessed by over 1,200 fans, was a seesaw battle for basketball team due to discipline on the floor. Despite their absence the squad could not overwhelm their lesser opponents. In the third quarter they maintained only a one point lead over A.I.C.'s defense. Domingue is returned and is fighting his way back into the lineup of not looking before he shoots. Frank Tirico was inserted in the second half, did not look really good. Frank looked the best we have seen him this year. Lionel Jenkins played during the first half and also sided considerably in the second:

The Maroon of Springfield, forced to shoot from the outside early in the contest, were held scoreless for the first eight minutes. This brief shutdown was due to the fine work of Capt. John Rineh and Greg Canestrini. Both men completely dominated the boards, while Rineh bucketed several shots. The Friars were in the lead throughout the entire contest. They did give way to some, and until Frank Tirico was inserted in the second half, did not look really good. Frank looked the best we have seen him this year. Lionel Jenkins played during the first half and also sided considerably in the second half.

When played at the half, it became evident that Springfield might pull it out. This could have been the situation had no advancement as far as perfecting the game goes. I remember when we would come faster and faster, the players believe that the players have more of a psychological effect. Every time we play a lousy team we have

Providence Harriers Prepare For Yearly Garden Contests

By BOB RUGGERI

On Saturday evening, Providence College's track and field men will return to the remnants of the 1961 indoor track court at the Boston Garden. Three relay teams and two individual performers will vie for top honors with many of the best collegiate and AAU athletes in America.

Ed Aron, one of P.C.'s few field men will be throwing his weight around in the shot put. Ed showed that he had the ability for competition at that level by garnering a fourth place in the ICA championships last spring. Jim Sullivan, a three-sport junior who is hampered by the lack of a place to practice, will attempt to mingle in.

In the relays, the Friars will be more or less paced with their equals, for these events are reserved for the collegians. Two varsity teams, a one and a two mile relay team, have been entered. In the one mile leg, the four probable runners will be Tom Contrillo, Don Fahey, Jim Baker, and Jerry Farley. In the two two mile leg, Farley will go again with Al O'Brien, Tom Cummings, and either Jerry Corrado or Bob Williams. A freshman mile relay team will also compete with Art Hewes, Charlie Walsh, Gus Scannapieco and Ed McNamara the probable starters.

The indoor season is the high point of track and field athletics from the Eastern seaboard to the Great Lakes area. For the next ten weeks, not a Saturday night will pass without a major indoor meet in some big city. From Boston to Washington, from New York to Chicago, there will be a prominent part of the Saturday night high school event. Event for event, no meets anywhere present such talented performers, show keener competition, or arouse greater spectator interest. Capacity crowds are common.

The highlight of the season are the invitational events, for which the outstanding men in each are invited. This year's topnotch performances are truly brilliant for Olympic champions. Providence College will receive the lion's share of the invitations. Such stalwarts as Tom Courtney and Anne Sullivan, first and fourth respectively in the Olympic 800 meter final, always try to make the Olympic team. Then there is Parry O'Brien, shutout without a peer, also a two time Olympic champion.

This week our "sport" life focuses on the scoring leaders in hockey and basketball. They are, respectively, Lasco Fantome and Ed Donohue. These two men are the big men insofar as the offense of Providence College is concerned. Both are members of the Junior class, proving that the class of '58 is truly a memorable one. They are both prolific scorers.

This week our "sport" life focuses on the scoring leaders in hockey and basketball. They are, respectively, Lasco Fantome and Ed Donohue. These two men are the big men insofar as the offense of Providence College is concerned. Both are members of the Junior class, proving that the class of '58 is truly a memorable one for sports.

Ed Donohue has done almost everything and anything on the basketball court. "Everything" pertains to his playing ability, which is the entire season. This means he has improved 100 per cent. He has displayed a fabulous marksmanship from the foul line. In 1955, Ed had a 47 per cent F.T.A. This season Ed is at the 77 per cent mark and has sunk 61 of 79 attempts.

Ed, who resides in New York, is attending high school at St. Ann's Academy. While at St. Ann's, Eddie played basketball for four years as well as making the second All-City team in his senior year. It was during his high school sophomore season that he increased his average for points and added two additional markers at the end of the second period.

Sport Silhouette of a high magnitude while "anything" could mean the different apparatus he has carried on to the court. In 1955, during the St. Francis game, "Easy" Ed performed on the court wearing glasses, while in 1956 Ed displayed a brown mustache to his audiences. Comical as this sounds, once the game is under way, Eddie is all business and ready to take his turn.

Donohue, at twenty-one, stands six feet three inches tall and weighs in at 190. A favorite with his fellow students, Ed has been troubled with a knee condition which has greatly impeded his basketball career. Two years ago Vin Cullity removed卤he on this lad as a starter for the last pre-Alumni Hall squads. Ed fell sick and was unable to play that campaign. It was a crucial blow to the team. Last year he started the long "haul" drill and was hobbled during the entire season. This means he has returned to Harvard Saturday by the Providence College frosh hockey array powered by Bob Williams H 54 despite a comeback surge by the schoolboys. Against the Brown Frosh, the Black and White were defeated in a last ditch bid but lost a 6-3 verdict.

Of THIS N THAT: The P.C.-Brown engagement served as a teammate's reunion with Ferrie and Ghulher of the Friars meeting up with Brian Halley, Milton, now a trash center at Hamden, played defense for Hamden last year, when Ferrie operated at wing and Ghulher was the netminder for the New Haven District champs.

The years left the pitch of a lick of air before the Christmas vacation and were seen in attaining peak condition. Flaherty was banned in the sable last week in a practice drill and was unable during the weekend. The co-Malden Catholic defender was to have made the journey to Harvard Saturday by the Providence J.V. outfit. Flaherty took the treatment, while home during the weekend. Others from the Frosh making the trip were John Turley, George Gengel, Joe Blair, Benasti and Exciton in practice drills for the yearlings at Baby Boom.

Gauthier Flashes Old Form As Frosh Sextet Triumphs

By DALE FAULKNER

Buoyed by a strong net-minding performance by Paul Gauthier and an improved passing attack, the Providence College Frosh hockey team pressed in their second win in three starts last Wednesday by clubbing La Salle Academy 6-1.

Gauthier, although hampered by an injured groin, turned in his top show of the day as he held the local high school six scoreless. The lone La Salle tally came midway through the last period with Jim Feely subbing for Gauthier.

Gauthier, who started for two years at Hadens High in Connecticut and was an Honorable Mention All-New England choice a year ago, turned back close to twenty-five times, including a La Salle break away dash. During the Frosh's offensive efforts were Pete Bergin and Joe Trimpale, both of whom netted a pair of markers. For Bergin the two goals were his second and third of the season.

In a blowout first period, the yearlings grabbed a quick two goal edge

Intrasials

Faced by Devine and Clany, Senior Political Science beat Junior Biology last Wednesday 21-15. Mid- hauer and Hayrow were standouts for the losers. Thursday, Sixth Education led by Ed Ponton's 21 points knocked off the same biology five 43-33. Millhauer and Brown were the chief point getters for the chemistry building quintet.

The Senior Political Science team was awarded the "V" over the Providence Club.

When the Friars return to the basketball court on January 30th against St. Francis of Loretto, Pennsylvania, Sophomore Jimmy Swartz will be eligible to play. The #6 Friar, a粘st and thermometer averaged 13 points a game while donning the uniform of the St. John's Redmen. The team will then consist of eleven players. Last Saturday afternoon in an informal contest, Sophomore Jim Toomey put aside 30 Harvard shots at the combination junior varsity and freshmen hockey team blanked the Crimson J.V., 3-0. This was the second shutout by a Friar team in the school's history. The other blanking was performed by the pair of 1935-36. In that 16-0 informal affair Eddie Herman was in the nets. Dick Dansky's block ratings of Monday, January 14th, had the Mallaneys ranked ninth in New England with a mark of 23.3. The order in: Dartmouth, Connecticut, Yale, Holy Cross, Brandeis, Amherst, St. Michael's, Babson, Cornell and St. Francis of Loretto.

The announcer asked me to quote a rare Pascale against the Friars... Providence, and St. Francis of Loretto, B.C., URI, Fordham and AIC. The Friars scrimmaged the C 것은 two years ago and they are only 50 miles away. The track men are the Spartan athletes of P.C. Other sports have it easy in comparison to the harriers. In preparation for Saturday's Boston Games, the Crossmen have been practicing in sub freezing weather. Their efforts are appreciated.

According to that announcer at the game Saturday night, the Friars have a new player in John Ritch. The announcing asked me to quote a rare expression on the third floor of Aquinas Hall, tons "Pardon me Friars - Thank you!"

WHERE'S THE PUCK HERE? - Al McMahon is the only man standing as the going gets rough between the Friars and Americas. Providence won the Auditorium contest, 10-6.

The Friday night affair was billed as the "N.E. Classic" and it was. The Friars put on a fast break show that left the Americas in awe. The American's defense was non-existent and the Friars scored at will. Providence took the contest with a fourth period 7-0 run that sealed the fate of the underdogs.

Those who have already signed up for Hardball are also requested to see Mr. Louis and tell him whether they will be able to compete during the examination period.

29 Point 4th Period Nails Down Friar Victory, 75-64

Holding the opposition scoreless for the first six and a half minutes of the fourth period, the Providence College basketball team tallied 29 points in the final quarter to defeat American International 75-64 at Springfield. Although outnumbered from the floor by three baskets—25 to 23—the Mallaneys won the contest from the free throw line. Providence made 25 out of 34 foul shots while the Aces connected only on 8 of 13.

With a 15 point second half performance, Donohue took individual honors with a total of 27 points for the game. Pascale, whose shooting kept the Friars going in the first half, accumulated 21 markers. John Ritch and Roger Canestrari played a fine game under the boards as they forced their smaller opponents to make most of their shots.

The starting five, Harry Dubnitzki was the tallest, 6'7'. Co-captains John Jones, 6'1' and Brian Conroy pored the home force with 14 and 10 points, respectively.

A chance to enjoy Easter Sunday in Bermuda is being extended to all students registered in the Providence College student tour now being arranged by one of the members of the faculty.

Linda R. Noonan, a junior from Cincinnati, Ohio, and a student of Mr. Louis C. FitzGerald, advertising in- structor, is planning a trip to Bermuda for a score of Friars students to spend "College Week" at the well-known island paradise. The trip will leave Thursday, April 18, and return to Providence on Wednesday, the 24th.

Pan-American Airways, which is planning the trip, plans directly from Hillsgrove, report that advance reservations for the students have never been so heavy. According to airline tour counselors, college groups are not to be found anywhere but in the Eastern universities already booked reservations.

Not only will all expense tour for the Providence College group be established at a new minimum, according to Mr. FitzGerald. Select accommodations at the Bonnie Breeze Inn will be assured. A complete tour of Bermuda has been arranged. The Bonnie Breeze is one of the most popular hotels on Con- Beech and is near Hamilton, the main shopping center. The charges include airfare, hotel, meals, and long round trip transportation, will be

Highlights of the College Week pro- gram will include rugby matches be- tween Friars and the island teams, intercollegiate tennis and golf tournaments and college week dances at the Elbow Beach, Belmont Manor and Harper Hotel. Reservations for the tour may be

The most recent opponent Eddie played against was last year's Holy Cross. He believes he is in the best shape of his life.

Eddie says the team will be in better condition than in last year's second half of the season and looks for Jimmy Swartz and Frank Facchini to repeat their performances in Horace Hadley and Holy Cross will be the toughest teams to face. Phil Lynch, who was put back in the line-up Eddie to Eddie from P.C. descriptive Donohue, who is difficult a chance I have said is Bob Moloney, formerly of the COWL nickname.

Likable Louise LaFontaine is one junior that is becoming very popular among his associates these days. Twenty-one years old, six feet, two inches tall, Louise is not a person of energy. Hockey or baseball, this junior has talents.

Lou, who lives in New Haven, Conn., comes from us hands at Hamden High. At Hamden, he was a three letter man for three years. Besides playing hockey and shortstop for the baseball team, Lou was a quarterback on the football team. On the basketball court. On the tennis court. Whenever Hamden, he opposed teammates Ray Blachuta, Paul Sainato, and Mike McDonnell. Lou credits, ross, Tom McNeil and Tom Felcston for his development in hockey. Clarkson was the hardest opposition he has faced, while Joe Mclean of St. Lawrence has helped him in an individual. Lou does not love basketball, Lou is the leading hockey scorer. As I mentioned this fact to him, Lou told me I should be writing about Joe Bertie. "Joe should get the credit," said Lou. "He and George Boudreau have been the difference." (Bartle leads the team in assists.) In the past tournament in Boston. Lou gave a tremendous performance (two goals and three assists) against Northeastern University. Three goals and an assist.) As a result, he was chosen on the All- Tournament team.

At the summer, Lou plays amateur baseball in Canada. Baseball in his first love. Lou was his boyhood idol. He belongs to the New Haven, Monogram, and St. Lawrence clubs. Lou is a five-time, he says, "My brother and I have a great problem about getting him to come to P.O. and does not regret the move at all. Bob Bertie is the greatest out of all the brothers." When Lou's problem comes up," says Lou: "He has noticed that there is much improved support and enthusiasm at the hockey games this year and that this is an added incentive for the team.

After school, it will be Uncle Sam. Then he would like very much to play professionally."

Our best wishes go with Lou and Eddie.
