Junior Officers Elected
As Dorm Sweeps Four

On October 15th, the Junior Class voiced its confidence in the men whom it chose to rep¬resent it during the 1957-58 academic year. The result showed the class of '59 as having resident students as class officers. This is exemplified by filling the four leading positions with Romance.

The candidates who emerged were Edward J. Keegan of Upper Darby, Pennsylvania; Edward C. and Mamaree, New York; Vice-President; Daniel D. Amen¬dola, Dean of Mamaroneck, New York. The newly-elected body was the active force in upper Darby negotiations in regard to the R.O.T.C. drill to the cadet master and owner of the school. The Junior Class this year will be beyond question.

The results of the election were as follows:

President: Joseph P. Hickey, Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Joseph H. Hickey. Cadet Captain Joseph Pan, of Providence College, will preside over the college and by Mr. Mc¬Queen and Mr. Clancy on behalf of the Knights of Colum¬bus.

Macmillan Visit...

Although a meeting between British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Eisenhower was not expected to take place, the Russian advances in intercontinental ballistic missiles and the Middle East prompt an earlier date. With the final condition of Queen Elizabeth, made during her recent visit here, the green light gives us time for an immediate get-together.

This momentous meeting of the two old allies is indeed timely, and the United States should take every opportunity to seed the garden of close relations. If we ever need a British as a staunch ally, it is now ( . . . if Britain ever needs the United States, it is now). Our aim should be to re-establish the unified thought and teamwork which brought the Nato in the race for the atom bomb. Only in this way will we prevent Russia from becoming a world dictator.

All Responsible for Present

The present conditions were brought on by many incidents.

Father McRae, the college chaplain, has announced that a number of weekends have been chosen for such retreats, and that Father will conduct the retreats. His Holiness, Pope Pius XII says, "It is a primary spiritual exercise which is wonderful power of bringing peace to men and of winning them Holiness.

Students interested in making such a retreat, should give their names to Father McRae, and indicate the weekend they have the opportunity to attend.

Ex-Friar Designated
To All-American Nine

By Dale Faulkner

Frankie Williams, diminutive P. C. basketballer of two seasons ago, was named to the American Softball Association All-American Nine that was graduated from Smith Hill last June, moved from softball sandlot ranks to major competition in one year.

The New Haven, Conn., grad player was the only one on his team who had played any of the other four teams. The next year, the Friars blanked the Blue devils of New York, 8-0, to win the American Softball Association's All-American second baseman. Williams hit two of the three Stratford tourney wins.

This year's team is going to have the meat of the team from last year's undefeated freshman team, now we can boast that the team is going to be the best in the state. The next thing on the agenda is to play the first game of the season, this will be against the team from the north. The team is going to be made up of the best players from the high schools in the state. The team is going to be coached by the best coach in the state, he is going to make sure that the team is going to be the best in the state.
Recent Poll Ranks
P. C. Varsity Fourth
Basketball teams throughout the country are in their basic training period as they ready themselves for combat in the first week of December. The Providence squad is already in Alumni Hall preparing itself for the 1957-'58 season.

P. C. has been ranked by street and Smith's '58 Basketball Yearbook' as fourth among northeastern small college independents. In this same classification, three of the Black and White's future opponents viz. St. Anselm's, Springfield and Siena were ranked below the Friars, while only one, Brandeis, was ranked higher. The publication also compliments Captain Eddie Donohue with a nice write-up and a photo.

A quick summary of Providence's opponents this season shows us that the Friars have a schedule which is trying, but which can lead to wider recognition if the squad is successful.

St. Bonaventure, a new addition to the Friar schedule, returns eight veterans (to the floor. Larry Weise (60) led the Bonnies to fourth place in the NIT tournament last year with his shooting and defensive work.

If the Black and White can handle the Fordham Rams they will have made their mark in the East. There are few better drivers in the East than Joe Cunningham, who was spectacular here for the Rams last year. Joe's tactics draw a lot of fouls which he invariably makes, killing at a 75% clip from the stripe in 56-57.

The biggest feature, year to year, of the P. C. hoop season is the Holy Cross game. The Crusaders have four returning vets. Among them are Joe Hughes and Art Andreoli. The Purple will be calling on their sophomores this season to give them a needed boost.

Our Dominican five will get little respite against such teams as St. Francis of Brooklyn, St. Francis of Loretto and St. John's. Al Inniss (67), brilliant as a soph. slumped off last season. Our Friars are prepared to defend themselves against such tags.

In the victory over B. U., Bill Hanlon won the four-mile race in the time of 20 minutes 44.7 seconds. Sixty-five yards behind Hanlon was B. U.'s George Hanlon, winner of the Canadian Marathon. The P. C. men, besides Hanlon's first, also took third, fourth, seventh, and eighth places. The freshmen were also victorious with Bob Kinner (66), a fellow Rhode Islander, winning first in the time of 20 minutes 14 seconds. The Little Terriers went down on the short side of a 20 to 14 score.

In the Manhattan meet it was a different story. The first three places went to the Jaspers, each of whom broke the standing record. 24 minutes, 26 seconds. Again it was Hanlon taking the first spot for the Coates' men, followed by Bill Hurrie in sixth place.

Coatesmen Try Huskies This Week
Providence College's cross-country team begins the three-country tour next week with a meet against the forces of Northeastern University in Boston. The Huskies, minus their top star, Joe Tomasion, will be hard pressed in their meeting with the hungry Friars.

Cunningham, who was spectacular last season, will have made their mark in the NIT tournament last year. In his fourth year of varsity ball, is a certain starter for the Friars, while only one, Brandeis, was ranked higher. The publication also compliments Captain Eddie Donohue with a nice write-up and a photo.

Our Dominican five will get little respite against such teams as St. Francis of Brooklyn, St. Francis of Loretto and St. John's. Al Inniss (67), brilliant as a soph, slumped off last year and carried the Terriers down with him. A comeback by Inniss will mean the same for the whole team.

St. Francis of Loretto, Pennsylvania, has as much height as any squad that P. C. will meet this season. Joe McClellan (66), in his fourth year of varsity ball, is a certain starter for the Friaries.

Colorado Scares Sooners, But Thomas Scores Decider
The big noise this past weekend on the college gridiron came from the Big Seven, where Colorado with no air arm whatsoever outplayed Oklahoma by a 14-13 score. In a personal duel between Bob Stanisky and Clendon Thomas, the hand-charging Colorado halfback won out in statistics, but Thomas gained the laurels with his winning touchdown scamper.

Michigan State, behind 14-13, rallied in the last quarter to emerge victorious. Ohio State kept a clean slate in Big Ten play with a field goal triumph over Wisconsin, and Michigan retained the Brown Jug by completely outclassing Minnesota.

Our Dame getting the big play from a third string quarterback and a previously injured veteran stopped two Pitt drives to hold on to a 13-7 edge, but felt the loss of Williams and Lynch for mixing it up, offensively.

In the West, the teams that won last week lost this week, except Oregon who solidified their Rose Bowl chances this past week by a 20-6 conquest of California. The mighty North Carolina tied Duke to stay undefeated, and the mighty Arizona State fell to drop from the top ten ratings.

In the East, Penn State dumped Lambert Trophy hopeful Syracuse in the television game of the week, while Army had quite a scare from a lightly taken Virginia squad. Tens Forrestal shot Navy to an easy 35-7 romping of Pennsylvania, while Tommy Greene threw 24 times, completing 15 for 104 yards, and 3 touchdowns only to lose to Boston U. 38-28. Rhode Island bred Johnny Maio scored 4 touchdowns for the Terriers, these coming on runs of 22 and 5 yards, an 88-yard return of a punt, and a miraculous catch of a fellow Rhode Islander De Vitto's pass.

The Ivy League went true to form, while Brown smothered previously unseeded Rhode Island, quite handily. Rating mention also in this area was the win over Delaware by UConn, a 24 pt. underdog at game time. This win ranks with the bigger upsets of the season.
