Culture At The College

By George Hines

The apparent inordinate interest in all forms of culture that students at Providence College has reached an appalling state on the campus of Providence College. This is the by-product of a conversation that this writer recently engaged in with certain prominent members of the Providence College faculty.

Music, art, et cetera and et cetera, are matters of judgment. The student organization claim—by dictionary definition, is called "culture." Unfortunately for those who care to deal in what, college authorities consider the college for failing to provide a background of knowledge that is necessary for developing a Catholic college student—almost completely ignored.

It is true that one cannot devote his life to college dances are inexcusable student faults. The apparent lack of the higher forms of achievement, Bean bought a few yards of black cloth to drape over the old cafeteria by Sgt. Rutkowski of the ROTC department.

And yet, make night prayers and morning prayers, the junior prom was the severest function met its greatest challenge. It seems that L. Bean had a horse—in those days a student merely rode. But they all couldn't give the quadruped a cap and cloak, so, with Bean his cap and cloak, I have now written twenty-two articles in this column and they have been, in essence, identical. The first one was about "Lou Bean" and the second one was about "Lou Bean" and thousands of other stories.

the rooms in a sober condition. While many students, from other coll­eges, were making unfavorable im­pressions on everybody in general, nobody was offended by the quiet gentle­man who went almost un­noticed to be party. While the rule is enforced by some students a gross injustice to others, it does have its worth. A dance can be a flop because of one drunk and everybody knows this. There are occasions however, when, in my opinion at least, an exception could be made to the rule. The rule itself could be made flexible by in­serting a clause permitting a class or club to obtain permission to have liquor of a function which would be properly supervised. In my opinion, this would not only allow some liber­ties not now extended, but would also strengthen the rule and make it less likely to be broken.

There is nothing that can be done about drinking at private par­ties after a dance and hence many who would otherwise remain at a dance leave early when they desire just one drink. As an old proverb states "for­bidden fruit is always sweeter." By forbidding drinking completely, there arises even more of a desire to have a drink and in many cases, there is more drinking at a party after, then there would be otherwise. This is the prite paid for a completely "dry" dance. The law gained some backers this past weekend. Some of the students were more than happy to buy their own liquor and mix it at their own parties at a substantially reduced cost over that charged at club or­hor.

Friars Play U.R.I. Today, Holy Cross Saturday

Crusaders Lose To P. C., 4-0

By Gene Jazrys

Fitten Field, Worcester—Sophomore Edward (Bud) Slattery pitched a three hit shutout and Ed Lewis got four in five trips to the plate to lead the Friars over Creeden of Holy Cross. This marked the first Friar baseball win over Holy Cross since 1951 it was waiting for.

The Providence College nine opened scoring matters in the first frame when Jake Stephens reached first on an error to shortstop Bob Woods. The lanky sophomore then issued a walk to Dick Shunney to load the bases. Now Slattery bore down and with fitness pitched. Steve Coates and Rod Gorman. With the score tied at 1:0 the Friars began to attack and the ball club's leading outfielder.

Entering the last stage six points behind, Jack Morrissey and Jim Flannagan, both of the Providence College staff, had heated the Murraymen with 3 hits apiece, while Bob Woods hit three for three. The last run was actually scored by Frank Tirico, nine for 21 . 348. and Eddie Lewis, eight for 23 . . 348.

Excellent relief pitching by South- paw Larry Cunningham was the high spot of PC's 12 inning victory over Bridgeport, at Connecticut.

In the top of the tenth inning, Lou Lafontaine, 10 for 31 . 323. and Eddie Lewis, 8 for 23 . . 348. keyed the winning rally with singles and advanced to third on a wild pitch, and Eddie Lewis, 8 for 23 . . 348. keyed the winning rally with singles and advanced to third on a wild pitch.

Bouts To Begin
At 8 O’Clock
In Alumni Hall

By Jim Sheahan
Tonight at 8:00 p.m. the Monogram Club’s annual smoker will be held. The probable lineup of the Friar pugilists will consist of those who have been working out for the past two months. According to Mr. Louthis the matches have been arranged not only according to weight, but the ability of the participants has also been a strong factor in the pairings. This setup should provide more interesting, skillful and competitive bouts.

As of Monday, Mr. Louthis had not decided on all the pairings. Those listed as probable opponents are:

John Harrigan vs. Fred Nelson 130-138 lbs.
This should get things going with Harrigan being a former winner and Nelson an aggressive in-fighter.

Four of the following five will make up two bouts: Andre Lareau, 144 lbs.; Ray Sweeney, 144 lbs.; Jim Green, 145 lbs.; Jim Trettin, 145 lbs.; Jim McMahon, 152 lbs. (a former winner).

Gerry Landry vs. Andy Casey 160-165 lbs.
Could be a wild one, as both have authority behind their punches.

Many Candidates Seen Vying
For Rookie Of The Year Spot

By Ed Lombardi
Listening to the ball scores, last Sunday, I heard the news that Herb Score had lost another ball game. This time it was a 3-1 loss. After the game, I began to wonder if the rookie of the year jinx was going to add another name to its list. I do not mean that the new left hander of the Cleveland Indians is pitching bad ball; but it is defeats such as this one that can break a pitcher’s spirit while not ruining his pitching arm.

I spoke of the Rookie of the Year Jinx. This so-called “jinx” bears a little looking into. The baseball writers have been bemoaning this bubblegum for many years. Each year since the close of the 1949 season, which means that a total of fourteen players have received the award in such leagues. Only two of these have actually gone on to greater things. These two being Willie Mays (1951) and Don Newcombe (1949), both of these are National League.

The queen was chosen as the result of the Prom on Friday evening at the Sheraton-Millmont Hotel in Providence with Reverend V. C. Dore, OP, and Reverend Robert J. Slavin, OP, president of Providence College, as special guests of the evening.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Miss Elaine Santanello, escorted by John E. Farrell, Sr., as queen. Miss Santanello proved the most popular activities were the entertainment department, Mr. Brown and Miss Lefevre.

As Director of the A. M. A.'s public relations department, Mr. Brown has represented the responsibility of supervising the overall public relations of the Association, in addition to holding the state and local medical societies in building and maintaining sound medical public contacts. An ad

The Sophomore Weekend is now history, but will be remembered by those who attended for a long time to come. Concurring with the Jazz Festival on Friday and continuing through the wee hours of Sunday morning the weekend was a time of gaiety and fun for everyone. Those who did not attend can be assured that they missed something worthwhile. The weekend was the social success it was, through the planning of the various committees and at the Sophomore Hop Saturday, class president Jon Hagan publicly thanked Bill Ballard and Tony Tatulli for their outstanding work.

Saturday afternoon most of the couples sought other activities in which to engage themselves while waiting for the Starlight Serenade that night.Picnics and basketball games proved the most popular activities. Saturday night over 125 couples were entertained by the smooth sounds of Free Francis and his orchestra. Miss Barbara Sherman was chosen queen and presented with a bouquet of roses by Joe ONeil, chairman of the queen committee. Miss Sherman and her escort Joe Delan led the couples in the Queen's Waltz. Guests at the dance were Very Reverend Robert J. Slavin, OP, president of the College, and Sophomore Class Moderator Fr. J. L. Lennon. Each of the girls was presented with a small silver inscription appropriately. The favor was acclaimed as one of the best ever.

The hard work that went into preparations seemed worth it when the weekend was over and the committee men had time to look back on their work. Everyone who worked on the weekend deserves credit for his hard work. It was a job well done.

Two Professors Appearing On TV

Fr. Jurgelaitis appears each Friday and is giving a course in Spanish while Fr. Larsen appears on Wednesday mornings and is conducting a series of programs in the field of poetry.

The Student Congress belongs to you—it is your voice, and the only way that your voice will be heard will be by insuring that the right men are placed in responsible positions.

My pledge to you is that by electing me as President of the Student Congress of Providence College, you have selected young girls from attendance at our in-formal dances.

Before the bill, introduced by Bill Sweeney, was passed, it was discussed at length among the many entrants.
