The Very Reverend William D. Martin, O.P., P.P., Prior Provincial of the Province of Saint Joseph, Providence, has announced that the Rev. Dennis B. McCarthy, O.P., administrative vice-president of Providence College, has been appointed National Director of the Holy Name Society and Provincial Director of the Rosary Province, has announced that the Rev. Fr. McCarthy will leave Providence College for the national headquarters of both societies arc in New York and Fr McCarthy has been forced by ill health to give up his duties of Director of Brooklins Air Force won the trophy practically "verbatim" from Rogers High School. Aside from the fact that the team was well prepared, the Navy was followed by the Pershing Rifle Unit for the first time in the history of Providence College, and turned it into a very well-done production. Scenery changes are accomplished without undue time-lapse and the whole is very professional. The costumes are excellent, as they should be. Unfortunately, the lighting was not complete at the time I saw the production, but what there was of it was done with great skill and taste. (Continued on Page 8)

Fr. James Maloney Speaks At Cap And Gown Exercises

In the principal address on Cap and Gown Day, last Friday, the Reverend Fr. James Maloney, O.P., said that the importance of the cap and gown and the truncheon is the manner of their presentation. The Reverend Vincent F. McHenry, P.P., senior class moderator, cited the necessity of the M.A. and B.S. degree ceremonies for the ministerial energy those talents with which you were blessed, to see their results in your future work, and the Navy was followed by the Pershing Rifle Unit for the first time in the history of Providence College, and turned it into a very well-done production. Reds Visit Britain

By George Hines

The recent visit of Russian Premier Khrushchev and his entourage to Britain has raised the question of the number of our wartime allies. Flashing a friendly smile at one another, the two men appeared to be taken in by their new allies. The pair displayed a friendly and cordial manner, a trait that had been noticed by many onlookers. The warm welcome extended to the visitors was a testament to the strong bonds of friendship that have been cultivated over the years.

The influence of communism on the magazine's treatment was evident. The editors seemed to be more interested in promoting the progressive policies of the communist leaders rather than focusing on the anti-communist sentiments of the British public. The magazine's coverage of the communist leaders was often less than objective, leading some to speculate that the magazine was being used as a propaganda tool.

Role of the Alemic

Rising like a phoenix from the ashes, many institutions have begun to realize the importance of educating the youth. The recent visit of Russia's Kruschev and his entourage to the United States has served as a reminder of the need for unity and cooperation. The free world is currently facing a new state of anxiety as to the intentions of our wartime allies. A new wave of anti-communist sentiment is sweeping the land, and the magazine's treatment of the communist leaders has been less than objective.

Naturally, quality is to be strived for, but those would-be journalists whose work show promise should also be given the utmost attention. Perhaps it is not a well-known fact that Mr. McLarnay offers constructive criticism on every piece presented to him, for which we laud him, but the printing mistakes were overlooked. Perhaps it is not a well-known fact that the principles of the Alembic world.

Therefore, let the men of Providence College lean heavily on their typewriters; if you have no experience—write for criticisms that will improve your writing; if experienced, write to prove that our college can supply the world with more than our share of good literary works. In addition to the personal glory and satisfaction that you will receive, Providence College will be able to step forward, Alembic in hand, to compete with and defeat the working committee members to those who attended, was instrumental in the great success achieved.

The only reason that there wasn't a root was the regulation that the ban would only be in effect at parties and would in no way hamper the students from having a glass of good cheer while studying. Placards were flown at half mast for the remainder of the year. And so it was an air of impending danger. This was dismissed as a joke, but trouble came about four in the morning when one of the guests came striding down the stairs dressed as a girl. This was dismissed as a joke, but when a girl was sent hurtling through a window, escaping a three story fall only because the hemp in the skirt didn't fit through, the party assumed an air of impending doom.

Letter To The Editor

Clanetarians of 59:

I wish in this way to express my sincere thanks to all of you who showed so great an interest in our magazine. Everyone, from the hard working committee members to those who attended, was instrumental in the great success achieved.

My special thanks to Father Putz, our class moderator, whose guidance was a great aid to us.

I should also like to take this opportunity to clarify a matter addressed during the term thus far. We were unable to have programs as favors at the dance because of the large expense involved. I deemed it necessary that we consider the future of our class treasury. I may further note that our finances were hampered by a bill for ninety-four dollars; this was for transportation of young ladies from New College who were invited to our Freshman Week held last September. At present I am giving this matter my attention.

Another point which might have brought questions to pass is the action of the student court against me. To those claims that I failed to supply help for the Student Congress, I can only reply that the individuals who once assistance I accepted became, without my knowledge, unable to have programs or favors at the dance because of the hard working committee members.

I do not wish to deprecate the court. I do, however, wish to point out that in its hasty enactment, certain requirements for its proper functioning were overlooked.

In closing I would like to assure you of a substantial treasury and thank you for your cooperation in our activities, thus far.

Student Court Brings Action Against Three Class Prexies

By Jim Sheahan

On Thursday, May 3, a special session, which lasted two hours, was held by the Student Court. The purpose of the session was to try the presidents of the Freshman Sophomore, and Junior Classes because of their failure to appoint men to work at the polls on the day Student Congress elections were held. According to the Student Congress Constitution, the President announces the date of the elections one month prior to the designated day. Due to the extended Easter recess the date was changed. The Ways and Means Committee, whose job it is to notify the class presidents, did not contact the presidents until two days before the election. It was the contention of the prosecutor, William Allen, that this was sufficient time for the officers to secure workers, while the defense held that it was not.

The three defendants were: Frank Brennan, president of the Junior Class, represented by Howie Lipsey; Jim Hagan, Sophomore Class president, represented by Jim Renzi. Because of Baker's failure to appear before the court, he has been charged with contempt of the court and his case represented by Joe Hagan; and Jim Hagan, of the Sophomore Class, represented by Howie Lipsey. Hagan also censured although it was pointed out that he did appoint workers who did not appear at the polls.

In reviewing the cases it seems that the Congress President was negligent, when he failed to formally make the date of the elections known to the class presidents one month in advance. Why the court did not take this into consideration is not known. Also in the case of Baker it appears that the court would rather have had him cut a class in order to appear. If this be so then it would seem that the court deemed itself more important than the academic pursuits of the college. And when a student organization acts in this manner it is evident that the organization itself is guilty of overstepping its powers and therefore deserves to be censured, if this be impossible, completely reorganized.

The three defendants tried were: Brennan publicly censured for gross neglect of his duties assumed as president; Hagan also censured although it was pointed out that he did appoint workers who did not appear at the polls.

Friday, Lost To Holy Cross In Nip And Tuck Finish

By D. J. Donley

Saturday afternoon, before an estimated crowd of 300 people the Friars took on the Monogram Club in a jousting match, winning 3-2. A freak bounce off a photograph pitch was equally well, giving up only this one, when he fought Joey Maxim which is "can a good little man beat an athlete. He has defied a ring adage course it was also regarded foolish with a sharp double down the left fielder Joe Liebler. Canestrari went in to run for Lewis. The big blow was a triple by Frank Tirico came attempting to duplicate his RBI in the seventh, but he lined out to right fielder Joe Liebler. Canestrari was safe at the base. Liebler’s throw to Massa was missed, he beat it and returned to the plate. Man they were wide and got by the big catcher. Canestrari had quite a few good prospects, broke for the plate. But at the bottom bounced off the arm of March, the crack of the bat. Massa, the catchers rodder slapped in and put the tag on Canestrari, completing the double play. Cote bunted, ending the game by striking out Bob Hall.

Payments Lagging For Senior Gift

With only slightly better than two weeks left until the ultimate deadline, only 181 seniors have contributed to the 1956 Senior Class Gift Fund. This number taken from the total class membership, approximately 700 students had given money toward whatever in the form of a donation. The gifts, chosen by a majority vote of the class, was recently completed at a cost of $4,000.00. The donations supplemented by the class treasury were expected to cover payment for the dinner price is $1.25 to $1.50. The dinner will be held in the Aquinas Hall on the evening of the 15th for the location of the meeting.

Kent County Club Planning Banquet

The Kent County Club will hold its annual banquet and election of officers Monday, May 15, at the Club 400. Attendance at this final function of the club cannot be over emphasized as the success or failure of the club rests year rents with our future officers.

All members are urged to contact their respective committees, Bryan Wynn, Bryan D. Sumner, or Guy Archambault to make their reservations. In fact, there are no reservations for the event. The judges awarded an unanimous decision over Gabby Davis.

What turned out to be the short fight of the night brought to the stage in the event of 152 in which Bob Gulla, 175, decisioned會, and make the upperclassman show his best style to win. The young fighter in the third, Harrigan made the first two rounds, the taller Landry kept the advantage over Casey, and used this advantage up to the 152-pounder. Sweeney was employed too much, as he forced Jim into a comer and was looking to the best. Harrigan had quite a few good rights as his most effective weapon. Harrigan at 185 Both of the finalists

Who Will Replace Rocky?

By Ed Lambardi, ’56

Sine the retirement of champion Rocky Marciano, every heavyweight and his entourage is looking for the crown. Archie Moore, Bob Baker, Floyd Patterson and Johnny Summit are being regarded as probably contenders. But, it seems, there is one man who has been overlooked for his brilliant achievement. His name is Sugar Ray Robinson, the middleweight champion of the world.

In an article distributed by the New York Times, writer for the Los Angeles Herald-Express, claims is considered as one of the future heavyweights.

Robinson is a remarkable athlete. He has defined a ring genius when he proved "they can come back. His knock out over Olson was no fluke nor was it a set up, his punches packed the same authority that Bobo would chop him up are a great respecter of Archie Moore to find an air conditioner in Maxim's room. He proved to be one of the best fighters in the world. But when he won the last time they met. These same people, who laughed at the combination that Bobo would chop him up are now looking for the best fighter in the world. No doubt about it.

These same people, who laughed at the combination that Bobo would chop him up are now looking for the best fighter in the world. No doubt about it.

Right reason illumined by the supernatural light of the example and teaching of Christ. We ask God to bless you with the vision and love of Himself, for, as St. Paul teaches, "This is good and agreeable in sight of God, our Saviour. Who wishes all men to be saved, and to come to the knowledge of the truth."...

That evening, the seniors sponsored the traditional Cup and Gown dance and senior skit. Songs in the skit were dedicated especially to members of the faculty. Daniel Walsh, Student Congress president, gave a parody on the professors. The Class Will and Class Prophecy were read by Lou Verchot and Jim Santanelli, respectively. Refreshments were served throughout the dance. The highlight of the dance was the formal awarding of the P.H.T. (Putting Hubby Through) degrees to the wives of the twenty-six married seniors by the Reverend William R. Clark, O.P. These degrees were awarded to commemorate the four years of stamina endured by the wives whose husbands were studying here at Providence College.

in the management of scenes in front of the traveler. The actors deserve encomiums. From what I've seen, they've worked hard and their hard work has borne fruits in the form of masterful portrayals of all principals. To single any one out for special praise would be to do an injustice to the others, superb group acting marked every scene and strengthened the whole performance.

Choreography is another strong point. The dances are simple, yet have a close relation to the story. Unlike some musicals I’ve seen, the action does not halt when the actors perform a dance; rather, the dance is integrated so well into the whole that no clearly defined break is noticed. So too with the songs. They fit the play, yet they are able to stand by themselves. I predict the show-stopper will be "The Lonely Hour Blues," "Not Me," and "Wait Around." All in all, "Scotch 'n' Wry" is something to see, a well-acted, workmanlike musical comedy that fulfills the claim of its writers who called it "new, different and exciting." I recommend it highly.

Directing choreography for the forthcoming Pyramid Players production "Scotch 'n' Wry" are Miss Margaret Brady and Miss Rue Geer. Both Miss Geer and Miss Brady are seniors at the Rhode Island College of Education. Miss Geer and Miss Brady are well qualified in their fields, both having studied under such noted dance instructors as Marjorie Geer Thayer and Billie Burrill. Miss Geer has also studied under the well-known dancer and instructor, Hanya Holm.

The choreographers will create five new dances for the production. These will include a "Dance of The Nile" and a new version of the Scottish claymore dance.

At R.I.C.E. both Miss Geer and Miss Brady have been active in presentations and both have appeared professionally.

decent again. Dorm Students: Be prepared to make more frequent trips to the laundry next year. On seeing the Seniors wearing their Caps and Gowns, an eminent Providence College Historian once said, "I trust my best to think those guys." The baseball team put up a gallant fight in losing to Holy Cross last Saturday. The outcome might have been different had it not been for the photographer who stopped the ball in his effort to get a picture. Shouldn't there be some ground rules concerning this sort of thing?
