Pershing Rifle Society Initiates Fifty-Four Basic Corps Cadets

Company K—12, Providence College's detachment of the National Society of Pershing Rifles, initiated fifty-four outstanding basic corps cadets into its ranks last week. The ceremony culminated five months of extensive and thorough screening by the charter officers. The new members were initiated into the society with an elaborate and colorful initiation ceremony held in the Catafalque Hall. Refreshments were served after the ceremony.

In its initial full year here at Providence College, the unit commanded by Cadet Captain William Russo, has established itself as one of the finest in the nation. Officers elected to assist Captain Russo include: Rear Admiral, Executive Officer; James B. Baker; Operations, Drill, and P.I.O. Officer; Dean Johnson; Assistant Adjutant; Carl Reiber; Pledge and Special Services Officer; and Peter McCarthy, Supply Officer.

For the remainder of the year the society plans to concentrate on increasing the high standard of proficiency of its members.

President Announces Expansion Dormitory Will Be Constructed

Expansion of Providence College facilities, in the form of a new dormitory-caterers building, was announced by the Very Rev. Robert J. Slavin, O.P., to the alumni last week. The construction of the new building is scheduled to begin next month. In speaking of the proposed building, Father Slavin expressed the hope that final plans would be approved and the bidding for the contract would begin within the next two weeks.

The site of the proposed building will be north of St. Joseph's and Stephen Hall and northeast of Aquinas Hall, on the east side of the campus.

The new cafeteria will seat five hundred students and the dormitory will accommodate 500. There will also be infirmary facilities.

Discussing the College in general with the alumni coming group, Father Slavin pointed out that out-of-state applications for entrance are so great that the whole nature of the College could be changed immediately, if funds were available. However, Father Slavin stated, the present plan is to maintain the original objectives of Providence College not to increase the number of students, but to improve the quality of education and of the community's needs. Out of this year's enrollment of 1700, there are 650 out-of-town resident students.

The need for expansion, according to the President, is not as imperative as one might think, because it is difficult to find the calibre of students desired for admission. The results of a national survey designed to indicate the proportion of eligible college applicants and those actually enrolling in each state ranked Rhode Island 28th.

It is not particularly encouraging to Father Slavin to realize that this state is ranked so low.

He said that the College could, at present, accommodate 150 to 200 more day students. However, he noted that P. C. is drawing a large percentage of its students from the state.

What is most desirable, he continued, is to raise the educational standards of the state.

In regard to future expansion plans, Father Slavin said that the College hopes to construct a new library, and ultimately a faculty house and chapel.

Sociology Department, Chaplain Sponsor Annual Marriage Forum

One of the highlights of this year's Homecoming Weekend was the one-man show in the Gallery of the Brien M.111.I., a university-owned 25,000 sq. ft. building which houses the College's Fine Arts Department. The exhibit, featuring work by the university's outstanding students, was arranged by Father Brien, O.P., Chairman of the Sociology Department.

The theme of the exhibit was "Marriage: Its Medical Aspect." Father Brien called attention to the strong color and composition of the work, its originality of values. Father noted that the exhibit was displayed at the cabin of the church, a place with freedom of line, and a good command of materials. Father Brien commented that he himself has done a good deal of work to conduct the Forum. He remarked that the Forum is free to all who attend. Students and the public are cordially invited. Registered students will take part in the first evening, Feb.

Rev. James W. Hackett, O.P., head of the Chemistry Department, announced that Angelo B. Mendillo, III, has been named winner of the award given annually to the freshman who has attained greatest academic standing in the first semester. Mendillo, a resident of Providence, is a graduate of La Salle Academy, and a Biology major at P. C.

The prize awarded is a copy of the Handbook of Chemistry and Physics," with a retail value of twelve dollars. The name of the winner is to be engraved on the cover. Father Hackett pointed out that several students entered the competition for the award, which was finally determined by the results of the semester exam.

Seniors Oaths of New Privilege

In response to a petition by the Student Congress, the Administration announced the following:

Any senior who has a B average for the first semester of his senior year, and a B average for the second semester of his senior year, and who has been exempted from taking the final examination for that course if he so desires. Has much as this privilege has been granted to seniors by the College Administration, it does not partake of the discretion or jurisdiction of any professor or department to rule otherwise. Individual professors, however, will be required to notify all senior students who have attained a B average in each particular course, that they have the privilege of exemption from the final examination and each student so notified may exercise this privilege if he so desires, or he may take the final examination if he so chooses.

The B average is to be computed from course work, written and oral examinations, all monthly examinations, and third quarter examinations and requires attendance at class for the entire semester.

Such students have the same privileges as all students relative to attendance at class. They will be permitted the same number of absences. In cases of prolonged absence, sickness and for similar reasons, the student may still exercise his privilege of exemption if and when he notifies his grade for the second semester of the senior year is a B or better.

Penance and Joy...

The dictionary defines Lent as a "fast for forty days excluding Sunday." It is observed each year from Ash Wednesday to Easter, and is a season of self-denial and penance. The derivation of the term Lent is traceable to the Anglo-Saxon "lenctan", meaning long. Lent, then, is a period of profound meditation and good works which will draw us closer to God so that the whole world, as Pope Pius X avowed, "may then be renewed, restored to Christ..."

Criticism...

The nature of criticism and critics is often ironically interesting. A recent comment in reference to the foreign policy of the Eisenhower administration exemplifies this. A leading politician, after calling Dulles' ideas on a summit conference "hazardous", was asked what he thought of the policy of the Eisenhower administration. His reply: "I think we should take somewhat more than a negative approach."

This comment typifies a certain note in criticism which is all too prevalent today. It is easy enough to tear down something to point out defects and faults; but to propose a practical alternative is quite another story.

Too many of us concentrate on describing what is wrong with the world instead of suggesting what might be done to improve it. Here on campus this is painfully evident. The COWL is a favorite whipping boy of the critics; almost anyone is happy to explain what is wrong with the newspaper. But constructive suggestions for the improvement of the paper? Seldom. And does one of these journalistic experts ever turn up at the COWL office to offer to write? Never.

The Pyramid Players is another group assailed for its poor productions. Admittedly, the plays leave much to be desired; but the Pyramid Players is not a "closed shop" by any means. Every student is cordially invited to join, and anyone may contribute to the betterment of the productions, if not by acting, then by giving a few hours time for make-up, set direction, etc.

It is too much to ask that those who are so good at pinpointing the faults of some of our campus activities offer some constructive advice to supplement their remarks. Anyone who criticizes without offering suggestions should save his breath. And if the critic is truly interested in alleviating the plight of a given activity, some participation of his own should be forthcoming.

Egan Lives Up To Notices
With Sparkling Frosh Play

BY DALE FAULKNER
Sports Editor
OF THIS'N THAT: Johnny Egan's superlative showing in the past eight days has struck a blow for P.C.'s basketball future, to say nothing of the varsity's dramatic win over St. John's.

After Egan had helped the Providence Frosh team to a 100-52 triumph in the preliminary of Saturday's St. John's game, the sure-handed, ex-Connecticut ace sat behind the east basket and took in the varsity's last game.

In fact, Egan, together with fellow freshman Tim Mynahan, was one of the first of a score of Providence fans to swarm Lionel Jenkins, the one-coming edition in the varsity's front row.

In the past nine days, Egan has really become the varsity's "take charge" man for Assistant Coach Jackie Allen's team, which has dropped two of its last three games. Last Tuesday, the dark-haired guard poured in 41 points against the U.S. Freshman, 90-61.

The following afternoon in another losing effort, Allen's standout performer threw in 26 tallies against the Boston College freshmen.

Before the large homecoming gathering in the prelim on Saturday, Egan netted 26 markers and contributed importantly in the coveted and successful drive to the century mark in scoring.

Egan, whose services were sought by a number of colleges throughout the country, brought to P.C. a glowing high school record as a hooper. Having been chosen as the Most Valuable Player at Bob Cousy's Summer Basketball Camp in his junior year, Egan led his Weaver High of Hartford team to the State and New England championships. In the former, a particular note to the writer, who saw the Stephen Hall resident in the New England Tournament of Spring, are the number of Connecticut tournament records held by Egan.

The following will be officially released next week, when the Connecticut College Tournament begins.

Most points in one game—77, Egan, 1957.

Consecutive foul shots made by a player—16 by Egan, of Weaver, in a thrilling victory against Harding (Bricktop). Minus his first and then made 16 in a row. Stretched it to 19 in three more finals, the third actually in a row.

Most points by a player in a half—20 by Egan, vs. Hillhouse (New Haven), 1957 final.

Most points by a player in a quarter—18 in last quarter by Egan in 1957 final.

Most foul shots in a game—33 by Egan, vs. Hillhouse, in the finals, 1957.

Egan's brilliant senior year repaid for him All-State honors. All-New England selections, and a berth on Dell's BASKETBALL ANNUAL All-American this fall.

Egan's play has impressed viewers immensely in New England on a freshman level, and it appears that the 6'1" eager fresh frosh will be able to make the adjustment to varsity competition readily.

Cagers Upset New Yorkers

Providence defeated St. John of Brooklyn by a score of 53-50 at Alumni Hall last Saturday night to keep their chances for a berth in the National Invitational Tournament alive. This group includes West Virginia, which has been ranked first in the nation for a large part of the season, and Temple and Pittsburgh, two other teams which rank high among the top twenty in the country.

Sophomore Leroy Wilkens was high man for the Friars with 15 points, while Wally Di Massi had 11. Ali Sciof led the visitors with 19. Gus Alfieri and Bernie Pascal were also in double figures for the Redmen of 13 and 11.

The Friars were outplayed during the first half, but showed tremendous hustle and managed to keep the score close. P.C. continued to fight for every point in the second half, and tied the score at 38-38 with about 15 minutes remaining. St. John up an 45-40 lead by the 12 minute mark, but the Friars hustled back to make it 45-44 with seven minutes left. Capt. Ed Donohue hit a short set shot at 6:27 to give P.C. a 46-44 lead and the Friars stayed in front the rest of the way although the outcome was uncertain until the last few seconds.

Providence scored 23 times from the floor compared to 16 hoops for St. John, but the Redmen kept the score close by gaining a 187 margin from the free-throw line.

Last week's games moved P.C. up to fourth in the nation in team defense with an average of 33.5 per game. According to NCAA statistics on all games through February 16, San Francisco (48.7), Oklahoma State (48.6), and Dayton (50.3) are still in front of Providence.

Freshmen Team Crests 100 Mark

In their highest scoring triumph of the year, the Providence College basketball freshmen won over an out-manned Durfee Tech team, 100-52. Pitted by Lionel Jenkins and Frankie Guimares, the freshmen jumped to a 12-5 lead by the 6:12 mark, and the rest of the game was a systematic 44-18 margin for the Black and White.

With five minutes to go in the contest, the yearling Friars began a torrid race for the magic score of 100. They scored 64 points in the half ending, with Leo Connerton putting in the 100th point and being carried onto the court of the game's conclusion. The freshmen, scoring 51 points in the second half, left no doubt as to their superiority. Coach Allen played the entire team and all but one scored with four in the double column.

Egan was high for the victory with 26 points, with Holzheimer, Guimares, and Doanes scoring 15, 14, and 12 respectively. Ed Deschenes had 17 points for Durfee.

Friar Relay Quartet Wins in New York

By Bob Ruggeri

Coach Harry Stein found his mile relay quartet to Madison Square Garden for the second time this year; and thanks to a scintillating 4:35.2 second anchor leg by Jim Baker, their fastest indoor time, they were first in the final and fourth race of the indoor season with a nifty 3:27.6 clocking.

The Friars were opposed by La Salle, Colgate, Boston College, and Seton Hall who limped into the Garden because of injuries. Gus Grampaccio started things off for Providence, and in a nifty move, Steve Calland trialed Colgate's leadoff man by two seconds, and then turned it over to Jim Baker.

At this point the Friars were still third, but then Jim went to his task. Running with a composure that indicated a keen awareness of his ability, and the benefit of his great coordinators, Baker succeeded in winning back those precious yards so necessary for victory. On the last leg, he swooped around Dick Rappazone, Gerry Salts and the tape three yards ahead of La Salle's anchor man.

SPORTS FillERS

As of Monday, Brandeis University, who whipped P.C. earlier in the basketball season, appeared ready to accept a varsity challenge. A formal invitation from the Head Coach, Harry Stein's Juniort, was received by 14 of 15 games thus far.

In important New England college basketball games last weekend, Yale surprised by League leader Dartmouth 70-67. Saturday's game was between the University of Connecticut and Colby College, which resulted in a 71-61 victory for the Farmington-based school.

Regular members of the OWL Sports Department are Pete Costigan, Phil Cedeno, Dick Panagrossi, Gerry Sally, and Mickey Criscuolo.

"TAKE CHARGE GUY": Freshman standout Johnny Egan has attracted an ocean of attention from his showings with Assistant Coach Jackie Allen's yearling quintet. Egan, who grabbed off a number of honors as a high-schooler, appears set to equal his former feats as a collegian.

Varsity Force Due Against Gymnasts;
Battle St. John's College Thru Sunday

After last night's appearance against Holy Cross, Joe Mullaney's "trifugal" Friars have two more big games scheduled for this weekend against Springfield and St. John.

Saturday night the Friars journey to Springfield, Mass., to meet the Gymnasts on their home court. The following night, the Friars take on Alumni Hall, New York, to engage St. John.

A pair of varities in these games would not hurt their chances for a bid to the National Invitational Tournament. Joe Mullaney stated Monday night that one of the big factors in the Friars' victory over St. John's was their ability to stay "so close, so long." He admitted that Providence was outplayed during the first half but praised the team for the great hustle which they displayed in keeping the score so close.

Mullaney commended the starting five reserves Lionel Jenkins and Frankie Guimares on their contributions to the win.

Concerning the NIT, Mullaney stated that Providence was very uncertain. He emphasized that last night's game with Holy Cross was a must, but that a victory in that game would not assure the Friars of a berth. He said that it is impossible to know just how the selection committee will think about different factors which could affect their decisions.

Another thing that he mentioned was that it was not certain that a New England team will be selected for one of the twelve berths. The decisions of such teams as Temple and Cincinnati, which will almost certainly receive bids to both the NIT and the NCAA tournament, could spell fortune or disaster for the Friars.

One factor, Mullaney pointed out, which must be considered, is the drawing power of different teams which might receive invitations. Thus, a former winner of the tournament, such as Holy Cross, who won the tournament in 1954, might have an advantage. On the other hand, a team like Providence, which has a large number of native New Yorkers on its roster, might be looked upon favorably to attract New Yorkers.

THE COWL, FEBRUARY 19, 1958
Basketball Jottings

In a comment to the local press this week, Coach Stan Ward of Brown termed Providence's Len Wilkins "the best defensive player in New En gland." Wilkins is considered by many the important factor in P. C.'s outstanding place among the nation's intensive powers. Two teams have already ac cepted bids to the N.E.T.—Dayton and St. Bonaventure's, which will play host to P.C.'s squad next week.

THE PLEDGE YOU MAY BE YOUR OWN

Today's column is directed to those young female undergraduates who have recently pledged sororities and are worried, poor lambs, that they won't make good. Following is a list of simple instructions which, if faithfully observed, will positively guarantee that you will be a model sorority girl.

First, let us take up the matter of housemothers. The housemother is your friend, your guide, your mentor. You must treat her with respect. When you wish to speak to her, address her as "Mother Signafous" or "Ma'am." In no circumstances must you say, "Hey, fat lady."

Second, let us discuss laundry. Never hang your wash on the front porch of the sorority house. This is unsightly and shows a want of breeding. Use the Chapter Room.

Third, meals. Always remember that planning and preparing meals for a houseful of healthy girls is no simple task. Your cook owes to a great deal of trouble to make your menu varied and nourishing. The least you can do is show your appreciation. Don't just devour your food; praise it. Exclaim with delight, "What delicious pork jowls!" or "What a yummy soup!" or "What scrumptious fish heads!" or "What clear water!"

Fourth, clothing. Never forget that your appearance reflects not just on yourself but on the whole house. It was well enough before you joined a sorority and your influence around you; you are now old enough to dress yourself properly.

Fifth, personal hygiene. As we have seen, the way you dress reflects on your sorority, but the men you date reflect even more. Be absolutely certain that your date is an acceptable fellow. Don't beat about the bush; ask him point-blank, "Are you an acceptable fellow?" Unless he replies, "Yes, hey," send him packing.

But don't just take his word that he is acceptable. Inspect him closely. Are his fingernails clean? Is his black leather jacket freshly oiled? Is his ukulele in tune? Does he carry public liability insurance? And, most significant of all, does he smoke Marlboro?

If he's a Marlboro man, you know he's a lot of man. You know he has taste and discernment, wit and wisdom, character and suavity, decency and warmth, presence and poise, talent and gril, finesse and finesse. You will be proud of him; your sorority will be proud of him, the makers of Marlboro will be proud of him, and I will be paid for this column.

The makers of Marlboro wish to announce that Mr. Shulman has been paid for this column and will continue to be paid for bringing you his hourly philosophy throughout the school year.

Friar Six Moves On To B.U. Tonight

The Friar hockey team, after losing a heart-breaker to Boston College in the last six seconds by a score of 3-2 in their last outing, travels to Boston tonight to engage Boston University, rated as the top team in New England, at the Arena at 7:00 PM.

In their only previous meeting this season, which came in the Christmas Tournament in Boston, B.U. came out on top by a score of 7-3, on their way to gaining a tie with B.C. for first place in the tournament with a 3-0 record.

The Terriers have a very good chance to go to the NCAA hockey tournament which is to be held in Minnesota late next month. Harvard was the New England entry in the tourney last year and reached the semifinals before being eliminated by Denver University.

In their last outing, B.U. lost a close game to R. P. I. by a score of 3-2. Providence defeated Rensselear earlier in the season by a score of 4-2 in what was undoubtedly their outstanding performance of the season.

According to the latest statistical figures, Joe Barile is leading the Providence scorers with 24 points, followed by Al McMahon and Bob Labbe with 21 each. Ray Labbe has 17 and George Beaudreau has 16.

Lenten Service

During the Lenten season this year, the College has voted to enable students to take greater advantage of the wealth of religious opportunities afforded by a Catholic campus. Current enthusiasm, led last year, the Administration has voted to terminate the 9:30 A.M. class at 10:15 A.M. during the Holy Season of Lent in order to give students a greater opportunity to attend midmorning Mass in Harkins' Hall Auditorium. In commenting on the mid-morning Mass, which starts at 10:15 and ends at 10:40 a.m. for the class, Rev. Thomas H. McNee, O.P., College Chaplain, said that he hopes that students will desire fervent and prayer that all our students will assist at daily Mass during this penitential season. Attendance at Mass each day is the most perfect way to participate in the Lenten season. We urge all students to make the sacrifices necessary to be present at Mass either in their parish church or on the campus.

Every Wednesday evening at 10:15, the College has decided that evotions will be held in Aquinas chapel for the benefit of the dorm students. The services will include the Stations of the Cross and a sermon appropriate to the season. In addition, the dorm students are urged to take some portion of Masses and night prayers.

Cherry was built to put a zest into driving that hasn't been there before. You sense this the instant you feel the silken response of an engine like the new Turbo-Thrust V8. It's an extra-cost option that gives you extra-quick action the second your foot dikes the gas pedal. Cherry's new Full Coil suspension is standard. Or, for the last word in comfort, you can even have a real air ride, optional at extra cost. See your Chevrolet dealer for good-as-gold buys right now! *Optimal at extra cost.

Delivery Date Set For Class Ring Purchasers

For the convenience of students purchasing class rings, deposits may be made in the Bookstore at any time during the remaining weeks prior to and following the delivery date. Mr. Sullivan, manager, has requested that the minimum deposit be at least five dollars, and that deposits not be made during breaks between classes, due to the increase of regular Bookstore business at such times.

In the latest report from the Huff-Jones Co., manufacturers of the class ring of 1959, delivery date is to be on or about April 18, 1958. At this time, in order to receive the ring, payments should be completed. Rings may not be taken until full payment is made. For those who have not yet ordered their rings, the ring committee has been advised that 12 weeks production time should be allowed from the date that the order is taken.

MOVIE STARS can have the best of everything. The one above (Miss Va Va Voom) drives a limousine so swanky it carries a sports car instead of a spare. Her swimming pool's so large it has tides. When it comes to cigarettes, Miss Voom picks (Surprise! Surprise!) Lucky Strike. Says she, "A Lucky is just as light as they come, dahlings. Its divine taste comes from fine tobacco ... and simply everyone knows it's toasted to taste even better!" All of which makes her a Quotable Notable! Light up a Lucky yourself. You'll say, "It's the best-tasting cigarette I ever smoked!" End quote.
