

VOL. XXI, No. 3 - EIGHT PAGES

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE, PROVIDENCE, R. L. OCTOBER 22, 1958

"Slightly Delinquent," a con dy written by Leo Thomas, will be the first production of the Pyramid Players' dramatic sea

22. The forthcoming play was previously produced by the Blackfriars Guild in New York

Father Morris, who was a pro-uction director with the Black

Members of the cast include Yale Wolfe, David Carkin, Elizabeth August, Bernard Kelly, Jerry Weicker, Grathwol, Betty Aruda of one-act plays.

Zuccolo, and Kevin McMahon.

A workshop program has been initiated by the Players becaus witnessed by the fact that forty-five people auditioned for theatre, group discussions of great plays, and also practical lessons in production and dra matic techniques.

Members of the Pyramid Players attended a meeting of the New England Theater Conference at Brown University or

October 18. The principal speaker was Joshua Logan, noted Broadway and Hollywood

Fittings For Blazers

In Bookstore Oct. 28:

Emblem Contest Set

After several years of discus-sion by Student Congresses of Providence College, the blazer tradition has finally been established at the College by a unaminous vote of the present

The resolution establishing the tradition was passed at the October meeting of the Con-gress held two weeks ago.

Arthur Boucher, Congress president, appointed an official blazer committee at the meeting and his appointments were ap-proved by the Congress.

The committee announced that a representative from the Rollins Company, which sup-plies the custom-tailored blazers plies the custom-tailored blazers to many of the country's lead-ing colleges and universities, will be at the College Bookstore on Tuesday, Oct. 28, for the first fitting date. A $5 deposit is (Continued on Page 8) director, whose subje "Problems in Directing.

Congress.

in 1953

scenery

will

Robert

Angelo

10 CENTS A COPY

Forty-Five Inducted Into Campus Players Staging President Offers Memorial N. Y. Production: Chapter Of D. E. S. Honor Society Actors Selected

New members were inducted into Theta Chapter of Delta Epsi-Sigma, the National Honor Society for Catholic Colleges and Universities, on Tuesday evening, October 14 in Aquinas Lounge here at Providence College.

The meeting was opened by the out-going president, Larry W. Childers, '58, now a Root-Tilden Scholar at New York University

Newly inducted DES members of the class of '59

Law School; a prayer was then said by Rev. Royal J. Gardner, O.P., chaplain. Following a report by Mr. Robert Deasy of the history department, secretary-treasurer of the group, Childers inducted the 45 new members, aided by Mr. Deasy.

Along with the senior members, two alumni who are now members of the faculty, Rev. Louis Ryan, O.P., of the sociol-ogy department and Rev. John Kenny, O.P., head of the philos-ophy department, and another member of the faculty, Dr. Edwin K. Gora of the physics de artment, were initiated into the society.

Father Gardner welcomed congratulated the new and members. At the same time he exhorted them, as the representatives of the major intellectual society on campus, to do all pos-sible through their interest, cointerest, co-(Continued on Page 7)

TV Position Clarified In Adminstration Note

To correct certain wrongful impressions concerning the col-lege's television course, the Ad-ministration has issued the fol-lowing statement: "Providence lowing statement: "Providence College is offering a course on the Philosophy of Communism over WJAR-TV from October 20 to November 21. This course will be taught by the Reverend John P. Reid, O.P., assistant professor of philosophy. The course will expose the Marxist doctrine in the light of the teaching of St. Thomas Aquinas and will brand Marxism as both intellectually fraudulent and morally subversive. and morally subversive. assun

"Providence College ass responsibility only for the course on the Philosophy of Communism, taught by one of its own priest-professors under the supervision of the College Administration.

de.

"We regret that inaccurate or misleading releases in the com mercial press have caused some concern among persons deeply and sincerely interested in the spiritual and civic welfare of our Arierican people." Pre-Law Group Sets Lecture By Raymond Pettine tures on various aspects of the legal profession will be given this evening to members and guests of the St. Thomas More Club by Mr. Raymond J. Pettine career as a public prosecutor. He is a graduate of Provi-dence College, class of 1935, and has an LLB. and LLM. from Boston University. In addition to legal work, Mr. Pet-tine is active in the civic and community affairs of the state. He is vice-president of the Bhoda Island Philharmonic Or. Rhode Island Philharmonic Orchestra there will be a short business meeting. The meeting will be called to order at 7:15 p.m. Discussion of a club dance and Gene Porfido, club president, announced that he has a few applications for the Legal Apti-tude Exam left. The exam, which is an entrance requirement for most of the major law schools, will be given this year in November, February, April, and August. Deadline for the first exam, given at Brown November 8, is October 25. Applications, together with a $10 fee, must be received by that date.

Solemn High Mass For Pope

Scene from the memorial Mass for Pope Pius XII.

Providence College has joined the millions who mourn the death of the two hundred and sixty-second successor to the Chair of Peter, Pius XII.

A Solema Requirem Mass attended by the entire student body highlighted the formal observances of the passing of the "Pope of Peace." Celebrant was the President of the College, Very Rev. Robert J. Slavin, O.P., assisted by Fathers Vincent C. Dorc, O.P., and Joseph L. Lennon, O.P., as deacon and subdeacon at the Oct 16 ceremony

Friday Dances For Collegians; Bar H. S. Girls

High school girls and working girls under the age of eighteen are being barred from the Friday night dances in ac-cordance with a recent student government edict.

Last Friday night's dance was the first at which underage girls were refused admittance. A minimum of two student government marshals must enforce the new regulation at all future dances, according to the meas-ure enacted into law at the last ession of the Student Congress Representative Thomas Grady, '60, sponsored the bill.

Girls will hereafter be re-quired to show a student gov-ernment identification pass be-fore being admitted to the dances, said social committee chairman Richard Lavoie. These permanent passes will be issued only to girls who present proof of age identification.

The measure is designed to The measure is designed to prevent the further influx of girls aged as low as thirteen years, said Grady in submitting his measure to the Congress. He noted that college girls have frequently expressed re-but notes the dense. luctance to attend the dances because of the large number of younger girls.

"It seems certain that we can-not expect college girls to attend unless we do something to alleviate the present situation," Grady continued.

The exclusion of high school girls has been desired for some time by the Administration, noted Arthur Boucher, Con-gress president. He stated that, even aside from other reasons. it was only reasonable that the new law be enforced if the stu-dents wish to retain the priv-ilege of holding dances at all.

"When word of his death was flashed to the world, peoples of all faiths, as well as those with no religious affiliation, knew that our age had lost its most gigantic figure," Fr. Slavin told the assembled students and faculty.

Over 400 resident students were among the first represen-tatives of the College to ob-serve the death of the Pontil as they filed to the Grotto less than an hour after the death of the Pope shocked the world late on the night of Oct. 9,

The students staged a spo taneous religious demonstration as they left the three residence halls to recite the rosary for the repose of the departed Vicar of Christ. "To me, this spontaneous display of filial de-votion is a sign of . . . deep faith in Christ and His Church." said Rev. Thomas J. Shanley, O.P., rector of Aquinas Hall.

College displays symbol of sorrow upon death of Pope.

The rotunda and facade of Harkins Hall will remain swathed in black for the dura-tion of the official period of mourning. Flags are also being flown at half-mast on the campus

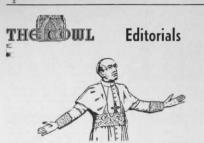

The first in a series of la

Mr. Pettine, who is an As-sistant Attorney General for the State of Rhode Island, will speak on highlights of his career as a public prosecutor.

Preceding the lecture, which is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Guild Room of Alumni Hall, several amendments to the con-stitution are among the matters expected to be brought up at the business meeting.

Members of the club have been reminded by treasurer John Toscano that, according to the club constitution, dues must be paid by this meeting. After the second meeting a penalty of $1 is added to delinquent dues.

Theatre-goers may look for-ward this year to at least one other production, and also the possibility of the presentation of "the increasing interest in the dramatic arts by the stu-dents of Providence College as forty-five people auditoned for nine parts in 'Slightly Delin-quent," noted Father Morris. Workshop projects include lec-tures on the history of the

Seldom in the history of humanity has a man been mourned so universally as the late Pope, and the respect that the world held for this man was not without reason. that the world held for this man was not without reason. Pius XII was a symbol of what all God-fearing men seek: peace and brotherhood. He used every weapon at his command to bring about the downfall of communism; he expounded the Catholic teaching on such down to earth subjects as nuclear warfare, birth-control, censor-earth subjects as nuclear warfare, birth-control, consorship, national self-defense, and abortion. Never did he shy away from an opportunity to teach or explain; never did he fail to reach the common man.

During World War II, the Pope personally sheltered thousands of Jews sought by the German S.S. troops. At one point he ransomed a group of condemned Jews with twenty kilograms of gold. This extraordinary fra-ternal charity won for Catholicism the brilliant Zolli, a former Italian rabbi.

While Pope Pius constantly implored that the Sec ond World War be settled by negotiations, he did not fail to aid those people caught in its web. Under him, the Vatican sponsored an international mail service for war prisoners, helped the Red Cross in caring for war victims, and continually sought the humane treatment of captives. These actions carried Our Shepherd to the hearts of his flock throughout the world.

The late Pope was universally recognized as the world's number one foe of communism. It is generally conceded that if it had not been for his powerful drive against communism, Italy would have turned itself into a satellite in the near-disastrous election of 1948.

It is ironic that this Pope should have been chris tend "Eugenic Paceli," for the name itself means "well engendered peace." Peace it was that Pius XII sought; yet his passing should not be cause for discouragement. Most probably Pope Pius XII is at this moment begging God to grant peace to the troubled world he knew so well. Whereas man often turned a deaf ear to the pleas of our late Pope, God certainly will not. In any case, we are convinced that Pope Pius XII has found for himself the peace he sought for us all.

Pardon Our Paternalism!

The October 7 issue of the Brown Daily Herald car-ried a front page story headed, "P.C.'s Editor Suspended for Open Letter," and ran an editorial deprecating this dismissal. The editorial also expressed gratitude that Brown is a "liberal institution," and protested against the "restriction of freedom of speech and of the press, not only against a newspaper editor, but against an in-dividual." The editorial further contended that "Prov-idence College has demonstrated here a tendency toward the sort of paternalism . . . unworthy of a college admin-istration. It has, as an academic institution, seriously compromised its claim to objective scholarship."

The Cowl cannot let these comments go unappraised. First of all, as was pointed out in the last issue of First of all, as was pointed out in the last issue of The Cowl, the editor was not suspended for protesting Administration policy, but due to considerations com-pletely outside that realm. The Daily Herald should have discovered the reason for the disciplinary action before condescendingly attributing it to "paternalism."

Secondly, The Cowl has never been the victim of "restrictions of freedom of speech and of the press." In the editorial of its last issue, The Covil re-affirmed its right to criticize as fundamental to its very existence. It also acknowledged the responsibility to use prudence and sober judgment in criticism, a responsibility which the Herald might do well to consider. Even a cursory glance at The Cowl will reveal the exercise of its right to criticize and its awareness of the sobriety so essential to criticism.

According to the Providence College Bulletin, "The aim of Providence College is the formation of wise and good men." The College refuses to ignore discipline as good men. The conege relates to ignore discipline as one of the means to this end, and we of The Cowl are in hearty accord. If this is "paternalism," we stand ac-cused; if it has "compromised our claim to objective scholarship," we are guilty of that compromise.

Gentlemen of Brown, please take note

THE COWL, OCTOBER 22, 1958

Lost In The Death Of Pope Pius XII

By John J. Hurley

With the passing of Pius XII, there is little doubt but that the world has lost one of the lead-ing men of the twentieth century. Certainly this representa-tive of Christ on earth will go tive of Christ on earth will go down in history as the spokes-man of this day and age for those who would live in peace with their fellow man. In the world of literature, economics, sociology, philosophy, diplo-macy, and numerous other folds, the peace man fee who ease fields, there are few who can be listed on the same plane.

Yet, this profound intellec-tual had an even greater appeal to those who were privileged to come in contact with him. Whether in St. Peter's at Rome or at his beloved Castel Gon-dolfo, his appeal to the crowds which literally flocked to their "shepherd with outstretched arms," is something hard to re-late in words

This past summer, Rev. ward Schmidt, O.P., conducted a pilgrimage to Europe. As the Pope had just left the torrid summer heat of Rome for his summer heat of nome for his country residence, they pre-pared to see him there on his first Sunday appearance. For over two hours the people had sung folk songs and made meruntil His Holiness appeared ry, at the scheduled time. Even though he was very troubled over problems then current in the Middle East, he still walked out onto the low balcony to the delight of the crowd. All were very impressed by his earthliness and joviality amidst the waving of papal flags and the enthusiasm of his countrymen.

enthusiasm of his countrymen. Still another side of this amazing personality is shown in a series of audiences which the Rev. John F. Cunningham, O.P., had while on his recent studies in Rome. Even in the midst of blowing of trumphets and all the pomp and display present, he was indifferent to all but the wants of the faithful wants of the faithful.

At another general audience for the professors and students at the Dominican University in Rome, he spoke in Latin. Yet, even though realizing that he was addressing a learned audience, his talk was simple, aimed only at emphasizing the imporof communicating the tance truth.

Is it any wonder that over 500,000 people would crowd St. Peter's Square to hear him speak each Easter Sunday? Afaddressing the crowd, he would speak to each national group in attendance in their own language. He was fluent in Source and the second s astonishing knowledge. Rather he always tried to show that he was the universal father of all Driven by this spark of saintlibriven by this spark of samt ness, simplicity was always the secret of his appeal until he truly burned himself out per-forming his work as the Vicar of Christ on earth.

Fines Bigger and Better The office of the Dean of Dis-cipline reports that fines are bigger and more numerous than ever. Elevator guards are re-portedly doing an excellent job of catching culprits. Perhaps the best catch to date, though, was by the Illegal Parking Division, when they caught a prom-inent cadet colonel illegally parked on the drill field after 2:30 on Tuesday.

Universal Leader Aristotelian Philosophy Proven Relevent To Our Cut System

By Paul J. The scene is Athens about 350 B.C. A group of young men are standing around a bearded scholar. They are questioning

Windjammer,

An Adventure

In Cinemiracle

By M. A. Cagnon

What a wonderful voyage!

experienced a first hand taste of sea life aboard a four-masted schooner that is breathtaking schooner that is breatnaking to look at and a charm to handle. The Christian Radich, out of Norway, took us to Madeira, to Trinidad, to New York, and then back across the Atlantic. Very nearly every moment proved to be memorable in some way or other, but a few highlights must be mena few highlights must be men-tioned. There is the unique basket sled ride down the sinewy hills of Madeira, which, incidentally, takes every oppor-tunity of Cinemiracle's ability to convey the impression of ac-participation. This is but

Ever wish you could stand on the deck of a submarine as it gradually submerges? The ex-perience is unforgettable (and,

I must add, not easily come by). Did you ever imagine what it was like to drive the rear wheel of a ladder truck speeding to a fire in a congested city center? Or perhaps leap from a burning building into a chute ten storie probably never experience except through such a medium.

But, as we have come to expect, Louis de Rochemont has given not simply a movie for given not simply a movie for the thrills) not even simply a movie) but a living travelogue that has, finally, coherence and purpose. Human interest is provided by a group of Norwegian cadets on their first windjam-mer cruise, which the people of th is Scandinavian country staunchly believe is the best way to develop strength of character in a young man. Our too brief stays on various lands are sometimes exhilerating (an impromptu steel stomp in Trin roll dance seem square by com parison, sometimes astonisming as "Limbo Dance" of Trini-dad, so called because it was earlier used as a test of the freedom or continued subjec-tion of a slave.

The process of Cinemiracle is mewhat of a refinement over its older sister Cinerama, but to many, unnoticable. Actually the coordination of the three vast images (together one hundred feet wide by forty feet high) is much improved, and unless one purposely focuses one's atten tion on the overlapping lines of the three sections they blend smoothly into a brilliantly dis-since panoramic picture. Cine-miracle possesses an uncanny sense of realism and depth that is truly next best to actually being there.

sometimes astonis

idad that would make a rock

Here are things you can

him shrewedly

Atlantic.

tual

the

below?

parison),

one of the thrills.

Student: I'm very interested in studying under you, can you tell me something about your doctrine

Aristotle: I am grateful for your interest and will be glad to accept you as a student. As for your studies here at the academy; we discuss logic first. since Student: Excuse me, sir, I'm familiar with that aspect. What my friends and I would like to know is whether attendance is required?

Aristotle: I don't understand Do you mean to say that you wish to pay my fee but not at-tend my lectures?

Student: Oh, we realize that we will have to attend some of them. We would like to know how many we can miss and still get credit for your courses? Aristotle: I see. How many Aristofie: I see. How many lectures do you feel that you can miss and still understand my doctrine? Well, I should judge that if you miss more than three or four it would take a good deal of work on your own to attain a true grasp of the matter.

(Very Shocked) our! Why Cratylus Student: Three or four! permits unlimited absenses as long as we pass his tests

Aristotle: He is a good judge as to the comprehensibility of his doctrine, just as I must be the judge of how much study is necessary to comprehend mine.

Student: Why do you treat us as though we are unable to judge for ourselves?

Aristotle: If you are com petent in such matters, why do you come to me for study?

Student: Now you're twisting our words. You must know how important a sheepskin is ,saying that we have completed a course of study under a scholar young man can't get far in the world without one

Aristotle: It is clear that education is the one thing that people will pay for and not insist on getting.

Student: You just don't understand. Look, Aristotle, forget the speculative side and think of the practical for a minute. A sheepskin is a symbol-to the businessman. It symbol-izes a mai's compressed izes a man's competence Aristotle: You mean the Aristofie: You mean the symbol is an equivocal one. That is means something dif-ferent to different people. The nature of a symbol is . . .

Student: Please! Let's not get the nature of a symbol. Let me put it this way: it is a union card we need to get a good job Aristotle: I see ....

Returning to his father's sheep farm later that afternoon father's sheep farm later that afternoon, the student was reading the Athens' Gazette as he walked along the country road. Turning to the classified ads two notices in particular caught his atten-tion. The first read, "Shep-herds, come to Cratylus for best prices. I'll buy your entire flock, unseen, for five drachmas a head." The other read, WANTED: One small kid. Must have good hide. See Aristotle."

Our 20th Year of Publication Our 30th Year of Publication PROVIDENCE COLLEGE FRIAR POST OFFICE PROVIDENCE 4, RHODE ISLAND PROVIDENCE 4, RHODE ISLAND Providence, Rhode Island, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published weekly each full school week during the academic year for the students of Providence College.

blend

THE COWL OCTOBER 22 1958

Letter to the Editor

Movie Review

Dorm Meals Are Wholesome But Waiters Are Inexperienced

Ry Sylvester Morrone

Many students have become quite disgusted with the type of meals which are served at P. C. the dorm students. There should be no cause for such dis gruntlement. It should be realized that there is a tremendous amount of work employed by the cooks in the preparation of a meal for 600 students, but this factor is not taken into consideration.

P. C. prepares well-balanced meals, but there are always a who think that that which is balanced is disagreeable

It is true that everyone can s some not be pleased and thus always condemn P. C. This is unjust because meals the status of meals depends on personal taste. The fact that personal taste. The fact that a few students dislike a certain meal, this doesn't merit a state-ment that all P. C. food is dis-agreeable. There are meals which some like and others de-spise. To each his own.

It is a tremendous effort to prepare meals for 600 Naturalwe're not going to get food is served in a restaurant. what we do get is wellthat in But halanced and as much as some disagree, very nutritive. I dare say that there are no cases on record of any student having died due to food poisoning.

The only consistently good food which draws no complaint

Record Review

is P. C.'s desserts which I admit are very good and desirable. One phase of the meals which does deserve ill-will is the man-ner in which they are served. From the moment we sit down until we have finished our food rushed no end 10 000 Wait ers in dirty jackets (supposedly white) pace around the table anxiously awaiting to pluck the food containers from under ou eyes. With a sharp inquiry of "Any more potatoes?" they take the dish away and soon they're ack again ready to take some thing else.

The manner in which they do take away food is very sloppy indeed. Many is the time when students have left the dining halls with evidence of the effects of a sloppy waiter. Spa Spaghetti spots on a jacket are much too often witnessed, and also other food spots on clothing are seen often.

Perhaps a course in gentle-ness and neatness should be a prerequisite for waiters. A course in manners would do no harm, either. Many waiters are sarcastic or grumpy when you seek something from them. What do they think their job

It would greatly add to the atmosphere of the dining hall if those who served the meals pleasant and obliging wore Waitresses, anyone?

Dear Editor

Dear Editor: The peoples of the world have expressed their esteem for our late Holy Father, Pope Pius XII, Providence College has its own story to tell

On Thursday night October 0 the resident students listened 9, the resident students instened with sorrow as the news flashes detailed the passing of the Su-preme Pontiff. Shortly after-wards, three men asked for permission to go to the Grotto to say a Rosary for the repose of his soul. By 11:45 p.m., as the Rosary began, the number of students had grown from those three to about four hundred. To me this spontaneous display of filial devotion is a sign of the student's deep faith in Christ and His Church. My sincere congratulations to them for this demonstration of faith them Rev. Thomas J. Shanley, O.P.

Respectfully, Rector, Aquinas Hall

To The Editor

This letter is in retort to the one published in the October 1 issue of the Cowl.

It would seem to me that the person who submitted the letter (reschedule card assembly) to the Cowl last week was suffering from some sort of complex or malady. Possibly he feels e is sick of being an injun and now wants to be a chief

At times he appears to be taking pot shots at the faculty, taking pot shots at the faculty, then the student body, yet he is pro and con for both, if that is logically possible. I failed to see what was bothering him, other than the headache he had when he wrote the letter his hints concerning the activi-ties of his 'children.' " Then in Then in the same breath he stated, "But to sit for over an hour listening to this priest review every rule and regulation directed at the resident student in the , 'Disciplinary Regulations book for Resident Students of Provi dence College,' is extremely boring entertainment." I am sure that this certain "person age" did not intend it to be en tertaining, but rather instruc-tively beneficial.

It is also obvious that the priest had no thought of be-meaning the intelligence of this particular "rarus avis," or for that matter, any students that were present. Granted the rules are self-explanatory, but the simple truth is that most of us the don't read them.

Where are the P.C. men? Where are the P.C. men: Look around, they are here. They listened to the rules as they were read, and they attend-ed the assembly. Sure they had their own views on the situa-tions, but they were drowned in a coke in the cafeteria about 45 primutes. Idea minutes later.

daresay that the Torch Truth has enlightened the faculty and they are fully aware of our capabilities as Christian gentlemen. My sincere hope now is that the beams of the "domes" conformists.

Due to space limitations, it will be necessary in the future to limit letters to the editor to 150 words. Letters of greater length will be returned to the writer for condensation.—Ed.

Loew's Has Explosive Yarn 'Big Country," Outdoor Epic

An excellent cast, fine direction and flawless photography are some of the elements which blended into the current are blended into the current feature at the Loew's State. The picture in question is "The Big Country." The cast, which is ably headed by Gregory Peck, includes Jean Simmons, Carroll Baker, Charlton Heston, Burl Ives, and Charles Bick-ford. "The Big Country" was directed with great artistry and sensibility by William Wyler

This film could truly be called This film could truly be called a "western of emotions." It doesn't have the prototype plot concerned with calvalry, wild Indians, and doomed wagon trains. "The Big Country" goes beyond the typical western ting to present human emotions in all their variations, moods, and furor.

The plot revolves around two families: the Terrills and the Hannasseys. Major Terrill (Charles Bickford) is the (Charles Bickford) is the wealthy cattle baron who has spent the greater part of his life trying to convince the Han-nasseys that his word is law and that to ignore it is to suffer heavy consequence. Burl Ives as Rufus Hannassey turns in a classic performance. One of the lines from the script dethe lines from the script de-scribes Rufus as a character out of the Stone Age, and if you've ever seen pictures of these creatures, you'll have to admit Mr. Ives' characterization comes had been going on over a portant piece of land adjacent to both their properties. This to both their properties. This land, which has precious water gushing through it, is owned by Julie Maragon (Jean Simmons). Julie has been acting as a neutral party between the waring neighbors, giving them oth an equal amount of water ring for their herds of cattle When Jim McKay (Gregory Peck) ap-pears on the scene with the intention of marrying the Major's daughter (Carroll Baker), and the Hannassey clan gets word that McKay intends to purchase this hotly contested property for his internets start to move, absolution Heston portrays for his intended, things really Steve Leech, the foreman of the Terrill ranch. Disliking McKay from the beginning, the two men eventually settle their dif-ferences with their fists. This fight sequence doesn't exactly resemble anything you may have seen on "Gunsmoke," but you can definitely say it's "dif-ferent." The medanic for an definitely say is on-ferent." The predominance of record distance shots as op-posed to close-ups in this se-quence makes all the effort look a little ridicalous, if not downright comical.

To round out the cast there is Chuck Conners as the coward-ly but ruthless Buck Hannas sey and Alfonso Bedoya as Ramon, one of the more friendly and amusing of the Terrill rancheros. "The Big Country" will easily be the big western of the year.

A Hatfield-McCoy type feud

mistaken idea that their mission is to carry around rifles or pic tures of General Pershing

While they profess a deep ad-miration for their founder, General John J. Pershing, and General John J. Persning, and while some of its members are on the rifle team, yet they are simply a separate company in the R.O.T.C. make-up at Providence College. Company K-12 Pershing Rifles is also affiliated with the National Society of Pershing Rifles which has its headquarters a tthe University of Neoraska. Its chain of command is similar to the other companies at the College, from Company Commander James Baker on

Now if one were to pass by the Alumni parking lot on a Tuesday evening while the Com-

Tuesday evening while the Com-pany was performing their extra drill, he might honestly feel that they were a little crazy. Why should freshmen be doing pushups at 8 o'clock in the evening on a cold pave-ment? Why should they be standing continually at atten-tion in the freezing weather? And why, as they did last year, should they run around the even should they run around the gym shouting, "I am a tiger!" It

Nebraska. of down

Let me illustrate what I mean Tchaikowsky Is Intense: He wrote, in relation to the scrutiny of a particular member of the faculty, "It's good to hear from this personage and Stravinsky Termed Bawdy within the last two years that there exists an organization on campus known as the Pershing Rifles. Seemingly this group is connected in some way with the Military Science Department. Of course, its notices appear on the R.O.T.C. bulletin board. And then again, no list of saints in-cludes any St. Pershing who was a Dominican. Now, one should not get the

of torch glance off the ss" of any and all non-# nists. Sincerely yours, R. F.

Pershing Rifle Company Gives Prestige To R.O.T.C.

By John J. Hurley It has become quite apparent

of makes one wonder sort whether or not they were at Princeton

Why do they act this way? The best answer would seem to The best answer would seem to be in a similar question, why do the cadets at West Point do this? These "nuts" have a de-sire to enter the advanced course, for only freshmen and sophomores may belong to the ciety. They are also standouts both academically and in drill performance.

No, they don't just want the No, they don't just want the blue and white cord for the Military Ball. Nor do they mere-ly want the trip to New York if they make the drill team. Rather, they honestly believe that by becoming and remain-ing members of the Society that they are in the best.

It also ranks among the most discriminate organizations on campus, for those desiring to join must be accepted by present members. Pledges must undergo an intensive period of weeding out. The many threats on Pledge Chairman Vin Farrell's life attest to the rigorousof this process.

Members are expected the example for the rest of the Corps with regard to training, military discipline, and cour-tesy. They are, for example, not supposed to imitate the green freshman, who, when asked by the Colonel at inspection what a maneuver was, replied, "Something used on grass, sir, to keep it green."

It would seem that Sergeant Yates has one of the most un-usual groups on campus to moderate.

By Donald Procaccini TCHAIKOWSKY: CONCERTO against crashing orchestra. -No. 1 FOR PIANO AND OR-CHESTRA, Op. 23.

Since the Concerto's first per-formance in Boston in 1875, it has been played and misplayed nas been played and misplayed more than any other work of its kind. Like most of Tchaikow-sky's music it is highly subjecoccasionally banal, but altive. ways intense, even poignant, in its expression of the more somber, brooding moods. In the Concerto's lighter vein, it is charming, elegant, glowing, and even ebullient. It frequently reaches the plane of light-hearted merriment and contagious gaiety.

As can be seen, the music de mands a pianist who is al-ternately dramatic, sweeping, mands eloquent and powerful. Such a pianist is the pianist is the amazing Russian Emil Gilels, who is let out of Russia once in a while to astound the world by his over-powering playing of the Russian masters. Mr. Gilels has achieved hat I feel is a major musical feat; he has made the some-times hackneyed themes of the Concerto breath fire and poetry interpretation is without ot the finest I have yet His doubt heard Fritz Reiner, noted for his crystalline performance, has provided a beautifully balanced background. His scholarly familiarity with the work is evident throughout.

The concerto opens with a majestic though bombastic theme given out in stentorian fashion by the French horns

The piano enters sweeping up the keyboard with full chords. Does this sound worth hearing? I would advise any music lover to give this recording a careful ear. He will in all probability add it to his collection. Strong ly recommended. The catalogue number is R.C.A. LM 1969

STRAVINSKY: FIREBIRD SUITE. PETROUCHA.

These two works by one of the 20th century's most daring innovators were first performed in 1910. They shocked the sophisticated Parisian audiences sophisticated Parisian autoences with their rowdy vigor and glare, heaving rhythms and bawdy tonal color. The pieces also startled the French with brash pulsating force, untheir mindful of convention.

The pieces today do not hit the listener quite so sharply be-cause he has been conditioned, so to speak, by a great number of similar compisitions by Stravinsky's disciples.

The playing of the two suites by Leopold Stokowski and the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra sharply defined and authoritative. Never once does the con ductor allow the orchestra to run away with the fierce rhythms and tonal coloring. The dynamics are superb.

Though certainly not great music ,these two compositions are perhaps the best examples of the so-called "modern idiom" which has invaded today's serious music. The catalogue number is Cap. PAO-8407.

THE COWL, OCTOBER 22, 1958

Squire Keegan Appoints Seth Brenner, Cy Dwyer

By Cyrus Hayshaker

This here's old Cyrus Hay-This here's old Cyrus Hay-shaker reporting from Mount Smitty again. Great doins in the makin' around the old homestead. This here Great Class of '59 sure is limbering up its leg again. There's such an excitement developin' that brother George is fergettin to tend his dragon-snaps. Sister Mary's tongue ain't stopped wagging in two days (she's the only only one in town with a sunburnt tongue).

sunburnt tongue). Heard down at the general store the other day, that Squire Keegin's 'bout set to get things rollin' now that corn shucking time's near. Old Seth Brenner and that it's settin to be the yet. I un understand that they're looking for a band that's even better than the Cow-shed Eight Minus Four and a Half. Must be a band with a mean swing that's a gonna shut near swing that's a going shift out cotton Mather and his Doomsday Boys. Also hear-tell that there's going to be contests the like of which have never been seen. Such prizes, too, you ween seen. Such prizes, too, you might even win a brand new pitchfork or a bottle of moon-shine from the stills on col-lege hill.

This here Great Class of '59 gonna be hawgish about the whole affair either. They're and Cy Dwyer have been picked to plan the first hoedown. And by criminy these here men sure know how to plan a shin-dig. Why, I remember the last aig. Why, I remember the last rumble they planned. There was so much laffing and carrying on, it sounded as if a heard of wild donkeys got loosed in the There wasn't much a man could do ceptin slap his knee, lean back in his chair and hope he didn't get cramps afore milking time (that is ifen he got home afore milking time). Why, when Dixie Goodwin-oh well, that's neither here nor there

NOV 15 0

I ain't one to gossip, but I hear they're agonna call this one the FARMERS' FESTIVAL, invitin' their brethren in the other classes to join in and have some fun. The big day is November 15. Mark it on the ol calendar, and tell the missus to start saving the egg money (she'll be wanting a new bon-net if I know these womenfolk). Everybody can afford to go, as the price is only two bucks a pair. I only think it fair that we all go and help old Ike end we all go and help old like end this here infatuation. Well, this is old Cyrus sign-ing off from Mount Smitty. It sure been great putting my litry talents to work for you folks. Be sure to get up a gay crowd to come to the dance, cuz this one sure as shootin' aint going to be no quiltin' bee.

$125,000 In Grants Spotlights Research Laboratory

The Medical Research Laboratory of Providence College has recently received pledges of recently received piedges or grants amounting to about $125,000 during the next five years. This news has focused at-tention on the scientific ad-vances of the Providence Re-search team.

Remarkable Progress

The Research Laboratory was instituted in 1950 as an expression of the desire on the part the college to share in the fight against cancer. Remarkable against cancer. Remarkable progress toward eventual vicover cancer has been made tory by Rev. Frederick Hickey, O.P. Dr. William Stokes, Dr. William Fish, and their associates, under sponsorship of the College In the eight short years of its existence, the Laboratory has isolated, named, and studied a compound previously unknown to man. Several new methods of research have been inaugurated and the scientists have often constructed special equipment when it was needed. Different Approach

Different Approach Even the approach of our re-search team to the problem of cancer is entirely different: our scientists, along with those at Harvard University, are pursu-ing the idea that cancer may be in some we connected with the in some way connected with the change of acetate to cholesterol in the body. It is in the study of this change that the P. C. scientists have made their most re-markable advances.

The Providence College laboratory conclusively proved that acctate is changed into choles-terol in the liver. It was also established that the process consists of many separate stages and it was decided that a study of the intermediate compounds might provide a clue to the de-velopment of cancer. The Prov-idence College scientists began an exhaustive scrutiny of these stages.

It is difficult to separate very similar compounds, and the compounds which accom pany cholesterol proved to be very similar to it. The Research Laboratory staff correctly assumed that these were the com-pounds which the body first makes from acetate and then converts to cholesterol.

New Developments In order to study these com-pounds, a new separating device was invented, called the twentytube Craig counter current distribution apparatus. This in-strument, while incapable of achieving a complete separation, did confirm the presence other components of much higher specific carbon activity than the accompanying cholesterol, a fact very significant to our scientists

A search for a more efficient method of separation led to the development of yet another new system, radiochromatography. And in connection with this, a new method of handling the beta rays of carbon 14 was developed in collaboration with the Dr. Edwin Gora of the physics department.

In radiochromatography, pa ticles to be studied are "la-beled" with radioactivity, and may thus be easily distinguished and studied. Radiochromatog-raphy marks an important step in the tracing and separating similar compounds.

Work Recognized

In recognition of the out-standing work of the Providence College Medical Research Laboratory, the requests for continued financial aid were continued financial aid were granted. The continuation and expansion of the Providence College research efforts are thereby assured.

Financial sponsors of the lab-oratory include Providence College itself, St. Joseph's Hospital, The Damon Runyon Memorial Fund, The American Cancer Society, the American Heart Asso ciation, The Rhode Island Sec tion of the American Cancer So ciety. The Jane Coffin Childs

Memorial Fund, and The Na tional Cancer Institute

Our Providence College scien tists firmly believe that cancer will be conquered, and the College is convinced that their work will be a great aid in man's triumph

THE DRESS PARADE

In all my years of observing coed fashions-and I have been arrested many times-I have never seen such verve, such dash, such Je ne sais quoi as can be found in this year's styles!

I am particularly enchanted by the new "baby waist" dress which so many of you girls are favoring this season. How demure you all look in your "baby waists"! How sweet! How innocent! How colorful when your housemother lifts you up and burps you after dinner!

Another trend that leaves me limp with rapture is the over-sized handbag. Goodbye to dinky little purses that hold nothing at all! Hurrah for today's sensibly sized bag with plenty of room for your makeup, your pens and pencils, your shelter half, your Slinky toy, your MG, and your Marlboros.

Did I say Marlboros? Certainly I said Marlboros. What girl can consider herself in the van, in the swim, and in the know, if she doesn't smoke Marlboros? What man, for that matter. Do you want a filter that is truly new, genuinely advanced, but at the same time, does not rob you of the full flavor of first-rate tobacco? Then get Marlboro. Also get matches because the pleasure you derive from a Marlboro is necessarily limited if unlit.

To return to coed fashions, let us now discuss footwear. The popular flat shoe was introduced several years ago when it became obvious that girls were growing taller than boys. For a while the flat shoes kept the sexes in a state of uneasy balance, but today they will no longer serve. Now, even in flats, girls are towering over their dates, for the feminine growth rate has continued to rise with disturbing speed. In fact, it is now thought possible that we will see fifteen-foot girls in our lifetime.

But science is working on the problem, and I feel sure American know-how will find an answer. Meanwhile, a temporary measure is available-the reverse wedgie.

The reverse wedgie is simply a wedgie turned around. This tilts a girl backward at a 45 degree angle and cuts as much as three feet off her height. It is, of course, impossible to walk in this position unless you have support, so your date will have to keep his arm around your waist at all times. This will tire him out in fairly short order; therefore you must constantly give him encouragement. Keep looking up at him and batting your lashes and repeating in awed tones, "How strong your are, Shorty!"

Next we turn to hair styling. The hair-do this year is definitely the cloche-coif. One sees very few crew cuts or Irene Castle bobs, and the new Mohican cut seems not to have caught on at all. In fact, I saw only one girl with a Mohican-Rhodelle H. Sigafoos, a sophomore of Bennington. Her classmates laughed and laughed at her, but it was Rhodelle who had the last laugh, for one night a dark, handsome stranger leaped from behind a for one ngert a oursy, nanonome stranger tespec from owning a birch and linked his arm in Rhodelle's and said, "I aru Tineas, the last of the Mohieans—but I need not be the last, dear lady, if you will but be my wife." Today they are happily married and run a candied-apple stand near Macon, Ga., and have three little Mohicans named Patti, Maxine, and Laverne.

@ 1958 Max Shull

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Uncas and to all of you who have discovered the pleasures of Mariboro and Mariboro's sister cigarette, non-filter Philip Morris, both made by the sponsors of this column.

Large Crowd Attends The Carolan Club Autumn Hop

This year's Autumn Festival, the Carolan Club's annual autumn dance, was held last Friday evening in Aquinas Hall Lounge, where Tony Abbott's Orchestra played dance music and in Stephen Hall Lounge, where his Jazz Combo performed.

"In former years the Jazz Combo played in the Penguin How Room in Aquinas Hall. How-ever, due to the large turnout, an estimated 90 to 100 couples an estimated 90 to 100 couples, this arrangement proved inad-equate," said Bill Clifford, pres-ident of the Carolan Club. Stephen Hall Lounge was decorated in line with the central theme, autumn A new decorative twist was added, a waterfall constructed by Gerry Murphy, Jim Baker, and Bill Mosher. Murals were painted by Mosher and Baker.

In Aquinas Hall the autumn theme was carried out with decorating done by Carl Reiber and Tom McCauley. Corn husks, pumpkins, and orange and black crepe paper adorned the room

Members who served on the committee were: co-chairmen Gerry Murphy and Dick Plam-Gerry Murphy and Dick ondon; committeemen Cloherty, Bill Rhodes, Pinto, Frank Bassett, Lavoie, and Bob Lovett. John Mike Dick

THE START . . . . Friars Charlie Goetz and Bob Bamberger, who both finished under the previous record, are off with a host of other harriers at the start of last Friday's meet with U. R. L.

THE FINISH . . . . Friar Charlie Goetz breaks the tape in a record 27:59 to est the previous mark of 28:43 as he led the P.C. runners to an impressive 18-37 victory over the Rams.

Harriers Meet Boston University Injuries (Ugh!) Ankle Injury To Key Defenseman Hurt Hockey In Attempt To Repeat Triumph Mars Start Of Hockey Practice Aspirations This afternoon the Providence College cross country

team will meet Boston University for the second time this fall. In their first encounter with the Boston squad P. C managed to outrun the spirited Terriers and grab second place in a triangular meet with Harvard

Today's match will be the first home contest of the current campaign, and the Friars will be all out for an impressive victory. However, the boys from B.U, will also definitely be up for the meet and will be seeking revenge for their prior defeat

Last Friday, under ideal run-ning conditions, the Friar har-riers defeated U.R.I., by the humiliating score of 18-37. In the process of soundly thump-ing the Rams, Charlie Goetz and Bob Pambares turned is second Bob Bamberger turned in record performances.

Goetz broke the tape in 27.59 to break the old mark set by state retrained forwards through Righton

Northeastern's Tom Tamasion (28.43) by 44 seconds. Bam-berger was only a scant 65 yards behind and slashed 28 seconds off the old record. Third place went to the only Ram to finish in the first five. His time was 5 seconds better than Tamasion's mark Close behind the record breakers were Friars Bob R geri, Tom Magill, and Bill Horrige, thus giving P.C. five out of the first six to finish. Other of the first six to finish. Once Friars taking part in the vic-tory were Gederman, Stewart, Carev, Krajewski, Williams, Carey, Krajewski, Williams, Grathwol, Hurley, Byrnes, Carroll, and Vaguner.

Gleanings from the Notebook: Injuries, Tom Eccleston's most feared foe aside from St. Lawrence and Clarkson in his first two years as hockey coach, grabbed the ice spotlight three days after the veteran mentor led his charges into the Auditorium. Red O'Cain's fractured ankle cost the current varsity dearly when observers consider the shortage of material in the defense department Alex Lachiatto, lanky junior, attempting to snare a ace on Joe Mullaney's basketie ball outfit, although he has been away from active competition for three years. The Con-cord, N. H., resident passed up basketball in favor of pre-med his first two years here, but now as a political science major, the 6'3" performer has returned to the court . . .

A Student Congress move to obtain a day off on Dec. 5 could hike P. C.'s basketball stature in the New York area. The Friday layoff is intended to foster near-unanimous school support at the St. John's-P. C. tilt, which will inaugurate col-lege basketball in New York's Madison Square Garden for the season on Dec. 4 . . .

Difficulties with the ice-producing mechanism at the Audi-torium have snarled the local hockey picture. The breakdown occurred after Sunday night's freshman hockey practice and is expected to be remedied by tomorrow. In the meantime, the R. I. Reds, Brown, P. C., and a host of scholastic and amateut teams have been idle. D.P.F.

An untimely injury to defenseman Jimmy (Red)

O'Cain marred an otherwise impressive first week of practice for the Providence College Hockey squad.

Monday night Coach Tom Eccleston welcomed back 15 mem ers of last year's squad, led this year by Captain George Boudreau.

Among those returning are linemen Joe Barile, Pete Ber-gen, John Turner, Bert Ferrie, Bob and Ray Labbe, and Gil Domingue. The defense has Puppy Gingell and Bob Fillion. has while goalies Jim Toomey and Don Girard will once again be the double duty twins. Last year's freshman squad sends up defensemen Ron De-yette and Larry McMahon, and linemen Joe Keough and Jim Wandmacher.

Boudreau, who last year played on the forward wall, has been switched to defense this vear.

Most of the first week was spent working on the offensive game with the defense to be dealt with at a later date. Impressive in the early sessions were Keough, last season's leading freshman scorer, Domingue, and the Labbe twins.

At the end of the initial week's drill, Coach Eccleston said that he felt that the team was ahead of any previous year as far as offense, especially the passwork. He added that the attitude of the team as a whole was certainly an encouraging note O'Cain was injured Tuesday night during warm-up drills, as he crashed into the boards behind the goal. At first the in-jury was thought to be a sprain, but hospital X-rays later showed a fracture of the right ankle. Doctors have expressed the opinion that it will be six to eight weeks before O'Cain rejoins the team. However, at least one specialist has been quoted as saying that O'Cain could be ready for the opener, depending upon how the ankle heals.

Court Tourney To Be Ended This Week

The tennis tournament enters its final rounds this week. only the semi-finals and final rounds now remain to be played. rounds now remain to be played. In the top half Gerry DuPont will meet Jeff Jordan, and in the bottom half John Devereaux plays Jim McLean. Tournament play is expected to be complet-ed by the end of the week in the most successful intramural tourney in the history of the celluce: College.

INTRAMURALS

INTRAMURALS Mr. Peter Louthis, Director of Intramural Athletics, an-nounces that a boxing and con-ditioning class will be started the first week in November. All those interested are urged to fill out a schedule-card at the Athletic Equipment Room.

WORLD INCOME. OVIDEN

CROSS COUNTRY CO-CAPTAINS Bob Ruggeri and Denny Carey, who will lead the Friars in today's meet with Boston University in the Friars' first home meet.

A Stab In The Dark

Having recovered from the shock of upsets which plague prophets of college football games, five COWL sports writers have submitted their forecasts for the games of the coming weekend. Two weeks ago Sports Editor Dale Faulkner and Jim DeLucia topped the writers with 7 correct choices. Gerry Murphy followed with 6 out of 10. Associate Sports Editor Pete Costigan broke even with 5 good guesses and Associate Feature Editor

John Hurley finished last with 4 out of 10, John hurrey mission last with 4 out of 10. The poor results were the result of the unan-imous choice of three losing teams. All chose Michigan over Navy, Yale over Columbia, and Tennessee over Georgia Tech. Associate News Editor Jim Carrell, who idi not officially par-ticipate in the poll, humilated the sports de-partment by picking 9 of 10 winners, missing only on the Yale-Columbia contest.

Games	Faulkner	Costigan	Hurley	Murphy	DeLucia	Consensus
Army-Pittsburgh	Army	Army	Army	Army	Army	Army
Boston U Holy Cross	Boston U.	Boston U.	Holy Cross	Holy Cross	Holy Cross	Holy Cross
Brown-Rhode Island	Brown	Brown	U.R.I.	Brown	Brown	Brown
Georgia Tech-S.M.U.	Ga. Tech	S.M.U.	Ga. Tech	Ga. Tech	Ga. Tech	Ga. Tech
Michigan-Minnesota	Michigan	Michigan	Minnesota	Michigan	Michigan	Michigan
Dhio St Wisconsin	Ohio St.	Ohio St.	Ohio St.	Ohio St.	Ohio St.	Ohio St.
Penn StSyracuse	Syracuse	Syracuse	Syracuse	Syracuse	Penn. St.	Syracuse
Yale-Colgate	Vale	Colgate	Yale	Colgate	Yale	Yale
Dartmouth-Harvard	Harvard	Dartmouth	Harvard	Dartmouth	Dartmouth	Dartmouth
Texas-Rice	Texas	Texas	Texas	Texas	Texas	Texas

THE COWL, OCTOBER 22, 1958

Multitude Of Items Discussed Governor Roberts In Three-Hour Congress Session NamesFr.Fennell To 15-Man Group

Verbal deliberations du the Student Congress held Monday, October 6, continued for over three hours as some 25 points of discussion—reports points and resolutions-came to the floor

Major resolutions on the giant agenda included: request for a free day after the P.C.St. John's basketball game weekend; sales of official Providence College blazers and contest to determine the emblem; facilities to ex-clude girls of high school age clude girls of high school age from the regular Harkins Hall Friday night dances; provisions for training the P.C. mascot, dalmation Friar Boy V. Intra-congress discussion was highlighted by a request from representative Thomas Grady for an anology or explanation for an apology or explanation tative Charles from representative Charles Goetz for the latest Cowl Student Congress report.

In his interrogation, Grady charged that the article, appearing in the September 25 issue, had been biased in favor of the sophomore class and had "slan-dered the Student Congress." Grady demanded the explana-tion and apology of Goetz in as much as Goetz was a sophomore and a Cowl staff member. Congressman Robert Oppel thereupon questioned the parliamen-tary correctness of such a demand.

Oppel's point of order having uppel's point of order having been overruled, discussion con-tinued during which congress-man Goetz answered that the article had been strictly "with-in the legal limits of accurate journalism." Acting editor of the Cowl Leonard Clingham ex-tended official Cowl regrets that the contentions such as representative Grady's came up. "From now on such complaints and demands should be made at the office of the Cowl," Cling-ham added.

Principal resolutions passed

Request to be made of the administration for an additional class free day the P.C.St. John's basketball game weekend of December 5.

Congressman Daniel Hall didrawn up by the secretary Al Gellene—by moving that in-stead a request be made for two additional free days at Christmas vacation time.

Gellene's resolution was accepted, however, for the reasons that team support would be in-creased and that class cuts at that time would be disadvan-

Sales of official Providence College blazers.

In this resolution, authored In this resolution, authored by congressman Charles Me-Aree, a blazer color, custom tailoring company, official crest contest and provision for a "Blazer Committee" to run sales and all facets of the proj-cet wave designated Unput ect were designated. Unani-mously approved, this official blazer action terminated 4 years of Student Congress debate on the subject.

R HASKINS PHARMACY YOUR PRESCRIPTION CENTER TWO REGISTERED PHARMACISTS ON DUTY ALBERT F. LILLA, B.S., Ph.G., Prop.

895 SMITH STREET

· Facility to exclude girls of high school age-eighteen and younger-from the regular Fri-younger---trom the regular Fri-day night P.C. dances. Drawn up by congressman Grady, the resolution was enact-ed due to the "overwhelming quantitative competition" given female collegians by the younger set

• Facility to afford obedience training for P.C.'s dalmatian mascot Friar Boy V.

Team support by equipping the college with a well man-nered mascot was the object of this resolution. A training committee chairman, representative Peter McCarthy, was appointed and limited funds appropriated.

Rev. Charles V. Fennell, O.P., Vice President of Administra-tion and Financial Affairs of Providence College, has been appointed by Gov. Dennis J. Roberts to a fifteen member commission to study sources of financial aid for college students

The commission's findings The commission's indings and recommendations concern-ing the feasibility of various means of providing loans to worthy working college students will be presented to the Rhode Island state legislature on or before Tetras 1050 before February 15, 1958.

The commission was author-ized by the Rhode Island General Assembly at its last session.

A PURE WHITE MODERN FILTER

is only the beginning of a WINSTON

It's what's that counts up front

Jubilant Sophomores are shown after their unprecedented victory over the Frosh.

NEWPORT CREAMERY

670 Smith Street

ICE CREAM FOUNTAIN

SANDWICHES

Elmhurst Barber Shop

673 Smith Street 8 A.M. - 6 P.M. Daily Sat. 8 A.M. - 5 P.M. 3 BARBERS CLOSED MONDAYS

CIGARETTER

FINER FILTER OR FINER FLAN

KING OD SIZE

Iston

FILTER - CIGARETTES

Winston puts its FILTER-BLEND

up front...fine, flavorful

tobaccos, specially processed for filter smoking

R. J. Reynolds Tob. Co. Winston-Salem, N. C. WINSTON TASTES GOOD LIKE A CIGARETTE SHOULD !

CAMPUS BARBER SHOP ALUMNI HALL 2 Barbers

Ninslo,

8 to 5 Mon. thru Friday 8 to 12 Noon Saturday Andy Corsini, Prop.

IF IT HASN'T GOT IT

HERE

COT IT

Forty-Five Invested Into Theta Chapter of D.E.S. .

(Continued from Page 1) operation, and pride in D.E.S. to spread its influence not only on the campus but further afield as the opportunities present themselves.

"If D.E.S. is to take its proper role in American intel-lectual life, it is only going to achieve this through the indi-vidual efforts of its members each member and not "the man next to him."

Fr. Gardner then introduced Monsignor Arthur T. Geoghe-gan, '35, Chaplain of the New-man Club at Brown University and Dean of the Catholic Teachers College in Providence.

Monsignor Geoghegan gave an address on "The Pluralistic Society in Which We Live.' He traced graphically for his listeners the European roots of Amer-Ma ican Catholicism and showed some of the unnecessary de pendence which still exists.

4

Those inducted into the So ciety were

Patrick politis ard Saundo Weymouth, Massar, biology, Waterbury, biology, Waterbury, biology, Chemistry, biology, midente vidente Dence, politi-n: George Boyd, in-rovidence: Anthony sinese. Providence: biology, Stewart biology, Stewart biology, Stewart Y.; George ice, West En d N V

Champagne Conn.; Anti obert. Sensale, history Maurice Cagnor Inngunges, Woonsocket; Paul ingfield Patrick Conley, Pater willin Willin Laudern ard, biol alon, F control Scatton, o cleck; Francis Hom rovidence; James Concord, N. H.; business, Providen ne, political scienc Rohert Rugger, Conn; Lucien 1 Providence; Jame Biology, New Michael Charles, N. Y.; Richard Michael Charles, N. Y.; Richard Providence; Richard Providence; Richard Providence: Alumni Mem-Reverend John P. Kenny Ph.D.: Reverend Louis A bers: O.P. Ryan, O.P., Ph.D.; Faculty Ma: Edwin K. Gora, D.Sc., Ph.M.

Campus News Briefs

Third Order

All students who are interested in learning about the Third Order of St. Dominic Third Order of St. Dominic have been asked by Rev. Fred-erick M. Jelly, O.P., director, to attend a meeting at 1:40 p.m., Tuesday, in Aquinas Chapel.

Veritas

All student activity sheets are to be turned in by today.

Those students who have not as yet had their pictures taken are urged to do so immediate-ly. The deadline for the pic-tures is October 25.

Some students' pictures must be retaken; check the bulletin board to see if a retake of your picture will be necessary.

Placement Office

Important information for college students and graduates concerning Federal Civil Service Examinations is now avail-able to seniors at the Placement Office. Mr. Timlin announced last Friday

Taunton Club

Robert Gilbert was elected president of the Taunton Club at the third meeting of the club, held on October 8, secre-tary James Kelleher announced this week.

Other officers elected includ-ed: Robert Williams, vice-presi-dent; James Kelleher, secre-tary; and Donald Ricketts, treasurer

Club member Don Emond has begun, with the aid of the alumbegon, with the aid of the auth-ni office, to gather the neces-sary information to contact all P. C. alumni from Taunton for the purpose of arranging a communion breakfast. The breakfast to be held in the near future would be a joint alumni-student project.

Chemistry Seminar

Dr. Harold R. Nace of Brown University delivered before an audience of teachers, graduates, and seniors in chemistry, a lec-ture entitled: Some Elimination Reactions of Sulfonate Esters. This lecture was the highlight of the seminar sponsored by the chemistry department of Provi-dence College, Tuesday, October 14. Dr. Nace is an assistant pro-fessor of chemistry at Brown.

Albertus Magnus Club

Albertus Magnus Club Officers of the Albertus Mag-nus Club were elected at its first meeting of the year, held last Tuesday, October 14. Ac-tivities of the club were brief-ly discussed and a tentative program was set for the year.

The newly elected officers The newly elected officers are: Tom Harding, president; Paul O'Malley, vice-president; Don Schmutz, treasurer; Norm Dubois, secretary. The club is under the supervision of Rev. R. S. Gonagle, O.P.

Frosh Appears on TV

P.C. freshman John Gartner appeared as part of a featured judo act on the Arthur Godfrey Show last night. The program was broadcast over the nationwide facilities of the CBS television network.

Gartner and his partner in Gartner and his partner in the judo exhibition appeared on Godfrey's morning show four weeks ago. The duo also per-formed on a telecast of the Ed Sullivan Show in January.

The freshman economics major is a resident of Pawtucket.

presents its

P. C. MIDNIGH BLUE BLAZER

to be sold at the College Bookstore

The first fitting of this custom styled Blazer will be on Tuesday. October 28th.

Total price including alterations is only

31.95

A $5.00 deposit is required toward the purchase

Congress Enacts Blazer Tradition

(Continued from Page 1) required toward the purchas price of $31.95. The bill, submitted Charles McAree and David Duffy of the sophomore class, stated: (1) that the tradition should be established at the colshould be established at the col-lege; (2) that the Robert Collins Blazer company of New York City shall have the sole right of distributing the blazers on distributing the blazers on campus; (3) that the color of the blazer shall be midnight blue; and (4) that a campus-wide con-test shall be held to determine the emblem that shall be interwoven on the blazer pocket. Rules established for the above-mentioned contest are as follows:

Only students presently at-tending Providence College are eligible to submit entries. Design should be symbolic of the aims and traditions of the college. Color may be used sparingly essign for greater th the thought t the midnight id which will be the blazer.

color of the blazer. Entries will be judged on the originality of design while complying with above men-tioned symbolism.

Entries may be submitt an appropriately marke in the Student Congre umber of differ ns may be entered by ne individual, and all es will become the prope the Blazor Committee.

Design should be drawn on paper not to exceed 12x12 inches. Creator of the design selected for the blazer emblem will be awarded a custom-fitted senior from Grandview Nyack, N. Y., chairman; Joseph Cianciolo, a junior from Cranston, R. I.; and sophomores J. Clement Cicilline of Providence and James M. Geary of Lowell,

A future dinner dance, a jazz party in Stephen Hall, and a concert in conjunction with the Providence College Glee Club were tentatively planned by the Junior Veridames at the most recent of their bi-monthly meet-ings, last Sunday afternoon.

Rev. Thomas McBrien, O.P., college chaplain, opened the meeting with a lecture on the theme: Christ's Mystical Body is the reason for the Church's true unity.

thirty - five Approximately young ladies attended, and be-gan forming committees, one of which is to investigate possi-bilities for holding a concert with the Providence College Glee Club. The concert would be centered on a Christmas be centered on a Christmas theme and followed by a brief social. More information about the affair will be available at the Veridames' next meeting,

ENGLISH: talking dog

THINKLISH: SPEKINGESE

after consultation with the Glee Club's president and moderator. In closing the brief meeting, the president and her assistants circulated membership bro-chures and the president stated the club's general desire-that more participate in its activi ties

Defunct Group Reactivated By Campus Congress

Fourteen men are candidates to represent Providence College on the cheerleading squad which has recently been reacon tivated under the Student Congress

Arthur Boucher, president of the Congress, appointed John Sykes, a senior and member of sykes, a senior and memory ago, the cheerleaders two years ago, to lead the body. The cheerlead-ers could not be activated last year due to financial difficul-

"There was less competitive spirit last year than there would have if the college had been spurred on by cheerlead-ers," remarked Boucher.

This year the Student Con-gress has assumed the respon-sibility of sponsoring the cheer-leaders and supplying the group with uniforms. It is the hope of the Congress that eventually the Athletic Department will as sume financial and organiza-tional responsibility for the cheerleaders. "We also hope that the student body will give the cheerleaders its complete backing," said Boucher. The only qualifications for a cheerleader are "interest school spirit and a willing in willingness to do something about it.

College Stations Will Broadcast Election Results

WDOM will present complete WDOM will present complete coverage of election results on November 4, in conjunction with WBRU and WRIU, the Brown and Rhode Island Uni-versity stations. The program will begin at 8 o'clock and will run unil most of the significant results have been determined, reports Jim Sheehan, WDOM president. This concentius affort will

This cooperative effort will presented from Brown and relayed to the other stations. An intricate system of coordination will be employed in this regard, since the stations hope not only to afford the statistical results, but to have on hand leading personalities to inter-pret and comment on the elec-tion trends. These will include several Providence College professo

On-the-spot interviews with students from the three colleges will highlight the broadcast. The students interviewed will be free to express their political opinions and explain their viewpoints concerning the elections. During the course of the eve-ning, the listeners will be taken to Democratic and Republican to Democratic and Republican headquarters in Providence. The conceding and acceptance speeches of the gubernatorial candidates will be carried on the broadcast. In addition to this, it is expected that many of the state's top political figures will be available for comment.

417 SMITH STREET SPORTSWEAR-JACKETS-SHOES-SLACKS POLISHED CHINOS-VAN HEUSEN SHIRTS TIES-UNDERWEAR-RAINWEAR Open Thurs. & Fri. nites Free Alterations WE CATER TO STUDENTS

Lucky Strike presents

-the funniest, easiest way yet to make money!

PUT IN A GOOD WORD AND MAKE

Speak English all your life and what does it get you? Nothing! But start speaking Thinklish and you may make $25! Just put two words together to form a new (and much funnier) one. Example: precision flight of bumblebees: Swarmation. (Note: the two original words form the new one: swarm+formation.) We'll pay $25 each for the hundreds and hundreds of new Thinklish words judged best-and we'll feature many of them in our college ads. Send your Thinklish words (with English translations) to Lucky Strike, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Enclose name, address, college or university, and class. And while you're at it, light up a Lucky. Get the full, rich taste of fine tobacco-the honest taste of a Lucky Strike.

BAT.C.

IGARETTES

Product of The American Pobacco Company -" Tobacco is our middle name

Mage

Elmhurst Men's Shop Decision of the judges will be final. Contest closes at 5 p.m. on Friday, October 31. Included on the blazer com-mittee were Kevin McMahon, a

ENGLISH: writing