Feast To Be Celebrated: Providence College Holiday Postponed

Providence College, along with the rest of the Catholic world, will celebrate next Monday as the feast of St. Thomas. Aquinas, Angelic Doctor, most renowned Christian thinker, and patron of Catholic universities, academies and schools. On campus, the feast will be marked by the offering of Masses by the Dominican Fathers. The customary school holiday has been postponed due to the upcoming National Invitational Tournament on March 10-19. A spokesman for the Dean of Students stated that the free day will be given at a time to be disclosed in the near future.

Monday will be the 696th anniversary of the death of St. Thomas and will also be the the 696th anniversary of his canonization.

The solemn process of canonization was begun in 1218, promoted by King Robert of Sicily, and supported by the petitions of the hierarchy, clergy, universities, and the Order of Preachers. Three Dominican Cardinals—Nicholas Aubertin, Nicholas de Feasville and William de Godineo—completed the process in Avignon on July 18, 1323 and in the presence of Pope John XXIII. The Cardinals, great many Archbishops and Bishops, and many princes and ambassadors, the Bull of Canonization was read.

In 1377 Pope Pius V proclaimed Saint Thomas Doctor of the Church. The Angelic Doctor's glory was revealed by very many miracles, ninety-six of which were formally attested and submitted as evidence for his canonization (two are necessary for canonization and two more for Canonization). The four of the greater ones:

- While St. Thomas' body lay embalmed in the Abbey of Fossa Nova, the subprior, John Ferentino, who was totally blind, placed his hand on the Saint's right shoulder and immediately regained his sight.

Beyer Speaks on Russia, Says Sciences Are Stressed

By Edward Bartolino

"After his ten-year school program the average Russian student is far ahead of an American school graduate in wealth of scientific knowledge," Doctor Robert Beyer of the physics department at Brown University told an audience last week. Dr. Beyer lectured on his experience in Russia and stressed for Beatification and two years hence.

Dr. Beyer pointed out that little progress is being made in Russia and government in Russia is quite good as compared to conditions in this country.

"Credit must be given to the Russian Government for increasing the living standards of a vast majority of its people," he mentioned.

One student asked if there were a possibility of a Russian doesn't get to college, he starts to work in a factory or in agriculture. The opportunities for other jobs. "When a student graduates from a university he is assured a favorable place in the job market," he stated.

In stating that the universities in Russia are primarily scientific centers, he said that surprising
MEMO FROM THE EDITOR:

Rocks are again being thrown at American youth, and this time our own student body can’t even claim to be simon-pure. "Institutions where large scale organized cheating is not known are a minority" was the decision of Saturday Evening Post researchers in their January 9 edition.

Although large scale, organized cheating is not quite a reality as yet on this campus, tightened academic standards and an increasing enrollment bode ill for the future unless a determined effort is made to nip academic dishonesty in the bud.

Unfortunately, I feel that the seeds of the problem here must be laid in part at the doorstep of the faculty. Although our students are fundamentally honest, it seems unfair to deliberately put their integrity to the test through faculty inaction.

Yet, while professors would blanch at the prospect of countenancing a distribution of obscene literature on campus, too few take seriously the avoidance of a real occasion of sin created only yards in front of the teacher’s desk. It is no less than moral myopia to expect that students packed elbow to elbow in an examination room will not occasionally find themselves susceptible to the stress of the situation. For countless students the easily copied numerals and letters of objective examinations only smooth the path to a fall.

Faculty members who figuratively dangle the candy in front of Junior’s nose cannot escape part of the responsibility when cheating opportunities are successfully seized upon.

An essential step along the road to greater examination security should be scrapping of the fetish that all students taking Test X must be grouped in the closest, most compact corner available. Highly successful experiments have recently been conducted in which examinees are assigned to color-coded desks, separated by a radius of several feet from individuals taking a similar examination. On our own campus, a first-year theology professor and a third-year teacher used a similar system with gratifying results during the January exam period.

Such action, along with an intensification of individual action by each professor, would make a potential wave of cheating wither on the vine. Only remove the temptation and the basic integrity of the student will tend to assert itself.

“Inflation Is Nothing New”

It was hardly noticed, but even in the days of the earliest Americans prices were rising. Prices have been rising up for nearly two and a half centuries, according to a study by President Eisenhower’s Cabinet Committee on Price Stability for Economic Growth. The historic rise averages out to only one-half of one per cent a year, for the last 245 years. Over so long a period, such a rate of price increase doesn’t seem so bad. But there’s a catch. While it took 200 years for prices to double — up to a quarter century ago — they have doubled again in the past 25 years!

Education Bill Will Benefit 55-63 Vets

A bill (S. 1138) calling for the extension of educational benefits to veterans who serve in the armed forces between January 31, 1955, and July 1, 1963, is expected to be brought to the floor of the House of Representatives within the next two weeks.

The bill, referred to as the Veterans Readjustment Act of 1959, was introduced by Sen. Ralph Yarborough of Texas during the first session of the 86th Congress. It passed the Senate by a vote of 57 to 31 last July, and is now in the House Veterans' Affairs Committee.

The United States National Student Association has come out in full support of S. 1138, and is preparing to testify before the committee. Sen. Hoffmann, President of the Association, issued a statement urging NSA member schools to take action in the proposal and to urge their Congressmen regarding their views.

"In our opinion, every student who wishes to complete his education without an inordinate amount of work and financial strain—will be greatly from the passage of this bill," said Sen. Hoffmann. He outlined that the question of college education has been of major concern to students but in recent years, with the increase in World War II veterans, there is a need for more assistance to veterans who served during the Korean Emergency.

"The basic question in re- gard to the bill," said Hoffmann, "is whether or not the educa- tional benefits granted to war- time veterans should be made available to the millions of Americans who are required to serve in the peacetime armed forces, under the selective service Act. This is a new question in that large proportion of armed forces, substantial over- seas and outpost service in Europe and in other places in war or in occupation of the United States.

American College Graduates Offered Jobs Abroad

Demand of U. S. business and industry for young men qualified for assignment in American international operations is reflected by the placement record of the class graduated at the mid-year by the American Institute for Foreign Trade.

According to statistics released by Mrs. Michel J. Erickson, director of placement of the institute, 81 percent of the class was placed by the end of last week.

She explained that 50 percent of the class had already accepted offers from a total of 26 companies, and that an additional 30 percent were still deciding between choices of offers or completing final interviews.

"We are confident that the remaining 20 percent will have no trouble making a connection in the international field within the next few weeks," she said.

Mrs. Erickson said that a total of 26 companies had sent representatives on campus interviews and that representatives of an additional four companies had made exploratory visits to evaluate the institute as a source of potential employees.

Further, 43 companies had received offers and were forwarded for employment evaluation.

In contrast to these figures, only 11 companies actually interviewed during the 1958-59 semester period and 38 reviewed data sheets and resumes sent.

"This is sufficient evidence for us, " said Mrs. Erickson.

FROSH MIXER

The class of 1961 sponsored a buffet supper and dance for freshmen only, Sunday night. The affair attracted over 300. Girls were in attendance from Amhurst, Regina, Anna Maria Regina, and Sacred Heart. Music was provided by the college orchestra.

Committees in charge of the dance included Jim L evee (chairman), Carl Spen- ner, Tom Murray, and Jim O'Leary.
Editorially Speaking

Freshmen Impress...

Students reading the Freshman Weekend publicity notices, which have cropped up around the campus in the past few days, have gotten amused and appreciative chuckles. The freshman publicists seem to have a deft sense of humor and the knack of formulating just the right catchy phrase.

Last year the week of March 2, held much excitement for the four thousand eager fans who were preparing to go to New York to cheer on the N.Y.T.-bound Friars.

Dr. Thoemmes had just given a lengthy session at the spring student forum stating that the starting point of all human society was the home.

Going back another year to 1958, this was Homecoming and the college was graduating on the Rhode Island. The Hoopers were preparing to leave for the Class of '60 "a very good" Fordham team.

In 1957 this was Homecoming and the college grads were planning dances, games, and concerts. At that time a young Soph, Jim Swartz, was building up his basketball reputation.

Nineteen years ago, in 1941, a student named Wilkins was breaking up the intramural basketball league. Students began to delve into the theory of flight, taking lessons at Hills Grove Airport. George Harris, center for the new Fordham football team, signed to play pro football.

Back another two years to 1939, the Cowl reported that Cardinal Pacelli had been elected Pope and had chosen the name of Pius XII. The college had a new ping pong champ in the person of freshman Tom McDonald. A college historian finally diagnosed the disease as the jitter bug as spectacular but not fatal. What would be his opinion of Rock and Roll?

Setting It Straight...

Reprinted below is the text of an editorial published last week. We ask you to re-read it carefully and consider whether the sentiments expressed therein are worthy of your approval:

Congratulations to the junior class for their display of initiative in publishing a mimeographed class newspaper. Very rarely, our point is that the expression of opinions in print carries with it the responsibility to conform to the journalistic ideals of objectivity and fairness.

In The Cowl, for example, we take pains to eliminate personal comment or coloration of news stories by the reporters. Personal opinion is strictly segregated and clearly indicated through the use of italics and signed articles and the editorial column.

From your readers, we are a fine and commendable thing, with potentiality for untold benefits to the class involved. But the fact that they are run by student politicians rather than student journalists should be kept as far in the background as possible.

Now, if you will, we would like you to consider today's letter to the editor which criticizes our admonition to keep campus journalism on a responsible level.

If The Shoe Fits...

Just to set the record straight, last week's "Juniors Journalize..." editorial, whose text is reprinted above, should have read: "a huge commercial success..."

Dean Martin and Tony Curtis lead the rest of the cast in a Jewish-Jazz idiom which has captured every nuance of rhythm and intonation we are pleased to add the senior class and the Carolan Lecture Club. Both of these organizations are presently engaged in action to play and distribute recordings of the college's several school songs.

First of all, we will take up the matter of diet. In the past, babies were raised largely on table scraps. This, however, was outlawed by the Smoot-Hawley Act, and today babies are fed on a scientific formula consisting of dextrose, maltose, distilled water, evaporated milk and a twist of lemon peel.

EAT, DRINK AND BE MARRIED

On a recent tour of seventy million American colleges, I was struck by two outstanding facts: first, the great number of students who smoke, and second, the great number of students who are married.

The first phenomenon—the vast multitude of Marlboro smokers—comes as no surprise, for everyone knows, the college student is an enormously intelligent organism, and what could be more intelligent than to smoke Marlboro? After all, pleasure is what you smoke for and pleasure is what Marlboro delivers—pleasure in every puff of that good golden tobacco.

If you think flavor went out when filters came in—try a Marlboro. Light up and see for yourself... Or, if you like, don't light up. Just take a Marlboro, unlighted, and puff a couple of times. Get that wonderful flavor? You bet you do! Even without lighting you can taste Marlboro's excellent filter blend. Also you can make your package last practically forever.

No, I say, it was not the great number of Marlboro smokers that astounded me, it was the great number of married students. You may find this hard to believe but latest statistics show that at some convenient college age, the average undergraduate bride graduates runs as high as thirty percent! And, what is even more startling, fully one quarter of these marriages have been blessed with issue!

Here now is a figure to give you pause! Not that we don't all love babies. Of course we do! Babies are pink and fetching rascals, gives to winos moiles and drool expressions, and we all like nothing better than to rain kisses on their soft little skulls. But just the same, the young campus couple who are parents for the first time the baby is likely to be a source of consternation. Therefore we devote today's column to a few helpful hints on the care of babies.
LETTERS

To The Editor:

We congratulate The Cowl on the addition of the epithet "Editorially Speaking." Speaking to the top of its so-called editorial page, the process of slitting news and editorial sap now becomes a much more facile task. With regard to the latest in a series of educational editorials, no doubt the product of laborious preparation on the part of The Cowl editorial board (whichever that is!), we discover under "Juniors Journalistic" (conforming to the "... ideas of objectivity and intellectual integrity") the fact that class publications... ran by student politicians rather than student journalists should be kept as far as the background as possible.

The only obvious implication seems to be that because the two editors of The Scout (whimsically called) are student Government representatives, the publication is therefore somehow steeped in political bias implicit in every word, as compared to the political detachment Cowl, whose editorial columns should be kept as far in the background as possible.

To the Editor:

I would like to re-enter the political scene.

I am fully aware of the responsibilities connected with the office of president in our freshman year, and did not include a "news column" in it. Having served as class president the past year, I now feel that I have the time and confidence that the important of the position which the importance of proper representation of our college than the student body, in my opinion. Ferrie, HEld COURT again last night in Raymond Hall. Fact, you can catch the hockey team’s most proficient penalty killer. It was in this capacity that Ferrie gained prominence in this junior year. His speed and sound determination added credibility to Eccleston’s claim that he was the top defensive man in the East.

This season, though, has been a great one for Ferrie on a team that neared greatness at season’s end. His top performance Saturday and took him to college.

Top man on the Friar squad was Lucien Renouf with 284. This is the junior’s top performance to date. Ed Harvey and Ed Libucha tied for second on the PC team, both with 281.

Ferrie’s three-year skaters, sounds off on just about everything— NCAA hockey selections, the hockey picture at PC, being a second baby brother, graduation, and sleeping everything with a plug for record-star Bobby Darin.

TO SAY THAT Ferrie is the Paul Connolly or Jim Hadnot of the hockey team is to approx. the point. He’s not a second guesser or a loud mouth, the club’s top goal getters and sidemen his nose in the New team on his mind.

Glennon’s apropos nickname has dogged Ferrie since his last appearance in the Hamden uniform, when he dented his nose in the New England’s meeting.

Ferrie, one of Tom Eccleston- ton University’s star Bob Marquis.

Tonight the two senior aces once more will be pitted against each other, when RU squares each one, when RU squares once more will be pitted against the Friars on the 50th anniversary of RI.

GETTING BACK to Ferrie’s “after check” talks, the source economics major had next year’s team on his mind.

“Jimmy Gogar’s line will be the top in the East next year. The time problem then arose. The top defensive man in the East is Paul Connolly or Jim Hadnot. But that’s a hard nut to crack.”

There wasn’t much doubt in Ferrie’s mind as to the Friar’s toughest loss this year. “That BC game was really rough. They’re bad news on their own ice.”

ON TONIGHT’s contest with BU, Ferrie thinks, or rather feels, a win and if he’s anywhere as accurate with that prediction as he’s been with some others recently, you can chalk up a PC win.

“What about Marquis, Bert?”

“Can you say about him,” the senior replied. “He’s got everything a forward should have and really knows how to use it.”

Cagers Stagger Stags: Seniors Pace 100-57 Romp

Capt. Len Wilkens, John Woods, Dick Whalen and Bob Gibson bade farewell to Alumni Hall Monday night, giving P.C. fans as well as the Fairfield University's Stags something to remember by.

Playing brilliantly, these seniors were vital factors in the 100-57 romp over Fairfield, the Friars' first 100-point harvest of the season.

Paced by John Egan, PC breezed to a 22-4 lead in six minutes, and were galloping, 55-17, at halftime. Egan, playing less than half the time, scored 16 points in diverse fashion.

Jim Hadnot saw limited service too, only the first 10 minutes, but his service was limited only in time, not in accomplishment.

Coach Mullaney started his four seniors and Egan in the second half and in six minutes they amassed the margin to 79-30. Then they departed, being replaced by an all-soph team—Terry Nywe, John Hickey, Bob Siemba, Dick Leonard and Tom Fullan.

The sophs made it 84-43 during the next seven minutes, when the combination was broken up by the insertion of Dick Hoffman for Leonard.

PC was out front 96-49 at 1:47 with 1:25 left midway in the second half. From then on it was just a case of playing out the string, as PC was too fast for the invaders over in the waning minutes.

Friars Face Old Coach Tonight

Three months ago tomorrow Coach Joe Mullaney sent his Providence College basketball team out onto the Alumni Hall court for their first game of the year, against American International College. Since then the Friars have compiled an impressive 20-4 record and claim victories over such teams as Santa Clara, St. Joseph's, Niagara and, of course, Holy Cross.

Tonight Coach Mullaney will send his charges, led by All-American candidate Capt. Len Wilkens, onto the Keeney Gym hardwood to face the URI Rams, who are roamed by the man who tutored Wilkens during his first year here at Providence, Ernie Calverly.

Calverly, who played for URI under the great Frank Kearney and later for the Providence Steaminers in the NBA, is best remembered for his court-length loop through the smog-filled Madison Square Garden atmosphere, putting the Rams into the finals of the N.I.T.

Wilkens, John Woods, Bob Gibson, and Dick Whelan will play their last regular season game for the Back and White tonight. All four have distinguishing personalities during their

Friars Host to Terriers: Bruins in Season Final

Boston University will be hosted by the Providence College hockey team tonight in 8-12 at the Ren-Mar Island Auditorium. The Friars will then close the season with a game against Brown University at the Auditorium on Saturday.

The Terriers, who have a 14-7 record, are led by two-time All-American center Marquis, who may become hockey's first three time All-American. He has exceeded BU's all time scoring record of 141 points by 6 points. His improved goal-tending has enabled the Terriers to win 8 of their last 10 games.

Bill Ferrin, PC defensive ace, held Marquis to just four shots in the first Friar-Terrier game. The Friar star, incidentally, was a teammate of PC's Red O'Callahan and Joe Garey, in high school.

Wilkens, John Woods, Dick Whalen and Bob Gibson, who scored the Bruins' winning-goal in BU's 2-1 victory over Providence early in the season.

Lenny Named All-Star, All-American

Capt. Len Wilkens of the Providence College basketball team received two single honors over the past weekend when he was named to the East squad for the 12th Annual Fresh Air Fund All-Star College basketball game last Thursday and to The Sporting News' second All-American team Saturday.

Wilkens joined Jerry West of West Virginia and Jim Hagan at Madison Tech on the East squad for the game which will be played at Madison Square Garden March 26. He was named at the same time as Ron Johnson, who joined Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and Darrell Imhoff of California on the West quintet.

Many of the men on these teams will play in the final Olympic trials at Denver the week after the East-West game. Most of the Olympians will be included on the rosters in this game.

The players in this game are selected by the opposing coaches. Len Haimann of NYU, the East coach, and George Smith of Cincinnati, the West mentor.

Lenny was right behind St. Bonaventure's Tom Stith in the All-America aggregation. Stith was the last man selected on the first team. Others on the starting squad are Robertson, Jerry West, Imhoff, and Jerry Lucas of Ohio State.

Others, besides Wilkens, on the second team are Terry Diehinger (Purdue), Roger Rider (Georgia Tech), Len Chaffter (North Carolina), Bill Kennedy (Temple), and Phil McGinnis (Bradley). Walker and Kennedy tied for the last spot on the team.

Boston University was crushed by the Providence College hockey team 9-2 Monday night at the Ren-Mar Island Auditorium. The Friars will then close the season with a game against Brown University at the Auditorium on Saturday.

BOB MARQUIS All-American

ly. At halftime it was P.C. 24, B.U. 0. 20.

After that the Friars looked more like themselves, roaring away to a 37-22 lead midway in the second half. From then on it was just a case of playing out the string, as PC was too fast for the invaders over in the waning minutes.

FROSH SNAP BACK WITH 3 WINS

Bouncing back in fine style after suffering its first defeat of the season at the hands of the Bearcats, the Friars in their second game of the week. Providence College's Freshman basketball team piled its season record to 9-1 with comfortable victories over Holy Cross and Boston University.

In the Holy Cross fray, played at Alumni Hall last Tuesday, the Friars were made to work for their triumphs. Providence College's Freshman basketball team piled its season record to 9-1, with comfortable victories over Holy Cross and Boston University.
