NFCCS' Elect O'Herron Its World Affairs Chairman

Senior Thomas O'Herron was elected International Affairs Vice-President of the National Federation of Catholic College Students at the annual congress of the organization at the University of Louisville, Kentucky.

O'Herron had represented the NFCCS at an International Affairs meeting.

As International Affairs Vice-President, O'Herron will head NFCCS' international affairs section and will be the federation's representative to all international groups.

He was elected by the federation's programs in the international area, seated at Trinity College in Washington, D.C.

O'Herron went to Louisville as a member of the New England Region of NFCCS, and then was head of the regional group. He will then run for office on the national level.

Four hundred or so students who have failed to secure their Student Congress Activity cards, will be excluded from participating in all functions social or otherwise held under the auspices of the Congress.

The response to the cards by the classes was good, as 1700 cards were purchased from the Congress.

As representative to this group from the United States, O'Herron now has the responsibility of explaining the conference's ideals to American students, helping them to develop their own programs.

At their convention, the representatives of the many Catholic student groups heard lectures explaining the duties and responsibilities of Catholic students.

SC Signs Lalin For October 4

Lester Lalin's internationally famed society band will headline the second annual Fall Frolic, sponsored by the Student Congress of Providence College.

The dance will be held in the balcony of Rhodes-on-the-Pawtuxet, located in Cranston, Rhode Island, on Friday evening, October 14, from 9 to 1.

Senior John J. Hurley and James Carroll are co-chairmen of the annual event. After several weeks of contract negotiations, the Congressmen were able to secure the services of Lalin, and they hope that the arrangement will spur ticket sales to a record-breaking number.

Lalin's orchestra has played at many international dance events as well as outstanding dances throughout the United States. Particularly impressive in the Lalin record is the fact that he has many appearances in the New York area, especially the debutante and society balls.

After the publication of his first record album several years ago, Lalin broke all existing records for orchestral albums. His appearance here will be the second time that he has played for a student body.

MEMO FROM THE EDITOR:

Each spring is a time of miracles on this campus. Dozens of class politics perform the remarkable feat of "standing on the record," a phantom record that they haven't got.

Do you have any idea of how much is in your class treasury? Of course not. Last year one class treasurer was forced to admit that he didn't know himself. And, yet, he and others like him have the temerity to ask for your vote each election time on the basis of their "record."

What record?

No one needs or wants an itemized report of every postage stamp bought by the class and college student governments, but, where hundreds of dollars are involved, the students have a right to know where their money goes and how wisely it is spent. The present conspiracy of silence merely makes a mockery of any attempt to evaluate a student administration's alleged "record."

The Cowl understands that the senior class is currently in severe financial hot water. It's a pretty well kept secret, though. What's the excuse?

What is obviously called for are a series of periodic, clear-cut reports on the financial results of each and every student affair conducted by our class, club, or Student Congress officers. And that means publicity on the resounding flops as well as the money-making successes. If the Carolan Club can do it, so can the classes.

Now is the time for student officers to step forward with this information of their own accord. They owe at least this much to the people who elect them. They owe at least this much to build a REAL record for their constituents, to build a REAL record for the coming year.

In his position as International Affairs Vice-President and head of the secretariat within the NFCCS, O'Herron will have an opportunity to create a better understanding of international affairs in the Catholic colleges and universities.

The secretariat prepares monthly bulletins treating current international problems. Local groups can contact the secretariat to obtain any information about NFCCS programs. The group also runs an "information program" allowing Catholic students to prepare facts about world affairs. Speakers are also provided.

Because of his unique experience in Lisbon, O'Herron is expected to speak at NFCCS schools as often as possible.

He explained that, "our chief aim is to point out that what really divides the world is not so much a question of economics as a question of spiritual values, and that Catholic students have a responsibility to aid in the application of Christian solutions to the problems of the world."

O'Herron's stay in Portugal was "one of the most profound and rewarding experiences of my life."

At the convention, he served as simul-taneous translator, working from French to English, helping students gain the experience of meeting the students from various countries, the FC senior got a chance to visit some of the sights of Portugal. The entire delegation made a pilgrimage to Fátima, stopping at Nazaré and Batalha on the return trip to Lisbon.

At the NFCCS National Congress in Louisville, Providence was represented by Fred Sette and Robert Oppel, FC senior delegate to NF and Student Congress president, respectively. Oppel took part in the annual Student Government President's Conference sponsored by NFCCS.

CHECKOUT POST STARTED

Bookstore Adds Stock

The Providence College Bookstore is beginning another year of service to the students of the college complete with new fixtures and a new checkout system.

Upperclassmen will notice how the newly-installed floor and fluorescent lighting are designed to add to the brightness of the store, while reducing costs. The checkout counter will be aided by the addition of a new checkout system that will allow the students to use it for sale of office supplies, and books.

Another innovation of the bookstore is the modern drug display which gives the student access to three times more drugs and accessories as in previous years, according to Mr. Oehler. The new display gives us additional time to handle more customers.

The newly inaugurated checkout system, explains Mr. Sullivan, "is for the greater convenience of the students, and gives them additional time to handle more customers."

Another innovation of the bookstore is the modern drug display which gives the student access to three times more drugs and accessories as in previous years, according to Mr. Sullivan.

The bookstores have increased their stock of writing supplies and paperbound volumes, of which there are over one thousand selections now on hand. Also new is the greeting card display located in the rear of the store. The Bookstore is under the supervision of the Rev. Thomas Fallan, O.P., and the management of Mr. Daniel Sullivan, who is entering his fifteenth year in that position.

Student workers at the bookstore are William Scallon, Albert Girard, and John Pierce.

The Bookstore is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on weekdays and 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays.

PC Enrollment Up:
2139 Students Set
New All-Time High

Enrollment at Providence College this year has broken the all-time record for first-time students and the college and the senior class has a total of 415 members. Of the 2089 new applicants, 740 of 35% finally were permitted to matriculate. All together 1146 were permitted by the Board of Admissions.

Father Gardner, the assistant registrar, gave two reasons for the enrollment increase. First, that there are more students who are college conscious, and secondly, the rise of Providence College in the academic world.

Another factor that could be taken into consideration is the popularity of the basketball team, whose trips around the country and whose exploits are published in all basketball areas, thus spreading the name and reputation of the college to all parts of the nation.
FAMLY LIFE MAY NOT always be Paradise, but it can bring plenty of earthly renown. For example, William Archey, Pittsfield, Massachusetts, Economics. "I don't think beanies are a bother at all. It seems to me they are a lot of fun. They are the most friendly of the students."

William Archey, Pittsfield, Massachusetts, Economics. "I don't think beanies make life miserable. I have made many friends who wear beanies and they are always happy and cheerful."

Some famous students, though, make the famous for the wrong reasons. If the Barrymores make you think of drama and the Hatfields of the McEwys, you're right. But if the Borgias, who ruled Rome in the 15th Century, make you think of poison—as they do most people—then you're probably wrong.

THERE were hardly a well-behaved lot by today's standards, but neither were many people in Renaissance Italy. And, modern historians say, the Borgias did nothing to practice or improve the art of poisoning an enemy every morning before breakfast. Yet, the Borgias are seen as one of the most venal of the leaders of the Church.

How did the Borgias get their way? Nobody knows for sure, but they were disliked by many Romans simply because they were foreigners from Spain, and it would have been easy enough for their political foes to start dark rumors of their knowledge of the poisons of the Spanish Moors circulating around Rome. And the fact is that one Borgia, Rodrigo, became Pope Alexander VII, and was later canonized as St. Francis Borgia.

IN JUST ABOUT every field of human endeavor, there's always someone who sets the tone of standing achievement. In literature there are the Brontes, in business the Rockefeller's, in finance and philanthropy the Rockefellers, and in comedy the Marx Brothers. In baseball there are the DiMaggios, in literature and history the Trapp family. And so it goes.

While the members of some famous families have pursued their parallel careers separately, others have cashed in on their connections. For example, the Brontes were a famous family. When Baron and Mme. Hugo, flees from Hitler's Austria to the United States in the 1930's, leaving behind them a seven sons and three daughters married to folk artists, and sang their way to fame and fortune.

The family, which left children behind to marry and have families of their own, settling in New York City, the Baron and Baroness have retired to a farm in Vermont, but their story is told in today's New York Times, "The Sound of Music."

And there are families who've won't have their own fame getting into trouble. Generations of college students in psychology, sociology, and genetics classes have learned about these awful examples of bad heredity, the Jukeses and the Kallikaks.

The Kallikaks family was written up by a New York criminologist, Richard L. Dag-
A Hopeful Step...

We hope that our readers are fully aware of the significance of Providence College of Thomas O'Herron, which is, as a national vice-president of NFCCS, the institution that has been the driving force behind two years ago. This marks the first harbingers of the big leagues.

PC has not been living in a bubble. It has been a part of the larger system, the popularization of the College's school songs. The fight songs is a long overdue step.

Student Congress fee.

Consideration of the new Student Congress tent.

President of the University of America in Washington, D.C. He has just completed work for the B.S. in Medieval History at C.U.

The modification of student athletic ticket procedures has certainly been a source of considerable dissatisfaction on campus. Due credit should be extended to the athletic department for its obvious good-will in reevaluating the situation in the light of strong student protest last year.

We're glad to see that the Vigilante Committee is considering a change in the way tickets are sold to students. It makes an awful lot of sense on campus.

The group rates offered are clearly below normal rates for comparable coverage. Those who are at all interested in insurance of this type would do well to evaluate the plan with respect to their particular needs. If the coverage is personally acceptable, we wouldn't have any hesitation in maintaining that the price is right.

One project like this a year would certainly give every more than 100 cents worth for their dollar Student Congress fee.

We Applaud...

We're glad to see that the Vigilante Committee is taking steps to expedite one of The Cowl's favorite projects—the popularization of the College's school songs. Requiring the freshmen to know the Alma Mater and fight songs is long overdue step.

The freshmen may feel shyly with "I don't know the PC Alma Mater" signs pinned to their beanies, but a little discomfort now will spare the class from sitting by in close-mouthed shame (like the present upperclassmen) whenever the song is played in public.

The freshmen are free to be congratulated on this year's buoyant attitude, one for enforcing the tradition, and the other for complying with it so spiritedly.

AED To Witness Installation Of St. Michael's Chapter; Plan Visit To Med Schools

Alpha Epsilon Delta Society of PC will visit St. Michael's College, Winooski Park, Vermont, on Saturday to witness the installation of St. Michael's as Vermont Alpha Chapter of AED.

According to custom, the closest college to the incoming chapter is the installing chapter. In this case, it will be the Hampshire Alpha, which installed our own Providence Alpha. Dr. Ricchiard, moderator of Providence Alpha, will be in attendance. Dr. Maurie L. Moore, of N. Y., is the presenter of the chapter.

On Oct. 13, the society, accompanied by Fr. Reichart will travel to the Albany Medical School for the day. The visit will consist of a tour of the Medical Center facilities, lunch in the doctor's dining room, attendance at a first year class seminar, and an informal discussion concerning medical education.

Movie programs throughout the year and monthly lectures will be posted on the Albertus Magnus and Harkins Hall bulletin boards.

On Oct. 25, the Seton Hall Medical School committee on admissions will interview students interested in attending Seton Hall. Dr. David F. Opyder will be the host.

Formerly a national organization, the society, since the admission of social clubs to membership, Quebec, Canada, has become international. Fr. Reichart was elected national treasurer of the society at the bi-annual convention held at Louisville University, at Louisville, Kentucky, last year.

Players Hold Costuring Thurs.

Pyramid Players, assisted by a new faculty member, are now producing their fall production. Castings will be held in Harkins Hall, room 107, at 7:30 tomorrow night.

Fr. Joseph W. Senior, recent addition to the college's English department, will be aiding the drama society in its activities this year, assisting Rev. Robert A. Morris, O.P., club moderator.

Mr. Hanley, a graduate of Rhode Island School of Design, brings a sound background of dramatic experience to the club. He was a member of the UCLYA faculty of theatrical art and was chairman of the National Catholic Theatrical Conference in 1953.

Fr. Morris emphasized that any student is invited to read for a part in the play.

Moderator Named For Class of '63

The Rev. Joseph R. Desmond, O.P., has been appointed to replace Dr. David F. Morris as the duties of moderator for the class of '63. Dr. Morris retired from Providence College after last semester to join the Trappist Order.

Fr. Desmond was ordained in 1947 and has taught at St. Catherine's Junior College, Our Lady of History, and Nazareth College, all in Kentucky. He has also taught at Albertus Magnus College in New Haven, from which he was transferred to PC.

Although Fr. Desmond is now to most students, he is not new to PC. He taught here during the 1955-56 school year. He holds S.T.L. and S.T.L. degrees.

On commenting about his position of sophomore moderator, Fr. Desmond said, "I am impressed by the program the officers have in mind, and hope that I will be of assistance in carrying it out."

Fr. Desmond expressed his hope that mixers with Albertus Magnus and Harkins Hall should feel that Providence College, should assume ties with Albertus Magnus, a sister Dominicans, and be more interested in preserving Albertus interest in having PC join the National Student Association.

Jazz Artists Exhibit Varied Background

By TOM DRENNAN

Billie Holiday was a great musician. Charlie Parker was a drug addict and eventually died mentally insan. Basin Sieberbecke burned himself out by drinking too much bathtub gin and died at the age of 25. Louis Armstrong learned to play the cornet in a home for problem children.

Benny Goodman and Red Nichols were both accomplished classical musicians before they were in their teens. Dave Brubeck did not begin playing until he was 21. But whatever their backgrounds, all the men who will take part in the Festival of Jazz and America at the Auditorium on Saturday will be able to tell their own story.

These are just a few of the names that serve to make up that complicated media known as Jazz.

Contrast the piano styles of Erroll Garner, who has never learned to read or write music, to that of John Lewis of The Modern Jazz Quartet. the executant of that famous French style. John Lewis is a genius.

Faculty To Nominate Fellowship Candidates

Princeton, N. J.--An election campaign promising rich rewards for the successful candidates gets under way today as thousands of faculty members from universities and colleges in the United States and Canada begin to nominate college seniors for Woodrow Wilson graduate fellowships.

In announcing the opening of the competition for the academic year 1961-62, Dr. Hugh Taylor, President of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, estimated that well over 8,000 students will be nominated by the closing date of October 31.

The program is open to college graduates in the humanities and social sciences. Those who receive awards are not asked to commit themselves to college teaching, but merely to "consider it seriously" as a possible career.

Of the nominated candidates who fail to win Woodrow Wilson Fellowships more than 80 per cent, Dr. Rosenhaut said, went on to graduate school anyway, often with financial help from other sources. He estimated the annual need for new college teachers at 20,000 a year for the next ten years.

The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation does not accept applications directly from students. Every candidate for the award must be nominated by a faculty member. Nominated students are invited to declare themselves active candidates for the award by sending the necessary application forms to the chairman of the selection committee for the region in which the prospective candidate is now located.

A list of the fifteen regions and the names of the regional chairs may be obtained from the Foundation's national headquarters, 604 Sycamore, Princeton, New Jersey, or from the Woodrow Wilson representative on any campus in the United States and Canada.

maximum of $225 for the surgeon's fee.

- Medical Attention: $3 per visit beginning with the first visit for sickness not requiring surgical treatment, when a student is confined as a bed patient in a hospital. Maximum $1.00 per sickness.

- Consultation Fee: $25 for diagnosis or treatment.

- Ambulance: $15 for a community or hospital ambulance for transportation to or from a hospital before or after confinement. Aggregate limit of the coverage is $750 for each sickness.

- Medics: Attention: $3 per visit beginning with the first visit for sickness not requiring transportation to or from a hospital before or after confinement. The expenses incurred within a 52-week period from the date of accident will be paid up to $1,000.

- Expenses include x-rays, laboratory costs, hospital bills, registered graduate nurses', physicians' and surgeons' fees, medicines, ambulance expense, surgical appliances and medical costs incurred as the result of any one accident except that in the event of injury to sound natural teeth, the limit of payment is $500.

The accident coverage alone will run $10 per student per year.

Because of the ever increasing hospital and doctor fees, the Student Congress determined that a program of reduced rate student insurance was almost a necessity for a college of the size of Providence. The current program is being enacted with the approval of the Administration.

FRIDAY! THE GREATEST

SIXTY-ONEDERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear—the new, you-size '61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees, and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher—just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide graces for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details.

There's never been a trunk like it before! The floor's recessed more than half a foot and the loading height is as much as 10½ inches lower.

INTRODUCING THE '61 CHEVY

BISCAYNE 4-DOOR SEDAN—one of five Impalas that bring you a new measure of elegance from the most elegant Chevies of all.

NOMAD 9-PASSENGER STATION WAGON. You have a choice of six Chevrolet wagons, each with a cave-sized cargo opening nearly 5 feet across.

BEL AIR 2-DOOR SEDAN, like all '61 Chevrolets, brings you Body by Fisher newness—more front seat leg room.

IMPALA 4-DOOR SPORT SEDAN—one of five Impalas that bring you a new measure of elegance from the most elegant Chevies of all.

NEW '61 CHEVY CORVAIR

The newest car in America: the CORVAIR 700 LAKEWOOD 4-DOOR STATION WAGON.

CORVAIR 700 CLUB COUPE. Like all coupes and sedans, it has a longer range fuel tank.

CORVAIR 700 4-DOOR SEDAN. Provisions for heating ducts are built right into its body by Fisher.

More space . . .

Here's the new Chevy Corvair for '61 with a complete line of complete thrift cars.

To start with, every Corvair has a budget-pleasing price tag. And Corvair goes on from there to save you even more. With extra miles per gallon . . . quicker-than-ever cold-start warmup so you start saving sooner . . . a new extra-cost optional heater that warms everyone evenly. Riding along with this extra economy: more room for you, more room up front for your luggage (sedans and coupes have almost 12% more usable trunk space).

And our new wagons? You'll love them—think they're the greatest thing for families since houses. The Lakewood Station Wagon does a man-sized job with cargo, up to 68 cubic feet of it. The Greenbrier Sports Wagon you're going to have to see—it gives you up to 175.5 cubic feet of space for you and your things.

Corvair's whole thrifty lineup gets its pep from a spunkier 145-cu.-in. air-cooled rear engine. Same rear-engine traction, same smooth 4-wheel independent-suspension ride. See the polished and refined 1961 Corvair first—and you get at your Chevrolet dealer's . . .

Spare tire is in the rear in coupes and sedans—leaving more luggage space up front.

Even middle-seat passengers sit pretty, thanks to Corvair's practically flat floor.

Now in production—the GREENBRIER SPORTS WAGON with up to twice as much room as ordinary wagons (third seat optional at extra cost).

Green Garb Featured For Fall

By D. E. DONELLY

A whole bright fresh new look of color, springing from multicolored fabric, ground and coupled with new fabric weights and blends will give the fall and winter line of men's clothing a strong campus appeal.

Purpose of the compound colors is to maintain softly the whole coloring picture. Patterns remain conventional and traditional, achieving their neatness when reflected against the "ground color." The total color effect of the new fall line is not only one of fresh, bright color, but one of elegance and refinement.

There are no garish contrasts among patterns or colors. The settings took lighter, but only in overall effect. Sportswear looks more conventional and darker, but only because the color effects are more subtle and intricate. Actually this brightening of settings and the whirling of sports wear is a planned effect, according to the nation's men'swear manufacturers.

With regards to styling, the trend of fall 1959 is being emphasized even more so in the fall of 1960. From head to toe, it's beginning to be a slimmer, serene look, with emphasis on more comfortable, lightweight, yet longer-wearing clothing.

Even men's shoes will be lighter in weight. Whatever you may choose to call this popular new trend in today's styling, it all adds up to the most flattering men's fashions to come along in years.

Friers Capture Informal Title In State Sailing

On Saturday, October 1, the Providence College sailing team won the informal state sailing championship at Barrington. The Friers nosed out URI, 23-22, while Brown took third with 20 and 17 points respectively.

PC, which came from behind in the third place, had a division boat skippered by Paul Hackett with John Finner as crew. John Dunn was skipper for the Friers in the B division with John Casey as crew. Twelve-foot "tech" dinghies were the type of boat used in the competition.

The A division raced over a two lap course, beginning with a run across the starting line, up to the mark, and then a beat back to the finish. B division sailed the same course.

Because of delays which plagued the event, and third and third place consisted of only one lap each, Hackett took second and third in this division. In capturing first place, Hackett had to outmaneuver both Brown and RISD, and then Brown coming across the line. With this first place, Providence gained a tie with Brown.

In B division's second race Dunn got off to a bad start and finished fourth. But in his last race Jack sailed wide around the mark, and mind was making decisions over the other boats.

In doing John Dunn added to a more worthwhile position of the other boats. As they came to the mark, the four boats were struggling in line, giving the appearance of an impending close finish decided solving the other boats.

However, Dunn, being more windward than the other boats, managed to race across the line first, clinching first place for Providence.

On May 31, 1960, long after the basketballs had been packed away and Alumni Hall Gymnasium was darkened and empty, the memories of the 1960-61 basketball season was very much in the discussion went in room 128.

Stephen Hall.

The Friars' cross-country team met stiff opposition last Saturday, as the United States Military Academy overpowered them 14-45.

The West Pointers accounted for the first four men over the finish line, all four runners in running record time for the course. Capt. Lynn Breeze took individual honors by shaving 45.7 seconds off the old record and thus setting the new time of 21:56.2. The former mark was held by Peter Beyer of Rensselaer who ran the 4.5 mile course in 22:40.

Bob Bamberger was the first PC man to cross the finish line and took the fifth spot while sophomore Stan Biezaw was followed closely behind and took the seventh position. Their times were 23:02 and 23:07 respectively. Harry Iannotti, Pat Stewart and Mario Mazzarella finished ninth, tenth and eleventh, in that order with Tom Tradell and Phil Murphy rounding out the field.

When asked about the Friars, Coach Harry Coates wasn't too optimistic. He Does things, however, that he has a good man in Stan Biezaw with which to build his hopes.

Jimmy Swartz Returns to PC As Assistant Basketball Coach

By TOM DRENNAN

In the vicinity of Alumni Hall, you see a stocky six-footer tossing in line-drive over-the-head set shots, don't think that he's a new basketball player. Chances are you're looking at Jimmy Swartz, captain of the 1960 Friars and the new assistant basketball coach at Providence College.

Jimmy returns to his Alma Mater after a year of teaching and coaching at St. Agnes of Rockville Center, Long Island, New York. His duties here include besides basketball, varsity tennis and sports publicity aid.

Those of you who remember the '59 Mullaneys will recall the valuable asset that Jim was to that talented brigade. He was the playmaker, scorer and leader that co-ordiated Johnny Egan, Len Wilkens, John Woods, Pete Schenetti and company, which became the first national Invitation Tournametment quintet in Providence history.

Jim comes from a family of athletes. His father was a great semi-pro baseball and basketball player. His older brother Arie played with Maurice Stokes at St. Francis of Loretto, Pa. A younger brother Richie plays basketball at Hofstra in New York. The two youngest Swartzes are stars at Chaminades High School on Long Island, Tom in (Continued on Page 11)

Athletic Dept. Inaugurates New Student Ticket Program

Rev. Aloysius B. Begley, O.F., Providence College athletic director, announced at the opening of school that the College has inaugurated a new student ticket program.

In the past, students had to purchase a $10 ticket book to see all home baseball and admission to athletic events. However, this year every student has been issued an identification card to be used when purchasing tickets to obtain reduced prices.

Tickets will be on sale in the downstairs box office at Alumni Hall ten days before each sports event for 72 hours. The office will be open during the two lunch periods each day while tickets are being sold. After the students' period for buying tickets ends, the tickets will be sold to the general public. After that period, students will have to take what tickets are available.

The identification card must also be used by the students whenever they want to use the gymnasium's facilities and equipment.

The World Champion Boston Celtics, and the recently-crowned Los Angeles Lakers will bring pro basketball to the Providence College campus, tonight at 8 p.m. The game, sponsored by the Alumni Association, is a benefi­cet game for the Joseph P. McGee Memorial Scholarship Fund.

The Celtics will feature their usual six-man starting line-up of Bill Russell, Jerry West, Oscar Robertson, Bill Sharman, K.C. Jones and John Havlicek.

The Lakers, who shifted from Minneapolis to Los Angeles at the conclusion of last year's N.B.A. campaign, will have the fabulous Elgin Baylor, Rudy LaRusso, Tom Hawkins, and Ray Felix along with the West Virginia great, Jerry West. Los Angeles will also be making their bowl under a new coach, former West Virginia tutor, Fred Schaus.

The Joseph P McGee Scholarship Fund is in memory of one of the Friar greats. McGee captivated the first PC football and basketball teams while also being an outstanding baseball player. Later, he directed Friar
