MEMO FROM THE EDITOR:

PC men may soon be attending classes eleven months of the year. It may not be next year or the one after, but the handwriting is on the wall.

Many colleges are already giving serious study to the "trimester" plan, a reapportionment of the academic calendar calling for three yearly semesters embracing the period from September through July. A single month of general vacation would be provided for in August, while holiday periods at Thanksgiving; Christmas, and Easter would be curtailed.

Mushrooming enrollments at the nation's colleges and universities are making the trimester plan's advantages more evident with each passing year. Besides facilitating the granting of a larger number of degrees each year, the plan promises participating institutions a more economical and efficient use of their multi-million dollar investment in buildings and educational facilities. Staggering of courses would permit faculty members to take vacations during times other than the summer months.

From the student standpoint, enrollment in the summer trimester would involve considerable acceleration of study. Three full years of classes plus one additional trimester would permit the collegian to earn both a comprehensive liberal arts education and a master's degree in his specialized field. Entry into the labor market at an earlier age would give the participating student an employment "jump" on his contemporaries.

Educators visualize certain difficulties which will bar the implementation of the trimester system on as wide a scale as desirable. Financial difficulties for students involved in the summer sessions together with less vacation time for faculty members are among the more significant drawbacks.

Nonetheless, the trimester trend is building up steam. The day will someday come when "summer school" boasts more A students than F's.

Lack Of Tickets For Wives Due To Gymnasium Confines

Rev. Aloysius B. Begley, O.P., athletic director, re-cently disclosed the reason for the lack of tickets for the wives of students for basketball games. "It is not a matter of anti-legislation, but rather a question of space," said Fr. Begley.

The system at present is that, of the 3500 seats in Alumni Hall, 2000 are reserved for students. A three day period is set aside for the exclusive sale of these tickets. If after the three day period there are stu-dent tickets remaining they will be sold to students who have a ticket and want another.

There have been 1,952 Athletic Association cards picked by students. Assuming that each of these students buys a ticket, there will be a surplus of 48 tickets per game.

These have not been set aside for the student's wives due to the poor record of last year. Of the 189 married students last year, only 7 took advantage of the special tickets set aside for the wives of students.

Unlimited Cuts Boost Maturity

DAVIDSON, N. C .- Favoring an unlimited cut system at Davidson College, Dean of the Faculty Frontis W. Johnston be-lieves that only upperclassmen should have the privilege of unlimited cuts.

"Also I think that the twenty five per cent rule should re-main in effect," he added.

According to Dean Johnston "If such a system were initiated, the students would have to realize that the chips would fall where they would and that we'd lose some customers. It would make the student more responsible for his own education if the coercive restraints were removed, and this would probably result in some fatali-

"Also I think that such a system would be a challenge to the teachers. They would no longer have a captive audience and would therefore have to re-ally be on their toes. The professors and students would be part of a team, both trying to learn.

The present system is somewhat illogical. It does not re-alize that there are some classes that a student needs to attend more than others. Also, after quality points have been lost when, in some cases, the student has taken five cuts, no further penalty is inflicted until the student has violated the function of the student has violated the student has

The Problem Stated . . .

The problem of marking examinations is one which has plagued professors since the days of the first Blue has plagued professors since the days of the list blue Book, which was probably a la papyrus. In any case, it is indeed a challenge for a prof to produce an exam which will gauge rather accurately whether or not a student knows the matter for which he is held respon-

Professors unanimously agree that the purpose of an exam is to measure the student's mastery of certain material, and, in some courses, his power to create original thought based on what he has been taught. They also agree that this is no easy task.

The difficulties inherent in any examination process are complicated by several additional factors which must be considered.

An exam must be short enough to be completed in two hours. It must be written, since many students must take the same exam at the same time. It must be rather easy to mark, since professors have little time to correct exams before marks are due in the Registrar's office. Further, an exam must be constructed so that it is difficult to complete dishonestly.

Investigate Changes . . .

The November 2 issue of The Cowl carried a story on a new examination system proposed by a department head at Norwich University. This system would keep the format of the objective test, but would provide for partial credit. There would be a built-in check to make guessing hazardous.

Whether or not the Norwich system could be used here is another question. But it is interesting to note that Norwich is not satisfied with its present examination procedures, and is willing to give the whole prob-lem a thorough study. We believe that a similar study would be beneficial to Providence College as well. The Cowl has some ideas of its own in this re-

Some Suggestions . . .

First of all, we are cognizant of the problems involved in any examination system, and we feel that PC would do well to establish a board to study the problems. We would like to see two or three students on any such board, as well as representatives of the Administration, lay faculty, and priest faculty.

We also recommend that professors be given more time to correct exam papers and compile marks, even if this means that report cards will be sent out a week or so later then at present. Only if professors are given considerable time can they correct essay-type exams, which we feel are a necessity in many courses, such as political science and history.

If professors were given more time, moreover, they could give oral examinations according to their own discretion. We feel that oral examinations are a must for some fields. At present, only the Honors Group Colloquium sections are given oral exams as a matter of course.

We suggest that oral exams be required of juniors and seniors in their major subjects, and we submit that such a plan might be tried with arts students this year on an experimental basis.

Multiple Advantages . . .

Essay type exams, as well as oral exams, not only afford the professor a better method of judging a student's true measure of accomplishments, but they di-minish any possibility of cheating, which, whether we like it or not, is a very real and ugly entity.

The rather pathetic sight of one professor watching over two or three sections of students packed into an almost-big-enough classroom is all too familiar to us, and must be eliminated at any cost.

A study of exam procedure is in order. We hope that students, professors, and college officials alike will join us in a move to insure that examinations really

THE PARTY WEEKEND: ITS CAUSE AND CURE

With the season of party weekends almost upon us, my mail of late has been flooded with queries from young inmates of women's colleges wishing to know how one conducts one's self when one has invited a young gentleman for a weekend, so let us today take up this burning issue.

Well, my dear girls, the first thing to remember is that your young gentleman is far from home and frightened. Put him at his ease. You might, for instance, surprise him by having his mother sitting in a rocker on the station platform when he gets off the train

Next, what kind of corsage should you send your young gentleman? Well, my beloved maidens, orchids are always acceptable. So, indeed, are phlox and delphinium. In fact, most any flora will serve. Do try, however, to avoid carnivorous plants.

If you find, my esteemed fillies, that your local florist has run out of stock, do not be dismayed. Make a corsage out of paper, But pick good, stiff, durable paper—twenty dollar bills, for

Remember at all times, my fond wenches, to show your young gentleman courtesy and consideration. If you will follow the simple instructions stated above, my good lasses, you will find that you have turned your young gentleman into a fast and fervent admirer. There is nothing gentleman into a tase and revent admirer. There is nothing quite like a party weekend to promote romance. I am in mind of a party weekend some years ago at Miss Pomfritt's Seminary for well-born females in West Linotype, Ohio. Serafina Sigafoos, a sophomore at this institution, majoring in napkin folding, seat a sopnomore at this institution, majoring in napkin folding, sent an invitation to a young man named Fafnir Valve, a junior at the Joyce Kilmer School of Forestry, majoring in sap and boles. Anyhow, Serafina sent an invitation to Fafnir, and he came, and she showered him with kindness and cuff links, and then he went away, and Serafina sat anxiously by the mailbox, wondering whether she would ever hear from him again. Sure enough, two weeks later she got a letter: "Dear Serafins, Can you let me have fifty bucks? Yours, Fafnir."

Whimpering with cestasy, she ran to the bank and withdrew the money and mailed it to him. From then on, she got the the money and manied it omm. From then on, she got the same request every week, and as a result, she became very well acquainted with Ralph T. Involute, teller of the West Linotype Bank and Trust Co., and their friendship ripened into love, and today they are happily married and live in Stamen, Oregon, where Ralph is in the extruded molasses game and Serafina is a hadrant.

Jazz Original American Music. Doesn't Mix With Rock'n Roll

RECENTLY A NOTED jazz authority, addressing a group of college students in Rhode Island, expressed the desire to admit jazz musicians to the human race. He also mentioned the de sire to see jazz itself put in its proper place in American music Father Norman J. O'Connor, a Paulist father from Boston University, made these remarks before RISD students in a lecture sponsored by the Newman Club Princeton Group

I would like to echo his senti existence.

IT IS INTERESTING to note that most jazz historians agree that the early jazz sounds, originating in New Orleans, com-bined the classical style of Europe with the native beat of Africa. From this conjunction, rose the styles commonly known as Dixieland and the blues.

as Dixieland and the blues.

Jazz, therefore, is purely American, one of our few artistic creations. According to Fr. O'Connor, "it has a definite advantage over classical music in the fact that when the jazz musician plays, he is playing biment something he order." himself, something he created.
When the classical musician plays, he is playing Mozart, something Mozart created."

Within the past few years, Rock 'n Roll, sometimes falsely associated with jazz, has dom-inated the music scene. Actually, Rock 'n Roll can be best described as a left-wing outgrowth of Blues, more perfectly Rhythm and Blues. It thrives on a boring repetition of beat in addition to its childish for-mation of rhyming words.

THIS IS what many of us have been subject to, thanks to the quest of the almighty dollar by unscrupulous men controlling American music. It seems in-credible that a pure American artistic creation should have to beg for recognition while backward form of it rates highest in the musical formation of our youth's ideals.

The Providence College basketball team opens its season against Assumption on Saturday, December 3, at 8:00 p.m.

The Friars will, without doubt, start Captain John Egan in the backcourt, if his knee is ready and Jumbo Jim Hadnot at center.

Vin Ernst will also start in the backcourt, mainly because of his great playmaking ability. Providence coach Joe Mullaney feels that Ernst is the best play-value has been had during his maker he has had during his coaching career.

Two other positions are still very much in doubt. Mullaney will probably choose his fourth and fifth starters from corner men Rich Holzheimer, Dick Leonard, George Zalucki and Carl Spenser. ## Host Greyhounds At Alumni Hall

They're coming along is what Coach Jim Swartz had to say about the progress of his freshmen basketball team which opens the season on Saturday against Assumption College's against Assumption Conege's JV in Alumni Hall at 6:15 p.m.

John Thompson, Jeff Shea, Jim Carroll, Bill Stein, John Sheridan and Bob Siomoni appear to be the leading candi-dates for starting berths.

The team is now starting to blend into a smooth function-ing unit. The combination manto-man and zone defense and two-on-two offense, employed by Coach Swartz was new to many the frosh.

They not only had to learn and master these but also to work together as a team.

Outside of John Thompson at 6' 11", Coach Swartz does not have much of a height advan-Jim Carroll is the next tage. Jim carroll is the team at tallest member of the team at 6' 3 1/2". Bob Simoni, a rugged six footer, could be the other man up front.

John Thompson has been looking very good thus far, reports the frosh hoop mentor. Whenever possible he works out with the varsity squad. This is proving beneficial to both Thompson and Jim Hadnot, as both are about the same height and battle against each other in the scrimmages.

Coach Swartz declined make any predictions on the coming season but said that he was looking forward to having a good season.
