"Sidewalks of N.Y." Dorm Weekend Theme; To Be Held Dec. 8, 9, 10

Tickets for the twenty-fifth annual Dorm Weekend to be held December 8, 9, and 10 went on sale last Monday afternoon. Co-chairmen Gene Fusaro and Jim Kerls said that the bids are priced at $14.00.

Tickets may be purchased at the Raymond Hall dining room during the evening meal. Due to space limitations, the number of sales has been limited to 200 couples.

Preferential distribution of tickets, which will enable the upper-classes to acquire their bids, will run as follows: seniors on Nov. 13th to 16th; juniors on Nov. 20, 21; sophomores on Nov. 27, 28; freshmen on Nov. 29, 30. General ticket sales will begin on December 4. The $14.00 bid will require a $5.00 down-payment with later installments of $5.00 and $4.00.

The theme for the weekend is "Sidewalks of New York." Tony Abbott's Orchestra has been signed for the formal dinner dance on Friday evening in Raymond Hall. Dinner will be served from 7:30 to 8:30, and will be followed by dancing from 9 to 12. Tentative plans

ID Gripes To Stir Dissension In SC

Tonight's Student Congress meeting is expected to be the stormiest in PC history. Dissension among the members has reached an all time high this year and is expected to culminate tonight in an open battle between the chair and the floor.

Congress President Joseph Hall has been criticized severely by many members of the Congress for his cancellation of the issuance of I.D. cards. Hall cancelled distribution of the cards on his own, without calling a special meeting of the governing body.

Members of the Congress are especially irred by the fact that the Congress stands to lose $700 on the cost of printing the cards and having photographs of the student body taken.

Several members of the SC have already indicated to The Cowl that they plan to ask for Hall's immediate resignation from the presidency. Support seems to be gathering behind the move which may possibly take place as a motion from the floor. As the Cowl understands the situation, such a motion would be seconded immediately, and thus put to vote.

It is not clear whether the Congress has the authority to impeach its president.

A second alternative for the Congress members is to "black-ball" all suggestions of the President. The Congress members may use this method of retaliation against the incumbent president if he does not voluntarily resign his post.

Also anticipated on the agenda for tonight's meeting is a motion to either censure or remove Terrence McCarthy, the social chairman of the College. McCarthy has been under critical fire since early October for his alleged mishandling of the Friday night mixers, as well as the mixer mixup which occurred with Salve Regina College.

The Cowl has been told that the chair may make a motion against McCarthy, but this motion may well come from disgruntled Congress members themselves. This newspaper understands that McCarthy is expected to resign his post.

PR Cord Dance To Be Held Friday

Pershing Rifles Company K-12 will hold its second annual "Cord Dance" this Friday evening from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., at the Pocatoc Country Club in Portsmouth, R. I.

Forty-one pledges will be presented with blue and white shoulder cards and ribbons, which identify them as members of the National ROTC Honor Society.

Tickets to the formal, non-floral dance, are $4.00 per couple. The dance is open to all active Pershing Rifle members, candidates and their dates.

The dress for the dance will be regular uniform with white shirt and black tie.

PC Boosts '62 Tuition

Tuition at Providence College will be raised $25 a semester next September, bringing tuition for day students at the college to $800 a year, according to a story in the Providence Journal.

At the same time, the fee for room and board will be hiked $50 a semester to a new total of $900 a year.

The increases were announced last week by the Very Rev. Vincent C. Dore, O.P., president of the college, after they had been approved at an afternoon meeting of the committee on administration.

Student Poll Rates Mixers

This past week a survey was taken on the Providence College campus to reveal the feelings of the students on the controversial subject of Friday night mixers. Among those voicing their opinion were:

Ken Talen, '63: It appears that the mixers are lifeless and a change of pace could be obtained by having a record hop. This would satisfy most rock 'n' rollers, but some long-playing, soft style music would also be in order.

Ray Gagnon, '62: Positive identification by the girls that they attend college would halt the hobby-soxers and insure the presence of even more college girls.

Frank Ardizzone, '64: How can we expect the girls schools to come down to our dances when we never send any students up to their affairs? The best solution appears in having buses for the students without cars or else have a car pool of those wishing to go.

Paul Cwynar, '63: There are not enough students at these dances, so that when the college girls do go to the mixers, they quickly lose interest.

Jack Purnichni, '63: Keep the high school girls out!

Darigan Elected Pres. At NCCY Convention

Francis J. Darigan Jr., 19, was elected president of the National Council of Catholic Youth at the biennial convention in Memorial Auditorium at Buffalo, New York, which is a sophomore at PC.

Darigan is the first New Englander to hold this office and the first from Providence to be named to national office in the group.

Mr. Darigan's victory was achieved on the first ballot after

At the end of the first ballot Darigan led Plumberg by three votes, but Skip Engle of Indianapolis released his 31 votes to Darigan.

PCAA Ticket Policy Announced First Come, First Served Basis

The Providence College Athletic Department has announced ticket policy for the first game of the season. According to a news release tickets will be sold to each student on a first come first served basis.

Due to the fact that unprecedented interest is expected in basketball this year, this policy is on a trial basis. If conditions warrant, it will be continued for the remainder of the year; however, it is possible that limitations of one ticket per student may be set for the remainder of the games.

If the ticket supply for the St. Mary's game is exhausted and there are students without tickets, the policy of granting two tickets per student will be automatically discontinued. The athletic department has stated, that "it would like to give each student the opportunity to purchase one extra ticket per game."

The affair is being sponsored by the Young Republicans of Rhode Island. Tickets will be $1.00 per person and are available at Republican Headquarters or at the Loew's state theatre box office.

At this time the subject of the Senator's address is unknown.

Theatre Hosts Sen. Goldwater

Senator Barry Goldwater will give an address tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at Loew's State Theatre.

The affair is being sponsored by the Young Republicans of Rhode Island. Tickets will be $1.00 per person and are available at Republican Headquarters or at the Loew's state theatre box office.

At this time the subject of the Senator's address is unknown.

Francis Darigan

a series of switches provided the necessary votes. The clinching votes were cast by the Diocese of Lafayette, Ind.

The final tally was Darigan, 111; David Plumberg of Kansas City, St. Joseph M., 63; and David Grose of Salt Lake City, Utah, 7.

MEMO FROM THE EDITOR:

(Reprinted from the Xavier University News)

Once upon a time there was a little school.

It was a good little school of fine young boys. Oh, of course, there were the "others." But they were few in number, and over-critical. Besides, they were only students. However, one has to be careful. A few could louse up everything. And then what would happen to the school's public image?

(Berlin was thousands of miles away.) "We do our job," said one official. "Boys become outstanding, moral men. Of course, now and then, boys will be boys, but . . ." (Soviets launch man around the world.)

High school becomes big-time. (Who cares about Laos?) Second-rate basketball, third-rate football, and fourth-rate academics. (Dag Hammarskjold died in a plane crash in the Congo.) The Middle Way of Confucius and the Golden Mean of the Greeks; now rehyped in the new splendor of modern mediocrity.

"Christianity? Virtue? Ideals? Fine things!" said another official, "but we must be practical." This means a ten-thousand-dollar job for every graduate. (Did you see "L'Aventura"?)

Each year this little school sent its graduates out into this big world. Graduates: ready to be good little average citizens, not too zealous, not too "arty," not over-ambitious.

No stands, no controversies, no famous men. Once upon a time there was a little school. And it stayed little.

Student Congress ...

derstands that Congress representatives have been approached with increasing frequency with complaints of mismanagement and poor coordination on the part of the social chairman.

Speculation ranges high among the dissidents as to whom will succeed the incumbent officers of the Congress if they are removed or resign voluntarily. Since much of the opposition to the present management of the Congress is coming from the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes, it is expected that the senior members of the Congress will stand behind the present incumbents. It would seem unlikely that any senior would be willing to accede to a post vacated by Mr. Hall or Mr. McCarthy, if the resignation is demanded from the floor.

Dorm Weekend ...

a.m. there will be a football game between the faculty and the Carolan Club. The jazz festival, which will be held in Aquinas Hall on Saturday afternoon from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. will have a Birdland setting and will feature a well-know jazz group which will be named at a later date.

Saturday evening's entertainment will be provided by the PC-St. Francis basketball game.

The Sunday Mass at 10 a.m. will be followed by a Communion Breakfast in Alumni Hall Cafeteria at which the Rev. Lloyd Maher, O.P., will be the speaker. An open house on Sunday afternoon will last from 1 to 3 p.m.

Junior Rings Arrive Early In December

"The first week of December has been set for the distribution date of class rings to those juniors who were among the first group to order," Andy Sayko, chairman of the ring committee has announced. He added that rings will be given out only to those students who are paid in full.

It is expected that rings for second group will arrive in mid-February. At this time the committee will sponsor a dance during which a ring-presentation ceremony will be held.

Rings can be ordered at any time during the year through Mr. Daniel Sullivan of the bookstore who will contact a representative of the Josten Company. Mr. Sullivan will accept all payments on ring accounts.

Juniors are reminded by Sayko that there is a necessary three to five month wait following each additional ring-fitting. Also available to students at the times of the ring-distributions will be other items of class jewelry, including cuff links, tie-bars, and special class pin, each modelled on the ring design.

Guild to Celebrate Anniversary Here

Providence Catholic nurses of the Thomistic Guild will mark the 25th anniversary of the guild's founding with a silver jubilee at Providence College, Nov. 16.

Rev. Joseph S. McCormack, O.P., head of the Department of Theology at the college, will be guest speaker following the 7:30 p.m. banquet.

According to Miss Rosalind McGehearty, chairman, the annual meeting of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Nurses will be held in conjunction with the jubilee. A business session at 5:30 p.m. will precede the mass of thanksgiving, to be celebrated by the Very Reverend Vincent C. Dore, O.P., Providence College President. The College Glee Club will provide the music.

The jubilee will climax the current membership drive of the council and the various guilds throughout the state.

The Rev. Thomas R. Peterson, O.P., is present moderator of the Thomistic Guild and Mrs. Charles J. McSoley is president.

St. Antoninus Club Has Guest Speaker

The St. Antoninus Club will hold a meeting at 7:45 tonight in the Guild Room. The meeting will open with the collection of dues and will be followed by a lecture. The subject of the meeting will be the position of a lawyer in business and economics.

The speaker will be William McMahon '52. He received his law degree from Harvard University and is presently practicing law in Pawtucket, R. I. McMahon is a member of the American Bar Association, Rhode Island Bar Association, and Pawtucket Bar Association. He has received several public speaking awards.

African Conference Explains Distorted American Images

"People are as obnoxious and likeable in Africa as anywhere else," said Mr. Ernest Dunbar, an Editor of Look, in explaining the distorted image of Africa in the United States, at the Sixth Plenary Session of the Right Annual UNESCO Conference held at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Boston on October 24.

Mr. Dunbar stated that America's interest in Africa was aroused at the time of African violence. It added a fearsome dimension to the idea of the dark continent, formed by ignorance, encouraged by regarding the unfamiliar as inferior, and furthered by the colonial governments.

The press was blamed in part by Mr. Dunbar for the misunderstanding of Africa. He partially excused the press for insufficient coverage by citing Africa's size, the language diversity, and the cost of maintaining press facilities. He admitted the press suffered from ignorance and cultural bias. Another factor cited by Mr. Dunbar was that the news in Africa had to compete with news of other places so that only crises ended to be treated.

"The reporter loves being alive as much as most people," said Mr. Dunbar in explaining some erroneous stories involving fighting and violence. The reporters would often obtain the information for these stories from the governments, resulting in the propagandizing of the official versions of battles and

Mr. Murphy Talks On Papal Letter

Professor William O. Murphy of the Providence College department of economics spoke Sunday night on "Trade, Aid, and Economic Solidarity." The basis for his lecture was the latest Papal encyclical, "Mater et Magistra."

He brought out the fact that 42 countries could be lost to communism unless a policy of aid and entering into the common market by the United States was carried out. Of major importance are the reciprocal trade agreements that will be stopped unless renewed before 1963.

Dr. H. Harrison Guest Speaker For Barristers

Highlighting the November 8th meeting of the St. Thomas More Club was an address by Dr. Harold Harrison of the University of Rhode Island.

Dr. Harrison, a chemist and assistant director of the University's Laboratory of Scientific Investigation, spoke on the topic of "Scientific Evidence and Its Presentation." He discussed courtroom procedure and the role of the expert witness, mannerisms and tricks used by lawyers in criminal court cases, and various types of evidence. Dr. Harrison used slides to illustrate his work in gathering evidence in criminal investigation.

These slides, some from previous murder cases, ranged from fingerprints and bullets to charred bits of paper which the scientists were able to put together and by use of infrared rays to ascertain the dead owner's name, address, and social security number.

Glee Club Posts '61-'62 Itinerary

Rev. Leo S. Cannon, O.P., director of the Providence College Glee Club, has announced the schedule of concerts for the 1961-62 season.

Beginning with the singing of the 10 a.m. mass at the Saints Peter and Paul Cathedral in Providence on November 19, the Glee Club will travel the New England circuit, appearing at a number of colleges and benefits throughout the area.

Following this initial appearance, the Glee Club will travel to Newton, Massachusetts to hold a concert with the girls of Mt. Ida Junior College on Monday, November 20.

On November 21, the club will appear at the Stadium Theater in Woonsocket, Rhode Island, at 8 p.m. The club will perform with the star of the Metropolitan Opera Company, Dolores Wilson.

Prior to the Christmas holidays, the Glee Club will perform locally at the Veterans Auditorium. The occasion for this appearance is a benefit starring Salty Brine of WPRO.

This year the club will also continue to hold home concerts. On February 4, 1962, a concert with Marymount College, of Tarrytown, New York will be held on campus.

The high point of the year for the Glee Club will be its participation in the Catholic Intercollegiate Glee Club Festival which is being held on the Kings College campus in Wilkes Barre, Pennsylvania.

Last year the club travelled extensively and was second only to the basketball team in the number of miles travelled.

Career Cues

"Hitch your wagon to a 'growth' industry—and grow with it!"

Douglas Leigh, President
Douglas Leigh, Inc.

"A growth industry is a new industry that is on the way up — moving quickly, expanding fast. When you join a company in one of the growth fields you have something extra working for you . . . you grow up with it. To find out which industry is right for you, try this: Ask someone in a good investment office to give you a list of the industries he considers 'growth industries.' Data Processing, plastics, and electronics are a few examples. Then pick the one you have a leaning toward, and get the names of the most progressive companies in that field.

One thing I'd like to point out from my own career is . . . a growth industry may also be an old business that's on the verge of new development. Shortly after leaving college I found this situation in the Outdoor Advertising field. What my associates and I did was to employ color, action and motion to dramatically personify the product, brand or services being advertised. In doing so, we developed the modern type 'Spectaculars' that talked, blew smoke rings, soap bubbles, etc . . . signs that changed the face of Broadway and the famous Times Square area.

This is just one example. The really important thing to remember is this: When you set your sights on a career, aim for an industry that is going to grow, so you can grow with it. It's the difference between a rocket that blasts off, and one that just sits there. Good luck!"

Congress Woes . . .

In view of the fact that a few Student Congress members seem to think that the President of the Student Congress is not a capable head, The Cowl would like to point out that without sufficient support, a president of any organization cannot do a first-rate job.

It seems odd that these dissenters want a new president when they show by their own actions that they are not capable of being good representatives. Before the first floor is completed, there must be a foundation.

We commend Joseph Hall for those things which he has accomplished and also for the many ideas for the future which he has proposed. But surely he alone cannot do the job we would like without support.

Thus, instead of reprimanding the president for incompetence, why not first assist the president in accomplishing those ends for which he has been working so diligently.

Ticket Policy OK-But . . .

The Athletic Department is to be commended for setting up a pre-season ticket policy this year. Even more laudatory is the proposal that students will possibly be able to purchase one student ticket and one additional ticket for use by a friend or relative.

Unfortunately, in the past, a few students here at PC have taken advantage of the Athletic Department by purchasing blocks of tickets for re-sale at "scalper" prices. To do this not only gives the College a black-eye . . . who can equalize a PC gentleman with a ticket scalper, but also deprives other students of their rightful tickets.

It is hoped that the present student body will cooperate by conscientiously purchasing basketball tickets for their own personal use. And it is further hoped that the Athletic Department will find some way to confiscate the athletic I.D. cards of those students who sell a student ticket to an adult.

Students should remember that to deprive a fellow student of his seat at the basketball games is more than unfair—it is unjust.

Any seniors who have experienced or are presently experiencing difficulty with their class ring may have this situation rectified in the near future. They are asked to sign the slip on the Senior class bulletin board before Nov. 22, 1961. A representative from the Balfour company will be on campus to make necessary changes.

The first meeting of the Student faculty board was held yesterday in Dean Lennon's office. Representing the students were: Charles Riley and George Frese, seniors, and Bob Silva, a junior.

The Sailing Club will hold a meeting tomorrow evening at 7:30 p.m. in Room 300, Harkins Hall. Subject for discussion will be the purchase of a boat for the club.

The Western Massachusetts Club will sponsor a dance along with the Weston Mass., Club of St. Anselms College, during the Thanksgiving holidays, according to president George Frigo.

The semi-formal affair entitled "The First Annual Western Massachusetts Intercollegiate Ball" will be held at the Oaks Inn on State Street in Springfield, Nov. 24 from 8:12 p.m. Music will be provided by Jerry LaMothe and his band. Bids are $3.50 per couple, and will be limited to 200.

Bill Scanlon, stage manager for "Three Men on a Horse," the initial production of the Pyramid Players, has sent out a call for stagehands.

Scanlon announced that a meeting of those desiring to work on the stage crew will be held tonight at 7 p.m. in room 111 of Harkins Hall.

The play will be presented Thursday and Friday, December 7 and 8.

The Cranston Club of Providence College will sponsor a "Sports Night" on Monday, November 20 at 8:00. The affair will be held at the club headquarters on Woodbine St., off Park Avenue in Cranston.

On Saturday, November 25, the club will also sponsor the "Price War" Dance. The affair will take place at the Knights of Columbus Home on Potters Avenue from 8:30 to 12.

General Verbeck, Commanding General XIII Army Corps, will visit the Providence College campus on November 9. He is expected to arrive by helicopter on Hendricken field in mid-morning.

Alpha Epsilon Delta has announced that tonight at 8:00 p.m. in room A-109 Dr. James Scanlan will deliver a lecture, open to the entire student body, entitled "The Alembic."

POVERTY CAN BE FUN

It is no disgrace to be poor. It is an error, but it is no disgrace. So if your purse is empty, do not skulk and brood and hide your head in shame. Stand tall. Admit your poverty. Admit it freely and frankly and all kinds of good things will happen to you. Take, for instance, the case of Blossom Sigafos.

Blossom, an impetuous freshman at an Eastern girls' college, was smart as a whip and round as a dumpling, and scarcely a day went by when she didn't get invited to a party weekend at one of the nearby men's schools. But Blossom never accepted. She did not have the rail fare; she did not have the clothes. Weekend after weekend, while her classmates went frolicking, Blossom sat alone, saved from utter despair only by her pack of Marlboros, for even an exchequer as slim as Blossom's can afford the joys of Marlboro—joys far beyond their paltry price: rich, mellow tobaccos, lovingly cured and carefully packed, and an exclusive secretefire flavor. Croesus himself could not buy a better cigarette!

However, Marlboro's most passionate admirers—among whose number I am paid to count myself—would not claim that Marlboro can entirely replace love and romance, and Blossom grew steadily morose.

"Accept these Gifts from Tom."

Then one day came a phone call from an intelligent sophomore named Tom O'Shanter at a nearby men's college. "Blossom," said Tom, "I want you to come down next week for the barley festival, and I won't take no for an answer."

"No," said Blossom.

"Foolish girl," said Tom gently. "I know why you refuse me. It is because you are poor, isn't it?"

"Yes," said Blossom.

"I will send you a railroad ticket," said Tom. "Also a hard-boiled egg in case you get hungry on the train."

"But I have nothing to wear," said Blossom.

Tom replied, "I will send you one suit of cashmere, two gowns of lace, three slacks of velvet, four shoes of calf, five socks of nylon, and a partridge in a pear tree."

"That is most kind," said Blossom, "but I fear I cannot dance and enjoy myself while back home my poor lame brother Tiny Tim lies a-bed."

"Send him to Mayo Brothers and put it on my tab," said Tom.

"You are terribly decent," said Blossom, "but I cannot come to your party because all the other girls at the party will be from rich, distinguished families, and my father is but a humble woodcutter."

"I will buy him Yosemite," said Tom.

"You have a great heart," said Blossom. "Hold the phone while I ask our wise and kindly old Dean of Women whether it is proper for me to accept all these gifts."

She went forthwith and asked the Dean of Women, and the Dean of Women laid her wise and kindly old hand on Blossom's cheek and said, "Child, let not false pride rob you of happiness. Accept these gifts from Tom."

"Oh, bless you, Wise and Kindly," breathed Blossom, dropping grateful tears into the Dean's reticule. "I must run and tell Tom."

"Yes, run, child," said the Dean, a smile wrinkling her wise and kindly old eyes. "And ask him has he got an older brother."

SPORTSDESK

THE MAL BROWN CLUB'S sponsorship of the Providence College-Rutgers hockey game on November 29, appears to be the initial step in a much needed solution to the attendance woes of the hockey forces. People in the past have seemingly given only lip service to plans for more support of the icemen.

Listed as one of the two major winter sports at PC, hockey, because of its failure to crack the big time winners circle, has been shunned like a contagious disease by appearances at the hockey rinks.

A SPORT, WHICH USUALLY derives much of its excitement and color from its enthusiastic followings, at Providence has been reduced for the most part to listless contests played before an empty arena. No doubt, the hockey team's performances have been anything but consistent.

Last season, for example, after capturing the Boston Christmas Tourney, they proceeded to lose several straight games, thus destroying any chance of harvesting some kind of support. Had the team continued to win, it would have undoubtedly received allegiance from the "true blue PC followers."

THE ESSENCE OF HOCKEY'S problem is that if it hopes to get any type of backing it must win and win big. Perhaps this phenomenon is a legacy of basketball's outstanding success, but it probably reflects the true color of spirit at Providence College, spirit that is represented by "an admiring bog" that only knows how to follow a winner.

IF HOCKEY IS TO SURVIVE at Providence, such games as the one sponsored by the Mal Brown Club must not be rarities. The College's administration might one day decide that hockey has no value at the school and discontinue it. Then cries from the "hundreds" of loyal hockey fans will thunder across the campus.

Next Thursday the two undefeated teams in the league, the Met Club and Senior Education, will meet in a game which will decide the league championship. The outdoor basketball tournament of the Carolan Club was completed last week as the Reptiles were victorious over the Suds, 65-64, in the final game. The semi-final game saw the Suds defeat the No-Names giving them the right to meet the undefeated Reptiles for the title.

Pete Kennedy, chairman of the tournament, said that he was very happy with the support that the tournament received. He said that mugs would be presented to the members of the winning team.

It was decided that Ed Quinn, the captain of the Reptiles, would also get a mug even though he missed the final game.

PC Rifle Team Wins Second Match; Nimrods Score High in Postal Match

The Providence College varsity rifle team won its second match of the 1961 season by posting a decisive victory over Nasson College by a score of 1396-1121. Their record is 2-1.

The Nimrods fired a score of 1412 in a postal march with Alfred University and Northwestern State College of Natchitoches, Louisiana. The scores of the latter have not been received.

On November 18, the Nimrods journey to New London, Connecticut to compete in the Coast Guard Academy's tournament. Besides the Coast Guard team, the Friars will face the Crusaders of Holy Cross.

Big upcoming shoots include St. Bonaventure, a postal match on November 26; Brown University and Boston University at Alumni Hall on December 2; on December 9, the Nimrods will host Connecticut University at home while firing a postal against William and Mary on the same date.

The ROTC rifle team beat Westminster College of Fulton, Missouri in a postal on November 4 by a score of 1392-1346. This was their initial victory of the season.

Ed Harvey Leads Friar Rifle Team

Leading the Providence College Nimrods this season is senior Edward A. Harvey Jr., captain of the ROTC Rifle and Varsity Rifle teams. On Saturday, November 18th, Harvey will lead the varsity rifle team against the Coast Guard Academy and Holy Cross at the Coast Guard Academy.

Harvey entered Providence College in the fall of 1958 after having graduated from Archbishop Stepinac High School in White Plains, New York. He hails from Chappaqua, New York.

After graduation, the letters major plans to serve a three year hitch in the Army in the armor branch. After completing his service obligation, he would like to enter the New York business field.

Before graduation, Harvey looks forward to a good shooting year for his team and for himself. Pointing out that the ten man team is potentially the best ever, he would like to cop all the prizes this year in the New England College Rifle League. Northeastern and the Coast Guard Academy are Harvey's choices for the toughest competitions.

He cites John MacDonald, Ed Libucha, junior Terry Sullivan, and soph Kudrzenski as the main coqs on the team. But it is usually Harvey himself who leads the scorers on the team.

Commenting on the loss of their coach, M/Sgt Ronald Orchard, who is leaving soon for South Viet-Nam, Ed says, "Sgt. Orchard has been a great coach and will be missed not only this year but also for years to come. Besides Sgt. Orchard's leadership, he has also done much to make the PC rifle range the finest in New England."

Mullaney - "In Top Twenty"

In an interview with a Cowl reporter in Alumni Hall, Coach Joe Mullaney was asked several pertinent questions about the progress of this year's Providence College basketball team, reported to be one of, if not, the best, in Providence College history.

How has the team been progressing in practice sessions of late?

Mullaney: "The team is healthy. As this stage of practice, it is a promising sign that the team is free from any serious injuries." (Tom) Nyire slowed down recently due to the after effects of a flu shot but he is now ready as is (Dick) Leonard who suffered a leg injury. Another good sign is the acclamation of John Thompson to contact lenses. Everyone else is in good health."

Has Jim Stone's knee rounded into shape?

Mullaney: "Stone's knee has come along very well and he will be capable of playing whenever, and as long as, the occasion requires."

Have any difficulties come up thus far?

Mullaney: "The greatest difficulty encountered thus far has been the switch to a new double pivot offense. In the past the scoring burden was carried by the guards but with the presence of the two big men up front, Hadnot and

Friar Harries Sixth; Blejwas Finishes 8th

Providence College's cross-country team, paced by junior Stan Blejwas's eight place finish, copped the sixth position in the New England Intercollegiate Cross-Country Championship at Franklin Park, Boston, on Monday.

The Friars compiled 189 points. The University of Massachusetts, with two runners in the top 10, captured the team championship with 101 points. 12th, Springfield, 122. Brown, 126. Holy Cross 140, and Connecticut 156, rounded out the top five.

Jim Keefe, a sophomore from Central Connecticut State, took the individual honors by winning first place. Keefe covered the four mile plus course in 21:01.

Keefe by the victory extended his victory record to 19 straight races.

He will now run in the NAIA National championship at Omaha, Neb., Nov. 25.

Brown freshman's team won the frosh title while the PC frosh finished seventh. No member of the Friars was able to crack the top ten.

The Friars now journey to the IC4A meet next week. The Harriers hold an 8-5 record in dual meets.

Kovalski Leads Frosh Hoopsters; Frosh Pucksters Show Promise; Both Mentors Have High Hopes

Jim Swartz, coach of the freshman basketball team said the main strength of this year's frosh five will be Bob Kovalski. Bob measures in at 6'8" and was an all-state selection from Smith Academy in Massachusetts where he broke Jack Foley's school-boy single game scoring record. Kovalski will man the center position for the Friars.

At the guard posts will most likely be a pair of New Haven, Connecticut boys, Matt Coyle, and Paul Kinske. Kinske is a good ballhandler and feeds Kovalski very well Swartz said.

The probable forwards will most likely be a duo from Providence, Jim Ahearn from Hope High School and Jim Cox from Classical High School. Coach Swartz remarked that Ahearn has a fine jump shot and will take some of the scoring burden off Kovalski.

The frosh mentor also said that the team has been looking fairly well in practice but that they will sorely lack height except for Kovalski.

The frosh schedule will have a mixture of other freshman teams with some service teams to round out the twenty game schedule.

Hockey

The freshman hockey team appears to be the best-balanced squad to appear at Providence College since Tom Eccleston took over the coaching reins here.

The squad has had seven practices in which they have shown plenty of spirit and hustle. They are a fast, well-drilled squad that will certainly do well for themselves this year.

The freshmen have scrimmaged the varsity twice, and in both scrimmages have fared well. They lost the first one 6-4 and last Saturday they succumbed, 4-3, after leading 2-0 through the first half of the scrimmage.

There are no individual stars at present. The team works well together, showing fine passing and working some fine plays together. They are an exciting team to watch in action.

Coach Ducharme feels that if the team can continue having two morning practices a week, they will be successful.

Education's Gridmen Pace Football Loop

Senior Education continued to rule the intramural touch football league this week. On Wednesday, they won by forfeit. On Friday, they defeated the second place Senior Business team, 25-6, behind the brilliant playing of Mike Trodden, Tom Delaney, and John Turbidy.

Monday's action was limited to one game because of mid-semester examinations. Senior Business picked up its sixth victory of the campaign as they squeezed by the Guzman Panthers 15-12.

Wednesday's action was also limited to one game. Senior Education won by forfeit over the Guzman Tigers and the ROTC Flankers defeated Senior ROTC also by forfeit. The surprise of the year came when Soph Economics handily downed the previously undefeated New Haven Club 24-0.

On Thursday the ROTC Flankers shut out the ROTC Marchons 12-0 and the Guzman Panthers defeated Frosh Biology 24-13. The New Haven Club forfeited to the Met Club.

On Friday, aside from the Senior Education and Senior Business contest, the Met Club continued its winning ways by downing the Guzman Tigers 31-2.

INTRAMURAL SCHEDULE

The intramural schedule for this week is as follows:

- Wednesday, November 15th
 - 12:30 Math Education vs Senior Business
 - 2:45 Senior Education vs New Haven Club
 - 2:45 ROTC Flankers vs Soph Economics
 - 1:00 ROTC Marchons vs Met Club

- Thursday, November 16th
 - 1:00 Senior Business vs ROTC Marchons
 - 1:30 Met Club vs Senior Education
 - 2:45 Frosh Biology vs Guzman Panthers
- Friday, November 17th
 - 1:00 ROTC Bombers vs Math Education

Coach Joe Mullaney

Thompson, the offense will be centered on moving the ball into one of the pivots.

"Another problem is that Hadnot and Thompson must get use to each other's presence under the boards. Not knowing each other's pattern of play too well, they may tend, so to speak, to get in each other's way in rebounding. That, however, will iron itself out in time.

All eleven players on the squad are serviceable and I wouldn't hesitate to call on any one of them whenever a situation demanded the particular talents of one boy."

We will definitely be a fast-breaking team this year with two big men to get the ball and fire it down-court quickly. A somewhat amusing note is that the boys have been so intent with the new offense that thought of the fast break seems to be forgotten at times."

With certain magazines presently rating Providence College's prospects so highly, do you think it is resulting in any sort of pressure on the boys?

Mullaney: "As a matter of fact they have been joking and kidding around about it. The only pressure to be felt will be indirect, that is, our opponents will be 'up' for PC and thus will be tougher than usual. However, if this team performs to its capabilities, it will deserve to be ranked among the top twenty teams in the nation."
