Marriage Forum Will Begin With Lecture by Theologian

Peter Paul & Mary To Highlight Weekend

Peter, Paul, and Mary, the nationally famous folk singing group, will be the highlight of this year's PC Junior Weekend. The 10th, 11th, and 12th of May have been announced as the dates for the weekend. Bids for the affair will be $20.

On Friday night, May 10, the Junior Prom will be held in the Ballroom with the music of Jesse Smith and his orchestra. The prom will begin at 9 p.m. and will continue to 1 a.m. Featuring a formal and formal format, plans are being made to serve a buffet at midnight, at the prom.

Plans are thus far tentative for a boat ride for Saturday afternoon of the weekend. On this same evening the highlight of the weekend, the Peter, Paul and Mary concert will be held in Alumni Hall. Tickets will be purchased in advance at the price of the bid, but they will also be available to the ticket holders through the use of our broker, prior to the concert, there will be a dance for those PC students who arrive at the weekend at the Grill Mill Ballroom from 11 p.m. to 1 a.m. Planning for the Sunday morning service will be followed by a Communion Breakfast in Alumni Hall. At the breakfast, there will be a guest speaker who will be announced at a later date.

Tickets for the weekend may be purchased and paid for in installments of $5 each. The entire bid, however, must be paid for prior to a week before the prom.

Further plans, additions, or revisions will be posted on the junior bulletin board. The plans are subject to change as the final representation from the PC delegates will be reviewed and from the general student body for the Peter, Paul, and Mary concert. From the PC delegates, president of the Junior Class, commented about the weekend: "This weekend appears to be the best weekend ever held at Providence College, from the standpoint of the activities and will be a great success. The weekend depends largely on the cooperation of the Junior Class, and we are striving for a 300 out of 365 couple attendance.

Economist Speaks to Conservatives

Tomorrow evening, February 18, William H. Petersen, Ph.D., associate professor of economics at New York University, will address the students of the Political Science Department of the College. Petersen is a member of the National Academy of Sciences, and a fellow of the American Economic Association. His research interests include the effects of government policy on business and labor markets, and the role of government in promoting economic growth. His most recent book, "The Economics of Government," was published in 1980.

Peter Paul, and Mary, the nationally famous folk singing group, will be the highlight of this year's PC Junior Weekend. The 10th, 11th, and 12th of May have been announced as the dates for the weekend. Bids for the affair will be $20.

On Friday night, May 10, the Junior Prom will be held in the Ballroom with the music of Jesse Smith and his orchestra. The prom will begin at 9 p.m. and will continue to 1 a.m. Featuring a formal and formal format, plans are being made to serve a buffet at midnight, at the prom.

Plans are thus far tentative for a boat ride for Saturday afternoon of the weekend. On this same evening the highlight of the weekend, the Peter, Paul and Mary concert will be held in Alumni Hall. Tickets will be purchased in advance at the price of the bid, but they will also be available to the ticket holders through the use of our broker, prior to the concert, there will be a dance for those PC students who arrive at the weekend at the Grill Mill Ballroom from 11 p.m. to 1 a.m. Planning for the Sunday morning service will be followed by a Communion Breakfast in Alumni Hall. At the breakfast, there will be a guest speaker who will be announced at a later date.

Tickets for the weekend may be purchased and paid for in installments of $5 each. The entire bid, however, must be paid for prior to a week before the prom.

Further plans, additions, or revisions will be posted on the junior bulletin board. The plans are subject to change as the final representation from the PC delegates will be reviewed and from the general student body for the Peter, Paul, and Mary concert. From the PC delegates, president of the Junior Class, commented about the weekend: "This weekend appears to be the best weekend ever held at Providence College, from the standpoint of the activities and will be a great success. The weekend depends largely on the cooperation of the Junior Class, and we are striving for a 300 out of 365 couple attendance."
Lenten Masses to Be Held Daily: Schedule & Regulations Released

The schedule of devotion during Lent was announced this week by the Rev. Thomas Mclntire, O.F. Chaplain of Providence College. During Lent, Masses will be offered at 7:00 a.m. in Aquinas and St. Joseph’s Chapels. Masses in Harkins Hall Auditorium will be offered at 7:45 a.m. and at 10:00 a.m. Sermons, presented on Wednesday nights at 10:40 in Aquinas Chapel, will be delivered by the Rev. J. P. Gerhard, O.F. P. on February 27; the Rev. T. L. Fialon, O.P. on March 6; the Rev. R. A. Fleck, O.P. on March 13; the Rev. W. F. Haas, O.P. on March 20; and the Rev. R. St. George, O.P. on March 27.

Other suggestions brought up at the meeting were the following: students over 21 years of age are allowed. Students who are not students who can keep the fast should seek a dispensation. Any priest on campus can dispense from the laws of fasting outside of convents.

Days of fast are the weekdays of Lent. On days of fast, only one full meal is allowed. Other meals must be sufficient to maintain strength, may be taken; but together these meals should not equal another full meal.

Meat may be taken at the principle meal on days of fast except Ash Wednesday and the Fridays of Lent. Eating between meals is not permitted under the laws of fasting; but liquids, including milk and fruit juices, are allowed. Students who are dispensed from the fast are obliged to the law of abstinence.

Students who have not reached their 21st birthday are not obliged to laws of fasting. They are obliged to the laws of abstinence.

Complete abstinence is to be observed on Ash Wednesday and Fridays. On days of complete abstinence, meat may not be taken at any meal. Partial abstinence is to be observed on Wednesday, March 6, and on Saturday, March 9 which are Ember Days. On these days, meat may be taken only once a day at the principal meal.

Campus Barber Shop

3 Barbers

"We Have the Scissors with the College Education"

8 TO 5 MON. THRU FRI.

CLOSED SATURDAY ALL DAY

Andy Corsini, Prop.
WHAT IS UP FRONT?

Up front, ahead of a modern filter, only Winston has Filter-Blend... rich, golden tobaccos specially selected and specially processed for full flavor in filter smoking. It's what's up front that counts!

WINSTON TASTES GOOD

like a cigarette should!
Editorially Speaking

Waste . . .

Next Monday evening, the Student Congress of Providence College will be confronted with what may be called a "secondment of the lion." That question—of which the eight companies now under consideration for the blazer contract for next year will be awarded the contract. They are considered equal in the eyes of the blazer committee. The former is usually a popular distribution of business-time at the Congress meetings. The COWL suggests that only that company which has been recommended by the blazer committee and the company which has held the contract during the last year be considered at next week's meeting. In this way, our student government might be able to reassess its position as the representative of the student and to prove that it deserves respect as a responsible student organization.

Lent at PC . . .

"Remember, man, that you are dust, and into dust you shall return." These words from Chapter 3, Verse 19, of Genesis are being hounded in Ash Wednesdays throughout the world today as the penitential season of Lent begins. At Providence College, this Lent marks the sixth anniversary of the institution of the 10:20 daily mass. The Rev. Thomas H. McBrien, O.P., College Chaplain, was inspired to initiate these services from Chapter 3, Verse 19, of Genesis: "Remember, man, that you are dust, and into dust you shall return." These speeches, to be held next Tuesday, will be adorned (and we use this word loosely) by innumerable posters. However, the most important facet of Lent at Providence College will be the examination of the blazer contract. At the last meeting of the executive offices within the SC? These students can attain to a greater degree of grace for himself by an active and sincere participation in the College's Lenten services. In the absence of any of us who can say that he doesn't need some extra help from God?

Inefficiency . . .

With the entrance of the "lion" March upon the scene, that annual PC phenomenon will return—Student Congress and class elections. Aspiring politicians can make much more volume than the old-fashioned almanac; walls, and floors of Harkins Hall will be adorned (and we use this word loosely) by innumerable posters. However, the most important facet of the election campaign should be their speeches.

These speeches, to be held next Tuesday afternoon at 1:50, will take place in three buildings simultaneously, but what of those candidates who seek executive offices within the SC? These students will be forced to race from one building to another in an attempt to coordinate their speeches or more less "on the fly."

The Cowl suggests to the Congress that a more efficient system be planned in the future and that, during next week's speeches, an effort be made to coordinate the speeches so that the student body of PC will be able to give due consideration to each candidate.

World Affairs

"Kennedy Isolationism" Causes New Problems

By RAYMOND DEVLIN

Isolationism has long been out of vogue as a practical approach toward international affairs. Liberals occasionally chide conservatives for being isolationists when the latter oppose foreign aid to neutral nations. Yet, when the military and foreign policies of the Kennedy administration are closely scrutinized, it would appear that the real isolationists are in the White House and the State Department, not in Congress in the conservative coalition.

First, the matter of allies and alliances. During his two short years in office, President Kennedy has managed to make a marked difference in the number of alliances so painstakingly constructed and cultivated by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles in the conservative coalition.

In Europe, most of the NATO nations have been alienated in one way or another. The West Germans have been outraged by Mr. Kennedy's insulting attitude toward President Adenauer and by the quaint manner in which the Berlin Wall was allowed to go up. The Dutch have been angered by the sale of the West New Guinea to Indonesia. The Portuguese have been offended by the failure to react to Portugal's request to go to Goa and not merely "approve" the encouragement of pro-Communist terrorists in Angola.

The President has bewildered the British by cancelling the Skybolt. He has provoked the French by canceling a French-Gaullist weapons deal and by the weak-kneed manner in which the Berlin Wall was allowed to go up. The Dutch have been angered by the sale of New Guinea to Indonesia. The Portuguese have been offended by the failure to react to Portugal's request to go to Goa and not merely "approve" the encouragement of pro-Communist terrorists in Angola.

In the Americas, anti-American feeling has had a resurgence in Canada because of the State Department's high-handed public criticism of Canadian weapon policies. Our few active alliances in Latin America, such as President Ydigoras of Guatemala, have been angered by the betrayal of the Cuban invasion force, the present do nothing Cuba policy, and the inability to stop Cuban-subversion.

In Asia, Pakistan has become a "pro-Indian" because of the State Department's high-handed public criticism of Cuban weapon policies. Our few active alliances in Latin America, such as President Ydigoras of Guatemala, have been angered by the betrayal of the Cuban invasion force, the present do nothing Cuba policy, and the inability to stop Cuban-subversion.

La Jenesse

Katanga, one of the few pro-Western nations in Africa, has been destroyed by President Kennedy's approval. South Africa and Rhodesia have been estranged by his tacit backing of the anti-white native movements in those countries.

In Asia, Pakistan has become a "pro-Indian" because of the State Department's high-handed public criticism of Cuban weapon policies. Our few active alliances in Latin America, such as President Ydigoras of Guatemala, have been angered by the betrayal of the Cuban invasion force, the present do nothing Cuba policy, and the inability to stop Cuban-subversion.

THE COWL, FEBRUARY 27, 1963

FRANK DEVLIN—Editor-in-Chief

EXECUTIVE EDITOR, PETER J. CONN

MANAGING EDITOR, FRANK D. LAJEUNESSE

ART EDITOR, JERRY DE MARIA

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE PRODUCES WORLD AFFAIRS

"Kennedy Isolationism" Causes New Problems

By RAYMOND DEVLIN

Isolationism has long been out of vogue as a practical approach toward international affairs. Liberals occasionally chide conservatives for being isolationists when the latter oppose foreign aid to neutral nations. Yet, when the military and foreign policies of the Kennedy administration are closely scrutinized, it would appear that the real isolationists are in the White House and the State Department, not in Congress in the conservative coalition.

First, the matter of allies and alliances. During his two short years in office, President Kennedy has managed to make a marked difference in the number of alliances so painstakingly constructed and cultivated by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles in the conservative coalition.

In Europe, most of the NATO nations have been alienated in one way or another. The West Germans have been outraged by Mr. Kennedy's insulting attitude toward President Adenauer and by the quaint manner in which the Berlin Wall was allowed to go up. The Dutch have been angered by the sale of the West New Guinea to Indonesia. The Portuguese have been offended by the failure to react to Portugal's request to go to Goa and not merely "approve" the encouragement of pro-Communist terrorists in Angola.

The President has bewildered the British by cancelling the Skybolt. He has provoked the French by canceling a French-Gaullist weapons deal and by the weak-kneed manner in which the Berlin Wall was allowed to go up. The Dutch have been angered by the sale of New Guinea to Indonesia. The Portuguese have been offended by the failure to react to Portugal's request to go to Goa and not merely "approve" the encouragement of pro-Communist terrorists in Angola.

In the Americas, anti-American feeling has had a resurgence in Canada because of the State Department's high-handed public criticism of Canadian weapon policies. Our few active alliances in Latin America, such as President Ydigoras of Guatemala, have been angered by the betrayal of the Cuban invasion force, the present do nothing Cuba policy, and the inability to stop Cuban-subversion.

In Asia, Pakistan has become a "pro-Indian" because of the State Department's high-handed public criticism of Cuban weapon policies. Our few active alliances in Latin America, such as President Ydigoras of Guatemala, have been angered by the betrayal of the Cuban invasion force, the present do nothing Cuba policy, and the inability to stop Cuban-subversion.

FRANK DEVLIN—Editor-in-Chief

EXECUTIVE EDITOR, PETER J. CONN

MANAGING EDITOR, FRANK D. LAJEUNESSE

ART EDITOR, JERRY DE MARIA

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE PRODUCES WORLD AFFAIRS

"Kennedy Isolationism" Causes New Problems

By RAYMOND DEVLIN

Isolationism has long been out of vogue as a practical approach toward international affairs. Liberals occasionally chide conservatives for being isolationists when the latter oppose foreign aid to neutral nations. Yet, when the military and foreign policies of the Kennedy administration are closely scrutinized, it would appear that the real isolationists are in the White House and the State Department, not in Congress in the conservative coalition.

First, the matter of allies and alliances. During his two short years in office, President Kennedy has managed to make a marked difference in the number of alliances so painstakingly constructed and cultivated by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles in the conservative coalition.

In Europe, most of the NATO nations have been alienated in one way or another. The West Germans have been outraged by Mr. Kennedy's insulting attitude toward President Adenauer and by the quaint manner in which the Berlin Wall was allowed to go up. The Dutch have been angered by the sale of the West New Guinea to Indonesia. The Portuguese have been offended by the failure to react to Portugal's request to go to Goa and not merely "approve" the encouragement of pro-Communist terrorists in Angola.

The President has bewildered the British by cancelling the Skybolt. He has provoked the French by canceling a French-Gaullist weapons deal and by the weak-kneed manner in which the Berlin Wall was allowed to go up. The Dutch have been angered by the sale of New Guinea to Indonesia. The Portuguese have been offended by the failure to react to Portugal's request to go to Goa and not merely "approve" the encouragement of pro-Communist terrorists in Angola.

In the Americas, anti-American feeling has had a resurgence in Canada because of the State Department's high-handed public criticism of Canadian weapon policies. Our few active alliances in Latin America, such as President Ydigoras of Guatemala, have been angered by the betrayal of the Cuban invasion force, the present do nothing Cuba policy, and the inability to stop Cuban-subversion.

In Asia, Pakistan has become a "pro-Indian" because of the State Department's high-handed public criticism of Cuban weapon policies. Our few active alliances in Latin America, such as President Ydigoras of Guatemala, have been angered by the betrayal of the Cuban invasion force, the present do nothing Cuba policy, and the inability to stop Cuban-subversion.
Glad Rags

The bounds of spring are on winter's terrace. Soon buds the crown, soon trills the giant song, soon come the new spring formations for the adornment of the world.

And what will the American college student wear this spring? Gather round, you normals, and light a Marlboro Cigarette and enjoy that fine tobacco, that pure white filter, and pour your souls in sweet content, and listen.

As everyone knows, campus fashions have always been casual. This spring, however, they have gone beyond being merely casual.

The object is to look madly impractical, gaily spurt-of-the-moment. As one of our student editors has put it, "A man can wear a peasant skirt with a dinner jacket; or matador pants with a bridal veil; or Bermuda shorts with a pure white filter. Be rakish! Be impractical! Be devil-take-the-hindmost!

And, men, you be the same. Try an opera cape with sweat pants. Or a letter-writer with bolo and hip boots. Be bold! Be daring! Be a tourist attraction!

But all is not innovation in college fashions this spring. In fact, one of the highlights of the season turns back into itself. I refer, of course, to the comeback of the powdered wig.

This charming adornment, too long neglected, has already caught on with an understandable everywhere. On hundreds of campuses the boons nova is giving way to the minuet, and patriotic undergraduates are dumping British tea into the nearest harbor. This, as you may imagine, is not at all well with King George III who, according to reliable reports, has been stamping his feet and wringing cones not fit to be regarded as this family newspaper. For that matter, a lot of our own people are alarmed, and there has been even some talk about the American colonizers declaring their independence of England. But I hardly think it will come to that. I mean, how can we break with the mother country when we are dependent on her for so many things—linsey-woolsey, Minie balls, taper snuffers, and, last but not least, C. F. Bidewald, but the poor fellow is still bouncing—his seventh story window in the Tower of Learning. Thanks to his pneumatic underdrawers. These inflatable garments make every Vermont bus ride a thing to remember. And, as Planetais, we may yet find an affordable solution to our differences. But let all our British cousins make this willingness to share a test of both.

As Father Thomas Aquinas called it, "The book of God and therefore possess a unique primacy.

In any case, I digress. We were smoking Marlboro Cigarettes—of the season's most striking new feature—pneumatic underdrawers. These inflatable garments make every Vermont bus ride a thing to remember. And, as Planetais, we may yet find an affordable solution to our differences. But let all our British cousins make this willingness to share a test of both.

---

On Campus

(Continued on Page 7)

---

The Cowl February 27, 1963

---

---
Pucksters to Meet Larries on Tuesday In Tourney Opener

Last Friday the Providence College hockey team accepted its second straight bid to participate in the ECAC Playoffs to be held beginning next Tuesday, March 5. The Friars will meet the highly-touted.rfers of Colgate will visit Cambridge on Tuesday night to play the Crimson of Harvard. Since the tournament, won 6-3 hut the veteran studded team has really served 11 overtime tie games and only the rout. The Lames are present in the standings, the game against Clarkson; the Red Knights were accepted to play the Black and White fought the intra-city rival. Brown, will travel to Providence College for the semifinals and two are playing a determined, comparative scores, strengths and records would not be known. It is only five days until the ECAC game will be held in Boston for the semifinals and two are playing a determined, comparative scores, strengths and records would not be known. It is only five days until the ECAC game will be played...
Basketball Preview...

Larry Bafforty, both averaging around 10 points per game. This is the last game on the schedule for Fairfield, and they will probably go "all out" to end the season with a major upset in front of the home fans.

Hockey....

eyes during pregame warmups. Before the start of the final session Hornstein asked Coach Tom Reardon to be replaced by Hugh Fealing that the Friars would have a better chance of pulling the "event out with the "Hose" guarding the crate.

Roy, Herman Schneider, O.P., moderator of the hockey team remarked that Hornstein's record for the team's victory and but for himself was most praiseworthy and commendable.

"This was one game we had to win if there was going to be any post-season tournament for us," voiced defense lawyer Larry Rath after the Friars had finally triumphed over RPI 4-1.

Scoring two markers in each of the first two periods, PC held the Engineers at bay until near the end of the game when RPI's fine forward Bob Brinkworth rumbled goalie Haugh's shutout bid with a long shot for their only notch of the game. The Friars scored on their initial rush into RPI ice as "Cricket" Cannon heat Enginee goalie, Bill Sacks, on a neat 15-footer, catching the upper right corner of the cage. Lamerieiro banged Jake Keough's pass into the nets from the right to finish the first session's scoring.

Lamerieiro scored again on a Keough assist from the face-off. Tom Shloman closed out the Black and White's scoring with a penalty shot after he was tripped from behind on a break away.

Goal tending Haugh came up with another brilliant job as he turned back 31 RPI attempts. Back bunted himself with 24 saves.

Backed far the E.C. A.C. the home-lee, which will deride teams run, both members nt averaging over and willingly be awarded $25.00. Winning entries submitted in the entrant's name. There will be 50 awards every month, October through April. Entries must be original works of the entrants and must be submitted in the entrant's own name. There will be 50 awards every month, October through April. Entries received during each month will be considered for that month's awards. Any entry received after April 30, 1963, will not be eligible, and all become the property of The American Tobacco Company. Any college student may enter contests, except employees of The American Tobacco Company, its advertising agencies and Reuben H. Donnelly, and relatives of the said employees. Winners will be notified by mail. Contest subject to all federal, state, and local regulations.

OTHER STARTERS FOR FAIRFIELD IN a game and both members nt averaging over and

RULES: The Reuben H. Donnelly Corp. will judge entries on the basis of humor (up to 160), clarity and freshness (up to 160) and appropriateness (up to 200), and their decision will be final. Duplicate prizes will be awarded in the event of ties. Entries must be original works of the entrants and must be submitted in the entrant's own name. There will be 50 awards every month, October through April. Entries received during each month will be considered for that month's awards. Any entry received after April 30, 1963, will not be eligible, and all become the property of The American Tobacco Company. Any college student may enter contests, except employees of The American Tobacco Company, its advertising agencies and Reuben H. Donnelly, and relatives of the said employees. Winners will be notified by mail. Contest subject to all federal, state, and local regulations.

A FAREWELL TO ARMS

THE QUESTION: Whose was the first novel to be about self-completion? That original poem, the greater is the twist of grace.

The Friars are expected in a crucial game s 16,100 fans. Before the start of the final period Hornstein asked Coach Tom Reardon to be replaced by Hugh Fealing that the Friars would have a better chance of pulling the "event out with the "Hose" guarding the crate.

The Friars scored on their initial rush into RPI ice as "Cricket" Cannon heat Enginee goalie, Bill Sacks, on a neat 15-footer, catching the upper right corner of the cage. Lamerieiro banged Jake Keough's pass into the nets from the right to finish the first session's scoring.

Lamerieiro scored again on a Keough assist from the face-off. Tom Shloman closed out the Black and White's scoring with a penalty shot after he was tripped from behind on a break away.

Goal tending Haugh came up with another brilliant job as he turned back 31 RPI attempts. Back bunted himself with 24 saves.

Backed far the E.C. A.C. the home-lee, which will deride teams run, both members nt averaging over and willingly be awarded $25.00. Winning entries submitted in the entrant's name. There will be 50 awards every month, October through April. Entries must be original works of the entrants and must be submitted in the entrant's own name. There will be 50 awards every month, October through April. Entries received during each month will be considered for that month's awards. Any entry received after April 30, 1963, will not be eligible, and all become the property of The American Tobacco Company. Any college student may enter contests, except employees of The American Tobacco Company, its advertising agencies and Reuben H. Donnelly, and relatives of the said employees. Winners will be notified by mail. Contest subject to all federal, state, and local regulations.

Cricket Cannon scores a goal against RPI goalie Bill Sack in a game the Friars won 4-1. Fred Kitchen (6) of the Clarkson defense moves in. Friars avenged an earlier defeat and the win enabled them to win a spot in the ECAC Tournament.

Goalie Tom Haugh relaxes in the nets as he watches the action at the other end. Haugh took over the goal tending job this year and has done a tremendous job.

Charlie McPhillips (30), Howie LaPorte, John Corbett and Phil Reagan (22) relax in the dressing room between periods of the RPI game. Spirits ran high as the Friars won handily, 4-1.

Don Sheehan (9) scores on a penalty shot against RPI as he fakes Goalie Bill Sack from the crease. Sheehan had broken through the defense before being tripped up.