Delegates Adopt Resolutions
To Be Called "Providence
Pronouncement"

Here Next Fall

A program of social justice for the Negro in the United States was urged by White and Negro speakers upon nearly 400 delegates at the Providence College Inter-racial conference held last Sunday afternoon in Harkins Hall.

"America will not allow the Negro to live in human dignity because America has put an artificial value on being white," Charles H. Houston, attorney for the Association for the Advancement of Colored People, told the gathering.

A series of resolutions entitled "The Providence Pronouncement," calling upon Catholic college students to "set an example in the field of race relations in accordance with the natural law of justice, the American tradition of equality of opportunity and the divine precept of charity towards all men," was adopted by the conference.

Permanent Unit Formed
Student delegates from 10 colleges met and formed a permanent inter-collegiate inter-racial organization.

Prizes in an essay contest were awarded to student delegates writing the best papers on inter-racial justice. The winners were Miss Edwiga Rafalowsky of St. Joseph's College, Russell Amann of Providence College and Miss Florence Deschamps of River College.

Opening the "hearing" which featured the meeting, Dr. Hudson J. Oliver, noted New York physician, said "We are deeply concerned with the spread of communism among Negroes. The Negro in America today is lending a sympathetic ear to any philosophy that seems to herald the dawn of a brighter day."

Prominent Men Participate
The chief witnesses at the hearing were Rev. John J. LaFarge, S.J., associate editor of "America," and Mr. Houston. Fr. LaFarge discussed the Papal Encyclicals in relation to the Negro problem and stated that "the present treatment of the Negro is an anti-social principle, introducing

Frosh Dance Profit Donated to Fund

$125 Given By Class to College
Building Fund After Successful Dance

The proceeds from the Freshman dance, amounting to $125, will be given by the class to the Providence College Building Fund, Charles Sweeney, class president, announced yesterday. The dance, held on the eve of St. Patrick's day, March 16, and attended by an overflow crowd of 231 couples proved to be one of the most successful social affairs ever to be run in Harkins Hall. It was the first social event to be held by the class of '41.

Sweeney said, "The committee and the class officers are highly gratified at the huge success of the dance. The majority of the Freshmen feel confident that our dances next year will be just as successful as the St. Patrick's dance and that we have no pressing need for the money. We think that there could be no better way of disposing of the profit than by giving it to the Building Fund."

Players Choose 1938 Musical Comedy Cast

Principal Roles Are Filled As Twelve Are Chosen For
"Friar Away"

The cast for the 12 principal parts in "Friar Away," 1938 edition of the annual Providence College musical comedy, was announced yesterday afternoon by Raymond A. Baker, '38, general business manager of the production. Those chosen include Paul Farley, '38, William Cunningham, '39, John Bucklin, '38, Donald Albro, '40, Fred Donke, '41, James Durkin, '41, Gerald O'Brien, '41, John Gibbons, '41, Francis Mullen, '39, Arthur Pike, '38, Eugene J. McElroy, Jr., '39, and Paul Davis, '41.

Rehearsals for "Friar Away," which will run in Harkins Hall on the evenings of April 26, 27, 28 and 29, are being held on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the college, under the supervision of the Rev. Urban Nagle, O.P., director, and John J. Andre, '39, assistant director.

J. Kennedy Burned In Lab Accident

Junior Science Student Suffers
Burns as Fluid Ignites
His Coat

John Kennedy, '39, received painful burns about the hand and wrist in an accident which occurred in an organic chemistry laboratory yesterday afternoon. Kennedy was working with an inflammable fluid on his hands. The fluid caught fire and ignited the sleeve of his coat.

Only the quick action of John J. Milles, '38, another student in the laboratory, saved Kennedy from burns of even greater consequence. As the victim attempted, without success, to smother the flame, Milles snatched a fire extinguisher from the wall and put out the fire.

Kennedy was immediately rushed to the Medical Bureau, but the doctors had left. In their absence, Doctor John A. McGrail head of the chemistry department, who was in his office at the time of the accident, treated the injury.

MAINE UNIVERSITY DEBATE TONIGHT

A debate on the National Labor Relations Board question will be held here tonight between members of the Providence College Debating Union and a team from the University of Maine. The Providence College representatives, Frank G. McGovern, '38, Anthony Robinson, '40, and Timothy Crawley, '38, will have the affirmative.

"Rated with the greatest by leading swing authorities" is the way one Boston paper describes Art Shaw's orchestra, which will "swing on down" for the members of the class of 1939 and their friends at the annual Junior Prom in the Biltmore Hotel Ballroom on Monday evening, May 9. The affair, which will climax an extensive Junior Week program, will last from 9 until 2 a.m.

Shaw, a clarinet virtuoso, has been featured on the "Saturday Night Swing Session" several times. The swing style of his orchestra is considered to be "pure," in the fullest sense of the word, because the boys use just the bare outline of the melody and improvise each number. Artie gained his early start as a soloist for some of radio's leading orchestras, including those of Richard Himber, Andre Kostelanetz, Peter Van Steeden, and many others. The popular leader played on 35 many as twenty commercial programs a week until a breakdown in health forced him into temporary retirement. From that short rest Art Shaw has emerged to become the leader and feature of an "ace swing band that has definitely arrived."

Students who wish to get an auditory preview of the band may do so by dialing in their local Columbia networks station on any Tuesday at 12 midnight or on any Saturday at 6:30 p.m. The broadcast series was inaugurated last Tuesday night and it is expected that this arrangement will add tremendously to Artie's national popularity as he "is already recognized as one of the world's foremost clarinet players and his swing arrangements are tops."

James J. Gallogy, chairman of the Prom committee, declared yesterday that the favors for the dance definitely will be selected within the next week. Gallogy also re-emphasized the practicality of making deposits on tickets for the Prom so as to avoid a culmination of expenses during Junior Week. These deposits may be made with any of Gallogy's assistants, who include J. Laurence Hall, Joseph Martellino, Joseph Baldwin, and Edward Burke and the officers of the class.

"Shipwreck" Kelley, Atop College's Flagpole, Attracts Much Attention

Famous Endurance Sitter
Climbs, Repairs, and Paints
83 Foot Mast

Although Rhode Island at present is gripped in the throes of a mild "recession," it is safe to say that not many of the unemployed would have cared to exchange places with Albert "Shipwreck" Kelly on last Monday. Kelly, who has gained renown as a top flight flagpole endurance sitter, was atop the 83-foot pole, on that day, applying a coat of paint.

Quite in keeping with his nickname, "Shipwreck," Kelly felt at home atop the lofty spar, as it was formerly a mast on an American cup defender.

Rev. G. B. Stratemeier Will Preach Retreat

MOVIES POSTPONED

The postponement of the showing of "Navy Wings," scheduled originally for tonight, was announced yesterday noon by the Rev. John T. McGregor, O.P., moderator of the Senior Class. The movie was to have been exhibited in connection with a lecture on the Aviation Cadet Corps of the navy.

A letter received yesterday morning by Father McGregor said that the illness of the movie operator made a showing impossible. This news came from Lieut. J. J. Shea, U.S.N.R., executive officer at the Aviation Base in Squantum, Mass.

Sunny Florida Balmy, Says Campus Dean

Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly Return
From Annual Vacation in Florida

Brown as the proverbial berry, and looking fitter than the proverbial fiddle, Providence College's own Dean of Agriculture, John Donnelly has returned from his annual month's stay in sunny Florida. Nor was Mr. Donnelly's vacation spent in idle relaxation and comfort. Adventure, novelty, and pleasure was what he sought, and pleasure, novelty, and adventure was what he got.

Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly's annual trip to Florida has become almost a tradition at the College, and the student body looks forward each year to their return so that it may hear all about the good time enjoyed by the kindly couple. Mr. Donnelly returned just in time to supervise "Shipwreck" Kelly's painting of the flagpole, and a good thing it was that he did get back in time, for if there is anything that John Donnelly can do well, it's supervise.

While the rest of us here were fighting blizzards, icy blasts, and mounting fuel bills, Mr. Donnelly was rolling on the placid calm of the southern Atlantic, wrestling with rod and reel to land a giant tuna. And this is no fish story! After a two-hour and a half struggle, Mr. Donnelly landed a beautiful 15-pound tuna. Forgetting, for a moment, to be his usual taciturn self, Mr. Donnelly said, "He was a slippery customer, but I was too slick for him. I lured him to the boat with a piece of cheese, and then hit him on the head

Spiritual Exercises Will Be Held Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday of Holy Week

DOMINICAN EDUCATOR

Received Doctorate of Philosophy in Paleography at Rome

The Rev. George B. Stratemeier, O. P., S.T. Lr., Ph.D., LL.D., Chaplain at Catholic University, will be master of the annual student spiritual retreat, which will be held this year on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 11, 12 and 13. The Easter recess will begin at the completion of the exercises of the retreat at twelve noon Wednesday. Classes will be resumed at 8 o'clock on Thursday, April 21.

Father Stratemeier was born in Pittsburgh, Pa. in 1895. He entered the Dominican Order in 1914, and was ordained June 12, 1921. He was educated at St. Vincent's Abbey College, Latrobe, Pa. He received a Doctorate of Philosophy in Paleography at Rome.

The experience of Father Stratemeier in education has been wide. He taught at St. Mary of The Springs College, E. Columbus, O., at the Dominican Houses of Study at River Forest, Ill., and at Washington, he was assistant master of students, and taught Ecclesiastical History and Apologetics at both. In addition to his duties as chaplain at Catholic University, Father Stratemeier is professor of History and Religion there.

Within the Order, the retreat master is "Promoter of Causes of Beatification and Canonization" for the Province of St. Joseph.

Cowl Running Student Poll

Questions Cover Politics, War, College Affairs And The
Cowl Itself

With the printing yesterday of about 900 copies of a student questionnaire, The Cowl opened its first general poll of the current year. Divided in two parts, the list of questions embraces important world topics as well as the immediate interests of Providence College.

Approximately 600 of the blanks have been distributed to date, and by Tuesday each of the 850 students of the College will have been given a ballot.

Agree With Roosevelt?
Yes or no answers are asked on the question of agreement with Roosevelt's present policies, on favoring a third term for Roosevelt, and on the probability of a world war within two years. The poll will reveal also the number of hours which the P. C. man studies weekly, the time he spent in special preparation for the mid-year exam, and his opinion of The Cowl itself.

What About The Cowl?
Asking frankly for both constructive and destructive criticism of The Cowl, the poll is "a conscientious effort by the members of the staff to determine exactly what the student wants in his paper."

To allow adequate time for voting and for tabulation, the deadline on returning the ballots has been set for 1:00 p.m. next Wednesday. The complete results will be published in next Friday morning's edition. A special poll conducted by The Cowl among the sociology classes here during January won nation-wide attention.

Spring Brings Chug-Chug of John Donnelly's All-Powerful Tractor

Monster Breathes Clouds On Wary Students and Profs In Its Path

It's big, it's heavy, it's noisy. It careens about the campus sweeping all before it. No, it is not Hugh Devore's football machine, but John Donnelly's four-wheeled, steel and rubber monster.

The coming of sweet spring time to Providence College always means, besides a job for flag pole painters, a clash between the snorting tractor and laboring professors, who must lecture with windows closed, which is impossible because of the heat; or with windows open, which is equally impossible because of the noise which the machine makes as it careens about the campus.

Statistics on the contraption: It is a McCormick Deering Farmall tractor. Only four cylinders make all the noise (it is not true that the boys leave the throttle open—there is no throttle). Oil is put in about three times a year. It is greased every morning, and all repair work is done at the College—Vincent Mancini is chief mechanic. Top speed (down hill) is about 6 miles per hour. It has a standard gear shift, no hand brake and the clutch and accelerator work from the same pedal. Gets about seven miles to a gallon.

Uses of the contraption: Cut the grass, rake the lawn, level the ground, plow snow, haul (the little red team), pull out stumps and stumps and (?) take the best girl for a ride of a Sunday afternoon.

Thomas Izzi, in the saddle at the time of The Cowl's investigation, said, "Without this tractor we couldn't get a thing done around here." To which the rest of Mr. Donnelly's crew, "Joe," "Benny," "Herbie," and "John"—the "Best gang in the country"—voiced a fervent "Hear, Hear." Certain unnamed professors, however, are of the opinion that with it, nothing can be done around here.

Contrary to the impression of the majority of undergraduates, riding this iron steed about is no fun. It rocks and it jounces like a mule on a spree, for its huge rear tires do not ride comfortably, even though they do cost about $80 per.

FR. GEORGES CONDEMNS MODERN MORAL CODES

The Rev. Irving A. Georges, O.P., of the philosophy department of the College, discussed "The Modern Ethical Temper" at the monthly meeting of the Queen's Daughters in Cathedral Hall Tuesday evening. Father Georges decried the rejection of the Ten Commandments by the "ultra-modern" and added that "a cynical disregard of the Decalogue has never helped anyone to the fuller and richer life."

FRENCH CLUB

The meeting of La Pleiade, Providence College French Club, which was to have been held on Wednesday, March 23 has been postponed. Instead, the society will meet on next Wednesday, March 30 at 2:30 p.m. in room 22.

TICKETS FOR SHOW

Students are requested by Raymond J. Baker, '38, general business manager for "Friar Away," to fulfill promises made last January for tickets to the show. Tickets are priced at $75 and $50 and are on sale daily in the Rotunda or in the band room. Members of the ticket committee are Vincent T. Aniello, '38, chairman, William Dolan, '39, Charles McConnell, '40, and Walter Boyle, '39.

Model League Held At Mass. State

A delegation of ten students from the International Relations Union attended the annual meeting of the Model League of Nations last Friday and Saturday at Massachusetts State College at Amherst. Norman J. Carignan, '39, also a member of the IRU, represented Providence College at a dinner of the Foreign Policy Association in the Providence Biltmore Hotel on Friday evening.

Included in the group at the Model League were: Thomas W. Durnin, '38; Francis J. O'Rourke, '38; John Carr, '38; John J. Stratton, '38; Robert W. Murphy, '38; Vincent T. Aniello, '38; Daniel J. MacArthur, '40; Michael O. Jenkins, '41; and Milton Krevolin, '41. Representatives from about thirty other colleges were present.

Tentative plans for panel discussions with Regis, Holy Cross, Amherst, and Mt. St. Mary's Colleges were announced last night by the Rev. Peter P. Reilly, O.P., moderator of the organization.

SEEN OR HEARD

EUGENE J. McELROY, Jr. '39

Dear Ed. In conformity with the accepted custom of writing letters to the editor, I am writing this one that includes some that I have received during the past week. Some of them anonymous and others did not have any name signed to them. But because they are good, here they are.

The First: Dear Herder of the Scene. That Letter of Casey (on a bat) Moher hit the nail on the head. It first proved that the College newspaper will print signed letters and second it showed the school that somebody, if only the Friar's Club, reads the editorials. By way of suggestion to the Friar's Club, I think that they should try to provide something in the way of entertainment. Other organizations in other colleges have a club whose main contribution to the entertainment of the college during the year is a form of stunt night that burlesques phases of college life or student life in and around the college. The Friar's club, I know, has other activities that are more important, but after all this is only a suggestion.

Another letter advocated the fixing of jobs to deserving athletes. The jobs advocated were to help the construction of the new dorm. The only trouble that we found with the plan is that things would be in a sorry state of affairs if Gig Pariseau happened to fall off a scaffolding or if the happiness twins (Leo and Barnini) got lost in behind a couple of bricks. We can almost hear Jimmy Leo shouting from behind a brick, "Yes Sir, Mr. Coach."

Well Co-ed's that's about all the letters that I can afford to print this week. Some of the others aren't fit to print any week. Some that I can't read and others that The Scowler could use.

Yours 'til a Friar Flies,
Al Embic.

Spot Note: Add Intramural sports

The Business group of lunch box students that are tired of playing checkers have given P.C. a new game. It's TIP IT. The McGovern, Berrigan, Breckle, Vogel and McGreen Co. et al. are supposedly the leading exponents of the game. John (Coffee?) Congdon reported that last Monday there were eight games in action, and I mean ACTION, at the same time. By the way, as a Calf Flash, Joe Shea reports that there's no story from Mill City this week. No news from Fall River is NEWS.

"I'll tell you the difference I have found in cigarettes!"

SAYS
WILBUR SHAW

record-smashing auto racing driver to
BEN E. WILBUR, radio announcer

"You're known as a great Camel smoker, Mr. Shaw. Are Camels really so different from other cigarettes?"

"Yes, Ben, Camels are a lot different. That's why they're the racing drivers' favorite. To fellows like us, there are so many things that mean a great deal in smoking. One big angle that carries weight with me is that Camels agree with me! I've smoked a good many thousands of Camels in the past 10 years, so I know that from experience."

AFTER WINNING the 500-mile Indianapolis race, Wilbur Shaw reached for a Camel and went on to point out another difference he finds between Camels and other cigarettes: "I get a grand 'lift' with a Camel, just when I need it."

"Camel is the cigarette that agrees with me—the cigarette that lets me enjoy smoking to the full!"

"IT'S YOUR MOVE," says Wilbur to Mrs. Shaw. His own move is to light up a Camel—"for digestion's sake." "Camels finish off a meal," he says.

"Camels are preferred by the tobacco growers, who know leaf tobacco from the ground up" according to the observation of tobacco planters themselves

Thomas Middleton and his twin brother James have been growing tobacco for 14 years. "The Camel people bought up my best tobacco last year," Tom Middleton says. "They have for 12 years. When anyone talks about finer, more expensive tobaccos, that means Camels to me. I smoke 'em—my brother smokes 'em—and so do most of us around here who grow and know tobacco."

Henderson Carroll has been growing tobacco for 18 years. "For my own smoking," he says, "I like Camels. I know the Camel buyers purchased just about every top-grade lot of tobacco at the sales I went to last year. My own crop was a dandy. And, as usual, Camel got the best of it."

"I've been planting tobacco for 20 years," says Harry C. King, a successful grower, who knows tobacco from the ground up because he grows it. "Camel bought the choice lots of my last tobacco crop—paid more for my best leaf tobacco. So I know they use finer, more expensive tobaccos in Camel cigarettes. That's one mighty good reason why my cigarette is Camel."

Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCO—Turkish and Domestic.

Assistant judges at the hearing were Miss Louisa Byles and Charles N. Warren. The delegates were welcomed to Providence College by Rev. Jeremiah T. Fitzgerald, O.P., vice-president. Rev. Edward Hughes, O.P., editor of "The Torch," discussed the life of Blessed Martin de Porres, South American Negro. Charles K. Hunton was "prosecuting attorney" at the hearing.

Conference Here in Fall
The student association will hold a conference at Providence College next fall. Officers elected were: Robert C. Healey, '39, Providence College, president; Thomas McDonald, '39, of Boston College, vice-president, and William Rock, '37, of Providence College, secretary-treasurer.

The conference was sponsored by the Providence College sociology department and was directed by Rev. Vincent C. Dore, O.P., head of the department and Rev. William R. Clark, O.P., professor of sociology.

Text of Resolutions
The text of the resolutions passed Sunday was:

WHEREAS, we have participated in a careful presentation of the problems

now confronting the Negro in America, in the light of the principles and teachings of the Encyclical on the Reconstruction of the Social Order (Quadragesimo Anno), and

WHEREAS, we believe that this is the first time that such a conference has been held to make such a presentation, and

WHEREAS, as the result of our deliberations, we have arrived at certain definite conclusions, which we believe will be of interest, particularly to many Catholic college students throughout the country,

WHEREAS, we are gratified at the extent to which the Encyclical amply supports the entire Catholic Interracial Program.

1. We are gratified at the extent to which the Encyclical amply supports the entire Catholic Interracial Program.

2. At the same time we are deeply impressed by the fact that the policies of the Encyclical fully carried out would completely solve the problems confronting the Negro in America.

3. We believe also that no action can truly be called Catholic which excludes interracial justice from its program of justice and charity in human relationships.

4. We urge therefore that all Catholic collegians should make a thorough study of interracial justice in the light of this great Encyclical.

5. We further urge that Catholic collegians should insist that the individual conduct of every Catholic collegian should be included in every manifestation of student Catholic Action which bears upon these principles of the Encyclical.

6. We recommend likewise that the individual conduct of every Catholic collegian should set an example in the field of race relations in accordance with the natural law of justice, the American tradition of equality of opportunity and the Divine precept of charity towards all men.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the editors of the student periodicals in our Catholic colleges.

The science of the "new dentistry" is still in its infancy. It is a most promising field for constructive thought and work. It calls for the best minds interested in health service careers.

Because of advancing standards, enrollment in Dental Schools in the United States has been reduced during the past thirteen years. Today there is one practicing dentist to approximately each 2,400 of population.

Marquette University Dental School is given the highest rating—A—by the Dental Educational Council of America. Its diplomas to graduates are recognized in all states. The close relationship of dental-medical study proves an advantage to students.

Entrance requirements: Two years in a recognized College of Liberal Arts with satisfactory credits in biology, organic chemistry, and physics.

For complete information concerning opportunities in dentistry, write to the Secretary, Marquette University Dental School, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Spring's the thing to give that zing and bring to things on the wing, so let me wring and sing to you of spring that's got that swing.

Birds and flowers, songs in rhyme, Chocolate sodas, lemon and lime, Zephyrs, odors, skies of blue, Springtime greetings from me to you.

Love's Lament: Why is it that every time you turn a corner and someone falls smack into your arms, it has to be either an old man or a plump matron—never one of those slyph-like queens that make you look twice?

In The Manner of Winchell: The Zona-Mantalos affair is as remote as 6 o'clock. She's changed her local to the HUB. He's like the man lost in the fog. Sorry, I SPOKE about it.

Sticky Love: If you were a little bit of flypaper, And I was a cute little fly, I'd ever be hovering above you, And get stuck on you bye and bye.

Shocking Error: A news story handed into the editors about the election of a certain fellow to the chairmanship of a dance committee, carried the following statement, "John Doe was elected to the chair by a majority of 20 volts." It's a singe that he wouldn't care for that.

JUST TO BRUSH UP on our baseball we offer a list of baseball terms and their definitions to help the novice prepare for the coming season.

BALL—What little children do when they don't get candy.

GLOVE—What a young man's fancy turns to in spring.

BATTER—Should—as, "You'd batter do it."

BAT BOY—One who doesn't do what his mother says.

STRIKE—What you sit down at.

FOUL—Relative of a chicken.

BALK—Noise made by a dog—A kind of beer.

BASE—Receptacle for flowers.

CATCHER—Noise made sneezing.

FIELDER—One who gives in easily.

GROUNDER—A despicable fellow.

BINGLE—What your blood does in the spring.

BLEACHER—A man who speaks from a pulpit.

BUNGLE—A small package.

CUSHION—French for pig.

CLOUT—A clumsy fellow.

COACH—A form of teasing.

FOOZLE—A small foo.

FAN—Slang for $5.00.

SLIDE—Little—as, "It makes slide difference."

FOUL TIP—Information on a cock fight.

JUGGLE—A specie of laughter.

LOB—Place where research is done.

MIT—A fairy tale.

PASS—A nuisance.

RALLY—English for, "Is it so?"

RECEIVER—One who tells lies.

ROLLER—One who wanders.

SACK—Not feeling well.

SCORE—Very mad.

SIZZLER—One who is always borrowing cigarettes and money.

SLAB—To close forcibly.

SWAT—To perspire.

Goodman Influence: The latest dance craze has even invaded our vehicles of transportation. The sign on the rear of trolley cars reads, "Watch the SWING of the car."

Sky High: The penthouse moguls of N. Y. have just patented a slogan for their private use. The slogan: "Reign On The Roof."

OH! THAT NAZI MAN! Germany has barred "REBECCA of Sunnybrook Farm" from appearing in that country. Evidently they haven't heard the expression. "What's in a name."

JOHN DONNELLY BACK FROM SOUTH

with the oar. But you should have seen the one—

Another highlight of the trip was the couple's visit to Haleah Park, southern home of the prancing ponies. Mr Donnelly said that he felt a little flat after leaving the park, and caustically remarked, "You can't win any money there, no sir. It's just a game to take your money away from you." He said that the horses there didn't look any different than the ones at our own Narragansett Track, only they carried their tails with a little more poise.

Lying on the beach occupied Mr. Donnelly's time for the better part of his stay, and it was there that he got that beautiful mahogany color that is the envy of the school at present. Even though he enjoyed himself immensely, he said that he was glad to get back north and get back into harness again. Realizing that he had said too much already, Mr. Donnelly shooed off this reporter with his now famous, "Git out, git out."

Father Dore Hits Birth Controllers

The Rev. Vincent C. Dore, O.P. of the Sociology department of Providence College, urged the acceptance of the "Catholic program of a living wage and a social order permeated with justice and charity" in preference to the "socially degenerating and

RINGS ON DISPLAY

The new standard Providence College class ring will be on display in the large parlor in Harkins Hall between the hours of 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. on the first three days of next week. Orders for the ring will be taken by a representative of the company at that time, the Rev. Irving A. Georges, O.P., announced at the meeting of the Junior Class held yesterday.

CARY GRANT'S TRIALS IN HEPBURN OPUS

When an emotional, impetuous heires falls in love with a staid professor of zoology it means Trouble with a capital "T" for the professor, complications for them both and comedy for theatre patrons.

At least that's the promise of RKO Radio's current comedy, "Bringing Up Baby," which presents Katharine Hepburn as the heires, and Cary Grant as the professor who becomes involved with a leopard, a country jail, a mad search for a priceless fossil and a multitude of other trials during the course of the story.

Other notables in the cast include Charlie Ruggles, May Robson, Barry Fitzgerald, Walter Catlett and Fritz Feld.
