

Brown Game Saturday Will Close Series

Friars Favored to Clinch Title in Hendricks Field Clash

The baseball warriors of Providence College and Brown will cross bats for the second time this year when they meet at Hendricks Field tomorrow. The contest which will be the last of this year's city championship series, marks the second time that a Brown University baseball squad has appeared on the Providence College diamond.

The encounter is one of great importance for the Friars, as a victory over Jack Kelleher's force would clinch the city title for the Black and White and would assure them of at least a deadlock for the intracampus crown. The Friars, by virtue of decisive 7-1 verdict over the Bruins in their previous tilt, are conceded an excellent chance of making it two in a row.

Kwasniewski to Pitch
The Bears, limited to five hits by Providence's ace sophomore hurler, Joe Kwasniewski, will be given an excellent chance to show the husky right hander's slant. Kwasniewski, who also holds a win over Rhode Island State, will be to the firing line by Coach Art Quirk in an attempt to put Brown out of the race for city and State honors.

The Friars will face the offerings of either veteran Vin Devaney or sophomore Em Mowry. Devaney has been hampered by an ailing arm and has not pitched in competition since the Bears' meeting with Holy Cross on May 1. Mowry worked in last Saturday's Providence-Brown tilt, entering the contest in the sixth frame and holding the Friars hitless for three and one-third innings.

The rest of the starting Brown lineup will probably be the same as that which faced Providence in the initial meeting, namely: Wright, Hicks, Brown, and Pietras in the infield, and Captain Paul Welch, Chuck Harkins, and Cad Arendell in the outer gardens. Either Floyd Hinckley or Sigloch will work behind the plate.

Providence College's Villanova will engage in what should be one of the most interesting diamond battles witnessed in Rhode Island this year when the Wildcats invade Hendricks Field on Sunday. The Villanovans, who were rained out of their first scheduled appearance with the Friars, will come to town boasting an impressive record of wins over teams among who are numbered some of the top-flight teams in Eastern collegiate ranks.

Providence's southpaw ace, will probably be called upon to face the Smith Hillers. The left hander has manifested great control in the tilts which he has featured in his college campaign. Mike Garbark, hard-hitting catcher will be Escott's battery mate.

In the infield for the Wildcats will be Bond at first, Cron from second, and Ed Egan at third. The outfield will comprise Stoviak in left, Wannemacher, middle and Rice in right.

The Friars will journey to New Haven, next Wednesday, where the Yale Bulldogs will be their hosts in a baseball affair that is expected to be keenly-contested as any of the battles which have marked Providence-Yale tilts. The Black and White will be aiming to avenge a 4-1 nose-out received at the hands of the Blue last year.

Providence fared much better against the two teams only common rival (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

Chinese Movies Will Be Shown Tonight

Y. E. Hsiao, former professor at Yenching University in Peking and at present Secretary General of the Chinese Christian Association of America will speak at a showing of moving pictures on life in China tonight in the auditorium of Harkins Hall. A small attendance charge will be made for the showing which will last at 8 p. m.

The pictures will concern "Modern Developments in China," "How the Chinese Make a Living," and "Chinese Activity in Education and in the Arts."

LIGHTNING STRIKES TREE NEAR GUZMAN HALL

A blinding flash and an almost simultaneous jarring report interrupted classes and laboratories on the campus at about three o'clock Tuesday afternoon, as lightning struck one of the large trees just to the left of the walk leading from Sophomore Lane to Guzman Hall.

Shearing off a thick, fifteen-foot long slab of the tree trunk, the bolt caused a momentary suspension of activity in Harkins Hall, as all eyes went to the windows to see what had been hit.

Two schoolboys passing through the College grounds close to the tree at the time were frightened out of sixteen months growth by the flash and report. They could not be interviewed on how it feels to have lightning strike so close to them, for they were seen leaving the Campus in an unceremonious haste before the noise of the thunder clap had died out. It is expected that, by this time, they will have emerged from under the bed.

Cowl Receives Honor Rating

A. C. P. Designates Cowl As Excellent in Papers of His Class

"First Class Honor Rating—Excellent"—that is the rating accorded The Cowl by the Associated Collegiate Press in a final service, according to notification received at the office of The Cowl this week. The Association is now preparing certificates of award, which are expected to be delivered about June 1.

Each year the Associated Collegiate Press offers to the hundreds of college papers availing themselves of its services, a complete analysis of their work, made by a body of judges. The letter which accompanied the announcement expressed said, "The scores are never flattering. You have been told the truth as the judges see it, for we are convinced that we can help you only by being absolutely honest."

Sixty-nine publications fell into the same classification as The Cowl—working, serving an enrollment of 500 to 800—this year. Of these, only nine attained All-American honors, the only rating higher than First Class. Twenty-seven papers were rated First Class; 29, Second Class; and four Third Class. A total of 445 papers were judged. The highest score record—(Continued on Page 4, Col. 3)

200 Couples Attend Junior Prom; Swing With Show

Social Event at Biltmore Ends First "Junior Week" Celebration

The first Junior Week ever to be held at Providence College moved on to a brilliant climax in the main ballroom of the Biltmore Hotel on last Monday evening as approximately 200 couples swayed to the dance tempo of Artie Shaw and his orchestra at its annual Junior Prom.

Outstanding features of the Prom were the broadcast of the music for the affair from 11 to 11:30 p. m. and the Grand March, which took place at midnight. Prom-committee Chairman James J. Gallaghy and Miss Virginia Murray, both of Providence, led the March. They were followed by Class-President Daniel F. Murphy and Miss Rita A. Lough of Fall River. Miss Murray and Miss Lough carried bouquets presented to them by the class. During the procession, which was directed by Norman J. Corigan, "Frieri Away," the title tune from the recent musical comedy, was played.

The gala throng was delighted with the music furnished by the "King of the Clarinet" and its merry wit, the "Heart-bepped Jockey" which served as an escouvier for the Prom. The school colors of black and white featured the decorations for the hall.

Other members of the committee and the guests were: Joseph P. Martelloni, Newport, and Floride Perry, Providence; Edward M. Burke, Jersey City, and Alice O'Leary, Prov-

Dr. H. W. Taylor June Speaker

Princeton Professor to Give Address at Exercises June 9

Dr. Hugh Stott Taylor of Princeton University will be the speaker at the graduation exercises June 9. The complete program of commencement activities revealed yesterday.

Providence College's sixteenth Commencement Week will begin on Sunday, June 4, with Baccalaureate exercises, and will continue on Monday with the customary senior reception to the third year men; on Tuesday with Alumni Day; on Wednesday with Class Day activities and reception of graduates' parents; and on Thursday with Commencement activities which will close the week.

Dignitaries to Attend
The one-hundred and thirty-two recipients of degrees, constituting the largest of the sixteen classes to graduate from Providence College, and fifteen graduates of the Extension School, will be addressed by Dr. Hugh Stott Taylor, distinguished Catholic chairman of Princeton University's department of chemistry, on the morning of graduation day, June 9.

Dr. Taylor's topic will be "Catholic Education and Democracy." Father Dillon will open the exercises at 10 o'clock in the morning with greetings to the graduates from the college. He will be followed by Governor Robert E. Quinn and Mayor James E. Dunne who will extend the greetings of the State and Municipal governments. Dr. Taylor will follow.

Baccalaureate Address
Baccalaureate Sunday will begin with a solemn high Mass at which the Rev. Jeremiah T. Fitzgerald, O.P., vice president of Providence College, will officiate. Assisting him will be the Rev. Eusebio, O.P., student chaplain, who will be deacon, and Rev. John T. McGregor, O.P., senior moderator, who will be sub-deacon. The Seniors will then be addressed by Father Dillon, who will deliver the Baccalaureate address.

Aram P. Jarret, Woonsocket, R. I., who will graduate with the distinction "cum laude," will welcome the juniors (Continued on Page 4, Col. 3)

Seniors Receive 1938 Veritas

Distribution of Long- Awaited Annual Begun Late Thursday

Eager Seniors, after a week and a half of waiting, learned Wednesday afternoon that Veritas, their yearbook, had arrived at the College. Distribution of the issue, second publication of an annual was resumed last year, began late yesterday afternoon.

Comment of the few Seniors who had seen the book at press time was highly favorable to the new edition. The dedication is to the Dominican Fathers of the College, and the book achieves unity by showing, on the divisional pages, the teaching and practice by the students of the College. Each divisional page features a sketch symbolizing the work done by the faculty, the sketches being complemented by photographs of the Class applying the principles taught by the Friars.

Senior pages in the yearbook each contain two 7 1/2 x 3 pictures, and a brief, factual account of the student's activities at the College. The faculty section is composed of 1 1/2 x 1 1/2 pictures of each priest and lay member. Larger engravings are used by the Bishop, president of the College and officers of administration.

John A. Graham, literary editor, said, "This year we have placed the emphasis on pictures, rather than on printed material. As a result, we have four Campus views, eight bleed pages, and sixteen pages of informal shots, in addition to a broader photographic treatment on the activities. I hope the members of the Class will be pleased with the book."

A padded leather cover, with silver embossing and gothic lettering in keeping with the theme of the book, is another feature.

Veritas starts this year was headed by Graham and Daniel J. O'Connor, who was editor in charge of business. Daniel R. Libutti was business manager, and Robert W. Murphy headed the advertising department. William B. Plasse and William Geo. Beaudro were assistant editors. William C. Spinnler assisted Libutti. The Rev. John T. McGregor, O.P., moderator of the Senior Class, also acted as moderator of the yearbook.

SENIORS HAVE OUTING

Senior Pre-Medical students had a somewhat damp outing yesterday afternoon at the Wood's Hole Marine Biological Laboratory, Woods Hole, Mass. Nearly 20 Seniors made the trip accompanied by members of the science faculty.

Seniors Vote On Classmates

Select Moge, Ploski, Kenney and Brine for Leading Posts

William B. Moge was named the most versatile of the Seniors, Leo S. Ploski, the best athlete, Bernard M. Kenney the wittiest, and Philip Brine the most conscientious in a Senior poll conducted during the past week by The Cowl. Likes and dislikes among the Seniors were uncovered in the balloting which closed Wednesday noon.

Moge, a ranking Senior and a member of the Varsity football and baseball squads, received nearly three times the Senior vote as his nearest rival, T. Casey Moher, president of the Friars Club.

Ploski Outstanding Athlete
As the Senior most selected, Leo Ploski as the most outstanding athlete in the Class. The three-letter man received more votes than any other Senior in the entire center of the Benedict Polak, captain of last year's football eleven, and John "Wink" Crowley, varsity baseball captain, were named second and third respectively.

Bernard Kenney, a student in the school of Arts, is considered the wittiest member of his class, with Raymond Taylor and Carl Brine as his runners-up. Philip Brine, an illegal student and honor man, was named the most conscientious of the Class. William G. Beaudro, associate editor of The Cowl and The Veritas, and Michael Massad, both cum laude students were tied for second place.

Graham Most Representative
As the Senior most representative of Providence College, the Seniors selected John A. Graham, a ranking student in the School of Arts and co-editor of The Veritas. Thomas W. Durnin, secretary of the Class and an honor man, came second in the balloting. John H. Fanning, editor of The Albion, assistant editor of The Cowl, and a ranking Senior was selected as the one who has accomplished the most for Providence College. Graham was second in this contest.

Timothy R. Crawley, varsity debater, was named the most popular by his classmates in a face-to-face vote with Joseph V. Cavanaugh who was defeated by one vote. The Senior most likely to succeed is M. Vincent Rosendale, an active member of the Pyramid Players according to the poll. Leopold M. Trifari and Robert W. Murphy were tied in second place for this honor. Murphy was also named the most capable candidate for the Taurus Club. The advertising manager of the Veritas was selected by his classmates above J. Joseph Shea, Fall River philosopher, student and (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Players Close Year With Annual Fete

120 Dramatic Group Members at Banquet; Fr. Nagle and Seniors Honored

The Pyramid Players celebrated the success of this year's presentation with a banquet and celebration Tuesday night at Izzi's Cafe, Pontiac. Nearly 120 students and guests who participated in the productions attended.

Keys emblematic of service to the Players were presented to 16 seniors. Those honored were John R. Bucklin, Raymond A. Baker, John Tytia, Joseph V. Cavanaugh, Vincent H. Rosendale, Albert M. Trocchio, Bernard E. McKenna, Francis E. McKenna, Joseph E. Isacco, James J. Brady, Philip A. Brine, Jr., Eugene F. Corcoran, Albert R. Nugent, Hilbert W. Murphy, Michael W. Massad, Arthur S. Pike, and Carl J. Breckel, Jr.

The Rev. Urban Nagle, O.P., moderator, was presented a plaque and presented by the Players. John J. '39, made the presentations. Technical movies of "If I Were King" and "Frieri Away" were shown by Miss Margie Nugent. His number from the musical comedy were sung to the music of a college 'jam' orchestra.

THIS COLLEGIATE WORLD

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

Jottings from your correspondent's collegiana cuff: Little Billy Hollenbeck tried to buy the old buildings of the University of Omaha for five dollars the other day. The deal was left hanging because Billy is a minor—six years old. . . . He wanted the building to have fun in before it was torn down—sort of giving it a party after its long pedagogical years. . . . University of Minnesota student politicians are fighting over who should be where in the junior prom line of march. What's needed is a good blue book to catalogue the blue-bloods on the campus. . . . University of Louisville's main buildings formerly housed a juvenile reform school. . . . Which will prompt many side-of-the-mouth wisecracks. . . . It costs the government $14,000 to train, at Annapolis, an officer of the U. S. Navy. . . . The Harvard university library contains 3,800,000 books and pamphlets. . . . The largest R.O.T.C. unit in the U. S. is at Ohio State University. It forms a company front over a half mile long. . . . Now that its getting near graduation time, you may be interested in knowing that U. S. college and university commencements cost about twenty million dollars a year. . . . College students are taller and heavier than they were twenty years ago. . . . The average college student spends five hours a week in bull sessions. . . . American colleges give away approximately $30,000,000 a year in scholarships. . . . And the U. S. universities have more than $2,250,000,000 invested in buildings and grounds and other physical facilities. . . . Only one-half of one percent of the college students are 15 years of age or under. . . . Which concludes our factual collegiana for this week.

CHEERING NEEDED

Last week The Cowl, encouraged by the success of the Campus Club's efforts to produce articulate support for the baseball team at the Holy Cross game, pleaded that the improvement then shown be continued at Sunday's game with St. John's University. We asked that the "official" cheer leaders who functioned with more or less effectiveness during the football season come out of hiding and lead the student body. We asked that a section be reserved for students and their guests, in order that P. C.'s vocal strength might be concentrated for effective cheering.

Although no section was formally reserved, students did concentrate with considerable solidarity behind Providence College's first base dugout. But the cheer leaders have failed to recognize that Spring is here, and are still hibernating. Cheering at last Saturday's game was disorganized and weak, a return to the status of former years, rather than an improvement on the splendid showing at the Cross game.

This week end the team faces two of the most important games on the schedule. Tomorrow Brown makes its first appearance on Hendricken Field and will be followed by the powerful Villanova nine Sunday. The Cowl is determined that on these occasions, the team shall get the support due it. Accordingly, we shall see to it that the section of stands behind the Providence dugout is set aside for students and their guests, and shall do all in our power to find some person or persons with the spirit to act as cheer leaders—and act as if they meant it.

The team was amply demonstrated, both by its skill in winning and its fight in losing, that it merits your support. All that is asked of you is that you go to the game (and you should not have to be urged to do that, especially tomorrow), sit in the stands designated for students (which are the best seats in the field) and yell (and yelling will have no ill effects on a healthy young man, and may do him much good). Will you do it?

HO-HUM!

This week local papers reported the Rev. Harold L. Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, as saying that between 60 and 80 per cent of both students and professors of Brown University were regular drinkers and nightly frequenters of downtown night clubs and bar rooms.

"It has become the custom for Brown University students to line the walls of their rooms with the whiskey bottle and beer cans they have emptied, and I have for the most part given up my work with them because it is hopeless to get them to continue their interest in the church," he is quoted as having said.

Uncle Peter Overlooks the Alumni

As told elsewhere in this great little newspaper of ours, the Alumni are certainly going to town with plans for celebration of their 15th Jubilee year. The three year classes have definite plans for reunions, and there may even be impromptu get-togethers of other classes of graduates before the month of June wanes.
 First of the reunions will be held by the 15 year class on June 1 and 2 at the Norwich Inn, Norwich, Conn. A big, two-day affair is being planned by a committee headed by Rev. John J. Feeney of St. Matthew's Church, Auburn; Lunch in the forenoon, with a reunion dinner in the evening is on the docket for the Wednesday part of the program. The rest of the committee—Father McAteer, Calvert Casey, Thomas Sullivan, and J. Addis O'Reilly—is completing plans for the Thursday morning session.
 Jumping up five years, the Chopmist Hill Inn will be the scene of a reunion of the class of 28 on June 4. Walt Dromgoolle is the man in charge of the grads who are planning the dinner and sports program. Others lending time and talents are Zeke Martinelli, Henry Dalton, Bill Kenny, Ed Dwyer, Father Braec, Steve Fanning and James Flaherty. "Indications," as reported by Brother Fanning, "point to a banner turnout."
 Those who have weathered the storms of a mundane existence for five years will reunite on June 8. Ed Conaty wired Uncle Peter from Cleveland that the reunion dinner will be held in a downtown hotel. Brother braintrusters for the soiree are Jim Dillon and Jack Coffey, and two of Fall River's finest—Bill Kaylor and Jack Smith.

 Of course all these events merely lead up to the biggest festa of all—the Alumni Day program. Memorial Mass in the Harkins Hall auditorium at 10' Lunch at the Metacomet, followed by the golf tournament; Dinner, Business Meeting and Election of Officers in the Evening. Dick Cobb prognosticates no rain, as it's not too early to start asking your wife if she'll let you off on the seventh of June.
 And for those of you who read the Alumni Column hurriedly—if at all—last week; those were orchids, not scallions, tossed Ed Doherty's way in the item detailing how the Wannamoisett had a previous booking on June 7, necessitating our staying at the Metacomet again this year. I wonder if good news travels as fast as bad.
 Hemming and hawing with him and her. . . . Only one more issue of Uncle Peter this year. . . . Hope enough of you enjoyed it so that some plans can be made for a permanent alumni publication. . . . It might with a little shoulder-to-the-wheel business, this association could very well support a quarterly publication. . . . Maybe we can have some more talk about it on Alumni Day—at least it is something to think over in the meantime. . . .

Colleges Oppose Peace Plan

New York City—In a statement released here last night, Delegates of the Catholic College Press Association denounced the American Student Union "Peace Plan" as a subtle Soviet propaganda and urged undergraduates to disown the Union as unrepresentative of American college thought.
 Dissociating themselves from the ASU, and proposing their own program for peace, the Catholic students, representing the opinions of more than 15,000 undergraduates of member-colleges, assert that the cause of peace has been employed by the Student Union as camouflage for the advance of Sovietism in the United States.
 "We protest against the usurpation by the American Student Union of the title 'American' and the resolution adopted by the delegates.
 "This year, they are willing to go to war for the "collective security" of so-called "democracies" against Fascism."
 "Why did not they word their resolution 'collective security for democracies against Fascism and Communism'?"
 "Is the omission of the word 'Communism' significant?"
 "Are they willing to die for Communism and not for American democracy?"
 "Since we refuse to believe that there are the sentiments of the vast majority of American College men and women we protest against the arrogance of the American Student Union in its attempt to pose as representative of student opinion in the United States. Students of the American Catholic Colleges protest against this usurpation.

 "We, too, do not want Fascism. Neither do we want Communism.
 "Because the American Student Union is an organization which allegedly accepts dictation from sources alien to America; we, the Catholic College Press Association, refuse to have any part of it.
 "Peace, whether among individuals or nations, can only be founded upon justice and charity. Order is impossible when nations act upon principles of expediency, and not upon principles of justice and equity.
 "The denial of God's existence, the growth of atheism, have brought spiritual ruin to individuals and to nations.
 In place of spiritual life, we have a cruel materialism that glorifies material advantages.
 "To preserve peace, we urge not an oath never to bear arms in any war; not a restricted collective security, which, by uniting certain nations against others more easily leads to a reactionary conflict of these groups of nations; not a call to unity of certain classes which would result in class warfare, but the determined and continuous attempt to spread the brotherhood of man under God through all nations and people."

Picked as Outstanding By the Members of the Senior Class

 chairman of the Senior Ball Committee.
 Joseph E. Isacco, class treasurer and business manager of The Cowl, was designated as the "Senior who has presented the professors with the most apples", but he defeated Anthony Stramondo, Aquino president, by a single vote.
 In response to the question, "Who in your mind is the most outstanding world figure today," one half of those voting named Adolf Hitler, chancellor of Germany, Pope Pius XI and Benito Mussolini received prominence.

President Roosevelt was named by an overwhelming majority as the outstanding national figure.
 The Readers' Digest, Life, and Collier's Weekly are the most popular periodicals among the Seniors, it was revealed, and "The Citadel" and "Northwest Passage" seem to be the recent novels received most favorably by the Class. The majority of the fourth year men seem to be in agreement with Uncle Peter with respect to cinema actress Myrna Loy, although Carole Lombard also received a heavy vote for the favorite actress. Spencer Tracy and William Powell are the most popular actors.
Benny Leads
 Jack Benny overshadowed all other radio comedians, proving three times more popular than his closest rivals Charlie McCarthy and Fred Allen.

Lowell Thomas is the best liked of the radio news commentators, receiving about 50 per cent of the votes of the Seniors. The programs of Messrs. Benny and McCarthy were voted the most popular.
 Among the prominent dance bands, those of Guy Lombardo, Tommy Dorsey and Horace Heidt seem to be favored by the Seniors. But the upperclassmen also enjoy classical music, the poll revealed, although they do not object too strenuously to rendering the classics in swing.
 Honesty, sincerity and virility are considered the most admirable qualities in a man, the Seniors think. Baseball is their favorite sport, although football is very popular.
 Any girl who would find a husband among the present Seniors must possess intelligence and virtue above all other qualities. Thirteen of the Seniors voting said they intended to marry within two years from Commencement, although the other 22 who said they had steady girl friends denied that they were contemplating marriage in the immediate future.
 Some admitted that they had not participated in any extra-curricular activities during their four years at Providence College but the average number of activities for each Senior was three. All but nine stated that this activity had been of benefit to them.
Ethics Most Popular
 Ethics is the course most enjoyed by the fourth year men. Sociology and literary criticism are popular with many. Asked for their opinion in the case of Baby Colan, seven-eighths of the Seniors approved of the action of the Colan family in submitting the child to an operation to preserve her life at the cost of her sight.

 The list of subscribers to The Cowl will be greatly increased next year if one half of the Class of 1938 fulfills its expressed intention of subscribing to the paper.
LOST
 Two books, a Baltimore Catechism Number 3, and a bound volume of Cardinal Gasparri, were mislaid during a performance of "Frier Away" in the balcony of Harkins Hall. Anyone who found the books is asked to return them to Father Serror at St. Thomas Hall or to the Information Booth.

What Margaret Bourke-White, famous photographer, said when Ralph Martin asked if she found a difference in cigarettes

"Cigarettes seem pretty much alike to me. Do you find some difference between Camels and the others, Miss Bourke-White?"

"I've found that Camels are very, very different, Mr. Martin—not just in one way, but in a lot of ways. For example, my nerves must be just as trustworthily as a steek jacks. Camels don't jangle my nerves. They taste extra-mild and delicate too. Camels never leave an unpleasant after-taste, and they're so gentle to the throat. In fact, Camels agree with me in every way! I think that's what counts most—how your cigarette agrees with you!"

STEEL MILLS, dams, skyscrapers, subways (as above)—appeal to Margaret Bourke-White. She's gone all over the United States. Her photographs are famous. They're different! Miss Bourke-White made that same remark about Camels to Ralph Martin at the New York World's Fair grounds (right).

ONE SMOKER TELLS ANOTHER

"CAMELS AGREE WITH ME!"

Leading growers tell their preference in cigarettes—it's Camel!

"We smoke Camels because we know tobacco, tobacco planters say"

I smoke Camels—I know there's no substitute for expensive tobaccos. Most planters favor Camels."

"I'm a tobacco planter," says Vertner Hatton, who has grown tobacco for 25 years. "The Camel folks pay a night more for our better tobaccos. Last crop they took my finest grades."

So I know they use finer, more expensive tobaccos in Camels. That's one mighty good reason why my cigarette is Camel."

"I've been planting tobacco for twenty years," says Harry C. King. "The Camel people bought the choice lots of my last crop—paid more for my best tobacco."

 ed was 800 out of a possible 1000. The Cowl scored as follows: 163 out of 230 for News Value and Sources, 165 out of 280 for News Writing and Editing, 165 out of 250 for Headlines, Typographic and Make-up, and 165 out of 230 for Department Pages and Special Features—a total of 660 out of the highest possible score of 1000. Judges this year were Dr. Ralph O. Nafziger, Prof. Edwin H. Ford, and S. E. Mickelson of the Department of Journalism of the University of Minnesota; Earl Kirmsir, member of the Minneapolis Journal staff and assistant in Journalism; Frederick J. Noer, editor, Collegiate Digest; Harry Atwood, 1931-32 editor of the Minnesota Daily and present editor of Northwestern National News; and Mrs. Edwin H. Ford, Minnesota journalism graduate. This is the second honor rating won by The Cowl in its two and one-half years of existence. The first was the All-Catholic award of the Catholic School Press Association, given last summer.

 at an informal reception to be tendered the class of '39 by the Seniors on Monday evening, Robert Barr Sullivan, highest ranking senior, will deliver the Class Oration at the reception of the graduates' parents Wednesday night. At the reception John A. Graham will give the Class Ode; Joseph F. Caulfield, Class History; Joseph V. Cavanagh, Class Prophecy; William J. McQuade, Class Testament. John H. Fanning will give the address of appreciation to the parents. The speakers are all honor graduates. On the afternoon of the parents' presentation the last year men will hold their final class meeting.

COWL MEMBERS TO HOLD OUTING ASCENSION THURSDAY

The entire staff of The Cowl together with the faculty moderator and invited guests will mark the close of the publishing year with the third annual Cowl outing, Thursday, May 26, at Cavanagh's Pavilion on Slack's Reservoir in Greenville. Assembling at the College at 9:30, the group will attend a Mass to be offered by the Rev. William R. Clark, O.P., faculty moderator, and then proceed in motorcade to Greenville.

SCOWL

With F. Maurice Spillane, '40

All asop over the pipings of Art Shaw and his clarinet, the Juniors hit a new high in Promenades, as did Mr. Shaw on his footers, when they tripped the light fantastic on Monday last. Which brings to mind the fact that the College is very clannish in some ways, because when one group does a thing, the rest of the lads stick wit' 'em. In re: the ball team tripped all over the field on Sunday, the McGair-Mary Costello trip to Boston proved very exciting, and the "Friar Away" cast took a nice trip to Izzy's for its annual banquet, at which tripe and sauerkraut was enjoyed. WPRO's announcer had better pipe another tune next time, for as he closed his radio broadcast, he announced, "The tune is 'Nightmare', the place, the P. C. Junior Prom." Who does he think he is, ANYHOW?

The Measie: Bill Spinnler made the assembled multitude feel that his clothing was heavy, wrinkled, and unbearable last Sunday, when he appeared at the game clad in the essence of summertime attire, light tan suit, white shoes, polo shirt et al. He was probably a walking advertisement for some cold storage firm who wanted to get the people to store their winter clothing early.

The truth will out! P. C. should forget their victory over Brown because they had ten men on the field. Bill Moge wasn't in the lineup, nor has he ever seen the Kentucky Derby, but he did a noble job of riding the Bruin hurlers, "Public Hoekler Number One", that's our Bill.

Just so our intellectuals won't get rusty during the summer, we offer forthwith a list of books and their authors, to help them keep their reading up to par.

STILL TOPS
Providence College still has one of the finest nines in New England. In spite of the 14-10 setback received at the hands of the strong St. John's team, the Friars are still regarded very highly in Eastern college baseball circles. Any team that can spot its opponent 11 runs and then just miss coming out ahead unquestionably is a good ball club in any league. Yes, you'll have to go a long ways before finding a team better than the Friars.

Their first defeat of the season can be attributed to the temporary collapse of the infield during the early stages of the encounter. And the mental strain the lads were under trying to maintain that undefeated record didn't help any either.

The late scoring surge of the locals was a mad race against time, death and the law. A trio that proved unbeatable. We believe it would have been victory number seven, if the game had gone the full distance.

Now that the Smith Hillers have got the bad baseball out of their system you can count on their resuming their winning habits. They're listed for some tough assignments between now and the end of the baseball season and they may drop a few. However, they'll win more than their share of the remaining contests and when the final curtain falls the Friars will be right up among the top of the baseball heap.

TITLE SERIES

Local baseball fans will flock to Hendricken field tomorrow and Sunday when Brown University Villanova invade the Friar stronghold to do battle for diamond honors. Providence followers will be in for two very interesting sessions of high grade baseball.

Tomorrow the locals will endeavor to sweep the series with the zeals and thus establish themselves more firmly on the State Intercollegiate baseball throne. It shapes up definitely as another close battle with either Vin Devaney or Emerson slowly serving them up for the invading Bruins. But the locals possess a decided edge over their arch rivals from the other hill and are favored to make it two straight.

With Villanova providing the opposition on Sunday, a red hot battle can be anticipated. Villanova, one of the strongest nine in the East, can be depended on to adequately fill the holiday bill. So the Friars will have to put forth their best brand of ball, if they hope to put their clasp under the last traveling visitors from the Quaker State. And, if Captain Crowley and his cohorts exhibit the same type of baseball as they did in their last six games, there's no chance they can't take the clawing Wildcats.

HERE AND THERE

Congrats to Casey Moher and the lads for their brilliant victory over the Crusaders. The combination of Spier and the numbers one and three appear to be Cross' nemesis. Karl Sherry, who made it a habit of setting the Worsteries back on their heels, also wore spectacles and had the numbers one and three adored the back of his baseball shirt. . . . The boys downtown are giving odds that the Friars capture the State baseball diadem this year. . . . The combinations of Ayyasian and Ploski and Brokaw and Hicks are rated as the best in the business. . . . Leo Fischer is regarded as the classiest bat members to perform in this sector in quite some time. . . . The Barnini-Mezewski and Battle Royal wrestling matches stole the show the other night at the annual Junior Boxing Tourney. These lads staged as good a show as any of the pro grapplers working under Paul Bowser's banner. Barnini and Mezewski had better grow and grow, as many of the lads being compensated for going through their paces. And, if you think for a moment that the boys were pulling their punches the other evening, you've got another guess coming. It was very realistic. And I should know, especially after that tossing around yours truly received while acting as referee.

Gallagher, Former Friar 3rd Baseman, Sets Record

Charlie "Skeets" Gallagher, captain and hot corner guardian of last year's Friar nine, ascended a few more rungs in his climb up the ladder to a prominent place in the baseball sphere. "Skeets", who is tending third base for the league-leading Gainesville club of the Florida State League, recently batted a long-standing loop record into oblivion in a tilt between Gainesville and the DeLand Reds. The former Black and White diamond star established a run-producing mark for the Florida circuit by clouting the offerings of the DeLand twirlers to drive in eight of his team's tallies.

P. C. Nine Meets Brown Tomorrow

Thus far than did the Elis Yale was turned back by the Bears, 15-8, in their first meeting, but managed to top the Bruins 11-8 in their return contest. On the other hand, Providence stopped Brown very impressively in their lone tilt with the Bears.

Coach Joe Wood will undoubtedly start either Moe Jubit, or Dud Humphrey, free ball artist, Both Jubit, who defeated the Friars last year, and Humphrey, another veteran, have turned in highly-creditable performances in this campaign.

Tony Mendoza will be at first base; Joe Alter, at second; Harry Holt, at third, and Bill Loveday, the only veteran of this quarter at short. Paul Wargo will do the catching.

Playing the center field post for the Blue will be Eddie Collins, Jr., son of the major league immortal Collins is hitting at a 550 clip in the Eastern College League games and is very much in the running for the Charles H. Blair cup for individual batting honors. Dick Mareus will patrol left field, and Greg Doonan will fill the right field post.

BEDARD BEATS CAVANAGH; WRESTLERS GAIN SPOTLIGHT

Over 700 enthusiastic fight fans attended the annual Junior Boxing Tournament at Harkins Hall last Friday evening. Five boxing bouts and three wrestling matches, including a Battle Royal, comprised the card. The feature was the torse-twisting contest between John "Slip" Barnini and Dick Mezewski who renewed their mat hostilities which began in last year's tourney. The curtain raiser brought together two freshmen lightweight, Bill Ferland and Irving Jacobson, with the decision being awarded to the former after a stiff battle.

Ray Bedard gained a hair-line decision over Joe Cavanagh in the most thrilling and closely waged pugilistic affair on the card. Both showed the polish and aggressiveness acquired from previous competition, and Bedard was given the nod on the strength of his third round rally.

Russ Varnum won his bout against Earnest Pike on a technical knockout when Referee Dolly Searle stopped the fight after the second round. Both boys were handicapped by the lack of experience, but Varnum possessed plenty of confidence and aggressiveness.

Al Costa, local amateur boxer, provided the opposite for Sal Guglielmo when Jimmy Lopes was forced to withdraw because of a bruised rib. It was a fast and close no decision exhibition of clever boxing.

As an added attraction, Charles McElroy presented two well known boxers, Irish, Eddie Hannan and "Wild Man" Firpo, local pros, in the pugilistic tangle.

In the feature attraction of the evening John "Slip" Barnini and Dick Mezewski grappled to a ten minute draw. The first time the two had renewed their debut in last year's tourney provided the fans with an abundance of thrills, spills, groans and laughs. Judging by their performance, one would be led to believe that they would put many a pro wrestler to shame.

The laughs of the evening were provided by Ben Polak, "Gig" Parisseau and Les Burdge who engaged in a Battle Royal in the final wrestling match on the card. Burdge and Parisseau were awarded the decision over Polak, although Lzy Siperstein spent more time on the mat and outside the ring than the three gladiators combined. In the other match John Cerra pinned Bill Curran to the mat with a body slam after six minutes of wrestling.

Charles McElroy, chairman of the committee, arranged the affair with the assistance of William Tully and Paul Morin. "Happy" Stanley acted as master of ceremonies while Dorcas "Dolly" Searle served as third man to the boxers and Lzy Siperstein acted as go-between for the wrestlers. Charles Reynolds was timer and referee. Farley and Coach Arthur Quirk were the judges. Members of the Friars Club served as ushers and seconds.

GAMES POSTPONED

The Providence College-Lowell Textile game scheduled for Lowell and the Friars-Holy Cross Freshmen encounter listed for Hendricken Field yesterday afternoon were both postponed because of rain. Providence will make its next start tomorrow afternoon against the Bears from College Hill. General admission will be fifty cents. Students will be admitted upon presentation of their class room admission cards at the Student-Press gate.

Friarlets Play Brown Cubs, Naval Nine

Yearlings Beat St. John's Prep, Brown; Drop Second Straight to B. C.

With a record of three wins and three losses the Providence College Freshmen baseball team will play return engagements next week with Brown Freshmen and Naval Training Station on the opponents' home fields. The Friars will be favored in both contests, holding victories over both the Brown Cubs and the Sailors of Newport.

On last Saturday the Friars humbled St. John's Prep of Danvers, Mass., by the score 11 to 4. Charlie Doyle started for the Friars but was relieved early in the game by "Amby" Reynolds. Reynolds held his opponents well to check while his men were pounding the St. John's hurlers for eleven runs.

A six-run spurge in the ninth inning, on Monday, gave the Boston College Freshmen their second win of the season over the Friars 9 to 6. Steve Fallon was again the victim of the Bostonian's onslaught. Leading 5 to 3 going into the first half of the ninth, the Providence Freshmen blew up and Boston garnered six runs on two hits, two walks, two errors and a sacrifice hit. The Friars added a run in their half of the ninth to make the final score 9 to 6.

Behind the three-hit pitching of Walter Morris, the Freshmen defeated the Brown Cubs, Wednesday, 7 to 5. Brown piled up a 5 to 0 lead early in the game on lax fielding and Morris' wildness. But the Friars hit their stride in the late innings to pull the game out of the fire. They scored three runs in the sixth and seventh and added one more in the eighth. A sensational diving catch in center field by "Bones" Stepczyk of Brown was the final gem of the day.

SPINLER, BOBINSKI NAMED ON "ALL" FIVE

Captain Ed Bobinski and Bill Spinler, Seniors of the Providence College basketball team, received honorable mention on the All New England quintet selected by a group of prominent New England sports writers headed by Edward Bulger of the Boston Transcript.

Platt of Brown, Tashjian and Jaworski of R. I. State, Collier of Tufts and Nechten of B. U. were named on the first team. Bobinski has received All-New England recognition for the past three years, while Spinler was named for the first time in his initial year as a regular varsity player.

second game in four days by a 10-8 score at Hanover. However the eight errors made by the locals contributed most to the Indians' triumph. Captain Johnnie Crowley continued his hitting consistency by collecting two of the Friars' six hits.

I double dare you ... show me a cigarette that gives MORE PLEASURE

why- ... because Chesterfield ingredients are the best a cigarette can have ... mild ripe home-grown tobaccos ... aromatic Turkish tobaccos ... aged for 2½ years ... pure tasteless cigarette paper ... and a blend that can't be copied

... they'll give you MORE PLEASURE than any cigarette you ever smoked
