

Sr. Nominees In Campaign For Election

Nominations Made Yesterday; Elections on Next Thursday Noon

FIVE FOR PRESIDENT

Murphy, Tully, Deldeo, Turner and Gallogly Seek High Senior Post

Members of the Senior class yesterday launches a week of intense political activity as they met in assembly and nominated their dates for class officers.

Before the nominations took place, the Rev. John T. McGregor, O. P., moderator of the class, addressed the fourth year men and advised them to use discretion and good judgement in selection of officers. Father McGregor explained that the election would be conducted under a process of elimination, whereby the three highest candidates would be voted upon after the lowest office-seeker had been dropped. The majority vote rule would prevail, he said.

Presidential Nominees

Daniel F. Murphy presided over the meeting. Nominated for the office of President are the following: Daniel F. Murphy, seeking re-election, James Gallogly, James Tully, Frank Deldeo, and Fred Turner.

Eugene J. McElroy, George Long, John Grady, René Lemieux, Francis X. Asselin, John Mahoney and Leo Bernard, are those seeking election for the Vice-Presidency.

Candidates for Treasurer are: Terence Rielly, Arthur St. Germaine, John Hogan, Jiray Avedisian, Leo Flynn, and Bert Holdrege. Robert C. Healey, Joseph Murray, Joseph Baldwin, Thomas Flynn, and William Tierney will contest for the office of Secretary.

Elections Thursday

After all nominations had been closed President Murphy announced that elections would take place next Thursday at the same time. Under a ruling by the office of the dean, all names must be approved by the dean for scholastic standing. Candidates for the Presidency must have an average of 80 per cent, whereas students competing for Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer need a 75 per cent average to remain in the race.

France Interested in Keeping Peace For Itself, Says Michael Jenkins

France is mostly concerned in conserving peace for itself and for Europe, but in the event of war feels that she can withstand an invasion from Germany. This is the opinion of Michael Jenkins, '40, who recently returned from a three months stay in Paris. Jenkins took a two months course in French literature and language at the Alliance Française and received a diploma permitting him to teach those subjects.

Concerned About Future

"Most of the people are concerned," he believes, "about the future of their country. France's birth rate was declining sharply during many years. Its financial condition is also very acute."

"This has caused the people to develop an egocentric complex about their national welfare. The average Frenchman has become rather disinterested in the affairs of the out-

"Charlie" Flynn, Stage, Radio Actor 16 Years, Is P. C. Frosh

A 16-year-old dramatic career on the stage and radio ended this fall when Charlie Flynn left Chicago and came to Providence to study at Providence College.

Charlie, quiet and serious, was remarkably matter of fact as he sat in the classroom overlooking sophomore lane and told about it—and about his first part on the stage in Chicago in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," when he was three years old.

Charlie's mother, "Bess McAllister," to stage and radio audiences, produced that play. Mr. and Mrs. Flynn had both been on or connected with the stage all of their lives, working in this country and in Canada. When Charlie was born Mr. Flynn, "Charlie Peyton," decided that acting was too irregular a career and left the stage and went into the printing business.

"Lot of Children's Parts"

Charlie played "an awful lot of children's parts" in and around Chicago almost continuously since "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," until (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

Carignan Made Alembic Editor

Five Assistants Appointed. Clinic Will Criticize Manuscripts

Norman J. Carignan, '39, was appointed Editor-in-Chief of the Alembic College literary quarterly, by the Rev. Donald Reilly, O.P., moderator, at a meeting of the new staff held recently. Carignan will assume editorial duty on the Alembic immediately.

Members of the Board of Associate Editors are: Robert C. Healey, '39, Walter F. Gibbons, '39, Lionel J. Landry, '40, Charles E. Sweeney, '41, and John T. Hayes, '40. John J. Mahoney, '39, will serve as Business Manager.

A call for material for the first issue of the Alembic was made this week. Short stories, essays, poetry, and articles of student interest should be submitted to the Editor before October 17, it was announced. A complete change in the format and style of the magazine is under consideration.

Another innovation in the management of the College quarterly will be the Alembic Literary Clinic, an organization composed of the Editorial Board to give constructive criticism to submitted material which has not been published. It is the intention of the Clinic to aid student authors in revising their copy into acceptable form. This group will also advise in cases where copy needs slight correction prior to publication.

Frosh-Sophomore Mixer Tuesday

The entire program for the Freshman-Sophomore Mixer, originally scheduled to be held yesterday afternoon and evening, was postponed yesterday by the sophomore mixer committee until next Tuesday, Oct. 11. Milton Krevolin, '41, chairman of the committee, announced that the postponement till the day before Columbus Day, a student holiday, means that a better entertainment will be possible and that more students will be able to participate.

Next Tuesday's program will include a touch football game, a tug of war in the afternoon and a varied entertainment in the evening. John Fay, '41, will be master of ceremonies. The evening's entertainers include: William Cunningham, '39, J. T. Clifford, '41, S. G. Terrace, '41, Angelo Carcas, '42, Donald Albro, '40, Anthony Ricci, '41, John Mastrobuono, '41, and Ralph Paparella, '40. A sketch will be offered by the "Finnegan A. C.," made up of boarding students. Following the entertainment, refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

Plans for freshman caps are still indefinite, according to Charles Sweeney, sophomore president. It is probable, however, that Sweeney will address a freshman meeting in the near future and secure pledges for the caps. The Very Rev. John J. Dillon, O.P., president of the College and the Rev. Arthur H. Chandler, O. P., dean, have made known their approval of freshman caps.

Students At Mass Today For Late Father Carolan

Juniors Hold First Meeting For New Term

Nominate for Class Officers; Other Classes to Meet Soon

The junior class met yesterday for the first time this year and made nominations to the four class officers. Arrangements were made for another meeting next Thursday at which the election will take place.

The Rev. Irving A. Georges, O.P., moderator of the class, appointed William J. Riley, vice-president of last year's sophomore class, temporary chairman. James Gilligan served as temporary secretary.

The nominees include Fred D. Hogan, John Ayvazian, William J. Riley, Bernard T. White, and Daniel F. McKinnon for president; Alvin E. Whalley, John M. Reynolds, Anthony R. Sasso, Michael J. Walsh, for vice-president; Irving R. Hicks, Marcus F. Driscoll, William J. Carter, Edward J. McCaffrey, for secretary; Daniel E. Geary, Cornelius J. Scanlon, John F. Donley, William Murphy, Maurice J. Timlin, for treasurer.

Father Georges, in a preliminary word of advice to the class urged that means be taken to provide for "something in the treasury" at the beginning of the senior year. He also praised last year's junior class for their co-operation in this regard.

Mimeographed ballots will be used in next week's election which will take place in Room 17 at 11:30.

Second-year men will come together for the first time on Oct. 13, according to the Rev. James T. McKenna, O.P., moderator of the sophomore class.

Pyramid Players Will Meet Today

All Interested in Dramatic Work Will Assemble at 12:20 In Auditorium

Old and new members are invited to the first meeting of the Pyramid Players, the College dramatic organization, which is sponsoring an extensive program for the coming year.

Those in charge intend to expand the activities of the unit by presenting a series of one-act "laboratory" plays. Each month a play will be handled completely by the students without the assistance of the moderator. Following the presentation, the members and the supervisor will criticize the structure of the play and the performance.

The ability of the casts in these one-act plays will determine who is to fill the leading roles in the major drama later in the semester.

The purpose of having the plays written by the members of the society is to discover sources of ability for the writing of the original musical comedy which will climax the organization's work some time in May. From these monthly one-act plays, three will be selected for presentation before the student body soon after the opening of the second semester.

A board of directors, selected last year, will govern the players, and as vacancies in the board occur they will be filled.

All those associated with the group last year, and all others interested are asked to report to the small auditorium today at 12:20 p. m.

Campus Club Renames Itself Carolan Club to Honor Founder's Memory

GRADY PRESIDENT

Scope of Membership Widened; Board of Directors Announced

A requiem Mass for the repose of the soul of the late Rev. Leo M. Carolan, O. P., was celebrated this morning in the College chapel as a tribute from the Carolan Club. The organization, founded by Father Carolan two years ago as the "Campus Club," for the social and spiritual development of resident students, adopted the new name Monday night as a tribute to his memory.

Fr. McKenna Celebrant

Rev. Charles H. McKenna, O.P., celebrant of Mass, administered Communion to members of the group. Father McKenna is now moderator of the society.

Father Carolan died in St. Joseph's Hospital here June 6, one week after he had undergone an appendectomy. A Providence College graduate of the pioneer class of 1923, he entered the Dominican Order and was ordained in 1929. In 1933 he was assigned to the Classics department of the College, where except for one year he taught until his death.

This year the Club will widen the scope of its membership and will function under a board of directors composed of three seniors, two juniors, and a sophomore. John Grady was elected Chairman.

Plan Fortnightly Meetings

Beginning next Monday fortnightly meetings will be held. Next week the adoption of a constitution and the question of admitting Freshmen will be considered.

Other members of the Board of Directors are: Frank D. O'Brien, '39, of Dorchester, Mass.; Arthur St. Germaine, '39, New London, Conn.; Fred Turner, '39, Stonington, Conn.; Daniel J. MacArthur, '40, Groton, Conn.; Paul Sweeney, '40, Pittsfield, Mass.; and Charles Bree, '41, of New Haven.

Additional new members are: Theodore N. Alexakos, '41, Jacob H. Belofsky, '39, Harry H. Bislardes, '40, Frederick W. Domke, '41, Milton Krevolin, '41, Victor G. Fields, '39, Jack C. Levey, '41, B. Licht, John J. Poulos, '41 and Alvin E. Whalley, '40.

All-College Dance Band Organized

The first rehearsal of an all-Providence College dance orchestra of ten pieces being formed under the direction of Milton Phillips, '39, was held yesterday afternoon in the Auditorium.

The organization, the first at the College in many years, will be open to engagements of any kind and members are now planning an extensive program of dance activity for the year. Weekly rehearsals will be held.

The personnel of the new dance group is—Saxes: Bert Cournoyer, '41, alto; Joseph McDonnell, '39, and William Cunningham, '39, alto; brass: Edward Martin, '41, trumpet; Archie Oliveri, '41, trumpet; William Greene, '42, trombone; and Norman I. Goldberg, '41, rhythm; Bob Kaplan, '41, piano; John Davey, '40, bass; and Edward Mee, '41, drums. Phillips is director and manager.

FRESHMAN CAPS

With the approval of Father Dillon and Father Chandler, the sophomore class is making an effort to provide the freshmen with caps. There is to be no rule to compulsion; the decision as to whether or not they will accept and purchase the caps is left to the first year men themselves.

It is to be hoped that that the freshmen realize that their purchase of caps means a great deal, not only to the upper classmen and to the college as a whole, but also to themselves, individually and as a class.

As the situation now stands among the freshmen, they are unacquainted and unable to recognize each other as classmates. Friendships do not materialize outside of the classroom. Their individual interest suffers, and will continue to suffer as long as they permit this unnatural condition to exist.

In the second semester the freshmen will be permitted to sponsor social activities. Here again, unity will be absolutely necessary to the social success of the class. The class of '42 will have to work a unit. And it cannot do this if disunity exists among its members.

There is nothing overhearing in the attitude of the sophomores towards the freshmen. They are simply making an effort to fulfill their own particular obligation to the freshmen, that is, to be the sponsors of friendly relations between the two classes, and to initiate the freshmen in the spirit, tradition and ideals for which their college stands. It is proved that by the spirit in which they are conducting the Freshman-Sophomore Mixer which will take place next Tuesday night.

Thus it is the moral obligation of the Freshmen to reciprocate for the friendly spirit of the sophomores and to purchase and wear the caps, for their own interest, for the sake of the College, and for the sake of cordial relations with the other classes.

WE CAN'T MISS

In Barnini's pep-rousing words, "We can't miss", in spite of all sorts of difficulties the Friars have gone out and shown that they have grit, that they have lots of pluck. And in any game that means a lot, especially when the team knows that it has the school behind it.

There was a lot of concentrated cheering last Sunday, but there could have been more. There were a lot of faces missing in the organized cheering section, but that may have been because of confusion over the new student regulations. At the next home game we'll all be there, behind the squad whatever happens. —And we can't miss.

DOWN BROADWAY

By MEL ADAMS
(Associated Collegiate Press Correspondent)

ON THE BANDWAGON

"How I'll Miss You When the Summer Is Gone" would ordinarily be an appropriate theme for the Broadway front at this time, but this being the eve of the New York World's Fair, bigger and better things are in store for band fans who visit Gotham during the next nine months.

Never before has Broadway assembled such a galaxy of name bands. King Benny Goodman will be at the Waldorf, Tommy Dorsey at the New Yorker, Off-the-cob Kyser at the Penn, Larry Clinton at the International Casino, Ted Lewis at the Casa Manana, Eddy Duchin at the Plaza, Will Osborne at Glen Island Casino, Sammy Kaye at the Commodore and Russ Morgan at the Paradise restaurant.

Out Chicago way, Hal Kemp, the suave sender of sophisticated syncopeation will dish out his telegraphic rhythms at the Drake Hotel, commencing October 8, Buddy Rogers is slated for the Hotel Sherman same time. Guy Lombardo already installed at the Palmer House, and Bob Crosby at the Blackhawk, Jan Garber is slated to take over the baton from Bobcat Crosby early in November.

On Western shores, Skinny Ennis cuts loose with his new band at the super-swank Mark Hopkins hotel in San Francisco and Bunny Berigan is headed for the Palomar. Of all the former band vocalists and instrumentalists to debut as maestri during the past six months, Ennis is the first to come through a commercial. You'll hear him on Bob Hope's new show Tuesdays over NBC-Red. That, and his Mark Hopkins stint, coupled with a new juicy Victor recording contract is not so bad for a young'un in the baton-waving business. Another fairly new maestro to rate a rave is Larry Clinton who now holds contracts for appearances on the Tommy Riggs and Bob Benchly shows.

NEW YORK AT LARGE

Broadway looks forward to a great year. More new shows scheduled to face the foot-lights than any period during the past seven years. Two new hits have already opened curtains. The Harold Rome—Max Gordon—George S. Kaufman production, "Sing Out the News," received nice play from the cyniricals, as did Fred Stone in a revival of "Lighten-in." This marks Stone's "Golden" anniversary in the theatre another anniversary to be tagged up this fall is by Walter Donaldson, famous composer of "Mammy", "Blue Heaven" and "Little White Lies." who will chalk up 25 years on Tin Pan Alley, celebrating it with a choice new contract to pen for MGM. One of the new mags that will pack a lot of kick for you alligators and band fans is SWING, which considers both the sweet and swiny, despite its name. Hollywood Restaurant, after two closings last year, re-opens its doors in the next-or-so. . . . Some of you feelers with real school spirit might catch Will Osborne's five sustainings a week over NBC. . . . On every program he salutes a different college. . . . Pappy Paul Whiteman is headed for a tour of Dixie institutions beginning with a fall dance at Washington & Lee. . . . Pappy, incidentally, will hold a special concert of new modern music at Carnegie Hall here Christmas night.

The notebooks of Leonardo da Vinci, soon to be published, are regarded as the most comprehensive examples of universal genius in existence.

The play, "The Fabulous Invalid," by Moss Hart and George Kaufman, which opens in New York tomorrow night, has three ghosts and a theatre among its principal characters.

Paul Muni is now playing Jurec, the Mexican leader, in a motion picture based upon the story of Maximilian and Carlotta.

Uncle Peter Overlooks The Alumni

As the many alumni who saw the game on Sunday will agree, the football team looks much better on the field than they do on paper. Our entire score for the season doesn't add up to much, but the fight and spirit that the players showed doesn't appear in the box score. It is by no means a team that the graduates should feel ashamed of, and Uncle Peter feels confident that as the season progresses more and more of our recent abies and phubees will up to see the team perform. The next home game is on the 15th against Manhattan at La Salle field.

Removing the grid from the iron . . . The Pawtuxet Valley Club's genial president, Frank Reynolds of West Warwick, actually got to the game on time despite the fact that he had to buy his own ticket. . . . Long distance commuter was Ed Conaty, '33, who went to the Columbia-Yale game in New Haven on Saturday; the Providence - St. A's game in this city on Sunday afternoon; back to the parlor game in the Elm city on Sunday night; and then back to the old army game in these plantations, late Sunday, or early Monday morning.

Thomas A. Martin, M.D. of the '3ters, took time off from opening his new office to come to the game to tell people about it. . . . Aram Jarrett '38 looked rather lonely sitting apart from Fred Hogan, '40—at least—for the first time in many a game. . . . seems those student tickets came between them. . . . We Hope it was Miss Quinn that was being escorted to one of the better seats by Ed Lynch, '31. . . . Those color movies that you saw being taken will be an exhibition for the various alumni clubs later on this year. . . . they will form one episode in a college film, all in technicolor with no, count 'em, no girls, that will be the equal of almost any college film yet printed.

Wonder if Dom Minicucci, '38, now selling insurance in Waterbury, had any luck lining up prospects at Hendricken Field last Sabbath? . . . Medical director Dr. O'Reilly's brother Cliff was in the stands with a future quarterback named Sonny who is now only some 12 years away from our freshman team. . . . Seen at the game, too, was one of the most ardent supporters of everything P.C. does, Rev. Father Higgins of Central Falls. . . .

And just to verge from the pigskin for a while. . . . Dr. William Shields, '31, has opened a new Thayer St. office. . . . Leo H. Smith, '28, of Westerly, now three sport coach at Northbridge, Mass. high school was married last month to Margaret K. Barry of Whittinsville. . . . Leo got his master's degree from B. U. this summer. . . . Attorney Thomas D. Murphy of Chicopee is seeking the Democratic nomination for the State Senate in the 2nd Hampden district.

Congratulations are due Charles J. McCarthy, '27 on his new appointment in Washington. . . . Rev. Anselm Townsend, O.P., '24, has been appointed professor of history at St. Mary's College in New Orleans. . . . Stephen Murray is busy in Yonkers helping the K. of C. increase their membership. . . . George H. Boyle, '34 of Passaic returns to this city on Oct 29th to wed Miss Helen Fitzsimmons. . . . And if Myrna Loy is in town on that date, Uncle Peter may be busy himself.

COLLEGIATE CLIPPINGS

Ames, Iowa—(ACP)—Challenging the statement that the "country would be better educated if fewer persons attended college," Dr. Charles E. Friley, president of Iowa State College, asserts that training of intelligent laymen who can cope with political, economic and social "quackery" is just as important as the training of leaders.

"It may be true that there are boys and girls who would fare better if they were not in college; but it is equally true that there are many able students in college and many others who ought to have the benefits of higher education," he declared.

"In some cases students now in college should be advised frankly to engage in non-college activities better suited to their ability and temperament. At the same time greater effort should be made by civic and educational organizations, public-spirited citizens, high school and college officials to provide increased opportunities for college training to able and ambitious young people financially unable to attend."

Columbus, O.—(ACP)—With the opening of the Ohio State University golf course this year, the number of college and university operated links reached 67, according to figures gleaned from National golf course statistics.

In the East Princeton, Yale, Harvard, Pen State and Villanova are among the leading schools operating courses while Iowa, Minnesota, Michigan and Notre Dame stand out in the mid-west along with Wooster and Ohio State in Ohio.

In the west the more representative schools operating courses for their students are Washington, Stanford, Oklahoma, Montana State and South Dakota State.

Officials in the national golf circles have no hesitancy in predicting that the number of college operated courses will be doubled within the next few years.

El Paso, Texas—(ACP)—Members of the El Paso Rotary Club are at work selling $1 shareholders certificates in the Mucker Band of the College of Mines and Metallurgy, here, a branch of The University of Texas. Rotarians have set as a goal the sale of 1,200 shares for which no more or less than $1 may be paid by any individual. Proceeds from the sale will be used to purchase new instruments for the band.

Columbus, O.—(ACP)—After a year's successful trial, Ohio State University will this year subsidize activities of student organizations under a plan novel in U. S. colleges and universities.

Five hundred dollars has been set aside to help student groups bring speakers to the campus, expand social activities, and carry out other organized projects. Administered by a dean and a committee of students, the plan will encourage extra-curricular intellectual interests for students.

Bringing in of outside speakers is the most common use for the fund.

Last year one club bought an "official rubber stamp" to use on its bulletins and put up a club bulletin board. Two clubs joined in converting an abandoned locker room into a social room.

Reference handbooks and library books were purchased by several organizations. The Pen and Brush club found it possible with this assistance to present a downtown exhibition of its work.

Students in one department used their subsidy to secure a portrait of the department chairman and they plan to use their grants in succeeding years to add to the collection of portraits of those who have contributed to the profession.

Personality Shots

By John Schofield, '39

Right here and now we would like to introduce a few personalities to those who may not know them. In the first place we present Joe Malone, a Sophomore, who may be identified by a brown checkered sport coat and a wide grin exuberantly produced to a member of the fair sex. In the line of dancers we give you Woolley and Pariseau who can shag better than the best of them. Joe McLaughlin comes next, one individual whose hair seems forever waving in the breeze. When it comes to swaggering McAuley rates high.

Then, too, there is the East Side's candidate for the Friar's Club, Ted Crouchley. The quietest fellow in the College is undoubtedly Heffron. Bill Dolan and Sherman are the two more well known National Guardsmen and both still look extremely fatigued from hurricane duty. O'Gara takes a prize for being lanky. Scholastically inclined is, of course, the pugilist Archambault. Next we present Paul Morin who besides being interested in the Race Track is an ardent student of boxing. That fellow with the cane is Johnny Serra, kid personality himself.

Brockton with its shoes gives you Bislarides. Perhaps the fellow who dresses loudest on occasion is Woodward, who last year wore a light blue and brown checkered suit to class on a bet. "Streaky" McManus is a product of Newport and is a student of Education. In his turn comes Norm Laviole who hails from Tiverton. Lacey of the Football managerial squad always seems to have a lop-sided grin. The crispest accent in the college undoubtedly belongs to Minks Jenkins who forsook Prince

FOUR DOMINICANS ASSIST IN FRANCISCAN CEREMONY

A custom of friendship between two great religious orders dating to the middle ages was renewed last Tuesday when four Fathers from the College went to Brookline, Mass., to participate in an observance of the feast of St. Francis.

Rev. Robert G. Quinn, O.P., was the celebrant of a solemn high Mass, assisted by the Rev. Raymond S. McGonagle, O.P., deacon, and the Rev. Leo S. Cannon, O.P., sub-deacon. The Rev. Nicholas H. Serror, O.P., was the preacher.

On the feast of St. Dominic during the summer members of the Franciscan Order came to Providence College. The tradition honors the great friendship between the founders of the two orders, St. Francis and St. Dominic.

ton for P.C., a wise move. From New York we line up McGovern who has red hair and a father in the Insurance exchange. Incidentally the individual under the crew cap is Leo Flynn. No person seems more in earnest than Pete Goodwin, Admirer of the Girls' City Club is George Gardner who with Duffy made a beautiful girl in the comedy of last year.

That sporty and nattily magnificent La Salle convertible belongs to Faby who is in the bakery dough along with Batastani.

Those two tiny chums are Doyle and Long of Woonsocket. Hogan seems to grin more than anyone here. For a jam session Phillips is essential as a trumpeter. Classified as rangy may be Cook of the Freshman Class who is tall and bespectacled.

The Collegiate World

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

When it comes to describing the college man of 1938, so many and varied are the paragraphic portrayals that he is at once a master-mind and a dolt, a play-boy and a great student. None has so brilliantly painted the picture as Kent State University's Dean R. E. Manchester, who sets the man-of-the-campus on his pedestal in the following manner:

"The college man is a living paradox. Most people cannot understand him and those who do, come to their conclusions by indirect proof. He talks of the future but worships the past. He is liberal in his conversation but conservative in his action. He is radical in his opinions on politics, but elects stand-patters to the class offices. He demands freedom of thinking but defends with all his strength the traditions of his institution. He takes wild stands on religious theories yet attends college and universities that are created and maintained by orthodox creeds. He preaches democracy yet supports the most rigid camp caste system. He demands that his university maintains the highest athletic standards yet in the same breath also demands a professional football team. He scoffs at his profs yet defends them strenuously when they are criticized. He rebels against rules but sets up more rigid ones when given the opportunity. He hates the high school graduate who comes with a white scout badge on his coat, but he covers his own vest with medals and keys. He invents and uses the most outlandish slang on the street, but reads and writes pure English in his room. He clamors for self government but doesn't want it after he gets it. He laughs at convention but insists upon

William Dolan, '39, Caught in Storm At Matunuck, Tells Tale of Havoc

Saved from Storm's Fury; Served in National Guard at Westerly

A graphic picture of the desolation left in the wake of the memorable hurricane of Sept. 21, 1938, was described by William Dolan, '39, following his registration at the College Monday. Dolan, a member of the 118th Infantry, was at his summer home in Matunuck when the storm struck, and later was on duty with the National Guard in Providence and Westerly.

The havoc caused by the storm at Matunuck is almost indescribable according to Dolan. Although his home suffered little, the homes and businesses of countless others were either completely destroyed or left in such a condition that immediate repairs are necessary.

At the height of the storm Dolan and his father pegged down a large trellis in front of his house only to see it blown down as soon as they had turned their backs. A friend who once owned a house on the waterfront had his home blown intact from its foundation for a considerable distance.

At 11:30 Wednesday, Dolan was

it. He cuts classes the day before a vacation but comes back three days early.

"You ask 'What are we going to do about it?' We are going to praise the Lord that we have him and that he is just what he is, a walking contradiction of himself." Like it? We thought you would!

ordered to his Armory for active duty. For three days he was on duty in down-town Providence and on Sunday, the 118th left for Westerly.

Dolan is emphatic in saying that most people have the wrong impression when they say that the Town of Westerly was hard hit. He states that it is the County of Westerly and especially the beach sections that were devastated.

Several funny stories have been brought to light following the storm. For instance, Dolan reports that he was in a squad of thirteen men doing beach duty and that after five hours search in the debris they found a lone nickel.

The 118th left Westerly at two o'clock Saturday after a thorough physical examination and was demobilized in Providence at six o'clock. All in all it is an adventure which will not be forgotten soon.

LA PLEIADE, FRENCH CLUB, HAS MEETING

Eight new members were welcomed yesterday at the first meeting of La Pleiade, the College French club. Lionel J. Landry, '40, president pro tem presided.

For the benefit of new members the constitution was discussed and explained and French rules of Parliamentary Laws were applied. The program for the year was announced and it will include regular meetings and talks by prominent French speakers.

The election of officers will take place at the next meeting.

DON'T LET TENSION "GET" YOUR NERVES!

Collie

Rough-coated Collie's ancestry is as old as sheep-herding itself. Name from Anglo-Saxon "col" meaning black. Scotch called them "colley dogs" after the black-faced "colley" sheep they tended. Note for acute hearing, extraordinary homing sense, devotion to duty.

He's giving his nerves a rest...

and so is he

THIS Collie dog has a nervous system that is remarkably similar to yours. Like yours it is delicate, complicated. But here is where a big difference comes in: The dog can spring into flashing action—and then relax, while man's nature makes him unkind to his nerves. All too often, we work too hard, worry too much, are fatigued or sleepless from strain. Nerves cry for rest, but we do not hear. Don't let tension

"get" your nerves. Give your nerves a frequent rest—take time for a Camel. Camels help you to remember that you need a brief bit of leisure, for they are mild and mellow, a supremely enjoyable cigarette, made from costlier tobaccos. Smokers find that "LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL" puts more joy into living, and that Camel's costlier tobaccos are mild and soothing to their nerves.

There's more joy in living when you "Let up—light up a Camel"

MISS OLLIE TUCKER (left), office manager, says: "I can't afford to get nervous. My method is to let up, and light up a Camel. It's a grand way to smooth out tense nerves. I smoke Camels a lot. They're so mild and flavory. Camels are soothing to my nerves. Most of my friends who see me always at ease prefer Camels."

RALPH GULDAHL (right), golf champion, reveals an "inside" story. "I've learned to ease up now and again—to take time for a Camel. It's the little breaks in daily nerve tension that help to keep a fellow on top. Smoking a Camel gives me a feeling of well-being. Here is a cigarette that is soothing to my nerves!"

The Keyholer

By ED DUPRAS, '40

All things must have a beginning and we might as well start here as anywhere else. A word of advice to the Freshmen: If a tall, dark, and extremely funny-looking gent should stop you and ask for a match, just ignore him. The odds are two to one that it's John O'Gara and he'd just as soon try to bum a butt to use with the match.

We see that Larry Hall, the Bond Bread man, has successfully started the year. The other morning he was spotted comfortably ensconced in his favorite chair in the "caf" holding the top spot in a very serious discussion. We didn't quite catch the topic under consideration but judging from the laughs and howls the gang must have taken Doc O'Neill's advice and were discussing a book. Probably "College Humor" or something, huh!

Man of the Week—John "Black Coffee" Reynolds—He's the only guy this corner has seen who ever had the nerve to invite the O.A.O. to a football game and then make her bum a ride to the game for the two of them. Wonder if she had to buy the tickets too?

Ed Butler sighted tother day chugin' up Smith St. in Mill Farley's gas-gig with two very ultra-ultra femmes. Was he cheatin' on Mill? By the way, Farley wins the gold-plated shoe horn for the way he led those jeers to the assemb. last Fri. P. M.

Congrats to Dan'l Geary for still being alive. Some quarters are wishing that the accident last Wed P. M. was a wee bit more serious. Maybe Dan does too. As it stands now the ol' man just ain't gonna junk the crate.

Heard recently—Definition of Conscience Stricken. Part of a proverb—Don't Conscience Stricken before they hatch. Not too bad, huh!

Spillane and U. P. ought to have Chamberlain come over here and settle their feud. Spillane probably has a secret passion for Myrna himself and he's jealous. She's alright but we'd settle for Priscilla Lane any day of the week.

'Tis true that absence makes the heart grow fonder. Even tho' the "big wind" disrupted the tranquillity of the town the salesgirls at the various nickel and dime emporiums are sighing for Joe "Wolf" Byron who is slaying night and day with Hughie Devore's gridders.

Now It Can Be Told—Doug Ferraro's (you know the best looking cheer-leader) embarrassment tother day at the H. C. game was caused by the presence of his former flame in the first row of the bleachers. They weren't on speaking terms but everything is hunky-dory now. He spoke to her and she threw him for a fifty yard loss. Tsk, Tsk, such goings on.

Wonder why Coach Devore always seems to be so shy when he addresses the students. We hear he dresses a mean between-halves pep talk. South Bend papers please copy.

There's a conspiracy under way to rob Wee Willie Carter of his "sister's" affections. Watch your pals, Willie, or you'll have to find a new "sister."

MacMURRAY'S FRIEND

Bob Hope loaned Fred MacMurray the top hat and cane in which MacMurray made his screen test that brought him a long-term contract at the same studio.

AQUINO CLUB TO MEET

There will be an important meeting of the Aquino Club, Providence College Italian organization, on Thursday, Oct. 13, at 8 p. m. in the small auditorium. All members are urged to attend.

Student Council Set For Band

Will Direct all Band Activities; 11 Freshmen Added to Organization

Plans are now being effected for a complete reorganization of the Providence College Band.

An entirely new feature, a committee to direct the policies of the band is embodied in an effort to revive the former spirit. New uniforms of black and white have been secured by the board which is composed of Edward Martin, John Murray, Henry B-se, and Norman I. Goldberg.

Although 11 freshmen have offered their respective talents the committee is still in search of new members. Applicants should see either the Rev. Irving Georges, O.P., or one of the committee.

HOLLYWOOD'S CONCOCTION

It's a weird concoction that Hollywood rounds up and puts on a sound stage to turn out a musical film.

George Burns, Gracie Allen, Martha Raye and Ben Blue come from the vaudeville stage. Bob Hope comes from Broadway musical comedy shows. Florence Greeney comes from grand opera. Skinnay Ennis is a dance band singer. Betty Grable and Jackie Coogan are products of the silent days in the films. Edward Everett Horton comes from the legitimate stage.

The acts of Burns and Allen, Raye, Blue, Ennis, and Hope on the vaudeville stage and the radio were essentially specialty numbers—that is, acts which are complete within themselves.

And the script writers had to turn out a story tying all those divergent personalities together!

Italians Honor Dominican Friar

In the port of Taranto, a submarine of the Italian Navy has been launched and given the name of Alberto Guglielmotti.

Albert Guglielmotti was neither an admiral nor a sailor, but a Dominican Friar. He was born at Civitavecchia, the chief port of the Papal States in 1812. Having entered the Dominican Order he took his vows in 1828. He was professor of philosophy and mathematics, president of the Dominican Athenaeum near the Church of Minerva in Rome and librarian of the famous library called Casanattensa from the name of its founder, the illustrious Dominican Cardinal Casanata.

His Superiors, after the first proofs he gave in historic and naval literature, let him take long voyages in the basin of the Mediterranean with the object of discovering in places the traces of the great Christian epopee. So he visited in detail all the places where the Battle of Lepanto took place and the movements of fortifications erected against the Turks in the fifteenth century by the other Dominican Cardinal Maculani, one of the cleverest military architects of the age. Along the Tyrrhenian coast he studied the naval fortifications and works erected by the Popes in defense of Ostia, Nettuno and Civitavecchia, the most vulnerable points of the Roman coast and the most exposed to the incursions of Turkish corsairs and pirates.

The fruit of his travels and studies was a series of works of which the principal are: History of the Battle of Lepanto; The History of the Papal Navy; The War Against the Pirates; the Naval Dictionary, a unique and original work in which he analyzed and listed all the naval terms of the Italian language.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

"Far too many scientists are ridiculous because they write long-winded articles about their researches and fail to put them into proper literary style." Centenary College's young E. Z. Friedenberg gave scientists the "works" at their annual convention.

"Great leaders are generally snobs with a sense of responsibility." So University of Manitoba's Pres. Sidney Smith is out to get more students that "are conscious of belonging to a class."

RABBIT CHANGE CAREER

Raoul Walsh, Paramount's director, turned from acting to directing when a desert rabbit crashed into the windshield of his speeding car and flying glass put out one of Walsh's eyes.

NEWPORT CLUB TO MEET

The meeting of the Newport Club which was scheduled for yesterday has been postponed to next Thursday. At that time nominations for officers for the year will be taken. The election will be held a week from Thursday.

NEVER PROTESTS

Although numerous other screen personalities have become sensitive about some fancied or real peculiarity upon which they rode to fame, Gracie Allen has never been known to protest against her dumb Doña roles. Gracie is so dumb she doesn't know she's dumb, her husband explains.

25 Students Seek Cowl Staff Posts

Editor Enrolls New Men and Explains Staff Set-up; Try-outs Planned

Approximately 25 students yesterday answered a call by the Editor of The Cowl for new members to the staff. At the meeting held in Room 22, Robert C. Healey, '39, Editor, took registration and explained the set-up of the staff and the departmental divisions.

The new recruits are: Bernard Nadeau, Frank DeCiantis, Joseph Coccia, George W. Therrien, Francis E. Maloney, John J. Lombardi, Ralph Napolitano, John E. Fondi, Omer Goulet, Joseph Fitzgerald, Russell R. Jalbert, Richard M. Prime, James V. Cr nan, Thomas Carew, Sydney Make, Milton Levin, George O'Brien, Francis X. Sullivan, Joseph Malone, Joseph McLaughlin, Aaron J. Slom, Jerome Tesler, Francis E. Greene, Robert J. Smith, Theodore Miller, Rudolph Volpe, and Karl M. Kunz.

These students will be given try-outs next week and will be judged on the basis of the material they submit for the assignment. Healey said.

"Group meetings," he explained, "will be held soon to familiarize these new men with the kind of work they will be expected to turn. Any student who did not register at the meeting still has the opportunity of doing so by applying at The Cowl office at the beginning of next week."

DEBATING UNION MEETS

Enrollment of new members in Providence College's Debating Union took place yesterday at the first meeting of the year presided over by Walter F. Gibbons, president.

Gibbons announced an intra-mural debating program to begin in the latter part of October. The debates will take place Thursday evenings at 7.30. A series of radio debates similar to those held last year is also being considered, he declared.

From the Lab

By PAUL KEARNEY, '39

Gee but it is great to be back To see "Our Joe" Baldwin as resplendent as ever. To wonder when Frank Tirochi will close doors after him. To hear John Gorman tell how close he came to understanding Einstein's Relativity Theory while riding his boat through the hurricane. To listen to the melodious soundings of John Kennedy as he says: "Nice going!!" Yes it's great to be back.

John P. Grady made his debut in the Holy Cross game. It seems that John had as opposing tackle none other than a Kelly, a Pittsfielder and hometown chum of John. Well as the story goes, John gave Kelly the works on two successive plays; then Kelly returned the compliment with an accidental discharge to Grady's midriff and subsequent knocking down. John, quite peeved, remarked: "Kelly, for gosh sakes! Is that nice?" Kelly's reply: "Aw—you did it to me."

Advice to Seniors: The word has gone round that this year is reputed to be a breeze. One can recall what such a breeze did to New England a while back. So be careful!

Advice to Juniors: Be very diligent in setting up your apparatus in Chemistry. I recall Dr. McGrail's words to a "Mad Chemist" last year: "What do you think you have there, an erector set!"

To the Freshman: The lab is a long closely together along one side. A room with the windows arranged great many tables are arranged length-wise giving it the appearance of a large dining hall.

The students are divided into two kinds, the workers and the non-workers, those who look into the microscope and those who look over it. The latter assure you that there is a great deal of fun in the lab. Well there is, when one sees the product of their drawing capabilities. Some of them portray objects never seen by the head of the department. I remember one amoeba that gave me an awful scare when I finally got it on paper. . . .

HOT OFF THE FRYER

By Daniel F. Murphy '39

We were wondering where we had heard the title which was used at the head of this column last week. The friend who suggested it said it was the brain-child of an acquaintance of his who wouldn't care if we borrowed it for the year. He forgot to mention, however, that a gentleman named Grantland Rice still uses the same heading for a little thing he dashes off for a newspaper syndicate every day. Mr. Rice saw it first, so we have changed the title to the above after having refused the suggestion "Speaking Out." We didn't especially care for that.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

You fellows who are interested in the less dangerous type of football known as "Touch" had better start signing up your stars and working out those scoring plays. As soon as we are able to present signs of enough interest in the sport and get the required number of teams to insure a plenitude of competition in the league, Fr. Quinn will see to it that the balls and playing space are provided. Men who wish to form class, club, or any kind of group teams, send a representative to talk it over with the writer of this column. He will present your plans to the faculty director of athletics and report back to you. Act now, and someone might discover a new triple-threat to be graduated into the hands of Coach Devore.

WE CAN'T MISS

The spectators from outside the pale of these immediate precincts were quite taken over by the old "pepper" of "Slip" Barnini during last Sunday's ball game. The Providence center was hurrying back to tell the world we couldn't miss even as the final whistle was serving the death notice on the hopes for a Friar victory. Barnini picked up a lot of friends for himself with his never-say-die tactics. And with apologies to him, our slogan for the Niagara tussle is "We can't miss."

HERE AND THERE

That rally last week seemed to put some of that much-needed noise into the stands on our side of the field on Sunday . . . just remember to keep it up at all the games . . . St. Anselm's managed to take home the long end of the score from the Sabbath conflict but the people weaved-dropped on while wending our way to the gate after the game had a few nice things to say about Friar's Carter and Avedisian . . . Personally, we like the way that Carter spilled the Hawks all over the field. . .

Registration Period Extended By Dean

Registration in the extension school will continue through next week, the Rev. Arthur H. Chandler, O.P., dean, has announced. Because of the storm, he said, many persons were unable to register and thus the period has been extended.

Extension school classes started Monday night with large registrations reported. This year the curriculum has been enlarged through the addition of many subjects never taught in the extension department. Most of the courses carry credit towards a degree, but some are purely cultural.

Etienne Gilson, noted philosopher, is the author of a book, "The Unity of Philosophical Experience," which attempts to trace the development and inherent unity of all philosophic systems.

Freshman, Joey Archibald, Candidate For World Featherweight Title

A member of the Freshman class will take a two-day vacation from routine scholastic assignments during the week after next . . . just long enough to take a trip up to New York city and box "fifteen rounds or less for the featherweight championship of the world."

The student's name is Joseph "Joey" Archibald, of Pawtucket, who was recently nominated by N.B.A. officials as the most logical successor to the title vacated by Henry Armstrong.

The Student Pugilist

Archibald is an alumnus of St. Raphael's Academy of Pawtucket, who mixed boxing with studying while attending that institution, but forsook the paths to learning upon his graduation in 1936 to ply his fistic wares from coast to coast. After hovering near the top of the 126 pound division for the past few years, Joey became number one man in the eyes of the National Boxing Association after winning a tournament sponsored by that organization in Washington early this summer.

The Pawtucket boy posted a $1,000 bond with the New York State Athletic Commission to make the then champion Henry Armstrong risk his title in the same ring with him. Inability to make the weight forced the colored holder of three boxing crowns to forfeit his featherweight diadem, and now the student pugilist and Mike Belloise, another top-ranking puncher in that class, will fight 15 rounds to decide who shall succeed "Hurricane Henry." Joey has already scored a ten round victory over his opponent in the forthcoming bout, which will take place on Monday evening, October 17.

Early To Rise and . . .

The Providence College man is a far cry from the "dese and dese" fighters found in the movies and in boxing fiction. He is a modest, unassuming chap, who has chosen the medical profession as his more permanent career because he feels that one's initiative and ability can be used to best advantage in the professions. Joey is carrying a full line of freshman courses in the pre-medical division of studies while training for the championship bout. He rises at 5:30 each and every morning of the week and does his road-work before hustling down to make his 8:30 classes.

Early To Bed

The Pawtucket boy then spars with the books and with his "lab" instruments until late in the afternoon. He returns home for his gym work and a few cantos of boxing with his fellow leather-punchers, and then prepares his school-work for the next day, before going to bed at 9:00. Joey says he is beginning to hit his books with as much gusto as he does his opponents of the squared circle, and he likes the books better. Win, lose, or draw, he will return to college to finish his education.

Varsity Stars Are Coaches For Day

Another feature of the Notre Dame system of football was introduced to Providence College players during last Monday's practice session when the varsity men assumed the duties of the coaches for the day with the members of the Freshman squad as their charges.

Mentors For A Day

The idea is one that Coach Devore picked up while holding down his end position at the South Bend school. The value of the practice lies in the fact that it benefits both the teachers and the pupils. The student mentors are able to keep their own assignments fresh in their minds while drilling the Frosh hopefuls in the intricacies of the new system, and the first-year men reap the benefit of greater individual attention. This also lightens the heavy burden of the small squad of regular coaches who have not the time to give the required instruction to each and every one of the Freshman gridders.

The Boys Like It

Monday's innovation was a decided success as both sides of the arrangement expressed complete satisfaction with the scheme. The new coaching regime will take over on the day after every varsity contact, thus enabling the first-string Friars to recover from any bad effects of the preceding day. The "mentors for a day" are already looking forward to a victory over the Rhode Island State Ramlets in the game which will serve as the opener for the Providence yearlings on October 22.

BUSMAN'S HOLIDAY

One version of the old adage concerning the ball-player and his holiday was re-enacted out on Hendricken Field on last Sunday when Coaches Tuss McLaughry and Frank Keane of Brown and Rhode Island State were seen among the spectators who watched the Providence College footballers go down to their second defeat of the season. Also on hand to enjoy the game from the grandstand was State's flashy sophomore back, "Duke" Abuzzi.

Friars Travel To Niagara U. For Next Game

Meet Strong New York Club in Contest Sunday; Leave Tonight

The Providence College football team, seeking its first victory of the season, will journey to Niagara this weekend to play Niagara University. Undaunted by defeats at the hands of Holy Cross and St. Anselm, the Friars will be out to avenge last year's loss to the Purple of Niagara. Niagara will also be seeking its first win. They dropped their season opener to Manhattan 19 to 0 with the game much closer than the score indicates. Asst. Coaches Ed Crotty and Joe Duklie, who attended the game, brought back reports of a big, fast, and hard charging Niagara club. Six Regulars

Their starting line has six regulars from last year and the starting backfield has three seasoned campaigners and one very promising sophomore, Head Coach Joe Bach of Niagara is a graduate of Notre Dame and has had considerable coaching experience. He was at Duquesne University with Elmer Layden, now head coach at Notre Dame, for many years. He has also coached at Carnegie Tech and was for a time coach of the Pittsburgh Pro Football Team.

The starting Niagara eleven will have Sam Ingrassi and Henry McArdle at the end posts. Ingrassi, weighing 190 lbs., is a great pass receiver and is on the end of many of their aerials. Chet Nisora and Len McCarthy both weighing over 200 lbs. will start at the tackle berths. Capt. Tom Beningo and Gerry Verbia are the regular guards. Johnny Tosi tipping the scales at 210 lbs. will start at the pivot position. Tosi is the keyman in the powerful Niagara line and one of the most deadly tacklers on the squad. Verbia is the only man in the line who didn't start last year's game. Tom Hockswender, powerful sophomore, leads the line reserves and by his play in the Manhattan game may receive a starting position.

Henry Aloia, 215 lb. sophomore at quarterback, Morgan Davies and Alton Caisse, of Leominster, Mass., at the halfbacks, and Al Lipinski at fullback round out the backfield. Caisse and Davies do most of the passing and Al Lipinski does the punting.

Hawks Humble Tough Friars

P. C. Presents Strong Defensive Play in Losing to St. Anselm 9-0

Playing at home for the first time this season the Friar footballers dropped a closely-fought contest to the Hawks of St. Anselm's College of Manchester, New Hampshire on last Sunday at Hendricken Field. The score of 9-0 against them was made possible by a first-period safety and a scoring thrust coming midway through the final quarter.

Apparently still suffering from the effects of their rugged play against the powerful Crusader eleven in their initial game on the previous Saturday, the locals seemed unable to cope with the hard-driving defensive play of the visitors ends and secondary. Particularly outstanding for the Hawks was Bill Johnson their left end, who time and again sifted through the interference to spill the ball carrier dead in his tracks.

Defensive Sparkles

On the defensive however, the Friars left little to be desired in the way of effective tackling and alert pass defence. On several occasions the linemen broke through their heavier foes to bring the Hawk ball toters to earth while the secondaries prevented the victors from completing a single pass. On this score we pay tribute to Charlie Avedisian and Bill Carter in the backfield and Stan Esielonis, Cas Potera, and "Slip" Barnini in the line.

Shortly after the opening whistle the entire St. Anselm forward wall broke through and smothered Paul Sweeney behind his own goal line after he fumbled the pass from center as he was attempting to kick out of danger. This gave the visitors a 2-0 advantage which was abetted by McLean's touchdown and successful conversion in the late stages of the game.

Frosh Footballers Showing Promise

Manifesting football exhibitions of the variety that bodes well to stamp them as one of the finest first year aggregations to wear the Black and White, the Providence College freshmen footballers are going through their daily drills in preparation for the opening encounter on October 22. Thus far the Friarlets have avoided the injury jinx with one exception, John Yockers, backfield ace, who has been forced to the sidelines as a result of a shoulder injury.

The list of the members of the squad is as follows:

Leone, Dorio, Kowalski, Juges, Fraga, O'Connell, Haponik, Finnegan, Reynolds, Yockers, Franco, Wasilewski, Jennings, Hackett, Bradley, and Leddy, backs; Slankus, Buzdragis, Quagan, Ryan, Warburton, Sullivan, Dunn, and Newton, ends; Marone, Scanlon, Brennan, and Tripp, tackles; Radzewicz, Magayzel, Carceri, Marr, and Goldby, guards; and Whelan, Di-Luglio, and Riley, centers.

Freshman Examinations Started on Wednesday; Will Continue

Physical examination of all Freshmen was begun on Wednesday by Dr. Frederic J. Burns and Dr. Edwin B. O'Reilly of the Providence College Student Health Service. Each Freshman is required to undergo the examination.

Examinations are conducted from 10 a. m. until 1 p. m. from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. Students are assigned hours to meet the Doctors by Reverend Frederic C. Foley, O. P., Assistant Dean. Father Foley requests all students who cannot fulfill their appointments with the doctors to communicate with him before the appointed time.

Each Freshman is given a thorough examination. Later in the semester they will be X-rayed for lung troubles. Upper classmen will not be given appointments to see the Doctors, but they may see the physicians at any time for treatment.

This is the second year of the Student Health Service's existence. Dr. Frederic J. Burns is in charge of the department.

NEW BULLETIN BOARD PLACED IN ROTUNDA

According to Mr. Louis G. Fitzgerald, director of publicity for the College, the new bulletin board which has been placed in the rotunda is for the convenience of the College and its guests. It will be used for extension school notices and the like. Organization use may be obtained by applying through the proper channels.

FRIARS TRAVEL TO NIAGARA U.

Several changes may be made in the Friars starting lineup due to injuries and performances in the first two games. Paul Sweeney, 190 lb. quarterback from Pittsfield, Mass., may start at the left tackle berth with Ray Bedard calling the signals on the first club. The only other change likely to take place in the starting lineup is "Red" McKinnon replacing Vin Nugent at left half-back.

The team is scheduled to leave Friday night arriving there on Saturday. A practice session will probably be held on Saturday afternoon with the game to be played Sunday afternoon.

New York City—(ACP)—At least one U. S. college instructor is trying to make life easy for today's undergraduates.

It's Mrs. Florence C. Rose, director of remedial reading work at Smith College, who recently gave the following rules for fast reading to Columbian University students:

1. Don't pronounce the words you are reading either audibly or inaudibly.
2. Try to grasp the meaning from the printed word rather than from the sound of the word.
3. Read by phrases rather than by word. Do not look at each word individually.
4. To skim, let your eyes zig-zag across the page, reading some of the words, not all of them, and slowing down on parts of special interest.
5. Read the topic sentences, the introductory and concluding paragraphs, and points in Italics carefully. Skim the other sections.

What Do You Think?

Question: Do you think the United States would enter a general European war?

Albert Aaronian, Sophomore Pre-Medical:

"The United States would not desire to enter a European war, but since the nations of the world are today so closely united through commercial bonds, the United States would be forced to enter due to its foreign entanglements. The fact that American shipping would be subject to attacks would arouse public sentiment in favor of war."

John J. Walsh, Sophomore, General Science:

"Yes. The capitalistic interests will drive us into it. Pro-war propaganda will be spread to incite the people to a sentiment in favor of war."

Leo A. Flynn, Senior, Business.

"No. Definitely no. In the first place I believe the only reason that we entered the last war was that our American business man had millions of dollars invested and dragged us into the war in order to save their capital. Young America does not want war and the American business man now realizes that money loaned during wartime will not be recovered. The next time he will do business on a cash basis thus averting the necessity of entering the war."

J. Francis O'Gara, Junior Arts:

"Yes. Because American money is tied up with the British interests, the United States will repeat its action during the Great War and fight again to protect its interests."

F. Oliver, Freshman, Pre-Medical:

"No. Why should the United States become involved in a European war when their interests in Europe do not warrant entering a war. The

FLYNN, ACTOR, P. C. FRESHMAN

1931 when he got his first part on the radio.

Since then Charlie has broadcast regularly in serials and plays over all of the major nationwide networks. After playing in "The Gumps," he played the part of an orphan boy in "Myrt and Marge."

Following "Myrt and Marge," Charlie played any number of parts in a Chicago "Health Show" and after that played in "The Secret Three," a children's detective serial.

Mother Author

In 1935 two serials written by Charlie's mother went on the air. "We Are Four" and "Bachelor's Children." Charlie's favorite role is that of "Tony," an average American boy in "We Are Four."

"You see, I'm Tony," he explained. "Mother had her eyes on me alright when she created 'Tony.' Anything I ever did dropped up in 'We Are Four.'"

One Christmas Charlie was on a broadcast with Ethel Barrymore, Noel Coward, Beatrice Lillie and Alexander Woolcott.

Coward a Eliot

"Afterwards we had a big party. Noel Coward was a riot with his jokes and extemporaneous plays. He and Beatrice Lillie kept us all roaring. Ethel Barrymore is one of the sweetest people I ever met," but Charlie's a little hesitant about Woolcott, a "funny man with a dry, sarcastic sense of humor."

He became serious when the conversation drifted around to studies, voicing an emphatic dislike for Latin and mentioning that he hopes to teach English Literature. Right now he reads "anything I can lay my hands on."

Important Veritas Meeting Today

An important meeting of the staff of Veritas, the Senior yearbook, will be held today. Reports will be delivered by the editor, Michael A. Coyne, and his assistants, Walter F. Gibbons and Harold Pivnick. The Rev. John T. McGregor, O.P., moderator, will be in charge.

At the senior meeting yesterday all seniors interested in working on the yearbook in any capacity were asked to report to him or to any of the editors. "The book," he said, "needs the co-operation of the whole class and everyone must take an active part if it is to be a success. We particularly ask those who are camera enthusiasts to submit shots for publication. We need all sorts of pictures."

The yearbook in the near future is going to conduct a popularity contest among the seniors for use in connection with the yearbook publication. Father McGregor has announced.

BOOKSTORE ASKS

The bookstore requests that those who ordered texts claim them. It causes much difficulty to have unclaimed books left with the bookstore.
