Victors Over Detroit

Although past performances mean comparatively very little in most in-stances when employed as a criterion of the relative merits of any two collegiate aggregations in these days of many upsets, the consideration of the exploits of the teams offers good food thought. On this count it is interesting to note that Detroit, conqu hy Catholic U., defeated North Caro lina State more decisively than did mighty Tennessee. -PROPAGANDA

The horrified reaction of several recipients of German propaganda which is now being sent through the mail makes anyone who is willing to view the situdoubtful whether or not Americans have been cured of the gullibility partly responsible for our entrance into the last war. We admit that propaganda is an evil and that it should be disregarded by anyone laying claim to being intelligent. But to exclude one type of propaganda in favor of another is more than likely to lead us into error and into making wrong judgments.

The secular press is none too vehement in its condemnation of body called for a cheer. that particular evil. On page one in almost every daily paper we read about propaganda and its evils. We are warned to take heed and not be lead astray by its seeming truth. But the same daily in the same edition will fill pages with column after column of the rankest sort of propaganda imaginable.

Throughout the country at the lecturers preaching the evils of of government is allowed to ex-We do not deny that the ist. heard both sides. In a court we consider it only just for the accused to give his side of the story and then be judged. So let it be in regard to the international situation. Do not condemn one side without first having heard its version. Hear both versions then pass judgment upon the question. To admit the testimony of one and exclude and condemn the testimony of the other is taking an irrational view to the problem

We as college students should examine more closely the arguments offered by both sides. Sift the truth from the fiction and the creations of human imagination. No matter what the outcome of our judgments let us look upon the problem with an attitude befitting our education. And above all let us not be led astray by hearing just one version and excluding the other. And again let us use our own judgments and not the judgments of others.

YEA TEAM!

At long last, football will soon be over for another eight months. Most red blooded Americans are sorry. But being what we are, spindle leggled, narrow chested and thoroughly anemic inkslingers, we secretly ation without prejudice a bit rejoice at the fact that, for a while, anyway, we can crawl into our respective shells and cease trying to impress people with our ability to give a "LONG YELL FOR THE TEAM!"

Our trouble all goes back to the State game at Cranston stadium last September. At that time we developed an inferiority complex which we don't think we'll ever live down. It seems moment early in the game, some We don't exactly know what happened, (maybe it was our "id" coming out), but anyway, we suddenly heard ourselves giving vent to a long, drawn out, weird and utterly fiendish shriek about 30 seconds before the cheer was to start.

Immediately we were the subject of the morbid curiosity of the crowd. The kind of curiospresent time we have hordes of ity which seems to imply, "Look at him junior, there in the cage; the Nazi Government and the ef-fects that will result if such type capture things like that." We were embarrassed, humiliated, ashamed, mortified and otherwise made to feel the size of the proverbial plugged nickel. For tomorrow up at Manchester, New Hampshire, the men of Hugh Devore will be trading pigskin tricks with a St. Anselm's eleven that has leaped to na-tional prominence during the past week after having bowed before the American International College team earlier in the season.

Hawks Favored Mainly due to the fact that they engineered the season's biggest up set in the opinion of the football experts, when they trounced the expers, when they frounced the previously unbeaten and united Catholic University eleven, 39-13, the Hawks, headed by Ramblin' Ray McLean, will be favored over our own Friars. Coach Devore saw the Cleo O'Donnell-coached gridsters perform last Saturday and consequently has no illusion what and soever as to their capabilities. You get a lot more than savings! You get extra mildness! Common sense tells you that a fast, fiery, hot-burning cigarette will not smoke comfortably or yield a delicate taste and fragrance. And that slow-burning tobaccos naturally would be mild and mellow. You get extra coolness. You needn't be a scientist to know that the slower tobacco burns, the cooler the smoking. You get extra-fine flavor. Excess heat ruthlessly destroys the subtle elements of flavor and aroma. Slowburning Camels tell their own taste-tale!
