Friars Open Grid Series With LaSalle

Philadelphia College Will Attempt to Halt Victory Streak of Providence

By HAROLD RICH

A Providence College eleven which has displayed great progress in recent weeks, after an uncertain early campaign showing, will write a new chapter in its annals when it inaugurates grid relations with a strong La Salle College team of Philadelphia next Sunday at La Salle Alumni Field in what appears to have all the earmarks of a closely-fought encounter. The kickoff is set for 2 o'clock.

Virtually unknown by many local fans, La Salle, conducted by the Christian Brothers, will make its initial invasion of this neck of the woods on the wings of a past performance slate which commands respect aplenty. The invaders are expected to arrive in Providence by boat early Saturday morning.

None of the six opponents who have competed with the Philadelphians this season has been able to score through the La Salle line, one of the finest that the Friars have or will be called upon to face during the present campaign. All the scoring registered against the Henry-coached forces has been effected through the airlines.

La Salle Is Strong

This year is not the first that La Salle has been well represented on the gridiron, for almost invariably it has carved for itself a substantial niche in competition among the small colleges of the nation.

Local fans who are acquainted with the exploits of the Philadelphians are anxiously awaiting the coming clash, and this, together with the fact that the Friars have stirred up a great amount of interest among the followers of the pigskin parade during the past three weeks, bodes well for a large turnout.

The encounter will provide an exacting test for the Black and White ground offensive. One of the strongest Niagara U. elevens to represent that institution in many years, the same Niagara team that trimmed the Friars, 14-0, was unable to score through La Salle's line. The Devoremen have flashed an abundance of power in their running attack, but whether or not they will be the first club to register through the westerners will not be known until all the returns are in.

Paul Prettyman Leads Philadelphians

In six games played to date La Salle has been victorious over West Chester, Davis Elkins, Mt. St. Mary, and Scranton U. and they have lost to Niagara and Canisius.

Johnny Pilconis, 182-pounder, and Len Zatoris, 175, are La Salle's ends. Dominic Montero, 195, and Mike Meno, 193, will be the starting tackles. Mike Mandarino, 215, and Frank Thorick, 180, will be at the guards.

NOTICE

The Cowl will present two (2) tickets for a local theatre to the student who submits the best letter to the editor each week.

Letters must be typewritten and submitted to The Cowl before Wednesday noon. Subject matter of the letter must be on a school topic or a subject of vital interest to the student body. Letters not signed by the writer will be rejected.

Choral Group To Broadcast

Program to Be Carried Over Nation; Father Perrotta to Speak

The Providence College Choral Group, under the direction of Rev. Leo S. Cannon, O. P., Mus. M., will furnish the musical background for Columbia Broadcasting System's Church of the Air program Sunday, it was announced early this week. The program will feature an address by Rev. Paul C. Perrotta, O. P., Professor of Philosophy at the College, entitled, "The Souls Everlasting Armistice with Christ."

The program will originate from Station WPRO and will be carried by over 100 stations of Columbia's coast-to-coast network from 1:00 to 1:30 P. M.

The choir will sing the College "Alma Mater" from an adaptation by Charles F. Manney of "Finlandia" by Jan Sibelius; "Panis Angelicus," by Claudio Casciolino, and "Concordia Laetitia" adapted by Deems Taylor.

The program, part of the tenth anniversary celebration of the series, will mark the first appearance of a Dominican speaker on the series and will also mark the first appearance of any Providence College group on a network. It will be the third time that a group under the direction of Father Cannon will be heard over a nation-wide hook-up, having directed the appearance of the Blessed Martin Choral Group of New York City comprising 100 voices twice within as many years.

Members of the choir are: John Falcao, '42; Max Knickerbocker, '44; William Coutanche, '44; George Wilkinson, '44; Harold Gettings, '44; Theophilo Vincent, '44; Charles Farrell, '43; Dominic Coppolino, '43; Mario Della Rosa, '42; Robert Dunn, '42; John Cronin, '41; Richard Prime, '41; Michael Jenkins, '41; Gerald Rogers, '41; Joseph McLaughlin, '42; Joseph P. Gibling, '43; Eaden Keith, '43; William McCormick, '42; John Cerra, '41; Kenneth Cayton, '42; James Davis,

PHILOSOPHY CLUB

At a meeting of the Philosophy Club yesterday, plans were formulated for a scholastic circle to be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 10 on the theme: "The intuitive faculty of women is superior to the logical faculty of men."

Edward Kaylor, '41, of Fall River will be the defender of the theme, and Martin Orzeck, '41, of Providence will be the objector. A paper will be read by Joseph Teverowski, '41.

The circle will be presented to the philosophy classes of the Extension School.

J. Howard McGrath Leads Host Of Alumni Into Public Office

Governor-Elect

J. HOWARD McGRATH

Two Students Are Victors

Professor George Kenny Among Those of Alumni Who Are Defeated

Led by J. Howard McGrath's successful campaign for Governor, a host of Providence College alumni were swept by popular acclaim into public offices throughout the towns and cities of Rhode Island as a result of Tuesday's convincing nation-wide victory for the Democratic party.

A graduate of the class of '26, McGrath, former United States Attorney General from Rhode Island, won by a plurality of 38,000 votes over Governor William H. Vanderbilt.

John E. Fogarty, Rhode Island labor leader and another alumnus, was elected to the United States House of Representatives by a plurality of 12,787. Fogarty replaces Cranston's Republican Congressman Harry Sandager.

In Woonsocket, one of the cities which went most heavily democratic, Henry A. Roberge, class of '25, ex-general treasurer of the State, was elected as mayor.

Supporting McGrath's policies in the House will be two undergraduates at the college. Walter Kane, '43, from Woonsocket's Republican second district, and Vincent P. Nugent, post graduate student, will help make Rhode Island laws. Kane will serve his second term, being elected for the first time during the 1938 campaign.

Justin P. McCarthy, '24, ex-president of the alumni association, and John Moakler, Jr., '32, local bar-rister, were chosen on the Democratic ticket for positions on the Providence City Council.

Raymond J. McCabe, a former student at the college, who got his start in the art of public speaking as a member of the Providence College debating team, was elected Democratic State Senator from Providence's fifth district by a plurality of more than 2,000 votes.

Stephen A. Fanning, Democrat, defeated his fellow alumnus John H. Shunney, for the spot of town clerk in Cumberland.

Albert Paine, ex-sports editor of The Cowl, running on the Republican ticket, was chosen a district clerk in East Providence.

LA PLEIADE

Judge Guillaume Myette, clerk of the Sixth District Court will be guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of La Pleiade, College French Club, Wednesday evening, Nov. 13.

Judge Myette, who will speak in French, has been prominent in French-American movements in Rhode Island and especially in Central Falls. He has twice been a representative to Congress of French Culture.

He is a member of the lawyer's guild, which is an affiliate of the Providence College Thomistic Institute.

Robert L. Smith, '41, president of the club requested that all students interested in French culture attend the meeting.

Friars Club Selects Two

Charles E. Sweeney and Willard M. Golby Chosen to Club

Charles E. Sweeney, '41, and Willard M. Golby, '42, were selected into the Friars' Club at a meeting of the club held last night, William Nesbit, president of the Friars Club, announced late last night. Plans were discussed at the meeting for the improvement of the cheering at the remaining football games.

Sweeney, the senior selected to the club, is a resident of Cranston, R. I. Throughout his college career he has been an active participant in extra-curricular activities. President of the class in his freshman year, Sweeney also has been a member of the Debating Union for four years, having participated in many intercollegiate debates. He has been on the Cowl staff for four years, and was editor in his junior and senior years. His other activities are: Alembic, associate editor, 2, 3, 4; Veritas, 2, 3, 4; Pyramid Players, 3, 4, and he was a delegate to the Model Congress in his sophomore year. This year Sweeney was chosen as the senior "who has done most for the college" in the annual senior poll.

The junior selected, Willard Golby, is a resident of South Orange, New Jersey. Golby played football in his freshman year, and has been a member of the Carolan Club for three years. Golby has served on several Carolan Club committees during this period.

Sophs Choose Dance Favors

"Tiny" Quinn's Band to Be Featured at Annual Sophomore Hop

Plans for the annual Sophomore Hop, to be held in Harkins Hall, Friday, Nov. 15th, gained momentum this week as class president Charles F. Cottam announced that the favors for the semi-formal affair have been selected.

The favors will consist of pearl lockets, bordered with gold, and holding two miniature picture frames. The setting for the main event in the Sophomore social season will be nautical.

Bids for the dance, which will feature the music of "Tiny" Quinn and his orchestra will be placed on sale in the Rotunda Monday.

Quinn, a member of the Sophomore class, has directed the orchestra, made up of residents of his home town of Hartford, for the past four (Continued on Page 4)

DEBATING

The negative side, composed of John Demowicz '43; Leo J. McNerney '41; and Israel Moses '43, received the unanimous vote of the judges at the Debating Union's weekly intramural debate held last Monday.

Raymond A. Thomas '44; Raymond Flynn '43; and Gerald J. Madden '43, upheld the affirmative side. The question was: "Resolved that the U. S. Should Adopt a System of Complete Military and Economic Isolation."

ATHLETIC SHORTS

By TED ALEXAKOS

A blitzkrieg via the water ways was demonstrated by the Friars at Springfield. It was a day which required the best in a team and splash for splash the black and whites were 20 points better than their Maroon opponents. A notable comment made by the Springfield team after the game was one that will leave certain people blushing. "The Providence team was as clean in play as any team we've faced!" That should give W. F. C. something to dissertate about.

The senior football team is working earnestly in anticipation of their Varsity Hop which is to be presented December 13. The purpose of this dance (to clarify any misunderstanding) is to raise sufficient funds for the purpose of providing sweaters for all letter-men. Everyone should back the team as rabidly in this respect as they do from the bleachers. The committee is made up of senior team members. Through their efforts, the varsity may receive sweaters in appreciation of their efforts. This is something that should be provided for the athletes year after year as a remembrance of their days on the gridiron. Why not make it a date?

Congratulations

To Mr. J. Howard McGrath, Governor-elect of Rhode Island and alumnus of Providence College, The Cowl proudly extends congratulations.

From the Dorm

By ROSS MUENZEN '42

We had planned to bring before your literary eye the writings of an individual well known to college circles but due to unforeseen circumstances he is unable to take over. However, next week he has promised to toss a few verbal pitches your way so we will have to be content for the present.

A brief glimpse of what is happening in the European capitols was given to the Rockmen at a midnight pre-vue last election eve. It seems that one of the inhabitants of our little city on the hill has been reading too many stories about the bombing of the famed Rock of Gibraltar and decided for the sake of testing the nervous stamina of the Rockmen that he would give them a similar experience. However, finding it difficult to pick up a bomb in any of the second hand stores he was forced to buy a giant firecracker for his bombing of the "Rock!" That evening, in the still of the midnight hour when all brains were tucked away for the night and when the dorm represents a giant undertaking parlor, he let fly his noisy missile in the direction of a Professor's room who is intimately concerned about the European war. The result—a noise like a mixture of a few Chinese earthquakes and a couple of boiler explosions. When the smoke had faded away into the professor's room there was no one around and at this writing the agile firecracker thrower is still shrouded in mystery. However, there will be more than one light blinking from the second floor over the weekend—or so we hear!

It's about time this column passed out a few orchids or perhaps, by common consent, just passed out. Anyhow, we hereby nominate for the position of Best Waiter of the Week, Mal Willoughby. Service with a smile!

Campus Notes

James T. Clifford of cleaning and pressing fame was an active participant in the recent elections as a political machine fixer (mechanical). . . Beryle Sacks and Lee Leddy were seen at "DuBarry was a Lady." Was she? . . . Pat Reynolds seen waving a red light in the corridor. Some W. P. A. worker will be plenty mad! . . . Joe Giammalvo, campus romanticist, will be seen at the game Sunday with two attractive members of the fair sex. . .

Quotable Quotes

"At a time of great emotional appeal such as that which now prevails, one will do well to concentrate upon one's work more than ever and to be unswayed by speculations or vague commentaries filled with foreboding for the future."—Pres. Thomas S. Gates of the University of Pennsylvania cautions against false prophets.

"There is no greater menace at the moment than the danger that sensitiveness to evil should become numb by reason of constant familiarity with evil. We shall not save our way of life through denunciation of the wrong; salvation can only be achieved by active practice of the right."—Pres. Charles Seymour of Yale University calls for an alert creed in which right excludes all wrong.

COLLEGE CAPERS

Alumni News

Providence College graduates were returned victors in many important positions in the elections of Tuesday, and the Association, College and student body may well be proud of the success attained by these men in the political life of our State. The election of J. Howard McGrath, '26, as Governor of the State fulfils a long anticipated wish, and those of the Class of 1926, in particular, who witnessed his initial political ventures while he was still a student at the College, are especially proud of his latest success.

To the General Assembly were elected Joseph McVey, '24, of Pawtucket; Eugene J. Sullivan, '27, and Vincent P. Nugent, '40, both of Providence, as State Representatives, and Raymond A. McCabe, ex '38, of Providence, as a Senator. Student Walter Kane, '43, was re-elected to the House from Woonsocket, and John E. Fogarty, who was enrolled in the Extension School last year, was elected to the United States Congress from the First District.

Elsewhere in the State we note with pleasure the election as Mayor of the City of Woonsocket a Providence College alumnus, Henry A. Roberge, '25. Roberge served as General Treasurer of the State from 1934 through 1936, and as a result brings to his new office as head of our Northern city a splendid background in administrative work.

The new City Council of Providence will have two of our graduates in Justin P. McCarthy, '24, President of the Alumni Association last year, and John Moakler, Jr., '32, a rising barrister who scored a decisive victory in the First Ward of the city. Both of these men will be faced with the task of carrying forward the affairs of the city under the New Charter.

Our only regret at this writing is that we cannot offer a complete checkup of the men farther afield who won honors in the elections of Tuesday. We do know that several men have won places on the ballots in other States, and we hope to have a complete report on the outcome of their campaigns within the next week.

Friars Afield—

Word comes to us from John J. Ward, '32, that the first meeting to organize a Greater Boston Club will be held next week. The task of lining up the graduates is being undertaken by Ward, and by Frank Buckley, '33, of Roxbury, who was one of the mainstays of the Varsity pitching staff when he was at college.

Jack Maguire, '36, now affiliated with the Personal Finance Company in his home city, reports that the Pittsfield Club is in the process of re-organization, and that an effort will be made to have a delegation make the trip to the Homecoming game with St. Anselm's on November 17. . . .

The New Jersey graduates are affiliated with the Providence Club of New York, and as no word has been heard lately from that organization it was with much interest that we received a visit from Irving Glazer, ex-'37, who reported on the alumni in the Patterson area. . . . Jake Ziment, ex-'36, who left Providence after two years of study to pursue his professional studies at the University of Illinois, is now practicing as a dentist in Hoboken. . . . Jake was an outstanding basketball performer under "Gen." McClellan. . . . Abe Feit, '35, varsity center for three years and also a letterman for the same length of time in basketball, is in the garage business. . . . Jim Irragi, '31, is a doctor of medicine in Passaic, and George Boyle, '34, who was an outstanding football tackle, is in business in the same city. . . . Bill McCue, '31, co-captain of basketball with Johnny Krieger, '31, now Rev. Anselm A. Krieger, O.F.M., is a manager in the U. S. Em-

ON HUGH DEVORE'S DEFENSE PLAN

With the recent turn of events in both the national and international pictures, there is no getting away from the fact that we Americans are defense conscious. And just as governmental leaders have taken inventory, Major-General Hugh Devore discovered a few weak spots in his own contingent early in the campaign after three successive setbacks had augured dimly for the Friars. Immediately the former Notre Dame captain set out to bolster his charges and make them ready for the attacks that would be forthcoming by land, air, and sea powers. General Hughie and his assistants must have worked mighty hard if the results of their efforts can be taken as a criterion of a fair judgment.

The Friar land forces showed to advantage in the Canisius encounter and had it not been for a spy who sneaked across our lines in the late stages of battle, the enemy would have been whitewashed. Following a three day rest the Providence anti-aircraft gunners were pressed into action to ward off the annual night raid of the Rhode Island State Rams. Not only did the raiders fail to hit an objective, but several of their own aerial bombs were intercepted by Friar defenders and the resulting destruction meted out to the invaders drove the invaders back to Kingston much the worse for their experience.

Our Navy's Okay Too

Fully convinced that their charges had satisfactorily responded to the rigorous training in the aforementioned departments, the Friar coaches still feared the results of a battle on a water-soaked gridiron. Their concern in this regard was given the royal heave-ho after the Fighting—or should I say—Flourishing Friars successfully navigated the Springfield route and returned last Saturday night sporting a 20-0 victory. While our forwards were successfully submerging the enemy into submission, the backs skimmed over the waters in relentless fashion as they demonstrated that naval warfare was completely out of the Indians' line. Another lesson that the Gymnasts might have learned from the P.C. game is that torpedoes are most dangerous unless they strike the original target. Quarterback Jim Pettine grabbed one of them, turned it around, and blasted the enemy defense for six more points.

Now that the Fighting Friars have merited three gold stars for achievement, it doesn't follow that they are anxious to negotiate an armistice. On the contrary, they are being spurred on by the dictator tendencies of their coach and will not under any circumstances cease fire until La Salle, St. Anselm's, and Catholic U. have come under their domination. And,

Friars Win 20-0 Victory

Excellent Blocking Enables Team to Score Three Touchdowns

The "Fighting Friars" annexed their third consecutive win last Saturday afternoon by downing a stubborn Springfield club 20-0, at Springfield.

Although the game was played in a sea of mud, the Friars, aided by the mighty path-sweeping blocks of the forward wall, and the elusive runs of the backfield, rolled up the field in relentless fashion.

Held at bay in a scoreless first period, the Devoremen released their dynamite early in the second session, when they shot Ed Haponik around the right flank for a 78-yard touchdown jaunt.

Before the Maroons had time to sense the situation the shifty Haponik had streaked to the visitors' 40-yard line, where the only obstacle between him and a touchdown, the Springfield safety man, was quickly erased by Nick Carcieri's knifing block. Joe Pliska's point after touchdown gave the Friars a 7-0 lead at intermission.

Again in the third canto Providence, sparked by Gen. Franco's and Johnny Yocker's timely runs, pointed their guns on the Maroon goal line, but the stubborn defense of Springfield stemmed the threat for a brief time. The Friar advance was not to be denied, however, as Jim Pet-

LA SALLE BEWARE!

Elusive Ed Haponik, junior left halfback from Taunton, Mass., whose return to form in the State game after he had been sidelined with an ankle injury received in the Holy Cross contest, has bolstered the Friars' running attack considerably. He scored after a 78-yard run in last week's Springfield game and should bear watching Sunday.

FALL RIVER CLUB

The senior-freshman combination defeated the junior-sophomore eleven 13-6, in the Fall River Club's annual football classic last Friday morning at Alumni Field, Fall River.

The winners were first to score, Capt. Bob Harrison going over on a plunge from the one-yard line early in the second quarter. John Dunn converted with a drop kick. Their second tally was registered in the third stanza when Hugo Perrin scored after a 20-yard run.

Young Friars Top Setonites

Roshka Scores Winning Point After Nieratko to Drew Touchdown Pass

Playing on a wind-swept field before 4000 fans, the Friar freshmen downed a rugged Seton Hall Prep eleven, 7-6, at South Orange, N. J. last Sunday. The winning tally came late in the third period on a pass from Nieratko to Drew, after the New Jerseyites had pushed across a score midway through the second quarter.

Following a scoreless opening period in which neither team made any substantial headway, the right side of the Seton Hall line blocked a Nieratko punt deep in Providence territory in the second stanza and McDonough, substitute guard, recovered the ball in the end zone for the score. Vangen's kick for the conversion went wide.

Drama Group Present Plays

The Pyramid Players, Providence College dramatic group, opened its current season in Harkins Hall, Thursday evening with the presentation of three one-act laboratory plays attended by 300 persons.

Included in the cast of "The Name is Johnston," by Jessie M. Bowler were Richard Danilowicz, John Gerhard and Conrad Fournier, all '44; Frank J. Maguire, '42.

"Moonset," a peace play, by Helen M. Clark, was presented by Paul Menard, Charles Goodman and Thomas McCooey, '44; Joseph Griffin and Raymond Curry, '42, and Irving Kaplan, '43.

The cast for the third play, "No Curtain Calls," by John Rand, were J. Leo Perkins, Earl Epstein and William McKiernan, all '44; Harold Dennis and Maurice Fagan, '43.

Thomas J. Farrell, '41, production manager, was in charge of the productions and was assisted by Joseph McLaughlin, '42, and Francis Stanicki, '43. Gerald O'Brien, '41, is business manager.

The technical staff includes Kenneth McGovern, '41, stage manager; Joseph O'Shea, Frank Donilon and Louis Cosentino, '43; Paul Cavanaugh, '44; Michael Jenkins, and Maurice Ferland, '41.

The selection of "Brother Petroc's Return," by Emmett Lavery, was announced yesterday by Farrell as the major production for the Winter season.

if I may be so undemocratic, here's hoping that Hugh Devore has the opposition giving him that familiar salute come Nov. 24.

Hearin' Around

There is a possibility that Joe Sullivan will miss his first varsity game when the Friars take the field against La Salle College this Sunday. A thigh injury which has assumed the proportions of a chronic charley horse may be severe enough to keep Providence's bid for "all-honors" out of action entirely . . . General Franco wants everyone to know that he wished he could get as much assistance on some of his hitch-hiking tours to his native New Jersey as he does from his fellow teammates on the gridiron . . . Capt. Jim McGrath's Mount Pleasant All Stars engineered the upset of the week in the current Intra-Mural Touch Football Tournament when they edged the Philomusian A's, 7-6. They're going to be hard to stop from here in . . .

and Dominic Cairns, 175, will fill the center berth.

Leo Deschak, 160, is the La Salle signal caller. Prettyman, 180, and Gidjunas, 185, at the halves, and Wally Lochetto, 185, fullback, round out the first string backfield.

Sullivan On Injury List

Providence may be without the services of Joe Sullivan, sterling end, who is regarded as one of the best wingmen in the East. Sullivan is nursing a thigh injury and it is very probable that he will witness Sunday's battle from the sidelines. Nick Budnowski, second string end, is also on the injured list.

In other years the Friars would be greatly weakened by two such losses, but this campaign the Black and White is blessed with a good number of capable reserves and such performers as Joe Vaghi and Red Rafferty can be counted upon to give good accounts of themselves at the ends. Of the two reserves Rafferty is the more likely starter should Sullivan be unable to participate. The remaining opening lineup will most likely be the same which has started the last three games.

Marone and Avedisian will operate at the tackles. Borzilaukas and Pariseau will be the guards, and Sarris will hold sway at center. Pettine at quarterback, Yockers and Haponik, halves, and Stonkus, fullback, are the probable backfield starters.

successful in their quest for public office. Professor George Kenny of the biology department, running on a non-partisan ticket, was defeated for the Warwick School Committee. Eugene LaChappelle and Dr. John J. O'Brien, the first in Pawtucket and the second in East Providence, were also unsuccessful candidates for their respective school committees.

Henry J. Farrell, Republican, was defeated in Pawtucket's first ward for a seat in the council of that city.

YOUNG FRIARS

ter, Ouellette, Friar quarterback, broke away on the longest run of the game, a 35-yard jaunt, bringing the ball into Seton Hall territory. On first down Nieratko faded back and hurled a 20-yard aerial to Larry Drew who took it at the 30-yard stripe and crossed the goal line untouched. Roshka provided the Friarlets with the margin of victory when he bucked over for the extra point.

Of no small importance in the Young Friars' victory was the sturdy play of the entire wall, which more than held its own against the heavier Seton Hall line. Nieratko, Roshka, Ouellette, and Franco carried the offensive burden.

tine snared Ben Hargrave's pass on the Springfield 25-yard stripe and dashed for the score. Joe Pariseau ran the Friar tally up by booting the extra point.

Towards the close of the third period the fast-charging P. C. line broke through to smear Al Ryl's kick and the alert Nick Carcier pounced on the loose ball deep in Springfield territory.

After Ray Roy and Ray Kowalski had successfully banged their way to the Maroon's two-yard marker, Paul Zenobia hurdled over the center of the line for the final points of the game.
