

Rev. Farrell To Lecture On Thomism

Author of "A Companion To the Summa" Will Speak to Guilds

The Reverend Walter Farrell, O.P., author of "A Companion to the Summa", will lecture to the Guilds connected with the Thomistic Institute in the lounge of Aquinas Hall on Monday and Tuesday evenings next week.

Fr. Farrell will address the Nurses and Teachers Guilds on Monday night. The subject of his address will be "Suffering as a Result of World Conditions". "The Christian Basis of Morality" will be the subject of Fr. Farrell's lecture to the Doctors and Lawyers Guild on Tuesday evening.

"The Fullness of Life," the third volume of Fr. Farrell's "A Companion to the Summa" is being used as a text in the Senior Religion course at Providence College and many other Catholic institutions. The other volumes of commentaries on the Summa are also in extensive use today.

The Teachers' Guild is moderated by the Reverend George Q. Friel, O.P., professor of education at Providence College, while the Nurses' Guild is moderated by the Reverend William Sullivan, O.P., professor of physics and mathematics. The moderator of the Guild of Doctors and Lawyers is the Reverend William Hinnebusch, O.P., professor of history.

Publicity Head To Greet Youth

Louis C. Fitzgerald, director of publicity, will bring the greetings of Providence College to more than a thousand children who are to celebrate the anniversary of 900 days without a traffic fatality to a child of school age, at a specially arranged program in the Strand Theatre tomorrow morning.

Later in the day Mr. Fitzgerald will deliver a paper on "Publicity in the Catholic College" at a meeting of the New England Unit of the Na-

Freshman Experiences Wild Flight From Chinese Province

Such slang expressions as behind the eight ball, two bits, bucks and O.K. have an unusual interest to Kenneth C. K. Young, newly arrived freshman student from Hongkong China. These colloquialisms were learned while he was en route across the United States from the Pacific coast where he landed November 3, after a perilous journey aboard the liner President Coolidge.

Born in the Shuntak District of Kwongtung Province, Young was educated in the Chion primary school in Canton. Later he went to the Wahyan College in Hongkong. It was while he was in Hongkong that the present war between China and Japan broke out.

One morning, awakened by the bursting of Japanese artillery fire in the street, he immediately left for the coast and protection of the International settlement. By boat, on foot, by train, hiding in the half submerged rice fields by day and continuing on under cover of darkness, the slender youth finally arrived in Hongkong.

There he met a friend who escaped

Dolan Appointed Associate Editor

The appointment of Charles J. Dolan, '40, of Providence, as Associate Editor of Veritas, College Annual, was announced yesterday by Ira T. Williams, Jr., editor of the Year Book.

Dolan succeeds Edward A. Crouchley, who was forced to resign because of other commitments.

Veritas staff photographers will take pictures of members of the Freshman Class next Thursday, if weather permits. George Hurley, business manager, and his staff, are soliciting payments from the underclassmen.

Hoopsters Set For Opener

The Providence College basketball machine, with two weeks of conditioning behind it, is geared for its opening encounter with Assumption College of Worcester at Harkins Hall next Wednesday.

Among the aspiring candidates are the veterans, Capt. Beryl Sacks, Sam Kusinitz, Johnny Lee, Horace Marone, and Bill Gustas. Joe Juges, a varsity performer last season, is nursing an ankle injury sustained during the football campaign and will not report until after the Christmas holiday. Vic Story, who filled a position on the Friar squad in the 1938-39 campaign, but who was idle last year, is making an excellent bid for first-team ranking.

Chet Zabek, Ed Lee, and Bob Reilly, a trio of capable performers up from last year's freshman combine have shown thus far that they are capable of making the veterans step lively.

Ball handling, shooting, and the other fundamentals have taken up a good part of the practice sessions, and exhibitions which have verged on the midseason-form type have been manifested. The present edition of Black and White hoopsters lacks the height of last year's aggregation, but this shortcoming is offset by an abundance of speed and fine ball handling.

The Friar's 1940-41 basketball schedule comprises 17 contests, including two newcomers, Hartwick College of Oneonta, N. Y. and Siena College of Albany. Relations will be renewed with Holy Cross and St. John's.

Hugh Devore To Continue Present Post

Head Coach of Football is Reappointed for Two More Years

Hugh J. Devore, head coach of football at Providence College for the past three years, was re-appointed in that capacity for two more years, it was announced by Very Rev. John J. Dillon, O.P., president of the college, following a meeting of the Athletic Council last Monday night.

Devore, former All-American end at Notre Dame, graduated from that institution in 1934. In his senior year Devore was co-captain of football. He came to Providence in 1938 from Fordham University where he had been assistant coach under Jim Crowley, of Four Horsemen fame. At that time Devore was given a two year contract with an option on a third year. The newly-signed contract is on the same terms.

Fr. Dillon, in announcing the re-appointment of Devore, stated that he had great confidence in the youth-

KENT COUNTY CLUB

Thaddeus Kraus, '41, was elected president of the newly formed Kent County Undergraduate Club at Providence College yesterday as members met in Harkins Hall to choose officers and plan coming activities.

Other officers elected at the initial meeting were: Secretary—Eugene Laferriere, '43, and Treasurer—Frank DeCiantis, '41. A tie between Jerome Driscoll, '41, and Maurice Fagan, '43, for the office of vice-president, will be broken at a future meeting.

George Kenny, instructor in the biology department, is faculty adviser of the group.

The club will meet every two weeks to organize social activities and participation by the group in intra-mural sports.

Aquino Club Plans Christmas Party

At a meeting of the Aquino Club held yesterday plans were completed for the annual Christmas party to be held on December 19, 1940, at the Mayfair Club.

A literary meeting followed, presided over by James A. Pettine, '41, Dean, and the following papers were read: "Primitive Italy and the Beginnings of Roman Imperialism," by Mario Della Rosa, '42; "Medieval Italy and Vulgar Latin," by Mario G. Macaruso, '42, and "Una Novella di San Bernadino da Siena," by Pettine.

On November 26, the Aquino Club attended a reception held at R.I.C.E. by the Circolo Manzoni. Guest speaker Prof. Frederick J. Donovan spoke on "The Place of Present Day Writing in the Field of Culture."

Afterwards refreshments were served and music for dancing was provided.

Rings for those members of the Junior Class who ordered them will be ready next Thursday at 11:30 in the parlor at Harkins Hall, company representatives have announced.

The Junior Prom Committee will meet at that time to discuss preliminary arrangements for the highlight of the social season.

Sophs Donate Team Awards

A donation of $36 to the Varsity football team towards the purchase of letters and sweaters was unanimously voted by members of the Sophomore Class at a meeting held yesterday.

Sponsored by Class President Charles F. Cottam, the action calls for the contribution of half the cost of sweaters and letters for the nine Sophomore lettermen.

In making the proposition to the class, Cottam cited the lack of interest on the part of the various classes in extra-curricular activities, and the low ebb which has been reached when the football team is forced to sponsor a dance in order to purchase their own letters.

"In almost every college in the country," Cottam told the class, "the spirit of the school flows from and is exemplified by its athletic teams, and I think that our first major step should be one of co-operation with our own teams."

"By doing this we, the Class of 1943, are establishing a tradition at Providence College; for this action marks the first time the students have

Lavery Work To Be Given By Players

Will Be World Premiere
Showing of Adaptation
From S.M.C.

The Pyramid Players, college dramatic group, will present "Brother Petroc's Return" a three act play by Emmet Lavery Saturday and Sunday nights in Harkins Hall. This is a world's premiere showing of this production.

The play was adapted from the novel which was written by an English nun who prefers to remain anonymous under the letters S.M.C. It is the story of a monk who supposedly dead four hundred years, returns to life to find himself in an entirely different world. It relates his amazing experiences in this present world.

Philosophy Club To Debate Thesis

The Philosophy Club will present its initial Scholastic Circle next Tuesday evening, December 10, at 8 p.m. in the old auditorium. The thesis to be defended by Edward Kaylor, '41, of Fall River, is titled "The Intuitive Faculty of a Woman is Superior to the Logical Faculty of a Man". Martin S. Orzeck, '41, of Providence, will be the objector.

Papers will be read by Robert L. Smith, '41, and Francis Maguire, '42. Their topics are tentatively entitled, respectively, "Just a Dilemma" and "Errors in Cartesian Philosophy".

Thomas McDonald, '42, president of the club, will preside over the circle and will deliver an introductory address. Members of the Extension School and friends of the club are invited to attend.

Yesterday a discussion on "Essence and Existence" was conducted by Leo J. McNeerney, '41, and Francis Maguire before club members.

New Glamour Comes to Drama In Form of Feminine Charm

Glamour, for the first time in four years invades the stage of Harkins Hall this weekend when the Pyramid Players, College dramatic organization present "Brother Petroc's Return", a three act play by Emmet Lavery.

Staid, stolid tradition is cast aside for a new era in dramatics. And who so fittingly should be the instigators of this new era than the oldest student organization at Providence College?

No longer will our feminine heroines be six feet tall and look like tackles striving for All-American recognition. The days of female characters who had baritone or tenor voices and a stube growth of whiskers are no more. Faded into the past is the falsetto voice used by former 'femmes' to act demure and coy.

And rightly so because this year glorious, glittering glamour prevails in the person of three very presentable young ladies, newly acquired by the Pyramid Players to give that necessary "oomph" to a production which is billed as a world's premiere.

Surely there would be something missing if on such an auspicious occasion as this there were no 'glamour gals' present. Where would the extravaganza be? How could we say colossal and mean it, without the essentials which make it colossal? Certainly the director could not as readily imitate such famous directors as are in Hollywood unless he could say that his production was STUPENDOUS, COLOSSAL, or even SUPER COLOSSAL!!! And he should lavish just such praise upon this show of shows.

So the Pyramid Players have finally acquired the personnel to exploit their productions that will rank on a scale with anything that has come out of Hollywood in years. From the Blackfriars' dramatic organization they have Miss Claire Fitzpatrick. Joining with Miss Fitzpatrick are two more capable actresses in Miss Helen Robillard and Miss Mary Fox.

Truly the stars will shine Saturday and Sunday nights with the presentation of a world premier topped by an added attraction of unheralded pulchritude.

Rock and Rye

By ROSS MUENZEN '42

Now that Thanksgiving turkeys have become incorporated into the passive realm of the protoplasmic world we can once more pursue, with renewed vigor the revelatory purpose of this column, pausing but a moment, to state that we hope the new title for the column will carry with it associative literary potency.

Hot Sketch Book

The third page of the Hot Sketch Book, which was opened for the first time two weeks ago, reveals that a certain freshman by name of Robert Appleton is quite a "Hot Apple-" ton for he can keep a conversation moving so fast you would think he was vaccinated with a phonograph needle. . . . "Bus" and Paul Conley, together with George Burns seen in a taxi on the way to Oates's. How were the dates, gentlemen? . . . John Kelly is living in the past these days for a Miss Florence Nightingale has flown the cage. . . . The New Haven Club had a song festival the other night at the little red building at the foot of the hill where Henry Cimini stole the show with a rendition of "The Face on the Barroom Floor." . . . Frank Flannigan is wearing a very relieved expression these days—we wonder why? . . . "Friar Away" is back again to stay. . . . Ken McGovern is still wondering whether his recent trip was worth the physical duress of a stitched cranium. . . . A sure sign of a good time, though, is to come back "in stitches." . . . Joe Reynolds is already in the Christmas spirit for over the Thanksgiving holidays he played the role of Santa Claus in a New Haven department store. A little blond girl is rumored to have approached him and asked if she couldn't have him for Christmas. Just a confusion of the holidays!

Rock Pile

The football season for P.C. may be over for the year but here at the "Rock" we have our own "team" composed of all those who fell by the scholastic wayside during the first quarter. Judging from the notices posted, there will be a lot of "bench sitting" during the second quarter. . . . Paul Regis (the man of a thousand birthdays) wishes it known that he is getting a little tired of having "Happy Birthday" sung to him every night. . . . Next week we may inaugurate a new department for this column—a character sketch of roommate combinations. Who's first?

ATHLETIC SHORTS

By TED ALEXAKIS

Mr. Cas Potera, that illustrious personality seen about the campus of our fair Alma Mater, is being kept very active lately because of his intense interest in the forthcoming footballers debut, the Varsity Hop. Cas is promising to all those who will attend a delightful evening full of fun, frolic and fems.

At this moment being a bit on the imaginative side, this column will endeavor to give to its kind readers the scene that will greet an innocent bystander's eyes on the night of December the 14th. Scene, Aquinas Hall. An out-of-towner enters the hall and finds it in complete darkness. Upon going up stairs he is surprised to find it absolutely empty. Disappointed, he starts downstairs and suddenly finds himself confronted by a panting, red-faced collegiate. "Say there, where can I find Beryl Sacks the basketball cap?" asked the stranger. "Sorry," interrupts the collegiate. "I over-slept and now I'm almost late for the VARSITY HOP!" Outside, a feminine voice is heard: "Joe Moore will you please hurry!"

Scene II. Same stranger downtown. He is amazed to find the streets deserted. A car careens around the mall. The stranger hails it. "Sorry sir, can't stop now, have to hurry, it's the VARSITY HOP tonight!" is the reply in a definitely Pawtucketonian accent. Gentlemen, perhaps you may be a bit inclined to believe that this dramatization is a slightly exaggerated one. But, December 14 will prove to you this is not over-expressed in the least. So be sure you do not find yourself deserted on that eventful night, and if you do, you know that all your friends will be at the VARSITY HOP.

COLLEGE CAPERS

.. Alumni News ..

A gathering of approximately 275 members of the Alumni Association which taxed the capacity of the dining room at Aquinas Hall, paid tribute to the First Citizen of the State last Sunday, honoring J. Howard McGrath, '26, upon his election as the 44th Governor, under the Constitution, of Rhode Island.

The occasion was a memorable one in the history of the Association and the alumni representation present at the dinner brought forcefully to the attention of all that our graduate group, which has now produced the Governor of the State, has attained stature in the twenty years of its development. Men from all walks of life were in attendance, and the gathering included many graduates who have achieved notable successes in their chosen fields.

Greetings of the College were extended by President John J. Dillon, O.P., and Alumni President John E. Farrell, '26, conveyed the good wishes of the graduate body and presented Governor-elect McGrath with a motion picture camera, the gift of the Association. Reverend Daniel M. Galliher, O.P., Registrar of the College, and Moderator of the Alumni Association, paid glowing tribute to our first alumnus-Governor.

The McGrath testimonial provided the opportunity for a splendid reunion of many of the graduates. Men long away from the College were noted in the gathering, and class groups met in various sections of the reception room later in the evening to discuss plans for future meetings. A spirit of fraternity existed which bespeaks well for the Association during the coming years, and the occasion will indeed remain a memorable one for all who were present.

Class of 1926 Re-union

Immediately after the testimonial dinner to their fellow class-mate, J. Howard McGrath, some 34 members of the Class of 1926 met to discuss plans for the 15th re-union of that class next June. Long noted as one of the most active groups ever graduated from Providence, the 26th Division has always backed the various college activities, and it is a certain wager that their re-union in June, 1941, will be an outstanding event.

At The McGrath Dinner

Although the majority of the Alumni were from this vicinity, yet many out-of-state members were noted in the gathering. . . . Two 1926 men made the trip from New Jersey, as Bill O'Connor returned from Newark, and

Students Praise Valiant Greeks

By Associated Collegiate Press

Can the battling Greeks, seemingly repulsing the Fascist "invaders" at every point, possibly keep their standard aloft in the weeks to come? America's youth, as reflected in the collegiate press, is watching the Greek-Italian conflict closely. And undergraduate editorialists are voicing quiet hope and many words of caution in their discussions.

"The effect of the Greek resistance on the morale of both the democracies and the totalitarian countries will probably be inestimable," says the Wisconsin Daily Cardinal. "It will certainly hearten the British and the 'Free Frenchmen' as well as the subversive groups within the boundaries of Germany and Italy. It means a tremendous loss of prestige to Italy and to Mussolini, who apparently thought he could march down to the Peloponnese with no more trouble than he encountered in Albania. To the German people it demonstrates that the might of the bully nations isn't invincible. The Achaeans of 1940—the lineal descendants of the defenders of Thermopylae, of Marathon, of Salamis, may once again save the West for civilization."

At Syracuse, the Daily Orange declares that "with Britain's recent material admission of extended aid to struggling Greece, the world wonders no longer about the validity of John Bull's promise of assistance to the staunch Balkan country's resistance to the yet unproved legions of Mussolini. With the failure of the Fascist military machine to crush the comparatively weak Greek forces, it is no wonder that the latter country is being termed the 'Finland of the Balkans.' Eventually the Italians will probably subdue the Greeks, but the surprising opposition that they are encountering has amazed the world."

That the expected Greek collapse isn't likely to materialize, at least for the present, is the belief of the Cornell Daily Sun. "Like the Finns, who last winter gave Russia a tussle, the Greeks are trading blow for blow with their Fascist invaders, and giving a good account of themselves," observes the Sun. "Still, we have learned not to expect too much from these little countries when pitted against the Axis blitzkrieg machine. Even allowing that the Greeks are fighting the weaker part of 'World Wreckers, Inc.' still Adolph looms in the background, and if things get bad for his bully comrade, he will no doubt plunge in to make sure the fight is fair."

Readers of The Dartmouth are cautioned against the "too rosy" outlook. "We're glad to hear from Athens," says the Dartmouth, "that the Italians appear to be driven back into Albania. We're glad to read of the exploits of the picturesque Greek evzones. But we don't like this talk about the 'Greeks driving the macaroni-men back into the sea with cold steel.' We don't like this talk about the 'Albanians rising in mass revolt, severing the Italian lines of communication.' We don't like this talk about the 'Italian soldiers turning their guns on their officers after they lose a few more divisions.' We don't like it because we don't like wishful thinking."

A Commendable Decision

To Hugh Devore, head coach of football at this institution of higher learning for the past three years, whose contract has been renewed for two years by the Providence College Athletic Council, this corner offers its note of congratulation. Hughie discovered since coming to Providence that the "first three years are the hardest."

Winning Teams

When a coach is piloting a winner he never need fear not being reminded of his achievements by his admirers. But if this same coach happens to be unfortunate enough to run into a little tough luck he is the forgotten man. And when a man, striving earnestly to make a name for himself and his team, is met at every turn by ill fortune and can still smile in the face of it, then we can honestly say that he is made of "sterner stuff." The words of Francis Bacon in his essay "Of Adversity"—"Adversity doth best discover virtue, whereas prosperity doth best discover vice," certainly ring true in the case of Hugh Devore, a fine coach and a great guy.

P.C.'s "Add-New Englands"

The selection of Charley Avedisian and Joe Sullivan on the Small College All-New England team is indeed a fitting tribute to the calibre of football that they displayed all season. Charley's consistently brilliant play, no matter what the opposition happened to be, gained the respect of opponents and spectators alike in this section of the country but it's this corner's guess that the Armenian powerhouse could hold his own with the best linemen in the country. Ask the men who played against him all season.

It was indeed unfortunate that a hip injury cut down Sullivan's effectiveness in the late stages of the campaign. However, up until this time, Joe gave the fans plenty to talk about with his sensational pass catching and all-around defensive alertness. Joe would be just the man to lead the Fighting Friars into battle next season.

Hearin' Around

There'll be a round of handshaking and a small reunion when the Friars tackle St. Anselm's in basketball Dec. 19 up in Manchester, N. H., for none other than Albert "Gen." McClellan, the man who used to direct the court destinies here at Providence College, is acting in a similar capacity at aforementioned St. Anselm's. The senior members of the present varsity five played freshman ball under the unique general. . . . Hail the champions! The playing out of the regular intra-mural touch football schedule having been made impossible by the recent snowstorm, Intra-Mural Director Ed Crotty announced that the Mount Pleasant All Stars, in view of their undefeated record, will be recognized as the intra-mural champs. Another one for Coach Jim McGrath's scrap book. . . . And speaking of intramurals, the basketball league will get under way the week of Dec. 15.

Freshman Quintet To Meet La Salle

With an eye on the opening game against the La Salle Academy five in the preliminary contest to the Friar Varsity-Assumption tilt, next Wednesday night, the Friar freshman quintet began practice this week.

Several former local schoolboy candidates are among those trying out including: Larry Drew of La Salle, Bill Barry of St. Raphael, and Ned Crowley of Cumberland, younger brother of Wink Crowley who played on the 1936-37 Friar basketball and baseball teams. Freshman candidates: Drew, Michaud, Crowley, Siy, Lynch, Barry, Uzalinski, Mellen, Risko, Avery, Halligan, Bell, McGill, Monteleone, Prendergast, Gallo, Daligian and Louthis.

WHEN you get right down to it, a cigarette is only as flavorful—only as cool—only as mild—as it smokes. The smoke's the thing!

Obvious—yes, but important—all-important because what you get in the smoke of your cigarette depends so much on the way your cigarette burns.

Science has pointed out that Camels are definitely slower-burning (see left). That means a smoke with more mildness, more coolness, and more flavor.

Now—Science confirms another important advantage of slower burning... of Camels.

Less nicotine—in the smoke! Less than any of the 4 other of the largest-selling brands tested—28% less than the average!

Light up a Camel... a s-l-o-w-burning Camel... and smoke out the facts for yourself. The smoke's the thing!

"SMOKING OUT" THE FACTS about nicotine. Experts, chemists analyze the smoke of 5 of the largest-selling brands... find that the smoke of slower-burning Camels contains less nicotine than any of the other brands tested.

... for cooler milder
better taste, Chesterfield is the smoker's cigarette

GRANTLAND RICE, dean of American sports writers, has a friendly visit with his charming daughter Florence—of the stage and movies.

Hunt the world over and you can't find the equal of Chesterfield's right combination of Turkish and American tobaccos...the best tobaccos that grow in all of Tobaccoland.

Do you smoke the cigarette that SATISFIES

FIRST STEP IN MAKING CHESTERFIELDS...the purchase by highest bid of mild ripe tobaccos. Chesterfield buyers attend every leading tobacco market in this country and in Turkey and Greece. (As seen in the new film "TOBACCOLAND, U. S. A.") her "Patriot" was not a good picture of a modern Chinese family. "But," he added, "who am I to criticize Pearl Buck?"

At Providence College, Young is taking the General Science course and majoring in Chemistry. He has 20 lecture hours a week and three labs. As for his return to China, "God only knows," he said. Nevertheless he intends to stay in America until he is graduated; and then he will go back to his native land to help in any way he can.

Hearing the gag, "Confucius say"—on the radio, he said that the people of China took offense at it. "We in China, revere Confucius just as you here in America revere George Washington," he said.

ful coach's ability, and expressed appreciation for his work.

Coach Devore announced that he was also retaining his present assistants, Line Coach Edward J. Crotty, Notre Dame, '37, of Danbury, Conn., and Backfield Coach, Joseph A. Dulkie, Fordham, '37, formerly of Lowell, Mass. Head Coach Devore resides in East Orange, New Jersey.

Devore came to Providence College at a time when the football fortunes of the school were at their lowest ebb in the history of the school, the varsity team of 1937 having won only two games. Devore promptly instituted spring practice, trained his charges in the Notre Dame system, and produced an eleven that won three victories in 1938, giving Providence its first victory over State in three years.

In the three years under Devore, the Friars have played 25 games, winning nine and losing 16. During this period they have scored 204 points against their opponents 381 points.

Prof. C. B. Farrington is in his fortieth year as a faculty member of Sam Houston State Teachers College, Huntsville, Texas.
