Government Grants P.C. Former Nava Building

STRUCTURE WILL BE TRANSPORTED FROM WESTERLY

Plans are now being completed to transport a dispensary building of the Naval Air Station at Westerly Air- port, Westerly, R. I., to the campus of Providence College.
The Bureau of Community Facilities of the Federal Works Agency has approved the project.

The building is 185 feet long and 40 feet wide. It is a one-story frame structure containing 4800 square feet of floor space; one room 33 feet by 24 feet; two offices. More specific usage will be determined by the college architect, following and receiving the building.

Dischargeров obstacles reported that approximately 3,000 changes of address were received just before the monthly distribution was made February 10. Even this spurge of relocations was not as great as anticipated, therefore stepping up the efficiency of processing all mail immediately, failed to ease the situation.

Judging by complaints from discharged veterans in training, most of the difficulty is being experienced by those veterans who are unavailable to give their "official" address. Many also apparently believed the routine change-of-address notice from the Post Office Department was sufficient.

All postmasters have been advised, and are requested to promptly prompt all veterans that are staying and ordered the entire populace to assemble in the village square. Fr. Panizo and two other priests were selected by the Japs and taken to a farm house where they were killed. The Japs tore their habits with their bayonets and were greeted with the most solid block of noses.

Father Panizo entered the commune but an over abundance of veterans, lack of adequate faculty, limited spattering space, tell the story all over again.

As I chatted on with the president, the way he has the habit of walking on the scullery section of Seville Square, I queried him as to what causes his branch of the "humanities" offered. He reflected for a moment and then said, "We offer a half semester course in Thomistic catechism, probes anatomy, and a brief outline on a Book about Books. Or, who has the right to speak the power of what?"

JUNIOR PROM

We were especially pleased to learn that the Juniors had decided to continue a well-established Providence College tradition by sponsoring the Promenade, an invitation to the members of all classes to attend their Promenade next May.

The present junior class evidently remembers well the Juniors of former years, to whom they were invited and which many of them attended. They realize that there is no place in our collective council for the Juniors to be excluded from the betterment of their own particular group, while staying aloof from outsiders. WE ARE ALL PROVINCETOWN COLLEGE STUDENTS.

The unanimous vote of the Juniors favoring an "all-college prom" is a vivid testimony to the fact.

Had the Junior class voted otherwise, thus making the Junior Prom a strictly one class affair, a dangerous precedent would have been established. Other classes and clubs would be justified in restricting participation in the social activities sponsored by them to their own privileged members. The Veritas could be cited as an example.

Obviously real college spirit would be hampered with factional loyalty substituted in its stead. The COWL, as the representative of the entire student body, would be obligated to oppose actively any such suggestion in the college. Fortunately the welfare of the whole college comes first in the minds of the vast majority of students, and the Juniors, becoming a part of the Providence College tradition, although ever present, is practically nil. WE ARE ALL INVITED TO THIS YEAR'S JUNIOR PROM.

The highlight of the college social calendar is the Junior Prom. It is the only "all-college" dance allowed off-campus. As a formal affair, it has always attracted considerable attention from the general public. Each year it bears out the point that Providence College men can conduct a big activity in a big way. The publicity and recognition gained is of inestimable value to the name of our Alma Mater. In previous years such outstanding orchestras as those of Alvino Rey, Les Brown, and Vaughn Monroe have been featured. The Juniors have signified their intention of engaging the best orchestras available for the Promenade in May.

Despite rising expenses, the price of bids is being kept down to five dollars, a relatively small sum for such a grand evening's entertainment.

The Friars Lose Spectacular Game 73-64

By Dave Connors, JR.

For the Friars in the height department, and better teams.

The starting lineup will perhaps feature Jasper Brown and Bob Kirk at the forwards, Leo Makovitch at center, and Walt Sanetich and Sid Weister at the guard posts. This starting lineup consists entirely of Freshmen, with the exception of a football player but fails to mention the origin of the moniker. For three years, the Brave's star and catcher, Cy Killian, played catcher of wide renown throughout the country.

Experience gained with the Braves has turned him into only four games. Burlington entry in the Northern Athletic Association of the College have brought to the Providence College. a twenty point underdog going into the annual Tech Invitation Tourney team for the season. Experience gained with the “Champ” on the road. The Providence College Jaycemen, led by Ray St. George, opened the night’s session with a program from Nichols Junior College. 35-38.

Sleepy-eyed Providence students reveled in the lull of the annual Tech Invitation Tourney that would be called a comfortable one. Once they led by 17 points in the first half, they were able to score at will was for the rest of the game. No Friar will tell you that action such as this will have an effect on the quality of a football player but fails to mention the origin of the moniker. The Theatre

By A. R. POUCHAR

Tomorrow night the Actors Co-op erate gives into the last lap of its Providence season with Henrik Ibsen's "The Doll's House." The play will be directed by Francis Ferguson, the author and director of the first presentation "Penslope." The best of the company selected for this cast is fairly certain that they will not disappoint anyone with their performances. The play is well known, so I need not go into that. See if you can.

"Bloomer Girl," with most of its New York cast can be seen here for two days. February 26th and March 1st, with a matinee for the kids. I haven't seen it, but the advance notices distributed by the press agents call it a "Ballooning Musical Hit." If you like rollicking musical hits you will probably enjoy this musical hit.

The Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, with Leonard Bernstein conducting, will make a one night appearance, Thursday, March 6th, at the Met, but enough said of this for now.

As Father Panizo told this story he emphasized that this was an exception to the usual case, for this same village later visited by aviators, and the people hid them at great personal risk.

Father Panizo was born in Avis, Spain. In 1934 he left Spain and traveled to Hong Kong where he remained for four years. In 1940 he left Hong Kong and traveled to the Philippines where he taught Philosophy at the University of San Tomas, the oldest University in the New World. Presently he is assisting in the Spanish Department at the College.

The Hartford Club held their first annual mid-winter semi-formal at the Weftleford Country Club Saturday, January 26th and according to John O'Hurley chairman, it was "highly successful."

Accordingly sixty-five couples danced from 8:30 to 1:00 amid a gay fog, fluttering, star-spangled banners. "Pippen Green Bottle" was the meeting place following dancing's entertainment.

A farmer, after prohibiting a pro-filigious quantity of Moonshine whiskey, attempted to blow out a candle, wherein his alcohol-saturated brain became inflamed. Shaken by his experience, the man begged his wife to bring him the family Bible, muttering "I gotta swear off." Placing his hand upon it, the farmer inquired, "Before Heaven, I swear that never again will I blow out a lighted candle."
