Bishop Strikes At Reds, Press
in Diocese, Holy Hour Sermon;
College Joins In Public Tribute

Members of the Dominican faculty and the student body of Providence College joined an estimated 50,000 other men to pay public tribute to Christ, the Eucharistic King, with a plea for world peace at a Holy Hour sponsored by the Union of Holy Name Societies of the Diocese of Providence and held at Narragansett Park in Providence early in the morning. The Holy Hour, the first in the history of the diocese, was convened by the Most Rev. Russell J. McVinney, D.D., Bishop of Providence, who preached the sermon and pontificated at Benedic- tion of the Blessed Sacrament. Lashing out at Communism in par- ticular, the Bishop said: There is no peace in the world. Peace is for the love of God and the good of men. Peace is not the absence of war, but the absence of fear. The Holy Hour, the first in the history of the diocese, was convened by the Most Rev. Russell J. McVinney, D.D., Bishop of Providence, who preached the sermon and pontificated at Benedic- tion of the Blessed Sacrament. In his sermon, the Most Reverend Bishop said: There is no peace in the world. Peace is for the love of God and the good of men. Peace is not the absence of war, but the absence of fear. The Holy Hour, the first in the history of the diocese, was convened by the Most Rev. Russell J. McVinney, D.D., Bishop of Providence, who preached the sermon and pontificated at Benedic- tion of the Blessed Sacrament.

The Holy Hour, the first in the history of the diocese, was convened by the Most Rev. Russell J. McVinney, D.D., Bishop of Providence, who preached the sermon and pontificated at Benedic- tion of the Blessed Sacrament.

Benediction

Benediction Scene at the Altar in Narragansett Park During the Holy Name Holy Hour of Last Sunday. The Most Rev. Russell J. McVinney, Bishop of Providence Presides. --Photo by Correspondent Edward Shirack,
ELECTION

Statement of George T. Bolger, candidate for President of the Senior Class:

"In seeking election to the presidency, I will work to ensure that the interests and welfare of the Senior Class will be fully represented.

"In the past, senior officers have been needed to keep the campus active. At the start of the scholastic year, there will be renewal, only to continue again in the Spring. The Class of '30 is known for its independent spirit. Let that spirit put out a team that will always be heard.

"I take this opportunity to announce the beginning of the Bolger and McCormack movement. It is my belief that the team of Bolger and McCormack will ensure the Senior Class of a happy and memorable year. Both of us in our opening campaign speech expressed this feeling for the unity among the seniors. Nothing be more appreciated by the student body for strong alumni. But how can we, the future alumni, further the interests of Providence College? One of our brethren are the doctors, the lawyers, the business men and the others! We promise the inauguration of a social program that will further the interests of the class.

"This is our last year in college. Let us make it a truly happy and memorable one. The tool we will use is running for the posts of class president, with the help of our presidents. The biggest and most relevant task of the class will be the re-election of the COWL. All that is now lacking is leadership. Bolger and McCormack will supply that leadership.

"This is our last year in college. Let us make it the year we understand that prayer is the only answer. There is no other way.

"GONE WITH THE WIND"

Scarlett O'Hara (how's the spelling?) of "Gone with the Wind" fame, disposed of her problems with "For the past few years social and athletic activities have fallen off considerably due to the inactivity of the senior group. We will make an effort to have them return in full force in the year's activities, particularly the athletic activities which have fallen off considerably due to the inactivity of the senior group."

"This is our last year in college. Let us make it the year we understand that prayer is the only answer. There is no other way.

"SPEEDING"

The long arm of the law, we have noticed recently, is clamping down on the speedsters who insist on bolting in and out of the campus without heed to life and liberty. Saturday morning we took two motorcycle policemen stationed on the Eaton Street hill to curb the wild exhibition of speed that is apparent, unfortunately for the prestige of Providence College, every day.

For some unexplainable reason, these selfsame students look to the great outdoors while the books sit gathering dust. "I'll study tomorrow" is their philosophy as the days creep down and the assignments pile up. The danger point arrives when their chances for high marks diminish almost to oblivion. Academic excellence, "Gone with the Wind."

JUST PUT YOUR HEAD DOWN...AND RUN!!

It seems that a large advertisement had been originally ordered for Dictionary day. The ad was cancelled. At long last, our ambition was realized; and sooooo

Here are with congress people on and off the campus. Things most obvious are always the subject of campus conversation. What could be more obvious than a faded of "Barking Hill"? One Freshman was heard to remark, "Notice the animation of the gargoyle."

"Oh, and the Freshman, "just what are they doing up there?" Why they're watching birds," said the Sophomore. "Those are not gargoyles. They happen to be the Providence College Bird Watching Society."

"We would like to take this opportunity to welcome back our lawyers who have returned from their journey round the world."

"The class of 1950 will be the largest class in a sea of amber liquid. The declared purpose of these organs is to promote familiarity among the freshmen—Ooooh, sly thing you."

We happened to peek in upon the Sophomore Assembly and noticed one candidate making a concerted effort to destroy the rumors; folded by the sturdy Oak, he was forced to take his seat. But be of good heart old fellow, there's an old one in the dormitory we can't be sure you can handle.

To those of you who doubt that our College is growing up, we would suggest you reread the Preface of the yearbook. Tradition is in the offing. Steve Fauley, 1951, President of the Senior Class is the son of Stephen Fauley, Sr., who was President of the Class of 1928.

AS I SEE IT

By MARGARET HAGOPIAN, '58

After the termination of World War II, the United States politically lowered its world profile. Though many years later we realized our great mistake. For this mistake we struggled through the Korean War and the Vietnam War. But how could we have been so numerous? Yes, we paid off in blood. In order to prevent such future disasters, an organization called the United Nations was born. Under the Truman Administration, we have resolved to keep America strong. In order to fulfill this duty, we must maintain both economic and military strength during the war period, which will show our freedom. One of our greatest military strengths was the lack of unity in our armed forces. In order to overcome this weakness, a plan of uniform was drawn up. The navy has continued to assist in this, the American forces. The recent congressional investigation of the B-36 planes was a travesty of naval opposition. Recently, top naval officers were accused that 25-36 bombers would not reach their targets—even if they could reach their targets, the destruction would not be decisive. On the other hand, the giant navy carrier (which is still in potency) was intended for the same purpose. When the contract for the navy carrier was cancelled, navy officials announced a subvention of bales against the B-36. The navy has had its ten cents worth, the air force is yet to be heard. Without a doubt, communists will capitalize on this dangerous split within our senior forces. This situation must be rectified at once. While we are quibbling, Soviet Russia is growing in military power. We can not afford to let tradition be the downfall of our national defense. Above all, we are the men of our personal position in the United States, we must prevail. After all, we are striving for peace—or are we? If Abraham Lincoln were here, I am sure that he would take his sword and divide against himself..."
Cowl Reporter Seeks Remedy For Negligence of Students

Three dozen textbooks, one dozen note pads, five sets of keys, and two raincoats.

These were the articles noticed by a COWL student at a recent hurried inspection of Father Dillon's office.

Providence College students are apparently becoming more and more careless. In times gone by this idiosyncrasy was generally observed among the members of the Freshman class, but now it seems that everyone is falling prey to this disease of negligence. Notebooks, textbooks, lunchboxes, pens, pencils, keys, overcoats and ad infinitum are piling up in Father Dillon's office. To paraphrase an old saw: "It would not be surprising if a P. C. student some day turned up minus the anterior division of his body."

"What can be the reason for this rash of carelessness? One theory is that the students have too much on their minds. This can be attributed to: 1) too much study; 2) too many extra curricular and outside activities; and 3) overburdening of the mind with the burdens of studies.

Another school of thought holds that the negligence is increasing owing to the "I don't care" attitude which has been extensively ascribed to the modern generation. Still another theory is that the advent of modern "mass education" has degraded the need for self-direction and self-discipline which is usually associated with the more advanced strata of the population.

It would be more inclined to be held with the latter two theories. There should be no reason for an excess of thoughts to cloud anybody's mind, since it was built to retain knowledge. This leads us to the question: "How can this rapid spread of carelessness be checked?" There is no definite answer.

One solution, although slightly far-fetched, might be to institute mind-development courses which are characterized by both high-school and high-school education. A more practical method of dealing with the problem is to exercise the vigilance of the Philatelists. This method would consist of training by parents in any one of several ways, from early childhood until high-school age. It could include among other things, stricter discipline in matters of the mind.

Until this problem is met and solved, it is feared that the books, keys, overcoats ad infinitum will continue to pile up in Father Dillon's office.

Junior Veridames Sponsor Apple Hop

Last Friday night some 250 applied munching fellows and galloped into the Student Lounge of Harkins Hall. For the second time this year, the Junior Veridames staged a highly successful informal dance. The charming ladies, it was noticed, far outnumbered the men. A Fall atmosphere was provided for the occasion by streamers of color posited around the room. Two appropriately lettered apples proclaimed the Apple Hop. Sprigs of apple vege-

Music with a bounce was provided by the all-Providence College aggregation. Led by popular pianist Jimmy O'Neill, the band gave out with some forceful Autumn leaves. Two large, appetizing lettered apples proclaimed the Apple Hop. Sprigs of apple vegetation filled out the decorations.

One of the features of the club this fall will be the Junior Veridames' plan of operation for the next year with an organized plan of operation. Other officers were elected at a recent meeting. Among them are the following: President of the Newport Club of St. Charles of Sienna that "All the way to heaven is heaven." The Catholic Worker runs twelve houses of hospitality, ten farms, and has about fifty groups of young members.

Miss Day pointed out the need for poor workers. If everyone would try to be poorer, we would have no poor; if everyone would try to be better, we would have no poor; if everyone would try to be better, we would have no poor; if everyone would try to be better, we would have no poor. "... Love, at St. Patrick's Cathedral in Rome. Miss Day is one of the found-

Miss Day pointed out the need for poor workers. If everyone would try to be poorer, we would have no poor; if everyone would try to be better, we would have no poor; if everyone would try to be better, we would have no poor; if everyone would try to be better, we would have no poor; if everyone would try to be better, we would have no poor. "... Love, at St. Patrick's Cathedral in Rome. Miss Day is one of the found-

Camera Club Officers

Camera Club Officers Have Plans for Coming Year.

From Left to Right: Walter Little, Treasurer; Edward Strack, President; Arthur Glosner, Secretary, and Daniel Paulina, Vice-President.

Newport Club Elects T. Hyder President

Thomas J. Hyder was re-elected President of the Newport Club of Providence College at an election meeting held recently. Other officers elected were the following: Vice President: James C. Bangin; Secretary, Walter E. McAlpine; Treasurer, Earl Carpent.

Camera Club Sees Successful Season

By Joseph Ungard

The Camera Club began its activities for the year with an organizational meeting last Friday in room 306 of Harkins Hall. Twenty-three shrubbery was present to hear short talks by the Rev. William O. Clark, O.P., moderator, and Edward Strack, 36, President, and Walter Little, Treasurer. outlined the说话 plans for what is expected to be the most successful year in the club's history.

Reason for this optimism is twofold. First, the club will no longer have to share the Donnelly Hall dark-room with the Cowl and Veritas, but will have a dark-room of its own. The new dark-room, an unused X-ray lab in Albertus Magnus Science Hall, will give the shutter-hugs more opportunity and better facilities to develop and print their pictures.

Secondly, interested in the Camera Club, Mr.

St. John's University School Of Laws

Approved by American Bar Association
Member of Association of American Law Schools

Three year day and four year evening courses leading to the Degree of Juris Doctor (Summa Cum Laude). Next entering class — February, 1950

Law School Admission Test—November 12, 1949
Application to take Test must be filed ten days in advance with the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J.

Further information may be obtained from

Registrar —

St. John's University School of Law
96 Schermerhorn Street
Brooklyn 2, New York
P.C. STARTS DRILLS FOR 1949-50 GAME SEASON

MANY VETERANS ANSWER CALL
FUNDAMENTALS FEATURE DRILLS

By Francis Kane

With a turnout of approximately thirty-five candidates, the initial practice sessions of the 1949-50 Providence College basketball season got under way last week.

In his first campaign as Friar Coach, C. A. Cuddy has set the stage for all students interested in the sport of basketball to become acquainted.

In this respect Coach Cuddy announced that he would be starting from scratch with all positions open. Past achievements and difficulties meant nothing to him. Each man would be given an ample opportunity to display his wares and the final cutting of the squad to fifteen men would be delayed until the successful candidates displayed a decided superiority over the others.

C. A. Cuddy further explained that he planned to teach a running style of offense with the primary purpose of keeping the defense off balance. He said that this offense demands a player who has a good punting hand, who is passing for distance and for accuracy. Furthermore, C. A. Cuddy was highly optimistic over the team’s future chances after viewing the meet. He feels that his squad is in far better conditions than they were at an even later date last year.

Dan Walsh proved to be the individual star of the meet as he raced to victories in the 60 yd. dash and the 100 yd. dash. Dan Jackson, however, man ace from La Salle, also looked very impressive as he swept to victory in the 1000 yd. run.

Holdovers from last year such as Jack Cossey, Gerry McGurkin, Bob Aldrich, Jim Penler, Bill Keenan, Jerry Alexander and Tony Fratantuono, along with newcomers Bob Costre and Reno DeFalco also gave indication that they will cause a lot of trouble for the opposition this coming year.

2. Tony Fratantuono 42'7"
3. Rocco DeFalco 96'
Kent County Group Elects G. E. Forcier

George E. Forcier, Jr., a Senior Arts student from West Warwick, was selected president of the Kent County Club at the club's first meeting of the 1949-50 school year held Tuesday, October 11. The meeting, which was highlighted by a long and lively business session, was held in the "bow" of the Showboat, in Coventry.

Other officers who were elected last week include: Bernard Archambault, '51, also of West Warwick, vice-president; Joseph C. Andrews, '52, of Coventry, secretary; Victor Ellison, '52, of East Greenwich, treasurer; Robert A. Flynn, '50, and Raymond Levessue, '50, co-chairmen of the social committee; and Guy Geoffroy, '52, chairman.

Father Joseph M. Sherer, O.P., is moderator of the club.

President Forcier expressed the thanks of John Gagnon, '49, retiring president, for the wedding gift given him by the club. The gift, a large wooden rocking chair of Early American design, had been presented to Gagnon at an informal meeting held by the club on September 8.

Prior to the nomination and election of officers, the members unanimously agreed to lend their wholehearted support to the Holy Name Society Holy Hour, which the group subsequently attended Sunday night. It was also decided to accept Robert Flynn's invitation to hold a future meeting at his summer home in Buttonwoods.

The meeting, which was closed by the singing of the Alma Mater, saw the following new members welcomed into the club: Donat Beaulieu, '53, Alfred Bousquet, '53, Robert Grenier, '53, Louis Legris, Jr., '53, all of West Warwick; Edward Coleman, '53, of East Greenwich; and Herbert Underhill, '52, of Lakewood.

Coach Cuddy Speaks Before Business Club

Mr. James V. Cuddy, the newly-acquired head coach of basketball here at Providence College, emphasized the need of inducing likely high school prospects to come to Providence College. In this day and age the good ball players don't come to the college; the college has to go out and get them, was the gist of a speech which Coach Cuddy delivered last Thursday night before one hundred and fifteen members of the Ship and Scales Club.

It was the initial meeting of the year for the Club, which is composed of alumni and seniors of the Business Administration Department, and was held in Antoninus Hall.

Coach Cuddy was introduced by Mr. Vincent Aniello, '38, who is President of the Club and who presided at the meeting. The Program Committeeman was Mr. James Egan, '48.

Present Nominees At Soph Assembly

Last Thursday, Oct. 13, in Harkins Hall Auditorium, an assembly was held to acquaint the Sophomore student body with the men who were nominated to represent them in the forthcoming elections to be held Oct. 18. The candidates introduced in turn were: president—Jim Cassidy, Louis Ottaviano, Steven Solarik, John Friga; vice-president—Joseph Andrews, Lloyd Messere, Robert D. Hurry, Joseph F. O'Brien, Herbert Underhill; secretary—Frank Ianano, Guy Geoffroy, Walt Faulkner, Gerry Kullman; treasurer—Robert Connelly, Anthony R. Dolce, Robert Spencer.

The candidates in their pre-election speeches, along with Father Gallagher and Mr. Sullivan, urged that the student body turn out a hundred percent vote and attendance at the Sophomore Dance.

LUCKIES PAY MORE to give you a finer cigarette!

Yes, at tobacco auctions Lucky Strike pays millions of dollars more than official parity prices for fine tobacco!

There's no finer cigarette in the world today than Lucky Strike! To bring you this finer cigarette, the makers of Lucky Strike go after fine, light, naturally mild tobacco—and pay millions of dollars more than official parity prices to get it! So buy a carton of Luckies today. See for yourself how much finer and smoother Luckies really are—how much more real deep-down smoking enjoyment they give you. Yes, smoke a Lucky! It's a finer, milder, more enjoyable cigarette!

L. MURRAY MANGUM, independent tobacco buyer of Oxford, N.C., says: "Year after year, I've seen the makers of Luckies buy the kind of tobacco that tends good and smokes good!" Mr. Mangum has smoked Luckies for 20 years. Here's more evidence that Luckies are a finer cigarette!

LUCKY STRIKE "IT'S TOASTED" CIGARETTES L.S./M.F.T.

L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

So round, so firm, so fully packed—so free and easy on the draw
Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

The purpose of the Confraternity Commission, said Father Doyle, is to teach the Catechism, its essence and importance to God, Church and country, said the Rev. Edward P. Doyle, O.P., of the College faculty in discussing the purpose, essence and importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

The purpose of the Confraternity Commission, said Father Doyle, is to teach the Catechism, its essence and importance to God, Church and country, said the Rev. Edward P. Doyle, O.P., of the College faculty in discussing the purpose, essence and importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

"It is the function of our Catholic schools to appraise its students of the obligation of applying to the molding and shaping of the public and private life the truths they learn from their teachers and thus fulfill their duty to God, Church and country," said the father.

The essence of the Catechism, pointed out Father Doyle, is the teaching of the truths they learn from the school to apprise its students of the truth the facts, and the importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

The purpose of the Confraternity Commission, said Father Doyle, is to teach the Catechism, its essence and importance to God, Church and country, said the Rev. Edward P. Doyle, O.P., of the College faculty in discussing the purpose, essence and importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

"It is the function of our Catholic schools to appraise its students of the obligation of applying to the molding and shaping of the public and private life the truths they learn from their teachers and thus fulfill their duty to God, Church and country," said the father.

The essence of the Catechism, pointed out Father Doyle, is the teaching of the truths they learn from the school to apprise its students of the truth the facts, and the importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

"It is the function of our Catholic schools to appraise its students of the obligation of applying to the molding and shaping of the public and private life the truths they learn from their teachers and thus fulfill their duty to God, Church and country," said the father.

The essence of the Catechism, pointed out Father Doyle, is the teaching of the truths they learn from the school to apprise its students of the truth the facts, and the importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

"It is the function of our Catholic schools to appraise its students of the obligation of applying to the molding and shaping of the public and private life the truths they learn from their teachers and thus fulfill their duty to God, Church and country," said the father.

The essence of the Catechism, pointed out Father Doyle, is the teaching of the truths they learn from the school to apprise its students of the truth the facts, and the importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

"It is the function of our Catholic schools to appraise its students of the obligation of applying to the molding and shaping of the public and private life the truths they learn from their teachers and thus fulfill their duty to God, Church and country," said the father.

The essence of the Catechism, pointed out Father Doyle, is the teaching of the truths they learn from the school to apprise its students of the truth the facts, and the importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

"It is the function of our Catholic schools to appraise its students of the obligation of applying to the molding and shaping of the public and private life the truths they learn from their teachers and thus fulfill their duty to God, Church and country," said the father.

The essence of the Catechism, pointed out Father Doyle, is the teaching of the truths they learn from the school to apprise its students of the truth the facts, and the importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

"It is the function of our Catholic schools to appraise its students of the obligation of applying to the molding and shaping of the public and private life the truths they learn from their teachers and thus fulfill their duty to God, Church and country," said the father.

The essence of the Catechism, pointed out Father Doyle, is the teaching of the truths they learn from the school to apprise its students of the truth the facts, and the importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

"It is the function of our Catholic schools to appraise its students of the obligation of applying to the molding and shaping of the public and private life the truths they learn from their teachers and thus fulfill their duty to God, Church and country," said the father.

The essence of the Catechism, pointed out Father Doyle, is the teaching of the truths they learn from the school to apprise its students of the truth the facts, and the importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

"It is the function of our Catholic schools to appraise its students of the obligation of applying to the molding and shaping of the public and private life the truths they learn from their teachers and thus fulfill their duty to God, Church and country," said the father.

The essence of the Catechism, pointed out Father Doyle, is the teaching of the truths they learn from the school to apprise its students of the truth the facts, and the importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

"It is the function of our Catholic schools to appraise its students of the obligation of applying to the molding and shaping of the public and private life the truths they learn from their teachers and thus fulfill their duty to God, Church and country," said the father.

The essence of the Catechism, pointed out Father Doyle, is the teaching of the truths they learn from the school to apprise its students of the truth the facts, and the importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

"It is the function of our Catholic schools to appraise its students of the obligation of applying to the molding and shaping of the public and private life the truths they learn from their teachers and thus fulfill their duty to God, Church and country," said the father.

The essence of the Catechism, pointed out Father Doyle, is the teaching of the truths they learn from the school to apprise its students of the truth the facts, and the importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

"It is the function of our Catholic schools to appraise its students of the obligation of applying to the molding and shaping of the public and private life the truths they learn from their teachers and thus fulfill their duty to God, Church and country," said the father.

The essence of the Catechism, pointed out Father Doyle, is the teaching of the truths they learn from the school to apprise its students of the truth the facts, and the importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

"It is the function of our Catholic schools to appraise its students of the obligation of applying to the molding and shaping of the public and private life the truths they learn from their teachers and thus fulfill their duty to God, Church and country," said the father.

The essence of the Catechism, pointed out Father Doyle, is the teaching of the truths they learn from the school to apprise its students of the truth the facts, and the importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

"It is the function of our Catholic schools to appraise its students of the obligation of applying to the molding and shaping of the public and private life the truths they learn from their teachers and thus fulfill their duty to God, Church and country," said the father.

The essence of the Catechism, pointed out Father Doyle, is the teaching of the truths they learn from the school to apprise its students of the truth the facts, and the importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

"It is the function of our Catholic schools to appraise its students of the obligation of applying to the molding and shaping of the public and private life the truths they learn from their teachers and thus fulfill their duty to God, Church and country," said the father.

The essence of the Catechism, pointed out Father Doyle, is the teaching of the truths they learn from the school to apprise its students of the truth the facts, and the importance of the Confraternity Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Father Doyle spoke at the Third Regional Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which was held in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel in Providence Oct. 9, 10 and 11.