Triggs And Murray
Faulkner, Connelly
New Soph Officers

In the sophomore class elections held last Tuesday and Wednesday, John Triggs of Woodstock, Vermont, was elected president by a plurality of nine votes over John Connelly of Middletown. The vote was one hundred sixteen to one hundred seven. Other officers elected were: vice-president, Robert D. Murray of Providence; secretary, Walter Faulkner of Hamden; treasurer, Robert Connelly of New Haven; Connecticut.

The vote was light as only three hundred-fifty-two sophomores, or 46% of the class, availed themselves of their duty to vote. The turnout, in as much as they had two days to vote, revealed a complete lack of interest in the election by the class.

Stephen Sullivan with sixty-four votes and Louis Ottaviano with sixty-two votes were the other unsuccessful presidential candidates.

Vice-president Robert Murray and secretary Walter Faulkner had pluralities of twenty-two and thirty-two respectively over their nearest rivals.

Fall River Group
Appoints Officers: Plan Whist Party

Members of the Fall River Club held their opening meeting of the current school year at Elks’ Hall in Fall River with a record number in attendance. Opening the meeting was a reading of the club’s constitution and treasury report by Charles A. Arnow, former vice-president.

Much as they had two days to vote, the only concern of the meeting was the election of officers for the coming year. Newly elected officers are: President, Milton J. Dunlop, ’50; V. P., Robert Soucy, ’50; Secretary, Louis Ottaviano, ’51; Treasurer, Alfred Navarette, ’50.

The following questions, compiled by the Institute of International Education, are those most frequently asked by students applying for a United States Government grant to study abroad under the Fulbright Act.

1. How do I apply for a scholarship under the Fulbright Act for study abroad?
   Write to the Institute of International Education, statling your qualifications, field of study, and country of choice.

2. What qualifications must I have?
   The three basic qualifications are American citizenship, a college degree, and the language proficiency of the country of which you intend to carry on your proposed study.

3. What is the basis of selection? Selection is made on the basis of the candidate’s application. No formal “examination” will be held.

Air Display, Motorcade, Girls Included In Spirited J. A. Rally

In one of the largest displays of patriotic shows by any organization on the P. C. campus in many years, the Junior Action Party climaxed a week of intensive campaigning by staging a mammoth rally on the campus Monday, replete with a motorcade, an aerial display, and women.

Headed by Ted McCarthy and having as their candidate Alfred Navarette, Joseph Murray, Frank Connelly, and Tom Holleran, and in an effort to revive some of the old time campus spirit, the party offered as its chief attraction a crew of girls from Pembroke headed by Miss Ginnie Krause. Also included in the rally was a pair of motorcycles driven by A. D. Novo and Mel Dominy. In the royal car, a Cadillac convertible driven by Ray Bartelet, were the candidates for president and vice-president, Alfred Navarette and Joseph Murray. The other cars were occupied by the party’s press agent, Finbar McCarthy, dressed in a casual overcoat, cigar, and smoking a cigar, and sitting on a bearskin rug. The party’s mascot, also was present in the display.

A stock car, donated by Alfred Homan, also was present in the display. It was designed to represent a light plane flown by Fred Foster, a junior who was a lieutenant J. G. in the active Naval Reserve. Its markings consisted of “2 A is here” on the wings, “for Newport” on one side of the fuselage, and “& Veje for Murray” on the other side. The plane also carried a fifteen foot streamer from the tail.

During the rally, McCarthey presented Navarette with a silver cup and the latter presented McCarthy with a bottle of liquor. After the rally McCarthey presented a lighted display of a sign bearing a satin gem.

ELECTION

Electioneering at the College reached its peak of intensity this week, with enthusiastic posters, ingeniously contrived, decorated bulletin boards, doors and walls. One gay pennant even flapped from the outside of Harkins' Hall. Some life-sized effigies which advertised the activities of the candidates for office were situated at strategic points. School politics was in high gear.

Electioneering, with its campaign posters and literature not only provides a good deal of fun for all concerned but it also is a means of developing traits of initiative and leadership, which are the aims of a college education. Candidates for office must take the initiative even to toss their hats in the ring while those who win have an opportunity to display their leadership.

After the electioneering is over, the candidates put their fate in the hands of the student body. Those who cast their votes must decide on the basis of qualification the best men for the various offices. The test on which the vote is based should be one of character, personality and scholarship. In these qualities are found the material of leadership. If the wrong man got into office, we feel sure that a fault lay not with the voters, but the non-voters.

ARCHITECTS OF PEACE

The United Nations celebrated its fourth birthday Monday, and with it came a new President, Trygve Lie, who took the cornerstone for the new U.N. building in New York City before the assembled delegates of the 59 member nations.

Huge sums of money are being expended in order that this fitting memorial to the unity of nations will endure and withstand the ravages of time. Precise engineering, harmonized with the split-hair calculations of the architects and the technical know-how of the artificers, is producing a magnificent edifice that will remain intact for many years to come.

Can the architects and engineers of peace produce a like effect in the harmony of nations, a harmony that will wither the repercussion of an atomic blast, be it on Bikini Atoll or behind the Iron Curtain? We fervently hope and pray that they can.

MUSIC

The opening of the Rhode Island Philharmonic Orchestra promises to be a timely need for a greater interest in good music here in Providence.

We at the College should support the Philharmonic not only for our own enjoyment and benefit but also in order to help raise the cultural level of Providence. Certainly, if we haven't yet started to become familiar with classical music it is time we did. While jazz and the like are the music of the present, it is time we considered the music of the past. If we don't now, we will be left in the cold tomorrow. Through the centuries its quality and beauty remain in demand while popular music is forever fading and changing.

We needn't feel that we must be avid students of good music. Though inexperienced in the world of serious music, we should not shy from it. The secret is to relax and enjoy the music. The taste for it will come as a matter of course.

When the Philharmonic opens in Providence on Dec. 6, a large delegation from the College should be there to welcome it. It will be an evening well spent.

THAT'S THE SPIRIT

To paraphrase a familiar ditty: There's no spirit like that of a campaign. This spirit was amply demonstrated in the recent elections, and from here it looks good. It gives one, among other things, sufficient material to look forward to next year. This spirit is the life for the edification of the next generation. It's something this campus has been sadly lacking since the pre-war years and now does not stop now, men. Keep up the spirit. It's good.

Glee Club Appoints Ben de Lellis, ’51

Ben DeLellis, ’51, was appointed chairman of the Constitution Committee of the Providence College Glee Club last Wednesday evening at the regular meeting of that organization. Appointed to serve on the committee were Ben Danehy, ’51, Francis Farren, ’51, Paul M. Parente, ’51, Paul Massey, ’52, and Charles Schlegel, ’52. In making the appointments, Vin Meuser, ’50, President of the Glee Club, stressed the need of a strong constitution to enforce attendance at meetings. “The Glee Club,” he said: “is now a major extra-curricular activity. Those who wish to be in it and make trips with it must recognize this.” The Constitution Committee will be empowered to make changes in the Constitution to suit the interests and needs of the Glee Club. The Glee Club elected John J. Egan, ’50, President of Club, after the newly-elected executive committee was approved by the club in the near future.

The honeymoon is over. Life, with all of its hard work and vigorous trials, must now be experienced once again. Thus, may the present state of affairs be the harbinger of the Providence College football team. Coach Cuddy, who is a firm believer in the theory that a successful football team must possess a certain amount of strength and unity, feels that his team has the potential to become one of the nation's foremost teams. To achieve this goal, Coach Cuddy will be forced to rely on the talents of his players, as well as on the wisdom and experience of the Providence College coaches who have been successful in the past.

The football skill competition will start early next month. At this time, Coach Cuddy will gain an opportunity to see his team in action, as well as to evaluate their strengths and weaknesses. The first of these engagements is to be held on Monday, October 26, at 12:30 in Room 300 of Harkins Hall. Election of officers is also scheduled for this day.

The first week of practice will be held in the gymnasium, with the players being divided into two teams. Each team will be coached by a different coach, and the players will be divided into sections based on their position on the field. The purpose of this practice is to acquaint the players with each other and to familiarize them with the plays and strategies of the Providence College football team.

The second week of practice will be held on the football field, with the players being divided into two teams. The first of these teams will be coached by Coach Cuddy, and the second team will be coached by Coach McGurkin. The purpose of this practice is to acquaint the players with the techniques and strategies of the Providence College football team, as well as to familiarize them with the rules and regulations of the game.

The third week of practice will be held on the football field, with the players being divided into two teams. The first of these teams will be coached by Coach Cuddy, and the second team will be coached by Coach McGurkin. The purpose of this practice is to acquaint the players with the techniques and strategies of the Providence College football team, as well as to familiarize them with the rules and regulations of the game.

The fourth week of practice will be held on the football field, with the players being divided into two teams. The first of these teams will be coached by Coach Cuddy, and the second team will be coached by Coach McGurkin. The purpose of this practice is to acquaint the players with the techniques and strategies of the Providence College football team, as well as to familiarize them with the rules and regulations of the game.

The fifth week of practice will be held on the football field, with the players being divided into two teams. The first of these teams will be coached by Coach Cuddy, and the second team will be coached by Coach McGurkin. The purpose of this practice is to acquaint the players with the techniques and strategies of the Providence College football team, as well as to familiarize them with the rules and regulations of the game.

The sixth week of practice will be held on the football field, with the players being divided into two teams. The first of these teams will be coached by Coach Cuddy, and the second team will be coached by Coach McGurkin. The purpose of this practice is to acquaint the players with the techniques and strategies of the Providence College football team, as well as to familiarize them with the rules and regulations of the game.

The seventh week of practice will be held on the football field, with the players being divided into two teams. The first of these teams will be coached by Coach Cuddy, and the second team will be coached by Coach McGurkin. The purpose of this practice is to acquaint the players with the techniques and strategies of the Providence College football team, as well as to familiarize them with the rules and regulations of the game.

The eighth week of practice will be held on the football field, with the players being divided into two teams. The first of these teams will be coached by Coach Cuddy, and the second team will be coached by Coach McGurkin. The purpose of this practice is to acquaint the players with the techniques and strategies of the Providence College football team, as well as to familiarize them with the rules and regulations of the game.

The ninth week of practice will be held on the football field, with the players being divided into two teams. The first of these teams will be coached by Coach Cuddy, and the second team will be coached by Coach McGurkin. The purpose of this practice is to acquaint the players with the techniques and strategies of the Providence College football team, as well as to familiarize them with the rules and regulations of the game.

The tenth week of practice will be held on the football field, with the players being divided into two teams. The first of these teams will be coached by Coach Cuddy, and the second team will be coached by Coach McGurkin. The purpose of this practice is to acquaint the players with the techniques and strategies of the Providence College football team, as well as to familiarize them with the rules and regulations of the game.

The eleventh week of practice will be held on the football field, with the players being divided into two teams. Girls were taken on a tour of the campus and then served dinner in the cafeteria. They expressed delight at the proceedings. After lunch they were escorted back to their dormitories by the committee.

The party's platform is a revival of old-time spirit. Said an official statement: "We feel that the average student graduates without ever knowing half of the other students graduating with him and we are out to change this by offering more rallies and religious activities with individual student participation. In this way an active student can get to know all his fellow classmen. We feel that college social life is almost as important as academic life, so, with ardent enthusiasm we start out on a new program of greater student participation in each and every activity already on the campus. Whether our bloc is selected or not, we will do our best to spur all student activities."

Approval for the aerial display was given by Federal Inspector Enderton of Norwood, Mass.

It has been estimated that the average talking picture has only about 5000 words of dialogue while the average play is from 35,000 to 40,000 words in length.

LUCKIES PAY MORE to give you a finer cigarette!

Yes, at tobacco auctions Lucky Strike pays millions of dollars more than official parity prices for fine tobacco!

There's no finer cigarette in the world today than Lucky Strike! To bring you this finer cigarette, the makers of Lucky Strike go after fine, light, naturally mild tobacco—and pay millions of dollars more than official parity prices to get it! So buy a carton of Luckies today. See for yourself how much finer and smoother Luckies really are—how much more real deep-down smoking enjoyment they give you. Yes, smoke a Lucky! It's a finer, milder, more enjoyable cigarette!

RAYMOND W. CRUTCHFIELD of Reidsville, N.C., veteran tobacco warehouseman, says: "Year after year, I've seen the makers of Luckies buy fine, ripe leaf that makes one great smoke!"

"Crutch" has smoked Luckies for 20 years. Here's more evidence that Luckies are a finer cigarette! The wolf now is a rare animal in most parts of the United States. The Romance languages include Portuguese, Spanish, Provencal, French, Italian and Roumanian.

4. Is an undergraduate eligible?

No. However, college juniors and seniors who can qualify may apply to candidates holding a Bachelor's degree or its equivalent by the time the award is accepted.

5. Are these scholarships open to all qualified U. S. citizens?

Yes. Where quotas are equal, veterans receive preference, but lack of citizenship status does not disqualify. Women and married students are also eligible.

15. May I apply at any time and for any country?

You may file a preliminary application card at any time for any country listed, but application blanks are available only on announcement of the opening of competition for that country. If you send in a preliminary card, you will be notified when the competition opens. Are there any limitations as to fields in which I may study?

No, except where an announcement of competition specifies otherwise.

10. How do I gain admission to an educational institution abroad?

The U. S. Education Foundation or the U. S. Civil Service Commission abroad will obtain admission to educational institutions.

Applications must be filed by November 8, 1948. Examination announcement is a condition of an award. Awards are made entirely in the currencies of the participating countries, and ordinarily cover transportation, tuition, books or equipment, and maintenance for one academic year. All arrangements for transportation are made by the Foundation.

11. What are the terms of award?

Awards are made entirely in the currencies of the participating countries, and ordinarily cover transportation, tuition, books or equipment, and maintenance for one academic year. All arrangements for transportation are made by the Foundation.

12. How much maintenance allowance?

This varies according to the cost of living in each country. It is sufficient to meet normal living expenses during one school year. It does not cover the expenses of a family, but when the student is accompanied by a dependent the maintenance allowance is increased. Transportation of dependents is a condition of an award.

13. May a veteran receive benefits under Public Law 346 and 348 concurrently?

Yes. However, a veteran may choose to utilize the benefits of the G.I. bill under the law, with his return, and a portion of Fulbright funds, exclusively for normal expenses. May I apply for a partial grant?

The U. S. Commission for the Promotion of International Education offers you a career in Government service.

rivals, Joseph O'Brien, Joseph Andrews, Lloyd Means, and David Underhill finished in that order behind Murray in the vice-presidential race. Guy Geoffrey and Gerald Kallan were tied for second in the secretarial race with Frank Janace, the fourth man, only two votes behind.

Treasure candidate Robert Connelly was high man in vote getting, collecting two hundred and two, one hundred and twenty-three more than his nearest rival, Anthony Dolen. Social Security Analyst Specialist, the only other treasurer candidate, lagged thirteen votes behind Dolen.

grant, for example to enable me to take a summer school course or attend a conference in a foreign country?

No, student grants are not made for other projects of shorter duration than a full academic year.

15. May I apply for a partial grant to supplement funds derived from other sources?

Yes, where scholarships are available from other sources, a partial grant, such as for travel, may be made.

Tertiaries...

chapter, established only since 1948, to approximately one hundred. The members, who are grouped into a students and adults section, are pledged to strive for Christian perfection in a manner befitting their secular mode of life, and forming an integral part of the Order of Friars Preachers, share in all the spiritual favors of the Brothers and Sisters of the world-wide Order.

While at present, the students section has no programs of its own to build student cooperation and coordinate, the following men have been appointed as acting officers: Edward F. Cogan, '50 of Fall River, Prior; Edward Dragon, '50 of Pawtucket, Novice Master; Edmund C. Minarowich, '50 of Providence, Secretary; and Anthony E. Williams, '50 of Beacon, Treasurer.

The profession will highlight a year with spiritual value. Last Friday night at 7:30, a series of hour-long meetings to be held every week for Tertiaries and other interested persons as a part of the extension school program, was inaugurated in room 206 of Harkins Hall. The initial session was attended by the Most Rev. Emmanuel Suarez, O.P., Master General in the Dominican Order, who gave his blessing, as well as the Apostolic Blessing of the Holy Father.

The Friday night meetings will be conducted by Father Rubba, the Rev. John J. Zurasko, O.P., and the Rev. William A. Hinnesbach, O.P. The letter presided over a highly successful retreat to a crowded group of Tertiaries at the Cenacle, Newport, Sep-

November 23, 21, and 22.

Father Rubba noted that "only one meeting a month is obligatory by rule, but all members are urged to attend the weekly meetings on Friday." He also reiterated that all students are welcome to join the Order.

The rule of the Order is best stated as being the role of product of any good-living Catholic. The Tertiary, living in the world while partaking of the life of the great Dominican community, can spread the Catholic way of living most effectively by example, for his rules are followed both by sincere and enlightened catholic men and women.

Following a period of probation, usually lasting three months, during which the potential member may 'think it over,' he may, if he wishes, enter the Order as a novice for a period of one year. During this time he must attend the weekly meetings, which are held every week. Each day at the end of the novitiate, he may, if he desires, and if he is approved by the Director and Council, be accepted into the Order.
