P. C. Enrollment Drops to 1730,
A Decrease of 195

Providence College's undergraduate enrollment is now 1730, a drop of 195 from that of last year. According to figures released recently by the office of the registrar.

This year's senior class numbers 410, compared to 450 juniors. The drop in student body is attributed primarily to two factors: the reduction last year of the enrollment of 550, stopped all classes.

The Right to Vote

Every vote has a corresponding duty.

As disciples of St. Paul, "we must ever resist the spirit of induction or are expecting to be inditing something in the future... not only necessary but suitable; but on the contrary, we observe the same whether the election be for the highest office in the land or for president of the senior class.

The government is not unreasonable.

"For it is reasonable that all men should obey God, inasmuch as it is written, Honor the King" (Rom. 13:1). It is a logical proposition to understand that the government is reasonable, as it is the right of a nation to defend itself from threats, and in doing so, it upholds the constitution and the law. The government should be respected and obeyed, as it is in the best interest of the nation.

The government has a leading position.

"For this same reason, as you belong to the churches, submit to the authorities. For there is no power except from God, and the authorities that exist have been instituted by God. Therefore whoever Resisteth the power resisteth God's ordinance established for the purpose. And they that resist will bring judgment on themselves. For rulers are not a terror to good doers, but to evildoers. Therefore, do you also wish to be in subjection to the authorities. For there is no power except from God."

The government is a three-dimensional personality.

"For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive. For this cause came the law, that the transgression might be fulfilled through the righteousness of the One who died to reconcile us to God."

The government is a three-dimensional personality, as well as our minds. Through them we make the opportunity to develop our personalities and do the work that God has ordained for us.

The Extra Curricular Activities

A college man's education is not confined to the classroom, but includes many extracurricular activities. These activities are an integral part of our education for they prepare us for responsibilities which society will make upon us later on.

A variety of organizations here at Providence College provide every student with the opportunity to participate in some extra curricular activity. There are groups and activities of the respective classes: the Glee Club and Dramatic organizations; the Publications, including the COWL, the ALEMBIC, and the Friars; the Intramural and Club sports; the Friars Club and other honorary organizations; the Religious organizations; the intra-mural sports, and numerous other groups. These groups solicit membership. Consequently everyone should affiliate himself with one or more of these campus activities.

The two best known as COLLEGE SPIRIT will flourish only to the degree in which all of us contribute our nite of interest and enthusiasm to become active members of some campus activity... Today.

Laziness Greatest Hazard for Pros

New York, N. Y.—(IP)—Outlining the faults of college teaching, Dr. Otway Trant, Chairman of the Board of Higher Education of New York City, approached the subject from the aspects of the personality and philosophy of the teacher, the methods of instruction currently used in colleges, and the nature of learning.

College teachers, he declared, should guard against what he termed their greatest occupational hazard, "laziness." He advocated a "sharp distinction between hours of work and hours of leisure" of college teachers by providing them with offices away from their homes.

He expressed the fear that, in the conduct of classes, the majority of college teachers "are primarily talkers."

Dr. Trant said, "They merely tell others. They are sure that college teaching is the teacher telling. They dispense words and more words. It sometimes seems as if many college classes are conducted on the premise that the printing press and the microfilm machine are non-existent.

Younger college teachers, he remarked, commonly have the failing of "trying to imitate their favorite professor, with little or no thought given to the aims of education or the methods by which these aims may be reached."

Dr. Trant assailed what he described as the "passion for objectivity and a kind of intellectual neutrality" which some college teachers find necessary to realize that two distinct but supplementary aims should be held in view seems the reason for this attitude," he declared. "It is surely better education for the teacher to admit -- (Continued on Page 6)
VASEBALL PRACTICE TO BEGIN IN HARKINS THIS AFTERNOON

By Charlie Sakany

Today Coach Vin Cuddy will make a call for all underclassmen who have expressed an interest in joining the varsity team on the mont. Amongst those reporting will be 15 lettermen from last year’s squad and several members of the past Freshman aggregation.

For the first two weeks the coach will concentrate on conditioning and practice 5 days a week, beginning about an hour past noon a day. Actual baseball practice will begin on the 29th of October, the club promises to be strong both offensively and defensively. As the schedule is worked out, it is hoped that the latest Cuddy will compile an 8-6 record for the squad a formidable opponent for the Boston University.

Co-captains Sam Nissel, Ray Garcia, and Frank Pelligrino were the Black and White during the coming season. The Friars will have in their command such outstanding hoopers as Jim Schlimm, Bob Korbusieski, Jerry Lembo, and Ronnie Gagon. The past season was the savvy Schlimm, who dramatically led the scoring by dropping in a total of 807 points.

The Friars will also receive a boost with the return of some height in the person of 5’6” Bob Presley. This big fellow has a fine book shot and also a bit better than average.

Even with all these favorable factors the season will be rough. Presley will probably be tops in the New England area for basketball. He will be one of the best in the country. There is also a bit of disappointment from such improved clubs as St. Anselm’s, Colby, Springfield, and the University of Rhode Island. All are rated quite strong, particularly in New England. Presley will probably be among the better out-putters.

Other notable cords on the card for the include the Rhode Island and Brown teams. These teams will be among the better out-putters.

In the election of these leaders for the 1950-51 campaigns, the Friars couldn’t ask for a better set of players, who, in addition to their individual court skill have displayed an all around ability to be the most valuable of any team. Facing a 22-game schedule, the leaders of the 1950-51 Providence College basketball team are as follows: Nissel, Pelligrino, and Garcia.

Rhode Island can boast a two-thousand majority of the captaincy with Bill Newman from Rogers High in New London. This captain has in turn a fine set of caps, on to coach and guide the young men in the team. As the year goes on, the boys will be able to assist the coach in the training of the younger men.

Hope High Defeated By Frosh CC Squad

Monday afternoon at four o'clock the press was on hand to see the Community squad of Providence College defeated the varsity team of Hope High in a cross-country course. The score was 17-41 (Low score wins).

The Hope team was led by Gerald Absi, one of the Hope seniors who has spent three years as a member of the Hope team.

First point-scorer for P. C. was Absi who finished in second place. The Hope team was led by the third point-scorer, W. B. Smith who finished in second place. The Hope team was led by the third point-scorer, W. B. Smith who finished in second place.

Freshmen Win Opener Vs. La Salle

By John Salesses

Starting off their season in style, the Providence College Freshmen cross-country team turned back the La Salle Academy harriers on the last day of school, Oct. 26.

Chris Lobner of St. Benedict's, New Jersey, led the field by 100 yards as he crossed the finish line. His winning time was 18:00 and 30 seconds.

Bill Hennigan and Omar Thido-ski were the other Hope scorers for the team. The other Hope scorers were: De-Loe, Brown, Pierre, and Alver.

The La Salle contingent was led by the twin brothers, Job and Dick, who placed fourth and fifth respectively.

The other point-getters for Providence College were: Fringe, eighth and Tom Farrell, twelfth. Although the La Salle team was minus the services of Bill Newman, who did not run because of a foot ailinflammation, the Frosh team turned in an excellent job in defeating La Salle. Probably the best high school cross country team in the state and one of the better in New England. La Salle was previously the winner over the Brown University Freshmen team.

Under the tutelage of Coach Harry Coates, Frosh Harriers were quite pleased with the showing made by the squad as a unit.

Martin to Call Out of Freshmen Monday

By Phil Griffin

There's good news for all potential 1950-51 Providence College basketball team members. Coach Harry Coates has checked the crowded schedule and set a practice time. Next Monday evening the Frosh mentor will meet candidates. Also, the schedule of coaches will be changed so that the boys will be free to practice.

In her Survey of Labor Economics, Peterson states that approximately twenty-nine million women representing twenty-two per cent of the total population of the nation are housewives. Assuming the statistics to be true, your reporter proceeds to the theory that the prolific production of mechanical aids to labor is per se or equivalent to the destruction of that mode of labor and its replacement by another form. Every automatic production displaces the necessity of one or more work animals. Moving ahead to the topic at hand, she notices each day some new mechanical gadget for use in the home, such things as automatic washers, automatic ironers, toasters, etc. The aged tasks of women, those of making clothes, preparing foods, educating children, etc., are now accomplished in virtue of factories, canneries, and foods. Absurd, perhaps, but it is possible, due to increased and more numerous facets of mechanical production, that the marriage of today may be a tenuous one. What, then, is the marriage of today?

William McMahon, 52, single: Bacon is quoted as saying that a wife is a man's mistress in youth, companion in middle age, and nurse in old age. However, for a single man, as yet unsmashed by the battle of marital "bliss," it is far better to be non-committal.

William Pyne, 51, married: A wife strengthens a man in his pursuit of the fulfillment of his ideals and his goal in life and gives him more reason for striving to be successful.

Larry Marx, 32, single: Bacon said that women are hostages to success, but history has shown that many great men would not have achieved their stature in life had it not been for the encouragement and inspiration of a woman.

Charles Smith, 31, single: A wife gives a man aid in pursuing his education. By having a wife, a man knows that he has to make good or else suffer the consequences.

Dean's List a Blessing, Adelphi Students Learn

Garden City, N. Y.—(L.P.)—An unlimited cuts system for students on the Dean's List of Adelphi College has been unanimously approved by the college faculty earlier this month. The Dean's List includes those students whose work during the two semesters of the preceding regular college year has averaged 2.5 or above. The list is announced at the beginning of each college year.

According to the new policy, Dean's List students shall have no limit placed upon the number of absences from any class. However, this permission for unlimited cuts shall in no case be reason for the repetition of any part of the work for the benefit of the absentee.

Any announced tests, exams, or other exercises missed will be considered failures for that particular course. In any case, if a student is absent due to illness or other unavoidable cause, however, the student may petition the Academic Standards Committee through the Director of Student Personnel for permission to make up the work without penalty.

Engineer Shortage

State College, Miss. — (I.P.)—A shortage of engineers, rather than a shortage of jobs for engineers, is the prospect during the next ten years, according to Dr. Harold Flinsch, dean of the School of Engineering at Mississippi State College.

Dean Flinsch calls attention to a recent report of the Bureau of Labor Statistics. This report estimates the average annual demand for engineering graduates around 17,500 during the early part of the 1950-60 decade, rising to 22,000 a year by 1960.

However, Dean Flinsch points out that a recent survey by the Engineers Joint Council, indicates that approximately 28,000 engineers have actually been placed in jobs during the past year. The fact that the actual placements were approximately twice the 17,500 estimate of the Bureau of Labor Statistics indicates a discrepancy.

"Perhaps this discrepancy can best be explained by the Bureau's emphasis on actual engineering jobs, whereas engineers are increasingly in demand for jobs that are not primarily engineering, but in which engineering training is an asset," Dean Flinsch said.

"There is a growing tendency for employers to recruit men with engineering background for jobs which have not in the past been considered engineering jobs, but for which an engineering background is becoming more and more useful."

Blackstone Valley Club

The Blackstone Valley Club held its first party-meeting of the school year last Monday evening, October 9, at the Loggia Roma Hall in Pawtucket.

The meeting served as an introduction of officers—Paul Sherlock, John Grimes, Russ Black and Ted Casey—to the club members.

Laziness...

"For many teachers, a searching uncertainty is the desired prescription," he further warned that college teachers are not safe in assuming that "the desire to learn is spontaneously generated and dominant." To ignore the problem of the student's desire to learn, he said, is "failing to take account of the primary condition of carrying learning on to completion.

"For many teachers, a searching understanding of the learning process would have to mean a complete re-vamping of their methods of dealing with their material and with their students."

Princeton, N. J.—(I.P.)—For the first time in many years Princeton University students are spending more class-room hours studying the humanities than the social sciences.

The results of a recent survey of undergraduate selections revealed that the humanities enrollment has increased from 23.6 per cent to 41 per cent in a year and a half. The social sciences have dropped off from 36.5 per cent to 33 per cent. The pure sciences have declined from 30.7 per cent to 26 per cent.
