Fulbright Grants
Open To Students

October 31 has been set as the dead-line for filing of applications for United States Government grants to study abroad under the Fulbright Act, it has been announced by Rev. Vincent C. Dors, O.P., Dean of Studies. Due to the shortage of sufficient national competition, only skilled students are being admitted to the applications. The applications can be obtained in the office of the Dean. The Fulbright Act, known as Public Law 594, provides for U.S. Government aid to students to attend educational institutions in 21 countries. The scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic ability and the potential to improve the cultural understanding of the U.S. from the sale of surplus property in those countries.

Donnelly Residents Proud of
"Ranch House"; Write Song

By Richard Havens, '54

During our initial days here, we residents of Donnelly Hall, formed an unfavorable opinion about the house "ranch house" at the edge of campus. In fact, many of the boys had never known that such was the case placed Donnelly until they saw introduce to it. But once those days the feeling expressed itself the opinion. In either were found a home at Donnelly. In registration day most of we refused to jump in happy merrymaking with the fellow in the next bed, whom we did not know. Rather we sought old classmates and formed a group. This was on the first day. Since then a spirit of unity has permeated the edge hall, joining its members. We are now resigned that all are for one, and one for all. A song, written to the tune of "Tanzmaus," was quickly adapted for the Hall, the words for it thought up with much deliberation, emphasized

Connolly Banfield Take Over Class Presidencies

Defeating his opponent by the narrow margin of eighteen votes, Robert Connolly of New Haven, Conn., a business student, yesterday became the new President of the Junior Class. Also elected on the Connolly-Banfield ticket were: Charles F. Hunting, Jr., Treasurer; and William McMahon, Secretary.

In the Sophomore class elections, held Monday, Charles F. Banfield was chosen Vice-President. Robert N. Connolly was elected Vice-President, Richard H. Johnson was named Treasurer, and Charles Schlegel was elected Secretary.

The largest number of votes, defeating 198 Connolly, voted 448, Leon McNaught, 286, and Charles Schlegel piled the largest number of Sophomore votes. 193, in the election of William McMahon, 41, and John Clancy, 55.

Credit To Campaigners

Senior elections today conclude politicking on the campus for another year. As in past years enthusiasm displayed was in high pitch. With each war the atmosphere pervaded the scene gaily enhanced by the multifarious banners and posters cover-ing all wall space. The professional campaigning touch was brought to the ears of the people by the socializing and unchristian behavior of the candidates. But the Catholic Church itself was shown not to have been without blame in this matter. DAVENPORT he contrasted the simplicity of the Catholic Indians of New Mexico with some examples of the priests of the great monasteries of Saint Bernard and Saint Joseph. For Catholics have not.

Many people recent Mr. Sylvester's idea and his enthusiasm in persuading and unchristian behavior of the candidates is just as clear.

Oberammergau!
Lord's Passion every ten years. The vow was first fulfilled in 1634 and thereafter until 1894, when it, along with all forms of religion, was suppressed by Hitler. This summer marks the first performance since that year.
The play is held in a large theatre seating several thousand. The rear of the stage is open and a green mountain in the background serves as scenery. The whole town gives a special effect to make the Passion Play the marvel that it is. For months in advance those villagers who are in the cast prepare for their roles by letting their hair grow long or culti- vating beards. When our train pulled into the neighboring hamlet of Unterammer- gau, we were greeted by a brass band playing the village tune, and we were in lagers, in whose homes we were to be billeted. The villagers are amaz- ingly hospitable, and their houses were spotlessly clean and well kept. My roommate and I were bellowed when we first saw our bed. It was covered with two fluffy, pillow-like affairs. We weren't sure whether to sleep on them or under them—later, one of the more cosmopolitan members of our group advised us to use them as blankets.
The people of Oberammergau seem to have a special faculty for making strangers feel at home. They held a gymnastic night in the local beer garden and placed their bicycles for us to use in the Oberam- mergau, about half a mile away.
On Wednesday morning we went to the theatre in order to get a first view of the play. It began in the morning and continued through late afternoon with a two-hour break for lunch. A So- viet couple we met had driven all the way from Moscow to see the Oberam- mergau, and half a mile away.

Friar Boy IV

FRANK BOY IV had the great kick out of being chased and caught by the Fathers. In- deed, he was not without bravery, either. During one of the dances, he even got past the Rev. Leo E. Schnell, O.P., alone with him, with Friar Boy when a yugg forced his way inside. The courageous animal sped down the stairs like a shot and completely routed the thief single-handed.

The Passion Play was one of the finest dramatic spectacles that we have ever seen. It is simply a masterpiece of acting, and the performance in every detail was of a high order. The picture at the left shows the Actors Preisinger, who played the part of Christ, was chosen for the role because of his acting ability and his resemblance to Our Lord.

Sponsor Harvest Hop
The showing of Powell's new picture in Pawtucket will be the scene of this year's first dance, a Harvest Hop, sponsored by the Blackstone Valley Club. Date of the dance is October 31.

Harvest Hop committees are Ken McGreery, Frank McCabe, and Bob Tonga, who announced that do- nations are being asked for at seventeen-five cents, and that George Mehan and his orchestra would supply the music. Dancing will start at 8.

PROVIDENCE HARRIERS DUEL R.I.S. FRIDAY

Cuddy And Coates Prepare, Records Spur For Them

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

The Providence College Athletic Council held its first meeting of the season on Oct. 8 for the purpose of discussing and completing the regulations and amendments of the recently completed constitution. In general, the object of the council is to discuss and regulate general athletic interests of the college, and to oversee athletic policies, budgets, awards, and eligibility rules.

Friar Folio by Bob Flinnogon

Hooper Mentor Faces Infamous Soph Jink

The Yankee once had a rookie pitching staff during the 1949 season when righty Frank Sias became known as the Naugatuck "Nugget." After a better man stayed, the 1950 club will have to coin the same about basketball star Vin Cuddy, who has become something of a 24-carat sparkler in his handling of the Friar vagabonds so far.

Cuddy although born in Waterbury came from Naugatuck by virtue of his school days at Naugatuck High where he was a three sport star. Like neighboring Bob Flanagan, the future Friar mentor, he was satisfied to take a back seat to his senior year. He was rated as one of the best players in the state.

Cuddy now views this year’s prospects with a conservative and confident attitude. New material has been added and the understanding between coach and team has been strengthened. All of which sets to prove that Vin and the Friar cagers so far.

Although he is now, or at least since the victory of the Friar Reserves over Providence College at Van Courtland Park, N. Y., November 15, the Friar Reserves have a certain section of the public that is satisfied to take a back seat to the Friars good fortune. The Friars will have to prove this year, as they have in the past, that they are the team to beat.

Non One Ever Taught Harry Coates To Lose

By Charlie Entwistle

After one week's postponement, due to weather, the intramural football schedule will finally get underway. This week all the teams in the league will see action at least once. Games have been scheduled for every day from October 19th through November 5th, so there should be plenty of action on Hensley field during those weeks.

Other intramural programs for this week include ice hockey and softball, which are underway or will be shortly, so there should be enough for all. A tennis tournament is also scheduled, if weather permits, is underway at the present time. The top two players will receive their awards Dec. 13 at the completion of the tournament.

Volleyball starts this week, teams being composed of all class groups and favorites.

Frier Reserves To Play Special Role

By By Charlie Entwistle

The Providence College Athletic Council held its first meeting of the season on Oct. 8 for the purpose of discussing and completing the regulations and amendments of the recently completed constitution. In general, the object of the council is to discuss and regulate general athletic interests of the college, and to oversee athletic policies, budgets, awards, and eligibility rules.

As was brought to the attention of the student body last spring, the Council consists of three alumni members, one of whom shall represent a fraternal chapter, one student member, a Faculty representative, the Director and the President of the College who shall be an ex-officio member of the Council.

The Rev. Alumnius B. Begley, who is permanent chairman of the Council, released the following statement which should be valuable to the student body in understanding the work of the Council.

"It is well to remember that the Council is consulted on problems of policy which pertain to the general athletic welfare of the student body, together with all matters affecting the games. The Council has jurisdiction over any sports which are included in the relationships which are established and maintained by the rules under which it may be conducted."

Another important note that is being called to the attention of the student body is that any council or organization may represent Providence College in the use of the name "Providence" or the nickname "Friars," which is reserved by the Council. Such authority may be withdrawn from the Friar Reserves.

The rules of eligibility shall be those of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Eastern College Athletic Conference. The Council is interested in the welfare of the student body, and as such is a part of the Catholic Church and the University of Providence.

Pertaining to the medical attention of its members, the Council feels that it is the duty of the players to protect themselves against serious injuries. The Council will not assume responsibility for injuries sustained during normal intramural competition.

ODDS 'N ENDS

UA boys defeated New Britain High School 48-13 in a game that was very slow and low scoring. The Friars are now 5-0 for the season.

UA girls defeated New Britain High School 42-27. The Friar subs will brace the team and give the Black and White a good bench to draw from.

A number of the in-house men have the subs help on the team.

HOCUS POCUS

Another indication that Vin gives no quarter to his team is the subs. In the State game it was the subs who helped the Rams recover from a deficit of 10 points. They are satisfied to take a back seat to the starters and their best when called on. They are satisfied to take a back seat to the starters and their best when called on.

Vin is confident that the Friar Reserves will be able to handle the State team, one of the strongest universities in the country, meet with the Rhode Island State College hill and dalemen. The Rams will have Ray Lister, who is one of the best guards in the country, and Bob Flanagan, who is one of the best forwards in the country, and Bob Flanagan, who is one of the best forwards in the country.

The Rams have Ray Lister, who last week placed first in a triathlon held by the West Point squad with such luminaries as Glen Davis and Hank Foldberg. Larry McCly, also a member of the Rams, met last Friday to Harvard, where he placed third in the University of Providence's first ten finals they placed 1, 4, and 9, the fifth point man on the Providence team.

The Friar Reserves will be a force to be reckoned with this year. This week they will play for an opportunity to win the State Championship. The team is composed of the best men on the Providence College team and has the potential to win the State Championship.
Newman has been quoted as saying that the public at large considers university as nothing more than a place for gaining a great deal of knowledge on a great many subjects; that for some years, the intellect is nothing more than an instrument for taking in facts or a receptacle for storing them. That may have been the case. Perhaps it still is. The field of philosophy, however, is not one to be rated as something to be learned and then discarded. On the contrary, the knowledge and wisdom gained from it will remain with us for a lifetime.

The Providence College Chapter of the Third Order of St. Dominic, held its initial meeting of the new scholastic year on Friday night, at 7:30 p.m. A large group of men and women attended the opening exercises in the Chapel of Aquinas Hall.

After introductory remarks by the Rev. John C. Rubba, O.P., director of the collegiate chapter, the group proceeded to Compline of the Little Office of the Blessed Virgin Mary and recited the Rosary. Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given at the conclusion of the exercises. Fr. Albert Bergamo, O.P., Father Rubba. The liturgy gathered the students together to begin the year of study.

The Third Order of St. Dominic was founded by the holy patriarch in the 13th century and is an integral part of the Vincentian Family. It is composed of men and women living in solitude or in community, or in any form of apostolic life, who follow a rule of life based on the Rule of St. Augustine and the Dominican Constitutions. The members, desiring to share in the religious spirit of the Order, strive under the direction of the Dominican Province to devote their lives to perfection, i.e., they strive to become perfect in the love of God and of neighbor.

The Providence College Chapter of the Third Order of St. Dominic has made rapid progress. Plans are being made to make this year even more fruitful. Students who are not interested in a religious vocation are welcome to attend the Friars of the Third Order.

However, Harry is one of those men whose abilities exceed his strength. It is possible enough to carry them against any type of adversity and difficulties who may arise for greatness can be tested in the fullest. Bill Veeck and Bronko Nickery, baseball magnates, were the same type in their field. Their achievements at Cleveland and Brooklyn, respectively, proved they had to a touch of business genius.
