

GUZMAN HALL STUDENTS EXCEL IN NATIONWIDE LATIN EXAM

Providence College students in Guzman Hall have demonstrated their proficiency in Latin with amazing scores in the 23rd Annual series of the Competitive Nationwide Latin Examination sponsored by the Association for the Promotion of the Study of Latin.

34 Providence College men competed against 23,000 representatives from the United States, Canada, Alaska, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, South America, Cuba and Bermuda. From these 34 there were 30 students who received honor ratings in the exam which was both scholastic and competitive. Of worthy note is the fact that the four who did not receive honor ratings more than doubled the national median and that 22 of the 34 scored over a hundred out of a possible 120.

Five students received ratings of Summa Cum Laude by compiling scores which ranged from 116 to 118. All five, who will receive certificates and gold pins, scored perfect marks on the Latin end of the exam. They include D. LeFort, P. Berardin, J. McGowan, F. McGuire and G. Dyer.

Recipients of the Mixima Cum Laude ratings include J. Gannon, W. Gustafon, R. Bailie, J. Tracy, and C. Litzinger. Their marks ranged from 110 to 114.

The twelve students whose marks of from 100 to 108 placed them in the Magna Cum Laude, category include D. Shanahan, D. Dreese, T. Maguire, A. DiGioia, D. Davies, M. O'Connor, F. Barry, P. DiSalvorte, R. McAlister, J. McCarthy, T. Queenan, and J. Mannion.

Cum Laude status was attained by eight men with scores ranging from 90 to 96. The honored students include J. Egan, R. La Gasse, N. Hadad, K. Caldwell, R. Morin, L. Murphy, T. Hynes, and J. Peterson.

The four students from Guzman Hall who were not honor recipients but who doubled the national median in the respective groups were J. Mitchell, A. Evans, R. Price, and J. Latsko. The Guzman Hall group median was 102 out of 120.

Awards were presented by the Rev. E. A. McDermott, O.P., at the annual banquet of Guzman Hall Students held at Oates Tavern on Monday evening, May 17.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank Rev. Fr. Danilowicz, O.P., and all the members of the Kent County Undergraduate Club for their kindness rendered to me in my misfortune.

Tickets On Sale For Senior Picnic

Tom Toscano and Paul Burke, co-chairmen of the Senior Class picnic, announce that the tickets for the affair are selling quickly and that if any of the seniors don't have theirs yet, they should get them. The picnic will take place on Tuesday, May 25, at Lincoln Woods (field A). He also said that there will be maps, showing the exact site of the affair, posted in Harkins Hall.

The committeemen say that the softball game between the faculty and the seniors will be one of the highlights of the afternoon. Besides the Faculty-Student ball game, swimming, boating, tennis, and many other activities will take place.

The chairmen promise a good time for everyone. They claim that the occasion will be one for reminiscing over past performances while at the college. The refreshment committee promises that the food will be in abundance and that no one will go away hungry.

For those who have not purchased their tickets yet Dick Havens said that they may be purchased from Don Brunt, Paul Burke, Irv Gorman, Dave Kehoe, John Salesses, and Tom Shanley.

Phi Chi Club Holds Banquet

Last Wednesday evening at Oates Tavern an approximate total of 40 students, faculty members, and guests, attended the annual Phi-Chi club banquet. After formal greetings by President Francis Lussier, William Flynn, the entertaining toastmaster, introduced the various speakers, first of whom was Fr. James Hackett, chairman of the chemistry department and moderator of the Phi-Chi club, who reviewed the accomplishments of the past year, notably the publication of the P. C. Journal of Physics and Chemistry, and also the science seminars, field trip, and success of the monthly meetings. Fr. Hackett also stated that future graduates of science from P. C. will benefit from the record of achievements made by previous graduates. Other speakers were Fr. George McGregor of the physics dept., Fr. James McKenny, head of the mathematics dept., and Mr. Hanley of the chemistry dept.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The 1954 VERITAS, thanks to the work of the staff and the excellent cooperation and noteworthy interest of MR. ROBERT A. GREENER of the COMET PRESS, INC., of New York, will be distributed, as scheduled, beginning Monday, May 24th, in the Harkins Rotunda stairwell. It is forcibly urged, however, that all students who will have occasion to be on campus in the following few days refrain from obtaining their copies immediately. The staff is desirous that those students who are scheduled to leave school on Tuesday receive their editions first. This, therefore, is a particular appeal to the day-hops who reside in the vicinity and those students who have exams until a later day. Following Monday, the VERITAS may be picked up at any time.

Editor's Note

It would be a great help to us and we would certainly appreciate the continued cooperation of the students if they would wait until after Monday to obtain their copies since there will be enough copies issued to whet the general student appetite. All students are entitled to a free copy and I hope that you all enjoy it as much as we enjoyed putting it together.

Sincerely,

Paul C. Lareau

Congress Committee Heads Named At First Session

CHARLES GNYS

Gnys Is Named Veritas Editor

Rev. John J. Mahoney, O.P., the Junior Class advisor, has announced the appointment of Charles Gnys as Editor-in-Chief of the 1955 Veritas. Mr. Gnys was the president of the Pyramid Players for the year 53-54. He also wrote the script for the Spring Musical, "Rome, Sweet Rome."

Gnys said he will try to make his edition of the Veritas the best, but he is sure that he has a hard job ahead of him. A tentative staff list has been drawn up but will not be published until September.

Three Officers To Leave P. C.

The changes in the ROTC staff have been made official and the recipients of the changes are Colonel Stark and Captains Gould and Kamaras. The officers have received their orders and will leave at the end of this month, at the close of the school year.

Colonel Stark and Captain Gould will be sent to the Far East but Captain Kamaras has been assigned to Fort Eustis. As of yet, the Military Science Department has not announced any change in the enlisted personnel here at the college.

DES Receives 25 New Members

At impressive ceremonies held last Thursday evening at Aquinas lounge, Delta Epsilon Sigma, National Catholic College and University Honorary Society received twenty-five members into its fold. These nominees for the Society are slated to be inducted next October.

The highlight of the evening was the address by the Very Reverend Robert J. Slavin, president of the college, to the society. In his address, Father Slavin congratulated the new members on their distinction of being so honored and asked them to set the example for the rest of the student body.

A social hour followed the meeting.

Freshman Dance Draws 150 Couples

By G. E. C.

The annual Freshman Hop, which was held last Saturday night in Aquinas Hall, has been acclaimed by observers as the best in memory. The 150 couples who attended made it a financial as well as a social success.

Using "Manhattan Serenade" as the theme, the frosh distinguished themselves with their decorations. Such familiar New York landmarks as "Broadway and 42nd Street, the subway, and the Stork Club" were in evidence. A fluorescent sign in one corner of the Penguin Room proclaimed "Hanley's Lager," but none could be found.

Tony Abbott and his ten piece orchestra played for dancing in the Aquinas Lounge, which was rechristened "The Empire Room" for the occasion. A six man jazz band kept "Hernando's Hideaway," which was formerly known as the Penguin Room, packed for the evening. The Hopgoers were especially pleased with jazz, and spent more time listening than dancing.

There is little doubt that the combination of music, decorations and abundance of beautiful women added up to one enchanted evening.

New officers of the Student Congress were sworn into office at inaugural ceremonies held in Harkins Hall on last Thursday. A motorcade carrying the new officers left Aquinas Hall at 1:30 and proceeded to the front of Harkins where they were met and escorted to the Student Lounge by President Philip B. Doherty, where members of both the old and new congresses were assembled awaiting their arrival. As the official party proceeded to the rostrum, President Doherty and President-elect Ascioffa were accorded a standing ovation while Frank Barone played the traditional greeting "Hail to the Chief".

Pres. Doherty administered the oath of office to President-elect Paul J. Ascioffa and then turned the gavel over to him. As his official act, President Ascioffa swore in the other new officers—Dan Walsh, Secretary and Bob Crowley, Treasurer.

In his Inaugural Address, the new President called for continued hard work on the part of the new Congress and expressed the hope that it will be able to maintain the high standards set by its predecessor.

President Ascioffa read the new committee appointments for the coming year. Committee chairmen will be Ralph Gentile, Ways and Means; Dave Webster, Social; Tom McNellis, Legislative; and Harry Toole, Ordinance.

Renzi To Head Pyramid Players

Monday night the Pyramid Players had their last meeting at which the new officers for the coming year were elected. Charles Gnys, the out-going president of the club presided. The outcome of the election was: president, James Renzi; vice president, Richard Rice; treasurer, John Bowab; secretary, Daniel Walsh. Publicity advisor for the new year will not be appointed until next September.

Plans were discussed for next year and it was decided to present a dramatic play as early as possible. It is hoped that all who have any interest and talent will try out for a part in these future productions.

Officer Elections Highlight Last Meeting Of Glee Club

Last Tuesday evening at Oates' Restaurant, the Glee Club held its Annual Banquet and Election of Officers for next year. Elected were: Leo Lavallee, '55, President; Brian Moran, '55, Vice-President; Arthur Payne, '56, Secretary; Amleto D'Andrea, '56, Treasurer; Robert Crowley, '57, and Anthony DeBerardino, '57, Librarians. Thomas McNellis, '55, was appointed Business Manager at an earlier meeting of the Club. These men will comprise the Executive Board of the Glee Club for the '54-'55 Concert Season.

Lavallee is a Business Management Student and comes from Providence. He is also a member of the Providence Club, Ship and Scales Club, and is President of the College Band.

Seated at the head table for the banquet were the Very Rev. Robert J. Slavin, O.P., President of the College; Rev. Leo S. Cannon, O.P., Director-Moderator of the Club; Rev. Hilary R. Ahern, O.P.; Rev. Joseph L. Lenon, O.P., and Mr. Michael L. Healy.

Also seated at the head table was the entire '53-'54 Executive Board of the Glee Club; John Carr, Thomas Haxton, James Gunnoud, Leo Lavallee, Brian Moran, Philip Leonardi and Arthur Payne.

Father Slavin was guest speaker for the occasion. Other speakers were Father Cannon and John Carr.

Richard Lederer, President of the Glee Club for the '52-'53 Concert Season, was elected by unanimous vote, an associate member of the Glee Club. Mr. Lederer is the first person ever elected an associate member of the Glee Club.

During the '53-'54 Concert Season the Glee Club has appeared in eight Joint Concerts, nine Single Concerts, five Radio Broadcasts, one Television Program, and at the different Religious functions of the College. It is estimated that the Club has traveled over 2,000 miles, and has appeared before 7,200 persons during the Season.

SITTING NEXT to some fine feminine pulchitude are George Clifford and Mike Igoe at the Freshman Frolic held last Saturday nite in Aquinas Hall. Their dates are Arline and Beverly DiOrio.

Isolationist Movement Is On Rise Once More In U.S.

By Martin Crowley

Two weeks ago in Chicago Robert R. McCormick publisher of the "Chicago Tribune" sponsored a luncheon, at which a new political group was formed. Called For America the unit will "combat super-internationalism and communism," according to the A.P., and "Time" reports that it will "combat super-internationalism, one-worldism and communism in America." Does this mean that isolationism will again become a factor on the American political scene? It seems so to me.

The organization is new, but the beliefs of some are old. General Robert E. Wood, retired chairman of Sears and Roebuck is one of the co-chairmen. This is the same Robert Wood who was the head of the America First Committee, pre-World War II isolationist organization. McCormick, sponsor of the organization meeting is an old hand at this sort of thing. Prior to the second World War his empire of newspapers preached the gospel of isolation throughout the midwest. Other members who are not new to an isolationist movement are, Burton K. Wheeler, ex-Democratic senator from Montana, and former Republican representative from New York, Hamilton Fish. The new unit does not consider itself a third party but it hopes to enter candidates in the November elections. According to Fish, the organization will "fight in both parties" for candidates who share the views of the For Americans.

Not New Theory

Isolation is not something new in America. George Washington laid the foundation for American detachment policy in his "Farewell Address" of 1796. Washington's advice to "beware of foreign entanglements" was good in its day. At that time America was a struggling young republic and the Atlantic and Pacific oceans were formidable barriers. In this day and age, where technological advances have reduced oceans to ponds and free nations are faced with the danger of the communist menace, no country can bury its head in the sand like an ostrich.

Avoid World War II?

The last great outburst of isolationist sentiment was before World War II when American Firsters stumped the country with the battle cry of isolation. Whether or not isolation would have kept us out of World War II is an academic question and it is not the purpose of this writer to rehash old arguments. It should be kept in mind, however, that whatever dangers isolation brings, it would never be as bad in the 30's and 40's as it would be in 1954. The super bombs and long range plans of today were just plans on a draftsmen boards in the late 30's and early 40's Naziism was never as dangerous as Communism is.

If For America is an isolationist movement as it seems to be then this country is in for a long hot summer. The domestic political scene is muddled enough now without having a group of isolationists fogging up the air with hogwash. If these men are taken seriously and attract a large following, then this country will be in for more trouble. Communism is an international conspiracy that has for its end world domination. No country is safe from the evil designs of the men in the Kremlin. The United States can not pull out of its world commitments nor can it retreat from its position of world leader in the struggle against Communism. Isolationism is not wanted nor is it needed at this time.

It is something which can and should be avoided by the leaders and the people of this country.

Contrary to last week's assertion, the 1954 All-Star Team would occupy this column's entirety, an enlightening development has occurred in the interval which definitely warrants sufficient coverage. Therefore, it will suffice to present briefly to my readers the final selections for my All-Star Music Team of 1954.

You may recall that initial member was selected as the "necessary medium" between the artists and their respective audiences. Jim Mendes and the "Mendes Movement" was the first choice. With due respect to his many contributions and innovations during this year and very evidently in the future, we salute Jim Mendes as the Disc Jockey of 1954.

As the female nomination for the vocal honors it was my pleasure to present "The Divine One," Sarah Vaughn. Primarily considered in respect to this choice was the consistency of this artist as a vocal attraction.

With definite consideration given to all male vocalists or supposed male vocalists of the current clan, Frank Sinatra was given the third position on the team. Sinatra has captured the public's eye in all instances. His many records are all top sellers. His style is unique. His diction is superb and as a singer of songs he does not have the misfortune to be "typed."

The fourth member of the team is the organization called the Stan Kenton Orchestra, the producers of the "Kenton Sound," and recipients of the greatest in success. This group filled all the requirements with ease to be named the modern band of the year.

Last but certainly not least, as the saying goes, is the final contributor to the never-ending surge of musical progress in the field of modern music. "The King of the Keys," George Shearing. This individual constitutes the ultimate in man's search for mortal perfection, in a specific field of endeavor.

I sincerely hope that all, regardless of their respective "tempos" have enjoyed reading this column and have learned a little more about the artists who entertain you on your radios, in your theaters and while you're dancing. "KEEP COOL."

FLASH! THE FIRST AMERICAN JAZZ FESTIVAL AT FAMED RESORT, NEWPORT, RHODE ISLAND, WILL BE PRESENTED ON THE WEEKEND OF JULY 17TH AND 18TH. This is a little preview of the mid-summer jazz festival which will be the big event of the year for New England.

Every big-name jazz musician in America today has been signed for this extravaganza. People like: Duke Ellington, Art Tatum, Gerry Mulligan, Count Basie, Dizzie Gillespie, Charlie Parker, Lennie Tristano, Lee Konitz, George Shearing, Sarah Vaughn, Stan Kenton, Oscar Peterson and a host of other great names in the music world.

The purpose of this festival is to promote a wider understanding and appreciation of "modern jazz" or American Folk Form of Music. Proceeds from the festival, a non-profit enterprise, will be used to give scholarships in Jazz Study and also Study in the Origins of American Folk Music.

NOTICE

Due to insufficient space, the Cowl was forced to omit some stories in this issue. These stories will be carried in next week's Cowl, if possible. Thank you.

End-Beginning

Last week at the Student Congress inauguration, a topic of extreme importance was brought up by the president of the college. Originally we had all intentions of letting the issue rest until the beginning of next year. However, there is no time like the present.

The topic on hand is the overall lack of "college spirit" at Providence College. Why should a school which seemingly has fresh, imaginative young men and which itself is young and growing, lack what is referred to as "college spirit?"

No answer was offered, although several possible reasons were forwarded. We do not intend to offer a solution now. We would like to offer a few suggestions, however.

The first suggestion lies with the members of the graduating class now. They should be proud to say that "I am a Providence College man." They should say it honestly and often. Nothing is better than hearing a member of the alumni standing up for his school. The spirit will revert back to the students.

The second suggestion falls under the jurisdiction of the current students. The upper-classman should attempt to attend as many social and athletic events as possible. He should strive to "sell" the college to high school students and others. When they see the interest and enthusiasm expressed in the listener's eyes, they will soon begin to believe their own "propaganda"—and rightly so. Remember, it can be very easy to fall into the habit of complaining about things.

The third solution rests with the Student Congress and Freshman Week.

We suggest that a score of upperclassmen, preferably juniors and seniors, act as "big brothers" to the freshmen next year. Their function will be to indoctrinate the freshmen assigned to them, to help them with their difficulties in the classroom, to get them interested in campus organizations, and to build up a feeling of pride in the college.

If these three suggestions are followed through, the day will not be far off, when "college spirit" will dominate the campus. If these ideas fail, we have to start all over again. But let's at least give them the old "college try."

College Spirit

This is the last regular Cowl for the year. Unless some unforeseen situation arises the next issue of the Cowl will be an issue aimed directly at the seniors. The Cowl staff will attempt to recapture the last four years at the college; the good times; the bad ones, few as they were; the outstanding events from 1950 to 1954. But that remains for the next issue.

The year that has just past has been adequately covered from every angle. We sincerely hope that we have not slighted any organization by omitting its name from important events for the year. Each campus group has undoubtedly sought to strengthen itself this year. Some have succeeded to a high degree, others have continued along in the same vein as previous years, while others

Capsule Review Of Year

News Events

By Daniel C. Walsh

The academic year 1953-54 was a newsworthy one on the Providence College campus. Starting with the first week of school until the parting shot, there was always something doing.

An ancient custom returned to the P.C. campus as the practice of having freshmen wear beanies was revived after a lapse of many years.

The COWL was honored to receive an All American Award, the highest rating conferred by the Associated Collegiate Press. This marked the first time in the 16 year history of the COWL that it had won this award.

Twenty-six seniors were inducted into the National Scholastic Honor Society, Delta Epsilon Sigma, at ceremonies held in Aquinas Lounge.

November saw construction begun at long last on the new gym. After years of planning, the start of the project was the realization of a long awaited dream.

Groans were heard from many ROTC students expecting a soft life in the Transportation Corps, when the P.C. ROTC switched to a General Military course.

The December Blood Drive proved to be an overwhelming success due to the many hours of hard work put in by the committee. Letters of praise and thanks were received here from the Red Cross officials in charge.

The Pyramid Players production of Friar Follies was enthusiastically received by a cheering audience of over six hundred people when it opened in Harkins Hall on December 6.

Early in February, John Bowab was named as the new editor of the COWL. The new staff took over their first issue on Feb. 3.

In March word was received that P.C. had been granted membership in Alpha Epsilon Delta, National pre-med honor society.

"Rome, Sweet Rome" the Pyramid Players Musical opened on May 1st in Harkins Auditorium and was acclaimed a smash hit. The production was written by Charles Gnyss, '55, and the music was composed by Frank Barone, '55.

The Junior Prom was a tremendous success with music by the famed Elliot Lawrence and his orchestra. Miss Constance Varier was crowned queen.

Such, in brief, were the outstanding news events on the local scene during the past year. Looking back it was an outstanding year in every way.

Political Events

By James Renzi

The record of this year's Student Congress was undoubtedly the best that has been compiled since the Congress was first started. In spite of the usual arguing, the Congress, under the leadership of President Philip Doherty, made several solid accomplishments.

The long debate over the use of the lounge and auditorium was finally brought to an end with the passage of a bill authored by Representative Dan Walsh revising the procedure of the Social Committee in granting use of these facilities. The terms of this bill have been faithfully executed by Bill Harte, committee chairman.

The proposed Scanlon Amendment, setting up primary elections for class presidents caused months of debate and committee meetings before it was finally defeated by opposition forces.

A great deal of controversy arose over the efforts of the Congress to secure a college mascot and to set up a club supported lecture fund. These two projects met snag after snag and, unfortunately, they finally died in committee.

Election procedures were strengthened and clarified with the passage of the Walsh-Gunnoud Election Law.

Undoubtedly the most controversial issue of the political year was the decision of the Congress to investigate the inactivity of WDOM. This action was taken as the result of a petition by a group of students.

The last big issue of the year was resolved at the last Congress meeting when the Voluntary Insurance Act was passed after weeks of intense study. This bill will fill a definite need for the student body.

On the electoral scene, the Veracratic Party retained control of the Sophomore Class. Mark DeNegre was re-elected President. Other officers are Paul Quinn, Buzz Moore, and Roland Carrier. The Juniors elected Dan Lynch as their prexy and Ed Scanlon, Len Kiernan, and Gerry Romberg as their other officers. The outcome of the Senior contest saw Dick Havens capture the Presidency. The other officers chosen were Dave Kehoe, Tom Shanley, and John Salesses. The Veracrats also came out on top in the Freshman race. Tony DeBerardino was elected President with Jim Coates, Ed Ferry, and Tony Doyle rounding out the slate.

In the Student Congress elections, the Veracrats won the Freshmen and Sophomore contests by decisive margins, while the Juniors elected practically entirely a new slate of Representatives.

Paul J. Ascioia won a landslide victory in his campaign for the congress Presidency. The other officers chosen were: Andy Bell, Vice President; Dan Walsh, Secretary; and Bob Crowley, Treasurer.

All told, the political scene over the past year has been an exciting and controversial one, to say the least, but to give credit where it is due, it has been a highly successful one with a minimum of the inevitable setbacks.

Sports Events

By Bob Melucci

Chris Lohner leads P. C. to a 27-30 upset over the Black Knights of West Point to revenge a setback suffered at the hands of the Cadets last year.

Gabe Paul puts Providence College on the map again as he names Birdie Tebbets as manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Little Billy Hennigan is struck down by appendicitis thus costing the Friar Harriers their quest for New England supremacy.

P. C.'s freshman team continues to slap down any harrier opposition as they waltz over Brown 20-46.

Former Rhody Ace, Earl Shannon, begins his new duties as assistant hoop coach while Vin Cuddy prepares his varsity hopefuls for the tough schedule that faces them.

Coach Dick Rondeau's informal hockey team led by Ed Monahan, Roscoe Sweeney and Bobby Reall prove tough competition for a powerful Boston College sextet before bowing in thriller 8-5 as the rink season opens.

Bobby Moran and P. C. five make fine showing before huge Boston gathering who see the fabulous Bevo Francis and Rio Grande squeeze out a 89-87 win over the Friars.

The revived Friars hit snag as sparkplug Phil Lynch and sophomore shooting sensation Ralph Tedesco are crippled by injuries at the height of the hottest hoop streak of the season.

Ed Monahan and Roscoe Sweeney score 5 goals apiece as the sextet thumps University of Mass. 15-5. Indoor track team also bumps same school twice, Varsity 52½-28½ and Frosh 45-26.

Rifle team has most successful season by ending same with a 29-4 record.

Intramural Director Pete Louthis culminates a fine intramural program with a stellar boxing smoker consisting of 11 bouts and attended by 600 spectators.

The baseball season opens and Coach Hal Martin finds himself with 5 rookies in his starting lineup as regulars Jack Reynolds and Don Podziewski are lost because of injuries.

Providence College raised hockey to a varsity status and the swim team is joined by tennis and golf clubs on an informal basis.

Harry Coates' track team ends short season winless but Joe Madden's running enables the veteran coach to term it successful.

There is the picture of the year in review, not sensational, but certainly newsworthy. And the few seniors that are leaving the above clubs know better than anyone else that it won't be an announcement that puts P. C. back on the map next year, but one of the most successful athletic composite won-lost records ever attained in a P. C. sports year.

Look To Next Year Varsity Loses To Brown But Frosh Remain Undefeated

By Bernie Dandy

Last Saturday at the 17th Eastern Intercollegiate at White Stadium, Joe Madden ran the best race and the finest two miles of his college career as he copped the race in 9:51.4 minutes. Joe stayed on the shoulder of Cameron of Bowdoin for seven and one-half laps, then sprinted home to win by 30 yards. Jim Flynn also took a first in the javelin with a fine toss of 172 feet 5 inches. Bernie Dandy ran second to Bill Smith of B. U. hanging to his shoulder until the Terrier ace left him at the last straightaway.

The freshman sprint medley team of Rourke, DePaulo, Fahey and Farley outclassed all competition as they ran 3:39.6 minutes in their winning relay. Earlier in the week, the frosh track squad closed their season undefeated by nipping Brown 70-69, while the Friar varsity bowed to the Bruin varsity 75-60.

Jim Molloy was a double winner as he scored impressive victories in the high hurdles and low hurdles. Whitey Dowling, this year's track captain, breasted the tape in 52.7 in the 440 as he ran his final race for the Black and White. Another winner was soph Joe Madden who romped home in the 2 mile run. Fahey, DePaulo and Aron led the frosh in the conquest of the Bruin yearlings.

In closing we are prognosticating better things for the P.C. track team. The freshmen will add strength in the running events and provide the neces-

Bell, Flynn In Tennis Final

Bill Flynn and Andy Bell will meet today to decide the winner of the first all-college tennis tournament as both earned the finals by decisively scoring victories in the semi-finals. Bell, along with Dave Geddes who was upset in the opening round was a pre-tourney favorite. Andy will be the favorite over a dark horse, fast flying Bill Flynn.

The under-dog Flynn will probably rely on his very potent serve while Bell is the master of the net. Here are the results of the quarter and semi-finals.

Bill Flynn defeated Ken Erskine, 6-2, 6-1.

A. LaBrosse defeated M. LaBrosse, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3.

Bernie Cabana defeated Georgie Shaw Martins, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3.

Andy Bell defeated Paul Hudson Fornier, 6-3, 6-2.

sary field event men for a winning team. We are saddened by the irreplaceable loss of our graduating seniors Chris Lohner, Jack Dowling, Dave Kehoe and Jim West. But we look forward with a vengeance to next year's season.

Drury, Buniva Twirl Nine Past Clark, Brown

By Walt Avery

Playing their best ball of the season, the Friar nine took two important victories from Brown and Clark and then dropped a heartbreaker 4-3 to Springfield last week. All the games were played away and were decided on the hitting performance of Woods, Ryder, Reall and Kelly. Art Aloisio was the big sticker in the game at Springfield, but it proved in vain as the second place New England contenders for the NCAA title ruined a winning streak of the Friars at three games.

The all important win was staged across town at Aldrich Field, the home of the Brown Bears. Wasting no time in notching their sixth win in fourteen starts, the Martinmen produced two big runs in the opening stanza. Moffat, pitching for the Bruins walked Aloisio and then yielded consecutive singles to Reall and Howe scoring Aloisio. Capt. Ryder then hit a sacrifice fly scoring Reall.

Loaded the Sacks

Again in the fourth, after the Bruin's pitcher loaded the sacks, Bob Reall connected for a long double to left-center scoring Romberg and Woods. This ended P.C.'s scoring, enough to capture the win. Carl Buniva pitched superb ball although handing out 13 hits, he seemed to throw the right pitch in the clutch.

The day before saw the Friars travel to Worcester and carry home a 6-0 victory over Clark University. It was Pete Drury that Martin called upon to pilot the nine to victory. He scattered four hits and fanned seven batters for the afternoon. Dave Kelly, replacing Aloisio in right field had a perfect afternoon, notching 2 for 2. The Friars again jumped to a 4-0 margin in the first stanza and then added single tallies in the 4th and 6th.

Woods May Be Discharged Today

It was announced today by Father Begley that shortstop Bob Woods, injured in the Springfield game, will be released some time this week from Mercy Hospital in Springfield. The condition of the fine infielder was listed as serious, but not critical. Woods will leave directly from the hospital to his home in Chelsea, Mass., for rest after his discharge. His injury was diagnosed as a fractured skull and not a concussion as reported earlier.

Tom McAleer will also be lost to the club for the remainder of the season due to an arm injury.

Also on the hospital list is sophomore pitcher Jack Lundborg, who was hit in the head by a slipped bat, and is now under observation at Roger Williams Hospital. Lundborg's injury required several stitches.

The resolution was presented by Representative Philip Leonardi, '56. Mr. Doherty was presented with a copy of the resolution by President Asciolla.

Father Slavin addressed the Congress on various topics which are currently confronting the student body.

After Father Slavin's speech, the Congress adjourned to Johnston Memorial Park where the legislators held their annual picnic.

Club Elections

Michael O'Keefe was elected president of the Providence College Ski Club at elections held this past Friday. Other officers elected were Gerald Maillet, vice-president, and Mark LaBrosse, secretary-treasurer.

Nicholas J. Rapoza, '55 of Raynham was elected president of the Taunton Club of Providence College at the club's Annual Meeting yesterday.

Other officers chosen were John J. Silva, '57, vice president, and sophomore Edward F. Campbell, secretary-treasurer.

Last Wednesday night the Camera Club held its annual banquet at the Top Hill Restaurant. Donald J. Stubbs, president of the club, conducted election of new officers for next year. The officers for next year will be: President—William B. Fleck; Veep—Paul Patrick; Secretary—Charles Curran, and Treasurer—George McLaughlin.

The undergraduate group of the Kent County Club of Providence College held their annual banquet last Thursday at the Club 400 in West Warwick, R. I. A turkey dinner was the order of the day, and all present expressed their appreciation for a fine meal.

The main business was the election of officers. Those men elected were: Arthur McGrath, president; Thomas Bonniol, vice-president; Edward Higgins, secretary; and Brian Wynn, treasurer. All are of the class of 1955. Social committee co-chairmen and a public relations director were also elected.

Liturgians Visit Abbey

On May 15 members of the Liturgy Group, accompanied by their Moderator, Father Jurgelaitis, visited St. Joseph's Abbey at Spencer, Massachusetts.

The group participated in a tour of the Abbey, a fieldstone structure, which combines Romanesque and Cistercian architecture. Later they were shown the Guest House, where men on retreat are accommodated.

QUESTION:

What makes a
Lucky taste better?

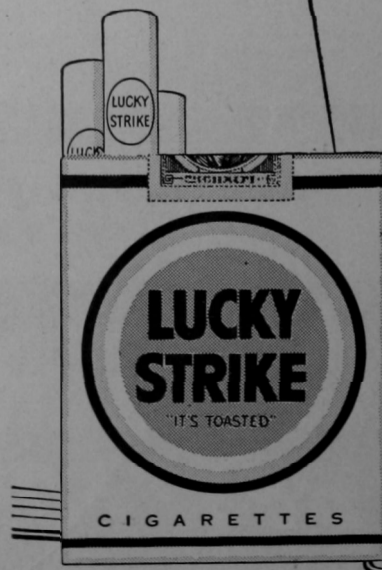

ANSWER:

"IT'S TOASTED"
to taste better!

No question about it, Luckies taste better to thousands of college smokers.

No question about the reasons why Luckies taste better, either. Today, nearly everybody knows L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And that fine tobacco is toasted to taste better.

"It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—brings Luckies' tobacco to its peak of flavor . . . tones up this light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. So enjoy better taste in your cigarette. Be Happy—Go Lucky!

Luckies taste better cleaner, fresher, smoother!
