Bishop Celebrates Grotto Mass; Warns Of Contemporary Dangers

Most Rev. Russell J. McViney, D.D., LL.D., Bishop of Providence, formally opened the 34th academic year of Providence College with the Mass of the Holy Ghost Monday morning at the War Memorial Grotto.

Speaking to the faculty and student body, Bishop McViney reminded the students of the dangers we face in our generation. He said, "Each one must take his stand on one side or the other", adding, "I admonish you, save yourselves from this generation." The Bishop pointed out that we can learn by the faults and examples of others. "Seek out those who give good examples and shun those who are not of good faith", he stated.

In presenting Bishop McViney, Very Rev. Robert J. Slavin, O.P., S.T.M., President of the College expressed the appreciation of the faculty and student body to the Bishop for opening the academic year. Father Slavin told the students that God must be the center of education as everything else in our lives.

The Bishop's chaplains were the Very Rev. William F. Murray and Rev. Lewis Dunn, vice-chancellor of the diocese. The Glee Club, directed by Rev. Leo S. Cannon, O.P., sang at the Mass. The hymns included Concordia Laetitia, Veni Deus, Ave Maria, and Emitte Spiritum.

Bohlin Chosen Prexy Of Officers' Club

The Cadet Officers' Honor Club has elected officers for the coming school year. Harry Bohlin, Regimental Colonel, was elected president of the group. The remainder of the slate includes Frank Moretti, vice-president; Robert Nolin, secretary; Richard Larson, treasurer; Richard Fontaine, special-services officer and Paul Burke, club historian. Captain John G. Kamaras acted as advisor.

Bohlin was one of the eight cadets from P. C. to attend summer camp at Fort Story, Va. He ranked in the top ten per cent of that group.

VERIDAMES' MEETING

The first meeting of the Veridames of Providence College will be held on the evening of Oct. 8, at Harkins' Hall. A special invitation is extended to the mothers of the members of the Freshman class to attend this meeting and join the group.

College Nite School To Offer Lecture Series On Sports

"Sports Appreciation and Leisure Time" is the name of the new course in the Adult Education School which begins here on Wednesday night.

"Sports Appreciation" will be presented by the Athletic Department in cooperation with the Alumni Office and the sports staff of the Providence Journal-Bulletin.

The course will be held one night a week for eight weeks, and each meeting will be devoted entirely to one sport. A panel of experts will discuss the particular sport from the viewpoint of maximum spectator enjoyment.

The opening night will be held Wednesday night at 7:45. The succeeding meetings will be on Monday nights at the same time.

Football will be Wednesday's subject, and the panel will present Coach Alva Kelley of Brown; Coach Hal Kopp of the University of Rhode Island; Coach Jack Cronin of La Salle; and Barney Madden, sports editor of (Continued on Page 3)

Blackstone Valley Club Proposes October Dance

The initial meeting of the Blackstone Valley Club of Providence College was held on Monday, September 29, at St. Mary's School in Pawtucket. President Bob Nolan, on behalf of the club, greeted a large delegation of freshmen from the valley area. Official business of the meeting included the discussion plans for an October dance and the annual New Year's Eve party.

Committees will be named for both functions at a later meeting. A plan for a book pool was introduced by Mr. Nolan. This pool would be designed to gather, from among the members, all texts that would be useful to any of the students in their studies. The books will be loaned to any of the members who wish them. The next club meeting has been called for the second week in October.

Lamy, Martiska, Tiernan Senior Rivals; Thirty-Four Candidates Vie For Office

Editorial

After reading all the answers to the questions proposed in last week's COWL, we have reached definite conclusions as to the stand to be taken on each question. Our first question was pretty general and the answers were likewise. We bear the responsibility for this vagueness. In some cases our second question was answered quite forthrightly and inclusively, however, in other cases the answers were cloaked in ambiguous phrases. (We refer you to the statement of the candidates themselves.) When put to the test on our third question; the one involving free bids, most of the candidates stated that they were not in favor of free bids.

It is the editorial opinion of the COWL that anyone who subscribes to this system of hand-outs should be defeated. In past years it has been the policy of some petty office-holders to award their cronies with tickets and tuxedos. This practice must never again be revived.

When asked to state, in the event of their election, how many committeemen they would appoint, the answers in general became nebulous, with the usual reply being "a minimum." We don't expect anyone to reply in minute detail, but we do believe they might have tried a bit harder to come up with understandable answers.

Our fifth question contains complications which we admit we did not foresee. The difficulty lies in the problem of whether or not the Student Congress has jurisdiction over the classes. We believe they do, although there are good arguments on both sides.

As regards our sixth question, most of the candidates don't realize the import of the question. We will endeavor in future editorials to explain what such a governing body would mean to the regional clubs. Those who have taken an affirmative view about forming a federation have shown a real understanding of the question.

In conclusion we would like to inform the students that one of the Junior candidates, despite the fact that we did contact him, has not submitted answers to these questions; another Junior has been lax in his student Congress attendance having attended only two out of eight meetings.

We wish to thank the candidates for complying with our request. We feel that they have furthered school spirit in this manner.

Drury, Pangborn, Wille Seek To Be Junior Class Prexy

The Student Congress announced officially today that thirty-two upper-classmen have filed nomination papers to run in next week's class officer elections.

Assemblies at which these candidates presented their platforms were held yesterday in Harkins Hall Auditorium. Elections will take place on the 6th, 7th and 8th of October for Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors respectively.

A dozen Seniors are running, three for each office. They are: Alfred A. Lamy, John Martiska and Robert O. Tiernan for President; Francis B. Brown, Henry A. James, Jr., and Andrew F. Resnisky for Vice-President; Jerry Harriman, Frank A. Merlino and James Neilan for Secretary; and J. Gerald Fleming, J. Peter Lynch and John McCarthy for Treasurer.

Tertiaries To Meet Tomorrow Evening

The third Order of St. Dominic will hold a meeting in Aquinas Hall Chapel tomorrow evening, October 2, at 7 p.m.

For those members who cannot attend tomorrow's meeting, an additional session will be held Friday, October 3, at 11:45 a.m., in the chapel. If there remain any members who cannot attend either of these meetings, they are urged to contact Father Rubba, the director of the Tertiaries, or his assistant, Father McHenry.

The Third Order, for those who are unfamiliar with its operations and requirements, is an association of faithful followers of Christ who unite in advancement toward God. It should be remembered that the Third Order was not drawn up for the perfect, but rather for those who seek perfection, that they might be better disposed to achieve their end—perfect happiness.

Friars Club To Initiate Year's Activities With Dance Friday

Harkins Hall will be in a festive mood on Friday night when the Friars Club, campus hospitality organization, sponsor their first dance of the current year, the Friars Club dance.

The purpose of this dance, according to club president David Nani, is to arouse and rejuvenate school spirit and to bring the club back to the high standard which it has enjoyed in past years.

Admission prices for the dance will be 50 cents for the students, 25 cents for the girls and 75 cents, couples.

President Nani expressed the hope that everyone who is able, will attend this dance because, as he puts it, a fine time is assured to all.

This event is the first Friar Club activity of the year. The proceeds gained from this affair will be used to augment the organization's plans for the year. In the ensuing months the club will entertain visiting teams, conduct program rallies, present various medals and trophies to various teams and print basketball programs.

The success of Friars Club for the current year is largely dependent on this dance.

Candidates' Platforms

These are the answers to the questions put forth by the Cowl in last week's issue requesting the class officer candidates to state their stand on specific issues:

Question 1—Why should you or your party be elected rather than that of someone else?

SENIORS:

JOHN MARTISKA—Profit Party

"We believe, to paraphrase St. Paul, there is neither day-hop nor dorm student, but rather that all seniors are members of the class of 1953 and will be given equal success to committee assignments."

AL LAMY—S. A. Party.

"It is the aim of this party to bring action and spirit to the class and the campus. In order to have a class with spirit and action, one must have leaders in whom these qualities are instilled."

ROBERT TIERNAN—Unity Party.

"The unity party has the experience and leadership to unite the seniors of 1953. We have many outstanding seniors and it will be my aim to make the senior class outstanding."

JUNIORS:

JIM WILLE—Junior Alliance

"Our party should be elected into power for the following reasons: We are more experienced than any of the other candidates for office. For two years every member of the Junior Alliance has been instrumental in the success of all the class sponsored functions."

PETER DRURY

"This is the year in which we, the junior class, have the biggest dance of our college career, the Junior Prom. We therefore need someone in office who has had experience and I think I have gained that experience during the last two years."

JOSEPH PANGBORN

"Unavailable for comment to any questioning."

SOPHOMORES:

GEORGE LEWIS—Friarcrats

"We believe that we have the experience and capabilities to run the affairs of the sophomore class successfully."

LEN RILEY—4 - 4 - U

"The approach made by the 4-4-U party to the campaign itself, through early advertising in this publication and the posters put up by it at various places around the campus, speak for themselves. The 4-4-U party, with a solid foundation of organization and activity and a constructive platform built around interested, active members of its class, is very indicative of things to come. This party, if put into office, can and will do a good job of organizing the soph class and directing it through a spirited successful year."

Question 2—What are the specific policies by which you intend to arouse school spirit in your class?

SENIORS:

AL LAMY

"We think that the party has aroused interest and stamina of the entire student body by posting the various senior action posters on the campus. As seniors and leaders we intend to carry out a vigorous campaign and thus set an example to be followed by others."

JOHN MARTISKA

"We believe that the seniors should vote on the athlete of the year award and attempt to get prominent speakers. Since school spirit has to begin with the individual, the members of the Profit Party will attempt by their own example to foster a strong spirit of class unity and devotion."

ROBERT TIERNAN

"I will institute a constructive program calling for 16 new features to our fall festival. I plan to have periodic meetings with the members of the class to bring them closer together. I believe by doing this I will help to unite the disorganized groups of the class and will interest the disinterested in the activities of the class."

JUNIORS:

PETER DRURY

"Mr. Drury answered all questions put forth, but we believe that through an oversight on his part he did not answer the second question."

JIM WILLE

"This is a hard question to answer, but this is the way we think that school spirit can be aroused. If the other clubs in the campus, not mentioning any names, do not feel that a rally can aid the athletic teams in any way, we do. Rallies are great moral builders, and without moral there is no spirit. We also would like to make it possible for every member of the student body to attend these events."

SOPHOMORES:

GEORGE LEWIS

"I believe that more pep rallies would create more school spirit. I feel that the school spirit stems from the students themselves and it is only through the efforts of the entire class that better school spirit can be accomplished."

LEN RILEY

"A successful memorable soph hop will be the first step the 4-4-U party takes on the road to developing the now dormant spirit of the class. More activity, both social and otherwise in which the sophs could work together as a class will help us to make our class one of the most united groups on the campus."

Question 3—What are your views on free bids and the number of committeemen you intend to put on your dance committees?

SENIORS:

AL LAMY

"We on this party, plan to use as many committeemen as we deem necessary to make the affair a success. The slate of candidates on this ticket are firmly against the issuing of free bids because we believe that every senior should be honored to serve his class; but we do believe that he should be justly rewarded in some manner as seen fit by the President of the class and his officers—mainly a banquet."

JOHN MARTISKA

"The profit party is opposed to free bids. While there is some validity to the argument that free bids offer an inducement to students to take part in activities of the class, we think that no inducement is necessary if the right men are chosen for the committee. We believe that free bids are a poor substitute for school spirit."

BOB TIERNAN

"The practice of giving free bids to members of the committee is opposed to the idea that they volunteer to give their time and efforts."

JUNIORS:

PETE DRURY

"In the two years that I have been president of the class of '54 there has not been one free bid given to anyone and this year is no different than any other year. I am opposed to giving free bids to anyone. The number of committeemen should vary according to the work each committee has to do. But the number of men on each committee really doesn't matter. Any person who wants to be on a committee should be placed, after all, this is a dance

Thumb Nail Sketches

In an effort to acquaint the students of the various classes with the various candidates, the Cowl is publishing the following thumb-nail sketches of the candidates.

Brown, Hope High School, '49, is a political science major. He is a member of the Providence Club and the Veritas. James, from Newport, R. I., is an economics major. He is President of both the Newport and St. Antoninus Clubs. Resnisky, Mt. St. Charles High School, '49, is a political science major. He is President of the Hartford Club and in the Carolan Club.

Harriman, St. John's Prep, Danvers, Mass., '49, is an education major. He is in the Cowl, Carolan Club, and the Greater Boston Club. Merlino, Mt. Pleasant High School, '48, is a political science major. He is secretary of the Camera Club. Neilan, La Salle Academy, '49, is a Business Management major. He is in the Providence and Ski Clubs, was on last year's Junior Prom Committee, and is director of movies for the homebound.

Fleming, Coyle High School, '49, is an education major. He is a member of the Taunton Club and the Cowl. Lynch, Hillhouse Academy, '49, is a chemistry major. He is in the Friars, Carolan and New Haven Clubs. McCarthy, St. Raphael's Academy, '49, is an education major. He is a member of the Providence Club.

Space will permit only thumb-nail sketches of the various Presidential candidates. Peter F. Drury, Jr., was Class President in both his Freshman and Sophomore years. James W. Wille was chairman of both the Freshman Frolic and the Sophomore Hop Committees. He is manager of WDOM. Joseph N. Pangborn, Jr., is majoring in Pre-Med. He graduated from La Salle Academy in 1950.

Leonard Riley is in the Student Congress, Phi-Chi Club, Secretary of the New Bedford Club, the Spike Shoe Club, track team, and the Cowl. George P. Lewis, De La Salle, '51, is a Pre-Med major. He is in the Glee Club and the Newport Club.

NEW JUNIOR CANDIDATE

Richard Horn, Business student from Pawtucket, is also a candidate for the office of Junior Class President. Having filed his nomination papers too late, he is not mentioned in our candidate's poll.

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE,

Candidates' Platforms

for the junior class and if a junior wants to help out at his own dance he should be permitted to do so."

JIM WILLE

"We are definitely opposed to free bids for any member of any committee, chairmen, or officers. Need we say that this is not fair to the other members of the class who have to pay."

"There should be enough working committeemen to do the work efficiently and successfully."

SOPHOMORES:

GEORGE LEWIS

"I do not believe that any free bids should be given. I believe that a minimum of committeemen should be used on any committee."

LEN RILEY

"I believe that the ideal manner in which to insure a successful dance would be to appoint a small committee of interested, hard-working men who would receive free bids to the dance in return for services rendered. However, the selection of such a committee, regardless as to the methods applied would require a full year's work in itself, if carried out to specifications, and is not feasible. Therefore, a committee large enough so that no one of its members would be called upon to do too much work, and selected with the notion of a successful dance foremost in mind, would be appointed. Due to their number these committeemen would be required to pay the full price for their bids to the dance."

Question 4—How do you intend to make the class dance a success?

SENIORS:

AL LAMY:

"In this, our senior year, we have more dances than in any preceding year at the college. It is our intent to make them a success . . . by having every senior take part either as committeemen or as participants."

JOHN MARTISKA:

"We believe that after three years of shaky finances, it is fitting that the class in its senior year at Providence College, should finish in the black. This, we propose to do by intelligent planning of social functions, efficient organizations to conduct these affairs, and capable men to direct them."

BOB TIERNAN:

"By creating greater class spirit, the dances will naturally have a larger backing. Also, by keeping expenses to a minimum, we will be able to operate at a profit."

JUNIORS:

PETE DRURY:

"If we don't meet expenses, and I think we should, we could have a smoker or some other means to help the dance out. However, we have a good surplus of money on hand from our two previous dances and I'm positive we will again land in the black."

JIM WILLE:

"The only way a dance can be successful, is to have 100% turnout. This can be achieved by making the dance something that all would like to attend."

SOPHOMORES:

GEORGE LEWIS:

"I believe that by giving no free bids, the sophomore class can endeavor to make the dance a financial success. The success of last year's freshman dance was attributable to this very reason."

LEN RILEY:

"A well selected committee of interested, active men, working in close harmony with its class, will insure both a financial and social success for the dance. The actual details will be left to them."

Question 5—If you were elected president of your class . . . how would you vote on issue of free bids in the Student Congress?

SENIORS:

AL LAMY:

"If I am elected President, and thereby represent the class on the Student Congress, I will emphatically denounce any legislation of the Congress pertaining to the issuing of free bids. I have sincere faith in this central governing of the student body, but I do think that the right of free bids is up to the individual class presidents and their officers. It is not fair to those who follow, to permit the Congress to regulate any particulars which belong to an individual class."

JOHN MARTISKA:

"I do not believe that it is within the jurisdiction of the Student Congress to rule on such a problem. This is primarily a question to be solved by the individual class presidents."

ROBERT TIERNAN:

"As a member of the Student Congress I will vote against free bids."

JUNIORS:

PETE DRURY:

"I would fight to kill any Congress bill which would allow the Congress to try and tell the classes how to run their affairs. The class members would be insulted if they thought the men they elected weren't capable of running a prom without the Congress passing laws telling the class what they can do and what they can't do. Therefore, even though I'm definitely against free bids, I would vote against any bill which the Congress tried to pass in regards to the governing of class affairs, i.e. free bids."

JIM WILLE:

"Speaking for myself, as a nominee for the office of President, if I were elected, I would vote negatively on the issue of free bids. As stated above, the provision of free bids for the members of any committee is not fair to the other members of the class. When a man is nominated to a committee for a dance, he is done so for the success of the dance, and not to become a glorified freeloader."

SOPHOMORES:

GEORGE LEWIS:

"I don't believe that the Congress should rule on the issue of free bids unless an abuse occurs."

LEN RILEY:

"My opinion on free bids, previously expressed, would hold true in the Congress also, and would direct me to vote accordingly."

Question 6—Do you believe in the establishment of a central governing body for the college's regional clubs?

SENIORS:

AL LAMY:

"As to the federation of the regional clubs I am a staunch advocate of laissez-faire."

JOHN MARTISKA:

"Yes, with modifications."

ROBERT TIERNAN:

"The views of George Murphy's are in accord with my own and I believe that his plan is for the betterment of Providence College and therefore of great merit." (Editor's Note: George Murphy drew up a tentative constitution for the federation of regional clubs last year.)

$45.00 Worth Of Paint Used In Swabbing Parking Grounds

It is not commonly known on the campus that the parking lot, built for the convenience of the day students, cost the college thousands of dollars. In addition, the newly painted directional and spacing lines consumed forty-five dollars worth of paint.

The lines were so-planned as to insure the maximum number of cars in the parking area. When a student disregards these lines, he deprives one or more other students from finding space. To handle the overflow, other areas are open to student parking on the college grounds.

In spite of all these parking facilities on the campus, and Eaton and River Avenue nearby, students repeatedly violate the parking regulations.

Considered to be the chief reason for indifference was thoughtfulness on the part of the students. In order to remedy the situation, the Dean of Discipline instituted a thought-provoking penalty for violations.

As posted on the bulletin boards where students could not fail to see them, these following penalties were put into effect with regard to traffic on the campus. The first ticket means a five dollar fine. The second violation and ticket results in permanent restriction from the campus of the offender's car. As was pointed out, such a stiff penalty is calculated to prevent further violations by serving as a constant reminder to park properly. Then too, the responsibility for heeding the regulations is placed squarely upon the shoulders of the students using the parking facilities. No doubt a student will think twice before violating any regulations.

Akin to the parking problem is that of speeding on campus. As was also pointed out, the speed limit is fifteen miles per hour which is a reasonable rate of speed on the college grounds.

Since the new penalties were put into effect on September 22, only two violations were reported. Obviously, the fine has served its purpose and the students are to be thanked for their cooperation, and they are urged to continue it by obeying the rules and regulations.

Famed Dominican Author Visits College

Fr. Bruckberger Leader In Resistance Movement

By Bob Finneran

"I am very happy to be here at Providence College, the only Dominican Institution of its type in North America. I have heard many good things about the College, but this is the first time I have had the opportunity of seeing it." These were the feelings expressed by Reverend Raymond L. Bruckberger, O.P., in a special COWL interview with the famed commando-author-priest last Thursday morning. Fr. Bruckberger was here at the College assisting his nephew, Frank Bruckberger, a sophomore, to register.

Fr. Bruckberger, whose book, "One Sky to Share", won wide national acclaim, has led a life quite unlike that of an ordinary priest. Instead of entering the armed forces as a chaplain, Fr. Bruckberger chose the life of an ordinary fighting man, because he felt that a person whose life is dedicated to God should face greater perils than others.

FATHER BRUCKBERGER

Severely wounded near Paris during the defeat of France, he was taken prisoner by the Germans. After escaping from a German concentration camp he became a leader in the French resistance movement, serving as the chaplain-general of the movement.

The famed Dominican produced a motion picture in 1942, "Les Anges du Pêche," which won honors in France equivalent to the American Academy Award.

Author of several books, his latest and most famous, "One Sky to Share," is devoted to a large extent in praising America.

He particularly lauded the educational opportunities afforded the young people of this country.

Fr. Bruckberger was born in the southern part of France. At seventeen years of age he joined the oldest Dominican house in France, St. Maximin Monastery. He requested assignment to the United States in 1949 because of a deep curiosity to know America. He came to this country in May, 1950. He is presently residing in a new novitiate in Winona, Minnesota, where he is concerned mainly with writing books.

Fr. Bruckberger is high in his praise of America, its people, and its way of life.

175 Couples Attend Congress Dance

About 350 students and guests danced to the music of Ed Leonard and his orchestra at the first school-wide dance of the season last Friday evening in Harkins Hall, sponsored by the Student Congress. The dance ushered in the 1952-53 social season "most successfully in all respects" according to Roger Aubin, president of the Congress.

Miss Mary Dolan, President of the Junior Veridames, headed a large delegation of young ladies from that association and an additional group came from near-by colleges and nursing schools.

The proceeds from the dance will be applied to the Congress' project to purchase a set of permanent decorations for the auditorium.

CRANSTON CLUB TO MEET

PHIL-INS

Marciano "Makes Like Picasso"

By Putting Old Arnold On Canvas

PHIL GRIFFIN

Well, Rocky Marciano has fired the shot heard 'round the world, and everyone outside of Camden, New Jersey, is showing new interest in Al Weill's muscular young protege from Brockton. "Another Dempsey," all the folks hereabout insist. Their enthusiasm is pardonable. The Rock is the first bona fide champion these ancient plantations have seen in quite some time, but it seems that the hero of the piece still is a long way from summit of the mountain; that loftiest of all peaks in the world of fistiana.

Rocky was hopelessly behind when he felled the Champion with one desperate sweep of his muscular right (or left) arm. He was perhaps the most battered individual ever to be crowned king of the pugilists. A venerable old gentleman, christened Arnold Cream some forty or fifty years ago, had whipped this young upstart into near submission when suddenly the youngster "made like" Picasso and put old Arnold on canvas. Rocky proved a master painter indeed, for even the man's manager was stunned so badly he talked of retiring his "tiger."

Marciano Inspires Respect But Not Fear

Thus, it seems that the genial New Englander has the punch and the iron jaw necessary to be mentioned in the same breath with the assassin from Montana, but that's where the resemblance ends. For the man who made his way from the hobo jungles of the Southwest to rule the asphalt jungles of Manhattan was a far sharper puncher and a lot harder to hit than Weill's pride and joy. Alas, Mr. D. is still head and shoulders above the current crop, the "Brockton Belter" included. We just can't picture Jack laboring for 13 rounds to knock out a man more than 10 years his senior. Had the boy been as good as Dempsey, Walcott would never have reversed his decision to retire. He would have been glad to escape with his brains intact, but such wasn't the case. When the last tear had been wiped away, and the numbness had worn off, the "Pappy man" remembered the countless times he had his adversary on the brink of defeat, and decided to take another chance with that super charged right in hopes that he could put the upstart down for keeps this time. Joe will probably be knocked out again, but he's only human. As will be the case with every gentleman who can punch, Joe figures that Rocky can be hit and he's just the man to hit him. Marciano inspires respect; Dempsey inspired fear.

Araujo's Championship Drive Halted

As a sidelight it might be noted that while we were enjoying our respite from the printed page two young luminaries had their Championship Express momentarily derailed. Gil Turner, who was to be the next welter-weight champion of the world, was whipped by Kid Gavilan and Bobby Dykes. And the local lad, who for awhile vied with Marciano for popularity in these parts, George Araujo, was outpointed by a young man named Gon-salves.

Last week I created a misrepresentation when I mentioned that the basketball players would begin conditioning Oct. 1. I didn't mean to set any date or to imply that the school's facilities would be used. It's just that the players who wish to be in shape by the time the Nov. 1 deadline rolls around will start getting themselves in shape about a month in advance. However, if they wish to do any basketball playing, they'll have to produce their own equipment and do their shooting with no one to supervise but their teammates. The rule that states that no organized practice will be held until after Nov. 1 will be observed to the letter with no cutting corners.

Outdoor Court Would Help Hoopsters

The new ruling has brought out the need for an outdoor basketball court on our campus. From the time school opens till November the boys who don't run cross-country or play intra-mural football have no way to stay in shape for the basketball season. An outdoor court would remedy this situation and allow the players to get in shape without stepping on any toes. With that deadline in force, the Providence College Friars will have only one month of practice "under their belts" before the season opens.

New Monogram Members Named

Fr. Begley, Providence College Athletic Director, has announced the names of the new members of the Monogram Club. These boys gained admittance to the Friar letter-winners society by their performances in the 1951-52 seasons.

Phil Lynch, Hank McQueeney, Bobby Moran, Tommy Mullins, and Kenny Kerr are the basketball players honored. The first four are juniors, while Kerr is a sophomore. Kenny is somewhat unique in that he is one of the few Friar athletes to win a letter in his freshman year. This year frosh cannot participate in varsity sports. Ben Farrell and Jim Sughrue, both seniors, gained their manager's monogram.

The diamond luminaries so honored are Bill Mullins, Fred O'Neill, Ed Ryder, and Gerry Romberg. Romberg is the second of three freshmen to achieve the goal of all Friar athletes. Trackman Paul Methia is the third.

Trackmen to enter the club are Bob Lee, Bill Hennigan, Chris Lohner, Bill Newman, and Methia. They are joined by their manager, Bernie Masterson.

Coatesmen To Open Season At West Point This Friday

SPIKE SHOE CLUB
Bernard Masterson, president of the Spiked Shoe Club, announces that the meeting scheduled for September 26, was cancelled because of conflict with a cross country practice session.

Cuddy Named NAIA Director

Mr. Vin Cuddy has been honored again by his fellow coaches. The Friar mentor has been named District Chairman for the 32nd District (New England), National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, formerly the NAIB. Just last year Vin was elected president of the New England coaches.

This NAIA appointment isn't an honorary position by any means. It means a great deal of extra work for the coach, such as calling meetings, appointing certain officers, and designating committees, among other things. The only reward for this labor is a trip to the NAIA basketball tournament in Kansas City.

Vin is an officer in an expanding organization. The old NAIB has now enlarged its activities to include golf and tennis. He'll be a very busy man this year.

Intramural Race To Be Run Tues.

Intramural football got its 1952 baptism last week as the Worcester County Club bowed to the Providence Club, 7-0, in a No. 2 league game. League two plays its games on Tues. and Thurs. afternoons; League one on Mon., Wed., Fri.

Twelve teams are listed in league number 2. Many are old and familiar names, such as Senior Science, Kent County, Junior Arts, and the Cranston Club, but Larry Drew has a few new faces among his old hands who are back to fight for the right to meet Brown when the season reaches its end. The Bootleggers and New England All Stars are examples of the "New blood" in our intramural setup.

The intramural cross country meet, which seems to have generated a great deal of interest among the student body, will be held October 7. Conditions for participating appeared in last week's COWL, and they can also be obtained at the athletic office.

RIFLE TEAM SEEKS MEMBERS

M/Sgt. Oliver Allen has announced that new members are urgently needed for the rifle team. Freshmen are especially encouraged to join the rifle team in order that they may be trained properly for future competitions. All men with the incentive to learn or who have previous shooting experience are encouraged to contact Sergeant Allen.

Johnson, Lohner Will Lead Friars In Initial Tilt With Black Knights

By John Salesses

Captain "Pop" Johnson and Chris Lohner head the list of Providence College delegates to West Point next Friday. Lohner who is the Eastern Catholic College cross country champion, will be a likely candidate for first place honors.

The other members of the team slated to go on the trip are Herb Waters, Bill Hennigan, Dick Tiernan, Neil Sullivan, and either Len Riley or Paul Methia.

On last Friday Army, last year's IC-4A champions, defeated Villanova, 23-49. Corry and Olive placed first and second respectively, in this opening race for Army. The time was 22:44.

On October 17, the cross country team will run against one of our intra-state rivals, the University of Rhode Island, at Kingston.

This being the fall season, it should be well noted by all those interested in track that autumn is the best time of the year for competitive running. Those who wish to tryout for any track event should go out and get in shape now.

CHRIS LOHNER, ECIA CHAMP, who will lead the Friars track team against Army this Friday.

WDOM MEETING

There will be an important meeting of all members of WDOM tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in Room 300 of Albertus Magnus Hall. All students interested in joining the station for the first time are invited to attend, and all past members are asked to be present.

Yearlings Battle La Salle Today

By Len Riley

Freshman cross-country aspirants have been working out all this week and the team is beginning to take shape. Among the first out were Bill Allen from Cooperstown, N. Y.; Pete Walleck of Morristown, N. J.; Joe Madden of Brighton, Mass.; Bill Rooney of Stamford, Conn.; Walter Avery from Gilmore Academy in Ohio; Bill Nelson from Pawtucket East, and Al Ledoux from Tabor Academy in Marion, Mass. With this, the last week for the Freshmen to report, Coach Coates stressed that this call for the X-country men should be answered by all those Freshmen wishing to participate in track and X-country, as this conditioning is necessary in preparation for the indoor as well as the outdoor season.

The Freshman schedule opens today with the first of two meets with La Salle Academy here at Hendricks Field. Next is the Woonsocket meet followed by URI, Holy Cross, BU and Brown. The New England Championships at Franklin Park in Boston is the finale, and will serve as a good chance for our Freshman team to be matched with the best. With the tough schedule ahead of the team the need for more Freshmen can plainly be seen.

JIM WILLE:

"We don't believe that a central governing body should be formed to take away the power invested in the officers of any regional club. These men were elected by the club members because the members thought that these men were capable to administer the affairs of the club. If a central body is to be formed, it should be to aid the clubs in the performing of their various activities."

SOPHOMORES:

GEORGE LEWIS:

"No, because I believe in the independence of the territorial clubs. I believe that the Student Congress is presently doing a fine job in governing the clubs and that it should remain that way."

LEN RILEY:

"I believe in the establishment of an advisory board, not to be confused with a governing board, that would act as a median between the various regional clubs and collect information concerning social and financial progress made by the different clubs and the problems encountered therein. With this survey as a basis, they could offer helpful suggestions to the clubs that were attempting these various projects. The board would be composed of representatives of the regional clubs, and would be directed by officers elected from the membership and by the members."

'New World Writing' Features Literature Of Young Writers

During the late lamented summer months, the New American Library (a reprint house) embarked on a unique venture in the field of American reprint publishing. It is a series of books, of which the first has appeared, to be devoted entirely to the works of young writers. The title of the series is "New World Writing," and included in this initial volume are: Tennessee Williams, Christopher Isherwood, Thomas Merton, Shelley Foote and Gore Vidal, plus a number of lesser known personalities, some of whom richly deserve their present obscurity.

The notion of making available new and experimental literature to a large reading public has long been a dream of such imaginative editors as the late Maxwell Perkins, and to a certain degree it has been achieved by the smaller publishing houses, such as New Directions and the Dial Press; but the publishers of "New World Writing" seem to have solved the major problem, that of the financial risk, by issuing this work in an inexpensive (fifty cents) pocket-sized edition.

The publishers have enthusiastically entitled this volume "An important cross-section of current literature and criticism," and they go to great lengths in their blurb to explain that "... today's good writing is tomorrow's good reading for the millions." However, some of these authors are anything but important. They appear to be fasci-

WDOM To Begin 5-Day Programing

The Providence College radio station, WDOM, held its opening of the year last week in Albertus Magnus Hall. According to James Wille, station manager, a greater amount of interest was displayed at this gathering than at any other previous encounter.

Hope was expressed that WDOM would begin its broadcasting operations by October 6, and that the station could operate on a five-day basis. The broadcasting day will be from 2 p.m., till 8 in the evening.

Once again, an appeal for additional members was made. Anyone interested in becoming an active participant in the station's activities should contact either Mr. Wille, or go to room 300, Albertus Magnus Hall, between two and eight p.m., daily except Saturday.

Newport Club To Hold Thanksgiving Day Dance

The Newport Club held its initial meeting of the school year recently in Harkins Hall. President Henry James officiated.

Plans were made for a Thanksgiving Day dance to be held November 29, at the Middletown Town Hall, Middletown, R. I. Arrangements were also made for the raffling of a radio to raise funds for the club.

Write a Lucky Strike jingle!

No box tops! NO ENTRY BLANKS! It's easy!

Just write a 4-line jingle based on the fact that

LUCKIES ARE MADE BETTER TO TASTE BETTER!***

HERE ARE THE INSTRUCTIONS

1. Write your Lucky Strike jingle on a plain piece of paper or post card and send it to Happy-Go-Lucky, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y. Be sure that your name, address, college and class are included—and that they are legible.
2. Base your jingle on any qualities of Luckies. "Luckies are made better to taste better," is only one. (See "Tips to money-makers.")
3. Every student of any college, university or post-graduate school may submit jingles.
4. You may submit as many jingles as you like. Remember, you are eligible to win more than one $25 award.

Here's your chance to make yourself $25. Just write a 4-line Lucky Strike jingle, based on the fact that Luckies are made better to taste better.*

Then, if we select your jingle, we'll pay you for the right to use it, together with your name, in Lucky Strike advertising... probably in this paper.

Read the sample jingles on this page. Then get the gang together, break out the rhyming dictionary, and start writing. It's fun! And we're buying jingles by the bushel! Hint—if you can sing your jingle, it's a good one!

Hint—the more jingles you write, the more money you have a chance of making. Hint—be sure to read all the instructions!

*TIPS TO MONEY-MAKERS

To write a winning Lucky Strike jingle, you're not limited to "Luckies are made better to taste better." Use any other sales points on Lucky Strike such as the following:

L.S./M.F.T.
Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco
Luckies' cigarette-tearing demonstration
Luckies taste cleaner, fresher, smoother
Be Happy—Go Lucky
So round, so firm, so fully packed
So free and easy on the draw
Buy Luckies by the carton
Luckies give you deep-down smoking enjoyment

I've heard the same in every class—
In history, psych, and ec—
For cleaner, fresher, smoother smokes,
It's Lucky Strike, by heck!

I like a better-tasting smoke
And mildness counts with me.
So when I buy I keep in mind

Hub Club To Attend Bruins Hockey Tilt

The Greater Boston Club of Providence College held its introductory meeting in the Lounge at Aquinas Hall on Thursday, Sept. 25, 1952. At that time the thirty members discussed plans for the coming year. The object of this club is to establish a closer relationship socially between Friar students of the Greater Boston and Eastern Massachusetts vicinity.

At the meeting the club decided to start the year right by having the group attend the Boston Bruins hockey game on October 12, 1952. Other social gatherings will be discussed at future meetings. A reduction in dues and the entrance of a football team in the Intramural League was agreed upon.

Leading the group for this year are: Pres., Lew Ferretti, '53; Vice Pres., Dick Buckley, '53; Sec., Cliff Falk, '54; and Treas., Paul McBride, '54. The club's moderator is Father Quinn.

Which when it did catch
Reduced old Belinda to tinder.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editors:

Upon looking through this year's student handbook, I found that, as usual, it was chocked full of useful and interesting information. For example, on page 50 of the friendly guide, I discovered the following: "The speed limit on the campus is 15 miles per hour. This regulation is rigidly enforced." Needless to say, I took an oath right on the spot never to pilot my Stutz Bearcat at a rate of speed in excess of this. Also of interest was this item on page 51 of the aforementioned volume: "The speed limit on the campus is 20 miles per hour. This regulation will be rigidly enforced." It was at this point that I realized that two oaths would be necessary; and not being a man to squander his oaths, I thought it would be a wise move to write to you about my dilemma.

Now the 15 m.p.h. rule "is rigidly enforced," but the 20 m. p.h. rule "will be rigidly enforced." Here is my problem: When the second rule, the one which will be rigidly enforced, is rigidly enforced, will the first, the one which is rigidly enforced, be rigidly enforced, or laxly enforced, or not enforced at all? Further, although the one which is rigidly enforced presumably is being enforced, is the one which will be rigidly enforced being enforced, rigidly or otherwise, and at what time will it be rigidly enforced, if it has not already attained that status? I will be most gratified if you can clear this up for me.

Rigidly,

John Partridge

Editors Note: The speed limit is 15 miles per hour and is rigidly enforced.

Political candidates and other individuals who intend to advertise via the medium of posters are reminded that all such posters must be cleared with the Office of the Dean of Discipline before they are put up.

Secondly, advertisers are further reminded that scotch tape is not to be used as a securing agent on plaster walls.

nated by the weird and grotesque situation purely for its own sake, thereby losing any sense of identity with the reader.

For example, in one of these stories, "The Rites of Spring" by Wright Morris, an orphan boy is brought by a Texas farmer to his home to live. When they arrive the farmer's family is seen busily dressing and salting a hog, which is hung on a clothesline in the front yard. The farmer leaves the boy in the wagon, where he remains all night watching them. Finally they go to bed, but the boy is left in the wagon. Through his thoughts it becomes evident that he wants to be accepted by the family as one of them; however, his method of making this known is extraordinary, to say the least. When dawn arrives the boy can see the hog's decapitated body on the line and its grinning head lying in a pail. Acting upon some sort of self-identification with the hog, the boy climbs out of the wagon, raps the line around his waist, and, as the story ends, is left dangling alongside the dead animal, and feeling quite pleased about the whole situation. The only explanation I can offer for this turn of events is that the "boy" is in reality a neurotic midget. Perhaps Mr. Morris has another theory.

Despite its shortcomings, "New World Writing" contains some interesting and provocative literature, and can be read with pleasure by all those who appreciate new and genuine talent.

CHESTERFIELD FIRST PREMIUM QUALITY CIGARETTE TO OFFER BOTH REGULAR & KING-SIZE

LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE in AMERICA'S COLLEGES

Buy CHESTERFIELD Much Milder

BOTH regular and king-size Chesterfields are premium quality cigarettes and come in the smart white pack.

BOTH contain only those proven ingredients that make Chesterfields the best possible smoke: the world's best tobaccos, pure, more costly moistening agents (to keep them tasty and fresh), the best cigarette paper that money can buy—nothing else.

BOTH are much milder with an extraordinarily good taste and, from the report of a well-known research organization—no unpleasant after-taste.

BOTH are exactly the same in all respects. There is absolutely no difference except that king-size Chesterfield is larger—contains considerably more of the same tobaccos—enough more to give you a 21% longer smoke, yet costs very little more.
