

Election For Congress Will Be Held This Fri.

Election of Student Congress representatives will be held Friday, April 4, between 9 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. in the rear of Harkins Hall auditorium.

When nominations closed on Monday, eighteen candidates had filed their papers with the Congress Office. This number of candidates for positions is one of the smallest in recent years. Fourteen positions are open; four each from the Freshmen and Sophomore classes and six from the Junior class.

Assemblies for the introduction of candidates and their platforms will be held tomorrow, Thursday, in Harkins Hall. The Freshman assembly will be at 9:30 a. m. with Sophomore and Junior classes to follow at 10:30 and 11:30 respectively.

Election Congress officers will take place after the Easter recess.

In order to assure each candidate the maximum of support during the coming season all students are urged by chapter to Student Congress to vote. Since a candidate's support is measured by his success at the polls it is of the utmost importance for the students to turn out.

Tertiaries To Have Day Of Recollection

A brief, closed retreat for the Tertiaries of P. C., will take place on the last Sunday of the month, April 27. All Tertiaries who belong to the P. C. chapter are cordially invited to participate.

The program includes four conferences, recital of the entire rosary, singing of Compline, solemn Benediction and renewal of professional promises. Silence will be observed from 11 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., excepting an hour of recreation for dinner.

The day of recollection coincides with the close of the first anniversary of the beatification of the Dominican martyrs of Tonkin, raised to the altars by Pope Pius XII on April 29, 1951. Special prayers will be said for a gymnasium for the college to be being recited by the Tertiaries in honor of these martyrs, and appropriate spiritual bouquet for the occasion will be given by Father Slavin, president of the college.

In a letter to Father Slavin, Mr. J. M. Howard, secretary of the Committee on Professional Training of the American Chemistry Society, said: "I am pleased to advise you that the Committee on Professional Training (Continued on Page 3)

Henry Griffin

Henry Griffin Named "Alembic" Editor

It was announced last week in the Alembic office that Henry P. Griffin, Class of 1945, was elected editor-in-chief of the Campus literary magazine for the coming year.

Griffin succeeds Edgar A. Kelley, who has the editorship for the past year.

Griffin, a sophomore Arts major, is a day student from Fall River, Massachusetts. He is contributor of a number of poems to the magazine, and, in addition, is the feature editor of the Cowl, the Providence College weekly.

Upon assuming the editorship, he urges all those students, particularly freshmen and sophomores, who possess creative talent in the fields of either the short story, poetry, or drama, to submit their material to the Alembic office for publication consideration. All material will be carefully gone over and constructive criticism will be given to every manuscript.

However, since it is hoped that another issue can be published during this present school year, students are urged to submit their copy as soon as possible. Any student desirous of having his manuscript returned need only accompany it with the standard self addressed envelope or call for it at the Alembic office.

PARKING NOTICE

Starting tomorrow the Student Congress will cease direction of parking in the school lot. It was announced yesterday by William F. McMahon, Student Congress president.

Parkers will be left on their own, McMahon said, with heavy fines to be imposed on violators. These fines will be payable to and will be enforced by the Rev. Charles V. Fennell, O. P., college bursar.

Senior Class Gift Is Chosen At Assembly

At a special assembly held last Wednesday morning in the auditorium of Harkins Hall, the senior class voted to give the class gift fund toward the construction of a pillar which will form part of the entrance way at the main drive at River Avenue and Eaton Street.

The change of plans from the previously announced gift of a basketball court was the result of a decision by the class gift committee that the class, itself, should decide what it wants to give. Among the possible gifts suggestions discussed at the meeting were: statues for the facade of Harkins Hall, a scholarship fund, a handball court, and a cinder track.

The proposed gift will be one of two pillars marking the main entrance of the college. Each of the pillars will be 16 feet high, 2 1/2 feet wide and 3 1/2 feet broad. The base of each will be 4 feet by 4 feet. On one there will be a bronze plate inscribed, "Providence College," on the other, "conducted by (Continued on Page 5)

Civil, Church Laws On Marriage Given

Civil and Church legalities encountered prior to the marriage ceremony were outlined by the Rev. William R. Clark, O. P., at the final lecture of sixth annual Providence College Marriage Forum held last Sunday night in the auditorium of Albertus Magnus Hall.

Speaking before a capacity gathering he declared that "civil and Church laws affecting marriage are necessary for the protection of the individuals who make up society. The element of protection cannot be over-emphasized, even though laws and restrictions are resented by a great number of persons today."

Father Clark also urged the couples to take advantage of all religious ceremonies accompanying the wedding (Continued on Page 6)

College Blood Drive Is Concluded Today

P. C. men responded to the nation's need for blood with a large increase in the number of pledges for blood donations, it was announced Monday by William McNamara, student chairman for the campaign. What was a poor showing turned into a good response during last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the final days of the campaign.

A mobile blood-bank has come from Hartford with a team of nurses and technicians, and will be in operation in the Harkins Hall Gym from 11 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. today. The unit began taking blood yesterday morning. This unit is under the direction of the Providence Chapter of the American Red Cross, and is sponsored by the P. C. Student Congress and the Cowl.

As today's schedule was not completely filled, any Johnnies-comelately who want to do so, may still donate their blood if they volunteer before 2:30 this afternoon.

Finalist In N. E. Debate Tourney

To Discuss Plans For Fine Arts Commission At Meeting Friday

A special explanatory meeting for freshmen, sophomores, and juniors interested in establishing an extracurricular music, drama, and art cooperative program in New England Catholic Colleges will be held Friday in the Student Congress office at 3 p. m. The meeting, called by Guy Geffroy, campus chairman of the National Federation of Catholic College Students, aims to enlist an interested nucleus of students who would be willing to stand and direct such a program, as a commission of the New England region of NFCCS stated here.

The plan will be outlined by Robert Elton, of the campus NFCCS committee. According to Elton, "NFCCS aims to benefit the whole student body through a concerted effort of all member colleges. One aspect of extracurricular activity not developed are the fine arts, and yet Catholics should certainly have cultural equality."

Some of the features of the proposed commission would be the encouragement of a higher caliber of Glee Club singing, with emphasis on Liturgical music; the publishing of a list by each member Glee Club of the numbers in their library for exchange; exchange of art displays (slides, films, art facts, etc.); exchange of original plays and musicals; and painting, poster, Glee Club recording, and play contests, the latter modeled on Blackfriar contests.

Commissions, whose form the fine arts group would assume, are service agencies within the National Federation of Catholic College Students, both nationally and regionally. Such groups as industrial relations, family life, student government, forensics (seated regionally at P.C.), etc. attempt to aid the member colleges in particular fields of extracurricular activity through intercollegiate cooperation.

The process toward chartering of a fine arts commission seated at P. C. by the New England region would require a presentation of plans by a member college and approval by the regional congress to be held in Boston May 2, 3, and 4. The usual initial action taken by the Federation regionally is to establish a committee in the field sought. The committee will then be raised to a commission by the next annual congress if it has proven its value to the region.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"Take your hat 'n goat and scr-r-ram!" Sheedy's girl said. "I won't give you a date, but your hair sure gives me a belly-laugh!" But-but-but—"he" barked. Said she: "Haven't you heard of Wildroot Cream-Oil? For well-groomed hair it can't be beat! Non-alcoholic. Contains Lanolin. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Relieves dryness. Removes loose dandruff." So Sheedy got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now every gal wants to hom in on his tinsel. Better milk 29¢ out of your roommate and hoof it to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter. Buy Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's favorite hair tonic. And ask for it on your hair next time you go to your favorite barber shop. Then no other goat will get your nappy!

Baristers Finish Fourth In Tourney

Holy Cross retained possession of the New England Forensic Commission Cup by defeating Albertus Magnus College in the finals of the second Annual New England Debating Tournament held last Saturday afternoon in the lounge of Aquinas Hall.

The Friar orators finished with Boston College and Merrimack in a three-way tie for fourth place. The P. C. Baristers compiled a 3-5 record, as against Albertus Magnus 5-3, St. Anselm's 4-4, Boston College 3-5, Merrimack 3-5, Stonehill 2-6, in the four rounds of debate.

Richard Buckley and Jovite La Bonte defended the affirmative and James Jackson and Eugene Voll, the negative for Providence College.

In the finals, Michael McNulty and John O'Connor of Holy Cross defeated Amelia Walsh and Marion O'Donohue of Albertus Magnus College.

Chosen outstanding debater in the tournament was Michael McNulty of Holy Cross. Medals for outstanding debating were also given to Henry Tkaczowski of Boston College, Rene Beauschep of Merrimack, and Joseph Fogarty and O'Connor of Holy Cross.

The awards were presented at a banquet held Saturday evening in the dining hall at Aquinas, by the Very Rev. Robert J. Slavin, O.P., president of the college.

Judges for the final event were the Very Rev. Pierre Conway, O.P., of the Providence College faculty, Professor Lavioie of Stonehill and John Lynch, moderator of St. Anselm's debating team.

Many Innovations To Feature This Year's Junior Prom

Those students who attend this year's Junior Prom will find the 1952 edition of the year's biggest social event one with many innovations. However, the committee in charge will also adhere to strict tradition by presenting a "big name" act, that of the "Glen Irish Gentleman," Art Mooney.

The selection of Mooney's aggregation as the tune-supplier was notable. Art is said to have one of the country's finest dance bands, and consequently will provide fine dancing, not just fine listening.

A major share of the work involved in planning the Prom has been done by the publicity committee. The corridors of Harkins Hall have been decked with attractive posters announcing and advertising the coming of Mr. Mooney and his group on April 25. These posters gave all information pertaining to the dance, right down to the contents for the selection of the Queen. The most striking feature of the publicity campaign was the giant banner in the cafeteria, the first thing "vols" greet the student's eye when he enters the "caf." To the publicity crew go plaquards for keeping the impending event before the students' eyes.

This year's program will be new, with the most pleasant change being the radical departure from the old-type favors. This year the girls entering the Billmore will receive a miniature replica of Friar Boy, with information on the college and the dance adorning each shoulder. This will be the first time the well-known Dalmatian will have been in attendance.

Friar Boxers Ready For Friday Night Bouts

8 Bouts Are Scheduled

By Martin Sandler
The ring is up, the officials have been selected, and everything is ready for the annual All-College Boxing Bouts which will take place this Friday evening.

The "Smoker" will be held in McKim Hall Auditorium and will begin at 8:00 o'clock sharp. This year, as in the past, the bouts will be sponsored by the Providence College Monogram Club.

One of the feature bouts of the evening will bring together John McMullen and Vin Callahan. McMullen, Rhode Island deathmatch champion, will be taking his first crack at organized boxing. He has adapted himself very readily to the art of self defense and should put up a strong showing. Callahan, however, is one of the finest boxers to appear in the tourney and should give McMullen the fight of his life.

Another feature bout will bring together Jim Marum and Bob Louth. Marum has looked exceptionally impressive in workouts and could easily become the outstanding boxer in the tournament. He is swift and has a very consistent left hand. Louth, however, is the tallest member of the squad and packs plenty of power in both hands. He could easily pull the big upset.

In another bout, Pete Apollia and Bill Harte will go against each other. Both are hard punchers who like to stalk their man while looking for an opening. A knockout is a good possibility in this contest.

One of the fastest bouts of the evening will take place when Dan Walsh attacks Jack Dupont. Both are extremely quick on their feet and are evenly matched.

In another three rounder, Gerry Hanrahan meets T. Ferris. Ferris, a good left-hander, will be out to deprive the more experienced Hanrahan.

In what should turn out to be a real slugfest, southpaw Ray Lavelle will take on the right handed Bill Hennigan. This bout should be a real thriller.

The contestants for the remaining two bouts will be picked from Art Daglio, Ray Farrell, John Izz, Bob Brady, Gene Hagna, Bob Flynn and Jack Gagan.

Announcer for the "smoker" will be Bernie Marfette. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Monogram club or at the Athletic Office for fifty cents. However, the price of tickets purchased at the door will be seventy-five cents.

It was announced that the fight would be over in time for the spectators to watch the Araujo bout that will be televised at 10:00 p.m.

McGuinness To Lead Diamond Squad

By J. William Saunders

One of the most versatile athletes performers at Providence College in the past few seasons has been Howard McGuinness, captain of the newly formed P. C. hockey team and captain-elect of this year's diamond contingent.

McGuinness is a resident of Providence and played his high school ball for nearby LaSalle. While at the Academy, Howie, as he is known by his teammates, was an all-state selection both in hockey and baseball.

Always a sparkplug and a highly polished infielder, Howie came into his own last year with a respectable .306 batting mark, playing in 156 innings. McGuinness stands one inch under six feet and weighs 170 pounds, which he uses to great advantage in burning up the basepaths and covering his shortstop area. Howard has a fine throwing arm which is indispensable in making difficult double-play throws and in throwing runners out from the "hole" between short and third. His speed makes him a dangerous threat when he is on base, and it also serves as a distracting element to opposing pitchers.

It was not until this winter that McGuinness had a chance to play college hockey, but he showed that the inactivity had done him no harm. A goalie, Howie was chosen captain of the team because of his past reputation and lived up to that rep as a young season progressed. He was in small way responsible for the successful debut of the P. C. hockey team.

Howie is presently preparing for his final season as a P. C. baseballer, and as captain he can be counted on to display qualities of leadership and team spirit combined with natural ability and hustle, all of which can combine to direct the Friars to another strong season, one which could be climaxed by their going to the NCAA playoffs in June.

Track Opener Set For April 18 As Coatesmen Run In ECAC

By John Saleses

Providence College's track team begins its outdoor season, at Seton Hall College in East Orange, N. J., two weeks from Friday, April 18. This meet will also be the Eastern Catholic Intercollegiate Athletic Championship meet.

Thirteen events have been entered by the track team. On Friday the one mile relay, two mile relay, and distance medley, which is divided into runs of a quarter mile, half mile, three quarter mile, and mile, will be run. The plans for Saturday include the mile relay, two mile relay, and the freshman medley relay. The other events in which Providence College men are entered are the Eastern Championship two mile relay, the E.C.I.A.C. medley relay, the E.C. sprint medley relay, the four mile relay, the 880 yds. E.C. relay, the 440 yds. E.C. relay, the freshman medley relay, and the broad jump and pole vault.

Last year the P.C. squad won the two mile and distance medley relays, and have a good chance of doing it again this year with Bob Tierman, Frank Luster, Dick Johnson, Jim Gannon, and others like Chris Lobner and Paul Methia to back them up.

Coach Harry A. Coates has a good group of men, who have returned from last years squad, among them are Capt. Jack Casady, Dick Tierman, Jim Penler, Dan Walsh, Art Corvess, and Bill Newman from which he has formed a nucleus for his team. The freshmen who will participate in this E.C.I.A.C. meet are Paul Methia, Henry Martin, Ed McAlister, Bill Horridge, William Murphy, and Bill Higgins. Bill Keenan will be P.C.'s lone entry in the broad jump.

The schedule for the track team is going to keep Coach Coates and his boys very busy. One of the meets in which they will participate is the annual Penn Relay to be held on April 25th and 26th. Providence College will run in this event in the sprint relay and perhaps the two mile relay. Also scheduled are dual meets with Brown on April 30, Holy Cross on May 2, and Tufts later in May. Other intercollegiate track meets P.C. will attend are the Eastern Intercollegiate on May 17, New England Championships on May 24, and the National Intercollegiate Championship meet on May 31.

The track team will also have a few representatives at the Norfolk Y.M.C.A. three mile road race on April 17, in Roxbury, Mass., and the five mile Canton Road race in which Dick Lister placed second last year.

Weight and field event men are very badly needed, and Coach Coates has sent out a call for these men. Also any freshman who would like to try-out for track should see Mr. Coates.

"Our students who have fulfilled the minimum requirement for professional training adopted by the American Chemical Society are eligible for membership, senior grade, in the Society within two years following graduation and after two years of experience in the field of chemistry."

"To each student certified by the Chairman of your Department of Chemistry, the Committee will issue a certification card. Forms for reporting such names will be sent to the Chairman in May of each year."

"Also, the Committee was pleased to know of the progress that Father Hackett has made towards the strengthening of the advanced courses in chemistry that are offered to your undergraduate students. In consideration of the moratorium of the National Commission on Accrediting to which the Committee agreed last December, we feel it best to postpone publicizing changes in the listing of the approved schools until the end of the current academic year. However, this will not affect the certification of your graduates for the present academic year."

Intrasquad Games Get Martinmen In Shape For Tilt Against Bates

By Phil Griffin

With the advent of pleasant weather, the baseball squad has taken some long strides towards getting in shape for the opener with Bates, April 24. Hal Martin has been putting the boys through intra-squad games in order that he might get a "line" on their capabilities. It appears that the Friar coach has a well-balanced crew at his disposal, and things look pretty bright at this early date for the Friars.

Hal has several capable performers in competition for mound duty. Foremost, of course, is big Bill Mullins, the hefty right hander, who serves golf balls up to the plate. "Mo" is as rapid as an arrow in the parts, and everything points to a big year for junior up Worcester way.

Outstanding port-siders who will see hitlury Bill McCann and Ed Sullivan. Both are capable veteran fighters and should take much of the burden of Mullins' shoulders. Last season Sullivan was cast in a relief role and he filled the bill in Bill Kinder fashion. Tommy Aris is another of this fine crew of veteran candidates.

Graduating from last year's strong freshman pitching staff are: Cid Buniva, Pete Drury, Fred O'Neill, and Don Podlewski. Drury was the Friars' ace last season, both as a starter and in relief. Pete is a left hander with good control and his share of "stuff." Buniva, O'Neill, and Podlewski are strictly "fireball" artists, and all three can "throw it by" a batter when things start getting warm. Buniva, pitcher, has delivered along in the Spahn line, while O'Neill reminds an observer of Vic Raschi when he sends in his deliveries. And big Don is a highly versatile lad, who performed in the outfield last season as a long ball hitter when he wasn't displaying his pitching wares.

While most coaches are adding gray hair as they try out third basemen and center fielders behind the plate, Mr. Martin has a prize backstop in Bill Quinn. But that isn't the end of it by any means. He also has Eddie Ryder from last year's freshman and "Beaver" Power, his jack-of-all-trades-master-of-each third basemen. Quinn was hampered by a bad leg last season, but he still did yeoman duty with the mask and mitt while sparking the Friar attack with his long drives. However, this year the gifted workhorse will have Ryder to lean on for relief, and of course, the omnipresent Mr. Power.

As things stand now Mr. Martin should have less pitching worries than Al Lopez, and Chuck Dressen will fret more when it comes to a coaching staff. If a capable replacement is found for Sam Nissel in center field, this strength "down the middle" could give P. C. the NCAA bid. But, while other coaches might be envious of his battery power, they're certainly not seeing green over the Friar mentor's schedule. Hal will have quite a job steering his crew through that gauntlet of the best opposition New England can offer. The end of May is a long way off for the Providence College baseball team.

the Dominican Fathers." There also will be a small plate on each indicating that one is of the class of '51, the other of '52. The cost of each is approximately $4,500, with the school meeting the additional expenses beyond the class gift fund.

I wonder if my answer's right

Interviews Are Offered By Placement Office

Seniors wishing to obtain positions after graduation are requested to see Mr. Maurice J. Timlin at the placement office as soon as possible since many interviews, both on and off the campus, will be held in April.

Students with a background in electronics are very much in demand this year, Mr. Timlin stated, but there are numerous jobs available in almost any field, since the larger firms have a variety of positions open.

Until early this week only 31 seniors had reported to Mr. Timlin. Of these, 22 have been placed and many others are well on their way to obtaining positions.

day, such as the nuptial Mass and the nuptial blessing. "Social studies have shown," he pointed out, "that people who get married in Church stay married longer, that is among those marriages which begin with religious ceremonies there are fewer divorces."

At the close of the Forum the assembled audience stood and recited the "Pledge to Christian Marriage" which is an acknowledgement of the seriousness and sanctity of the Sacrament of Matrimony, and a renewal of belief in "What God has bound together, let no man put asunder," the reverence due fatherhood and motherhood and the fact that in family life the child is paramount.

The committee, with the convenience of those who attend in mind, also boast another first. They have obtained reduced rates at a parking lot, readily accessible to the hotel, for all students attending the formal, let being located on the corner of Gaspee and West Exchange Street. Stickers to be placed on students' cars will be given to purchasers of bids.

All in all, the 1952 Junior Prom promises to be an excellent blend of old and new ideas, an affair which will be remembered for quite some time.

Musical . . .

Changes may be made during the progress of rehearsals, with the possibility of additions to the already planned eleven musical numbers.

Robert Deasy, treasurer of the Pyramid Players, is business director for the musical, and Joseph Boyd is stage manager. Music is in charge of George Meehan.

The musical will be held in Harkins Auditorium the nights of May 13, 14, 15 and 17, with a matinee also to be held on the last date.

Free Smokes Offered

Providence College students have a chance to win free smokes for the next four weeks from Chesterfield Campus representative James McCauley.

All you have to do to win is to correctly state the Chester fact which is inserted in the Chesterfield advertisement in this week's Cowl.

Letters . . .

of hearing a great many comments on it. They weren't all good by any means but at least they were reactions, which showed that whether or not the students liked the column, at least they were reading it. I always believed that a paper was published for the benefit of the people who read it. For the 24 years in which I had been a member of the Cowl staff, I have constantly heard "Any suggestions which will improve this paper are welcome." If this is so, why was a column which was one of the most widely-read in the Cowl dropped out? And if it had to be dropped, why wasn't any reason given? It seems odd that the same type of material which was good the two years previous should suddenly be unacceptable.

How about it? Let's have an answer in the Cowl so everybody can see it. I guess the writing of this is pretty futile because the Cowl rarely if ever prints anything derogatory to itself or its policies, but I just thought I'd like to give it a try.
