

Geffroy, Cronin Head NFCCS Group At Congress Sat.

Guy Geffroy and John C. Cronan will head a large P. C. delegation to the 6th Annual Regional Congress of the National Federation of Catholic College Students this weekend in Boston. The Congress, in past years the largest student convention in the United States, will feature legislative sessions, workshops in over a dozen fields, and an address Saturday by Louis Budenz.

There will be two other voting delegates from the college, as well as speakers at the forums in fine arts, and student government workshops.

To Hold Workshops
Joseph Quinlan, chairman of the regional forensics commission, Joseph Mulholland, vice-chairman, Richard Buckley, secretary, and an Assumption College student will be student speakers at the forensic workshop Saturday morning and afternoon at Boston College.

The Rev. Charles B. McKenna, O.P., chaplain, adviser to the forensic commission, will address the workshop Saturday morning on "First Get Your Audience." The afternoon session will consider holding art exhibitions, attention, student tricks, and a discussion of next year's program.

Marshall to Speak
Also on Saturday morning James Marshall, of the P. C. Student Congress, will address the student government commission workshop at Boston College. This commission is headed by Albertus Magnus Colgate.

The newly-formed P. C. fine arts committee, headed by Robert Elston, who is also entertainment chairman for the Congress, plans to hold a complete workshop to explain its proposed regional fine arts commission, covering drama, painting, and music. Other members of the committee are Richard Havens, who will speak on roving painting exhibits, John Carr, John Macedo and Marshall, who will speak on "Characteristics of Theatre-in-the-Round."

Another Rhode Island speaker will be Miss Kathryn Crawford, secretary to the Rev. David J. Coffey, diocesan director of the Fraternity of Christian Doctrine, who will give a

Sam Kart Selected For Senior Ball

Sam Kart and his nationally known orchestra will provide the music for the senior commencement ball at St. Ignace which was announced yesterday by George Meehan, chairman of the ball committee.

Kart has played extensively along the Atlantic Coast and in other parts of the country. For several years connected with the Sheraton chain of hotels, his music is noted for its smooth, social style.

Dancing at the affair will begin at 9 p. m., following the reception, set for 6:30 and the banquet at 7:00. Meehan, chairman of the ball committee, said few bids are left for the dance, and all members of the class should pick up tickets as soon as possible.

Payment for tickets already received, and the obtaining of new tickets may be done at the ticket booth in Harkins Hall. Chairman Meehan stated that because of the expenses that fall to seniors in the coming weeks it might be desirable to pay for their dance tickets as early as possible.

Finneran, Marshall New Cowl Co-Editors In Staff Changes

P.C.'ERS TO BE IN RHODE ISLANDER

Gibeault Appointed News Editor; F. Griffen Is Sports Editor

Robert E. Finneran and James J. Marshall have been named co-editors-in-chief of the Cowl, to succeed Joseph M. Ungaro and Leonard I. Levin, retiring co-editors. It was announced last week. In other staff changes, Phil Griffen was promoted to the post of sports editor and Donald Gibeault was made news editor. Finneran, a graduate of Johnson High School, North Andover, Mass., is a Junior, and has been a member of the Cowl staff for three years. Last fall he was named to the editorial board and at the start of this semester he was made news editor.

Marshall, also a Junior, has had two years of Cowl experience. A Fall River resident, he attended Tabor Academy and Coyle High. He was on the Cowl sports staff and served briefly as sports editor.

Griffen, a sophomore and a graduate of Bulkeley High, Hartford, has been on the Cowl sports staff for two years. Gibeault, a sophomore who comes from Central Falls, graduated from Sacred Heart Academy. He has had two years of Cowl experience.

"American Idea" Program Is Praised

The Rev. Adrian T. English, O.P., professor of history, will deliver the second lecture in his series in the college's TV program, "The American Idea, Yesterday and Today."

Tomorrow night, Father English will discuss "The Human Aspect of The Industrial Revolution." He will consider both the worker and the worker in the industrial age.

Father English inaugurated last week the new series of programs, which will run four or five weeks, with a discussion of the rapid development of the factory system. He has been the pioneer of educational television locally, has been lauded for its choice of material, and overall presentation of the program, according to a local publication and WJAR-TV.

The Rev. Philip C. Skehan, O.P., professor of political science at P. C., will succeed Father English, with Father Bergkamp returning next fall.

The program is presented every Thursday night from 7:15 to 7:30 over WJAR-TV.

Congressional Candidates Sweep Officer Elections

Robert L. Deasy, '53, was elected president of the PC Student Congress in balloting held Monday from 9 to one o'clock in Harkins Hall. He was a member of the Congressional Four, all of whose candidates attained the office they sought.

15 Original Songs To Feature Annual Musical Comedy

"I Lost My Chances," "Betwixt and Between," "Women and Wine" and "Nobody Knows I'm in Love" are just a few of the song titles to which students will be introduced the annual musical to be held May 13, 14, 15 and 17 in Harkins Hall. Curtain time for all presentations will be 8:30 p. m., with a Saturday matinee on the 17th especially for nuns and priests.

One complimentary ticket will be awarded to each student along with the privilege of purchasing an unlimited amount of duets at half price. The regular price of admission will be one dollar. These tickets will be available very shortly.

"Foiled Again" is the title of the extravaganza, a period piece satirizing an old melodrama. The time is around 1900. Briefly, the plot concerns the attempt to fix a football game by a certain "Simon Menace," who contrives to "frame" "Homer Homespun," star of the local football team.

There are fifteen original songs and a total of twenty musical numbers. In addition to those already mentioned, the songs with most promise include "Love Is a Fantasy," "You Can Never Be Too Eager," "A Pair of Stinkers," and "Education Is a Glorified Rut." The music is by George Meehan, with book and lyrics by Tom Kelley, Bill McMahon, and the Rev. John Lardner, O.P. Choreography is by Lou Murphy.

Principal members of the cast and their character portrayals include: Simon Menace: Bill McMahon and Tom Kelley alternating.

Dolla Brown: Barbara Brennan and Claire Ann McGroarty alternating. Hubert Wary: Jim Marshall. Mindless Lou Murphy: Homer Momespun: John Connolly. Hortense Hazard: Marlene Abbott. Patient: Primm: Norm Olean. Officer O'Callahan: Bob Finneran. Sergeant Tully: Jim Manix.

Mal Brown Award Is Renewed After Ten Years Of Dormancy

Donated By Mr. Conaty
To Honor Fanous
P. C. Trainor

The reactivation of the Mal Brown Athletic Award, which was discontinued in 1942, has been announced by Father Begley, Director of Athletics. The award consists of a plaque, which remains in the school, and a handsome gold medal, which is given to the winner.

The award will be given annually to the graduating senior who, in three years of intercollegiate competition, has shown to a marked degree, the qualities personified by Mal Brown.

Monogrammers Plan Gandy Dancers Ball

The Monogram Club will hold the Gandy Dancers Ball in Harkins Hall Auditorium, May 10. Dancing will begin from 8:30-12:00 p.m. It will be strictly informal and the attire will be worn as follows: Dungarees, slacks or pedal pushers for girls; overalls or fatigues for boys. Price is $1.50 with refreshments served.

In charge of the affair is Dan Walsh, Jerry Lembo, Dick Thorne, Norm Leslie and George Duchane comprise the ticket committee while Bob Tierman, Ronnie Gagon, Herb Waters and James Gannon are in charge of the publicity committee. John McMullen, Bud Keenan, Bob Prendergast and Bernie Masterson will handle the decorations. The band will be announced later.

SENIORS ARE ASKED TO GIVE
Seniors have been urged to make their contributions for the class gift as soon as possible by Walter Faulkner, head of the Class Gift Committee. So far, he announced, there have been relatively few contributors, and the pace will have to be stepped up if this year's gift is to be successful.

This year the class gift is a donation for the completion of the proposed pillars at the entrance to the college.

Accounting Training Series To Be Given

Business administration students at Providence College will learn the latest accounting techniques during a series of lectures and demonstrations of business machines and equipment beginning tomorrow, the Rev. Edwin I. Masterson, O.P., chairman of the department of business administration announced yesterday.

Conducted by the education division of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, the series of instructional periods will include lectures and practical illustrations in such fields as billing, accounts receivable, accounts payable, payroll, general accounting, cost accounting, budgetary accounting, bank accounting, microfilming and statistics.

Kent Club To Hear Judge John Mullins

Superior Court Judge John E. Mullin, 27, will be principal speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Kent County Club, April 30, in East Greenwich, it was announced yesterday by Chairman Thomas Cawley. The affair will be held at the Greenwich Inn, beginning with a reception at 7:00 p.m.

Providence College Alumni residents in the City of Warwick and the towns of Coventry, East Greenwich, West Greenwich, and West Warwick, have been invited and are currently being contacted by club members, headed by a special committee composed of Club President Victor Ellison, Edward Wilcox, vice-president, Henry Quinn, and Raymond Wilcox. The club's meeting will serve as the first reunion of Kent County Alumni in many years.

Aiding Cawley with arrangements are committeemen Donat Beaulieu, Murray Horowitz, John Clug, Edward Cleman, Guy Geffroy, and Quinn.

TALK ON RESEARCH IS GIVEN
A research project in advanced bacteriology presented by John M. McKenna, B.S. '50, was a feature of the New England Biology Conference held at Emmanuel College, April 19. McKenna is currently doing graduate work and instructing here.

Also present from P. C. were Frank Rannigan, also doing graduate work in bacteriology here, James Hagesty, John McGrath, Stephen Sulavik, Raymond McHugh, James Leach, and Joseph Antonelli, all biology majors.

Crowning The Queen

Miss Ann Lord Chosen Queen; Over 200 Couples Attend Prom

Over two hundred fifteen couples attended the annual Providence College Junior Promenade which was held at the main ballroom of the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel last Friday evening from 9 till 1 to the music of Art Mooney and his orchestra.

The affair was highlighted by the crowning of the queen, Anne Lord, of Westerfield, Conn., by the Very Reverend Robert J. Slavin, president of the College. Miss Lord was escorted by Carl Dobbler, a junior from Westerfield, Conn. She is a student at Simmons College, Boston, Mass. The queen's court consisted of Miss Sheila Brady, escorted by Henry James, Dorothy Corbett, escorted by Jerry Kirby, Claire McCarty, escorted by John R. Sullivan, and Irene Tobin, escorted by Tom Walsh.

An honor guard of ROTC cadets, led by Cadet Captain Richard Fontaine, escorted the queen, her court members of the faculty and junior class president Bill Conway to the head of the ballroom where the crowning was conducted. This was immediately followed by a dance for the queen and her court.

Some innovations noted were the favors which this year were miniature black and white dogs with a notation of the prom and class written on them. This change was noted with much favoritism from all reports especially by the young ladies. Another first was recorded in the radio broadcast of the prom over station WPRO from 11:30-12:00.

During intermission a quartet consisting of Jack Balkan, Bob Elston, George Lawrence and Lou Murphy entertained. Lucien Olivier also rendered a few songs.

The affair was considered a great success by the persons in attendance as well as by the class president and committee. Much credit must be given to all the various sub-committees which worked within the prom committee such as the publicity, entertainment, favors, tickets, and other sub-committees for the diligent effort they put forth to make the prom an outstanding success. Last, but not least, we mention Art Mooney who gave a fine account of his ability as a top notch orchestra leader.

Nine Battles Springfield Today; Face Tough Weekend Schedule Meeting Seton Hall, B.C. & A.I.C.

By Phil Griffin

Providence College successfully inaugurated the 1952 baseball season with an 11-7 victory over Bates last Thursday, but they lost a decision to Old Man Weather last Sunday when rain caused postponement of the Assumption game at Worcester. The Friar athletic department intends to schedule the Greyhounds for a later date.

Mr. Martin has quite a job on his hands this week. His steering crew tangles with Springfield today, then faces an unenviable weekend. Friday is Seton Hall day at Hendrick Field, then the boys journey forth to meet AIC on Saturday and Boston College on Sunday. Seton Hall is perennially tough. AIC owns a verdict over last year's club, and B. C. is once more a New England powerhouse. Springfield, by the way, was this area's representative at the NCAA tourney at Omaha last year. This week will really give the boys their chance to prove themselves under fire.

The Friars acquitted themselves nobly in the opener, but the Assumption rain-out hurt. It was obvious that the club could use a little more work before facing the imposing array of opponents that they do this week. However, their play was sparkling for so early a date, especially that of Don McDonald and captain Howie McGuinness.

Bill Mullins suffered from a lack of consistency and a couple of bad plays in the field, but the big right-hander had it when "the chips were down." Bill fanned 17, a remarkable feat, particularly at this stage of the season, and set ten of the Bobcats down on strikes in the last four innings. "Mighty Mo" had his shaky spot, but he was in control over most of the route. Many of the hits he gave up can be attributed to a natural lack of sharpness which he'll acquire as the season leaves the infant stage.

Big Larry Quimby, the Bates starter, got his lumps early and often, but he was still around at the end. Although the towering Bobcat didn't approach Mullins' performance on the hill, he deserved a better fate. He was the victim of atrocious support just when he needed tight fielding the most. On a couple of occasions Larry seemed to have put his finger in the hole in the dike only to have a bad play afield let the torrent through. Still, he might have emerged the victor had not Mullins shut the door and locked it in the last four innings.

Quimby was a surprise starter, so to speak. It was thought that the southpaw ace McAuliffe would get the nod against the predominantly left-handed Friar lineup, but he had pitched the day before. McGuinness and McDonald each combed Larry for three hits. Both boys looked like all-stars.

Buzz Barry made his presence felt, too, with two hits and a run driven over. McDonald's terrific shot to left-center was the game's longest hit. It looked like an inside the park homer, but after much debate, it was ruled a ground-rule double when the ball was discovered outside the fence.

TRACK PICTURES WANTED
The Athletic Office would like to see all pictures taken of trackmen. Cost of these photos may be charged to the office, since it is imperative that they be obtained. This notice applies to all photographers, and the deadline for submission is Saturday, May 3. These photographs are to be used as entries for the Olympic trials.

Frosh Open Friday Against Nichols; Play 8 Game Slate

Len Reilly

Coach Larry Reilly's freshman team opens its season with a game at Dudley, Mass., this Friday against Nichols Junior College. The remaining seven games on the team's schedule will be played during the next fifteen days.

The final cut completing the tryouts found Dick Houck of Lowell, Mass., and Lou Perrotti, of Providence, handling the first base duties. Jack Ferguson from Pittsfield, Mass., and Tommy Ryan from New Bedford, Mass., are working out at second, with George Ritz of Waterbury and Dick White from the same city at short. Jerry Romberg was counted on as the freshman shortstop, but an injury to Duchamont forced Max Mullen to move Romberg up to take over the varsity second base job. White, a second baseman, and Ritz, a third baseman, have both been trying out at short.

Third base will be guarded by Al Vaghi of Bethel, Conn., or Pete Bransfield from Portland, Conn. The outfielders are Jack Lavault of New Bedford; Jack Higgins, of Pawtucket; Jean Goulet, of Worcester; and Dave Kelley, of New Haven.

Opening day will find Tom McAleer on the mound, with Hack Villano doing the catching. The infield will have Howe at first, Ferguson at second, White at short, and Vaghi at third. Roaming the grasslands will be Higgins in left, Kelley in center, and either Lavault or Goulet in right.

Mal Brown . . .

The award will be given preferably to a senior who has taken part in more than one sport. The contestants will be judged chiefly on their sportsmanship, courage, and honor.

The donor of the award is Mr. Edward P. Conaty, 33, who is at present the Director of the Budget for the State of Rhode Island.

The award will be presented on parents night, June 2nd. It will be the second athletic award presented that evening. The Dr. Holland Award, given annually to the outstanding senior baseball player, will also be presented that evening.

Mal Brown, for whom the trophy is named, was the beloved trainer of Providence College athletic teams for twelve years. Admired by all who met him, "Mal" was one who seemed to possess the highest character possible.

Past winners of the Mal Brown Award are James Leo (1940), Charles Avedeskan (1941) and Horace Marone and Robert Reilly (1942).

The judging committee for this year's award will be made up of coaches of Providence College teams, newspapermen, and the athletic director of Providence College.

Friars To Face Intra-State Foes; Meet Brown in Dual Meet Today, R. I. Rams On Friday Afternoon

By John J. Salesses

Providence College's track team will have dual meets with its two intra-state rivals this week when the squad meets Brown today at 3:30 and the University of Rhode Island on Friday.

This afternoon the P. C. varsity and the frosh team will have separate meets, but on Friday they will work together to subdue the men from Kingston.

The Costermans, who will run in these meets, are full of spirit and vigor and will be trying hard to overcome Brown for their Coach, Harry Coates, and for Frank Sherman, the new assistant coach, who has worked hard to get the men in shape for this event.

A big question mark hangs over Jim Penler, and all interested in the team hope his leg, which has been injured for the past two weeks, will be in shape for the Brown meet. Dan Walsh and Art Corvess will be the other two entrants in the sprints. Cap' Jack Cassedy, Bob Teirman and Dick Teirman will run in the quarter mile. In the half-mile Jim Gannon and Chris Lohner will be the top contenders. Lohner will try again in the mile along with Herb Waters and "Pop" Johnson. Distance men in the two-mile run will include Dick Lee and Bill Hennigan. In the field events, Ken Pedersen and Dick Curran will be throwing the weights around. Three entrants in the javelin-throwing event are Jim West, Ralph Peterutti, and Ronnie Fiero. Jim West and Keenan comprise P.C.'s best in the pole vault. Keenan will represent the broad jump along with McMullen who will repeat in the hurdles with Jim Gannon, Frank Lusier and McMillen will be reaching for the heights in the high jumping event. This completes the roster of the P. C. squad, and these men will be fighting to win laurels of these meets.

Some of the outstanding freshmen who will meet Brown this afternoon are Paul Methia and Cornelius Sullivan in the distance runs, Ed Malcolm in the pole vault, and Mike Biscanti in the field events.

Why not come over to Aldrich Field this afternoon and watch our track squads best Brown.

To Give Awards

Mr. Lawrence Drew, director of intramural sports, has announced that the medals for the various intramural sports may be picked up in the athletic office. Providence Club had a very good year, winning both the youth football and basketball championships.

To Give Next Draft Test On May 22

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, today announced an additional Selective Service College Qualification Test to be held May 22 at 1,000 testing centers for the benefit of students prevented by illness, emergencies or some other reason from taking the test on December 13, 1951, or April 24 of this year.

General Hershey also has repeatedly stressed that no deferment is an exemption. "A deferment is a delay or postponement," he said, "and in no way cancels the duty of the registrant to meet his obligations."

ROTC students who have not taken the test are urged to do so by the Rev. Vincent G. Dore, O.P., dean of studies at P.C., even though they now have an ROTC deferment. He points out that at a future date they might lose their ROTC deferment.

Hoppin' Around With Happy

By Bob Finerman

"Round the World Ted Williams expressed the views of millions of peace loving people throughout the world in an interview with George Carens of the Boston Traveler last week when he said, "It sure would be wonderful to wake up some morning and find the world at peace once again." Ted, as you know, re-enters the Marine Corps Friday, and as he departs, baseball loses one of its most controversial players, and in my book, one of the greatest baseball players of all time.

No More Honkin' The prize winning slogan of a contest conducted recently by the New York Taxicab Drivers was, "Think Before You Honk." Such a slogan should be adopted nationally for more pleasant and probably safer driving. It has been said that the shortest time in the world is the time between the light turning green at a traffic signal and the jerk behind you blowing the horn.

Is It All The Kids Fault? An article in the New York Times recently declared that the juvenile delinquency problem of the United States is now a great one.

Some people lay the fault entirely on the parents of the child, but is that the whole problem? I feel that in some cases it is the fault of the towns and cities where these children come from. An inadequate system of recreation facilities for these youngsters, due to a lack of interest by the municipalities, has magnified the problem in some areas. This fact coupled with the lack of initiative on the part of the parents to properly care for the child brings about a distressing condition in our country; even more distressing when you realize that the youths of today are the leaders of tomorrow.

Glee Club Takes Part In New Rochelle Concert

The Providence College Glee Club took part in a combined concert Sunday evening with the College of New Rochelle and Iona College at the College of New Rochelle.

The P. C. group left here at 10:00 o'clock Saturday morning and arrived at the Hotel Shelton in New York City in the late afternoon. After attending Mass Sunday morning the vocal group left for New Rochelle in the early afternoon and arrived about 3 o'clock. After arriving, the Glee Club rehearsed for the evening's concert, was entertained by a social hour, and had supper at the college. The concert started at 8:15.

The program consisted of such songs as Let There Be Music, Glory to God in the Highest, Ave Maria, Spanish Serenade, The Song My Heart Will Sing, Evening Song, Dear Land of Home, The Violet, Peter Piper, Gospel

Train, Swing Low, Could My Song on Wings Go Flying, and Cobble's Jug.

The moderator of the New Rochelle Glee Club is Mother M. Clothilde, O.S.H. Accompanist, Dorothy Morris, '52, and Beatrice Trinidad, '52, and President, Mary Lee Jones, '52.

The Director of the Providence College Glee Club is Rev. Leo S. Cannon, O.P. Mus.M. accompanist, Michael L. Healy, Mus.B., and President, Louis E. Murphy.

The Director of the Iona College Glee Club is Prof. Alexander M. Beryak, accompanist; Mrs. Olive H. Frank, and Moderator-Brother, James C. Bates.

This coming Friday the Glee Club will take part in the N.F.C.S. Festival concert. They will be on the same program as Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, D.D.

Masterson Is Elected Spike Shoe President

Bernard Masterson, '53, of Central Falls, R. I., has been elected president of the Spiked Shoe Club for the ensuing year. Other officers elected were Richard Tiernan, '53, vice-president; Jack Goode, secretary; Chris Lobner, '54, treasurer.

It was further announced that the club will sponsor a summer dance Tuesday, May 13, at the Oak Hill Tennis Club, Pawtucket. Bids are on sale at $1.50 per couple, and may be obtained from members of the club or at the door. Dancing will be from 9-12 p.m.

physical, emotional and spiritual development.

"Its true value lies in the complete development of natural and supernatural facilities. Not content with abortive, intellectual culture, Christian education insists on incalculating sound and solid principles of morality. The proper control of the emotions and an appreciation of the role they play in human lives offer protection against all forms of jingoism, race hatred and bigotry," he added.

Father Slavin also said that education should stop giving so much attention to the "know-how" and concentrate a little more on its fundamental task—the "know-why." He pointed out that it is futile to "talk of the dignity of man or even of the right to 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness,' if man is nothing more than a bug in the ooze of a stagnant pond or a speck of dust in the limitless universe of the solar system."

"Home and Education" will be the topic of Father Slavin's third talk, which will be broadcast locally from 2 to 2:30 p.m. on WEAN next Sunday.

famous for his eloquence. Especially, I hasten to add, is the satire on his speciality of spelling off such statements as, Peter Pepper picked a peck of pickled peppers . . . (I can't write it let alone say it).

Unfortunately I did not see the rest of the production as I had to go to class; but if it is half as good as the two skits I saw, then it certainly would provide "a big surprise."

The production I use the word production for the lack of a better one. It simply cannot be classified in any one category, as comedy, farce or tragedy, will begin at 7:30 and will run for about 30 minutes. The dance will begin at 9 p.m.

Responsible for the production are: Larry Marra, chairman; Fred Riley, director; John Corrigan, assistant producer; Matthew Mitera, director; Don Sullivan and Tom Whitehead, special effects; Charlie Hogan, costumes; and Joseph McAleer, prop manager.

Congress Begins Friday

Other students likely to attend are Victor Formisano, publicity director of the campus NFCCS committee; Joseph Andrews, and Charles Schlegel, co-chairmen of the campus Overseas Service Program, who will report at an OSP workshop. The P. C. delegation will be accompanied by the Rev. Dominic L. Ross, O.P., adviser.

The Congress will begin Friday night with opening session, at which the Providence College Glee Club will perform, the Hotel Statler headquarters for the three-day sessions. The plenary legislative session will be called to order at 10:30 p.m. at the Statler and will include an address by the Rt. Rev. Cornelius T. H. Sherlock, moderator of the New England region of the National Federation of

To Adopt New Constitution
This will be followed by adoption of a new regional constitution, already submitted in part by paragraph-by-paragraph adoption by the March committee. Getroy is a member of the drafting committee.

Saturday at 10:30 p.m., a second legislative session will be called, following a day of workshops and the Budez lecture, to discuss evaluation and assignments or reassignments of commissions, and to nominate officers. Sunday afternoon's legislative session at Emmanuel will include the awarding of the regional scholarship, workshop reports, and the election of officers.

Noted speakers slated for the workshops will be the Rev. James M. Egan, O.P., formerly of the Angelicum; Guichard Parris, publicity director for the National Urban League and former President of the Catholic Interracial Council of New York; and the Rev. Francis P. Moran, editor of the Boston Pilot.
