P.C.R.S. TO BE IN RHODE ISLAND
A picture story on the P.C.R.S. homecoming program will appear in this week’s Rhode Islander, the picture magazine supplement to the Providence JOURNAL.

Gibeault Appointed News Editor; P. Grifffen Is Sports Editor
Robert E. Finnenar and James M. Marshall
Finnenar, a graduate of Johnson High School, North Andover, Mass., is a junior, and has been a member of the Cowell staff for three years. Last fall he was named to the editorial board and at the start of this semester he was made news editor. Marshall, also a junior, has had two years of Cowell experience. A Fall River resident, he attended Teachers’ College and Carey High. He was on the Cowell sports staff and served briefly as sports editor.

Griffith, a sophomore and a graduate of Fall River High, has had two years of Cowell experience. He has been on the Cowell sports staff for two years and is now one of the freshmen who comes from Central Falls, graduated from Sacred Heart Academy. He also has had two years of Cowell experience.

Fr. Murtough To Be
cap. Gown Speaker
A complete list of exercises for the seniors’ annual Cap and Gown Day, scheduled for Friday, was announced yesterday by the Rev. Edward H. Gallagher, class moderator.
Seniors will assemble at 8:30 a.m. at the school and, after the prayer and assembly for the Mass. The Rev. Edward H. Gallagher, O.P, will be celebrant and the Rev. Walter A. Murtough, O.P, of the science division, will be master of ceremonies.
Following the Mass will be the cupping exercise, at which the seniors will be cupped by the Very Rev. Rob. J. Slavin, O.P, president of P.C.R.S., assisted by the Rev. William R. Clark, O.P, and the Rev. Vincent C. Doe, O.P, dean of men. After being cupped they will march in procession to Hendrickson Hall (Continued on Page 3)

F. Slavin Cites
Education’s Task
“Only the truth can make men free and the truth is found in the book. It has been the Very Rev. Robert J. Slavin, O.P., president of Providence College, declared Sunday.

Speaking on the Catholic High’s annual Cavalcade of Stars, Slavin went on to point out that education, “through Science, History and Law, through Art and Music, through Education and Society,” is the path to the “true understanding of the Christian religion.”

Newsmen and students who hear him speak will be the object of study by Father Slavin, he said, and the media are the means of spreading the truth.

The Providence College weekly called has been the pioneer of educational television locally, has been leased for the distribution of material and overall presentation of the program according to a publication and WJAR-TV.

The program is presented every Thursday night from 7:15 to 7:30 on WJAR-TV.

The Mal Brown Award is renewed after ten years of dormancy
The reactivation of the Mal Brown Athletic Award, which was discontinued in 1946, has been announced by Father Bagley, Director of Athletics. The award is given to a student who has done his share of duty in school and on the field, and who has won recognition by his peers.

The award will be given annually to the graduating senior who shall have completed at least three years of intercollegiate competition, possession, if a member of the COuL Faculty, on whose candidates attained the office they sought.

Robert L. Deasy, ’53, was elected president of the PC Student Congress in balloting held Monday from 9 to 1 o’clock in Harkins Hall. He was a member of the Concealed Faculty, on whose candidates attained the office they sought.

Mal Brown was a graduate of St. Raphael’s Academy, a day student from Rumford. He was also a member of the Providence College and the Junior Friar committee, and a member of the Newport cabaret and the Junior Friar committee.

The balloting for the selection of the Mal Brown Award was held in the Providence College dining hall last Friday, with only one candidate, the self-nominated candidate, Mal Brown. He was the only candidate, and his nomination was accepted.
Why No Entertainment?

A number of our readers have objected to the exclusion of the column "Wha'd he say?" from your paper. The question is, can we make a column that has such a wide following be dropped?

No students seem to feel that the object of a college newspaper is to entertain its readers and if a column achieves that goal, that is fine. It should be the object of such periodicals as Life and Quick but it is not the object of the COWL.

The reason we eliminated "Wha'd he say?" as a regular feature can be found in David Host's excellent essay, "The COWL and Periodicals," written in the CATHOLIC SCHOOL EDITOR of the COWL. No publication can ignore its reader," states David Host, "but to make the pleasure of the reader the sole purpose of its publication, amounts to making staff members merely entertainers of the student body, not interpreters of current events."

This is a little rough on the staff memers but it is a step above the comic book level. It would also bring up the question of why should Catholic college newspapers of today, which are completed by men from them are and financed for funds as they always have been, use money, time and energy,. . . to support an enterprise whose primary purpose is entertainment?

The students of Providence College wish to read a column that deals with a childishly humorous aspect of the world. The latest joke book because the COWL does not intend to run any columns whose primary purpose is entertainment.

Fundamentally, the COWL exists to help students develop a means of communication. Becoming more entertaining will not only intensify an enthusiastic Providence College atmosphere, but it will also establish a new organ. Nowhere in its purpose can we find justification for running a column that is a step above the comic book level. It is the aim of every newspaper to help shape the views of its public. Even the COWL tries to be informative. Circulation is not the only reason it has a COWL. What will help to broaden their background. For if we run the column that deals with Catholic music, literature, politics and occasionally on drama. Some of these columns, of course, are not intended to be read in a comic book. Over the criterion of whether a column is good must be the following but rather on what it has to offer its readers.

The COWL does not intend to step down to the level of the comic book to which belong only a comic book. It will be the policy of the COWL to print only columns which are written with a constructive element. Too many periodicals deal only with the comic book, but except to pass the time of day, but the COWL does not wish to be added to that list.

"Graham Greene's Writing Reveals His Awareness Of Moral Issues"

By Henry Griffin

For some time past I have been interested in the works of Graham Green, and, in-particularly, in his latest novel, The End of the Affair. Though the story of this novel has caused a considerable amount of comment and no small amount of controversy, it has been firmly established that moral issues are the ultimate theme of his works. The novel is concerned with the moral dilemma faced by the central character, the theme of the novel. It is the theme of the novel that is the result of the conflict between the ideal of beauty and the reality of evil. The novel is a study in the conflict between these two forces and the ultimate triumph of good over evil.

The first part of the book deals with the character of the central character. He is a man of great beauty, but also of great evil. He is able to see the beauty of the woman he loves
and the evil of his own heart. He is able to see the beauty of his own heart and the evil of the world around him. He is able to see the beauty of the woman he loves and the evil of his own heart.

The second part of the book deals with the character of the central character. He is a man of great beauty, but also of great evil. He is able to see the beauty of the woman he loves
and the evil of his own heart. He is able to see
the beauty of his own heart and the evil of the world around him. He is able to see the beauty of the woman he loves and the evil of his own heart.

The third part of the book deals with the character of the central character. He is a man of great beauty, but also of great evil. He is able to see the beauty of the woman he loves
and the evil of his own heart. He is able to see
the beauty of his own heart and the evil of the world around him. He is able to see the beauty of the woman he loves and the evil of his own heart.

The fourth part of the book deals with the character of the central character. He is a man of great beauty, but also of great evil. He is able to see the beauty of the woman he loves
and the evil of his own heart. He is able to see
the beauty of his own heart and the evil of the world around him. He is able to see the beauty of the woman he loves and the evil of his own heart.

The fifth part of the book deals with the character of the central character. He is a man of great beauty, but also of great evil. He is able to see the beauty of the woman he loves
and the evil of his own heart. He is able to see
the beauty of his own heart and the evil of the world around him. He is able to see the beauty of the woman he loves and the evil of his own heart.

The last part of the book deals with the character of the central character. He is a man of great beauty, but also of great evil. He is able to see the beauty of the woman he loves
and the evil of his own heart. He is able to see
the beauty of his own heart and the evil of the world around him. He is able to see the beauty of the woman he loves and the evil of his own heart.

The book ends with a, haunting presentation of the central character's death. He has been killed by the woman he loved. He has been killed by the world around him. He has been killed by the beauty of his own heart.

The novel is a study in the conflict between the beauty of the world and the evil of the world. It is a study in the conflict between the beauty of the woman and the evil of the woman. It is a study in the conflict between the beauty of the man and the evil of the man. It is a study in the conflict between the beauty of the world and the evil of the world.

Kent Club To Hear
Judge John Mullins

Superior Court Judge John E. Mullins, '27, will be principal speaker at an annual dinner dance of the Kent Club, April 30, at East Greenwich, it was announced yesterday by Chairman Thomas Cavley. The affair will be held at the Greenwich Inn, beginning with a reception at 7:00 p.m. Providence College Alumni residing in the City of Warwick and the towns of Coventry, East Greenwich, West Greenwich, and Woonsocket have invited and are currently being contacted by club members, headed by a special committee composed of Club President Victor Klieman, Edward Wilcox, vice-president, Henry Quinn, and Raymond Wilcox. The club's meeting will serve as the first reunion of Kent County Alumni in many years.

Crowning The Queen

The Very Rev. Robert J. Slavin, O.P., president of the college, is shown presenting Miss Ann Lord as the crown princess of the annual promenade which was held at the main ballroom of the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel last Friday evening from 9 till 11 to the music of Art Money and his orchestra.

The affair was highlighted by the crowning of the queen, Anne Lord, of Wellesfield, Conn., by the Very Reverend Robert J. Slavin, O.P., rector of the College. Miss Lord was crowned by Carl Doolittle, a Junior from Wellesfield, Conn. She is a student at Simmons College, Boston, Mass. The Queen's court consisted of Miss Sheila Brady, escorted by Henry James; Dorothy Covert, escorted by Mary Kirby; Claire McArthur, escorted by John R. Sullivan; and Irene Tobis, escorted by Tom Walth.

Nine Battles Scheduled Today: Face Tough Weekend Schedule - Meeting Seton Hall, B.C. & A.I.C.

By Phil Griffin
Providence College successfully inaugurated the 1952 baseball season with an 11-7 victory over Bates last Thursday, but they have a decision by Old Man Weather last Sunday when rain caused postponement of the Assumption game at Worcester. The Friar athletic department intends to schedule the Greyhounds for a later date.

Mr. Martin has quite a job on his hands this week. His starting angles with Springfield today, then faces an uncertain weekend. Friday is Seton Hall day at Hindbricken Field, then the boys journey forth to meet AIC on Saturday and Babson College on Sunday. Seton Hall is perennially tall, AIC owns a record of last year's club, and B. C. is once more a New England powerhouse. Springfield, by the way, is this area's representative at the NCAA tourney at Omaha last year. This week will really give the boys their chance to prove themselves under fire.

The Friars acquitted themselves nobly in the opener, but the Assumption rainout hurt it. It was obvious that the club could use a little more work before facing the imposing crew of opponents that they do this week. However, their play was sparkling for so early a date, especially that of Don McDoping and captain Howie McGuinness.

Bill Mullins suffered from a lack of consistency and a couple of bad plays in the field, but the big right-hander had it when "the chips were down," Bill fanned 17, a remarkable feat, particularly this stage of the season, and set ten of the Bobcats down on strikes in the last four innings. " Mighty Moe " had shaky spots, but he was in control most of the way. Many of the hits he gave up can be attributed to a natural lack of sharpness which he acquired as the season leaves the infant stage. Big Larry Quimby, the Baters start, got his lumps early and often, but he was still around at the end. Although the towering Bobcats didn't have the same Mullins' performance on the hill, he deserved a better fate. He was the victim of unusually support just when he needed tight fielding the most. On a couple of occasions Larry seemed to have put his finger in the hole in the dice only to have a bad play spoil the current through. Still, he might have emerged the victory had not Mullins shut the door and locked it in the last four innings. Quimby was a surprise starter, as he should be. It was through that the southpaw ace McGuinness would get the nod against the predominantly left-handed Friar lineup, but he had pitched the day before. McGuinness and McDonald each combed Larry for three hits. Both boys looked like all-stars.

Buzz Barry made his presence felt, too, with two hits and a run driven over. McDoping's terrific shot to left-center was the game's longest hit. It looked like a would-be park clouser, but after much debate, it was ruled a ground-rule double when the ball was discovered outside the fence.

Frisch Open Friday Against Nichols; Play 8 Game Slate

Len Keily
Coach Larry Deary's freshman team opens the season with a game at Dart- ley, Mass., this Friday against Junior Nichols College. The remaining seven games in the team's schedule will be played during the next fifteen days.

The final cut coming to the try-a-looks for Dick House of Lowell, Mass., and Lou Perrotti, of Providence, handing Bill Mullins to the starters. Ferguson from Pittsfield, Mass., and the fourth and third from Butler, Mass., are working out at second, with George Rix of Waterbury and Dick White of North Providence in center. Larry Brember was counted on as the home run hitter, while Bob Rearpaume, Jr., of downtown, a second baseman, and Rick, a third baseman, have both been trying out at short.

Third base will be guarded by J. V. Alvag, of Bethel, Conn., or Pete Bruno, from Fairfield, Conn. The out-fielders are Jack Lavault of New Bedford, Jack Higgins, of Pawtucket, Jerry Lee of Springfield, and David Kelley, of New Haven.

Opening day will find Tom Alcarea on the mound for Nichols. Bruno is likely to be the catcher. The infiel will have Howe at first, Ferguson at second, White at short, and Vaghi at third. Roaming the grasslands will be Higgins in left, Kelley in center, and either Lavault or Guilette in right.

Mal Brown . . .

The award will be given preferably to an individual who takes part in more than one sport. The contestants will be confined to the on-campus athletic enterprises, scholarship, and honor.

The donor of the award is a member of the 1952 football team and the Board of the Directors of the Budget for the slate of 1952.

The award will be presented on parents night, June 2nd. It will be the second athletic award presented this evening. The Dr. Holland Award, given annually to the outstanding senior baseball player, will also be presented that evening.

Brown, for whom the trophy is named, was the beloved trainer of Providence College athletics team for twenty years. Advised by all who met him, "Mal" was one who seemed to possess the qualities that are ever possible.

Past winners of the Mal Brown Award were, in alphabetical order, Charlie Adeyos (1941) and Horace Marone and Richard Kelly (1951). The Providence College Athletic Director of the Budget for the slate of 1952.

Providence College's track team has two in-state rivals this week when the squad meets Brown today at 1:30 and the University of Rhode Island on Friday. This afternoon the P. C. varsity and the frosh team will have separate meets, but on Friday they will work together to subdue the men from Kingston.

The Colleens, who will run in those meets, are full of spirit and vigor and will be trying hard to overcome Brown for their coach, Harry Costine, and for Frosh Steve Mathis and Cornelius Savick, new assistant coach, who have worked hard to get the men in shape for this event.

A big question mark hangs over Jim Peiter, and all in the varsity track team hope his leg, which has been injured for the past two weeks, will be in shape for the Brown meet. Dan Walsh and Art Correre will be the only other entries in the sprints. Capt. Jack Cassidy, Bob Teiran and Dick Teiran will run in the quarter mile. In the half-mile Jim Gannon and Chris Lohr will be the top contenders. Lohr will try again in the mile along with Herb Waters and Pop Johnson. Distance men in the two-mile run will include Dick Lee and Bill Blossbach. In the final events Ken Pederson and Dick Curran will be throwing the weights around. Three events in the javelin-throwing event Jim West. Ralph Petter- sill, and Ronnie Florio. Jim West and Kenman comprise P.C.'s best in the pole vault. Kenman will repeat in the broad jump along with McGuinness who will repeat in the hurdles with Jim Gannon, Frank Lauzier and McMillan will be reaching for the heights in the high jumping event. This completes the roster of the P. C. squad, and these men will be fighting to win both of these meets.

Some of the outstanding freshmen who will meet Brown this afternoon will be Jim Peiter, and two of the Frosh, Mathis and Cornelius, Savick, new assistant coach, who have worked hard to get the men in shape for this event.

To Give Next Draft Test On May 22

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, today announced an additional Selective Service College Qualification Test to be held May 22 at 1,880 testing centers for the benefit of students prevented by illness, emergencies or some other reason from taking the test on December 13, 1951, or April 24 of this year. General Hershey also has repeatedly stressed that no deferment is an exemption. "A deferment is a delay or postponement," he said, "and in no way cancels the duty of the registrant to meet his obligations."

ROTC students who have not taken the test are urged to do so by the Rev. Vincent C. Dene, O.P., Dean of studies at P.C., even though they now have an ROTC deferment. He pointed out that at a future date they might lose their ROTC deferment.

Hoppin' Around Whith Happy

"Round the World" Ted Williams expressed the views of millions of peace-loving people throughout the world in an interview with George Carens of the Boston Traveler last week when he said, "I sure would be wonderful to wake up some morning and find the world at peace once again." Ted, as you know, re-enters the Marine Corps Friday, and as he departs, baseball loses one of its most controversial players, and in my book, one of the greatest baseball players of all time.

No More Hankies The prize winning slang of a contest conducted recently by the New York Yacht Club was "Think Before You Huck." Such a slogan should be adopted nationally for more pleasant and probably safer driving. It has been said that the shortest time in the world is the time between the light turning green at a traffic signal and the jerk behind you blowing the horn. Is it All The Kids Fault? An article in the New York Times recently declared that the juvenile delinquency problem of the United States is now a great one.

Some people lay the fault entirely on the parent of the child, but is that the whole problem? I feel that in some cases it is the fault of the towns and cities where these children come from. An inadequate system of recreation facilities for these youngsters, due to a lack of interest by the municipalities, has magnified the problem in some areas. This fact coupled with the lack of initiative on the part of the parents to properly care for the child brings about a distressing condition in our country, even more disturbing when you realize that the youths of today are the leaders of tomorrow.

Glee Club Takes Part In New Rochelle Concert

The Providence College Glee Club took part in a combined concert Sunday evening with the College of New Rochelle and Iona College at the College of New Rochelle.

The P.C. group left here at 10:15 o'clock Saturday morning and arrived at the Hotel Shelton in New York City in the late afternoon. After attending Mass Sunday morning the vocal group left for New Rochelle in the early afternoon and arrived about 3 o'clock. After arriving the Glee Club rehearsed for the evening concert, was entertained by a metal band, and bus up to the college. The concert started at 8:15.

The program consisted of such songs as Let There Be Music, Glory to God in the Highest, Ave Maria, Spanish Serenade, The Song My Heart Will Sing, Evening Song, Dear Land of Home, The Violet, Peter Piper, Gospel Train, Swing Low, Could My Song on Wings Go Flying, and Cowberger's Jig.

The moderator of the New Rochelle College Glee Club is Mother M. Clotilde, O.B.U. Accompanist, Dorothy Morris, '52, and Treasurer Trinidad, '52, and President, Mary Lee Jones, '52.

The Director of the Providence College Glee Club is Rev. Leo S. Cannon, O.P. Managing Director, Miss E. Hasly, Miss M., and President, Louis E. Murphy.

The Director of the Iona College Glee Club is Prof. Alexander M. Benny's, Accompanist: Mrs. Olive F. Frick, and Moderator-Brother James C. Bates.

This coming Friday the Glee Club will take part in the N.F.C.S. Regional Congress. They will be on the same platform as Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, D.D.

"It is true value lies in the complete development of natural and supernatural faculties. Not content with abstruse, intellectual culture, Christian education insists on imbuing the soul and solid principles of morality. The proper control of the emotions and an appreciation of the role they play in human lives after protection against all forms of jingoism, race hatred and bigotry," he added.

Father Slavin also said that education should stop giving so much attention to the "know-how" and concentrate a little more on its fundamental task—the "know-why."

Here's a two-skits I saw; then it certainly would provide a big surprise." The production, it was the work of three people for the lack of a better title, was staged in a single room in the basement of the Providence College. It was prepared by the Rev. Charles H.
