Freshmen elections: Pigeon carries presidential title

By John Kinslmez

In the freshman elections held recently, Greg Pigeon was elected to the presidency at Providence College. Pigeon, a graduate of Rockland High School in Rockland, Mass., was president of his senior class. He is very optimistic about the year ahead and is, “confident that the class can and will work well together.” Pigeon encouraged his classmates, “To approach us” (the Class reps and officers) with their problems.

Judy McNamara and Paul McVicker were elected secretary and treasurer respectively. Both were enthusiastic about their victories. Mike DiChiro, Bill Palmer, Bazin Spizinik, Nick Bayer and Linda Vaz were elected representatives.

According to Paul Alagno, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and chief organizer of the elections, 54% of the freshman class voted. In a pre-election interview, Alagno stated that, “an amazing number of candidates” were nominated for the offices of president and vice president. “In fact,” said Alagno, “in comparison with the past few years, the number of candidates for this election is the greatest ever.”

A total of 33 students ran for office in last week’s freshman elections; 7 for president, 6 for vice-president, 3 for secretary and 14 for representative positions. The number of presidential candidates made this race surprisingly close. Votes were thinly distributed among the seven candidates.

“I think the class can and will work well together” — Pigeon

By Lori Evangelos

No suspects have been found in connection with the recent Rhode Island Hospital Trust National Bank robbery. The Providence Police Detective Division and the FBI are currently investigating the hold-up.

FBI are currently investigating the bank teller. The lone gunman talked with mom and dad

By Toni Bescher

Remember freshmen year? Remember Parents’ Day? For some of us it’s just another fond memory, but for the class of ‘83 it’s current news. Last Saturday the PC campus witnessed yet another traditional Parents’ Day.

Many parents whose sons and daughters were leaving home for the first time were asked the question: What fears did you, as parents, have concerning your son or daughter’s embarkment to college?

To this question many parents expressed the fear that the environment of college life might alter the values that they had tried to instill in their children. The fear of excessive partying which could detract their children from their studies was also emphasized.

Freshman Judy Graves enjoys Parents’ Day with her father.

By Joyce Simard

The major issue discussed at the Student Congress meeting on September 30, was the problem concerning PC students and the surrounding community. Kerry Raffanelli, Student Congress president, expressed his concern about the students not realizing the seriousness of this issue. He stated as fact, “that noise from the students is bothering the neighbors; and that the police will be strictly enforcing the law.”

“It’s got to be a give and take situation,” said Raffanelli. “We live here and so do the neighbors. We have a good time at Brad’s, but we must be considerate of the neighbors on the way home. There is no need for excessive noise. Students must be aware of this problem and cooperate.”

In order to help alleviate this problem, the student Rathskeller will remain open every night until

Neighbors and C.O.V.E.R. top congress’ agenda

By Joyce Simard

For quite a while, a problem involving Providence College and its neighbors has persisted a cause for concern. In an attempt to deal with this, a meeting was held on Sept. 25. Present at the meeting were neighbors from

Inside

Fribourg students off again

Page 2

Senior’s notice

page 3

President’s Day

page 6
Placement Center offers advice for job search

By Ned Cumniskey

"There isn’t one major at Providence College that has an advantage over another as far as helping a student get a job after graduation," said Mr. Joel Cohn, a placement counselor at PC. This comment was made by Mr. Joel Cohn, a placement counselor at PC, in an interview regarding the success of the Class of ’79 in finding employment.

"The employers are looking for the individual with certain skills and not just a person’s major. Those individuals who can communicate well, and have skills in speaking and writing, and leadership abilities have done well in the placement program," said Cohn. "Liberal Arts majors did as well as those students who were Business majors in finding a job through the Career Placement Office," added Cohn.

Two examples of this were Proctor and Gamble and New England Telephone. Of the many interviews with these two large companies, Proctor and Gamble chose a Political Science major and New England Telephone chose a Humanities major.

Since 1977 there has been a 95% increase in the number of job interviews according to Cohn. In 1977-78 only 40 students came in, compared to 115 last year. Most of the recruiters are looking to hire students who have completed at least one academic year, not just from graduate or law schools.

WDOM planning wattage increase

By Maureen Diggins

WDOM, 91.3 on the FM dial, is planning some major changes over the next year. The station intends to increase its wattage by 85% of southeastern New England.

The station, whose policy is to serve Providence College, whose policy is to serve the metropolitan Providence area, hopes to include a wider range of progressive, rock and specialty music.

Those students who feel they need help in one of these areas should sign up for one of the workshops in the Placement Center. Those students are to meet every Thursday at 6:30 p.m.

The Fine Arts Committee of the Board of Governors are sponsoring a Mime Show on Wednesday, October 3. It will be presented in the Alumni Cafeteria between 8 and 10 p.m.

Trinity Theatre

A limited number of student discount Trinity Theatre tickets are now available at the Office of Programming/Special Events. This service is made available by the Board of Governors. Currenty playing is "Bosoms of Neglect," showtime is eight o’clock p.m. on October 5, October 7, and October 9.

Counselling center Stop Smoking Campaign

By Donna Bunn

According to Elizabeth Frost, Sydney, Director of the Providence College Counselling Center, the results of the “Awareness” campaign were favorable in terms of student interest. Although the actual results have not been processed, the data compiled clearly indicated that student participation was considerable.

Niney students indicated they would be interested in participating in “quit smoking groups” held on campus.

Around the campus

Academic Help

The Tutorial Center is open and now available for student help.

Any student who feels a need for this service may come to the Center any afternoon, between the hours of one and five. The Center is located on the ground floor of Guzman Hall. Any student who wishes to be a tutor may sign up at the Center during the same hours.

Trinity Theatre

A limited number of student discount Trinity Theatre tickets are now available at the Office of Programming/Special Events. This service is made available by the Board of Governors. Currenty playing is "Bosoms of Neglect," showtime is eight o’clock p.m. on October 5, October 7, and October 9.

Mime

The Fine Arts Committee of the Board of Governors are sponsoring a Mime Show on Wednesday, October 3. It will be presented in the Alumni Cafeteria between 8 and 10 p.m.

Food committee revisions and additions

By Sue Lind

"The idea that students are paying for meals that they aren’t eating is upsetting to us," said food committee chairman Steve McGuire. "McGuire, more commonly known as ‘Veg’ (because he is a vegetarian), feels that while a great deal of work has been accomplished, there is still more work to be done.

New to Raymond this year is an ice machine, which will be hooked up shortly, curtains, and the removal of swiss steak from the menu. However, swiss steak did turn up this past week on the lunch menu, so the battle is not yet over. The Food Committee is also hoping to get an expanded salad bar, and the choice of an alternate meal at lunch. The Food Committee is also hoping to get an expanded salad bar, and the choice of an alternate meal at lunch. The Food Committee is also hoping to get an expanded salad bar, and the choice of an alternate meal at lunch.

Next to Raymond this year is an ice machine, which will be hooked up shortly, curtains, and the removal of swiss steak from the menu. However, swiss steak did turn up this past week on the lunch menu, so the battle is not yet over. The Food Committee is also hoping to get an expanded salad bar, and the choice of an alternate meal at lunch. The Food Committee is also hoping to get an expanded salad bar, and the choice of an alternate meal at lunch. The Food Committee is also hoping to get an expanded salad bar, and the choice of an alternate meal at lunch.

The Fine Arts Committee of the Board of Governors are sponsoring a Mime Show on Wednesday, October 3. It will be presented in the Alumni Cafeteria between 8 and 10 p.m.

The groups will be headed by trained facilitators in association with the American Cancer Society. Each group will consist of approximately twenty students and will meet on a weekly basis for one and half hours. The entire program is expected to last six weeks.

The tentative time slot for the "quitters" group is Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. However, these plans are not definite; the actual schedule will soon be announced.

HELIOS RESTAURANT

Greek American Cuisine

the newest most exciting

Eating - Drinking and Meeting Spot in Johnston

10% discount with PC ID

Waiters & Cooks Wanted
Leary slated to head '82's ring committee

By Rob Giovino and Steve Ferrera

On Tuesday night, September 25, the Class of '82 took it's first step in the planning of it's Junior Ring Weekend. The officers and representatives chose five people to make up a core committee, which will coordinate all Ring Weekend activities. The long process of choosing five individuals from fifty-eight interviewees lasted two nights. The process evolved around the concept of a well-blended group.

Leading the Junior Ring Weekend committee for the Class of '82 will be Meg Leary. Leary will co-ordinate all four chairpersons, and act as a liaison between the class officers and representatives. Carol Rucco will be the chairperson for the formal committee. Bids and favors will be handled by Bill Barnes. Mike Sinaci will chair the band committee while Lisa Bonardi will be overseeing the ring committee.

This core committee will work continuously from now until the conclusion of Junior Ring Weekend. The committees are open to anyone interested in getting involved. The officers and representatives of the Class of '82 are optimistic about the core committee and the role it will play in the success of the class.

17 juniors bound for Fribourg

On Saturday morning, September 29, seventeen Providence College students left Rhode Island on their way to University of Fribourg in Switzerland and were joined by four students from neighboring colleges. In New York, 14 more students from other colleges joined the group, all thirty-five American students are participating in this year's Providence-in-Europe program. These students will be spending their junior year at the University of Fribourg, a bilingual university which offers courses in both French and German. At the end of February, they will be joined by 35 more PC students, who are going to Fribourg for the second semester.

Classes will end in early July, so many students have the option of returning home, spending the summer touring Europe, or going to Pietravasta, Italy to join the Providence-in-Europe Summer program.

The program is open to juniors of all concentrations, i.e., language majors. There is a preferred grade point average of 3.0 for participation in the program, conceded it's not an absolute requirement. However, an intermediate level of either French or German is expected. For those with no language study prior to their junior year and who wish to participate, there is an intensive elementary French course offered the first semester of the junior year which is geared as preparation for study at Fribourg second semester.

For active sports...your social life...discover Contact Lenses!

Dr. Allen Greenberg, Optometrist, says: most eyeglass wearers change to contact lenses with ease. The advantages are great! In sports: a new freedom, confidence, and a wider range of vision. For your social life: the natural look of the 'invisible eyeglasses'. Dr. Greenberg has fitted many patients with no language study prior to their junior year and who wish to participate, there is an intensive elementary French course offered the first semester of the junior year which is geared as preparation for study at Fribourg second semester.

Classes will end in early July, so many students have the option of returning home, spending the summer touring Europe, or going to Pietravasta, Italy to join the Providence-in-Europe Summer program.

The program is open to juniors of all concentrations, i.e., language majors. There is a preferred grade point average of 3.0 for participation in the program, conceded it's not an absolute requirement. However, an intermediate level of either French or German is expected. For those with no language study prior to their junior year and who wish to participate, there is an intensive elementary French course offered the first semester of the junior year which is geared as preparation for study at Fribourg second semester.

SENIIORS

I. On Thursday, October 4, 1979, a helicopter will be flying over Hendricken Field to photograph the Class of 1980. A giant “80” will be marked out on the field. But we need you to fill it. The project needs a great deal of support from all of us. We are asking for about 15 minutes out of your busy schedule. The “80” must be formed and ready to photograph at 12:55 on Thursday.

BE THERE, ALOHA!

Raindate October 11th

II. Dan Lund is putting together the slide show for Commencement week. Since it is all but impossible to photograph everyone in the class, he is requesting that YOU submit photos of yourself, friends or even enemies...Slides will be made from these and the prints will be returned to you. Here's how to assure that our slide show will be the best ever:

1. Put your name and box number on the back of the photo (slides are also accepted).
2. Put your print or slide in an envelope and address it to Dan Lund, Box 2588.
3. Your original will be returned to you as soon as the slide is made.
4. We are accepting originals until April 30, 1980.
5. The Class of 1980 or Dan Lund are not responsible for your originals. So if you have an original that is very dear to you and you don't have the negative or another copy, see Dan or call 2214.
Neighbors, city upset
irresponsible to blame

It is always unfortunate when the actions of a few ruin things for the majority. For the past several weeks however, this has been the situation at Providence College. The origin of the situation - irresponsible drinking.

Residents of neighboring areas have filed complaints, charging PC students with disturbing the peace, drunk and disorderly conduct, and damaging the property of others. Students are alleged to have been behaving in a manner that is not in accordance with the normal behavior of adult human beings. Specifically, these actions include, urinating and defecating in residential yards, smashing glass bottles in public streets, and creating a general disturbance at "all hours of the night."

Simply put, these behaviors are unacceptable. They may resemble the antics of circus animals, but those of seemingly intelligent adults. Not only do they greatly disturb individuals residing near PC, and bring disgrace on the individuals who commit the disturbance, but also the tarnish the esteemed name of Providence College in the community.

The Editorial Board of The Cowl wishes to alert the student body to the possible consequences of their imprudence. As most realize, the neighbors are enraged over the occurrences of the past few weeks, and understandably so. They feel that their homes and property, which they have lived in and worked for, are being violated. During last week's meeting between the neighbors and representatives of PC, these citizens stated that "they will not take this any more."

In the past, phone calls to the police department have satisfied the anger of these people. Now however, the neighbors have, perhaps irrationally, threatened to take action into their own hands. It appears that these people have finally reached their breaking point.

Respect for private property can never be condensed. Obviously, such actions wouldn't have occurred if it not been for excessive consumption of alcohol. Thus, responsible drinking with moderation is the answer. We at The Cowl advocate a more balanced combination of "the books and the beer." What this all boils down to is that the city, the neighbors, and the college are fed up. Students would be well advised to watch their step. Improper actions will have to answer to severe consequences. This is a guarantee.

President's Day: A successful venture

Rev. Thomas R. Peterson's efforts in planning President's Day succeeded in bringing the entire College community together. What started two years ago as merely a suggestion by student leaders, was made a reality with President's Day.

The Academic Convocation, which started the day, was attended by close to 1200 students. This turnout far exceeded all expectations and can be attributed to the amount of work done in planning and publicizing the event.

The Academic Convocation is an annual ceremony where students, faculty and administrators get together. It was a great opportunity to socialize in a non-academic setting. After the convocation, there was an afternoon picnic. The way the games, the contests, and the picnic lunch were handled is an excellent example of the fine cooperation that existed. Hopefully this day will become a tradition because of last year's success in beginning the academic year.

For the past two years this organization was unfortunately defunct. The Editorial Board of The Cowl feels that this reestablishment of this venture will prove beneficial, as it holds the potential to foster a sense of community. Through its past accomplishments, the council has proven that inter-communication and cooperation among the student clubs and organizations.

In the past, organizations found it difficult to get programs off the ground because of simplistic efforts. Now the clubs can join forces. Co-operation, rather than division is the key.

There will be a COWL staff meeting tonight at 6pm
Slavin 109
"Truth-in-Testing" becomes law
By Ralph Nader

Until this summer, the Educational Testing Service in Princeton, New Jersey had good reason to believe that it was conducting a veritable racket before much public inquiry. Though its students were required to pay over eight million dollars annually and required for admission at most colleges, no one recognized the country’s ETS had successfully prevented public access to scores of its tests, despite their operations, and kept them secret despite the demands of consumers, parent, teacher, and student groups for more accountability.

That was until this summer. In July, while the students it affected and the public caught up with summer courses, New York Governor Hugh Carey signed into law the nation’s first strong “Truth-in-Testing” bill. The bill requires ETS to make public internal studies on the tests validity that they have steadfastly kept secret; tell students how their scores will be reported to schools and what they are supposed to measure; and make the questions and correct answers available to those who request them.

Clearly the bill only offers a reasonable modulus of scrutiny of this vast and powerful private corporation. But ETS fought it tooth and nail all the way. Last fall, they succeeded in stalling a “Truth-in-Testing” bill passed in California until it was virtually meaningless. They completely blocked another bill proposed in Maryland this spring.

In New York they launched their most vigorous campaign to defeat the bill. The New School’s high school principles were buried under waves of telegrams, memos, and mailings from ETS that misinterpreted the provisions of the bill and warned of disingenuous economic consequences if it passed.

“I have never—never—received so much mail on an educational bill,” said one SUNY University President. “There’s been a tremendous amount of pressure applied here,” said an associate professor of psychology at Brooklyn College Robert Kibbe. “They came on like the Mafia, Morses,” added an Albany lobbyist.

Kelly’s Keane Comments

By Kelly Keane

“How much of a discount do you girls get for living down here? You mean you live in these beds that cost so much and have to pay on upper campus? I couldn’t sleep all night worrying about how you were surviving in that cold place...”

Two weeks ago, a practical joke involving shower curtain was pulled in one of the dormatories of McVinney Hall. If an identical stunt had occurred in Dore Hall last year, it probably would have gone unnoticed. It didn’t in McVinney.

In Dore, the prankish objective is to squash into the bathroom to your remain in one of three lines: 1) sink, 2) toilet and 3) shower. If you happen to get your very own shower, you’re usually stunned to notice that there are a number.

How much we tried, the brick walls couldn’t be made "warm" looking, and the study rooms had the perfect atmosphere for telling ghost stories. Actually, the ants, cockroaches and bats that entered were the life more interesting, and the walk was good for us so I’m glad for the experience of living on lower campus. I do, however, like being able to do things that my tution toward, and these are evident in the apartment-like existence inside of McVinney.

Hello. The remodeling of Dore can be more than enough to satisfy the need of students to organize and attend. Also, the organization could plan parties on or off campus for those students who spend many weekends at the college. The organization could arrange transportation on weekends for those students by coordinating who’s going where and when. I feel an organization providing these needs would prove to be of great value to all PC students, not merely students who live far from Providence.

Cosmic Debris

By L. J. Manning

Throughout the course of each semester, some weekends are more fulfilling than others. Although those students who spend a majority of the weekends in dormitories or at their respective apartments, often find nothing interesting or stimulating to occupy their weekend time.

One of the main reasons for this situation could be that a majority of the students are from New England. As a result, off-campus weekend ventures commence. Unfortunately, those students who reside in the Mid-Atlantic or Northern New England states usually are not able to travel home as frequently. If the Slavin Center happens to be occupied for instance by Parents’ weekend or by a Knights of Columbus convention, the Board of Governors or individual classes aren’t able to offer an event for organized student organizations access to the facility. Students seem to become weary of the typical mixers. Even more monotonous are the usual strolls to Louise’s or Brad’s (if you’re willing to dodge the police on the way!) The East Side is an alternative but it poses transportation complications on and off campus. Some ambitious collegians who support our all-women colleges in hopes of discovering their fantasy island. And last but not least, some students may opt to simply party themselves into oblivion.

A solution to the problem is not easy to arrive at. However, I propose the possibility of forming an organization such as “Week-enders” who would in effect organize separate trips or events which they would organize and attend. Also, the organization could plan party’s on or off campus for those students who spend many weekends at the college. The organization could arrange transportation on weekends for those students by coordinating who’s going where and when. I feel an organization providing these needs would prove to be of great value to all PC students, not merely students who live far from Providence.

Rafanelli thanks all for President’s Day success

Dear Editor,

As president of the Student Congress, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all parties involved who helped make the first annual President’s Day the success it was. If not for the dedication of the members of the college community who added in the planning, organizing, and execution of the day’s activities we would have lost.

First, I would like to thank Father Thomas Persico and the Committee on Administration for approving the concept of President’s Day. It’s good to know that the administration is receptive to doing different every once in a while.

Next, I would like to express appreciation to Father McPhail, and the Contra Special Events. While the concept of President’s Day was approved last spring, the actual details of the Convocation and the afternoon festivities were ironed out by Father McPhail just weeks before the event. Father McPhail is in charge of all special events on campus and the success of the day’s activities is a brilliant reflection for the work. Fr. McPhail

The combined efforts of those from the physical plant, Mr. Murphy and the staff of Raymond Cafeteria, and Board of Governors, contributed to the smooth running of this event.

Respectfully submitted,

Rafanelli Thanks all for the President’s Day Success

Date: October 3, 1979

To: Frank Antoncia

From: The C students

Date: October 3, 1979

Dear Frank,

We Missed You.

Yours truly,

Ken

The Athletic Board, and fellow Congress members also worked together to make this event possible.

All in all, I’d say it is safe to call this year’s President’s Day a very successful day. The Convocation was well attended by approximately over 2,000 students, faculty, and administration members enjoyed the outdoor cocktail and activities. I feel it was a day when PC presence was acknowledged by the whole campus under a true situation of friendship. With the great success of this President’s Day, I hope we have set a precedent by which this occasion can become an annual event at the beginning of each school year. An opportunity for all to get together, meet, and talk together in the true PC spirit.

Kerry J. Rafanelli President, Student Congress

References:

Respectfully submitted, Barbara Mays Stock Class of 1977

Wednesday, October 3, 1979
BOG: 'Comedy Night':
A lot of laughs, a lot of fun

By MaryBeth Holland

January. A space enthusiast, recently signed with NBC and is Samuels, a young man who has featured in a pilot airing in January. A space enthusiast, Samuels performed an excellent rendition of Star Trek for a well-dressed audience. He specifically pointed to the detailed DANGER warnings appearing on Slinky boxes. He reminded the audience that according to the warning, one must not play with a Slinky in a moving vehicle or dispose of it out a window.

Last performing from the Comedy Shop was the team of O'Brien and Scorsese. Their most well-received skit was an imitation of Archie and Edith which created a truly-NY flavor. Perhaps the most amusing act of the evening was that of a guest hypnotist, Guy Anthony. Anthony chose twenty students from the audience to assist him with his act. After the students were successfully hypnotized Guy was in control of their actions. Highlights of the act included a yodeling contest in which a few of the students were asked to demonstrate their yodeling proficiency. Also humorous was the horse race in which Guy assigned each student a horse and required them to cheer loudly.

PC's Comedy night proved to be enjoyable for both students and performers. And maybe, if you whisper the number three into the ear of one of the students who was hypnotized, Mark O'Rearke, he will perform a ballet dance for you!

PC's Comedy night proved to be enjoyable for both students and performers. And maybe, if you whisper the number three into the ear of one of the students who was hypnotized, Mark O'Rearke, he will perform a ballet dance for you!

Folk guitarist to perform

Providence, RI—Ed Sweeney, folk guitarist (ragtime, blues, fingerpicking styles) and five-string banjo player (trailing, Clawhammer, and Old timey), will appear in concert at Providence College on Tuesday, October 9, 1979 at 8 p.m.

Sweeney, a former Providence College student, has performed throughout New England with school children, at workshops, house concerts, in clubs and on college campuses. His style has a "comfortable, right-at-home quality that brings everyone together," according to a recent review.

Sweeney's concert will be held in the Reitel Hall of the Music Building on Providence College's downtown campus. The program is open to the public without charge.
College joys

By Lauren J. Cook

Ah, the small joys of college life! Just pop the old t.v. dimmers in the lab, put on some tunes, and kick back for some quiet reading until the dinner bell rings. Apartment life? Not necessarily.

The installation of kitchen facilities in men’s dormitories over the summer means that all residents students can enjoy more pleasant alternatives to Raymond Hall fare. Upper classmen will remember that a stove was installed in Fennell last year on an experimental basis.

“Well,” some may say, “it’s about time that men received the same facilities that PC women have enjoyed for years.” The Resident’s Office, conscientious as the basic recipe is followed, the men were capable of using the stoves in a safe and responsible fashion.

According to Resident’s Office employees and members of the Student Congress, the idea of safe and responsible use of the cooking facilities has often arisen. “We cannot stress enough that serious consequences can arise with improper use,” says Bill Pearson, president of the Resident Board. According to the Resident’s Office, a follow-up study will be conducted in January to determine whether or not the stoves will stay.

However, the Fennell experiment demonstrated that men would use stoves if the opportunity was given. To many, the men were capable of using the stoves in a safe and responsible fashion.

According to Resident’s Office employees and members of the Student Congress, the idea of safe and responsible use of the cooking facilities has often arisen. “We cannot stress enough that serious consequences can arise with improper use,” says Bill Pearson, president of the Resident Board. According to the Resident’s Office, a follow-up study will be conducted in January to determine whether or not the stoves will stay.

Plant talk

What’s cookin’

Atoot-tasting, beefy main dish for those crisp fall nights, is Hamburger Stew. Any number of combinations are possible, as long as the basic recipe is followed. For example, different types of soup may be substituted, mushrooms may be added, or sausages may be used instead of noodles.

HAMBURGER STEW

1 lb. hamburger
1 green pepper, diced
1 onion, diced
1 lb. noodles
2 packages onion soup mix
4 cups water
1 oz. tomato sauce
3 leaves parsley

Put on some water for ten minutes. Then add the diced pepper and onion. When vegetables are tender, add the remaining ingredients. Simmer for 20 minutes.

Sandwiches with Character

Should you find yourself in a study lounge, Upper classmen will remember that a stove was installed in Fennell last year on an experimental basis.

“Well,” some may say, “it’s about time that men received the same facilities that PC women have enjoyed for years.” The Resident’s Office, conscientious as the basic recipe is followed, the men were capable of using the stoves in a safe and responsible fashion.

According to Resident’s Office employees and members of the Student Congress, the idea of safe and responsible use of the cooking facilities has often arisen. “We cannot stress enough that serious consequences can arise with improper use,” says Bill Pearson, president of the Resident Board. According to the Resident’s Office, a follow-up study will be conducted in January to determine whether or not the stoves will stay.

However, the Fennell experiment demonstrated that men would use stoves if the opportunity was given. To many, the men were capable of using the stoves in a safe and responsible fashion.

According to Resident’s Office employees and members of the Student Congress, the idea of safe and responsible use of the cooking facilities has often arisen. “We cannot stress enough that serious consequences can arise with improper use,” says Bill Pearson, president of the Resident Board. According to the Resident’s Office, a follow-up study will be conducted in January to determine whether or not the stoves will stay.

According to Resident’s Office employees and members of the Student Congress, the idea of safe and responsible use of the cooking facilities has often arisen. “We cannot stress enough that serious consequences can arise with improper use,” says Bill Pearson, president of the Resident Board. According to the Resident’s Office, a follow-up study will be conducted in January to determine whether or not the stoves will stay.

According to Resident’s Office employees and members of the Student Congress, the idea of safe and responsible use of the cooking facilities has often arisen. “We cannot stress enough that serious consequences can arise with improper use,” says Bill Pearson, president of the Resident Board. According to the Resident’s Office, a follow-up study will be conducted in January to determine whether or not the stoves will stay.
The University of St. Thomas Aquinas in Rome, affectionately known as the Angelicum, was originally founded as a Dominican College in 1577 in the vicinity of St. Mary of the Minerva. It is now situated in the heart of Rome not far from the Piazza Venezia and was raised to the rank of a Pontifical University by Pope John XXIII on March 7, 1963. It is conducted by an international faculty of Dominican Fathers and provides a unique opportunity for seminarians and graduate students from all over the world to obtain an excellent education and necessary degrees while enjoying the religious and cultural experience of living in the Eternal City. Over the years, outstanding Churchmen have made their studies at the Angelicum, it numbers among its alumni many famous scholars and theologians, Cardinals, Bishops and now our present Holy Father, Pope John Paul II.

Ordained in Cracow on November 1, 1946, Karol Wojtyla was immediately sent to Rome to study at the Angelicum. The Dean of theology at the time was Fr. Luigi Mario Ciappi, O.P. who is now Cardinal Ciappi and who is an honorary alumnus of Providence College. Fr. Wojtyla wrote his doctoral thesis, "Faith in St. John of the Cross," under the direction of the famous French theologian, Fr. Reginald Garrigou-Lagrange, O.P. This work in Latin has now been translated into four languages, Italian, Spanish, French and English. Fr. Lagrange was a leading figure in the neo-Thomist movement which applied the principles of Aquinas to modern issues. This important intellectual influence on Karol Wojtyla is evident in his writings and in his approach to current questions in the Church and in the world. He has a considerable power of synthesis which can be attributed to his Thomistic training and it has made him an enthusiastic proponent of a rejuvenated Thomism.

When last November the Pope visited the Church of Santa Maria Sopra Minerva in Rome to honor the Dominican St. Catherine of Siena, co-patron of Italy with St. Francis of Assisi, he was surrounded by Dominican Friars in their black and white habits. The Holy Father smiled and remarked how much he felt at home. "Are these not my old professors?" Truly the student has not forgotten his Alma Mater. The Dominicans are proud to have taught him and are happy that he is proud to be an alumnus of the Dominican University in Rome.

Fr. James Driscoll, O.P., a member of the Religious Studies Department at Providence College, is National Director of the American Angelicum Alumni Association and Provincial Director of Continuing Education for the Eastern Dominican Province in the United States.

Kathy Hansen, Features Editor

International Congress will be held at the University to celebrate the centenary of "Aeterni Patris," the Encyclical Letter of Pope Leo XIII on "The Restoration of Christian Philosophy According to the Mind of St. Thomas Aquinas, The Angelic Doctor." The Holy Father will come to the University to preside at the opening of the Congress and to revisit, as he has so many times over the years as priest, Bishop and Cardinal, his beloved Alma Mater.

Last November Pope visited the Church of Santa Maria Sopra Minerva in Rome to honor the Dominican St. Catherine of Siena, co-patron of Italy with St. Francis of Assisi, he was surrounded by Dominican Friars in their black and white habits. The Holy Father smiled and remarked how much he felt at home. "Are these not my old professors?"

Truly the student has not forgotten his Alma Mater. The Dominicans are proud to have taught him and are happy that he is proud to be an alumnus of the Dominican University in Rome.

Fr. James Driscoll, O.P., a member of the Religious Studies Department at Providence College, is National Director of the American Angelicum Alumni Association and Provincial Director of Continuing Education for the Eastern Dominican Province in the United States.

Kathy Hansen, Features Editor
Convocation

[Continued from Page 1]

According to Dr. Colby some PC sister institutions have been forced to abandon their traditional forms of governance. He does not foresee this fate for Providence College.

President's Day

[Continued from Page 6]

Not that he was dim as a 3 watt bulb, he simply must not have gotten the point of President's Day.

"Phil, everyone's being there is what President's Day is all about, i.e., the mingling around of faculty and students, the getting to know better those who are your teachers or your students, as the case may be. The Fathers, their presence as always closely felt, gave us that day off, of course for the recreation, with the leadership and comraderie and close cooperation, not through strife and conflict, but rather through cooperation and close cooperation, with the leadership and guidance of the Fathers."

"Be quiet and listen, will you?" Phill mused, "Recreation?" Phill reflected. "But through it all, the narrative of Providence College has witnessed both jubilation and tragedy," Rafanelli reflected. "But through it all, the people who have been Providence College have emerged better and closer persons." Rafanelli also announced that PC is now a member of the Student Association of Rhode Island Colleges and Universities, whose first project is C.O.V.E.R. (Committee on Voter Education and Registration). The Student Congress will encourage students to register to vote either in Providence or in their own states via absentee ballots. Through this program, Congress hopes to increase voter awareness on the part of PC students, as well as give PC more input into area issues. November 4 is the target date for the beginning of registration week.

Also discussed were the possibilities of the field house from Congress mem­bers and their ideas will be pro­posed at the Corporation meeting by student representatives, Brian Moran and Tom Brennan. Congress voted to send a letter to Rev. Thomas Peterson, O.P., President of PC, which will support the feasibility of the field house.

George West, Dillon Club president, reported that the off-campus telephone directory should be completed by next week. The life styles committee is working to establish an off-campus housing service which will aid off-campus residents with housing problems. Task forces are being formed by Father Peterson and Student Congress in the following areas: energy, enrollment, housing, school of continuing education, the graduate program, and new programs. Anyone may serve on these committees and those interested should stop by the Congress office for further infor­mation.

PC Dillon Club presents

Harvest Ball

Grand Ballroom

Reception: 7:00 p.m.
Dinner & Dancing: 8:00 p.m.

Let The Biltmore's glass elevator take you to the most exciting night this fall.

Bid: $28 per couple
Deposit: $10

Bids on sale now in the Dillon Club Office, Lower Slavin.
I arrived at PC on July 30 with much fear and confusion and leave the next day in tears of joy. I was proud to be a “Friar.” I was highly impressed by the seminars. I respected and admired the Dean and the priests for their dedication and wisdom. “The human potential is a horrendous and tragic thing to waste!” one of the priests warned us. The Fathers stressed the fact that we don’t realize how fortunate we are. “Most kids would give their right arm to be here, so don’t waste your time. It’ll go by faster than you realize.”

“Studying is fun! Anyone can be a good doctor, lawyer or accountant. There are plenty of these. Yet, how many of us can become good people?” The Dominicans devote themselves to the task of developing the whole student mentally, physically, and spiritually. Yes, spiritually. The Fathers feel that it is the religious aspect that sets PC apart from other four-year colleges.

PC’s students don’t just belong to a college. They belong to a closely-knit family. It would be hard to find an institution where faculty, students and administrators are working more closely together.

The college’s ultimate goal is to take us from other people’s values, ideas, morals and goals, and to teach us to develop our own. They want to create each of us into a “Rock of Gibraltar.” We may not agree with every aspect of their teachings, but it never hurts to listen.
Kevin Golden, chairman of the Legislative Committee of Con­ for students to become involved in the extra-curricular activities," stated Kevin Golden, chairman of the Legislative Committee of Congress.

At the start of this semester, members of Student Congress, will welcome a representative of Father John A. McMahon, assistant vice-president for student services, expressed an avid interest in the re-creation of the Campus Council. According to Golden, the purpose of the council would be to promote unity and communication among the clubs and organizations at PC. "In effect, the council would allow another avenue for student input.

The council would consist of the president and another officer of each club, with each organization having the power to cast one vote. The council would consist of two officers from each campus organization. Additionally, the student representative to the GSA, and the senior student delegate to the corporation will hold positions.

Father McMahon was instrumental in the re-creation of the council. The council has been inactive for about three years; however, both Golden and McMahon believe it will be a positive addition to the campus. At the same time, they hope the council will allow a new means of communications between clubs for their mutual benefit.

There will be an organizational meeting October 3 at 4:00 p.m. in room 203 of the Slavin Center. All clubs that are interested are welcome and student support will be appreciated. Those interested may contact Father McMahon or Kevin Golden.

Parents

continued from Page 1

by a number of parents. Students as well as parents mentioned that they had previously had apprehensions concerning roommate adjustment and dormitory life. However, most expressed the feeling that the Parents' Day has put these fears to rest.

Saturday's activities began with registration followed by a brunch in Raymond Hall. Rotating seminars in Aquinas Hall dealt with the subjects of education, student activities, and sports at PC. Speaking to parents on the subject of education were Rev. Thomas H. McBrien, O.P., Dean of Undergraduate Studies, Dr. Rene E. Fortin, Director of Development of Western Civilization, and Dr. Rodney Delasanta, Assistant Director of the Providence in Europe Program. On hand to discuss student activities were Barry Raffanelli, representative of Student Congress, Thomas Corcoran, representative of GSA, and Maureen O'Hare, Cowl Editor, and Susan Berg, Vice President of Student Congress. At these two seminars parents were made aware of various programs and facilities available to their son or daughter. Among these discussed were PC in Europe, the Counseling and Placement Center, the over thirty clubs and activities open to the PC student, and of particular interest, a poll taken of students in regard to the college.

All orders over $10 get a FREE small pizza (sodas not included). Good until Oct. 30.

E & J PIZZA
600 Douglas Ave.

Special

951 Smith St.
(Corner of River Ave.)
751-8778

La Cut
Precision Hair Design
for Men & Women
by Susan Bell

751-2251
751-2064

TUTORIAL CENTER

Hours:
1-5 & 6-9 Mon. - Thurs.;
1-3 Friday

Register as tutors
or to be tutored
Room 100
GUZMAN

Neighbors
continued from Page 1

Wards four and five, Councilmen Salvatore, Petrocinti, and Farbghi, and State Representative Armand Battanelli. Also attending were Chief of Police Colonel Ricci, and Commissioner of Safety, Sanford H. Gorodetsky. Representing PC were Reverend Francis C. Duffy, O.P., Vice President of Student Services, Joseph McAleer, Director of Public Information, Angelo D'Agostino, Manager of the Rathskeller, Mike Welch, Treasurer of Student Congress, Paul Alegero, Chairman of the Ways and means Committee, and Bob Gonide, student representative to the Committee on Administration.

The major complaint of the neighbors, according to Welch and Alegero, is that PC students are being a public nuisance on their way back from Bradley's. "The noise is waking them up at all hours when they have to get up early for work. The neighbors also stated that they are not totally satisfied with the performance of the police. Also noted was the fact that the neighbors do realize that it is not the total student population which is responsible; it is just a few. Gorodetsky offered a two-fold solution: the behavior pattern of the students must change and the police will enforce the law. To supplement this, there is a proposed city ordinance that anyone disturbing the peace and tranquility of another can be arrested. This law would carry a penalty of a fine up to $200 or 30 days in jail. If this proposal is passed by the City Council, guilty students will be arrested and fined if their behavior is not improved.

"PC will cooperate to alleviate this problem," said Father Duffy, "even though it does not have any legal responsibility or authority over students living off campus."

Bank heist

[Continued from page 1]

money, 1,094, and fled out the doors into the crowded student body.

Tobin Mellish, a PC student on the scene, entered the bank just as the suspect fled. "He was moving so fast that I really couldn't see him," said Mellish, and his tan tannish sweater was pulled up over his nose so that only his eyes were visible." Paul W. Kelley, a PC student, followed the gunman through the student lobby and out the first floor doors of the two story student union, but the criminal escaped.

Security could not locate the gunman when they arrived on the scene five minutes later nor could the Providence Police Department.

T. M. Lecture on Oct. 16

Want to increase your energy for studies and sports? Attend a free introductory lecture on the Transcendental Meditation technique. Tuesday, October 16, at 8:00 p.m. in Slavin Rm. 110. It may turn out to be the most productive lecture you've ever heard.

On behalf of the Providence College Community, the Chairnian's Office, extends to all Jewish members of the college faculty, staff, and student body, our best wishes and the Lord's rich blessing as you celebrate the holy days of your faith.
V Ballers up record to 12-3 ballers

[Continued from Page 14]
down the R1 offense, allowing the only one point while the Lady Friars racked up fourteen of the own to defeat the WRams, 15-10.

A few minutes into the second game, URI gained their last lead of the tournament. Sophomore Linda Leonard and freshman Liz Calvini played well on their home court and were instrumental in nailing URI in the second game.

They got off to a good start by defeating Hofstra University in the first match, 2-0. Without a break the Lady Friars took on the huskies of the tournament, Central Connecticut. PC emerged victorious, defeating them without much trouble. They ran into trouble against East Stroussbourg University of Pennsylvania. The succumbed to this team which finished second in the region last year but did not let this defeat dampen their spirits. The Lady Friars racked up victories over UConn and New Haven which allowed PC to advance to the finals.

Although Providence lost to Yale in the finals, they played impressively. Each girl played to her fullest capabilities. Fine performances by Tricia Curran, Joan Fenmanan and Liz Calvini along with an excellent defensive game by Sheila Deam made PC look strong, even in defeat.

Ruggers drop two to Tufts

The PC rugby team, coming off an impressive showing against the Providence city team in their season opener, travelled to Medford, Mass. to take on the Tufts University ruggers. As expected, the matches turned out to be hard hitting contests between the closely matched squads.

In the A game the Tufts Ruggers scored first, capitalizing on early PC mistakes. The Friars came back to tie the game on a score by Mike Corrigan. One more Tufts try ended the first half scoring with the Friars down by four points.

The second half was highlighted by hard hitting and strong defensive plays by both sides. Throughout the second half the PC Ruggers threatened deep in the Tufts zone, but were unable to capitalize. One more Tufts try ended the scoring with PC on the short end of a 14-4 score.

In the B game the Friars played well, but experience was on the side of Tufts. The Black and White were shutout in this contest, 12-0. Next week the Friars take on the Boston College Eagles on the Eagles home field.

Class of '81
Ring Weekend Bids
on sale Oct. 15-18
Rm 203 Slavin
9am-4pm

ATTENTION
ALL OFF-CAMPUS STUDENTS:

ALL OFF-CAMPUS STUDENTS NOT RESIDING AT YOUR "HOME ADDRESS" ARE ASKED TO PLEASE REPORT TO THE STUDENT SERVICES OFFICE (SLAVIN 204) TO FILL OUT AN OFF-CAMPUS RESIDENCY CARD.

THE INFORMATION RECEIVED ON THAT CARD IS FOR COLLEGE USE AND WILL NOT BE RELEASED IF YOU SO REQUEST.

CAREER MONTH ACTIVITIES
sponsored by The Counseling & Career Planning Center

Wednesday October 3, 1979 3:30 to 5:00
Techniques of Job Search and Placement Office Services '64 Hall

Wednesday October 17, 1979 1:30 to 3:00
Graduate School Panel '64 Hall
How to's of applying

Wednesday October 24, 1979 3:30 to 5:00
Resume Writing and Interviewing
Skills Slavin Rm. 203

Wednesday November 7, 1979 3:30 to 5:00
Special Problems of Women in the Work Force Slavin Rm. 203

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE
COUNSELING & CAREER PLANNING CENTER
865-2009 -2305 -2343
BOG Concert Committee presents

STEVE FORBERT

"The biggest new artist." - Rolling Stone

TWO SHOWS
7 & 10 p.m.

Oct. 14

'64 Hall

---

BOG Committee also presents

N.R.B.Q.

TWO SHOWS
7 & 10 p.m.

October 12

'64 Hall

$3 with PC ID

$3 with PC ID

$5 General Admission

$4 General Admission
Harriers streak at sixty-six

By Kevin Burke

On Tuesday, September 25, the PC cross-country team boosted its season record to 9-0 and extended its unbeaten streak to sixty-six consecutive victories as the Friars defeated Mass and Harvard in a triangular meet held on Boston's Franklin Park course.

Although Harvard and UMass were both reputed to be two of the toughest teams in the conference, PC had little difficulty in piling five runners into the top seven positions. Sophomore Ray Treacy was the first man to cross the finish line, covering the five mile course in 23:52. Senior Pete Crooke finished second with a 24:09 clocking and Harvard runners took third and fourth. But Coach Bob Amato was all smiles as a cluster of Friars; Jimmy Fallon, Larry Reed, and Paul Moloney, finished right behind within five seconds of each other.

After the races Amato stated that he was especially pleased with the performances of freshmen Jimmy Fallon and Paul Moloney. Said Amato of the two young men from Ireland, "Not only are they making up for the loss of number three runner Brendan Quinn, they are also making the future of the Providence cross-country team all the more promising." Quinn was lost for the fall due to appendicitis.

On Saturday, October 6, the Friars once again travel to Franklin Park, this time to compete in the Big East Conference championships. If all goes well for Amato's harriers it could prove to be another field day.

Ray Treacy pulls ahead of the pack at Franklin Park. Treacy came in first and led the Harriers to victory over Harvard and UMass. Peter Crooke placed second for PC.

What's Happening

By Ellen Harrington

Starting a new academic year with leisure time programs for the Providence College community is just as important as studying or working. With the help of the Athletic Board, the intramural programs here at PC should satisfy the needs of all of the student body.

The present intramural fall program includes football, tennis, and golf; plans for a road race are also being formulated. The fall recreational programs include basketball, racquetball, handball, squash, platform tennis, skiing, body building, tennis, and volleyball.

For the armchair athlete there is also a sauna available. Other programs in the works presently include physical fitness, slimnastics, dance and self-defense, and swimming.

Last year, the Red Cross conducted a course in cardio-pulmonary resuscitation, and hopefully will do so again this year.

Father Vahey will be teaching elementary skating at the rink from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. daily. If you wish to learn how to skate or to continue at the intermediate level, see Father Vahey any day between 11 o'clock a.m. and 1 o'clock p.m. at Schneider Arena.

In Tournament action

V ballers downed by Yale in Finals

By Mary Gibbons

The Providence College women's volleyball team has been the team to watch in recent weeks. The Lady Friars had encouraging performances in two weekend tournaments on September 22 and 29.

Although it is a somewhat young squad, there are no seniors on the team, they work well together. Dedication, teamwork and spirit are major factors in the Lady Friars overpowering of one team after another. Led by junior captain Joan Fennessy, the Black and White have proved themselves nearly incomparable.

In the first game of a tri-match involving PC, Boston College and the University of Rhode Island on September 22, PC downed BC without much difficulty in two straight games. Junior Sandy Radcliffe and sophomore Tricia Curran were impressive throughout the match. URI got their shot at BC in the second match and finally defeated them in three games.

The third and most exciting round of the day was the rematch between URI and PC. URI had defeated the WRams in a tournament at URI the week before and the WRams were bent on revenge. All seemed lost for the Lady Friars as they fell behind 9-1 in the first few minutes of the first game. From then on PC shined and took the match. URI got their shot
In preview

A mix of youth and experience . . .

By Ellen Harrington

"Advantage Friars!" seems to be this year's motto for the Providence College girls' tennis team. Coach by Lisa Gilbridge, the girls have an excellent schedule, a strong returning roster, and a trio of outstanding freshman added to the ranks.

Freshmen Ann Marie Mancini, Nancy Curtain, and Linda Duchaine will add depth to the team. "It's really impressed with these girls," said Coach Gilbridge. "They'll be filling three of the six singles positions. The only problem I see is relying on them so early in their collegiate careers. I think, though, given the personalities of the girls, they'll do well.

Senior Co-Captains Sue Hubbs and Mary Ann McCooey are leading the veteran contingent in the number one and two singles positions respectively. The senior doubles teams of Sue Hawkes and Karen O'Connell will also look to for strength and depth.

A girls' tennis match consists of nine matches, six singles and three doubles. Along with their regular schedule, which includes matches with Boston College, University of Connecticut, University of Rhode Island, Northeastern University, and Bridgewater State, the Friars will be hosting the Rhode Island Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament on October 5 & 6. Matches will begin Friday afternoon and continue through the day Saturday. Brown University and the University of Rhode Island are among some of the teams that will be competing.

With some great weather last fall, what could be nicer than heading on down to the tennis courts to watch some great tennis?

Netmen may be "best ever"

By Brian Otvic

The Providence College tennis team is made up of a strong group of players this fall. Led by co-captains Peter Lyons and Brian Shanley, the Friars hope to better their 9-1 record of last year. Coach Jacques Faulise says, "I'm not overly optimistic, but I am expecting a good showing."

This year the team is comprised of many highly talented individuals. Peter Lyons, last year's PC Male Athlete of the Year (a first for a tennis player), carries his career 45-3 record into the first singles slot. Jay DeMaio, who has won the top 10 in New England in both singles and doubles, which according to Coach Faulise is another first in PC tennis history. Brian Shanley, the other co-captain is coming off an 8-1 spring record. Faulise explains that Brian has worked "extremely hard" to improve his tennis game. Shanley, a senior, will play in the number three singles spot. He also combines with Steve Dinadio to form the team's powerful doubles combo. Bill Dinadio, a sophomore will hold down the number two singles spot. Faulise is counting heavily on Dinadio in his second singles spot. Peter Lyons combines with Lyons for the team's other great doubles pair. Sophomore Steve Chatfield will play in the fourth singles spot.

Coach Faulise has many possibilities to choose from in rounding out the top six. Either senior Mike McCarthy, sophomore Mike Tavare or sophomore Peter Pakieti will fill the final two spots. John Meyer, a junior, also has a shot at one of those positions.

The tennis team has found some new talent this fall. Three freshmen, Chris Dimar, Jeff DeMaio and Sat Germani all have impressed Faulise. They are all fifth or sixth singles candidates.

Last Thursday the netmen won a scrimmage match against URI. 6-2. Chris Dimar, Brian Shanley, and Steve Chatfield all turned in fine performances.

The emphasis for the fall tennis season is very good. Coach Faulise said that twenty men tried out and that "the quality of these players was the best that ever tried out." The team is looking forward to the conference and Rhode Island championships and also the tournament in Canada and New York. Presently the Friar tennis team is ranked 11th in New England.

The Friars demoralized another state rival, on September 25, Bryant succumbed 8-1.

On the 27th the Crusaders of Holy Cross, gave the Friars their first real taste of competition. Although the score 6-1 indicates another easy victory, five matches were won in the third set. Sue Hubbs played brilliantly in her first singles position, losing the first set 6-0, winning the second in a tie breaker, 7-6, and winning the deciding set 6-3. Linda Duchaine won her second career victory in the third set, and Paula Hubbs came back from 4-0 in the third, to win the match 7-5. Outstanding in doubles were Kathy Codiga and Karen O'Connell, who took care of the Cross in two straight sets.

Saturday, the Friars handed their first defeat in a heartbreaker, losing to Northeastern 5-4. The match was a thriller from beginning to end, as matches were lost in a tiebreaker. Nancy Curtain, now playing second singles played beautifully, defeated by her talented opponent 6-3, 6-3, and Linda Duchaine also displayed her talents winning 6-2, 6-1. Sue Hawkes won an exciting match, going three sets, and winning in the third, 7-5 but the crowds favorite doubles team of Karen Downey and Kathy Codiga were outmatched in a great match, 6-7, 7-6. And Paula

The Friars take heart in this defeat however, as North-eastern, known as one of the strongest division II teams around, Trounced the Black and White last year 6-1. The girls felt the match was excellent prepara-

The Lady Friars are among some of the teams that will be competing.

With some great weather left this fall, what could be nicer than heading on down to the tennis courts to watch some great tennis?

In action

... makes netwomen winners

The Friars demoralized another state rival, on September 25, Bryant succumbed 8-1.

On the 27th the Crusaders of Holy Cross, gave the Friars their first real taste of competition. Although the score 6-1 indicates another easy victory, five matches were won in the third set. Sue Hubbs played brilliantly in her first singles position, losing the first set 6-0, winning the second in a tie breaker, 7-6, and winning the deciding set 6-3. Linda Duchaine won her second career victory in the third set, and Paula Hubbs came back from 4-0 in the third, to win the match 7-5. Outstanding in doubles were Kathy Codiga and Karen O'Connell, who took care of the Cross in two straight sets.

Saturday, the Friars handed their first defeat in a heartbreaker, losing to Northeastern 5-4. The match was a thriller from beginning to end, as matches were lost in a tiebreaker. Nancy Curtain, now playing second singles played beautifully, defeated by her talented opponent 6-3, 6-3, and Linda Duchaine also displayed her talents winning 6-2, 6-1. Sue Hawkes won an exciting match, going three sets, and winning in the third, 7-5 but the crowds favorite doubles team of Karen Downey and Kathy Codiga were outmatched in a great match, 6-7, 7-6. And Paula

The Friars take heart in this defeat however, as North-eastern, known as one of the strongest division II teams around, Trounced the Black and White last year 6-1. The girls felt the match was excellent prepara-

THE MOUNTAIN SHOP

Across From Cable Car Cinema.

Where Experience Makes The Difference

TRAILWISE

BERGAUS

OPTIMUS

EUREKA

RENTALS

CLIMBING SCHOOL,
Rhode Island's Complete Outdoor Clothing & Equipment Center
245 South Main Street, Providence, R.I. 521-7788

STUDENT DISCOUNT

10% off (except specials) with PC ID and this ad

ANNIVERSARY SALE

10% Off Entire Stock

Free Courts T-shirt with $20.00 purchase

Sale selection includes Nike, Converse, Spot-Bilt, Saucony, Pro-Keds; shorts, warm-ups, T-shirts, etc.

HOURS: Monday thru Thursday, 11:30 - 8:50; Friday, 11:30 - 6:00, Saturday, 9 - 5:30.

751-9432

2 Mins. off Campus Opposite La Salle Academy

SPORTING GOODS

1017 SMITH ST. PROVIDENCE

COURTS

The Friars record

at 2-1

[Continued from page 16]

play. The last goal of the game was scored with only 11 minutes of play left. This time it was Jim Harrigan for PC, with an impressive assist from teammate Alan Doyle.

According to Coach Doyle, the Friars' defense seemed to "tighten up" in the second half. The team put on a more aggressive performance than in the first half, and dominated the entire second half.

Be a joiner!

Sign up for the Cowl

Teammates congratulate Lynn Sheedy after her goal tied the score 1-1 against B.C. The Lady Friars eventually won 3-2.

Free Courts T-shirt with $20.00 purchase

Sale selection includes Nike, Converse, Spot-Bilt, Saucony, Pro-Keds; shorts, warm-ups, T-shirts, etc.

HOURS: Monday thru Thursday, 11:30 - 8:50; Friday, 11:30 - 6:00, Saturday, 9 - 5:30.

751-9432

2 Mins. off Campus Opposite La Salle Academy
The Friar football team has bounced back from a somewhat disappointing 14-14 tie at Western New England College and has thoroughly dominated the opposition in their two matches since. The University of Hartford and undefeated Stonehill were humiliated by performances reminiscent of last year's near championship season for the Friars.

PC hosted Hartford in a game that was scheduled to be played on Saturday, September 22. The game was eventually played on Sunday the 23rd due to inclement weather. The delay seemed to have made the Friars impatient as they scored on the first possession of the game even though Hartford received the opening kickoff. Chuck Fox grabbed a Hartford fumble and set up the first Providence scoring drive. Bobby Landers carried the ball in for a 15 yard touchdown.

Hartford fumbled the ball again on the next set of downs but this was offset by a Friar fumble. Hartford slowly worked on the Friar defense but came up empty on their next scoring drive of the first quarter. Kelly O'Laughlin was instrumental in blunting the Hartford scoring drive.

The Friars returned to a little razzle dazzle to put their next score on the board. Quarterback Chris Lamendola lateraled to Bobby Landers who threw a thirty-five yard bomb's effort for Frank Padula in the Hartford endzone. This razzle dazzle turned out to be the broad and better play for the Friars against Hartford as it was used effectively again in the third quarter, Lamendola again lateralled to Landers, this time on the 11 yard line of Hartford. Landers kept the ball himself this time and rushed the ball to the five, behind excellent blocking from Andy Clarke. Landers carried the Friar ballcarrier in for a five yard carry which boosted the performance in the Hartford game.

Although the Stonehill QB is known for his arm, he threw at least 15 incompletion passes during the contest. This reflects the pressure that was applied by the PC defense and the excellent play of the linebackers and defensive line.

For the Providence College Lady Friars field hockey squad, this could be the year. Following last year's very successful 11-3-1 season, the Lady Friars bring back 13 veteran players, only two of whom are seniors, combining experience and youth in their 14 game schedule.

According to first year coach Kate Doyle, the girls have the potential to go all the way. Training since the opening of school, they are expected to be one of the top teams in Division 2 play. The Lady Friars are led by co-captains Lyn Shroyer and Kathy Leahman, along with returning big scorers Linda Wage and Nancy Mandino. Goalies Joan Murphy and Marilyn Noble both have shown good potential in goal. Freshmen Lisa Gigant and Monica Glynn are expected to add to the Lady Friar's power.

In their first game this year, PC emerged victorious 3-2 over the University of Rhode Island as the Lady Friars overcame a 1-0 first half deficit. Linda Wage scored the first of three unanswered PC goals, followed by Lynn Shroyer and Nancy Mandino. Joan Murphy minded the cage in first half action, and stopped 9 of 10 shots. Marilyn Noble took over in the second half and surrendered one goal. Shroyder herself as both a scorer and passer, collecting one goal and two of the three assists credited to the Friars in the game.

PC hosted Hartford in a game that was scheduled to be played on Saturday, September 22. The game was eventually played on Sunday the 23rd due to inclement weather. The delay seemed to have made the Friars impatient as they scored on the first possession of the game even though Hartford received the opening kickoff. Chuck Fox grabbed a Hartford fumble and set up the first Providence scoring drive. Bobby Landers carried the ball in for a 15 yard touchdown.

Hartford fumbled the ball again on the next set of downs but this was offset by a Friar fumble. Hartford slowly worked on the Friar defense but came up empty on their next scoring drive of the first quarter. Kelly O'Laughlin was instrumental in blunting the Hartford scoring drive.

The Friars returned to a little razzle dazzle to put their next score on the board. Quarterback Chris Lamendola lateraled to Bobby Landers who threw a thirty-five yard bomb's effort for Frank Padula in the Hartford endzone. This razzle dazzle turned out to be the broad and better play for the Friars against Hartford as it was used effectively again in the third quarter, Lamendola again lateralled to Landers, this time on the 11 yard line of Hartford. Landers kept the ball himself this time and rushed the ball to the five, behind excellent blocking from Andy Clarke. Landers carried the Friar ballcarrier in for a five yard carry which boosted the performance in the Hartford game.

Although the Stonehill QB is known for his arm, he threw at least 15 incompletion passes during the contest. This reflects the pressure that was applied by the PC defense and the excellent play of the linebackers and defensive line.

For the Providence College Lady Friars field hockey squad, this could be the year. Following last year's very successful 11-3-1 season, the Lady Friars bring back 13 veteran players, only two of whom are seniors, combining experience and youth in their 14 game schedule.

According to first year coach Kate Doyle, the girls have the potential to go all the way. Training since the opening of school, they are expected to be one of the top teams in Division 2 play. The Lady Friars are led by co-captains Lyn Shroyer and Kathy Leahman, along with returning big scorers Linda Wage and Nancy Mandino. Goalies Joan Murphy and Marilyn Noble both have shown good potential in goal. Freshmen Lisa Gigant and Monica Glynn are expected to add to the Lady Friar's power.

In their first game this year, PC emerged victorious 3-2 over the University of Rhode Island as the Lady Friars overcame a 1-0 first half deficit. Linda Wage scored the first of three unanswered PC goals, followed by Lynn Shroyer and Nancy Mandino. Joan Murphy minded the cage in first half action, and stopped 9 of 10 shots. Marilyn Noble took over in the second half and surrendered one goal. Shroyder herself as both a scorer and passer, collecting one goal and two of the three assists credited to the Friars in the game.

Carrying the momentum from their opening season win, the Lady Friars host Georgetown and captured their second victory by marching away with a 3-1 victory. In a game they totally dominated, PC again found itself behind early as goalie Marilyn Noble was beat on a break-away. But after Nancy Mandino notched the winning goal late in the first half, it was all Friars. Behind the two goal effort of junior Linda Wage, the Lady Friars totally shut down the Georgetown offense, allowing only 11 shots.

Facing an excellent Bridgewater State team, hopes for an undefeated season faded for the Lady Friars in a 36 shot barrage. Marilyn Noble was tough in goal, but had little support on the other end. PC was never able to get its offense going on the track as the challenging Bridgewater attack constantly kept them on the defensive. Lady Friar's downs 2-0.