3 WAYS TO GET STARTED FOR LIFE AFTER COLLEGE.

Reinforce your college degree and get a better start through Army ROTC. Get management training. Self-discipline. A sense of confidence. Earn the extra credentials that will set you apart as a responsible achiever. You'll also receive $2,500 over your last two years in the Advanced ROTC Program. Whether your career plans are civilian or military, Army ROTC provides opportunities for both—active duty with a starting salary of over $12,000, or reserve service while employed in the civilian community.

Get started for life after college. Get started in Army ROTC.

THE EARLY START.

If you are a veteran or a Junior ROTC graduate, then you started early—probably without realizing it. That early start makes you automatically eligible to enter the Advanced Program.

THE MULTIPLE START.

Start Army ROTC during your freshman or sophomore year with no military obligation. You’ll find a number of ways to get started in a curriculum that’s exciting, and flexible enough to meet your class schedule and academic needs.

THE BASIC START.

Get started in Army ROTC through Basic Camp at Fort Knox, Kentucky this summer. You’ll get $500 for attending a challenging six-week camp. If your performance is exceptional, you just may qualify for a two-year scholarship as you enter the Advanced Program.

CALL:

CPT. JAY JOHNSTON — 865-2471 or 2472

Army ROTC. Learn what it takes to lead.
CROSSWORD PUZZLER

ACROSS
1. Master (3,000)
5. Lift with lever
8. Fall into
12. Lamprey
13. First name
14. Player Peter
15. Ledger
16. Roster
18. Greek letter
19. Greek letter
20. Solitary
21. Tarlaciun
22. Interlocute
23. — a man
24. Smallest number
26. Taut
28. Waltz
29. Morning moisture
30. Solitary
31. Tantalum symbol
32. — a man
34. Smallest number
36. Taut
38. Waltz
39. Zeus's beloved
40. Last king of Troy
41. Confront
42. Celebes ox
43. Weapons
45. Raviing

DOWN
1. Rosters
2. Rosters
3. Hula-hoop
5. Publish
6. Flower
8. Tin symbol
9. Lamprey
10. Shams
11. African land
16. Unfated
17. Goulash
20. Intertwine
22. Article
23. Floats in air
24. River in Scotland
25. Goulash
26. Actor Knight
27. Floats in air
28. River in Scotland
29. Lair
31. Scan
32. Decay
33. Adaptations
34. Confront
36. Lone
37. Knights
38. Knighthood
39. Church part
40. Those holding office
41. Swiss canton
42. Card game
43. Iron symbol
44. He, she or P.C.
45. Lone Ranger's pal
46. Church part
48. Those holding office
50. Swiss canton
51. Card game
52. Iron symbol
53. He, she or P.C.

Answer to Wednesday's Puzzle

24 Church part
48 Those holding office
50 Swiss canton
53 Iron symbol
54 He, she or P.C.

Points of Interest

ALES SMITH & JONES, 12 Main St.
ALBANY, NY 12201
(518) 465-0399

APPLIQUE PUB. Greater Alumni
At Home Corp.
1129 N. Main St.
Oro Valley, AZ
(520) 218-0157

NEW HAMPSHIRE ORIENTAL
135 N. Main St.
Oro Valley, AZ
(520) 218-0157

BLACK BEAN BALLOON, 739
River St.
Evanston, IL 60202
(312) 455-7144

WINNIE TANG's, 739 River St.
Evanston, IL 60202
(312) 455-7144

SANDY VALLEY, 625 N. Main St.
Oro Valley, AZ
(520) 218-0157

THE PENDLETON POT
10 Union Ave.
Oro Valley, AZ
(520) 218-0157

REAL BAVARIAN BAVARIAN
112 Main St.
Oro Valley, AZ
(520) 218-0157

APPLE PIE, Inc.
112 Main St.
Oro Valley, AZ
(520) 218-0157

AMERICA'S BEST, 112 Main St.
Oro Valley, AZ
(520) 218-0157

STEAMBOAT INN, 112 Main St.
Oro Valley, AZ
(520) 218-0157

ROSE & IVY, 112 Main St.
Oro Valley, AZ
(520) 218-0157

TRINITY REP. NEWS

JAN. 22-FEB. 21

A FLEA IN HER EAR
by Georges Feydeau
Back by popular demand — the biggest comedy hit in Trinity Rep history! One of the greatest French farces of all times — a Gallic romp worthy of Molière at his wittiest. A madcap confusion of disguises and mistaken identities, of feathers, fuses and frou-frou.

Upstairs

JAZZ CONCERT
GEORGE SHEARING
plays jazz at Trinity Rep.
The American Premiere of
The HotHouse
By world famous playwright Harold Pinter.
A story full of humor and terror from Pinter's own world. The talk of the 1980 London theatre season. Mr. Pinter will work at Trinity Rep with Adrian Hall and the cast.

Points of Interest

TRINITY REP.
Meet Wed. Night
7:00-9:00 p.m.
Rm. 254
Fieldhouse

WHAT'S WHERE?

News .....................2
Editorials ..................6
Features ....................10
Sports Specials
(see Insert)

I WANT MY FUR PARKA!
SPEAK TO ME!
LEO
272-8644

SWIM CLUB!!
Anyone interested in joining the Swim Club meet at the pool on Wednesday, Feb. 3 at 3:00 p.m.

20 Week Club
25 Marie Manson
368 Mike Brown
60 JoAnne Dubuc
20 Pat Flaherty
171 Andre Owens
341 Karleen Murphy
216 Bessie Vanasse
416 John Siegler
159 John McIntyre

SWIM CLUB!!
Anyone interested in joining the Swim Club meet at the pool on Wednesday, Feb. 3 at 3:00 p.m.
Interested in Starting Sept of
The legal council to the Student Congress may be able to help.
assist most students with their
to the Student Congress, is an threefold: first, to give legal students who have problems with the student body;
iements to its Constitution at their proposed a number of amen­
executive board
streamline committees and re­ standing committees on Congress, but proposed amen­
manual, and will remain responelected by convent­ Congress Treasurer, "the whole should be."
In keeping with its plans to
in the plans to
by-laws and constitution. The according to Colonel Robert C.
"Many students feel that if ARMY ROTC has full tuition two all students who are reachable by
ARMY ROTC are students from high ROTC. There are many scholarships students who can document a financial need. However, ROTC are awarded on merit alone, and that have caused many parents as well as students to take a closer look at what Army ROTC has to of­ "Apparantly they like what they enjoyed, and I'm teaching a few other are available Army ROTC appropriate for students. The school. They can students or parents interested in finding out more about the
and three year scholarships rotc scholarships are available Army ROTC
should call CPT Jay Johnston at 865-1612, or stop by in Room 144, Alum­
THE NORTHEASTERN MBA
A way to enrich your
MBA experience!
Those accepted into Northeastern's Two-Year Full-Time MBA Program are eligible to apply for a position as a Graduate Assistant. The Graduate Assistantship offers administrative work experience, greater access to administration and faculty, and an opportunity to play a more active role in the educational process. Competition is keen—approximately 40% of those enrolled in the Full-Time MBA Program are awarded an Assistantship. Assignments may be within the College of Business or elsewhere in the University in administ­ative, teaching or research areas. The assistant­ships are ten to twenty hours-per-week appointments, which provide administrative experience as well as valuable skills for future careers. For the twenty hour appointment, a stipend of $4,500 per academic year is also awarded.
Full-Time Program begins in September—Application deadline is May 15.
Deadline for Assistantship Program application is April 15.
For complete information on the Northeastern Two-Year Full-Time MBA Program as well as other (full-time and Part-Time MBA programs, phone the Graduate School of Business Administration at 341-9321, or send for more information.
Graduate School of Business Administration
Northeastern University
360 Huntington Avenue, Boston 02115

Please see information on the Graduate Assistantship Program and other Northeastern MBA programs.
This paper is a part of the Northeastern University Advertising Contest, and was created to encourage creative advertising. All entries will be judged at the discretion of the judges.

Students from Providence College, Providence, Rhode have been invited to take part in a prestigious college advertising contest, in which they will vie for prizes of $1,000 cash and an eight-week paid summer internship at McCaffrey and McCaul, Inc., the New York advertising agency which sponsors the program.
The competition, called Creative Advertising Challenge, is being conducted by McCaffrey and McCaul for the second year in a row. Teams participate must create an advertising campaign to promote a course or department at their school. They can compete in English (including writing or art direction categories), or they are required to submit a complete statement of what they intend to com­

ROTC Offers Scholarships

Go To College... Have A Drink!

Higher education is generally for your health, although if you are a woman it may also turn healthier, eat better and ingest better-educated people tend to be perhaps changing their diets
women may be similar to men, "she says, then "spread to
perhaps changing their diets
perhaps changing their diets

in addition to the top prizes,
awards of $750 for second place.
$500 for third place, and up to 10
awards of $750 for second place.
entry will be judged against all of up to 26 prizes are available.

and co-author of a research study on the topic.
"It indicates that persons at higher education levels are perhaps changing their diets
smoking patterns.
Cigarette smoking began higher-educated men," she says, then "spread to higher-educated men, then to higher-educated women. It looks as if alcohol may be following the same pattern.

The study also found that well-educated women had lower levels of cholesterol. Education played longerterm role in raising cholesterol levels among men, Haynes says.
The Pentagon's campus military spending budget has grown over the last few years. Demonstrations and protests in various forms have been held on major campuses as well. "This has to be a national effort. If you kick them out, they're not thinking about military annihilation," says Wisconsin Peace Conversion Project sponsored a November national meeting to form a network of groups opposed to the military spending, and helped bring the issue back to nationwide attention last year when it picketed the most notable symbol of military research on campus: the University's Motor Behavior Laboratory.

"I'm the parent of two students, and it's horrible to realize that our daughters are attending somewhere that this is going on." Hugh emphasizes that her objections extend to other campuses as well. "This has to be a national effort. If you kick them off one campus, they'll just move to another."

WAVE OF MILITARY SPENDING: CAMPUSES UP IN ARMS

By Enoch Needham

In 1981, Dr. George Stelmach, a physical education professor at the University of Wisconsin, received a $1,165,226 grant to study how the brain tells the body what to do.

"It has practical application to everything we do—speech, the aging process, whether we fly an airplane," Stelmach explained.

"The worst thing about military funding," argues Dr. Seymour Maman, who has authored several books critical of Pentagon spending, "is that it sets the tone for the university. It sets the tone for foundation money, and each time leaves a woeful absence of work in other areas."

But Pentagon officials insist they're not trying to set the tone for foundation money and research. "What you're going to have is two kinds of money (on campus)," he predicts. One kind is "military" work is strictly military. The other kind is "peace" work, but the latter is "going to remain in that position as a difficult concept."

"I'm sure that the surveys do not benefit students enough to make it worthwhile, but that they should be abolished."

Food, not an official standing committee for their absence. The Ethics Committee, put the Big Brothers and Sisters one step closer to their goal, and perhaps with your help, beyond it.

Among the prizes offered by the Lifestyles committee are: Sunday Brunch for two at the Sheraton-Lincoln Hotel in Newport, a free haircut, $25 cash, season's hockey and basketball tickets, a $10 gift certificate at Banks & Co., a $25 gift certificate at Park's, a $50 gift certificate at Bob's Deli, $20 worth of albums at Runt's Record, a $5 gift certificate at Park Bookstore, a PC Bookstore gift set and tickets to Spiro's, El's, and the Pinnacle Sandwich shop.

The drawing for this raffle will be held on Sunday, January 15. Ticket prices are $1 per set, 2 for $1. Tickets will be on sale until the end of this week from 10 a.m.-2:30 p.m. each day in lower Slavin.

Kids Need A Ride

By Cathy John

You may have noticed a table set up in Lower Slavin this week with a large sign in front of it saying "RAFFLE," across from the mailboxes and right next door to the BGO office. Big deal, right? Well, before you go whizzing by that table in the next two days, stop and ask about the good cause.

The Lifestyles committee of Student Congress is sponsoring this week's raffle to benefit The Big Brothers and Sisters organization on campus. The group has been trying for a long time to raise enough money to purchase a van which would help them transport children in and out of PC, but they have yet to reach that goal.

By sponsoring this raffle, the Lifestyles committee of Congress hopes to raise additional funds to cover the cost of a van. The money will go toward the purchase of a van, which will be named "the Big Brothers and Sisters Challenge Van." The van will be used to transport children to and from various activities.

CAMPUS MILITARY SPENDING BY ACADEMIC FIELD

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Field</th>
<th>1981</th>
<th>1982</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Physics</td>
<td>$149,075</td>
<td>$171,588</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psychology</td>
<td>$63,552</td>
<td>$67,965</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Physical Sciences</td>
<td>$410,530</td>
<td>$506,634</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Environmental Sciences</td>
<td>$181,847</td>
<td>$229,119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Math/Computer Sciences</td>
<td>$137,828</td>
<td>$175,390</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Engineering</td>
<td>$1,165,226</td>
<td>$1,310,764</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Social Sciences</td>
<td>$5,120</td>
<td>$5,265</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Source: National Science Foundation

---

PREPARE FOR MCAT-LAT-GMAT SAT-JCT-DAT-GRE-CPA

- Fastest Prep Tools: Study Smarter with Flashcards, 200+ Practice Tests, and Full-Length Exams. Get the highest score possible.

OTHER COURSES AVAILABLE

- GRE Physical Science: Digital delivery. Online access to all test prep material.
- MCAT: 200+ practice questions and full-length exams. Get the highest score possible.
- LSAT: 300+ practice questions and full-length exams. Get the highest score possible.
- GMAT: 300+ practice questions and full-length exams. Get the highest score possible.

PENNOCHIO'S RESTAURANT

397 Douglas Avenue, Providence, R.I.

272-5616
98* DAILY SPECIALS

Join us for Lunch or Dinner

SUBS AND DELI SANDWICHES

Specializing in Seafood, Italian Food and Sandwiches

AMEX - Diners Club - DISCOVER - MASTER CARD - VISA

---

FACULTY-SURVEY COMMITTEE ELIMINATED

Constitution committee members felt that the surveys do not benefit students enough to make it worthwhile, but that they should be abolished.

Food, not an official standing committee for their absence. The Ethics Committee, put the Big Brothers and Sisters one step closer to their goal, and perhaps with your help, beyond it.

Among the prizes offered by the Lifestyles committee are: Sunday Brunch for two at the Sheraton-Lincoln Hotel in Newport, a free haircut, $25 cash, season's hockey and basketball tickets, a $10 gift certificate at Banks & Co., a $25 gift certificate at Park's, a $50 gift certificate at Bob's Deli, $20 worth of albums at Runt's Record, a $5 gift certificate at Park Bookstore, a PC Bookstore gift set and tickets to Spiro's, El's, and the Pinnacle Sandwich shop.

The drawing for this raffle will be held on Sunday, January 15. Ticket prices are $1 per set, 2 for $1. Tickets will be on sale until the end of this week from 10 a.m.-2:30 p.m. each day in lower Slavin.

---

CAMPUS MILITARY SPENDING BY ACADEMIC FIELD

Figures for 1981 and 1982 are estimates. All numbers are in millions.
Providence in Europe
Pietrasanta, Italy

The Thirteenth Summer, 1982 — June 14th to August 10th

London...Stonehenge...Cornwall...Paris...Chartres...Southern France...Prehistoric Caves...Nice...Pietrasanta...Florence...Pisa...Siena...Rome...Munich...The Alps...Etc.
Etc...Etc.

6 Credits — Undergraduate and Graduate Level — $2820

Drawing - Painting - Ceramics - Renaissance Art History - Italian - Theology - Theology of Man - Philosophy - Philosophy of Man.

THERE ARE ONLY TEN PLACES LEFT FOR ACCEPTANCE — REPLY IMMEDIATELY —

For Information Call:
Father McAlister, O.P.
865-2310

Or Call: 865-2367
ask for Jenny Trimble
Editorials...

PC Administration: Give Students A Chance To Voice Athletic Support!

Dear Editor:

Back in the days when Providence was just the college on the hill, the "most important person" was the student. The student was actually divided into two major groups — the student-athlete and the student-fan. The fan was very vocal for the most part but also polite. In those days the alumni, the "friends of the Friars" and the students were all very supportive of their teams, but alas it seems these days are gone forever.

As any student-fan can attest, the biggest difference between the basketball season and the Boston College Hockey game was the noise level. Yes, the basketball team was ahead for most of the game but still the crowd was so loud that their support was most certainly an integral part but also polite. In those days Otis Thorpe if he was psyched up before a game the basketball fans were satisfied since they were able to get good seats for the game and also able to cheer their team on without reproach.

The hockey crowd was reduced to a group of approximately 250 vocal students who tried their best to export their school on to victory but failed. Schneider Arena was hardly quiet for a sellout crowd and the players responding to the lack of enthusiasm lost 5-3. It was only after the gamewas over that some of the students who had not been able to get into the game started a bench clearing brawl.

Secondly, tickets must be redeemed at hours before game time — a good idea to insure sellouts but which has proven to be ineffective.

Approximately 150 student season ticket holders were denied seats for the BC game even though many of them showed up well before the 48 hour deadline. There were also 2,000 empty seats in the "alumni" section which could easily have been filled by students.

Number three is that the tickets are billed as being a good deal because we the students get to see 24 games total but unfortunately 11 of these games are scheduled during the vacation period.

In laymen's terms almost one-third of the hockey season ticket holders are not meant to be seen by the people who are the number one purpose for this institution, the students. Even the seating at the civic center has been reduced to one end of the court (because of the repressive policy!). At Schneider Arena the cheering students are herded into the upper decks while the passive adults sit on their hands at risk side.

Our coaches have admitted the need for the noise and students' participation yet our administration refuses to make this a possibility. Who are we catering to, anyway?

Sincerely,

Phil Orzech
and concerned disheared fans

A Message Of The Editor

Dear Student:

In light of the fact that this week's edition is devoted almost entirely to PC sports, I thought it appropriate to discuss some related issues that have arisen during the past week.

There have been two basic issues surrounding PC athletics: (1) that hockey fans, particularly those in section S, have been known to become profane, and (2) that the ticket policy is unfair because on a number of occasions season ticket holders were denied tickets even when they redeemed their coupons within the 48 hour limit. This became especially apparent the two days before the BC-PB game last Sunday.

The Cowl has received numerous letters and phone calls regarding both these issues.

The problem of the rude hockey fan can be solved easily: these fans can either continue to use up their seats, or they can leave the arena. Our Friars surely need support, but not at the price of our student body's integrity.

As far as the ticket policy is concerned, I strongly believe that it is indeed just. Last week, as even the ticket office admits, there were some problems.

In a nutshell, what happened was this: the Ticket Office sold a certain number of tickets, (say, 7000) but which has proven to be ineffective.

Number three is that the tickets are billed as being a good deal because we the students get to see 24 games total but unfortunately 11 of these games are scheduled during vacation period.

In laymen's terms almost one-third of the hockey season ticket holders are not meant to be seen by the people who are the number one purpose for this institution, the students. Even the seating at the civic center has been reduced to one end of the court (because of the repressive policy!). At Schneider Arena the cheering students are herded into the upper decks while the passive adults sit on their hands at risk side.

Our coaches have admitted the need for the noise and students' participation yet our administration refuses to make this a possibility. Who are we catering to, anyway?

Sincerely,

MARYBETH HOLLAND

Equitable Tickets??

Dear Editor:

It seems we’ve been ripped off once again, fellow students, this time by the PC ticket office. The office will accept our $30 for season tickets (or rather, season "coupons"). yet won’t accept the coupon for redemption of our rightful ticket. This was my experience when I went to redeem my BC hockey coupon 48 hours in advance (as stated on each coupon). Apparently the game was a sellout and I was denied admission. There is obviously a blatant flaw in the system when season ticket holders are refused tickets to events they’re paid for. Why don’t they wait until the day of or 24 hours before the game to sell surplus student tickets?

Sincerely,

C’stalavie, Mary West, ’84

The Cow
PC Stuns Georgetown, 50-49

By Richard Testa

Joe Mullaney was standing now, his hands were on his head and he broke out into a smile — a third, exhausted smile. He walked toward the Georgetown bench and looked at his former player, who had coached the opposing team, shook his head and smiled. Wow! The Friar coach had just put everything he had into Saturday night's contest and in his first meeting against his former PC star had beaten the number one team in the East, the 11th ranked team in the nation. What could John Thompson, the Hoyas' coach do? He had to hug his old coach. In what was the most emotional game played at the Civic Center in about four years, the Friars defeated their Big East Rival 50-49. Earlier in the their five game losing streak by nipping URI 68-67 in overtime.

PC earned the bragging rights as the best team in Rhode Island for the first time since 1977. The Friars are now 9-8, 1-5 in the conference.

There is an important point in any game when a mediocre team plays a team with superior talent. Almost any coach will tell you that to answer the better team's baskets in the game is the key — don't let them get comfortable. PC seemingly went this route as they matched the heavily favored Hoyas basket for basket. The score was knotted at 12 when Georgetown scored two quick hoops and went up by four. Then Billy Fields threw in a 20 footer and Otis Thorpe slam dunked the Friars to a tie. Not only was that particular basket important in that it tied the game, but proved to "0" that he could indeed play against the "big boys" such as seven-foot Pat Ewing and Ed Spriggs. The play also swelled up the crowd of 7,953.

A few minutes after Otis asserted himself, the Friars grabbed the lead 25-21. No one was getting too over-confident though. The lead stayed the same for much of the first 10 minutes of the second half and PC grabbed its biggest advantage on a layup by Fields that put the Friars up 43-33 with 9:23 remaining. Instantly Ewing came off of the bench he had been saddled with his fourth personal earlier in the half and started a slow, but sure, comeback of a very good team. The first play was directed at him, he laid it in and it was fouled. They brought it down to four, 46-42 with 6:30 left and it remained. At that point Eric "Sleepy" Plym, the All-American guard sank two free throws and the lead was 50-47.

Not even superstar Pat Ewing of Georgetown could control the red-hot Otis Thorpe.

Instantly the Friars pushed their way back into the ballgame and tied the score four different times in a row. URI then spun and suddenly led 46-38 with under seven minutes left. Panaggio threw in a 15 footer and Jackson bombed two in from outside and the score was knotted at 46 with 3:21 left. Rhode Island worked the ball around and center Roland Houston scored on a layup with 2:10 remaining. Jackson threw another bomb in. PC got the ball back and came down court. At this point in time URI had no team fouls. They decided to put pressure on the Friar inbound passes. And they wanted them to throw a lot of them.

The first pass in-Rhody fouled. Coach Mullaney knew something could be done. So he told the referee what URI was doing — fouling intentionally. As it turned out two fouls later, the referee agreed and called the two shot intentional foul. Claude English, the Hoyas coach, claimed afterwards that the call was atrocious. It wasn't of course, since everyone knew what URI was doing. Panaggio was fouled and hit the first, but missed the second shot. Rhode Island still had a chance and their best player, Marc Upshaw was fouled. He converted one of his two free throws under tremendous pressure and the Friars were into overtime for the first time.

URI controlled the tap, missed and Jack threw in the game winning 1 footer with plenty of time remaining. Rhody just couldn't hit and boy, did they have their opportunities. It was a very big win for Jack Jackson.

Now Ron knows that he'll have some great games. He'll have his great games. He'll have his great games. He'll have his great games. He'll have his great games.

The Friars don't have any Big East contests this week. They'll play Dayton, away, tomorrow night, televised locally on TV-12. Then next Monday night, in the Big East game of the week, they'll entertain Connecticut at the Civic Center. URI beat Georgetown and Villanova last week. They'll be tough. But not not only do Ron Jackson, Otis Thorpe and Jim Panaggio know they can play against the iron of the Big East — they know they can win. It should be an interesting February.

Sincerely,
Kevin Burke
Sports Editor

PC fans show the fever during last week's upset over No. 11 Georgetown.

(Photo by Tom Bastoni)
A Look Back At The Success of Joe Mullaney

By Richard Testa

Joe Mullaney was one of the most successful college basketball coaches during his college coaching tenure in the mid-'60s through the '70s at Providence College. In his first year here, 1955-56, Mullaney's return—his 1981-82 Friar team. The Friar team was a household word.

So here we are in 1969. We're 6-0 after two games. Joe Mullaney is happy. He's excited. He's on top of the world. He's got a good team. He's got a good vibe. He's got a good feeling. He's got a good atmosphere.

And that's the way it was. That's the way it's always been. That's the way it's been for Joe Mullaney. That's the way it's been for Joe Mullaney at Providence College. That's the way it's been for Joe Mullaney for the last 20 years.

Mullaney's return—his 1981-82 Friar team.

The 1959-60 Providence Basketball Team.

COWL: As you recruit students...
Mullaney Continues...

COWL: What do you think of the new jump ball-alternate possession rule? The rule eliminates the jump ball at every point of the game except the opening or the beginning of an overtime period. At every other jump ball situation the teams switch taking the ball out of bounds — thereby alternating possession.

MULLANEY: I have no objections to the change. The people seem to be concerned about it, but I have no problem with it. I don't like the phase, which has been already noted by so many coaches that they'll probably change it, where you can force a jump ball by playing good defense. It's the other team's turn they get it, then there's unfair. They should alternate legitimate jump balls the instant a team is in play (players from both teams have a piece of the ball). The team that causes the five-second violation should get the ball. There's no reason there should be a jump ball anyway.

Alternate possession is fair, equitable, and takes out the element of the jump player throwing it up right which happens 90 percent of the time. If you steal a pass you're probably going to benefit by cheating. If you have the bigger man you should get it every time. If it was really a good thing, the jump, they never would have taken it out. You see, they used to jump after every basket. Every basket, you'd go to mid-court and you'd jump. And obviously it was unfair that they got rid of it, but they said, well, we'll do it at the beginning of the game and at the beginning of the half, just to keep it in. And then they did for a couple of select things and even that was unfair. It's still unfair. It's just how many times it's unfair.

Jabbar he always saw it wasn't fair and said really should do away with it. A lot of guys are squawking about it, but they don't know what they're talking about.

Joe Mullaney certainly does. And that's what makes an interview of Joe almost always interesting. He has center Otis Thorpe improving every game.

Too often, he mentioned, players of Ola's caliber tend to think they've reached the ultimate stage and don't work hard to improve. Otis wants to improve and he's got the right coach to learn to do just that. Other players who are coming along this season progresses are "slow starters," Ricky Tucker and Billy Fields.

Coach Joe meets the press upon his return to PC.

'81-'82 Basketball Profiles

Franklin was a 1976 graduate of Holy Cross, the School of Architecture.

The key man for the Friars this year is the 6'8" sophomore center, Otis Thorpe. Last year Otis averaged 8.6 PPG and 5.3 rebounds. His contribution this year has been even better. So far in 1981-82 Otis has led the team in points in eight games. He is averaging 14.5 PPG and 7.7 rebounds and leads the team in both categories.

Ortis Thorpe Height: 6'8"
Class: Sophomore
High School: Lake Worth H.S.
Weight: 225
Position: Center
Hometown: Boynton, Fla.

The team's co-captain and most experienced player on the club. This season on January 16, Fields became the 21st PC basketball player to be a 1000 point scorer. Fields name will be in an honorable list which includes former All-American Marvin Barnes, former All-American Joe Hassett, former All-American Ernie DiGregorio '73, and former All-American Kevin Sascan '74. Fields is a special education major. He has averaged in double figures since he was a starter freshman year and is very durable and has played in 97 straight games. He has never missed one as a PC player.

Continued on page 4

TRAMURAL ANNOUNCEMENT

There will be a meeting of all Rugby players tonight at 7:00 in the basement of Joseph's Hall. All animals welcome.
Jim Panaggio
Weight: 180
Height: 6-3
Position: Guard No.20
Class: Senior
High School: Cardinal Mooney

The team's best defensive player. Co-captain. Led team in assists and steals. Is a sophomore transfer from Dartmouth, where he was Dartmouth's second leading scorer and led the team in assists and minutes played. Is currently an English major. Panaggio will provide ball handling and passing skills to the team this year. He has spent last two summers with a Christian missionary team. A few of the countries that he has played in are Panama, Chile, Columbia, Egypt, Spain, France and Greece. He led missionary team in minutes played and scoring. Not a big scorer for PC but a smart and experienced player.

Jim Cholakis
Height: 6-5
Weight: 190
Class: Sophomore
High School: Proctor Academy
Position: Forward Guard No.30
Home Town: South Dartmouth, Mass.

Good all-around athlete. Jim will play baseball for Providence this spring. Earned four letters in high school. Strong points: his jump shot, size big enough to play forward. An early injury has kept him out of the line up this year.

Carl Hill
Height: 6-6
Weight: 205
Class: Sophomore
High School: Proctor Academy
Position: Forward-Guard
Home Town: Roxbury, Mass.

Hill's experience from last year has given him a great advantage for this season. Carl started in all games as a freshman, averaging 3.0 PPG. and tallied 229 minutes played. Hill, a 6'6" guard, came to PC from Princeton Country Day School in New Jersey. His quickness and shooting ability will surely help the team this year. As a freshman, Carl scored 12 points against URI. At Princeton Country Day, Hill scored 101 career points and led the team to New Jersey State Championships. He averaged 16 PPG and 6 assists as a junior. Carl turned down scholarships from other big-name basketball colleges such as Maryland, Wichita State and Wake Forest. So far this year, Carl is averaging 10.2 points against URI 49-47 in overtime. "I’d like to see this place become a pit. A pit enthu­siasm. Now that we’ve got a goal and we’re trying to create this interest, let’s get the right thing going. I put a plea out to students. ... We want you there. We want you there every second. We want you loud! We want you vocal. But let’s not be vulgar in any way.”

Cutting out the bad language doesn’t mean that manic cheering must come to a halt. It means we should keep the language clean and yell louder than ever.

Just the fact that the problem has brought to the attention of Gavitt and his top management shows that the crowds are making an impact on the games and they are being heard.

And as the Friars inch closer to the playoffs with 16 games left at Schneider Arena, they crucially need that student wilderness in the stands. Because if everything works out, we could all find ourselves cheering at the Civic Center in March — where this year’s Nationals are being held.

That Providence Journal article on the Princeton-PC game last in December concluded in an appropriate way. “But the night belonged to the Friars,” it stated. “And their 80 very vocal, very loyal fans.”

Well, there will be many more nights like that one — but this time we’ll be bigger and better than ever.

Look out Schneider, here we come!

Ron Jackson
Height: 6-6
Weight: 205
Class: Junior
High School: West Roxbury

Ron Jackson came to Providence after two years at Rixbury Community College, where he was a Junior college All-American. At Rixbury he scored 1,208 points his first year and a 26-3 last year. In his first 16 games at Providence he has averaged over 14 points a game, and had 96 points at Arizona. Jackson also played for the East in the U.S. Olympic Committee’s National Sports Festival in Syracuse this summer. Jackson is a Business Administration major. He is a fine inside shooter and is big enough to play up front, but can also play in the back court.

Ron Jackson
Height: 6-6
Weight: 205
Class: Junior
High School: West Roxbury

Ron Jackson came to Providence after two years at Rixbury Community College, where he was a Junior college All-American. At Rixbury he scored 1,208 points his first year and a 26-3 last year. In his first 16 games at Providence he has averaged over 14 points a game, and had 96 points at Arizona. Jackson also played for the East in the U.S. Olympic Committee's National Sports Festival in Syracuse this summer. Jackson is a Business Administration major. He is a fine inside shooter and is big enough to play up front, but can also play in the back court.

* HOCKEY (Continued from page 10)

Big East rival 50-48. Karster in the week Providence had snapped their five game losing streak by nipping URI 49-47 in overtime.

We want you loud! We want you vocal. But let’s not be vulgar in any way.

Big East rival 50-48. Karster in the week Providence had snapped their five game losing streak by nipping URI 49-47 in overtime.

We want you loud! We want you vocal. But let’s not be vulgar in any way.

Jim Cholakis
Height: 6-5
Weight: 190
Class: Sophomore
High School: Proctor Academy
Position: Forward Guard No.30
Home Town: South Dartmouth, Mass.

Scored 1,191 points in high school. Burns has overcome anemia to be one of the Friars’ key big men. He is the second tallest on the team, his size will add to the team’s rebounding potential. Had a 540 shooting percentage last year. A business management major who was contacted by more schools while he was in high school. Is one of the most improved players on the team, who will see a great deal of playing time this year.

Carlo Dohan
Height: 6-1
Weight: 170
Class: Sophomore
High School: Princeton Country Day School
Position: Guard
Home Town: Trenton, N.J.

Dohan is a guard with an ability to jump for height. He is a fine outside shooter and is big enough to play up front, but can also play in the back court.

Bill Cameron
Height: 6-4
Weight: 190
Class: Sophomore
High School: Proctor Academy
Position: Forward
Home Town: Des Moines, Iowa

Cameron is a forward who has been in the lineup for the team. He is a fine outside shooter and is big enough to play up front, but can also play in the back court.
Via Erie, England, Meet...

By Tom O’

After the Cross Country team’s successful season last fall, The Cowl went to its many sources to come up with the following brief biographies about those runners who made it happen.

Captain Ray Treacy - Known to others as a dedicated runner who would do anything for the well-being of the team. Next major event after Bermuda is the Big East Indoor Marathon. Hard to get him to speak his mind. No plans after graduation include getting him to smile once in a while.

Paul “Pac-Man” Moloney - Providence College has had a great influence on him. His running has turned around 100 percent since he came here as a freshman. Familiar with the line “There is no room at the Inn.”

Steve Bins - Did NOT run the Manchester Road Race on Thanksgiving Day. Is considered one of the most popular members of the team with the non-varsity runners. He feels they add a special flavor to the locker room.

Richard O’Flynn - Famous with meeting teammate Jimmy Fallon at Irish Nationals over the summer. Always concerned with other people’s well being. Has great lung capacity and animal instincts. Wants to join the cadets when he graduates.

Rich Mulligan - “Paul, you are in a hole.”

Ray Treacy - When you ask for a favor, you never have to ask twice: three again maybe. Favorite sayings include: “Who is Steve Seaver?”

Johnny McLaughlin - Based on data and statistics, on paper, one of the greatest coaches in school history. Sharp mind for details.

Paul Maloney - Celebrity status for Paul Moloney and Steve Bins.

Steve Seaver - Who am I?

Ray O’Flynn - “Has anyone seen Brendan?”

Charlie Bregy - Thanksgiving Day. Likes to take a stop at the Silver Truck on the way back from the Rat. Who is Werner Schildhauer? Follows the program very closely. Has to different loops in Lincoln Woods. Nice haircut, Geddy.

Charlie Bregy - MinED an eventful weekend at Dartmouth to run the Ras. They were all equal men on the line. Still looking for his room in Fennell. Enjoys walking to music; and if you want to say something to him, say it to his face. He always gets his man.

Geoff Smith - “Pac-Man” Moloney feels indoor is his most productive season. Thinks he gets off to a good start by “hoozing up” at the Dartmouth Relays. On any given Friday or Saturday (or Monday, etc.) night, can be seen at the Rat driving people crazy who would like to play just ONE game of PAC-MAN. He and teammate Steve Seaver have been known to disappear for at least an hour playing one game.

Geoff Smith - Longer a factor in the “Bachelor of the Year” contest; feels it is not as important as it used to be. Plans after graduation include publishing a book describing the difference between a “quality” runner, a “jogger,” and a “hack.” Likes the window closed and the radio left alone. Brendan “It was me!” Quinn - Very proud of his participation in the Manchester Road Race.

Steve Bins - Did NOT run the Manchester Road Race on Thanksgiving Day. Is considered one of the most popular members of the team with the non-varsity runners. He feels they add a special Contribution to the well-being of almost every team member by buying them an occasional pit-cher or two, or... Wishes the Nationals were held in Wichita every year, as he considers it one of his favorite places to race.

Jimmy “How-Long-Eyes” Fallon - Providence College has had a great influence on him. His running has turned around 100 percent since he came here as a freshman. Familiar with the line, “There is no room at the Inn.”

Does not go out too often because he would rather concentrate on his studies. He and freshman Richard O’Flynn will live together with Brendan Quinn next year, he hopes he can get Brendan to make a few of the decisions. Another of his favorite sayings is, “Honesty is the best policy.” Very good at impersonating Brendan Quinn.

Rich O’Flynn - “Sonner” Steve Bins - Teammates trying to find a way to get him to smile once in a while. Thinks people who sing along are all nuts and don’t take life seriously. Does not know what to do when a girl shows interest in him; his wife might get mad.

Rich O’Flynn - “Has anyone seen Brendan.”

Celebrity status for Paul Moloney and Steve Bins.

Ray O’Flynn - “Sonner” Steve Bins - Teammates trying to find a way to get him to smile once in a while. Thinks people who sing along are all nuts and don’t take life seriously. Does not know what to do when a girl shows interest in him; his wife might get mad.

Ray O’Flynn - “Sonner” Steve Bins - Teammates trying to find a way to get him to smile once in a while. Thinks people who sing along are all nuts and don’t take life seriously. Does not know what to do when a girl shows interest in him; his wife might get mad.

Ray O’Flynn - “Sonner” Steve Bins - Teammates trying to find a way to get him to smile once in a while. Thinks people who sing along are all nuts and don’t take life seriously. Does not know what to do when a girl shows interest in him; his wife might get mad.

Ray O’Flynn - “Sonner” Steve Bins - Teammates trying to find a way to get him to smile once in a while. Thinks people who sing along are all nuts and don’t take life seriously. Does not know what to do when a girl shows interest in him; his wife might get mad.

Ray O’Flynn - “Sonner” Steve Bins - Teammates trying to find a way to get him to smile once in a while. Thinks people who sing along are all nuts and don’t take life seriously. Does not know what to do when a girl shows interest in him; his wife might get mad.

Ray O’Flynn - “Sonner” Steve Bins - Teammates trying to find a way to get him to smile once in a while. Thinks people who sing along are all nuts and don’t take life seriously. Does not know what to do when a girl shows interest in him; his wife might get mad.

Ray O’Flynn - “Sonner” Steve Bins - Teammates trying to find a way to get him to smile once in a while. Thinks people who sing along are all nuts and don’t take life seriously. Does not know what to do when a girl shows interest in him; his wife might get mad.

Ray O’Flynn - “Sonner” Steve Bins - Teammates trying to find a way to get him to smile once in a while. Thinks people who sing along are all nuts and don’t take life seriously. Does not know what to do when a girl shows interest in him; his wife might get mad.
Women in Sports

Impressive at 12-4
Mullaney Jr. Ladies Hoop Thriving

By Christine Merlo

With the present record of 12-4, the Lady Friars are doing well and improving. Last year's team consisted of 17-12 with a lot of experience. Coach Joe Mullaney, Jr. is the new coach of the basketball team. Last year's team consisted of a 17-12 record. The basketball team ended their season with a total of 17-12 record. The team had a lot of experience. Coach Joe Mullaney, Jr. was surrounded by basketball players. His father (Joe Sr.) was a great athlete who had played basketball. Joe Sr. won a trip-out with the Iowa Cornets' Nebraska Wranglers. He was also on the Iowa Cornets' Nebraska Wranglers. Joe Sr. graduated from the University of Missouri in 1978. A three-year varsity player, he was a three-year starter. Coach Dave Gavitt (Mr. Gavitt is now PC's head coach) is a guard. Coach Mullaney's team qualified for the NCAA playoffs. Mullaney was named assistant coach of the PC basketball team of 1977 to be one of the top five teams in the nation. That year the PC Friars, who entered the NCAA playoffs at 24-7, lost to Kansas by one point.

After graduation. Joe took a coaching job with the Warwick Veterans' High. Later he became involved in the RI CETA pro-gram (with which he is still involved) and accepted the position of assistant coach of the men's basketball team at RIC. In 1980, the position of head coach for the Lady Friars basketball team was available. Although Mullaney had never coached a women's basketball team before, he liked the idea of becoming the head coach. If he could become head coach he would be able to develop his own style, and since women's basketball is slightly different from men's basketball, he thought he would apply.

"My first year was a difficult transition for myself as well as for the returning players because most of the team had been accustomed to Coach Tim Gillide's system of coaching. I think at times, it's hard for the freshmen to adapt to my system of basketball. They don't get the opportunity to play much, but in practice, their playing is very valuable because they push the constant players into practicing much harder."

Coach Mullaney sees a lot of improvement in this year's team. "We are a smarter, hard-working team. It seems as though we get better every day." He feels as though the team has a lot of spirit and that most players are playing with complete confidence. "These factors make it hard for any team to beat." According to Coach Mullaney, another reason why the Lady Friars are doing so well is because of their strong defense. Last year the team concentrated on only one type of defense. "Once teams knew our defense, they could take advantage of it and score very easily. This year we use different types of defense, according to the style of basketball our opponents play. If a team discovers our style of play, we always have different types of defense to fall back on. Good, consistent defense is important for winning games; our defense keeps us in the game."

In order to win games, Mullaney says the Lady Friars have to play a certain way—they have to work hard and be selective in their shooting. "When we played Rutgers and..."

Impressive at 12-4
Mullaney Jr. Ladies Hoop Thriving

By Christine Merlo

With the present record of 12-4, the Lady Friars are doing well and improving. Last year's team consisted of 17-12 with a lot of experience. Coach Joe Mullaney, Jr. is the new coach of the basketball team. Last year's team consisted of a 17-12 record. The basketball team ended their season with a total of 17-12 record. The team had a lot of experience. Coach Joe Mullaney, Jr. was surrounded by basketball players. His father (Joe Sr.) was a great athlete who had played basketball. Joe Sr. won a trip-out with the Iowa Cornets' Nebraska Wranglers. He was also on the Iowa Cornets' Nebraska Wranglers. Joe Sr. graduated from the University of Missouri in 1978. A three-year varsity player, he was a three-year starter. Coach Dave Gavitt (Mr. Gavitt is now PC's head coach) is a guard. Coach Mullaney's team qualified for the NCAA playoffs. Mullaney was named assistant coach of the PC basketball team of 1977 to be one of the top five teams in the nation. That year the PC Friars, who entered the NCAA playoffs at 24-7, lost to Kansas by one point.

After graduation. Joe took a coaching job with the Warwick Veterans' High. Later he became involved in the RI CETA pro-gram (with which he is still involved) and accepted the position of assistant coach of the men's basketball team at RIC. In 1980, the position of head coach for the Lady Friars basketball team was available. Although Mullaney had never coached a women's basketball team before, he liked the idea of becoming the head coach. If he could become head coach he would be able to develop his own style, and since women's basketball is slightly different from men's basketball, he thought he would apply.

"My first year was a difficult transition for myself as well as for the returning players because most of the team had been accustomed to Coach Tim Gillide's system of coaching. I think at times, it's hard for the freshmen to adapt to my system of basketball. They don't get the opportunity to play much, but in practice, their playing is very valuable because they push the constant players into practicing much harder."

Coach Mullaney sees a lot of improvement in this year's team. "We are a smarter, hard-working team. It seems as though we get better every day." He feels as though the team has a lot of spirit and that most players are playing with complete confidence. "These factors make it hard for any team to beat." According to Coach Mullaney, another reason why the Lady Friars are doing so well is because of their strong defense. Last year the team concentrated on only one type of defense. "Once teams knew our defense, they could take advantage of it and score very easily. This year we use different types of defense, according to the style of basketball our opponents play. If a team discovers our style of play, we always have different types of defense to fall back on. Good, consistent defense is important for winning games; our defense keeps us in the game."

In order to win games, Mullaney says the Lady Friars have to play a certain way—they have to work hard and be selective in their shooting. "When we played Rutgers and..."

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM: First row (l-r): Co-captains Madeline McCoy, Co-captains Kerry Phayer and Rita Franier. Second row (l-r): Stella Heave, Karen Byrne, Stacy King, Laurie St. Jean, Sharon Harvey and Sue Alpert. (Third row (l-r): assistant trainer Elize Christo, head trainer Kathy Cerra, Coach Mullaney, Joyce Bentkowski, Laurie Buchman, Kathy Finn, assistant coach Lynn Shedy and head coach Joe Mullaney, Jr.

The Women in Sports page is a part of a larger document. The page continues with more content related to the basketball team and the experiences of its coach, Joe Mullaney, Jr. The content includes quotes from the coach, details about the team's improvements, and updates on individual players. The page also features a section on Lynn Shedy's return to action, discussing her role as a returning player and her contributions to the team. The text is a mix of narrative and descriptive prose, providing a comprehensive view of the Lady Friars' basketball program and the personal journeys of its athletes and coaching staff.
Where Are They Now?

Who's Who in Harrier History

By Chris Lydon

For the past ten years, Providence College cross country has established itself as one of the most successful programs in the country. There have been many great runners who have gone through PC who are successful today and out of the sport. The nine athletes below are some of the best ever to come of PC, and this accompanying short biographies will give the long-time cross country fan a chance to see what these stars are doing now.

Mick O’Shea (1973-1977) — the first of the so-called “Irish Connection” at PC. Competed for Ireland in the 1980 Olympic 5000 in Moscow. Currently works in Boston. He is an active runner and is establishing himself as a force with track and road running circles. While at PC, led the Friars to a third place finish in the National Championships in 1975. Also one of the first New England college runners to break the four minute mile. According to teammate John Treacy, he was “a worker par excellence.”

John Treacy (1974-1978) — In 1977, he ran a 2:06.83 in the 800m which Steve Binns, Brendan Quinn and Richard O’Flynn took part. The early pace was set by Mark Kimball of Boston U., who passed through the half in 1:51, with Binns and Quinn going through in 2:31.0, and O’Flynn in 2:41.0. Soon after, Kimball tired and Binns took the lead; passing the two-mile point in 3:36. With Quinn still stuck on his shoulder, the race swung over to Wisconsin’s Walter Franklin as second quarter to win in 4:04, and Quinn held on for third in 4:05.5. O’Flynn tired over the last half, and finished in 4:13. Binns’ time of 2:10.86 was the fastest so far this season for New England in the mile, and Quinn’s time ranked him fourth. In another heat of the mile, Paul Moloney took second in a time of 4:14, and Charlie Treacy took third in a time of 4:16. In the 800m, Bill Koekan took third in a personal best 1:57.9, and in the 1000 yard run, Mike Arpin took fourth in 2:39.4, while Richard Mulligan was fifth in 2:39.6. The invitational 3000 featured three Providence graduates, as well as junior Jimmy Fallon. The race proved to be the fastest 3000 ever run indoors in New England, as Greg Meyer won in 13:33. For Fallon, it marked his fastest indoor 5000 ever as he overcame a tough last 300 meters to finish in 15:19.2. For Binns, the time broke the 6000 meter indoor record and qualified him for the NCAA Indoor Championships held in New York City.

Mick O’Shea in 1973. Back then, the Irishmen made up the majority of the team.

Mike Byrne (1974-1978) — one of the five runners to come from Ireland, currently working as a sales manager for Philips Ireland. Scoring member of the team in all four years here.

For Oona Mulligan, this has not been her best year due to injury. There was a time during the cross country season when she was one of two healthy scoring members of the team. Injured at the moment, she is hoping to come back to have a fine outdoor track season. Maura McGuire is one athlete who has gone unnoticed in her fourth years at PC. When she came here as a freshman, she became one of the best high jumpers in school history, but do many people know that the women’s track and cross country teams have athletes who rank high in their particular events? It’s the women who received some publicity for their accomplishments.

Everyone has heard about the men’s cross country team and the fine reputation they have around the country. But do many people know that the women’s track and cross country teams have athletes who rank high in their particular events? It’s the women who received some publicity for their accomplishments.

Women Make Tracks

By Chris Lydon

Peter Crooke ('80) ran a personal best in the marathon. Is ranked as one of the fastest so far this year in New England. For Oona Mulligan, this has not been her best year due to injury. There was a time during the cross country season when she was one of two healthy scoring members of the team. Injured at the moment, she is hoping to come back to have a fine outdoor track season. Maura McGuire is one athlete who has gone unnoticed in her fourth years at PC. When she came here as a freshman, she became one of the best high jumpers in school history, but do many people know that the women’s track and cross country teams have athletes who rank high in their particular events? It’s the women who received some publicity for their accomplishments.

For Oona Mulligan, this has not been her best year due to injury. There was a time during the cross country season when she was one of two healthy scoring members of the team. Injured at the moment, she is hoping to come back to have a fine outdoor track season. Maura McGuire is one athlete who has gone unnoticed in her fourth years at PC. When she came here as a freshman, she became one of the best high jumpers in school history, but do many people know that the women’s track and cross country teams have athletes who rank high in their particular events? It’s the women who received some publicity for their accomplishments.
Women's Hockey Undefeated

By Kenneth Alber

The Women's Ice Hockey team remains undefeated, starting off this semester right where they left off before the holidays. The Lady Friars defeated Princeton 4-0, Brown 10-1, Yale 8-0, and BU 12-2. As those scores indicate, the ladies are quite an awesome force. That, combined with their 9-0 overall record, has kept the Lady Friars atop the coaches' poll since last November. Throughout the season, PC has Offensive prowess is not the only strong point on this club. Over the entire season, the Lady Friars' defensive unit has only allowed an amazing total of 135 shots on goal (an average of 15 shots per game). Goaltender Barbara Luther, who has been the recipient of such fine support, has also played superbly between the pipes.

An undefeated season is entirely possible but PC still must face arch rival UNH at home. In order to accomplish such a feat, the Lady Friars will need a total team effort in every game.

Alexis Sgaboo—Forward: Alexis is the third of four exceptional seniors on this year's club. Earlier this season against BC (four goals and two assists).

Debbie Kirrane—Defense: Debbie is the only senior on this year's defensive unit. She has shown much improvement in her years at PC and currently anchors a solid backline.

Jackie Glado—Forward: Jackie is currently leading the scorer for the Lady Friars with 28 points. Last year, she was second on the club in that department. We can expect two more years of high scoring from Jackie as she is only a sophomore.

Kathy Kelly—Forward: Kathy is in her second year of action for the Lady Friars. This year she is one of the key members on defense and should remain so for two years to come.

Barbara Luther—goalie: Barbara stepped in this season and became the number one goaltender. She has played very well as can be attested by her 1.24 goals against average. Being only a sophomore, we can look forward to two more years of excellent goal tending.

Maribeth Crook—goalie: Maribeth, also a sophomore has been the backup this season. She has seen action in four games thus far this year and is very capable in case Barbara gets injured.

Susan Duffy—Center: Susan is currently in her final campaign for PC. She has always been a consistent scorer for the Lady Friars. This year is no exception as she is third on the team in scoring.

Mary Ellen Riordan—Center: Mary Ellen, also in her last season, has been a fine scorer throughout. She currently ranks second in career scoring and is also an excellent two-way player.

Cindy Curley is currently the second leading scorer on the team with 13 goals and 13 assists for 26 points. She's a strong skating center and was selected the MVP of the Cornell Invitational Tournament which PC won just this weekend. Cindy is from Slow, MA.

Karen Kay played with fellow freshman teammate Cindy Curley at Assabet Valley before coming to PC. She's a playmaking wing who serves on the penalty killing unit and comes from Marlborough, MA.

Kathy McLelland comes to PC from Newtown South High School in Newton, MA. Kathy is a hard working right wing who makes things happen when she steps on the ice.

Donna Salmoni is a graduate of Natick High School and a former member of the Natick "Eagles." Donna anchors the power play by playing the right point on an "all-forward" line.

Sheila Guiney polishes off the freshman squad as the lone incoming defensewoman. Sheila's strong, consistent defensive play has proved superb as her and the rest of the defensive squad have helped the goaltender's duties and given up only fifteen goals in eleven games. Sheila is a native of Fair Lawn, N.J.

Sue Passander is a transfer from the University of New Haven who has proven to be a strong asset this semester. Sue was chosen to the All-tournament team at The Cornell Invitational Tournament and centers a hard working line on the squad. Sue's hometown is West Haven, CT.

Freshmen Profiles

Alexis Sgaboo

Mary Ellen Riordan

Sue Duffy

Debbie Kirrane

Freshmen Profiles

Alexis Sgaboo

Mary Ellen Riordan

Sue Duffy

Debbie Kirrane

New patients are always welcome.
“Lamoriello’s Six Struggling...”

By John Brandolino

His office is a comfortable hideaway with all the frills of a modern apartment. A giant video screen recorder sits at one end of the room. The couch rests at the other. But if you were to ask Providence College hockey coach, Bob Lamoriello what his most prized possession is, he would probably say it’s his office, not his team. "...the left, in bold letters it reads 'Gretsky on front, but slightly to the right, it reads 'Providence Wins E.C.A.C.!' College hockey rocket from here, but they've all graduated, first. I'm not saying that's going to be the trend down the road - the professionals have a lot of say in it - but, with our philosophy, hopefully we'll have a word in it. Danny Miele was a unique situation. There were other circumstances involved. The greatest training ground for these people is in college. College is where they are getting development. They practice every day. I think the press has made a lot of the noise in the past years, than is warranted."
Chill Out! Schneider "S" Fans—A Bit Much

By John Brandilino

It was a wild, wild Wednesday night at Schneider Arena on December 7. The Friars took a 2-1 late in the second period, when the student regular decided to take matters into their own hands. In the next nine minutes a barrage of cheering carried PC to score four goals before the end of the period to take a 5-2 lead.

The next day The Providence Journal headline read "Loud Fans Help PC Six Trip Princeton". The article went on to describe an unusual powerplay "not the usual five on four, or five on three. It was more like 80 on 60. It was the very vocal fans in Section S of Schneider Arena and they were so loud and so involved in the game that they might as well have been on the ice."

For all of you who have even been to a Friar home hockey game, you've visibly noticed the loyal group of student rowdies—centering around Sections S and T—who have used probably every chant and cheer available to their team on.

However, the problem is that, they're too young, too many, and too loud. "I'm not an advocate of foul language," explains Providence coach Lou Lamoriello. "I do not think that it is necessary to create enthusiasm. There have been some things that have been brought to my attention. What I have in mind is that I don't want to see our crowd lose its enthusiasm, but I don't want to see the emotion generated through that kind of situation."

It's true, there is a slight chance for a home-ice advantage. Constantly skating to the penalty box. Randy Velischek, for instance, received five penalties on one night — and he only had a total of seven in twenty previous games.

BU put on the pressure with numerous 5 on 4 and 5 on 3 powerplays but could only manage two scores. That may seem like a lot, but it's commendable considering the Friars were totally disabled offensively. In the middle period, the Friars went 9:35 without a shot on BU goalie Glenn Dankals, and they couldn't produce their first shot on net in the last period until about the 6:49 mark.

Richie Costello added a long empty net goal with 1:16 left for the final of 5-2.

One disappointing result of the trip. Senior goalie Scott Fuksa suffered a hamstring injury early in the match and will be inactive for awhile. Sunday, Providence met with Boston College in what was billed as a sell-out with 3,600 tickets. Lamoriello was confident following the BU victory, and hoped his team could "top the top by bringing down the Eagles."

Well, all good thoughts were put to rest early when Boston College notched three quick goals to tie the game 3-3 on 14:21 of the second period. That until Richie Blossom struck again for the hat-trick, early in the 3rd period, putting the Eagles down and end the scoring at 5-3.

And if the game wasn't too exciting for any of the home crowd fans, the bench clearing brawl at the end of the game must have been one to get them going. It was a scene of madness, drawing every student there, and every fan out of the ice. Luckily, no one was injured on either side, which doesn't happen too often at PC contests.

The Friars narrowed the lead only one less on the season and is, with the help of Paul Guay's breakaway fake after some tenacious checking. But just as things started looking bright, Lee Blossom hit the net for his second of the day to put the Eagles back ahead by two. Again, things looked optimistic after Gaten Orlando stuffed a shot by goalie Eugene O'Connell and 10 students who either controlled ticket sales in their dorms or who were named to be largely involved in Section S.

The result of the meeting: who cares if other schools use raunchy cheers? We're too classy an organization to have that stuff and less obscenities will get the crowd going more.

"By Mr. Gavitt's getting a few guys together like that," reasons Rosetti, "it should be clean things. The result of the meeting: who cares if other schools use raunchy cheers? We're too classy an organization to have that stuff and less obscenities will get the crowd going more."
Coach Lou with his boys.

So what's your salary these days, Mr. Wilkens?

Friars whoop it up with Governor Garrahy after upset over URI.

Georgetown appears to be everywhere, but in the end it was the Friars who landed on top.

Rich Costello

Randy Velischek

Lomax struggles for position.

Taylor going for broke.

Let's Go Friars!
VARSITY SPORTS

MEN'S BASKETBALL
Jan. 28 at DAYTON 300
Feb. 1 at CONNECTICUT 700
Feb 6 at SYRACUSE 300
Feb 10 at BOSTON COLLEGE 300
Feb 13 at SETON HALL 200
Feb 15 at ST. JOHN'S 800
Feb 20 at CONN 700
Feb 24 at GEORGE TOWN 200
Feb 27 at VILLANOVA 800
March 4 Big EAST TOURNAMENT thru March 6 at HARTFORD

MEN'S HOCKEY
Jan. 27 at LOWELL 730 pm
Jan. 31 at DARTMOUTH 730 pm
Feb 2 at SALEM ST. 730 pm
Feb 6 at MAINE 200 pm
Feb 10 at NORTHEASTERN 730
Feb 16 at BROWN 730 pm
Feb 20 at ST. LAWRENCe 730
Feb 24 at VERMONT 730
March 1 at COLGATE 730
March 5 at NEW HAMPSHIRE
March 9 ECAC QUARTERFINALS (campus)
March 12 ECAC SEMIFINALS (BOSTON)
March 13 ECAC FINALS (Garden)

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL
Jan 26 at DARTMOUTH 700 pm
Jan 28 at URI 7:30 pm
Feb 1 at U. MASS. 700 pm
Feb 3 at CONNECTICUT 730 pm
Feb 6 at SYRACUSE 545 pm
Feb 10 at NEW HAMPSHIRE 545 pm
Feb 13 at G.E.O.R.G.E. 400
Feb 14 at AMERICAN UNIV. 200
Feb 17 at ST. JOHN'S 700 pm
Feb 20 at CENTRAL Conn. 600
Feb 23 at NORTHEASTERN 500
Feb 25 at Stonehill 700 pm

WOMEN'S HOCKEY
Feb 1 at BOSTON COLLEGE 730
Feb 5 at CONCORDIA INC. TBA
Feb 7 at DARTMOUTH 100 pm
Feb 13 at CORTLAND STATE 400
Feb 14 at CORNELL 500 pm
Feb 16 at BROWN 700 pm
Feb 21 at NEW HAMPSHIRE 500 pm
Feb 26 at BOSTON U. 600 pm
Feb 27 at COLBY 100 pm
March 2 at NORTHEASTERN 600
March 5 at EIAW REGIONAL TBA
March 6 at EIAW REGIONAL TBA
I must begin this column by saying that I lived through the Vietnam era of my country's history. Like thousands of others, I was horrified by the brutal war we conducted. I felt frustrated and guilty because of the apparent futility of attempts to protect and change our policy. I approach the politics of war and peace, therefore, with a sense of the enormous limits and constraints on the prospects that ordinary people will be able to exert influence. Yet such a perspective should not lead to silence or passivity. Realism does not necessarily imply apathy.

The question of what it means to be a Jewish American leads inevitably to matters affecting Israel. After the Nazi slaughter of the Jews, a Jewish homeland was a symbol and reality of a refuge that the Jews, a Jewish homeland won by generations of Jews who were attempting to justify our actions in Vietnam. As Layton's article suggests, American Jews no longer respond to these events? What is our role?

One begins by recognizing that Israel is a small country, surrounded by enemies, always in danger of destruction. One must recognize, too, that some of Israel's enemies have explicitly adopted a strategy of terrorism against civilians. There have been hundreds of murderous attacks on Israeli children and ordinary citizens in buses, on streets, in market places and schools.

Honestly compels the admittance that Israel's response has, in recent years, grown progressively more aggressive. Retaliation against terrorism has become ever more brutal. Israel's actions now seem not to be retaliatory at all, but to use terrorist attacks as the occasion to launch major military offensives. The painful truth seems to be that Israel seems willing to buy short-term security, through the use of its military might, at the expense of longer-term prospects for reconciliation. This is Israel's military and foreign policy, and it turns out to be good domestic politics. As we learned in our Vietnam period, hawks have an important advantage in an election in an embattled country.

One can only look with sadness and horror at a country whose memories are drenched in the blood of innocent people taken actions that will inevitably kill large numbers of civilians. One witnesses in disbelief as each step forward in the peace process is accompanied by two steps backward toward military solutions which will, as we learned in Vietnam, prove futile. Every time progress is made in the three-way Camp David process among Israel, Egypt and the U.S., it seems as if Israel chooses to be provocative, to test the limits of those with whom it is collaborating.

American Jews are in a particularly important position. We have a deep commitment to Israel, and we are citizens in a country that is Israel's important ally in a hostile world. America is vital to Israel's survival, and thus has influence on her. Here at home, it has been very difficult for American Jews to be especially influential in the lead in calling on that country to impose greater restraint and humanity in its conflict with its enemies. We are in a position to urge a more moderate course on Israel, and we can do so while remaining steadfast in our support of Israel's right to exist, indeed the urgent necessity that she survive.

American politicians have manipulated the American Jewish community by winning its votes, statements of support for Israel, whether or not they have actually followed through on those statements. American Jewish politicians have also manipulated us, assuming that we defended them in American forums no matter what they do. It seems appropriate for American Jews to remain unwavering in their commitment to Israel, and at the same time to use their moral and political influence to seek to have that country live up to its ideals. Found this article blood and tragedy, we might hope that Israel would seek peace, perhaps even a little more fervently than other countries.

What is the crime of Carlos Galván, the priest and unidentified Christians who are targeted for summary execution? While the Guatemalan government denies knowledge of these murders, there is no hesitation from official sources to label these victims as "subversive."

That explains how such things can happen in Guatemala. It does not explain how they can be ignored in the United States.

The death of thousands of persons each year in Guatemala to preserve the wealth of a few businessmen and generals does not have to go unreported or unprotested. In October, a month long Guatemala teach-in is scheduled on college campuses coast to coast. There probably won't be any Golden Farff in Guatemala, but there is a general awareness of the Guatemalan government's role in these events. It is as if American Jews have awakened to the fact that we must reaffirm our commitment to Israel and its survival, and that we must also take...
SATURDAY, JANUARY 30, 1982
LAST RESORT SOCIAL
with
ACES and EIGHT
Tickets on sale Thursday
at the B.O.G. Office
TICKETS: $5.00 — POSITIVE I.D. REQUIRED

MONDAY, FEB. 1, 1982
FACULTY LECTURE SERIES
featuring
COLONEL STIEPOCK
of the Military Science Department discusses
"MILITARY ASPECTS OF THE 1980's"
at 7:00
at the
Last Resort

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1982
COFFEE HOUSE
featuring
R. F. DALTON
9:00-12:00
AT THE
LAST RESORT

THE "LAST RESORT"... a building of many moods
Monday's Faculty Lecture Series... an informative mood.
a relaxing mood... Tuesday's Coffeehouse
An entertaining mood with "Sunday's Movie"
Finally... a party mood on Saturdays
Improve your memory.
Order this memo board now—before you forget!

For a good time call this number

Seagram's 7 & 7UP

This 12" x 15" self-adhesive memo board attaches easily to any surface and comes with its own erasable grease pencil.

Please send a check or money order for $2.99, no cash please, to:
Seagram's 7 Crown Memo Board Offer
P.O. Box 1953
New York, N.Y. 10152

And remember, good times stir with Seagram's 7 Crown.
THE STUDENT CONGRESS OF PROVIDENCE COLLEGE
PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND 02918
January 27, 1982

ATTENTION MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1983:

As some of you may be aware, four of our class leaders are participating in the Providence-in-Europe program: Mary Beth Carver, Alicia Lynch, Judy McNamara, and Chris Munn. We have asked them to report to the Student Congress “any office vacated must be filled within fourteen days.” We believe that we, as former members of the class in mind, not to fill these positions. In order to comply with this policy we would have to hold an election which would take time away from our last two weeks of the semester. The Development Committee and the Executive Board Elections this leave only three weeks for the new members to become involved in the processes of Student Congress before the new class elections. We feel that this is not an adequate amount of time for these students. We have to make any significant contributions to Student Congress as a whole or the Class of ‘83. If anyone has any input concerning this matter the officers and representatives of 1983 welcomes your comments and ideas. The Student Congress meets every Sunday evening at 6:00 in Old Center and its meetings are open. Contact us at that time.

Respectfully yours,

Greg Pagon, President
Dan Sullivan & Joe Brandolino, Reps.

K. J. Kelley Exhibit

Landscapes Featured

The works of Kevin J. Kelley, presently being displayed in the PC Art Gallery on the lower campus, offer a variety of landscapes done in various mediums and techniques, each of them representing a different time. Although the individual pieces themselves are beautiful, some with a haunting quality, and all showing a sensitivity to the landscapes, the show is the whole lacks the necessary sophistication of presentation.

The first thing that is apparent is the disunity and apparent lack of content in the show. In the goal of this show according to J. J. Kelley is to relay this message of emotion in terms of brush strokes... reality relies on the emotional impact rather than physical accuracy.” For me, the brush strokes convey an understated emotion. In only one work did I perceive any distinct feeling as defined by the brush. The inconsistency in medium, size, etc. of these landscapes is something about which I am a little disturbed. A show such as this generally approaches a central theme and tries to develop from it—i.e. Monet’s “Water Lilies.” The painting, light, water reflection, and paint as a sensorial event could be explored with limitless possibilities.

As a unifying factor between the individual paintings themselves helps to add to the show. As a whole, the show lacks the accompanying for “Frosty March.” Although similar in color scheme, they are too different in expression. In the case of K. J. Kelley, there is a lack of definition in the way those painting are presented.

Other areas of this presentation which perhaps required more attention on the part of the artist were: First, frames and matting. While some frames and matting is in poor condition, these detract from the show and care which he has obviously put into these paintings. Secondly, the quality of works presented is simply too large an endeavor for a show of this size. It is possible that with only half this time allotted, this show, carefully selected and presented, he could have made more of this work and presented it dramatically.

Some of these paintings are obviously comparable to Guguin but lacking Guguin’s “sense of space.” One major accomplishment of this show is that it is able to grab the viewer’s attention. It makes the viewer stop and question the composition, the use of color and the general sense of intrigue and pondering. One can’t help but take in the show as a whole.

We cordially invite you to come down to the gallery, in the Art Building on lower campus and view for yourselves.

Having a member of the staff of Interface, the PC Art Journal
The Writer's Home

The writer's home he salvages from scraps of days, like dead skin on the mattress, or a callous on his hand, like dust, from slips of dreams blown clean as benches, from love a crisp sheets as shoots, and from collapsed ideals as comfortable as cushions by the fireplace.

There are metaphors disguised as statue owls and images dressed up just like themselves, in frames. He tames a few and gets them to behave, to set and stand, like floors, like walls. Then he heaps his goods together, these hexametric lanes, a stair he likes to climb, a pepper jar, his reasons, rhymes, a rocking chair, symbols, signs, and with such reckless care, he finds a way to rearrange his room, his place, his space. He hopes it might appeal to those who seek no shelter, so when it's neat you know he really doesn't mean it.

Then, he invites you over. Usually, you don't come.

Leo Cavannaugh, '83

Some Ice Is Nice!

By Judy McNamara

How many times did you fall down Saturday night? Now if you didn't wear your ice skates to the Last Resort, Louise's or the Pembroke party you probably fell at least twice and if you're in the PC majority you fell anywhere from ten to twenty.

Luna, I'm afraid, if you're in Pembroke party you probably fell at least twice and if you're in Last Resort, Louise's or the Pembroke party you probably fell at least twice and if you're in the PC majority you fell anywhere from ten to twenty times. Falling the Last Resort, one could only hope to see a more perfect collegiate scene in his or her lifetime. A cool, crisp winter's eve, a friendly snowball fight and on Monday, half the campus wearing back braces or rocking chair, symbols, signs, and with such reckless care, he finds a way to rearrange his room, his place, his space. He hopes it might appeal to those who seek no shelter, so when it's neat you know he really doesn't mean it.

Then, he invites you over. Usually, you don't come.

Ski The Weekend Away

By Don Martin

With the best winter for skiing emerging, the Providence College Ski Club is getting ready for what promises to be its best ski trip season ever.

Already, there has been one trip to the slopes which was a tremendous success. That trip took place two Saturdays ago on January 16 to Killington, VT. The turnout was very impressive; 47 ski enthusiasts had a great time skiing in near perfect conditions. Although it was a bit on the cold side, it didn't seem to stop the students from enjoying the trip a bit. Besides, when the chair lift rides and mogule bumps tires you out, there is always the friendly lodge which can rekindle anyone with a few relaxing beverages.

The next trip that the club is planning is not a day long excursion but a week trip during February vacation, the 16th through the 20th. The resort is at Smuggler's Notch and it is a pretty good deal.

The trip consists of five days of lift-tickets, cover charges to all the nightclubs, sleeping accommodations in condominiums, free pool use, and ice skating — all for $100.

Although meals are not included, our research has indicated that skiers can eat quite healthfully at approximately $10 to $12 per day. This deal is a terrific bargain and interest has been building. So, to find out more about the PC Ski Club trip to Smuggler's Notch, make it a point to attend the important meeting on January 27, at 7 p.m., in '84 Hall in Upper Slavin. Hope to see you there! A $30 non-refundable deposit is needed by February 3 to secure a spot for the trip. Deposits will also be collected at the meeting.

Exercice to Success

Susan Turgon and Cathy Ryan, two PC seniors are holding exercise classes on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4:15 to 5:15 in the activity room. The "old girls' gym" in Alumni Hall, Sue and Cathy have worked in exercise and figure salons for several years. They have gained their experience and their fitness from places like Gloria Stevens, Total Women and Light and Lovely.

Susan and Cathy have learned that exercise is both fun and satisfying. Their classes will consist of a combination of stretching, exercising and aerobics with the goal of working every muscle and shaping up those flabby waistlines. So far, about 15 girls have signed up. The cost is a low $35 for six weeks and 16 classes. Sue and Cathy look at their classes as a great way to share what they have learned with fellow students as well as having fun and earning a little pocket money for their efforts.

Last week the classes began and all members enjoyed the brick exercising and background music. Anyone interested in trimming down stop by the gym Thursday afternoon and sign up with Cathy and Sue. Until then, stay slim.

Two Way Street Returns for '82

By Judy McNamara

On February 26, the Providence College Class of 1982 will gather together for one final time before Commencement.

This is not just another event. It is an evening of tradition, friendship and beginnings. It is the beginning of the 82 days until graduation countdown and what better way to begin counting than with Two Way Street where it all began.

Back in October of 1978, Rob Giovino, Laura Foley and company, organized their first of a string of successful events bringing the renowned Two Way Street to PC. Thinking back to freshman year, one remembers that first mixer, all those now not-so-new faces, the excitement, the expectations, the path ahead. On February 26, before the class embarks on many different journeys in various directions, it is time for one last '82 event, the Two Way Street grand finale. Seniors only.

This is it. The countdown begins and the 82 days party is the place to be when that clock starts ticking the calendar away. The Marriott ballroom will provide the atmosphere for Two Way Street's special appearance. They have broken a previous engagement in order to perform one last time for the Class of 82.

So be there Friday, February 26, from 9-1. Dress is casual and tickets go on sale Thursday, January 28, from 9:30 to 3:30 in Lower Slavin.

“82 DAYS PARTY”
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1982
featuring
“TWO WAY STREET”
from 9-1
at the Marriott Grand Ballroom
Tickets are $5.00 and are on sale starting Thursday, February 28, in lower Slavin
We came here as a Last Resort.

★  SHAVING was nearly moved to tears!

reading the submitted work, I was shocked to see not-so-literary works. PC is a place where art and poetry are valued, but it seems that even the most skilled writers can struggle with the mundane tasks of daily life. Washing dishes is any less romantic than poetry?

Now consider the Alembic, PC’s literary magazine, flooded with entries from all corners of campus. Sometimes with passion, sometimes with bitterness, the washing of dishes has always been a part of life. It is the realm in which many great literary works have been conceived. Whether you are a maestro of prose or a virtuoso of verse, the act of washing dishes can inspire new ideas and creative insights.

propagandist of Socialism, saw dishwashing as the root of much of the evil in the world. His most famous work, The Jungle, clearly attacks the washing of dishes with extreme bitterness: “Half a million able-bodied men — mostly women — do the dishwashing of the country. And note that this is the most filthy and deadening and brutalizing work; that it is a cause of anemia, nervousness, ugliness, and ill temper; of prostitution, suicide, and insanity; of drunken husbands and degenerate children — for which things the community has to pay.”

Sometimes with passion, sometimes with bitterness, the washing of dishes has always been a part of life. It is the realm in which many great literary works have been conceived. Whether you are a maestro of prose or a virtuoso of verse, the act of washing dishes can inspire new ideas and creative insights.

Raymond Semi-Formal A SUCCESS.

Dear R&P,

Our floor is the noisiest on the whole PC campus. I think the kids on the floor don’t even know the meaning of the word quiet. I don’t even think they know the meaning of the word ‘right’. They have no respect whatsoever; if they’re in the afternoon or three in the morning. We continually ask them nicely to please keep it down but it doesn’t do a thing. But if we might decide to make a little noise, even if it is during quiet hours, they’re the first to come knocking at our door telling us to shut up!

Needs Some Peace and Quiet

Dear R&P,

What do you have to say about a good friend who went out with the guy you like behind your back?

Hurt

Send Letters to Ask
R&P Cowl Box 2891

Superbowl Spectacular at the Resort.

(continued from page 10)

and the mature and serious adult sacrifices with joy and humility in the heart, knowing that only by doing so can a meal be enjoyed. A family, a romance survive and flourish.

One cannot even fathom the possibilities: what love has been born while hands chapped under soapy water? I think kindly of an old friend, forced by economic woes to the terrible “pills” of Raymond Cafe who there encountered, perhaps pregnant with the smell of a thousand sloppy joe leftovers, the true flourish. That only by doing so can a meal be enjoyed. A family, a romance survive and flourish.

by Jean Ludwig

Aquarius
Jan 22-Feb. 19

Be on the lookout for a back stabber but all isn’t bad because things will turn out for the best. Money will be tight this week, so spend wisely!

Leos
July 23-Aug. 22

This is your week to make others happy so get in contact with old friends. Problems will work themselves out so stay confident and keep busy.

Virgo
Aug. 23-Sept. 22

The beginning of the week looks rough but improvements will improve greatly by the weekend. Friday will be your best day so start your weekend out with a bang.

Libra
Sept. 23-Oct. 22

Look forward to Thursday — by then your mind will be clear of all obstacles. Keep in close contact with your loved ones.

Scorpio
Oct. 23-Nov. 22

This week will bring about some absolutely fabulous changes in your life. Set your mind toanye and you’ll be able to achieve it.

Sagittarius
Nov. 22-Dec. 21

Cupid’s arrow will pierce a heart this week so keep your communications open. Give lots of love to others this week because it will be returned ten fold.

Capricorn
Dec. 22-Jan. 19

Stormy weather is on the horizon in your love life but things will be smoothed out by the end of the week. Have fun and concentrate on yourself and your happiness.