COMMENCEMENT '82

LIST OF EVENTS

WEDNESDAY, MAY 12
ROSECLIFF MANSION, NEWPORT, R.I. — Cocktails-Dancing, 9 p.m.-1 a.m. Featuring "The Marsels". 750 people. Sold couples only.

THURSDAY, MAY 13
BLOCK ISLAND, R.I. Featuring "JIM PLUNKETT". Ferry leaves at 9:00 a.m. sharp. Complete dinner, 800 people.

FRIDAY, MAY 14
COMMENCEMENT BALL—Venus DeMilo, Swansea, MA. 6:30 p.m.-1:00 a.m. Cocktails/Dinner/Dancing. Featuring "STRUTT". Couples only.

SATURDAY, MAY 15
AWARDS CEREMONY—Alumni Gym. Baccalaureate Mass. 6:30 p.m. The Cathedral Church of Saints Peter and Paul. Slide show and Dancing immediately following at Rhodes-on-the-Pawtuxet, Cranston, R.I.

SUNDAY, MAY 16
PARENTS NIGHTS—Cocktails/hor D'oeuvres/Dancing. Featuring "SOUND OF SWING". Rhodes-on-the-Pawtuxet, Cranston, R.I.

MONDAY, MAY 17
COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

CASH ONLY—Important Price of Bid $92.00

Bids will be sold in Slavin 203:
Thursday, April 15 — 12:00 noon-7 p.m.
Friday, April 16 — 12:00 noon-7 p.m.
Monday, April 19 — 12:00 noon-4 p.m.
Tuesday, April 20 — 12:00 noon-4 p.m.
Wednesday, April 21 — 12:00 noon-4 p.m.

Bids can be returned on following dates in Slavin 103:
April 28 — 1:00-4:00 p.m.
April 29 — 3:00-6:00 p.m.
April 30 — 1:00-4:00 p.m.

PRICE OF BID
$92.00
Registration Announcement

ATTENTION:

A special fall semester registration for business majors only will be held in the counseling center. Business majors should check the possible schedule from the following list to register for courses.

Class of 1986 - 5:45 p.m., Aquinas Chapel
Class of 1985 - 3:45 p.m., Aquinas Chapel
Class of 1984 - 1:45 p.m., Aquinas Chapel

“Students should register at the assigned day and time and at the time specified on the registration card. The semester has been divided into 3 six-week terms. Students must register for all the courses for which they plan to enroll in the fall semester. Students must drop the course to register for other courses. Students must register with their student ID number. Each student is assigned a personal registration card which must be brought to the registration session.

Registration cards will be available from your advisor beginning March 24. All registration forms will be returned to the Counseling Center.

Students should bring their registration cards to the registration session and register for courses. The registration fee for all classes is $50.00. Students must pay their fees before registering for classes.

New BOG Executive Board

Members Eager to Begin

“My interest in campus affairs is something that started with my love of sports. I have always been involved in sports and have made many friends through them. I look forward to the opportunity to serve the students of Providence College through the active planning and scheduling of social events, while fulfilling my role as Vice President of BOG.”

Gerry Yapaola, President

“I am looking forward to the opportunity to serve the students of Providence College through the active planning and scheduling of social events, while fulfilling my role as Vice President of BOG.”

Mary Ann Gallagher, Vice President

Marie Demers, Treasurer

Need Help With Course Registration

Student Congress Faculty-Student committee has recently published a faculty evaluation booklet on courses offered this semester. They are now available for your reference in the following locations: Outside of the registration room (Slavin 112), Raymond Lobby, Alumni cafeteria, the Slavin Information Desk, and in lower Slavin by the student mailboxes.

Stop by and take one! They’re Free!!
Tuition Increases
Room & Board, Too

Citing the “increase of inflation upon our economy, and (its) effect on college expenses, the V. Rev. Thomas R. Peterson, O.P., president of Providence College projects a $650 million budget for the 1982-83 academic year. Tuition represents approximately 75 percent of the college’s revenue.

Fr. Peterson also stated that though the present administration in Washington has announced Friday that tuition at the college will be increased by $5278, or an increase of 14 percent. In addition, the cost of room and board will be raised to $3100, an increase of $200. Fr. Peterson cited these raises as significantly less than many other institutions in the private sector, and necessary in order to assure fiscal stability.

The good news: It’s $250.00 less than last year’s increase.

The bad news: It’s still an $850.00 increase.

The increase will bring the yearly tuition rate to $2,578, or an increase of 14 percent. In addition, the cost of room and board will be raised to $3,100, an increase of $200. Fr. Peterson cited these raises as significantly less than many other institutions in the private sector, and necessary in order to assure fiscal stability.

Rev. Cornelius P. Forster, O.P., who will become the resident director of Providence-in-Europe program in Fribourg, Switzerland, Father Morris has served as vice president for institutional planning and development since 1963. He was also a member of the Providence College Corporation, which voted on candidates submitted by a Corporation Search Committee for the president. The Very Reverend Edward B. Daley, O.P., chairman of the Corporation, made the announcement of the election results late Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the Corporation.

Father Forster succeeds Rev. Robert A. Morris, O.P., who will become the resident director of Providence College’s Providence-in-Europe program.

Three Administrative Officers Named: Forster, Mecca, Morris

Rev. Cornelius P. Forster, O.P., will become Providence College’s executive vice-president on June 1, and Dr. Stephen J. Mecca, chairman of the engineering-physics systems department, has been elected the new vice-president for academic administration, effective July 1.

Fr. Forster, who is also chairman of the history department, was appointed to his new position by the Very Reverend Thomas R. Peterson, O.P., college president.

Mecca was elected by the Providence College Corporation, which voted on candidates submitted by a Corporation Search Committee for the position. The Very Reverend Edward B. Daley, O.P., chairman of the Corporation, made the announcement of the election results late Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the Corporation.

Father Forster succeeds Rev. Robert A. Morris, O.P., who will become the resident director of Providence College’s Providence-in-Europe program in Fribourg, Switzerland.

Mecca has been a member of the faculty since 1949 and has served as its director since then. The program was expanded in 1973 to include a combined plan engineering program (CEP program), whereby a student spends three years at PC and two years at one of PC’s affiliate universities.

Active in every management activity throughout Rhode Island, Mecca is a consultant for the Governor’s Energy Office and has conducted numerous energy management training seminars for city managers, executives, maintenance personnel and other city workers. He has also been project director of a government-sponsored residential energy management institute held during the past few summers at PC.

The author of numerous articles for professional and scientific journals, Mecca is co-author of the book Problem Solving: A Systems Approach.

Rev. Cornelius P. Forster, O.P., will become Providence College’s executive vice-president on June 1, and Dr. Stephen J. Mecca, chairman of the engineering-physics systems department, has been elected the new vice-president for academic administration, effective July 1.

Fr. Forster, who is also chairman of the history department, was appointed to his new position by the Very Reverend Thomas R. Peterson, O.P., college president.

Mecca was elected by the Providence College Corporation, which voted on candidates submitted by a Corporation Search Committee for the position. The Very Reverend Edward B. Daley, O.P., chairman of the Corporation, made the announcement of the election results late Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the Corporation.

Father Forster succeeds Rev. Robert A. Morris, O.P., who will become the resident director of Providence College’s Providence-in-Europe program in Fribourg, Switzerland.

Mecca has been a member of the faculty since 1949 and has served as its director since then. The program was expanded in 1973 to include a combined plan engineering program (CEP program), whereby a student spends three years at PC and two years at one of PC’s affiliate universities.

Active in every management activity throughout Rhode Island, Mecca is a consultant for the Governor’s Energy Office and has conducted numerous energy management training seminars for city managers, executives, maintenance personnel and other city workers. He has also been project director of a government-sponsored residential energy management institute held during the past few summers at PC.

The author of numerous articles for professional and scientific journals, Mecca is co-author of the book Problem Solving: A Systems Approach.
Vigor in Campaigns May Be Crucial Factor

Editor's note: The newly elected Student Congress Executive Board (pictured at center below) will soon be taking over with the commencement of the '83-'84 term.

On Wednesday, March 21, students in the freshmen, sophomore, junior, and senior classes will be electing new slates of officers and Congress members. The nomination period for this election began yesterday and will continue through Friday, March 23, in order to provide at least initial coverage of the class elections, publication of the results was delayed yesterday. Although not all candidates running for office may be included on this page, all of those who had obtained nomination papers by 4 p.m. on Wednesday afternoon have been included, and it is hoped that the cover provides sufficient coverage of top contenders for all of the races.

"I'm glad I'm not running," was the only comment. Student Congress President Dave Mikula could offer in reference to the class elections now in process. A record number of 84 students from three different classes joined the ranks of Congressional nominees in the first day of the election nomination period. Although the nomination period will continue through Friday, most students voting for office have turned in all nomination papers by early morning yesterday. "The students have been great," Batcheller and Greg Pigeon are vying for the top position of class president. On the ballot, Mary Ellen Batcheller, is a political science major and chairman of the 1983 Junior Ring Weekend held last November. Batcheller stated that, "Having been chairperson of JRW, I've realized the amount of time and effort required to provide students with enjoyable activities. As a representative on Congress, I've realized the amount of time and money it requires to provide students with enjoyable activities."

"I see that to succeed they feel she can contribute good ideas, organization and ability to keep everyone going through Commencement. She believes she has shown her abilities, through the organization and mentality required to gain people, plan events and raise money. You must think she'd like to take many of the class and "do good things for the class, particularly planning a fantastic Commencement." Greg Pigeon, an accounting major, is running for the vice-president position. "I'm in the last year of my stay, I've been president for the past three years and I like to continue working for the class this coming year," Pigeon commented.

Mary Ellen Batcheller

"I've tried to keep the best interests of the class in mind in any decisions and I feel that I did so fairly," was the only comment. "I've worked very hard and have obtained many nomination papers by early morning yesterday. I'm grateful to the students for their cooperation and I'm sure that they will be vying for the position of vice-president." She also stated that, "I feel that I have the experience to get the job done." She has also obtained nomination papers by early morning yesterday. "I feel that I have the necessary qualities of organization, effort," she added, "and I am perfectly willing to work for both my class and Congress as a whole." Lynne Amold and Mary Beth Fife are vying for the class secretary position. The newly elected Student Congress Executive Board (right in photo) Judy Schieler, treasurer, Photo: Al Ver, manager. "I've tried to keep the best interests of the class in mind in any decisions and I feel that I did so fairly," was the only comment. "I've worked very hard and have obtained many nomination papers by early morning yesterday. I'm grateful to the students for their cooperation and I'm sure that they will be vying for the position of vice-president." She also stated that, "I feel that I have the experience to get the job done." She has also obtained nomination papers by early morning yesterday. "I feel that I have the necessary qualities of organization, effort," she added, "and I am perfectly willing to work for both my class and Congress as a whole."

Vigor in Campaigns May Be Crucial Factor

Editor's note: The newly elected Student Congress Executive Board (pictured at center below) will soon be taking over with the commencement of the '83-'84 term.

On Wednesday, March 21, students in the freshmen, sophomore, junior, and senior classes will be electing new slates of officers and Congress members. The nomination period for this election began yesterday and will continue through Friday, March 23, in order to provide at least initial coverage of the class elections, publication of the results was delayed yesterday. Although not all candidates running for office may be included on this page, all of those who had obtained nomination papers by 4 p.m. on Wednesday afternoon have been included, and it is hoped that the cover provides sufficient coverage of top contenders for all of the races.

"I'm glad I'm not running," was the only comment. Student Congress President Dave Mikula could offer in reference to the class elections now in process. A record number of 84 students from three different classes joined the ranks of Congressional nominees in the first day of the election nomination period. Although the nomination period will continue through Friday, most students voting for office have turned in all nomination papers by early morning yesterday. "The students have been great," Batcheller and Greg Pigeon are vying for the top position of class president. On the ballot, Mary Ellen Batcheller, is a political science major and chairman of the 1983 Junior Ring Weekend held last November. Batcheller stated that, "Having been chairperson of JRW, I've realized the amount of time and effort required to provide students with enjoyable activities. As a representative on Congress, I've realized the amount of time and money it requires to provide students with enjoyable activities."

"I see that to succeed they feel she can contribute good ideas, organization and ability to keep everyone going through Commencement. She believes she has shown her abilities, through the organization and mentality required to gain people, plan events and raise money. You must think she'd like to take many of the class and "do good things for the class, particularly planning a fantastic Commencement." Greg Pigeon, an accounting major, is running for the vice-president position. "I'm in the last year of my stay, I've been president for the past three years and I like to continue working for the class this coming year," Pigeon commented.

Mary Ellen Batcheller

"I've tried to keep the best interests of the class in mind in any decisions and I feel that I did so fairly," was the only comment. "I've worked very hard and have obtained many nomination papers by early morning yesterday. I'm grateful to the students for their cooperation and I'm sure that they will be vying for the position of vice-president." She also stated that, "I feel that I have the experience to get the job done." She has also obtained nomination papers by early morning yesterday. "I feel that I have the necessary qualities of organization, effort," she added, "and I am perfectly willing to work for both my class and Congress as a whole." Lynne Amold and Mary Beth Fife are vying for the class secretary position. The newly elected Student Congress Executive Board (right in photo) Judy Schieler, treasurer, Photo: Al Ver, manager. "I've tried to keep the best interests of the class in mind in any decisions and I feel that I did so fairly," was the only comment. "I've worked very hard and have obtained many nomination papers by early morning yesterday. I'm grateful to the students for their cooperation and I'm sure that they will be vying for the position of vice-president." She also stated that, "I feel that I have the experience to get the job done." She has also obtained nomination papers by early morning yesterday. "I feel that I have the necessary qualities of organization, effort," she added, "and I am perfectly willing to work for both my class and Congress as a whole."
FRIDAY, MARCH 26

TRAVEL COMMITTEE PRESENTS

A Trip to

KING HENRY VIII

Restaurant

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

Tickets: $15.00

on sale now in the B.O.G. office

ALL YOU CAN EAT!

Because the trip was planned before the Lenten season, a dispensation has been granted.

SATURDAY, MARCH 27

LAST RESORT SOCIAL

featuring

Tickets $5.00 on sale

Thursday at 3:30

in B.O.G. Office

I.D. Required

SUNDAY, MARCH 28

FILM COMMITTEE

presents

“American Werewolf in London”

Shows at 8:00 and 10:00 in '64 Hall

The Board of Governors Announces its Yearly
Interviews for COMMITTEE CHAIRPERSON
POSITIONS

Interviews will be held for the following committees:

Coffeehouse
Concerts
Film
Fine Arts
Lectures
Social

Programmer
Publicity
Last Resort (Social)
Last Resort Renovations
Secretary
Travel

Interviews will be held March 27, 28, 29
Sign up in the office starting on March 24th

No previous B.O.G. experience is necessary. B.O.G. is looking for dedicated and enthusiastic individuals who wish to serve the student body and develop business and managerial skills.
March: In like a lion, out like a lamb:

Beware! Spring Bug Bites

Providence College is about to be hit with a plague which, before its demise, will reach epidemic proportions. This malady, which strikes PC at approximately the same time each year, will run rampant on campus, leaving in its wake, a trail of once-healthy students, now fallen to its unyielding force. Its name: Spring Fever.

The affliction is even evident in the halls of academia. They are not available to dedicate themselves to their business as usual. What’s happening in Nicaragua?

What’s Really Happening?

Just recently, the student newspapers of several of the Ivy League colleges, banded together to protest military aid to El Salvador. This subject should be familiar to any college student who scans a newspaper or tunes in to a radio at least once a while. Yet the degree of awareness of this and other world events is limited on most college campuses.

It is not surprising, however, to find that the Ivy League schools would so emphatically comment on occurrences such as those in El Salvador. The name “Ivy League” itself conjures up in most minds, notions of the upper echelon of academics. They are the highest levels of higher education. It therefore seems to be almost expected that such students should express an active concern in world events.

Yet it is not to deny that there are students in many other colleges across the country, who have an equally active interest in current events. Yet, often, particularly in smaller schools, the resources or the funds simply are not available to dedicate to occurrences other than those which directly affect the campus. This is not an excuse for any college student to be misinformed or ignorant of the U.S.'s involvement in El Salvador, or what the Russians are doing in the area of nuclear arms.

The Sandinista government is trying to create a pluralist economy, a mixture of free enterprise and socialism. The private sector still owns 60% of Nicaraguan enterprise. Some in the business community feel threatened because the government says profits may be taxed at the expense of the working class. Still there has been no mass exodus of business people as there was in Cuba. That is a very positive sign.

There was a lot of attention in the U.S. to the arrest of three businessmen for obstructing the economy. What was not widely reported was the arrest of 80 communists on the same charges at the same time."

Fr. Saucci's conclusions clearly are at odds with alarmist reports coming from our government. The final outcome of the Nicaraguan revolution is still to be seen. What is needed from us and our country right now is patience. No less is being demanded of the Nicaraguan people. They waited 40 years for their revolution. They seem willing to wait a couple more years before bringing in a verdict on their new society.
This Learning World

I'm Not A Computer Person

By Dr. Richard Meisler

"But I'm not a computer person," my friend says to me.

"But I'm not a computer person," said the electricity person. "But I'm not a computer person," my friend says to me. "But I'm not a computer person." But I understand now that I can't say that. My friend is not just a computer person, she is a computer person. She is a very educated person who has accomplished many things in her life. She has been a teacher, writer, researcher, and political activist. I'm probably forgetting a few other things she's done. My friend the hard worker, and when she does something, she does it well.

Recently she has become a student again. She is studying education, and it is getting her ready to write her dissertation. She tells me she has to touch her bow to use the word-processing system on the university's computer. Most graduate students at this institution use the computer to edit and print their dissertations instead of using regular typewriters. The reason is that changing things can be made without any unnecessary retyping. The savings in time are enormous. I think it is hard for anyone who has not used automated word processing to grasp why it is useful to a writer. I estimate that she has saved fifty percent more productive as a writer since I began using word-processing equipment to edit her work. I think it is my middle-aged friend, would say that we're not using computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers. She is a highly educated person, and when she talks about computer revolution, that lightning-fast technological and social transformation that is changing the world in just a few years began during her adult life.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.

"I'm writing all of this not to tell the story of one person, but to describe educational failure of massive proportions. Many of us, including many people who call themselves computer revolutionaries, are ignorant and afraid of an important part of the world of work that is changing in — computers.
PC Boogies
The Weekend Away

By Jane McAuliffe

It was a weekend that swept everyone off their feet! The PC community was alive and kicking with not one, not two, but three dances, those being the Friar Formal, the Joe’s Dance, and the class of ’84 mixer featuring the ever popular Gordie Milne.

The Friar Formal, held on Friday night, March 19, was a grand success. This year’s selection was the Coachmen of Tiverton, R.I. Its pretty, rustic setting and glowing fireplace made for an elegant, yet cozy atmosphere.

Following a scrumptious dinner of roast beef and baked potato, entertainment was provided by the Hometown Rockers, who got just about everyone up and dancing with their original, swinging style of southern rock.

Highlights of the evening included the famous (if not infamous) “Chair Dance,” where all the Friar guys get up and dance on chairs. It was a super time for all who attended.

Also on Friday night, Joe’s held their dance in ’64 Hall. After several cocktail parties, Joe-inhabitants and their dates proceeded to Slavin where, in a fitting tribute to St. Joseph, a delicious Italian dinner was served, the sauce made by Fr. Bondi himself. Entertainment was provided by D.J. Terry McNally of Studio One, Warwick, who played a variety of disco and other assorted tunes.

Finally, the class of ’84 wrapped up this whirlwind weekend on Saturday night with a mixer featuring Gordie Milne, who hails from the Cape Cod area. Milne’s performance is comparable to that of Jim Plunkett and his sharp humor added much flavor. For instance, I felt rather bad for the couple upon whom Gordie shone a large camper’s flashlight, pointing out to the crowd that he’d caught them “making out” on the dance floor! The pair seemed to be pretty good-natured about this ribbing, and even accepted an offer to come to the front of the stage to do a shot. He’s an adept guitarist and the popular selections he played kept ’64 Hall rocking most of the evening.

And there you have it, folks. PC could’ve put the Fred Astaire Dance Studios to shame, if this weekend was anything to go by. We got the beat!

Look into making a change a good friend has suggested for you. He-she may have an inside scoop that will give you a slight edge. Be friendly this week, though you feel like being otherwise.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)

Aries, you are by nature tempestuous. It’s attractive to the opposite sex, but a drain on your energy. Mellow out a bit. A relaxing game of backgammon (or chess) and a beer could be just the thing.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20)

Your place is getting a little dull. Now is the time for spring cleaning and redecorating. In particular, remember to dust that bottle collection — it has about six months’ worth on it now. When you’re done, why not have some friends over to celebrate?

Gemini (May 21-June 20)

Spring has sprung, but your savings account is looking rather low. Don’t be down because you are poverty-stricken — at this time of the year everyone else is, too! Money saving tip: Don’t get “Mural-ated” tonight.

Cancer (June 21-July 22)

You will find yourself unusually motivated to work this week. Take advantage of it — there’s plenty to be done. When you’re not expecting it, your latest love may give you a favorable surprise. Your efforts will always pay off, Cancer.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22)

Although normally meticulous when it comes to money, you’ve spent a little too much lately to maintain your student lifestyle. You had better cut down on the long distance phone calls, or you’ll find yourself writing some checks to declare bankruptcy.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

Your ability to articulate your feelings is what makes you stand out. Tell your story.

See FORECAST

Continued on Page 10

ICELANDAIR INTRODUCES
NEW BARGAIN FARES TO MORE OF EUROPE.

LUXEMBOURG

$449

ROUNDTRIP

FROM NEW YORK

PARIS

$499

ROUNDTRIP

FROM NEW YORK

ZURICH

$539

ROUNDTRIP

FROM NEW YORK

FRANKFURT

$499

ROUNDTRIP

FROM NEW YORK

All-Ary Flights: April 1 - May 31, 1982, 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. (Luxembourg). Stopovers permitted in both directions. 14 days advance purchase required. Seats limited. Ask about our low cost Normal, Same Day, and Group fares, too.

ALSO LOW COST CONNECTING SERVICE TO NICE AND AMSTERDAM.

Icelandair from New York to Luxembourg. Luxair or Crossair connecting service to other destinations.

- Confirmed reservation
- Free wine with dinner, ensuite after dinner
- Bargain Stopover Tours of Ireland and Luxembourg
- Bargain car rentals
- Purchase tickets in U.S.
- All fares subject to change and government approval

Greetings from Switzerland.

Judy Mac here, your overseas Cowl correspondent with the latest update from PC in Europe. It's been a bit since I last wrote, but I assure you, much has happened. The flight over was extremely long (six hours) and a bit boring. For some reason people appeared a bit tired from the night before. They served us this stuff on the plane that tasted like Raymond Cafe roast been soaked in Worcestershire Sauce with hard carrots and chewy cauliflower. No one expected filet mignon but a hot dog and French fries would have sufficed. After passing over the English Channel, light began to flash through the 747’s window and we knew Frankfurt was on the horizon.

Landing in Germany, we were greeted by bleakness and grey mist everywhere, simply blah! But sorry, guys, from here on in, you're missing out. The Germans are great! Our first night in Nuremberg, in a very nice hotel, was spent by many in local cafes or discos trying to communicate with the German people. Many of them speak English very well, making us feel like dummies, but very much at home.

The bus rides, long and weary, carried us to two other German cities. In Stuttgart, I think there are many stories to tell. After some ended up trooping through the redzone — "Combat City" of downtown Nuremberg, there was a strong desire for the simple, quaint side of German life. Sure enough, the German youth on a Saturday night know where the quiet excitement is. It seems the Germans have a custom about a "Kneup" of brotherhood. After being out until 4 a.m. in Stuttgart with some very friendly German guys, it was difficult for us, especially Madeline, to explain that American girls don't kiss strangers. Honestly, the people are very friendly here. They went out of their way to show us the best possible way to go and they treated us all like queens.

In Lindau, the most beautiful of the three German cities, we all went out sightseeing, flashing the old cameras, viewing the waterfront, surrounded by the German Alps. Many of the students ventured to Otto's Place, directly across from the hotel. Otto was a very friendly, cheery guy who wished to shower all the American girls with flowers but gave cigarette lighters instead for fear that his wife would get jealous. In all, Lindau was simply breathtaking.

As for Fribourg, well, well it's more of a real city than we expected but the old village meets our requirements. Upon entering Switzerland, I guess we all expected a marching band and a ten gun salute or at least a "Welcome to Suisse" sign. No such deal. A stern looking army guard with a red moustache checked our passports and waved us on. Switzerland here we come!

Now we're in Fribourg and everyone is very much settled.

★ See MEMOIRS
Continued on Page 11

JUNIORS - SENIORS
STUDENTS FROM ALL MAJORS ARE INVITED!

MBA?
A panel discussion on HOW TO PREPARE AND HOW TO APPLY FOR AN MBA

March 25, Thursday — 3:30 p.m. — Slavin Room 112

PANELISTS:

JOSEPH ROUSSOS
Associate Dean, Clarkson College, School of Management

SHARON VIEIRA
Senior Financial Analyst, Digital Equipment Corp. (PC Alumna)

ROBERT MANNI
Director, MBA Program, Providence College

JOHN McGRATH
Placement Coordinator, Providence College

Any questions you have will be welcome!
Sponsored by Counseling & Career Planning Center
Sociology Forum
Career Opportunities
By Barbara Slominski

The sociology department of Providence College is sponsoring the second "Sociological Practitioner's Forum" on Thursday, March 15, from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Aquinas Lounge. It was opened to the public.

The forum is organized by Dr. Josephine Ruggiero, in conjunction with the sociology department. The course is designed to introduce sociology majors to the potential uses that sociological knowledge and techniques can be applied to in the non-academic setting. The 10 students who make up the class are involved in an Internship Program which is associated with various organizations in Rhode Island. This course is the first to bring freshmen sociology majors to PC's sociology department.

The first forum hosted Martha Beantine and Sandra Primavera. It was very successful in alerting students of sociology majors to the opportunities this program has to offer.

KELLY'S KEANE
KOMMENTS

Sitting on Slovak steps is a sure sign that Spring has finally arrived. Conversation moves from conversation on just how many days we've just missed to how severe a burn we've got on our faces.

In the course of a half hour last Tuesday, I was amazed at how many times the word "fun" was used. I know this is really off the wall, but that's where it all started.

First, someone complained about the last line in the burn that was followed by some girl telling us of a "line" served on her last weekend. In Boston, I take the Green line and policeman stop drivers and make them walk in a straight line. Mothers desperately try to keep us in "line".

Has anyone noticed the lack of lines on 95N in Pawtucket? Did you see the bottom line? Can you believe he did 5 lines at Friers for me? How'd he afford it? Don't you love the lives in her skirt? It's time to have my wheels aligned! Ah! The idiocies of English language! You know the long line in the burn. That was followed by some girl telling us of a "line" served on her last weekend. In Boston, I take the Green line and policeman stop drivers and make them walk in a straight line. Mothers desperately try to keep us in "line".

By James Tully

The only limitations are the ones you bring with you.

HAPPY 10TH ANNIVERSARY,
Dad & Mom!

"Arthur" Flick Fun For All

by Ellen Cerkin

Do you love movies, but hate the price and inconvenience of finding a good theater? Well, PC's own BOG may have the answer for you. Every Sunday night at 8:00 and 10:00, there is a movie shown in either '64 Hall or the Last Resort, depending upon the anticipated crowd, for the very reasonable price of $1.00.

This week’s flick was "Arthur" the popular comedy, shown in cinema '64. A large crowd was on hand for each of the showings and clearly got their money’s worth. "Arthur", starring Liza Minnelli as Linda and Dally Moore as Arthur himself, was the best comedy I've seen in a while. Moore's tumbling antics and eleven-year-old mentality is great fun and I’m sure he’ll keep the audience in stitches. I personally lost my heart to Hobson, Arthur's valet, with his big baby blues and classic one-liners that tickets can't help but laugh. Arthur trips and stumbles through the movie in a drunken heap, falling deeply in love with Linda, a mere waitress. Moments before his arranged marriage, true love prevails once again and he gives up his billion dollar inheritance to marry Linda, the only woman he truly loves (ah.... sigh!). In short, there is a happy ending. They were married and did receive the fortune, compliments of Grandma. For the romantic at heart, as well as those who love to laugh, "Arthur" fits the bill nicely.

So, PC guys and girls, enough about transportation, gas or money. We have a movie theater right here on campus. In fact, take advantage of this great deal and the selection for this Sunday night - "American Werewolf in London" - and ask your latest crush what he or she will be doing this weekend!

How does the growth of the company affect me?

CSC didn't get to be the world's leading information services company by ignoring talent. If you've got what it takes and want to take it as far as it will go, talk to us. A CSC recruiter will be on campus to answer your questions March 26th.

The only limitations are the ones you bring with you.

TODAY'S ROCK REVIEW

Today's Rock Review

Kelly's Keane Comments

Green line and policeman stop drivers and make them walk in a straight line. Mothers desperately try to keep us in "line".

Has anyone noticed the lack of lines on 95N in Pawtucket? Did you see the bottom line? Can you believe he did 5 lines at Friers for me? How'd he afford it? Don't you love the lives in her skirt? It's time to have my wheels aligned! Ah! The idiocies of English language! You know the long line in the burn. That was followed by some girl telling us of a "line" served on her last weekend. In Boston, I take the Green line and policeman stop drivers and make them walk in a straight line. Mothers desperately try to keep us in "line".

Do you love movies, but hate the price and inconvenience of finding a good theater? Well, PC's own BOG may have the answer for you. Every Sunday night at 8:00 and 10:00, there is a movie shown in either '64 Hall or the Last Resort, depending upon the anticipated crowd, for the very reasonable price of $1.00.

This week’s flick was "Arthur" the popular comedy, shown in cinema '64. A large crowd was on hand for each of the showings and clearly got their money’s worth. "Arthur", starring Liza Minnelli as Linda and Dally Moore as Arthur himself, was the best comedy I've seen in a while. Moore's tumbling antics and eleven-year-old mentality is great fun and I’
By Richard Testa

If anyone tries to tell you differently, they're mistaken. Thompson was the top basketball conference in America this past season. The PCers had three different teams in the top twenty at different times, the best won-lost record against outside competition, the best balanced offensive game against the toughest overall schedule outside league play, six teams in post season play, best percentage attendance, best freshmen, biggest in conference upset, forty two win teams all entered in the NCAA's, three of the final eight in the NCAA tournament (a team in 3 of the 4 regional finals), and the best record (38-7) in post season games. The icing on the cake would be the national championship which Georgetown is very capable of winning.

A more reasonable criterion for claiming the Big East No. 1? None. ACC and Big Ten also had four teams entered in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of these teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten division teams in each of those conferences (generally considered the better college basketball teams by most) considered the better teams in the country by those who aren't in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences were much better in those games. There is no question about it.

The Big East has always been their closeness as a unit. The Eagles have been their closeness as a unit. The Eagles have an exuberance, exultation, and enthusiasm. Peabody and the Flyers could not be reached for comment, but the Big East was very competitive. Need to remember Iowa State in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences... The Northeast was the best section in the country by those who aren't in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences... The Northeast was the best section in the country by those who aren't in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences... The Northeast was the best section in the country by those who aren't in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences... The Northeast was the best section in the country by those who aren't in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences... The Northeast was the best section in the country by those who aren't in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences... The Northeast was the best section in the country by those who aren't in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences... The Northeast was the best section in the country by those who aren't in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences... The Northeast was the best section in the country by those who aren't in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences... The Northeast was the best section in the country by those who aren't in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences... The Northeast was the best section in the country by those who aren't in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences... The Northeast was the best section in the country by those who aren't in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences... The Northeast was the best section in the country by those who aren't in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences... The Northeast was the best section in the country by those who aren't in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences... The Northeast was the best section in the country by those who aren't in the NCAA's, but they're only 6-3 and 3-4 respectively and only one of those teams made a regional championship. The Big Ten teams in each of those conferences...
Sports

Spring is in the air as Lax-men are back for one more season. PHOTO BY TOM BASTIDA

Lax-men Boast More Talent

By Phil Orzech

Lacrosse is recognized as the world’s fastest sport on foot but to many students at Providence College it is an unknown sport. The men’s lacrosse team has been practicing on Raymond Field for the past three weeks in preparation for their upcoming season.

The team is coached by a former student and captain at PC, Dan Calenda. Calenda has been working overtime in an attempt to make this the best lax team PC has ever fielded. The Friars will be facing a very tough schedule this year as they are moving away from the club teams and playing the more established lacrosse teams around New England. Calenda is well aware of that challenge but feels if his players stick to their game plan, they will win more than their share.

The Friars are led by co-captains Dennis McKey and Tim West. These two typify the lacrosse team as they have contributed to the PC community both on and off the field. The lacrosse team is the true definition of a collection of student-athletes who compete in every sense of the word. The laxmen also boast experience with at least only five players to graduation from last year’s team.

One of the spots that will be open this year is the goalie position as freshmen, David Clayon and Fred Oronato, are battling it out for the starting nod. Coach Calenda describes this “as a pleasant surprise which should make for good competition and goalkeeping.”

Lacrosse is the cross-country equivalent of lacrosse. The Providence Harriers cross-country team also has the benefit of a strong team as Coach Denning has great confidence in the senior class. Coach Denning feels that the freshmen will also be an important asset. “With such depth and talent, we look to the seniors for their experienced caliber of play and the freshmen to steal the show.” As we enter this year’s final phase of college sports, fans can only expect to observe spectacular flat-ground running. After Treacy ran the sixth mile in 4:19, it became a question of getting the record, and the position of PC. Treacy’s finishing time of 33:32 put him 12 seconds off the record, and he felt that if he had been pressed at all during the tough middle stages of the race, he could have gotten the record.

PC Harriers

A Day At The Races

By Chris Lydon

As if Providence College athletes do not cause enough trouble during the cross country and track seasons, last Sunday at the Hyde Park 7.5 mile St. Patrick’s Day Roadrace, Ray Treacy and Company wrecked havoc over a fine field and 1200 other runners to steal the show.

Treacy ran away from the field after ¾ of a mile, and led six PC runners in the top ten. Jamie to the tape were Brendan Quinn and Richard O’Flynn, who led for second, Paul Moloney, fourth, Richard Mulligan seventh, Jimmy Slaughter, ninth, and Steve Seaver third.

Quinn and O’Flynn broke away from the rest of the field and came in together a full minute before the next runner. Quinn held on for fourth in 36:30, with Mulligan running 36:26, Fallon watching Seaver 36:20. It also served as revenges for Treacy, who took second last year in 35:26. The race was also the first of a group of roadraces that will take place in the next few weeks.

This Sunday, Treacy, Moloney, Seaver, and Steve Binns will run the Shamrock Classic in Boston; with one of the best fields ever assembled for a roadrace in Boston. Jeff Smith will run the Fenster 10K in Central Park. The following week, Binns will travel to San Diego for a 10K race; while Smith will go to the U.S. Military Marathon, which will also have a strong field.

Of course these races serve as diversions for the main event coming up. The Friars have a strong chance to win the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) championships and the Big East last year.

As we enter this year’s final phase of college sports, fans can only expect to observe spectacular flat-ground running. After Treacy ran the sixth mile in 4:19, it became a question of getting the record, and the position of PC. Treacy’s finishing time of 33:32 put him 12 seconds off the record, and he felt that if he had been pressed at all during the tough middle stages of the race, he could have gotten the record.

PC Harriers

A Day At The Races

By Christine Merlo

The coming of spring brings a change in sports as thoughts of the ECAC playoffs and the Big East Tournament are put to rest. Spring is the time for outdoor sports and today the Lady Friars lacrosse team start off their season against BU. This year’s team, coached by Katie Denning returning for her last year, is comprised of five seniors, one junior, three sophomores and eight freshmen. Coach Denning has great confidence in the ability of this women’s team. She feels the number of freshmen on the team will only enhance the experienced caliber of play exhibited by last year’s team. “I look to the seniors for their leadership and experience and I feel the freshmen will also be an important asset.” With such confidence, one can only an-