2nd Semester — Spring Term

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Newspaper</th>
<th>Subscription Options</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| The Boston Globe | - Weekdays: $12.00
|                      | - Weekdays & Sunday: $17.50
|                      | - Sunday: $5.50                                           |
| The New York Times | - Weekdays: $14.60
|                      | - Weekdays & Saturdays: $17.20
|                      | - Weekdays & Sunday: $33.40
|                      | - Sunday: $16.20                                          |

PLEASE MAKE CHECKS PAYABLE TO:

RETURN THROUGH CAMPUS

MAIL TO:

MICHAEL EVANS
Friar Station 1669, Providence, Rhode Island 02918

SUBSCRIPTION

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>N.Y. TIMES</th>
<th>BOSTON GLOBE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Monday-Friday</td>
<td>MONDAY-FRIDAY</td>
<td>MONDAY-SATURDAY</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Monday-Saturday</td>
<td>MONDAY-SATURDAY</td>
<td>MONDAY-SUNDAY</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Monday-Sunday</td>
<td>MONDAY-SUNDAY</td>
<td>SUNDAY</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sunday</td>
<td>SUNDAY</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

NAME ____________________

FRIAR P.O. BOX ____________________

*Delivery begins the day after payment is received. Delivery resumes on the first day of classes second semester.
Arthur F. Ryan, a 1963 graduate of PC, visited the campus on November 22nd as part of the Counseling and Career Planning Center's expanded use of alumni in career seminars. Ryan, recently promoted to executive vice president at Chase Manhattan bank, met with administration, faculty and students as part of a day-long visit. He was accompanied by three other bank personnel: Sally Gilfelter, second vice president for resource management; Allan Wechsler, assistant treasurer; and Richard Barretto, placement officer.

Following a luncheon with administration, faculty and students, Ryan spoke to a large group of students about the motivations of young people and the perception of the economy and its effect on career planning. During his speech, Ryan also addressed the broad structural changes in the financial industry brought about by changes in the world's economy. Ryan explained that "the oil crisis changed the financial climate of the world dramatically. All of a sudden interest rates were not quoted in single digits. We used to talk in the business world of an interest rate of 0.5 percent. That was a stable type of a way of doing business. Now we have rates as high as 20 percent. People who are well motivated, and a faculty who can push people in that direction."

Ryan's visit was coordinated by John J. McGrath, assistant director of the Counseling and Career Planning Center and coordinator of placement activities.

Fr. Van Ketts on life

By James Fay

Do you ever wonder about the dominant values that motivate your human actions? You probably do, sometimes, but you probably don't make a habit of it. But some people do make a habit of it, particularly philosophers.

Fr. Raphael Van Ketts, O.P., a member of the philosophy department and a DWC instructor recent­ly received from the College Press Service in Denver, Colorado.

By EMILE P. FOURNIER

AMC • JEEP • RENAULT

STUDENT SPECIAL
GET THE "HOT" DEAL ON THE '83 RENAULT ALLIANCE

PRICES START AT $5595.

The alliance of quality and affordability is here.

Renault Alliance.

LET US HANDLE YOUR DRIVING NEEDS.
WE HAVE A LARGE SELECTION OF QUALITY USED CARS FROM $1,000 UP.
ALL FULLY GUARANTEED.
Financing Available at Low Bank Rates. Contact your P. C. Representative. LINCOLN LENNON AT 722-8571

E. P. FOURNIER

939 NEWPORT AVE., PAWTUCKET
N. E. NO. 1 AMC DEALER
TELEPHONE 725-4556

By E. P. FOURNIER

AMC • JEEP • RENAI"
The resort areas of Cape Cod, Massachusetts, and the offshore islands of Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket are experiencing a growing problem in finding summer employees to properly service a rapidly expanding tourism and convention industry.

While there will be scarce elsewhere this summer, Cape Cod and the islands will be offering over $5,000 good summer in 1983. Most require little or no prior experience. Because it is impossible to fill these jobs with local residents most of whom have taken the winter "work force, it is necessary to draw heavily from other geographic areas to satisfy this seasonal need.

As in the past several years, the Cape Cod Summer Job Bureau has coordinated an effort to assemble all pertinent facts on available summer employment and has published this information in a concise directory of summer job opportunities listing over 100 categories, some of which follow:

- Lifeguards, swimming instructors, beach maintenance; camp counselors, craft instructors; island ferry crews, deep sea fishing boats, scenic railroad crews; yacht club, marina work, sailing instructors, charter cruises, scuba diving,

Congress Meeting

The Student Congress met on Monday, November 27, and voted overwhelmingly to raise the Student Activity Fee for the 1983-84 academic year. The issue will now go to the Committee on Administration for approval. The fee for this year was $39 and would, if passed, go up to $52 next year. The activity fee funds student clubs and organizations through allocations made by the Student Congress Finance Committee.

Lifestyles Committee Chairperson Dan Sullivan announced that a laundry room for off campus students will open next semester. The laundry room will be similar to the ones in the dorms and will be located across in lower Slavin.

Son Dan Sullivan announced that a laundry room for off campus students will open next semester. The laundry room will be similar to the ones in the dorms and will be located across in lower Slavin.

- Anatomy and physiology, art, computer, communications, economics, English, French, German, journalism, psychology, psychology, social science, sociology, teaching, theater, while.

The sole function of the Cape Cod Summer Job Bureau is to make available the names and addresses of local employers who hire extra summer help, with job descriptions and numbers of employees needed in each category, and a useful cross-reference map of the area. The Job Bureau is not an employment agency, and therefore charges no fees to employees or employers.

Included in this directory is a listing of summertime educational opportunities, academic courses for college credit, as well as cultural classes in music, theatre, and the arts.

For a copy of the 1983 Directory send $3.50 to cover first-class postage and handling to: Cape Cod Summer Job Bureau, Box 594, Barnstable, MA 02630.
Fr. McBrinn, Dean of the Col­lege, highly recommended the increase in the present graduation with honors policy. The Student Editorial board agrees that a new policy should be implemented as soon as possible.

As it presently stands, a student may graduate with honors a 3.25 (and above cumulative grade point average) for seven out of eight semesters he or she attends at PC. The eighth semester is disregarded when computing the average. The sum senior year for both the honor awards ceremony and graduation. Therefore, if a senior has a 3.25 at the start of the last semester and then loses it, he or she will graduate Cum Laude. The student who has truly earned the award is unfairly denied the recognition.

Fr. McBrinn states that "this policy is unfair." He wants to implement a new policy for this year's seniors, but unfortunately, a change does not go into effect until the following year. He is confident that one solution would be to move Commencement up to Memorial Day instead of Labor Day. This would allow enough time to compute grades for honors awards ceremony and for graduation, although it would also create many complications for other students who are entering the following semester.

Another solution that Fr. McBrinn pointed out is having a separate examination, period for seniors in the second semester. Senior final grades would have to be submitted by May 1, which is one week earlier than other students' grades. Fr. McBrinn said this would be more work for the Registrar, but the overall benefits of fairness to the students outweighs the inconvenience.

The Cowl calls for an immediate re-examination of the present policy with the hope that a change can be made for all students. This change should be recognized when they graduate by their overall achievement for all of the eight semesters spent at PC.

---

Letter to the Editor:

Dear Editor:

At a hastily called and poorly publicized "mandatory" meeting, the Student Congress Legislative Committee's Campus Council prop­osed a raise in the student activity fee from $39 to $55. Each club president received a notice of the meeting that day, and at that meeting, we were expected to en­dorse or reject this proposal without any consultation with our club members. If the Student Con­gress does pass this proposal as a referendum vote to the students, I urge all students to reject for reasons that follow.

Each year PC students pay a $39 student activity fee as part of their annual tuition payment. Since there are approximately 3000 students currently enrolled at PC, $132,000 a year is available for student activ­ities. The current breakdown is:

- Football Club: $13,600 ($4 per student)
- The Rugby Team receives $1000, for a total of $14,600
- Student Congress: Classes: $15,000
- Clubs: $10,000
- Of particular concern to me is the $13,600 annual appropriation of the Football Club. In the 1975-76 academic year, a referen­дум vote for this allocation was approved by the students. At that time, the Football Club was evidently a popular organization. Unfortunately, the same cannot be said for the Football Club, however, times have changed; seven years after that vote, the games are poorly attended. It is in­cumbent upon the Student Con­gress to recognize this change, and to do something about it. The Football Club hardly benefits the College now, and after all, the pur­pose of the student activity is to benefit the students, not a chosen few.

For some unknown reason the Student Congress is reluctant to publish a report indicating on what "our" money is spent. Therefore, I take it upon myself to do so, so that PC students are aware of the last "equity" in the allocations ap­propriated in October by the Student Con­gress. The Allo­cations for the 1982-83 year appear above.

A few points should be made about these appropriations. First, if we were to group these clubs in­to categories headed "athletic", social", and "educational" one would find a great imbalance — evidently the Student Congress places higher value on social and athletic activities instead of educ­ational. Second, a closer look at the indi­vidual appropriations is quite revealing.

The Rugby Team receives $1000, supposedly to cover insurance ex­penses and the like. However, it is obvious that some of the $1000 is spent on this or other services. Additional­ly, the Ultimate Frisbee Club, just total allotments was $10,000, we seemed hardly credible.) The Political Science Club received only $200 and essentially our edu­cational goals have been stifled. I must acknowledge other lecture series offered on campus. The schedule for the Lecture Committee budget is $9000. Besides the Facul­ty Lecture Series, which is un­doubtedly a worthwhile goal, there were two "highlights" by the BOP's Lecture Committee. One was a former Iranian

---

For the Record...

We have done some serious research on the reporting of our data by the Evening Bulletin. We were in­formed that the Providence Journal-Bulletin had a policy of not publishing poll results. In addi­tion, no one from that paper atten­ded the press conference. However, a reporter telephoned to discuss the poll and asked about polling in general. The person said that the Providence Journal-Bulletin, as the general level, with little reference to our survey in particular. We were more interested in the state­data from our survey on the front page were published, we were more than willing to offer our data to the media outlet has regularly published poll results. In addi­tion, no one from that paper at­tended the press conference. However, a reporter telephoned to discuss the poll and asked about polling in general. The person said that the Providence Journal-Bulletin, as the general level, with little reference to our survey in particular. We were more interested in the state­data from our survey on the front page were published, we were more than willing to offer our data to the media.

Finally, our poll was conducted without the sponsorship or support of any outside group or person, political or otherwise, but was done largely for the benefit of our students and Rhode Island voters. Unlike Mr. Conley, we have no in­terest in influencing the outcome of elec­tions in Providence or elsewhere. By implying that we in­cluded the data in order to affect election outcomes, Mr. Conley casts a pall on our pro­fessional integrity and unnecessar­ily and inaccurately damages the reputation of Providence College. Nevertheless, his failure to attend certain unprofes­sional and unnecessary remarks will not reduce the need for correct data to sound educational objectives.

Mark S. Hyde Journal-Bulletin Assistant Professors of Political Science

---
Question: If you could invite any 3 people to Christmas dinner at your house, who would you want?

Answer:

Marcia McCarthy '83

"The Grinch," "Charles Dickens" and "Bah!

Bob Luz "85

"Howard Coop, Jeff Anim, and Santa"

*Big Brothers

continued from page 4

them, something is definitely wrong. Because of this lack of supervision, crime is one step out of hand. There have been stolen items and small acts of vandalism.

What I am afraid of is that this program may go back. I would hate for this to happen because of the many happy faces I see on the children because they are here.

Two things could easily be done to help this situation. The first of these is to provide a little bit more supervision on the part of the Big Brothers and Sisters in question.

The other change would be in determining which little brothers and sisters are supposed to be together on a specific night. I know kids who come on both Monday and Wednesday nights.

Something has to be done. I don't want to see anything negative happen to such a loving program.

Peter M. Stauffer '83

Social Atmosphere

Needs Improvement

By James Fay and Collen Vigueaux

We would like to pose this question to the Providence College student body: Are you happy with the social atmosphere at Providence College?

Well, we are not. We feel that socially there is much to be desired.

When discussing the social atmosphere we must consider the numerous activities that are held on campus. Mixers are probably the most common form of student sponsored events. They consist of a band (sometimes two), beer, sponsored events. They consist of a band (sometimes two), beer, and you know that they abound with the potential for much real enjoyment.

What is lacking can be summed up in one word: "creativity." How much creativity does it take to plan a mixer, a read in or a Colonel's Corner?

Perhaps more events with themes would simulate the social environment and induce student participation. Mixers with themes have been successful in the past.

It would be beneficial if the BOP could somehow create a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools. This is not to say that all mixers are boring to all people. But we dare to say that mixers fall short in the minds that the student body has established by creating a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools.

It would be beneficial if the BOP could somehow create a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools. This is not to say that all mixers are boring to all people. But we dare to say that mixers fall short in the minds that the student body has established by creating a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools.

Social Atmosphere

Needs Improvement

By James Fay and Collen Vigueaux

We would like to pose this question to the Providence College student body: Are you happy with the social atmosphere at Providence College?

Well, we are not. We feel that socially there is much to be desired.

When discussing the social atmosphere we must consider the numerous activities that are held on campus. Mixers are probably the most common form of student sponsored events. They consist of a band (sometimes two), beer, and you know that they abound with the potential for much real enjoyment.

What is lacking can be summed up in one word: "creativity." How much creativity does it take to plan a mixer, a read in or a Colonel's Corner?

Perhaps more events with themes would simulate the social environment and induce student participation. Mixers with themes have been successful in the past.

It would be beneficial if the BOP could somehow create a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools. This is not to say that all mixers are boring to all people. But we dare to say that mixers fall short in the minds that the student body has established by creating a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools.

Social Atmosphere

Needs Improvement

By James Fay and Collen Vigueaux

We would like to pose this question to the Providence College student body: Are you happy with the social atmosphere at Providence College?

Well, we are not. We feel that socially there is much to be desired.

When discussing the social atmosphere we must consider the numerous activities that are held on campus. Mixers are probably the most common form of student sponsored events. They consist of a band (sometimes two), beer, and you know that they abound with the potential for much real enjoyment.

What is lacking can be summed up in one word: "creativity." How much creativity does it take to plan a mixer, a read in or a Colonel's Corner?

Perhaps more events with themes would simulate the social environment and induce student participation. Mixers with themes have been successful in the past.

It would be beneficial if the BOP could somehow create a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools. This is not to say that all mixers are boring to all people. But we dare to say that mixers fall short in the minds that the student body has established by creating a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools.

It would be beneficial if the BOP could somehow create a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools. This is not to say that all mixers are boring to all people. But we dare to say that mixers fall short in the minds that the student body has established by creating a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools.

Social Atmosphere

Needs Improvement

By James Fay and Collen Vigueaux

We would like to pose this question to the Providence College student body: Are you happy with the social atmosphere at Providence College?

Well, we are not. We feel that socially there is much to be desired.

When discussing the social atmosphere we must consider the numerous activities that are held on campus. Mixers are probably the most common form of student sponsored events. They consist of a band (sometimes two), beer, and you know that they abound with the potential for much real enjoyment.

What is lacking can be summed up in one word: "creativity." How much creativity does it take to plan a mixer, a read in or a Colonel's Corner?

Perhaps more events with themes would simulate the social environment and induce student participation. Mixers with themes have been successful in the past.

It would be beneficial if the BOP could somehow create a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools. This is not to say that all mixers are boring to all people. But we dare to say that mixers fall short in the minds that the student body has established by creating a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools.

It would be beneficial if the BOP could somehow create a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools. This is not to say that all mixers are boring to all people. But we dare to say that mixers fall short in the minds that the student body has established by creating a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools.

Social Atmosphere

Needs Improvement

By James Fay and Collen Vigueaux

We would like to pose this question to the Providence College student body: Are you happy with the social atmosphere at Providence College?

Well, we are not. We feel that socially there is much to be desired.

When discussing the social atmosphere we must consider the numerous activities that are held on campus. Mixers are probably the most common form of student sponsored events. They consist of a band (sometimes two), beer, and you know that they abound with the potential for much real enjoyment.

What is lacking can be summed up in one word: "creativity." How much creativity does it take to plan a mixer, a read in or a Colonel's Corner?

Perhaps more events with themes would simulate the social environment and induce student participation. Mixers with themes have been successful in the past.

It would be beneficial if the BOP could somehow create a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools. This is not to say that all mixers are boring to all people. But we dare to say that mixers fall short in the minds that the student body has established by creating a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools.

It would be beneficial if the BOP could somehow create a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools. This is not to say that all mixers are boring to all people. But we dare to say that mixers fall short in the minds that the student body has established by creating a sense of anticipation among students, creating enthusiasm for planned events and keeping students on campus on the weekends instead of heading home or to other schools.
TRY THE NAKED BEER TEST.

First of all, it's not you who gets naked, it's a bottle of Today's Schaefer.
What you do is strip off the label and ask a friend to try it. Don't let him (her?) know what beer it is.
What will happen is the same thing that happened when we tried it on beer drinkers in New York.
8 out of 10 liked it. They said it was a smooth, good tasting beer.
And when we tried it on more beer drinkers, they were surprised to find out it's Schaefer beer.
No surprise to us, though. Today's Schaefer is being brewed by the Stroh family, who have devoted their 200 years of brewing experience to making Schaefer better than ever.
Test it yourself before you try it on a friend.
Today's Schaefer will make a Schaefer drinker out of you.

Tell us about your naked beer test and we may print it. Write to: Schaefer Naked Beer Test, P.O. Box 1703, Grand Central Station, N.Y., N.Y. 10163.

BE PART OF THE BENTLEY'S TEAM!
We are interviewing for the following positions:
Waiter - waitress
Host - hostess
Bartender
Dishwasher
Line cook
For our new restaurant opening soon in Warwick, R.I.
Friday, December 10
Providence College
Slavin Center, Room 217
11:30-4:00
An equal opportunity employer
Kelli Coleman
Student of the Month

On seeing Kelli Coleman anywhere on campus one immediately is struck by her. "Kelli... is the ultimate prep." But there is much more to Kelli than the clothes that she wears. Kelli is a junior from Avon, New Jersey. She is a marketing major and absolutely loves it. A member of the Fries Club, the faculty-student committee for the business department, and also an RA, Kelli is one of those people who has to be active and involved.

Kelli describes herself as a determined and happy person. Her friends think she is too, too. She is also well-liked by her co-workers. When Kelli decides to commit herself to an activity or friends, she does so whole-heartedly and genuinely. Kelli said she would like to go into advertising and eventually work in New York City. She loves to meet people and hopes to do some traveling. Kelli's effervescent personality truly is an asset to Providence College.

Skullucinations

Surprise, surprise, surprise! It certainly was a big shock to relatives and friends, especially those close friends who are directly affected. Well, you can't keep a secret forever... I guess now that everything's out in the open, I can start wearing my robes to class, maybe even the hood. And before anyone else does some digging into my off-campus activities, let me list them for you: Grand Dragon, Invisible Empire for the Ku Kla Klan RARS (Real Americans for Reaction and Scandal) RI Chapter-Nazi Party of America The Anti-Semitic Bombthrowing Club People's Millennials Party The Black Hand The American Anarchist Society Moral Majority WUAC (Workers United Against Capitalist Dogs) Gary Gilmore Fan Club Satan Worshipers for Freedom That's right, I'm the guy your mother warned you about. To play it safe this week, the words "Only A Joke" will appear after potentially "insufferable" remarks.

Now that we're on the subject, and we are if I say we are, doesn't the entire concept of ROTC strike you as unconstitutional? Here we are at PC, dedicated to education and Christianity as methods to better our culture. The American Catholic bishops are meeting (at this writing) to discuss backing a nuclear freeze. John Paul has been hopping across the world with his peace message. Yet an entire section of our Catholic college is dedicated to the education and preparation of our war machine. A possible inconsistency.

For the record, I'm both for the peaceful use of atomic energy, and for maintenance of a standing army. I just don't want it standing in Assistant Cafeteria. Just a joke.

In other areas, PC has much updating to do. For example, our sporting program could be greatly improved by the addition of the DS rule, currently popular on many campuses around the nation. As many of you know, baseball's DH rule has a designated hitter bat, for the pitcher, thereby letting the pitcher concentrate on what he does best, and avoid the area of play in which it is less skilled. The DS (designated student) would help the college athlete in much the same manner. Insufferable! Of course, that remembers: Only a joke.

Providence, RI—Scene from Kevin O'Morrow's Ladyhouse Blues. Directed by Judith Reagan, the production was presented in the new Blackfriars Theatre. Pictured (left to right) Mary Ellen Baxter (Dott), Marilyn Meardon (L), Heidi Vician (Helen), Carol Caulfield (Elyse).

By Judy McNamara

A Review of Ladyhouse Blues

Thursday evening, December 2, I had the pleasure of attending the opening night of Ladyhouse Blues.

Ladyhouse Blues, written by Kevin O'Morrow and directed by professional actress Judith Reagan portrays the trauma of the American woman "at home" in the summer of 1919.

Martha Caulfield, a reporter, brilliantly demonstrated her talents in the role of the mother. The play takes place in the Madden kitchen with its old fashioned ice box, table and stove and rosy pink wallpaper. As Martha, Caulfield is expressive and engaging, with an overall tint of antiquity.

Mrs. Madden sits in the kitchen with the four Madden girls anticipating the return of her only male heir, her son Bud Madden.

The play is humorous and delightfully entertaining. It captures the deep turmoil that underlies present-day Irish Society. Brendan Quinn

A Foreign Student Interview

By Ted Hodgkinson

The Cowl, in its continuing series on foreign students attending Providence College, presents Brendan Quinn and a discussion of his native country, Ireland.

Ireland is a country the size of Massachusetts. It has a population of 3.2 million and is divided into two regions: the Republic of Ireland, Eire, in the south and Northern Ireland which is under direct British rule.

Ireland's scenery is similar to that of New England. Brendan commented, however, on the large number of trees that we have in southern New England. Ireland's topography is, on the other hand, characterized by gently rolling hills. Ireland also receives much more rain than Rhode Island, and the climate is more temperate. This is favorable for many outdoor sports which are popular in Ireland.

In Ireland, sports are fast-paced in comparison to American sports. Brendan commented that he gets "bored to death" watching American football because it just doesn't have the "zip" or spontaneity of Gaelic football, rugby or soccer. Running is also very popular in Ireland.

The Dublin marathon drew 11,000 runners as compared with 15,000 runners in the New York City marathon. You must consider the fact that the population of New York City is the same as the entire population of Ireland.

Brendan favors the atmosphere at Providence College over an Irish university because of its emphasis on liberal arts. Irish universities encourage students to specialize in a given field, PC offers a wider perspective by offering the students to take a wide variety of courses.

The lifestyle in Ireland is different from that of the United States in several ways. The first is religion. In Ireland, religion is a way of life. It is written into Irish laws and social codes. The Irish also gain a sense of where they are going by studying where they have been. Brendan feels that, to an extent, this is lacking in American society.

The Irish are much more relaxed about life and work. They seem to place a greater emphasis on family, church, and community. One of the most prominent social institutions in Ireland is the pub, where a great many people spend their leisure time. The pubs in Ireland are not merely a place to socialize, but a central place to meet and discuss political and religious affairs. Ireland is a united Ireland that is free from British control. Many people in Ireland, however, disagree with the way certain militant groups have tried to achieve this unity. Terrorism is not the answer. The Republic of Ireland does not have the political or military support needed to force England out of Northern Ireland.

At the heart of the resistance movement is the "new" Irish Republican Army (I.R.A.). Brendan distinguishes this group from its predecessor in terms of what it hopes to accomplish for Ireland. The Irish Freedom Fighters of the 1930's sought independence from British rule. They won the hearts of the people in that era and are still held in high regard today. The same cannot be said for the "new" I.R.A. It is primarily a Marxist-based organization whose goal is the liberation of Northern Ireland from British control, the unification of Ireland, and the toppling of the ruling Fianna-Fail government in the south. There are those members of the I.R.A., however, who exemplify great sacrifice and dedication to a unified Ireland. Unfortunately, they are overshadowed by their Socialist comrades.

Ireland's scenery and relaxed lifestyle do not accurately reflect the deep turmoil that underlies present-day Irish Society. Brendan says he wishes that "all the killing would stop." But he doesn't see an end to it in his lifetime.
by Judy Mcnamara

The morning star had been born but the cold night air swelt in her hair. The snow was there for tradition's sake but it didn't make much difference to her. She sat alone here along with a crystal glass of whiskey and a piece of indigestion in her hair. The dog whelped outside for some relief from the cold. Her mind was cloudy and she didn't hear him.

A shattered glass on the ice blue carpet endangered future footsteps. The lights on the tree blinked and winked, blinked and winked. Scraps of paper were scattered about with ribbons, cards and boxes unwrapped.

The fireplace offered no warmth. It was cold and gray, no flame; just ashes. The lambing was dim and star-streaked illumining her tear-stained cheeks.

Suddenly the porch door opened and shut, startling her back to reality before she was prepared to go. The dog began scratching and whimpering before the big oak door. He had slinked by the paper boy to get a treat. Finally she let him in to seek warm from the barren hearth.

A little voice from the stairway called out; "Mommy, did Santa come yet?"

"Wait a minute, David, you just got a little voice from the stairway called out, "Mommy, did Santa come yet?"

"Wait a minute, David, you just got your cat."

"Now, I just tolerate Christmas. I couldn't believe that Santa came to a little kid. It always seemed so far away."

"Hello!"

"Hi Daddy. Daddy, daddy, look what Santa brought me."

"That's my boy. There's something in the child's every expression."

"Mommy, where's Daddy?"

"Mommy, where's Daddy?"

"Yes, I tolerate it. The small things in life bring me some relief from the cold. Her mind was cloudy and she didn't hear him."

"That's my boy. There's something in the child's every expression."

"Mommy, where's Daddy?"

"Mommy, where's Daddy?"

"I always thought that Santa brought the cat in every horse's mouth."

"Yes, I tolerate it. The small things in life bring me some relief from the cold. Her mind was cloudy and she didn't hear him."

"Mommy, where's Daddy?"

"Mommy, where's Daddy?"

"I always thought that Santa brought the cat in every horse's mouth."

"Yes, I tolerate it. The small things in life bring me some relief from the cold. Her mind was cloudy and she didn't hear him."

"Mommy, where's Daddy?"

"Mommy, where's Daddy?"

"I always thought that Santa brought the cat in every horse's mouth."

"Yes, I tolerate it. The small things in life bring me some relief from the cold. Her mind was cloudy and she didn't hear him."
Angelo Dagostino
Up Close and Personal
By Kathy Studzinski

Angelo Dagostino—think—where have you heard that name? You may not recall the name but many of us know the face! Angelo can be seen any night at PC's Rathskeller, and it's not because he finds it a more appropriate place to study than Phillips Memorial; he has managed the Rat for more than nine years.

He came to PC after spending 28 years as the manager of the fondly known "Club Geister." At that time, the Rat was a student run organization and was found to be in the need of some firmer, shall we say "more objective" guidance, so Angelo left his job at Geisters and took over in the Rat.

Angelo likes kids. That much is obvious just through watching him—he's often greeted with a grin and a fond "How ya doin', Angelo?" and he knows many of us by name. He feels that today's PC student is much better behaved than the students who frequented the Rat nine years ago, which he says "might have something to do with the higher drinking age, but he doesn't want to put too much emphasis on this point; while he feels that older kids can hold their liquor better, he's not sure exactly what age is appropriate for the legal consumption of alcoholic beverages; he does, however, comply with the law, and is adamant about prohibiting minors from entrance to the Rat. A PC I.D. is required to get in, and guests must have an I.D. and be with a student from PC.

One problem that Angelo has run into this year is the stealing of pitchers that so many students seem to prize. Enough pitchers were bought in September to last the year, and within six weeks he had to buy more! Angelo has only two solutions to offer: students can return the pitchers with no questions asked and the pilferage must stop, or the price of beer will have to be raised to compensate.

The Rat is open from 4:30 - 1:30 a.m. Monday through Friday, 5:00 - 1:00 a.m. Saturday, and 7:00 - 1:00 a.m. Sunday, and you are almost sure to catch Angelo smiling and friendly in during these hours. Happy Hour is from 4:30 - 5:30 and 7:00 - 8:30 Monday through Friday, from 6:00 - 8:00 on Saturday and from 7:00 - 9:00 on Sunday, which means $2 pitchers and 40C drafts. The next time you stop in, be sure to say hello to Angelo!
PARTYING...
Photos by Brian Thornton and Vera Chowstyk

CAROLING...

STUDYING...
The following is a PARTIAL list of books that the bookstore will purchase at one-half retail price for use during the spring semester. The list will be revised, updated, and expanded as professors give us their text orders for next semester.

We will purchase any book for half price under the following conditions:

1. The professor has given us an order for the same text for the spring semester.
2. The book has not been printed in a new edition.
3. The book is in saleable condition.
4. We have not ALREADY BOUGHT enough books from other students to meet class needs. In other words, it pays to sell your books early.

Of course, we will continue to buy all current edition texts that will not be used on this campus for the national wholesale rate.

Again, this is a PARTIAL LIST.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>AUTHOR</th>
<th>TITLE</th>
<th>PRICE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Baird</td>
<td>Elements of Macroeconomics</td>
<td>$6.75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clayes</td>
<td>Drama &amp; Discussion</td>
<td>6.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cole</td>
<td>Sociological Orientation</td>
<td>7.75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Certo</td>
<td>Principles of Modern Management</td>
<td>12.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>DeFleur</td>
<td>Sociology: Human Society</td>
<td>10.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eisen</td>
<td>Finite Mathematics</td>
<td>11.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ellis</td>
<td>American Catholicism</td>
<td>2.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gitman</td>
<td>Principles of Managerial Finance</td>
<td>12.75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greenberg</td>
<td>American Political System</td>
<td>7.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grilliot</td>
<td>Introduction to Law and Legal System</td>
<td>11.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harden</td>
<td>Question and Answer Catholic Catechism</td>
<td>4.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hecht</td>
<td>Physics in Perspective</td>
<td>10.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hudson</td>
<td>American Protestantism</td>
<td>2.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Krech</td>
<td>Elements of Psychology</td>
<td>11.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lawler</td>
<td>Teachings of Christ</td>
<td>4.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Levine</td>
<td>Cases in Bioethics</td>
<td>4.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lipsey</td>
<td>Economics</td>
<td>13.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McConnell</td>
<td>Economics</td>
<td>12.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pieper</td>
<td>Four Cardinal Virtues</td>
<td>2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Presley</td>
<td>Guide to Programming in Applesoft</td>
<td>12.95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robertson</td>
<td>Sociology</td>
<td>10.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robertson</td>
<td>Social World</td>
<td>6.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spencer</td>
<td>Data Processing: An Introduction</td>
<td>8.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spencer</td>
<td>Data Processing: An Intro. with BASIC</td>
<td>9.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Webber</td>
<td>Management</td>
<td>11.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Walgenbach</td>
<td>Financial Accounting</td>
<td>12.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wilson</td>
<td>Life</td>
<td>7.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Yezzi</td>
<td>Medical Ethics</td>
<td>7.50</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Christmas Edition

Tales of a Tenant

By Michele Griffin

Twas the night before finals and all through the house,
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse.
Our knapsacks were hung by the (fake) chimney with care,
In hopes that Santa Claus would be there.
We were all snug in our beds
With sweats and nightshirts and hats on our heads.
When out on Eton St. there arose such a clatter,
We jumped from our beds, to see what was the matter.
We dashed to the window as quick as a flash,
To see what all the commotion was about.
We opened the curtains and threw up the sash,
And what was our wonderous eyes to see but Santa Claus himself,
But reveling students with 10 legs of beer!
"A party, a party!" they shouted with glee, "We're Santa's children, it's our destiny!"
We jumped into clothes
Warm from our heads to our toes,
Blow off our finals, and had such ablast.
That good grades and high cum's were a thing of the past.
Go freshman and sophomores, forget about Civ!
That good grades and high cum's were a thing of the past.
Forget about finals, with nary a sigh.
With sweatpants and nightgowns, and hats on our heads.
We were all nestled all snug in our beds
By Michele Griffin

The Friends of the Newport Music Festival will stage a Tree Trimming Party, December 8 from 6 to 8 p.m. at Mr. Astor's Birchwood where Candlelight Tours and Songs of Christmas will be presented on December 6, 14, 20 and 22 at 7:30 p.m.

The Old Colony & Newport Railroad's "Santa Claus Special" departs from the America's Cup Avenue depot for round trip rides December 4 and 11, 11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., and December 5, 18, 19, 25, and 26, 11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. for candlelight tours.

William K. Vanderbilt's wine gold balcony at Marble House will be the setting December 18, 8:30 p.m., for a concert by Nancy Hailas, soprano, accompanied by Maran Van Slaye and Kekho Kumashiro, pianist.

"Deck The Halls," a Holiday Decoration Tour, December 4-12, 11 a.m.-5:30 p.m., in the John Brown House (1786), an elegant brick mansion at 52 Power Street, Providence, is planned by the Rhode Island Historical Society and Suntund Garden Club, Santa. Tree Trimming and Caroling December 8; Hanakkah Customs, Traditions and Practices, December 9, and 15; and Kwanzaa December 16. Readings from "The Best Christmas Pageant Ever" will be performed December 12 at 3 p.m. by the Violin Concerto by Felix Mendelssohn, sang by David Kim, a 19 year old student of the famed teacher Dorothy Delay at the Juilliard School of Music in New York. He will be a chamber orchestra concert conducted by Bruce Murray, Director of Concerts on the Island. The guest artist for the evening will be pianist David Kim. The program will open with Mozart's Overture to the opera "The Marriage of Figaro", followed by the Violin Concerto by Felix Mendelssohn, featuring Mr. Kim. After intermission, the orchestra will perform Suite for Chamber Orchestra a new piece by Mr. Murray. The concert will close with a work by the French composer Darius Milhaud called "Le Boeuf sur le Toit," inspired by Brazilian folk melodies the composer heard during his time in Brazil.

The concert, the audience is invited to join in with the orchestra in a selection of Christmas carols.

David Kim, a 19 year old violinist gave his most recent performance in Carnegie Hall performing the Violin Concerto. In 1981, he also appeared in Alice Tully Hall at Lincoln Center with the Juilliard Concert Orchestra as a competition winner playing the Paganini Concerto in D. Earlier that summer, Mr. Kim appeared as soloist with the Wolftrap Chamber Players and the National Symphony Orchestra in Dallas. Since making his debut in 1975 with the Columbus Symphony Orchestra as a national competition sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs. Mr. Kim is currently a scholarship student of the famed teacher Dorothy Delay at the Juilliard School in New York. He will be performing on a "Saturday Night Live" TV show at the School. Mr. Kim is a resident of Bellevue and his father is on the teaching staff at the University of Rhode Island, College of Music.

Tickets for this concert are priced at $10 for half-price tickets for students and senior citizens. They may be ordered by calling 401-847-1360, or at the box office at the Carroll-Michael Pharmacy, 115 Bellevue Avenue in Newport. For more information, call 401-847-1360. The door of the evening of the performance.

“Deck the Halls” Extravaganza

One of the largest and most exciting events ever scheduled at the Rhode Island Historical Society’s John Brown House will begin on December 4 and run through December 12, 1982. This celebration is “Deck the Halls” for which the Society’s elegant 18th century mansion will be decorated from top to bottom with holiday greenery, plants, ornaments and decorations.

Sponsored jointly by the Historical Society and the Sun-.

Audubon Society Ski Weekend Offer

This winter the Audubon Society of Rhode Island is sponsoring a guided cross-country ski trip to southern New Hampshire. The weekend expedition will begin in the evening on Friday, February 11, and will continue through the afternoon of February 12.

The weekend will include a variety of activities which are all appropriate and interesting for intermediate level skiers. First-time skiers are especially welcome. Lessons on basic skiing and ski touring techniques will be offered, with an emphasis on safety.

During the expedition, leaders will guide skiers over the varied cross-country ski trails. Experienced ski touring leaders will guide skiers over the varied cross-country ski trails. Experienced ski touring leaders will guide skiers over the varied cross-country ski trails.

Open meadows and evergreen woodlands will be explored at a relaxed pace with plenty of time for investigating animal tracks, identifying shrubbery and learning about the winter landscape. Indoor and outdoor evening programs are also planned.

The Inn has facilities for indoor ice skating, tobogganing and alpine skiing, as well as a sauna and a heated indoor pool. Hearty New England style meals are included in the trip fee.

The cost for the trip is $156.00 for Audubon members and $168.00 for non-members. Lodging, instructor guide service, trail use charges and all programs are included. For more information call the Great Ex- department of Audubon at 222-1370.

There will be unusual and unique decorations and gifts, things for children, and many handcrafted items by local artisans.

Saturday, December 4 through Sunday, December 12 — the weekend.

Tickets for the daily tours will be $6 for adults, $1 for children. Evening and weekend programs include the following: Puppet Workshop performance on Saturday, December 11, of “Bears First Christmas”, and Regular John Brown House tour guides and other volunteers, including Brown faculty wives from the International House, will be in the rooms of the house to serve as guides and interpreters.

Adjourned activities include workshops, gallery talks at Three for All in the Arcade in Providence, a wreath exhibit at the Three for All Gallery, and a greeting card exhibit at the Society’s Library on Hope Street.

The public is cordially invited to attend any or all of the events and programs for “Deck the Halls.”

A Tradition—“The Nutcracker”

Michael Thomas, formerly a soloist and principal dancer with the San Francisco Ballet, will appear as Drosselmeyer, and will lead in Waltz of the Flowers. The Festival Ballet will be in the role of a wooden nutcracker coming alive in a fantasy world of dancing flowers and marching wooden soldiers.

The Providence Performing Arts Center will present “The Nutcracker,” Tchaikovsky’s beloved holiday ballet, on Friday, December 10, at 7:30 p.m.; Saturday, December 11 at 2:00 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.; and Sunday, December 12, at 3:30 p.m. at the Providence Performing Arts Center. Student prices are available.

The Festival Ballet, under the direction of Doreen Reiss, is the medical arm of the Rhode Island Lung Association at Rhode Island Hospital.

Do you need a flu shot? “You do if you’re in a ‘high risk’ group,” warns Dr. William Corrao, president of the R.I. Thoracic Society, the medical arm of the Rhode Island Lung Association. “Anyone with long diabetes, heart disease, chronic renal disease, diabetes mellitus, chronic asthma, or any condition that compromises the immune machines should be vaccinated against influenza.”

Influenza is a contagious respiratory disease caused by a virus. Symptoms may include chills, fever, weakness, loss of appetite, body aches, sore throat, cough and nausea.

The common cold is also caused by a virus, any one of a hundred that have been identified so far. There is no cure for the common cold, however, and unlike influenza, not much can be done to prevent it.

Influenza is a moderately severe disease for most people, but its biggest danger is that it can invite serious complications because it lowers the body’s defense against infection. A complication of influenza is pneumonoccal pneumonia. If you are a member of a “high risk” group, see your doctor about vaccination against influenza. And be sure to consult your doctor if you have persistent symptoms such as a fever that lasts more than three days, a severe headache, chills, cough, a sore throat, earache, or rusty-looking sputum. It might not be “just a cold.”

Learn more by calling the Rhode Island Lung Association at 421-6487 and asking for their free brochures “Flu,” “Pneumonia,” and “Pneumonitis.”

Where Else to Study?

Exams are quickly approaching, fiddling that it would be worthwhile to know how many laps you can swim. To find yourself climbing the floor from lack of space during finals here are a few alternatives for your period of study:

PROVIDENCE PUBLIC LIBRARY

150 Empire St., 521-7722

Hours: M-T: 9:30 AM-9 PM

F-S: 9 AM-1 AM

SMITH HILL BRANCH

31 Candace St., 421-6974

Hours: T: 10 AM-8 PM

Th: 10 AM-5 PM

F: 12 PM-5 PM

Budweiser Bermuda College Weeks from $282

FEATURES INCLUDE:

For More Information, Contact:

MICHAEL MCGINN

517-4407

Budweiser Bermuda College Weeks from $282

FEATURES INCLUDE:

For More Information, Contact:

MICHAEL MCGINN

517-4407

Budweiser Bermuda College Weeks from $282

FEATURES INCLUDE:

For More Information, Contact:

MICHAEL MCGINN

517-4407

Budweiser Bermuda College Weeks from $282

FEATURES INCLUDE:

For More Information, Contact:

MICHAEL MCGINN

517-4407

Budweiser Bermuda College Weeks from $282

FEATURES INCLUDE:

For More Information, Contact:

MICHAEL MCGINN

517-4407

Budweiser Bermuda College Weeks from $282

FEATURES INCLUDE:

For More Information, Contact:

MICHAEL MCGINN

517-4407

Budweiser Bermuda College Weeks from $282

FEATURES INCLUDE:

For More Information, Contact:

MICHAEL MCGINN

517-4407

Budweiser Bermuda College Weeks from $282

FEATURES INCLUDE:

For More Information, Contact:

MICHAEL MCGINN

517-4407

Budweiser Bermuda College Weeks from $282

FEATURES INCLUDE:

Round-Trip Air Transportation with Meals and Beverage Service. 5 Day/7 Nights Accommodation in Bermuda. Round-Trip Transfers between Bermuda Airport and your Accommodation...
Tale of a PC Caddy
By James Fay

If you know anything about the world of golf, you know it has as much tradition as any sport in the world. Baseball has one World Series but the U.S. Open and the British Open. The Masters and the USGA. Of course most people know about the pro Tour, with the likes of Jack Nicklaus, the greatest golfer of our time, and Tom Watson who has won the most. However, there is quite an extensive Amateur golf culture, particularly here in America. Amateurs range anywhere from the weekend hacker to the seventies year old retired doctor, to some of the finest golfers in the world. One of the most prestigious Amateur tournaments is the United States Amateur Championship. This past year the U.S. Amateur was held in nearby Brookline, Massachusetts. The winner of the 1982 Amateur was Jay Sigel, a 38 year old Pennsylvania, his caddy was a PC student, sophomore Stephen Davenport.

I talked to Davenport about the Amateur, and about caddying for one of the best young golfers in the world. Davenport works as a caddy at the "Country Club" in Brookline, and was fortunate enough to hook up with Jay Sigel during a pre-tournament practice round. Davenport said his duties involved helping with club selection, measuring distances, and estimating green speeds.
If you take a look at what happened at Schneider Arena on Sunday night, you can get an idea of what the 1982-83 season has unfolded for Providence College hockey.

First of all, it was no coincidence that a sellout crowd of 3,200 was on hand to witness the Friars’ fifteenth game of the year against longtime rival Boston College. Enthusiasm about Friar hockey has peaked, both on and off campus, to a very high level.

Next, look at the prep game played. Unlike past years, this game received little bawk from the students. In the early part of the season, hockey was another game. This is a characteristic that, although not noticeable, has indirectly helped PC attain the success it has achieved so far this year. In the early part of last season, following the ECAC championship and Lamoriello’s superior coaching, Providence College was the object of much media hype. A lot of unnecessary pressure was put on the team and things did not go the way they should have. This year there has been minimal pressure on the squad in this respect, which has left them room to develop in a peaceful and understanding atmosphere.

This year PC has unfolded an explosive offense. They are now averaging over six goals per game and have amassed a grand total of ninety-four scores in just fifteen games—compared to just fifty scores against them by opponents.

Sunday was no exception. Kurt Kientiedt told his sixteenth goal of this young season and has a staggering thirty-four points to his credit. Paul Guay, the feisty sophomore from North Smithfield, notched his fourteenth and fifteenth against the Eagles and now has twenty-eight points, even after missing one game earlier in the year. Sixteen regular players on the varsity squad have figured in on the offensive scoring at some time this season. Most of us expected the Friars to produce after watching their developing depth. Who could have predicted this?

“Defense” was a big question mark in October. But now in December, it makes Coach Lamoriello smile when he hears that. All the new defensemen have fit in well and their poise was evident against BC on Sunday. Whereas most inexperienced players would be nervous and hesitant about jumping into extensive, varsity-playing time, the budding PC defensemen have developed an innate confidence. “It feels great to be playing,” reveals junior Jacques Delormier, who had to sit out most of his freshman and sophomore seasons. Specifically, Delormier and Pete Tardif have both proved to be hard hitters and both are scoring threats. Both are expected to be key players in the future.

The PC defense has adopted an improved style that allows them to skate up and “meet” opposing forwards. But that’s not all. Now more than ever, the defensemen are providing offensive action when needed. This is evident in the scoring sheets. Seniors Randy Velischek (second in team scoring with eight goals and two assists) and Bruce Raboin (four goals, eleven assists) have provided most of the punch. What Providence College struggled for in most of its last few seasons has now been found in 1982-83. That missing element is good, consistent goaltending. Mark Proulx is a consistent goalie who not only can make the big saves but can also control the puck brilliantly around the PC net. Although Proulx has been in the nets for 12 of the Friars’ first 15 games (and he will apparently tend net in most of the remaining games), he doesn’t see it as a demanding chore. “It’s easier to get ready when you play more games,” admits Proulx.

“We are learning to set up, the better I feel. Two games a week shouldn’t get on me. I used to play 65 games a season back in my home town.” (Drummondville, Quebec)

More importantly, on Sunday the Friars racked up their 12th win in only eleven losses. They are presently the third-ranked team in the country and are high atop the ECAC list with a 5-1 record. There is no doubt that Providence has been playing fine hockey, especially during the 5-1 victory over Boston College.

“They played a great game,” commented Lamoriello on his team’s performance Sunday night. “I was very pleased with our overall play, everything went right for us. We moved the puck well and used each other at the right time... we went unselfish. Every single player participated.”

Tonight the Friars get a chance to up their ECAC record to 6-1 as they face off against Princeton. On Sunday they will host Division II Salem State before taking a well deserved rest until Christmas.

After the Princeton game, the Friars will only have played about one-third of their ECAC schedule (seven out of 22 games). However, Providence College is off to their best start in nine years, and it looks as if there’s no stopping them. Keep the rafters clear at the Schneider Arena; we may have a few more banners to raise at the end of the season.

Olit Thorpe overpowers the Foreigner en route to PC’s exhibition loss to Cibona of Yugoslavia. (Photo by Brian Thornton)

Mario was fantastic in the net... and Rich Costello was just as impressive on offense. (Photo by Brian Thorpe)

---

(DUNK, continued from page 16)

Slam dunk with 0:27 on the clock and gave the Friars the victory. Jack Lomax had 19 points and Thorpe had 18. Knight was extremely impressive with his play off the bench. Assistant coach Steve Hocker stated that it wasn’t the most artistic game. He also remarked that Holy Cross press had really bothered PC in the first half, but, quite unbelievably, they didn’t use it in the second half.

The importance, psychological speaking, of that win is enormous when one considers what occurred at the Civic Center Saturday night. The Friars completely outplayed St. John’s. They didn’t win, however. During the last 10 minutes of the first half, PC slowly built leads and reached an 11 point advantage at one time. It was Providence, 33-24, at the half. A 20-footer by Jackson, with 14:10 left in the game, put the Friars up 59-28.

For the next six minutes, the lead fluctuated between seven and nine points. A driving layup by John’s miss the front end of a one and one. PC missed the second. Scott Lomax and Kevin Williams made free throws against the Redmen. Chris Mullin and creating havoc with the St. John’s offense.

Mullin made four straight free throws within the next minute. PC 57-53. Tucker made two. Then it was all over. Kevin Williams rebounded his own missed three shot and shot it. Scott Lomax has backs missed the front end of a one and one opportunity. Kevin Williams made two free throws and cut the lead further. PC 59-57. Cassy missed a one and one. Tucker made one of two. Goodwin pumped in a 17-footer. PC 60-59. St. John’s called a time out at 1:04. Starks missed a one and one. Thorpe missed the front end of a one and one. PC called for a foul, with 1:04 left. Two free throws by Jeff Allen win it for the Redmen.

Some stats that make that last comment a truthful statement. PC shot 62.9%, for the game. St. John’s shot 36.7%. Yet the Redmen held the rebounding edge 34-27. They had 16 offensive rebounds. St.
It was supposed to be a battle between the foreign athletes from the University of Texas El Paso and Providence College, but someone forgot to tell seven Americans from the University of Wisconsin, as they placed five runners in the top 26 to walk away with the NCAA Cross Country Championships at Indiana University on November 22.

For the second consecutive year, the Friars of Providence College placed second in the meet with 138 points, far behind Wisconsin’s winning total of 59 points. Behind PC, the University of East Tennessee fourth with 158 points, and UTEP a surprising fifth with 173 points.

In the days preceding the meet, it appeared that things were not going to go well for the Friars, as the Wednesday before the meet, Coach Bob Amato received confirmation that freshman John Doherty had suffered a stress fracture on his right shin, and would be unable to compete for the Nationals. As a replacement, Amato chose freshman Mike Capper, who had run only two meets all season, but appeared to be in the best form to run the race.

Once the team arrived in Bloomington, Indiana, things started to look more positive, as heavy rains swept through the area on Friday, and lasted through the race on Monday. One point that all runners had to bear in mind was to their team’s members agreed upon was the fact that the course would be suited the course would be to their teams. The race on Monday, the fourth in the series, was to try to pull away. By the time the race ended, Spivey had drifted back to 40th place.

When the Friar runners passed the fifth kilometer, three runners were established in the top 25. O’Flynn was in tenth place, running the race of his life, and a few places behind, Quinn and Binns were holding their position. The fourth Friar runner, Braggs, had moved up to about 50th place, and Fallon was close behind. Back in the 80’s, Capper was holding his position, and Moloney found himself around 100th place.

When the runners attacked the loop for the second time, which by now approached a mud bath, the UTEP contingent was fading fast, and it appeared that the Friars were to be a battle for an unfamiliar position, second.

As the runners lined up at the start Monday morning, the course was muddy and last, and after the women’s championship race, footing was difficult. As about 200 runners moved up the first hill to the first kilometer, the pre-race favorite, Jim Spivey of Indiana, established himself as the early leader, along with Zakari Barie of UTEP and Mark Scrutton of Colorado.

In a huge pack behind, four from Friars were bunched up in the top thirty; Brendan Quinn, Jimmy Fallon, Rich O’Flynn and Steve Binns all had a good start, and by the 1km mark, all were in good position. Charlie Braggs, Mike Capper, and Paul Moloney also had avoided getting caught in the back, and began the slow process of forcing up their positions.

When the leaders passed the 3km mark, one thing had already been established; Wisconsin began to threaten to run away with the race, with five runners bunched up in front. Quinn, O’Flynn, and Binns had all established good position, though Fallon began to pay the price for a fast start, and was fading back into the fifteens.

As the pack headed up the hill for the first time, a lead group of four had emerged, including Spivey, Barie, Scrutton, and Hans Koeleman of Clemson.

Several kilometers, the runners had battled each other and the mud, and some of the 100-1500 men in the race found the pace tough, and Spivey (3:35 for 1500 meters) was one of the first to pay the price. By the time the race ended, Spivey had drifted back to 40th place.

With 500 meters to go, Barie opened 20 meters on Scrutton, and the two entered the home straight in a close race. Scrutton caught and passed Barie to claim the title for himself with a 2.2 second victory, 30:12.6 to 30:14.8. O’Flynn had runners in fourth, fifth, and third on the other in the top 25, and as the remainder of the field came down the finishing straight, it appeared that every place would be important in the battle for second place.

Over the last 2000 meters, runners appeared to be fading out of the top 20, while Quinn and O’Flynn held their place about 225 meters behind on going. O’Flynn, Quinn, and O’Flynn were all in the 15th, as Binns regained for a final effort. Quinn came up the top of the stretch and passed Binns to take 11th place in 30:37, with Binns in 15th in 30:37, and O’Flynn 17th in 30:43.

Behind, Braggs took 61st in 31:54, Fallon was 85th in 31:48 0, Capper was 106th in 32:08.8, and Moloney was 125th in 32:30.7.

Race officials later disqualified Moloney and a runner from Iowa for a course infraction. While it was disappointing not to have made a greater run at the National title, Amato expressed delight that his runners came second to two of their top runners, Doherty’s and Milligan. One of the major factors behind the inability to make a better attempt at the number one spot was the problem of getting the fourth and fifth men closer to the top three.

There was no doubt that Quinn, Braggs, Fallon, and PC did their job (earning All-America honors in the process) but there was not enough to push the final time down. However, the way the Wisconsin team fought and the way PC battled for something was something to be proud of.

To compare this season with last year’s second place finish, it is a difficult task. Last year, the team performance was somewhat of a surprise to everyone, while this year it was expected. Throughout the season, the team fulfilled all the expectations that had happened before the season. It was a season that included many question marks due to injury and illness, but always there was victory at the end.

While it was a disappointing result, PC are to be congratulated for the National title, Amato expressed the pride that his runners came second to two of their top runners, Doherty’s and Milligan.