Nominations For Freshmen Elections Begin Today

Pat Lucey Addresses PC Student Body

by Karen Ryder

Pat Lucey, independent vice-presidential running mate of John B. Anderson, addressed a standing room crowd in Hickey Hall at Providence College, Thursday, September 18, 1980.

Lucey proceeded to criticize Carter's policies on Salt II, the draft, the MX missile and the ERA. He continued, "I can see why Jimmy Carter won't debate. If I had his record as President, I wouldn't want a debate either."

Stating that "the Democratic party has always been a party of hope," Anderson claimed that "there is something wrong with hopes". Lucey went on to quote former President Richard M. Nixon, who said of Carter: "He's too young, shrewd, and he's going to use the presidency to the hilt." Lucey drew laughs from the crowd as he added and you know... Nixon would know.

Lucey noted that because Carter is using tax dollars to pay for his election, he should, for once, "carry out the wishes of the American people."

A debate, Lucey explained, will allow voters to see their choices so they won't "have to choose between the lesser of two evils."

Lucey stated that the Anderson-Lucey ticket given the people an alternative. Without it, Lucey continued, "If the polls said Jimmy Carter, Ronald Reagan and none of the above, none of the above would win by a landslide!"

Lucey described the 37-page Independent platform as a "contract between us (Lucey and Anderson) and the American people." Lucey concluded that a President should not "just rest on the good gained, but ensure that it will restore America "the political greatness which has somehow escaped us in the past few years."

Students then addressed Lucey in a question and answer period. Lucey was asked what the concept of the role of vice-president is. He stated that it's a role that is basically "defined by circumstance." (continue to LUCEY, p.3)

Second Woman Attacked on Campus

by Karen Ryder

For the second time in as many weeks, the relatively peaceful atmosphere of the Providence College campus has been disrupted by the attempted rape of a co-ed.

At approximately 8:30 p.m. on Monday, September 22, a female student was on her way to the library from her off-campus apartment. Opting to take a popular electrical, the young woman made her way across a darkened area of the home by the Rev. Thomas R. Peterson, O.P., president of the College.

It was here that an unknown assailant knocked her to the ground, causing possible head injuries. As in the incident of Sunday, September 15, the attacker threatened the victim with a knife and made sexual demands.

As in the first incident, this woman was able to free herself and run to safety. Donna McCall-frey, assistant director of residence at PC, has once again asked all members of the College community to make themselves aware of the severity of these incidents.

McCall-frey explained that there is reason to believe that the same man committed both the assaults. Described as a non-PC student, the assailant is approximately 5'11", tall, husky build, and dark haired.

Anyone who notices any strange activities or persons should immediately notify the Security office at 800-224 or the campus emergency number, 800-2222.

For the second time in as many weeks, the relatively peaceful atmosphere of the Providence College campus has been disrupted by the attempted rape of a co-ed.

At approximately 8:30 p.m. on Monday, September 22, a female student was on her way to the library from her off-campus apartment. Opting to take a popular electrical, the young woman made her way across a darkened area of the home by the Rev. Thomas R. Peterson, O.P., president of the College.

It was here that an unknown assailant knocked her to the ground, causing possible head injuries. As in the incident of Sunday, September 15, the attacker threatened the victim with a knife and made sexual demands.

As in the first incident, this woman was able to free herself and run to safety. Donna McCall-frey, assistant director of residence at PC, has once again asked all members of the College community to make themselves aware of the severity of these incidents.

McCall-frey explained that there is reason to believe that the same man committed both the assaults. Described as a non-PC student, the assailant is approximately 5'11", tall, husky build, and dark haired.

Anyone who notices any strange activities or persons should immediately notify the Security office at 800-224 or the campus emergency number, 800-2222.

Off-Campus Apartments along Eaton Street.

Police Forum:
The Party's Over

by Steve Sylvia

Last night in '84 Hall there was a forum entitled "Partying and the Police." It was designed to inform students about future action that will be taken by the Providence Police Department in response to the concern of neighbors around the PC campus.

It began with an address by the very Rev. Thomas R. Peterson, president of the College, concerning both on-campus security and off-campus relationships with the community. He advised women to use "good judgement" and not to go out alone after the recent attacks involving female students. Also, he stressed the importance of maintaining a good rapport with the people living around the campus.

Following the President was the principal speaker, Major Walter J. Clark, administrative assistant to the police chief. A member of the force since 1939, he mentioned that over the years there had never been a confrontation between the police and PC students until last week's incident on Eaton Street. He was referring to the off-campus party on September 13th, in which arrests were made following an alleged rock throwing episode between PC students and the officers who responded to the complaints of neighbors. He stated that "community residents are up in arms" over the actions of PC students and that "no more of this will be tolerated."

Clarke has been instructed by Police Chief Angelo Racus to take whatever action is necessary to quash the problem. He mentioned the use of undercover police officers that will infiltrate off-campus parties and arrest all students at such a party for any law violations (i.e. marijuana, underage admission, disorderly conduct, etc.) found on the premises. Students who sponsor off-campus parties will also be responsible for what goes on outside their party as well.

Clarke explained that once you enter the criminal justice system you are "there forever," meaning your fingerprints go on file in both the state of Rhode Island and in Washington, D.C., with the FBI. This could force you to lose job opportunities in the future because of a criminal record received during your studies at PC.
Reilly Appointed as New Legal Advisor

By Donna Bunn
James H. Reilly of the Kelly, Reilly & Co., P.C., has been named the newly appointed legal advisor for Providence College students. Reilly addressed the Student Congress in a meeting on September 14. According to Reilly, his role as a legal advisor for the Congress encompasses three functions. His first and primary function is "to act as a legal consultant to the Student Congress and all its recognized sub-committees." He explained that "this role does not include advising on all valid student organization matters." His advice might concern any contracts, legal documents, etc., that the organization might enter into. Reilly also serves as the attorney in a private capacity, as a private attorney. "His obligations as a legal advisor also do not include court appearances for any reason."

Reilly, a native of Providence, graduated from LaSalle Academy in Providence in 1965. He enrolled at Providence College, where in his sophomore year he was elected social chairman, a position that qualified him as a class officer. He retained this position throughout his junior and senior years.

Reilly graduated from PC in 1969 and, as a member of the ROTC, spent the next two years in the army. He was sent to Germany his first year and to Vietnam his second.

Upon returning home from the service, he enrolled in the Suffolk University Law School and graduated in 1979. Reilly joined the law firm of Kelly, Kelleher and Butterfield and has since become the third partner in the firm.

Reilly, who has been a class agent for the Alumni Association, was recommended for the position of legal advisor by Joseph Ryan, who is charged of Alumni matters here at PC.

PC Parking: Are You in the Right Spot?

The Security Office of Providence College would like to remind all members of the College Community that as of Monday, September 22, the new parking regulations are being enforced. All cars should have the proper parking stickers at this time.

The Regulations are as follows:

The red faculty-staff area is the area around Harkins Hall, Albertus, and Hickey only. The green faculty-staff area is Library Road only. The blue faculty-staff area is any other parking area on upper campus. Cars with red and green stickers will be the only cars allowed to enter through the front gate at River Avenue. Visitors will also be allowed to enter through the front gate and must park in the visitors parking area in front of Harkins Hall.

Students with blue stickers and the letter "B" printed on it park in "B" lot which is located on the side of Schneider Arena. Students with blue stickers and the letters "C" printed on it park in "C" lot which is located on the right when you enter through Harkley Avenue.

Anyone issued a silver sticker, faculty, staff or student, must park in the lower campus parking lots in the area designated on the sticker.

Cars with silver stickers must stay on lower campus and cars with stickers for upper campus must stay in their designated areas.

Any questions may be directed to the Security Office.

Reilly, a native of Providence, graduated from LaSalle Academy in Providence in 1965. He enrolled at Providence College, where in his sophomore year he was elected social chairman, a position that qualified him as a class officer. He retained this position throughout his junior and senior years.

Reilly graduated from PC in 1969 and, as a member of the ROTC, spent the next two years in the army. He was sent to Germany his first year and to Vietnam his second.

Upon returning home from the service, he enrolled in the Suffolk University Law School and graduated in 1979. Reilly joined the law firm of Kelly, Kelleher and Butterfield and has since become the third partner in the firm.

Reilly, who has been a class agent for the Alumni Association, was recommended for the position of legal advisor by Joseph Ryan, who is charged of Alumni matters here at PC.

Reilly Appointed as New Legal Advisor

By Donna Bunn
James H. Reilly of the Kelly, Reilly & Co., P.C., has been named the newly appointed legal advisor for Providence College students. Reilly addressed the Student Congress in a meeting on September 14. According to Reilly, his role as a legal advisor for the Congress encompasses three functions. His first and primary function is "to act as a legal consultant to the Student Congress and all its recognized sub-committees." He explained that "this role does not include advising on all valid student organization matters." His advice might concern any contracts, legal documents, etc., that the organization might enter into. Reilly also serves as the attorney in a private capacity, as a private attorney. "His obligations as a legal advisor also do not include court appearances for any reason."

Reilly, a native of Providence, graduated from LaSalle Academy in Providence in 1965. He enrolled at Providence College, where in his sophomore year he was elected social chairman, a position that qualified him as a class officer. He retained this position throughout his junior and senior years.

Reilly graduated from PC in 1969 and, as a member of the ROTC, spent the next two years in the army. He was sent to Germany his first year and to Vietnam his second.

Upon returning home from the service, he enrolled in the Suffolk University Law School and graduated in 1979. Reilly joined the law firm of Kelly, Kelleher and Butterfield and has since become the third partner in the firm.

Reilly, who has been a class agent for the Alumni Association, was recommended for the position of legal advisor by Joseph Ryan, who is charged of Alumni matters here at PC.

PC Parking: Are You in the Right Spot?

The Security Office of Providence College would like to remind all members of the College Community that as of Monday, September 22, the new parking regulations are being enforced. All cars should have the proper parking stickers at this time.

The Regulations are as follows:

The red faculty-staff area is the area around Harkins Hall, Albertus, and Hickey only. The green faculty-staff area is Library Road only. The blue faculty-staff area is any other parking area on upper campus. Cars with red and green stickers will be the only cars allowed to enter through the front gate at River Avenue. Visitors will also be allowed to enter through the front gate and must park in the visitors parking area in front of Harkins Hall.

Students with blue stickers and the letter "B" printed on it park in "B" lot which is located on the side of Schneider Arena. Students with blue stickers and the letters "C" printed on it park in "C" lot which is located on the right when you enter through Harkley Avenue.

Anyone issued a silver sticker, faculty, staff or student, must park in the lower campus parking lots in the area designated on the sticker.

Cars with silver stickers must stay on lower campus and cars with stickers for upper campus must stay in their designated areas.

Any questions may be directed to the Security Office.

Reilly, a native of Providence, graduated from LaSalle Academy in Providence in 1965. He enrolled at Providence College, where in his sophomore year he was elected social chairman, a position that qualified him as a class officer. He retained this position throughout his junior and senior years.

Reilly graduated from PC in 1969 and, as a member of the ROTC, spent the next two years in the army. He was sent to Germany his first year and to Vietnam his second. Upon returning home from the service, he enrolled in the Suffolk University Law School and graduated in 1979. Reilly joined the law firm of Kelly, Kelleher and Butterfield and has since become the third partner in the firm.

Reilly, who has been a class agent for the Alumni Association, was recommended for the position of legal advisor by Joseph Ryan, who is charged of Alumni matters here at PC.

PC Parking: Are You in the Right Spot?

The Security Office of Providence College would like to remind all members of the College Community that as of Monday, September 22, the new parking regulations are being enforced. All cars should have the proper parking stickers at this time.

The Regulations are as follows:

The red faculty-staff area is the area around Harkins Hall, Albertus, and Hickey only. The green faculty-staff area is Library Road only. The blue faculty-staff area is any other parking area on upper campus. Cars with red and green stickers will be the only cars allowed to enter through the front gate at River Avenue. Visitors will also be allowed to enter through the front gate and must park in the visitors parking area in front of Harkins Hall.

Students with blue stickers and the letter "B" printed on it park in "B" lot which is located on the side of Schneider Arena. Students with blue stickers and the letters "C" printed on it park in "C" lot which is located on the right when you enter through Harkley Avenue.

Anyone issued a silver sticker, faculty, staff or student, must park in the lower campus parking lots in the area designated on the sticker.

Cars with silver stickers must stay on lower campus and cars with stickers for upper campus must stay in their designated areas.

Any questions may be directed to the Security Office.

Reilly, a native of Providence, graduated from LaSalle Academy in Providence in 1965. He enrolled at Providence College, where in his sophomore year he was elected social chairman, a position that qualified him as a class officer. He retained this position throughout his junior and senior years.

Reilly graduated from PC in 1969 and, as a member of the ROTC, spent the next two years in the army. He was sent to Germany his first year and to Vietnam his second. Upon returning home from the service, he enrolled in the Suffolk University Law School and graduated in 1979. Reilly joined the law firm of Kelly, Kelleher and Butterfield and has since become the third partner in the firm.

Reilly, who has been a class agent for the Alumni Association, was recommended for the position of legal advisor by Joseph Ryan, who is charged of Alumni matters here at PC.

PC Parking: Are You in the Right Spot?

The Security Office of Providence College would like to remind all members of the College Community that as of Monday, September 22, the new parking regulations are being enforced. All cars should have the proper parking stickers at this time.

The Regulations are as follows:

The red faculty-staff area is the area around Harkins Hall, Albertus, and Hickey only. The green faculty-staff area is Library Road only. The blue faculty-staff area is any other parking area on upper campus. Cars with red and green stickers will be the only cars allowed to enter through the front gate at River Avenue. Visitors will also be allowed to enter through the front gate and must park in the visitors parking area in front of Harkins Hall.

Students with blue stickers and the letter "B" printed on it park in "B" lot which is located on the side of Schneider Arena. Students with blue stickers and the letters "C" printed on it park in "C" lot which is located on the right when you enter through Harkley Avenue.

Anyone issued a silver sticker, faculty, staff or student, must park in the lower campus parking lots in the area designated on the sticker.

Cars with silver stickers must stay on lower campus and cars with stickers for upper campus must stay in their designated areas.

Any questions may be directed to the Security Office.

Reilly, a native of Providence, graduated from LaSalle Academy in Providence in 1965. He enrolled at Providence College, where in his sophomore year he was elected social chairman, a position that qualified him as a class officer. He retained this position throughout his junior and senior years.

Reilly graduated from PC in 1969 and, as a member of the ROTC, spent the next two years in the army. He was sent to Germany his first year and to Vietnam his second. Upon returning home from the service, he enrolled in the Suffolk University Law School and graduated in 1979. Reilly joined the law firm of Kelly, Kelleher and Butterfield and has since become the third partner in the firm.

Reilly, who has been a class agent for the Alumni Association, was recommended for the position of legal advisor by Joseph Ryan, who is charged of Alumni matters here at PC.
Minicourses: Bartending, CPR, Yoga and First Aid

The academic research committee of the Student Congress will be offering a series of mini-courses. The committee, which is chaired by Laura Foley, '82, has made arrangements to have four courses taught this semester.

A bartending course will be taught by Maryanne Granger, M.I., and Steven Duryea, '82. It is limited to 25 students and the course fee of $10,000 will be required to take the course. There will be a 10 fee and the course will run for four weeks.

Yoga, which will be taught by Jane Lynch, is limited to 20 students if $5 for a six-week period.

A first aid class, to be instructed by a certified Red Cross volunteer, will be restricted to 25 students. The class will use the store. "wants to be sure that students will use the store."

An informal survey will be taken to determine the student desire for this $10,000 investment. Morrissey cited that the committee "wants to be sure that students will use the store."

Once in operation, two responsible students will be appointed as managers working with seven-day week schedule.

Enthusiastic about the store, Rev. Thomas R. Peterson, O.P., president of the College wants an advisory board established to be led by Rev. John A. McMahon, O.P., assistant vice president of student services. Mr. Joseph Murphy, and business professor Gustave C. Cote, to oversee the function of the store.

Tim West reported that the Resident Board is still "up in the air" about campus housing. All parties agree that freshmen should be guaranteed housing. West noted that for at least one year, geographic location will not be a determining factor for campus residence.

The ways and means committee, chaired by Mark Vogel, has decided that voting will take place in Slavin Center only, and Raymond Hall Cafeteria will no longer be a voting center. Vogel stated that "fairness and not numbers" in student voting prompted the decision. Students in Slavin usually vote willingly and are not urged to, like in Raymond.

The general discussion was focused on the student exchange program to be held at the end of January or early February. Mark Vogel addressed Congress and explained that approximately 31 students from other colleges will be invited to PC to exchange ideas. Vogel was open to suggestions for plans for this weekend.

During the discussion, it was announced that Guzman Hall will be the first dorm to have roll: other colleges will be invited to the program to be held at the end of January or early February. Mark Vogel addressed Congress and explained that approximately 31 students from other colleges will be invited to PC to exchange ideas. Vogel was open to suggestions for plans for this weekend.

During the discussion, it was announced that Guzman Hall will be the first dorm to have roll: other colleges will be invited to the program to be held at the end of January or early February. Mark Vogel addressed Congress and explained that approximately 31 students from other colleges will be invited to PC to exchange ideas. Vogel was open to suggestions for plans for this weekend.

The Providence College campus must be a place where we can live without fear. By our combined efforts we can make it such.

— Editor

Class Notes 1981

Any questions concerning commencement may be answered by calling Steve Harten at 751-6259. Remember, take photos for the slide show.

1982

Ring Weekend Bids go on sale October 2, 3, and 6. Second Ring Payments are due October 23, 24, and 27 in the Slavin Pit. (See page 13)

1983

Final selections for Ring Weekend Core Committee will be announced today—check in the Congress Office.

1984

Class Elections

Nomination—Wednesday, September 24; Election Day—Thursday, October 2.
PC Trash Issue

Why Are We Throwing Away Money?

While most PC students were vacationing or working this summer, the appearance of PC’s campus was greatly altered. Ground was broken for the Slavin Center to Guzman Hall bypass, which will be a result of student carelessness and our lack of respect for our own campus.

Unfortunately, some of these students have taken it on themselves to discredit our school’s name by creating disturbances in and around the PC campus. These students litter the grounds, disrupt sleep, and in general make life miserable for our neighbors. While they are only a small percentage between Slavin and Guzman. In many cases, if a student did want to throw something away in a trash Rev. John McMahon, O.P. commented that “a lot of trash is singularly responsible for this trash. He illustrated this by asking: ‘What if you were walking from Slavin Center to Guzman Hall and had something to throw away? Where would you throw it?’” There is a simple answer to this question: on the ground. For there are simply no trash cans between Slavin and Guzman.

The responsibility of keeping a clean campus falls on everyone. This trash often includes broken beer bottles, creating a potential hazard for the bypasser. It is also an eyesore to residents of and visitors to the PC Community.

The Editorial Board of the Cowl feels that with the amount of off-campus residents by not having the advantage of lower prices over local competition, the store will also lose major value to off-campus students. The store will be closed to begin operation.

The Editorial Board of THE COWL questions whether such a store will be viable on the PC campus. Although it will have a convenient location, the store will lose major value to off-campus residents by not having the advantage of lower prices over local competition. The store will also lose its initial purpose because off-campus students lack storage facilities to make its operation worthwhile.

The COWL Editorial Board feels that with the amount of off-campus students in Slavin Center so limited it would be more efficient to utilize Slavin Center for an alternative endeavor.

Food

And

Variety

Store:

Will it Make Cents?

When the idea of a food and variety store was first initiated by Student Congress it seemed like a good idea. It was a chance to provide students with a low cost alternative to local food stores, while being conveniently located on campus. Recently, however, plans have been modified to coincide with the actual cost of operation. Unfortunatly, however, plans have been modified to coincide with the actual cost of operation. Unfortunately, this situation has gotten so totally out of hand that now the police will begin arresting PC students who are violating local ordinances such as carrying an open container of an alcoholic beverage or drinking under the age of 19.

If we want PC to be synonymous with excellent educational opportunities, an abundance of extracurricular activities, and a fine athletic program, it is also a campus of students, faculty and administration who give us a special “family spirit” that makes it unique. Unfortunately, some of these students have taken it on themselves to discredit our school’s name by creating disturbances in and around the PC campus. These students litter the grounds, disrupt sleep, and in general make life miserable for our neighbors. While they are only a small percentage of our entire student body, they are creating an image all of us must bear. This situation has gotten so totally out of hand that now the police will begin arresting PC students who are violating local ordinances such as carrying an open container of an alcoholic beverage or drinking under the age of 19.

If we want PC to be synonymous with liquor, noise, and arrests, then we can continue to watch the minority ruin the reputation of the majority. However, if we want to respect our neighbors’ rights and still enjoy college, then the majority must change the minority. As PC students we are responsible for our school’s reputation—the choice is up to us.
Dear Editor:

Many students have questions and/or complaints about the Last Resort. In an effort to bring better entertainment to the campus, because of higher costs, ticket prices have been raised. The students should know that ticket prices are based on the cost of the event. If the event sells out then a small profit is made. This money is going to be used to decorate the Last Resort. I know $5 or $6 seems like a lot, but much do you spend at Geister’s?

The mass confusion during the sale of tickets of Jim Plunkett was our fault. We now have a plan for crowds at the ticket window. I apologize to those people who waited but did not get tickets. This past weekend.

Dear Editor:

While reviewing the list of Honor Graduates, as published in the summer edition of The Cowl, I was dismayed to find that transfer students were not included.

Although I attended PC for just two years, I revered the distinction of magna cum laude, and was invited to share in the Honors Day activities. My feeling of accomplishment was just as great a four year student’s.

We transfer students were a part of PC. Too. Please publish a list of our names and distinctions in your next issue.

Thank you!

Kerry M. Brown ‘80

Editor’s Note: The Cowl published the official list given released by the college.

Dear Editor:

I address this to off-campus residents who think they are still living with their parents on Main Street, Suburbia. A move from a dorm or from home to one’s own apartment may be accompanied by a rush of freedom but it need not be marred with adolescent consideration. Because it’s the beginning of school, parties are frequent and because up-perclassmen are usually those in apartments, parties are more frequent. But it’s September and windows are open and houses are 15 feet apart so a stereo across the street and three houses down wafts across my text. Worse than that is the fact that there are a good number of small children who live on Eaton and neighboring streets who have been awakened by a Friar’s insomniac.

On September 12, a Saturday night at about 1:00-1:30 a.m., the Providence Police were called to stop a party or to stop something that was too loud for a neighbor’s patience. Unfortunately, the police indirectly created more noise because their presence ruffled some people’s feathers. So yelling and calling ensued. “You have no jurisdiction!” “You’re Russian.” If you ever lay a finger on me I’ll be some of the comments made. Didn’t these people realize that the police were called because they were disturbing the peace? I feel that the absolute selfishness of some PC students who assume that their world is the only one in existence.

Audrey Fontes Berry ‘81

Join the Cowl Staff
Slavin 109 — 7 p.m.

Dear Editor:

I don’t know if my letter will reach you in time to change the dress code, but I feel strongly that women should not have to wear shorts if they don’t want to. It is not right to force someone to wear something that they don’t want to wear. It is not right to force someone to wear something that is not appropriate for the occasion.

Kerry M. Brown ‘80

DEPARTMENT OF COUNSELING SERVICES
CAMPUS OFFICE BLDG.

Counseling Center Notes

Stress is your body’s physical, mental and chemical reaction to circumstances that frighten, excite and confuse you. In- securities of a competitive job market, the pressures and the development of new relationships are just a few of the sources of typical stress that college students must learn to cope with.

For freshmen, of course, there are special stress factors — being on your own for the first time and taking responsibility for day to day decisions; learning to balance a good study - work - leisure time schedule, even issues concerning getting sufficient sleep and eating good nutritious meals.

It is natural and normal to have some stress symptoms in our lives. The key is to learn to handle stress and make it work for us!

The following are some suggested ways to reduce stress and relax.

1) Keep in top shape. Eat properly. Know what your nutritional needs are. Get exercise daily, and get enough sleep. Balance work and leisure time. Take breaks during your study time to stop the stress response caused by day to day pressures.

2) Learn how to reduce the causes of stress. The Time Management workshop can teach you to use time effectively. Do not end up rushing to meet deadlines. Identify demands and problems and take action to eliminate them.

These are just a few helpful suggestions on how to make our lives less stressful. If you find you would like to take a further look at how to reduce the stress in your life, feel free to drop by the Counseling Center.

Learning to face one stressful situation and handle it properly can make it easier for you in your day-to-day living.

Inquiring Photographer

Did you attend last Tuesday’s Convocation?

Photographers, Writers, Layout, Typists
WE NEED YOU ON NIGHT

Cassidy’s Corner

By Barbara A. Casserly

Most students attended the second annual President’s Day festivities but it was disappointing to see the sparse student participation. Many students had questions and concerns about the college and its policies. The faculty and administration were on hand to answer these questions.

The president of the College, Rev. Thomas P. Peterson, O.P., gave an excellent speech at the Convocation. It was unfortunate that the only speaker was a representative of the administration. The administration, together with the faculty and the students comprised the total Providence College community.

So, it was disappointing to see that there were not as many students in attendance at the Convocation as at the beginning of the year. The lack of attendance at the Academic Convocation given the fact that their respective representatives were not afforded the opportunity to speak before their peers.

CATHY LANDERS, ‘82

6es. I thought that if I was going to take part in the after­
to­

5Cowl | Photos by

BULLETIN OF PROVIDENCE COLLEGE

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE

Office of the President

June 25, 1982

No, I slept late.

No, I needed my beauty sleep.

MIKE CRANE, ‘82

My Academic schedule is contingent upon the full payment of all charges before the beginning of each semester. Indebtedness to the college automatically terminates enrollment, and suspends the right of a student to take examinations or receive a transcript of credits.

(Bulletin of Providence College, page 12)

If your bill is not paid in full, contact the office of the treasurer without delay. If your bill is fully paid, please disregard.

Thank you.

Director of Admissions

DEPARTMENT OF COUNSELING SERVICES
CAMPUS OFFICE BLDG.

Counseling Center Notes

Stress is your body’s physical, mental and chemical reaction to circumstances that frighten, excite and confuse you. In- securities of a competitive job market, the pressures and the development of new relationships are just a few of the sources of typical stress that college students must learn to cope with.

For freshmen, of course, there are special stress factors — being on your own for the first time and taking responsibility for day to day decisions; learning to balance a good study - work - leisure time schedule, even issues concerning getting suf- ficient sleep and eating good nutritious meals.

It is natural and normal to have some stress symptoms in our lives. The key is to learn to handle stress and make it work for us!

The following are some suggested ways to reduce stress and relax.

1) Keep in top shape. Eat properly. Know what your nutritional needs are. Get exercise daily, and get enough sleep. Balance work and leisure time. Take breaks during your study time to stop the stress response caused by day to day pressures.

2) Learn how to reduce the causes of stress. The Time Management workshop can teach you to use time effectively. Do not end up rushing to meet deadlines. Identify demands and problems and take action to eliminate them.

These are just a few helpful suggestions on how to make our lives less stressful. If you find you would like to take a further look at how to reduce the stress in your life, feel free to drop by the Counseling Center.

Learning to face one stressful situation and handle it properly can make it easier for you in your day-to-day living.

Inquiring Photographer

Did you attend last Tuesday’s Convocation?

Photographers, Writers, Layout, Typists
WE NEED YOU ON NIGHT

Cassidy’s Corner

By Barbara A. Casserly

Most students attended the second annual President’s Day festivities but it was disappointing to see the sparse student participation. Many students had questions and concerns about the college and its policies. The faculty and administration were on hand to answer these questions.

The president of the College, Rev. Thomas P. Peterson, O.P., gave an excellent speech at the Convocation. It was unfortunate that the only speaker was a representative of the administration. The administration, together with the faculty and the students comprised the total Providence College community.

So, it was disappointing to see that there were not as many students in attendance at the Convocation as at the beginning of the year. The lack of attendance at the Academic Convocation given the fact that their respective representatives were not afforded the opportunity to speak before their peers.

CATHY LANDERS, ‘82

6es. I thought that if I was going to take part in the after­
to­

5Cowl | Photos by

BULLETIN OF PROVIDENCE COLLEGE

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE

Office of the President

June 25, 1982

No, I slept late.

No, I needed my beauty sleep.

MIKE CRANE, ‘82

My Academic schedule is contingent upon the full payment of all charges before the beginning of each semester. Indebtedness to the college automatically terminates enrollment, and suspends the right of a student to take examinations or receive a transcript of credits.

(Bulletin of Providence College, page 12)

If your bill is not paid in full, contact the office of the treasurer without delay. If your bill is fully paid, please disregard.

Thank you.

Director of Admissions

DEPARTMENT OF COUNSELING SERVICES
CAMPUS OFFICE BLDG.

Counseling Center Notes

Stress is your body’s physical, mental and chemical reaction to circumstances that frighten, excite and confuse you. In- securities of a competitive job market, the pressures and the development of new relationships are just a few of the sources of typical stress that college students must learn to cope with.

For freshmen, of course, there are special stress factors — being on your own for the first time and taking responsibility for day to day decisions; learning to balance a good study - work - leisure time schedule, even issues concerning getting suf- ficient sleep and eating good nutritious meals.

It is natural and normal to have some stress symptoms in our lives. The key is to learn to handle stress and make it work for us!

The following are some suggested ways to reduce stress and relax.

1) Keep in top shape. Eat properly. Know what your nutritional needs are. Get exercise daily, and get enough sleep. Balance work and leisure time. Take breaks during your study time to stop the stress response caused by day to day pressures.

2) Learn how to reduce the causes of stress. The Time Management workshop can teach you to use time effectively. Do not end up rushing to meet deadlines. Identify demands and problems and take action to eliminate them.

These are just a few helpful suggestions on how to make our lives less stressful. If you find you would like to take a further look at how to reduce the stress in your life, feel free to drop by the Counseling Center.

Learning to face one stressful situation and handle it properly can make it easier for you in your day-to-day living.
Luke Rheume Participates in NSF Program

Not many students spend their summers working on computer programs that automate the checking of integrated circuits for satellite communications. Yet Luke Rheume, a dean’s list math/computer major here at PC, did just that.

Working with other students that summer as a member of a summer National Science Foundation program, Luke was involved with computer programming at GTE Hawthorne Laboratories in Waltham, MA. GTE specializes in communication research and is one of the major contractors in the electronics industries.

In an interview with Rheume, he commented that students “are overwhelmed by the computer facilities, personnel, and atmosphere,” GTE supervisors were very receptive to questions.

I watched two other difficulties that arose, “and teamwork was the key to getting things done.” This made the summer very worthwhile.” Rheume went on to say that he became interested in the program after talking with Dr. Tattersal and Dr. Goodyear. For the past summer, the program was available to math, physics, chemistry, and engineering students, and students were selected on the basis of past performance and the projected ability to succeed in the program.

The program was “a rigorous one,” lasting ten weeks from June 2 to August 8. Rheume’s specific project involved writing computer programs that would automate the checking of integrated circuits for satellite communications. Such circuits consist of many transistors whose frequencies are to be changed to a level where they are radio transmittable to satellites.

By Dave Clements
I was reading the Residence Hall handbook and was dismayed by the split beer last Friday afternoon; and I came across something on page 29 that struck me as extremely funny. It was something to the effect that Providence College will treat violations of the State drinking law as a “serious matter.” I looked over at my two roommates and said aloud to them. They thought it was equally hilarious.

Now two things probably made that passage funny. First of all, we were drinking. And, secondly, we are 18. This situation is not just limited to our room: Indeed, at a recent party, a dormitory resident said, “I have 100 bottles of beer and 100 cans of soda pop to rent to pay. parking fine for my car, beer to rent for Friday’s party. I just can’t decide how can I represent my marginal utility among these various consumer goods.” Well, I suggested, “just do as the government economists do, allocate funds by pulling names from a hat.” It’s the fairest way.

He shook my hand and I could see relief spelled “b-e-e-r” as he pulled the first name from the hat and walked away from the books. I moved along slowly past a group of students grabbing for the last book on a shelf. Fists flying, they pushed and shoved as they neared the sacred treasure. Not daring enough to approach. I asked sympathetically, “Can I help you? I really did. I thought, and I looked closer and saw that passage. “Can I help you” I asked sympathetically, “Can I help you?”, and one of the roommates replied, “I don’t got any beer left. I ain’t none of your business,” one student. “I really did. I thought, and I looked closer and saw that passage. “Can I help you? I really did. I thought, and I looked closer and saw that passage. “Can I help you?”, and one of the roommates replied, “I don’t got any beer left. I ain’t none of your business,” one student.
Ed Flynn '81

Ed Flynn, Class of '81, has been selected by the Editorial Board of The Cowl as Student of the Month.

Ed, a business major, was elected President of the Off-Campus Resident Organization last spring and since that time has done much work for PC's off-campus residents.

This summer Ed was employed by the college to place freshmen students that could not obtain on-campus housing in off-campus apartments. He met with students and parents during the summer, and in many cases he was the first person at PC that the prospective freshmen spoke with. He obviously made a good impression on both the freshmen and their parents, for he successfully placed over 150 freshmen.

He compiled a listing of off-campus apartments, dealt with various tenant/landlord problems, and advised many other students about the basic ins and outs of off-campus living.

Ed and the Off Campus Resident Organization have many ideas for the upcoming year. He supports the establishment of a shuttle service, and has also given PC's administration his input on the development of a definitive residence policy.

The Editorial Board of The Cowl feels that Ed has done a commendable job working with and for the college's off-campus residents. His sincerity and hard work are the qualities that make Ed excel.

Thank you, Ed Flynn, and congratulations!

K of C News

Semi-Formal
This Friday

The officers of the Friar Council Knights of Columbus are sponsoring the first semi-formal of the school year this Friday, September 26, at the Cranston K of C Hall at 1047 Park Avenue in Cranston, RI. The semi-formal will feature the popular dance band, Masada. A buffet dinner will precede the dancing at 7:30 p.m. Cocktails will be served at 7:00 p.m.

The festivities are open to all PC students and the cost of the evening is $12 per couple. The installation of officers will be held at 6:30 p.m., and students are invited to attend this half-hour ceremony.

Tickets can be obtained in Slavin Center or by contacting any K of C member.

Candidate's Night
Tonight

The Knights of Columbus will sponsor a Candidate's Night tonight at 7:30 p.m. in room 110, Slavin Center. For anyone interested in joining the K of C, the one-hour program will highlight the religious, social, and community activities sponsored by the Knights.

As a Catholic fraternal organization, the K of C is looking for men 18 years or older to join them in carrying out their many ambitious programs and activities. The opportunities, challenges, and enjoyment fostered through membership in the organization will be discussed through the formal program as well as through a social in which interested candidates may talk to members in an informal atmosphere. That's tonight at 7:30 p.m. in Slavin 110. Hope to see you there.

Free for Students
SKATING LESSONS
SCHNEIDER ARENA
Monday through Friday — 11:30-1:00
SEE FATHER VAHEY AT RINK
EVERY ITEM ON SALE IN OUR ONCE A YEAR PRE-INVENTORY CLEARANCE

Every one of our famous name receivers reduced—choose from one of the largest selections in the area. Brands like Kenwood, Technics, JVC, Pioneer, Marantz & more, all at the guaranteed lowest prices.

Every blank tape on sale

* TDK 60-M 7.9
* maxell UDC 90- 1.79
* TDK 90- 2.49
* SONY EHF-C90- 2.99

Save money on the, best selling speakers around...All on sale now.

Advent 39.
Advent New Large Value T
119.

The area's largest selection of car players, speakers & boosters.
All at sale prices & yes we install!

Clarion 39.
Panasonic 79.

Layaway and financing available.

Sounds Great

AIRPORT PLAZA, 1800 POST ROAD, WARWICK, R.I. 02886-
MONDAY THRU SATURDAY 10AM TO 6PM, SUNDAY 10AM TO 5PM

Open evenings Monday through Saturday until 8PM.

We reserve the right to limit quantities, no cash sales.
STORE WILL CLOSE
5:30 PM Tuesday Sept. 30th
FOR INVENTORY.
REOPENING OCTOBER 1st at 10AM
Tuesday, Sept. 30th

BOG Lecture

"DICK GREGORY"

'64 HALL
8:00 P.M.

P.C. Students — $1.60

Sunday, Sept. 28th

Movie:  "And Justice For All"

starring: Al Pacino

at the Last Resort — 7:00 and 9:00

Monday, Sept. 29th

Travel Trip: Fenway Park

RED SOX vs BALTIMORE ORIOLES

Tickets in BOG office — $5.00
In the past few decades there has been a movement in this country to raise people's environmental consciousness. Providence College is home away from home for most students. It is the environment in which they spend much of their time. The Editorial Board of the Cowl argues that students, faculty and administration exhibit a concerted effort in maintaining a clean and healthy environment here at PC.

Department. A new generation of RISD students will derive inspiration from James' work as apparel design classes utilize the exhibit for teaching purposes. Also on view are three paintings by David Payne, one created in James' saloon, depicting a client dressed in gowns by James. Born in 1966, in England, and educated there, James started a millinery business in Chicago at the age of 18. He later opened couture establishments in London and Paris and operated his own custom-wear business in New York in the 1940's and 1950's. In 1981 he opened his own firm to sell dresses and coats through retail stores. A large collection of James' clothes was bequeathed to the Brooklyn Museum by the late Millencore Rogers, a private client. Fourteen of these dresses and patterns were shown in the RISD Museum in 1999 in an exhibition entitled A Decade of Fashion Design. James also is represented in the costume collections of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington; the Victoria and Albert Museum, London; the Costume Collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art; New York; and the Design Lab of the New York Fashion Institute of Technology. James died in New York City in 1979. Also on view at the Museum of Art are TV: America's Super Symbols, which explores the impact of television on modern American life (through October 5). And British Watercolors, featuring realistic and exotic landscapes from the 17th through 19th centuries (through October 12).

The Museum of Art, located at 246 Benefit Street, Providence, is open Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday from 10-30 a.m. - 5 p.m., Thursday from 9-9 p.m., and Sunday from 2-5 p.m. Admission for non-members is $1 for adults 18 and over and 50 cents for senior citizens. No charge for children 5 to 18, and no charge for children under 5. Admission is free on Thursday evenings from 7-9 p.m. and on Saturday. Voluntary donations are accepted. Special group rates are available.

The Museum receives partial support for its programs and activities through an Institutional Support Grant from the Rhode Island State Council on the Arts.

BOOK LEARNIN'

(from pg. 6)

There were only minutes remaining. I had to escape now. As I hurried toward the exits I saw a student milling around with textbooks in either arm. "Hurry," I said, "there isn't much time!" "I can't leave," he said. I told him fifteen books to get. Could you put them on top of these here," painting to the books already up to his nose. "You could set a world record for dominoes with those books," I continued, as he waddled toward the racks with a calculator hanging from his belt. "No charge for senior citizens; 25 cents for all others; free on Thursday evenings." I thought of myself—I was there once, fighting the same crowds some many years before.

And no one can tell me that I didn't enjoy college. After all, book learning is fun, after what you have to go through to get them.
Metro-Update

The America’s Cup
R.I.’s Most Prestigious Event

Huge yachts, plenty of “alligators” and lots of money are telltale signs that it is “Cup Summer” in Newport. People have gathered from all over the world to watch the race for yachtting’s most coveted trophy. The America’s Cup. This year’s race is between the American defender, Freedom and its Australian challenger named simply Australia.

While the race did not begin until last week, trials and practice races between a total of 12 meter yachts began in June. Vying to defend the Cup were Courageous, Clipper, Enterprise and Freedom. Courageous had been the defender in two previous America’s Cup races (1973 and 1977) but had been replaced by Freedom.

The America’s Cup, an intricate cut silk suit designed by James. This costume, an intricately cut silk suit and the first Empire coat for the opening of Korvettes Fifth Avenue store in 1962, are a near duplicate of Enterprise, the runner up in the 1977 trials.

On the foreign side, Australia was chosen out of a field of four challengers that also included England (Lionheart), Sweden (Sverige) and France (France 31). Australia, the America’s Cup challenger in 1977, easily out-sailed the field in races that took place in Rhode Island Sound.

While the Cup races are the center of attention in Newport, the Cup race itself has been successfully defended since 1961 when America first captured it from the British. So far this year has been no different as Freedom leads the best-of-seven series 2-1. However, the challengers will be getting ready for the 25th challenge in 1983, soon after those races are over.

SUNDAY: The Circus Comes to Roger Williams Park

On Sunday, September 28, the Office of Cultural Affairs of the Department of Public Parks, will be presenting for the first time a one ring European circus-the Bertolino Brothers Circus, featuring a 30 piece circus band, the South Shore Circus Band, and a parade of performers with Ray Prince as ring master.

The circus begins at 3 p.m. at the Temple of Music in Roger Williams Park. The raindate is the following day at 6 p.m.

Trinity Square Repertory Company
Betrayal — Begins September 26
Carousel — Sept. 27 — Ocean State Performing Arts Center
Viennese Gala — Oct. — Ocean State Performing Arts Center
Elephant Man — Oct. 4-5 — Ocean State Performing Arts Center

Museum of Art, Rhode Island School of Design
Charles James: Couturier Extraordinaire, now through October 12.

There’s More to Providence...

Providence College, we would like to introduce you to Providence. There’s a lot more downtown than the train station and the Civic Center; there is a city. A city with a personality all its own. A city with a lot to offer, and we’d like you to get to know it.

This year in Metro we’ll be exploring Providence’s restaurants, theaters, museums and shops. There’s so much that we’d like you to know about and take advantage of. Change your routine, let Metro help. For those interested in working on Metro, there will be a meeting tomorrow, Thursday, at 3:00 p.m. in the Cowl Office.

COMING ATTRACTIONS

Trinity Square Repertory Company
Betrayal — Begins September 26
Carousel — Sept. 27 — Ocean State Performing Arts Center
Viennese Gala — Oct. — Ocean State Performing Arts Center
Elephant Man — Oct. 4-5 — Ocean State Performing Arts Center

Museum of Art, Rhode Island School of Design
Charles James: Couturier Extraordinaire, now through October 12.

British Watercolors, now through October 12.

Providence Civic Center
Hockey—Boston Bruins vs. Montreal Canadians, October 3.

Metro-Update

There’s More to Providence...

Bring this ad for Surprise Special!
Saturday, Sept. 27th thru Sat., Oct. 4th

THE FRAT HOUSE
875 Branch Avenue
(Corner of Veazie St.)

FREE Meatball Sandwich
Saturday, Sept. 27 — 12:00 noon

OCTOBER 1st

BEER BLAST

Look for our special events in the Cowl

Grand Opening Week

Metro

Cowl Office, 201 E. Maple Ave
Providence, R.I. 02905
(401) 331-0124

This year in Metro we’ll be exploring Providence’s restaurants, theaters, museums and shops. There’s so much that we’d like you to know about and take advantage of. Change your routine, let Metro help. For those interested in working on Metro, there will be a meeting tomorrow, Thursday, at 3:00 p.m. in the Cowl Office.
Class of 1982

presents

JR. RING WEEKEND

NOVEMBER 13-16, 1980

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

THURSDAY—Nov. 13
Distribution of Rings
Ring Ceremony held in ’64 Hall from 5:30-7:30 p.m.
Champagne punch will be served. Semi-formal dress.

FRIDAY—Nov. 14
Semi-formal Buffet Dinner Dance.
Entertainment will be provided by “Strutt”.
Held at Rocky Point Palladium Ballroom, Warwick, R.I.
6:30 p.m.-1 a.m.

SATURDAY—Nov. 15
Formal Dinner Dance at King Phillip, Lake Pearl, Wrentham,
Massachusetts. Cocktail hour beginning at 6:30 p.m.
Dinner at 7:30 p.m. and Open Bar from 9:00 p.m.-1 a.m.
Band for the evening will be “P.F. & The Flyers.”

“AFTER PARTY”—in upper Slavin from 1 a.m.-3 a.m.
Featuring the music of “Hanging Woman Creek.”
More food and dancing will be provided!!

SUNDAY—Nov. 16
Mass and Blessing of the Rings at St. Pius Church
Beginning at 2:00 p.m. following the Mass, coffee and Donuts will be served in ’64 Hall, Slavin Center along
With a slide show.

IMPORTANT ITEMS TO REMIND:

• Bids for the festive weekend will be sold October 2, 3 and 6 in Slavin Center, Room 203 from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. and October 7-17 in the “pit”. Price of bid will be $55. Payment must be in FULL and CASH only.

• Ring balance must be paid in FULL on October 23, 24, OR 27 in the “Pit.”

• Anyone wishing to contribute slides for slide show mail to Box No. 1735.

• One bid per person. In order to be seated with your friends, remember to get there early!
Lady Friars’ Tennis Remains Undefeated

The Lady Friars tennis team continued its aggressive playing and posted its second straight shut-out of the season against Rhode Island College. The anchorwomen fell victim on Wednesday, September 17, when they visited the Providence campus. The cross-town rivals proved no match as they lost all nine matches, with only the first singles player able to win a set. Nancy Curtine eventually wore out her opponent in a tense dust at first singles, but the rest of the Lady Friars had no trouble. Verko Givactus 6-0, 6-1, Patty Carver 6-0, 6-2, Paula Liebert 6-0, 6-2, Linda Dutcharte 6-3, 6-2, and Lisa Turenjaz 6-0, 6-4 all won their respective singles matches with ease.

In doubles, Ann Marie Mancini and Diane Denbighers continue to be an impressive doubles team defeating their rivals, 6-6, 6-2, and Sue McKeever and Jill Sharkey made short order of their foes, 6-1, 6-2. Kathy Codnega and Karen Downey made their debut as the team’s third doubles and danced to an easy 6-1, 6-1 victory.

Co-captains Karen Downey and Sue McKeever were very enthused about the team’s auspicious beginning. “I think this may be the best year Providence College has ever had,” Downey reports. “I thought it would be tough to beat last year, but the freshmen are great, and everyone is playing well. We could always use more fans, though.”

The season really gets running on October 4 at Franklin Park in Boston. 12 finishers. The Athletic Board would like to thank all the runners for making this event possible.

Here is a list of the top 10 finishers:
1. Chuck Fallon
2. Kevin Burke
3. John Sears
4. F. Male
5. Jim Fitzgerald
6. Greg Geyu
7. M. J. Vance
8. Mike Davidson
9. Brian Dwyer
10. Tim Adams

Chuck Fallon Wins PC Road Race

While many people roared to the groovy tunes in front of Slavin Center last Tuesday, 25 students took advantage of the gorgeous weather by running in the third annual Providence Road Race.

The Athletic Board sponsored the 2.3 mile race, which began and finished behind Raymond Hall. Junior Chuck Fallon pulled away from sophomore Kevin Burke on River Avenue and held on for the victory with a time of 11:02. Burke finished second, 19 seconds off the pace. Andrea Durfee was the women’s winner. T-shirts were awarded to the top

Wednesday Career Workshops for Seniors...
All in Slavin 203

ROUND I: COVERING THE BASICS

September 24
2:30-3:00 PLACEMENT SERVICES AND BIDDING SYSTEM
3:15-4:00 WRITING AN EFFECTIVE RESUME

October 1
2:30-3:00 PLACEMENT SERVICES AND BIDDING SYSTEM
3:15-4:00 WRITING AN EFFECTIVE RESUME

October 8
2:30-3:00 PLACEMENT SERVICES AND BIDDING SYSTEM
3:15-4:00 WRITING AN EFFECTIVE RESUME

ROUND II: GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS

October 15
2:30-3:15 SALES: MAXIMIZING YOUR JOB INTERVIEW SKILLS
3:15-4:00 MANUFACTURING: MAXIMIZING YOUR JOB INTERVIEW SKILLS

October 22
2:30-3:15 PUBLIC ACCOUNTING: MAXIMIZING YOUR JOB INTERVIEW SKILLS
3:15-4:00 PLACEMENT SERVICES AND BIDDING SYSTEM

November 5
2:30-3:15 PUBLISHING: WHAT IT'S REALLY LIKE
3:15-4:00 MANUFACTURING: MAXIMIZING YOUR JOB INTERVIEW SKILLS

November 12
2:30-3:15 CORPORATE ACCOUNTING AND FINANCE: THE BROAD PICTURE
3:15-4:00 INSURANCE (NON-SALES): MAXIMIZING YOUR JOB INTERVIEW SKILLS

SUPPORT THE FRIARS

'80-'81
JOAN FINNERAN BACKS LINDA LEONARD IN LAST SATURDAY'S TOURNEY VICTORY.

Booters Settle For Tie with RIC...

By Mary Ann Gallagher

Six to nothing! This was the final score of our PC soccer team's recent trouncing of Stonehill. After a hard fought 0-0 tie last Wednesday against Rhode Island College and last Saturday's victory at Stonehill, Coach Doyle's booters remain undefeated. Doyle's pride and joy, his defense, has not given up a goal all season. Much praise must be given to the halfbacks, Captain Bill Lawrence, Sophomore Blaine Carroll and the two star freshmen Peter Rothman and Martin Hayes. Hayes is Doyle's prize recruit from Ireland. In the goal, the Friars are stronger than ever. As senior Peter Chenette and sophomore Frank Morris have matured under control, able freshmen Peter Rothman has done a fine job filling in for the injured stopper goalie Steve Eastman.

Coming off the bench, Eric Lafranchi continues to prove his ability in scoring, as he has scored one goal in each game. Senior Billy Baker showed his talent in the Stonehill match, scoring twice in the second half.

Jay Skelton, Tony Conti and Mike Moretti all shared in the second half glory, each scoring one goal. Great all around support and performance was given by midfielders Timmy Farrell, Terry Keihl and Tim MacAword. Forwards Steve Souza and Chris LaBranch continues to prove his ability in scoring, as he has scored one goal in each game. Senior Billy Baker showed his talent in the Stonehill match, scoring twice in the second half.

One would think that after two scoreless ties with the Anchormen and URI, Providence would have scored a goal. This was the case Saturday. Providence defeated each opponent with apparent ease, displaying their skill against these fine teams. Interstate rival URI was at the mercy of the superior lady Friars. The Rams never had a chance as PC outscored them in two straight games.

 Earlier in the week, PC got the best of Wellesley College, defeating them with ease. Wellesley took Providence by surprise, coming a day early for the scrimmage. The Lady Friars had no problem taking them down in two games. Providence is off to an awesome start this season. They travel to Boston College Thursday night, then on to Central Connecticut for a weekend tournament. Here the Lady Friars are on their way to another super season under the excellent coaching of Dick Bagge. The Lady Friars will be on the road until October 15 when they host Connecticut College in Alumni Hall.

Volleyball Captures Own Tourney—No Big Surprise

By Mary Gibbons

There was no doubt in anyone's mind as to who was in control of the volleyball tournament in Alumni Hall on Saturday. The Lady Friars emerged victorious in their own invitational tournament at Hofstra, Springfield College, and URI battled for second place. Not one of the visitors could defeat the host team throughout the tournament, which lasted almost 12 hours.

It was a fine effort by the Providence team as a whole. Linda Leonard played well at the net while Capt. Joan Finneran provided excellent defense. Trisha Curran had an outstanding day for the Lady Friars as did freshman Pam Pierce. Another freshman, Judy O'Leary, was an asset to the Lady Friars and Captain Sandy Radcliffe once again played well.

The tournament, which started at 10 a.m., continued into the evening hours with tie-breaking games for second place. Providence defeated each opponent with apparent ease, displaying their skill against these fine teams. Interstate rival URI was at the mercy of the superior lady Friars. The Rams never had a chance as PC outscored them in two straight games.

Earlier in the week, PC got the best of Wellesley College, defeating them with ease. Wellesley took Providence by surprise, coming a day early for the scrimmage. The Lady Friars had no problem taking them down in two games. Providence is off to an awesome start this season. They travel to Boston College Thursday night, then on to Central Connecticut for a weekend tournament. Here the Lady Friars are on their way to another super season under the excellent coaching of Dick Bagge. The Lady Friars will be on the road until October 15 when they host Connecticut College in Alumni Hall.

Booters Settle For Tie with RIC...

By Mary Ann Gallagher

Six to nothing! This was the final score of our PC soccer team's recent trouncing of Stonehill. After a hard fought 0-0 tie last Wednesday against Rhode Island College and last Saturday's victory at Stonehill, Coach Doyle's booters remain undefeated. Doyle's pride and joy, his defense, has not given up a goal all season. Much praise must be given to the halfbacks, Captain Bill Lawrence, Sophomore Blaine Carroll and the two star freshmen Peter Rothman and Martin Hayes. Hayes is Doyle's prize recruit from Ireland. In the goal, the Friars are stronger than ever. As senior Peter Chenette and sophomore Frank Morris have matured under control, able freshmen Peter Rothman has done a fine job filling in for the injured stopper goalie Steve Eastman.

Coming off the bench, Eric Lafranchi continues to prove his ability in scoring, as he has scored one goal in each game. Senior Billy Baker showed his talent in the Stonehill match, scoring twice in the second half.

Jay Skelton, Tony Conti and Mike Moretti all shared in the second half glory, each scoring one goal. Great all around support and performance was given by midfielders Timmy Farrell, Terry Keihl and Tim MacAword. Forwards Steve Souza and Chris LaBranch continues to prove his ability in scoring, as he has scored one goal in each game. Senior Billy Baker showed his talent in the Stonehill match, scoring twice in the second half.

One would think that after two scoreless ties with the Anchormen and URI, Providence would have scored a goal. This was the case Saturday. Providence defeated each opponent with apparent ease, displaying their skill against these fine teams. Interstate rival URI was at the mercy of the superior lady Friars. The Rams never had a chance as PC outscored them in two straight games.

Earlier in the week, PC got the best of Wellesley College, defeating them with ease. Wellesley took Providence by surprise, coming a day early for the scrimmage. The Lady Friars had no problem taking them down in two games. Providence is off to an awesome start this season. They travel to Boston College Thursday night, then on to Central Connecticut for a weekend tournament. Here the Lady Friars are on their way to another super season under the excellent coaching of Dick Bagge. The Lady Friars will be on the road until October 15 when they host Connecticut College in Alumni Hall.

Volleyball Captures Own Tourney—No Big Surprise

By Mary Gibbons

There was no doubt in anyone's mind as to who was in control of the volleyball tournament in Alumni Hall on Saturday. The Lady Friars emerged victorious in their own invitational tournament at Hofstra, Springfield College, and URI battled for second place. Not one of the visitors could defeat the host team throughout the tournament, which lasted almost 12 hours.

It was a fine effort by the Providence team as a whole. Linda Leonard played well at the net while Capt. Joan Finneran provided excellent defense. Trisha Curran had an outstanding day for the Lady Friars as did freshman Pam Pierce. Another freshman, Judy O'Leary, was an asset to the Lady Friars and Captain Sandy Radcliffe once again played well.

The tournament, which started at 10 a.m., continued into the evening hours with tie-breaking games for second place. Providence defeated each opponent with apparent ease, displaying their skill against these fine teams. Interstate rival URI was at the mercy of the superior lady Friars. The Rams never had a chance as PC outscored them in two straight games.

Earlier in the week, PC got the best of Wellesley College, defeating them with ease. Wellesley took Providence by surprise, coming a day early for the scrimmage. The Lady Friars had no problem taking them down in two games. Providence is off to an awesome start this season. They travel to Boston College Thursday night, then on to Central Connecticut for a weekend tournament. Here the Lady Friars are on their way to another super season under the excellent coaching of Dick Bagge. The Lady Friars will be on the road until October 15 when they host Connecticut College in Alumni Hall.

One would think that after two scoreless ties with the Anchormen and URI, Providence would have scored a goal. This was not the case last Wednesday afternoon at Rhode Island College as the Friars played to a scoreless tie with the Anchormen of RIC.

The first half featured seesaw play as neither team generated much in the way of legitimate scoring opportunities. PC's senior netminder Peter Chenette, came up with the half's best save with about eight minutes to go. Chenette got a couple of fingers on what looked to be a sure RIC goal to deflect the header just out of the net.

The second half developed into a physical war. Many fouls were called on both teams during the half. In fact, the physical play on the field seemed to inspire the field seemed to inspire the Friars to play with extra intensity. Providence started to yell about halfway through the stanza. In the last 15 minutes of regulation play, it was all PC. Senior captain Bill Lawrence, midfield Bill Baker, and forward Mike Moretti all had good scoring opportunities on the Rhode Island College goalie. Jack Lewis. The Friars had the few Providence supporters in the crowd on their feet in the final two minutes, as they controlled the ball deep in RIC territory. PC did everything but put the ball in the net.

The Friars come out in overtime with the same kind of ire that they had shown in the last four minutes of regulation (College soccer games that are tied after regulation decided by two ten minute overtime periods, whether the team scores in the first overtime or not). Then after being outplayed of the second period and some of the overtime, the Anchormen bootbouge. RIC's Paul Borges hit the post to the left of Chenette with two minutes to go in overtime number one. Peter Roberts of the Anchormen narrowly missed on a few occasions both at the end of the first overtime and in the second overtime. The game ended with PC pressing in the Providence zone.
Sports

Gridders Hit the Road
Shut Out Hartford, 19-0

By John Brandolino

In a game of defense and hard hitting, the PC gridders picked up their first win of the season, 19-0, over Hartford University. The Friars and Hawks battled in a scoreless deadlock until Rusty DeBuc picked up a blocked punt to give the Friars their first score of the game in the third quarter. Providence added two more, one on a 45-yard bomb to Jim Petkewich to pick up the victory at Hartford.

With veteran Tom Biju, Drew Karparc and Kelly O'Lauglin unable to see action, the visitors knew they had their work cut out for them. In the first quarter, both teams could not scrape up any decent drives. Penalties controlled the tempo—-they once turned a Hawk interception run of a first and goal to a first and ten at the forty. Dan Rosen, a 6'2, 200 pound fullback, literally carried defenders on his back as he pounded out yardage for some promising Hartford offensive stands. But between poor kicks and Kevin Clair's amazing defensive plays, the Hawks could not gain any points. Clair finished the game with two interceptions, five unassisted tackles, one blocked pass, and two hard hits that caused fumbles. After an oscillating two quarters, the game was scoreless.

Providence looked impressive in the third quarter. Freshman quarterback Steve Lepper hit his favorite receiver, Jim Petkewich, for two long gains to give the Friars a first and ten situation at the Hartford 17 yard line. But it was in vain, however, as back Jim McLean and Gary Blandino failed to bring it in against a tough Hawk line. It seemed as if both teams would hand each other the ball all day long. The goal was set up in the third quarter when Hartford went back to punt deep in their own territory when Kevin Eccelhine came crashing in to block the kick. Defensive back Rusty DeBuc alertly pounced on the end zone-bound ball to give the Friars a 6-0 advantage. Two possessions later Lepper hooked a 45-yard skyrocket to Petkewich handled for a touchdown to make it 12-0. To further ensure the victory, Jim Judge blocked yet another punt to set up a 3-yard Dan Caprice score. Tim Hanewich booted the extra point to make the final 19-0.

It was a slow day for the offense of both teams, but the Friars still managed a total of 102 yards passing. Lepper was 3 for 8 with 67 yards while Rosen was 3 for 8 with 69 yards. Dave Dempsey for Hartford was just 8 for 22 for 97 yards. Rushing on both sides was kept to a minimum. Providence only had 70 yards rushing while Dempsey was the leading rusher for Hartford. The Hawks had just defeated a strong Bentley team the week before, so it looks as if the Friars are on the right track.

PC will face Bentley next, and will play its first home game on Saturday against Stonehill. The game will be played on Hendrickson field at 1:30 p.m.

The superiority of the PC backs was evident throughout the second half as a strong comeback took place. This was witnessed as the agie nose moved the ball 90 yards downfield. Forward Pete Stauffer then muscled his way over the goal line. Bob Fluggerald successfully completed a 2-point conversion kick. Greg Meyers finished the games scoring with a well executed scissors play from Mike Corrigan. The final score was PC 14, UNH 11.

In the second game the experienced B Team demonstrated tenacious play with a 12-4 victory. Larry Mongeau opened the scoring with a 25 yard run for a 4-point Providence lead. "The Prep" Coggins scored two successive tries. An unprecedented feat for a person, playing his position in the scrum.

This year's version of the PC football team.

Ruggers Upset
New Hampshire, 14-11

By Larry Mongeau and Paul Shannon

The Providence College Rugby Club staged a major upset over the University of New Hampshire Saturday afternoon on Raymond Field. UNH began the game with two interceptions, two defensive plays, the Hawks could only had 70 yards rushing while Dempsey was the leading rusher for Hartford. The Hawks had just defeated a strong Bentley team the week before, so it looks as if the Friars are on the right track.

PC gridders picked up many new ruggers, who did a fine job of preserving the lead. Coach Mike Trayner praised Providence's effort at the post game party.

The Rugby Club will host Aquidneck Wednesday night at 6:30 on Raymond Field, and then travels to Cambridge on Saturday to face M.I.T.

---

Sportsbriefs

Soccer

The booters continue their fine play this fall, and with the recent 5-0 killing over Stonehill, coach Doyle is more optimistic than ever about an undefeated season. The Friars started off the season by tying BUC 0-0. But last Saturday up at Stonehill, PC went to work, as Billy Baker knocked in two goals. This Saturday afternoon they face New Hampshire at PC.

Football

The gridders moved up their record at one all last Saturday by overpowering Hartford, 19-0. Rusty DeBuc gave the Friars their first points in the third quarter, while Steve Lepper connected with Jim Petkewich to make it 12-0. Dan Caprice had the final TD for Providence. Next game is a big one, as PC meets Stonehill on Saturday afternoon at 1:30 p.m.

Volleyball

The Lady Friars outlasted three opposing colleges last Saturday to take first place in their own invitational tournament. Linda Leonard and Juan Fineman continue to dominate play on the court. Tomorrow, the team travels to Boston College and on Saturday they will compete in the Central Connecticut State Tourney.

Women's Tennis

The net women shut out Rhode Island College last Wednesday, as coach Gilbride's gals continue excellent play. The Lady Friars will face WPI tonight at 6:30 p.m. on Raymond Field, and then travel to Cambridge on Saturday at 1:30 p.m.