PC face-lift

Major construction alters the PC campus

With the advent of the school year, a number of improvements and renovations are visible around the campus. While the student body was away for the summer, PC was active with a number of projects.

The most noticeable change is the new Huxley Avenue entrance, which will be used as a service entrance to the campus, this gate in recent years has been a highly traveled route. The class of '84 donated a wall for one side of the entrance last year. The class of '84 matched that offer by donating funds for a wall on the opposite side of the gate. Originally designed to be used as a service entrance to the main building, this entrance has become a highly travelled corridor. The College appropriated funds for the landscaping. In addition to the entrance facility, renovations were made on the nearby Raymond Hall loading dock, and a new stone wall is currently being constructed along Huxley Avenue.

Another noticeably different area is the front side of Harkins Hall, where two projects are currently underway. The first is the installation of a new brick walkway in front of the building. This area was formerly a reseeding area. The new walkway will enhance the appearance of this area and alleviate traffic congestion.

On the front lawn of Harkins Hall, by the statue of John Henry Cardinal Cardinal, an extension will be a six-story, 51,000 square foot facility for the college's 24 living quarters for 40 Dominicans. The building will include a chapel, a反射性, guest rooms and a recreation room. The structure, being constructed by Richard Testa Building Co., is expected to be completed by August.

Construction work has been completed on the original new addition to Providence College's boiler plant facility. This addition will increase the nameplate new capacity of the facility. The new facility will allow for a combination of coal and oil for generation of electrical power. Funding for this project is coming from a $1.8 million low cost loan from the U.S. Department of Education with additional money coming from low interest, long term, tax exempt bonds. According to the College's Office of Budget and Finance, the conversion will save PC $100,000 in fuel costs over the next few decades. The system should be in full swing this fall.

The Residence Office is pleased to announce a new sprinkler system was installed this summer in Meagher Hall. Similar to the systems in McVitty and Aquinas Halls, sprinklers have been installed as well as common areas in Meagher have this tremendous fire safety feature. Regular fire drills will be held in dorms, as new dorms will be equipped with sprinklers in the future.

First in diocese

Paul Van K. Thompson ordained

by Richard Testa

The fulfillment of a Providence College professor's 16-year dream was realized August 27th at the Cathedral of Saints Peter and Paul in downtown Providence. For 16 years, Dr. Paul K. Thomson, who left the Episcopal church in 1969 when it was converted to Roman Catholicism, became a member of the religious order and was ordained a priest.

The unusual aspect of the ceremony was the fact that Fr. Thomson is married and has seven children and 10 grandchildren. He is only the third married Catholic to be ordained and the first in this diocese.

And, yet, with typical Thomansson humor, the new priest declared that not much would change in his life, except that when he goes to mass he'll use a different door.

Thomson was ordained an Episcopal priest in 1941. During World War II, he was chaplain with the Pacific forces. Later, he held the position of rector at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church on the East Side of Providence.

Fr. Thomson and his wife, Mildred, converted because of a strong belief in the papacy. That very body, with Pope John Paul II in office, approved a program in 1980 for the United States that allowed Episcopal priests to convert, including married priests.

The ordaining bishop at the Eucharistic Celebration was Louis E. Cellino, Bishop of Providence, PC president. After Fr. Thomson was ordained, the Bishop asked Fr. Thomas Peterson, was a chaplain at the Providence College, to announce the new priest and receive the gospel.

The readings were read by two of the Thomassons' children, daughter Monica Magaran and son Peter Gregory Thomson.

Providence's Auxiliary Bishop Kenneth A. Arvid, Archbishop George Pearson, and bishops from Oregon and Brazil, also took part in the celebration, along with many representatives of the Dominican community at PC. Thomson walked up the aisle in the opening procession and sat with his wife in the front pew. After the gospel was read, he stood before Bishop Cellino and, responding to questions, replied that he was ready and willing to be ordained.

The Chancellor for the Diocese of Providence, Rev. William Var- sanyi, testified to Thomson's worth- thiness. Bishop Cellino then elected him to the priesthood with these words:

"We rely on the help of the Lord God and our Savior Jesus Christ and we choose our brother Dr. Thomson here present for the office of presbyter."

And Thomson declared he intends to serve the Church he knelt before the Bishop and promised his obedience and respect to the chief pastor of the diocese.

Twice, all of the priests present approached Fr. Thomson — the first time to lay their hands on his head, the second time to give him a greeting of peace.

The dream was completed and Fr. Thomson's family was all smiles. In fact, everyone in the church was wearing a smile.

Stirring to coach Friars

by Richard Testa

On August 25th, with three television camera lights glaring in his face, Athletic Director Lou Lamoriello explained why he chose James Steven Stirling for the men's hockey coaching job.

"I'm most pleased to announce that Steve is our new hockey coach and for three reasons. He is respected, he is an outstanding coach in the country, not only in my opinion, but in the opinion of many of my colleagues."

"Number two, he certainly felt strongly about the position we were to maintain here at Providence College and thirdly, he is very well respected, will work hard, and be well liked by the Friar community."

For his part, Stirling told the media in attendance at the in- troductory press conference that he believed "hard work, discipline both on and off the ice — in the classroom in the dormitory, the facilities, etc."

"We did decide," Stirling continued, "to immediately hire an assistant coach, Mike Gaffney, a PC graduate. That's exciting about me. I think the combination very much like the Providence College community has seen over the past 10 years with coaches Lamorello and (Bob) Bellemore."
NEWLY APPOINTED MEMBER OF STUDENT CONGRESS: (L-R), Dan McMorrow, class of '85, Student Representative to the Corporation; Rob Casey, Student Representative to the Committee of Administration; Tom McCarthy, class of '84, Student Representative to the Corporation.

Press service study

College costs up for '83-84

Most U.S. colleges are more expensive this year, as campus inflation continues at a frighteningly high rate despite the taming of inflation elsewhere. All major public colleges are raising costs outpacing inflation rates and fees will continue to rise faster for the first time ever. (called "fees" on the West Coast) students will have to pay tuition over the last year has varied from 2.6 percent to 4.8 percent (depending on which federal agency is counting), four-year public college costs have soared 12 percent — an average $721.

Four-year college costs are up 11 percent, to an average $6,840. Community and junior college students will spend an average $340 in 1983-84, an eight percent increase. The increases, moreover, follow well over larger hikes last year. In all, 1982-83 college costs were 20 percent higher on public campuses and 13 percent higher on private campuses than 1981-82 costs, the CSS reported last year. At the same time, the Consumer Price Index rose by 8.1 percent. The 1983 inflation rate is 3.2 percent so far, according to U.S. Department of Labor statistics released last week. It's worse at some schools than others. At students; The University of North Dakota, for example, are suffering through a 27 percent cost hike. The average tuition of GM cars price went up two percent. The Detroit News reports that the Motors Institute in Detroit went up 38 percent. The hike hit 53 percent at Mankato State University in Minnesota.

Because of deep budget cuts, California community college students will have to put tuition (called "fees" on the West Coast) for the first time ever. Worse yet, many expect tuition and fees will continue to rise faster than the inflation rate. "Analysts see average college costs outpacing inflation rates through 1984," says Cathy Henderson, author of the American Council on Education's "College Costs: Recent Trends, Likely Future.

The increases are now getting around to tuition hikes needed from 1982-83, when inflation pushed costs rising on campuses up almost 44 percent while tuition increased by "only" 51 percent.

Henderson theorizes that many schools are hiking low by stabilizing maintenance and freezing faculty salaries. "They can't stall any longer, she says. "Now many colleges are playing catch-ball, adjusting salaries and renovating buildings, forcing a boost in the cost of higher education."

Yet budget cuts and unemployment mean schools can't turn to the other two traditional sources of funding: governments and alumni. "We're still trying to catch up," confirms Jack Currie, MIT's finance director. Alumni "gifts and endowment revenues (the money earned on the school's investments) have not kept up" enough to help MIT pay for its operating expenses, which rose eight percent last year, he says. To avoid selling some of those investments, MIT turned to its third traditional source of money: students. MIT students, at least, seem to have accepted the hike, which follows a 17.4 percent increase last year.

Each spring, the students — notorious for pranks like placing a cow on a wall in a building rooftop and making a huge balloon saying "MIT" infante miraculously from the turf during last year's Harvard-Yale game — organize an "annual spontaneous tuition riot.

Nevertheless, some schools have managed to avoid hikes. Millennium State College in Pennsylvania, Delaware State University, and Livingstone College in North Carolina are among a handful of schools that held the line.

But apparently only one school in America to cut student costs: 450-student Pacific College in Fullerton, Ca.

President's Day

The fourth Annual Providence College President's Day is slated for Tuesday, Sept. 20. President's Day is a day of academic and social events designed to kick off the 1983-84 school year. Despite the fact that classes never made available. This talk will be followed by a question and answer session. Conley also announced that an open meeting for interested freshmen and sophomores will be held soon due to the fact that the original election results were never made available.

One of the Class of '83 Core Committee and a former graphics editor of the Student News, Christopher Tubridy, died on June 22, 1983. He was 22 years old. Tubridy was a member of the Class of 1983, and was an artist of the highest level. He was noted for his artistic talent, and was the artist of the sign posted in the front room of the Student News office.

He was an active member of the Riot Committee. It is with great sadness that we acknowledge his passing. We will miss him, and remember him as a young, talented, and gifted person who was loved by many friends. His life leaves us with many fond memories and with the hope that he may find eternal rest in Christ.
The National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators (NASFAA), honored Senator Claiborne Pell at its Ninth Annual Meeting on July 11 for his distinguished service and leadership in the United States Senate on behalf of America's postsecondary education students.

Senator Pell's unwavering commitment to equal educational opportunity led him to author and introduce legislation in 1971 which created the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program. His vision, leadership, and tenacity to insure passage of that historic legislation as a part of the Education Amendments of 1972 created a program which has, in its first 10 years of operation, assisted over 20 million needy and deserving students.

Loia Turchi, president of NASFAA said, "The Association and the students of this nation are fortunate to have someone who has exhibited such a commitment to eliminating the financial barriers to higher education." 1

The Senator's many efforts to assist students in realizing their educational goals and objectives were recognized by his Congressional Colleagues during the 1980 Annual Meeting on July 11 for his unwaivering commitment to equal educational opportunity led him to author and introduce legislation in 1971 which created the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program. His vision, leadership, and tenacity to insure passage of that historic legislation as a part of the Education Amendments of 1972 created a program which has, in its first 10 years of operation, assisted over 20 million needy and deserving students.

Loia Turchi, president of NASFAA said, "The Association and the students of this nation are fortunate to have someone who has exhibited such a commitment to eliminating the financial barriers to higher education." 1

The Senator's many efforts to assist students in realizing their educational goals and objectives were recognized by his Congressional Colleagues during the 1980 Annual Meeting on July 11 for his unwaivering commitment to equal educational opportunity led him to author and introduce legislation in 1971 which created the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program. His vision, leadership, and tenacity to insure passage of that historic legislation as a part of the Education Amendments of 1972 created a program which has, in its first 10 years of operation, assisted over 20 million needy and deserving students.

Loia Turchi, president of NASFAA said, "The Association and the students of this nation are fortunate to have someone who has exhibited such a commitment to eliminating the financial barriers to higher education." 1

The Senator's many efforts to assist students in realizing their educational goals and objectives were recognized by his Congressional Colleagues during the 1980 Annual Meeting on July 11 for his unwaivering commitment to equal educational opportunity led him to author and introduce legislation in 1971 which created the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program. His vision, leadership, and tenacity to insure passage of that historic legislation as a part of the Education Amendments of 1972 created a program which has, in its first 10 years of operation, assisted over 20 million needy and deserving students.

Loia Turchi, president of NASFAA said, "The Association and the students of this nation are fortunate to have someone who has exhibited such a commitment to eliminating the financial barriers to higher education." 1

The Senator's many efforts to assist students in realizing their educational goals and objectives were recognized by his Congressional Colleagues during the 1980 Annual Meeting on July 11 for his unwaivering commitment to equal educational opportunity led him to author and introduce legislation in 1971 which created the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program. His vision, leadership, and tenacity to insure passage of that historic legislation as a part of the Education Amendments of 1972 created a program which has, in its first 10 years of operation, assisted over 20 million needy and deserving students.

Loia Turchi, president of NASFAA said, "The Association and the students of this nation are fortunate to have someone who has exhibited such a commitment to eliminating the financial barriers to higher education." 1

The Senator's many efforts to assist students in realizing their educational goals and objectives were recognized by his Congressional Colleagues during the 1980 Annual Meeting on July 11 for his unwaivering commitment to equal educational opportunity led him to author and introduce legislation in 1971 which created the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program. His vision, leadership, and tenacity to insure passage of that historic legislation as a part of the Education Amendments of 1972 created a program which has, in its first 10 years of operation, assisted over 20 million needy and deserving students.

Loia Turchi, president of NASFAA said, "The Association and the students of this nation are fortunate to have someone who has exhibited such a commitment to eliminating the financial barriers to higher education." 1

The Senator's many efforts to assist students in realizing their educational goals and objectives were recognized by his Congressional Colleagues during the 1980 Annual Meeting on July 11 for his unwaivering commitment to equal educational opportunity led him to author and introduce legislation in 1971 which created the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program. His vision, leadership, and tenacity to insure passage of that historic legislation as a part of the Education Amendments of 1972 created a program which has, in its first 10 years of operation, assisted over 20 million needy and deserving students.

Loia Turchi, president of NASFAA said, "The Association and the students of this nation are fortunate to have someone who has exhibited such a commitment to eliminating the financial barriers to higher education." 1

The Senator's many efforts to assist students in realizing their educational goals and objectives were recognized by his Congressional Colleagues during the 1980 Annual Meeting on July 11 for his unwaivering commitment to equal educational opportunity led him to author and introduce legislation in 1971 which created the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program. His vision, leadership, and tenacity to insure passage of that historic legislation as a part of the Education Amendments of 1972 created a program which has, in its first 10 years of operation, assisted over 20 million needy and deserving students.

Loia Turchi, president of NASFAA said, "The Association and the students of this nation are fortunate to have someone who has exhibited such a commitment to eliminating the financial barriers to higher education." 1

The Senator's many efforts to assist students in realizing their educational goals and objectives were recognized by his Congressional Colleagues during the 1980 Annual Meeting on July 11 for his unwaivering commitment to equal educational opportunity led him to author and introduce legislation in 1971 which created the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program. His vision, leadership, and tenacity to insure passage of that historic legislation as a part of the Education Amendments of 1972 created a program which has, in its first 10 years of operation, assisted over 20 million needy and deserving students.

Loia Turchi, president of NASFAA said, "The Association and the students of this nation are fortunate to have someone who has exhibited such a commitment to eliminating the financial barriers to higher education." 1

The Senator's many efforts to assist students in realizing their educational goals and objectives were recognized by his Congressional Colleagues during the 1980 Annual Meeting on July 11 for his unwaivering commitment to equal educational opportunity led him to author and introduce legislation in 1971 which created the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program. His vision, leadership, and tenacity to insure passage of that historic legislation as a part of the Education Amendments of 1972 created a program which has, in its first 10 years of operation, assisted over 20 million needy and deserving students.

Loia Turchi, president of NASFAA said, "The Association and the students of this nation are fortunate to have someone who has exhibited such a commitment to eliminating the financial barriers to higher education." 1

The Senator's many efforts to assist students in realizing their educational goals and objectives were recognized by his Congressional Colleagues during the 1980 Annual Meeting on July 11 for his unwaivering commitment to equal educational opportunity led him to author and introduce legislation in 1971 which created the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program. His vision, leadership, and tenacity to insure passage of that historic legislation as a part of the Education Amendments of 1972 created a program which has, in its first 10 years of operation, assisted over 20 million needy and deserving students.

Loia Turchi, president of NASFAA said, "The Association and the students of this nation are fortunate to have someone who has exhibited such a commitment to eliminating the financial barriers to higher education." 1

The Senator's many efforts to assist students in realizing their educational goals and objectives were recognized by his Congressional Colleagues during the 1980 Annual Meeting on July 11 for his unwaivering commitment to equal educational opportunity led him to author and introduce legislation in 1971 which created the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program. His vision, leadership, and tenacity to insure passage of that historic legislation as a part of the Education Amendments of 1972 created a program which has, in its first 10 years of operation, assisted over 20 million needy and deserving students.

Loia Turchi, president of NASFAA said, "The Association and the students of this nation are fortunate to have someone who has exhibited such a commitment to eliminating the financial barriers to higher education." 1

The Senator's many efforts to assist students in realizing their educational goals and objectives were recognized by his Congressional Colleagues during the 1980 Annual Meeting on July 11 for his unwaiving...
Faculty appointments and new corp. member

Providence College recently announced its faculty promotions for the 1983-84 academic year. They are:

- Giles Dimock, O.P., to associate professor of religious studies.
- Mary Farrell, O.P., to associate professor of religious studies.
- Josephine Ruggiero, to professor of sociology.
- George Sawdy, to assistant professor of economics.
- Sadil Singe, to assistant professor in business administration. 11 new faculty members have been appointed.

They are:

- James F. Burgess, special lecturer in economics, M.A., Brown University.
- Louis H. Cadwell, assistant professor of physics, Ph.D., Florida State University.
- Jay V. Cohen, special lecturer in business administration, S.C.M., Brown University.
- Gerard R. Goulet, special lecturer in health services administration, J.D., University of Connecticut School of Law.
- LTC John P. Kennedy, professor of military science, M.A., University of Missouri.
- Ronald A. Orum, special lecturer in business administration.
- Stephen L. Woerner, special lecturer in business administration, M.B.A., University of Michigan, Graduate School of Business.

Also appointed to the academic and new corporation.

L-Giles Dimock, O.P., to associate professor of religious studies.
- Josephine Ruggiero, to professor of sociology.
- George Sawdy, to assistant professor of economics.
- Sadil Singe, to assistant professor in business administration.
- James F. Burgess, special lecturer in economics, M.A., Brown University.
- Louis H. Cadwell, assistant professor of physics, Ph.D., Florida State University.
- Jay V. Cohen, special lecturer in business administration, S.C.M., Brown University.
- Gerard R. Goulet, special lecturer in health services administration, J.D., University of Connecticut School of Law.
- LTC John P. Kennedy, professor of military science, M.A., University of Missouri.
- Ronald A. Orum, special lecturer in business administration.
- Stephen L. Woerner, special lecturer in business administration, M.B.A., University of Michigan, Graduate School of Business.

Also appointed to the academic and new corporation.

First meeting

by Margaret Sweet

The first Board of Programmers meeting was held on September 1, with the new executive board and chairpersons.

The president of the BOP is Casey Crowley; vice-president: Susan Roberts, treasurer: Nancy Cavallero, secretary: Laura Passman.

Casey started the meeting with an official welcome and announced that the cookout was rained out.

John Powers, co-chairman of the Fine Arts committee, proposed the Swanbucklers, a stage combat show using swords (Errol Flynn style).

Blackstars Theater was requested for Wednesday, September 14. The proposal was passed unanimously.

Another proposal was made by the Fine Arts committee to co-sponsor with the DWC program, "Three Penny Opera.

The local Cabot Street Theater production was held on Saturday, September 10 at 8 p.m. The proposal was passed unanimously.

The Travel committee, represented by co-chairperson Tom Heaven, proposed a day trip to Newport on September 11.

The Newport excursion included bus transportation to and from Newport, a tour of the Viking race ship and the America's Cup Expo, shopping at the Brick Marketplace, and a choice of one of two Newport mansions. The cost was $7.00.

Also scheduled for the Travel committee is a trip to Fenway Park for the Red Sox vs. Yankees game on September 19.

Chris Gibson of the Entertainment committee proposed a new idea called A Night at the Ritz.

The locally based Rock Cats will provide entertainment for the night club, which will feature BOP chairpersons as the waiters and waitresses.

Dress code was requested for this event scheduled for October 1.

A "Welcome Back" full union was announced by the Social committee, and was held on September 9.

Fr. Stuart McPhail requested that money be donated to the Trinity Repertory Company in exchange for student tickets to the shows.

Due to price increases, this request was made for the first time.

Fr. McPhail also requested funds in order to bring the Boston Choir to Aquinas Chapel. The Boston Choir has performed all over Europe, including England and France.

The Chaplain's Office will be co-sponsoring this advent season event.

The September 7 meeting of the BOP began with the order for mandatory workers in conjunction with the Friars Club and Student Congress for President's Day.

A weekend trip to Montreal was proposed by Liz Mullen of the Travel committee. The trip is slated for the weekend of October 21.

The $105. cost includes transportation via motorcoaches and from Montreal, two nights lodging at the Quality Inn Hotel, breakfast, a welcome party and a night seeing tour. Contact Tom Heaven or Liz Mullen for further details.
Two Real Hosers, eh?
Strange Brew Opens

 Quarry Digest News Service
What's that, eh? You say you've never watched SCTV and have no idea who Bob and Doug McKenzie are? In that case, I'm sure you didn't know that if you take a baby mouse and raise it inside a beer bottle, you can take it back to the liquor store for a refund and get some free beer (according to the Canadian Criminal Code concerning mice in beer bottles). Or that the best way to wreck a movie is to take a big jar of moths into the theater with you and just when you know what's going to happen next, open up the jar and all the moths will fly up to the projectionist's window and you can demand your money back. Beauty, eh?

Of course, the best things about Strange Brew are its stars, those hoseheads better known as Bob and Doug, the McKenzie brothers. But, as comes to no surprise to hardcore SCTV followers, the two really aren't brothers at all; although they do look and sound as though they both crawled out from inside the same beer can. No, they are quite talented, very funny and quite nonsensical comedy duo of Dave Thomas and Rick Moranis, hosts of SCTV's "Great White North" segment. Brew serves as a very positive vehicle for bringing their light-handed style of entertainment to the silver screen.

Unlike other actors who sometimes attempt the often-fatal leap from television to the silver screen, the boys really aren't brothers at all, and all they do look and sound as though they both crawled out from inside the same beer can. No, they are very talented, very funny and quite nonsensical comedy duo of Dave Thomas and Rick Moranis, hosts of SCTV's "Great White North" segment. Brew serves as a very positive vehicle for bringing their light-handed style of entertainment to the silver screen.

Unlike other actors who sometimes attempt the often-fatal leap from television to the silver screen, the boys really aren't brothers at all, and all they do look and sound as though they both crawled out from inside the same beer can. No, they are very talented, very funny and quite nonsensical comedy duo of Dave Thomas and Rick Moranis, hosts of SCTV's "Great White North" segment. Brew serves as a very positive vehicle for bringing their light-handed style of entertainment to the silver screen.

Unlike other actors who sometimes attempt the often-fatal leap from television to the silver screen, the boys really aren't brothers at all, and all they do look and sound as though they both crawled out from inside the same beer can. No, they are very talented, very funny and quite nonsensical comedy duo of Dave Thomas and Rick Moranis, hosts of SCTV's "Great White North" segment. Brew serves as a very positive vehicle for bringing their light-handed style of entertainment to the silver screen.

Unlike other actors who sometimes attempt the often-fatal leap from television to the silver screen, the boys really aren't brothers at all, and all they do look and sound as though they both crawled out from inside the same beer can. No, they are very talented, very funny and quite nonsensical comedy duo of Dave Thomas and Rick Moranis, hosts of SCTV's "Great White North" segment. Brew serves as a very positive vehicle for bringing their light-handed style of entertainment to the silver screen.

Unlike other actors who sometimes attempt the often-fatal leap from television to the silver screen, the boys really aren't brothers at all, and all they do look and sound as though they both crawled out from inside the same beer can. No, they are very talented, very funny and quite nonsensical comedy duo of Dave Thomas and Rick Moranis, hosts of SCTV's "Great White North" segment. Brew serves as a very positive vehicle for bringing their light-handed style of entertainment to the silver screen.

Unlike other actors who sometimes attempt the often-fatal leap from television to the silver screen, the boys really aren't brothers at all, and all they do look and sound as though they both crawled out from inside the same beer can. No, they are very talented, very funny and quite nonsensical comedy duo of Dave Thomas and Rick Moranis, hosts of SCTV's "Great White North" segment. Brew serves as a very positive vehicle for bringing their light-handed style of entertainment to the silver screen.

Unlike other actors who sometimes attempt the often-fatal leap from television to the silver screen, the boys really aren't brothers at all, and all they do look and sound as though they both crawled out from inside the same beer can. No, they are very talented, very funny and quite nonsensical comedy duo of Dave Thomas and Rick Moranis, hosts of SCTV's "Great White North" segment. Brew serves as a very positive vehicle for bringing their light-handed style of entertainment to the silver screen.

Unlike other actors who sometimes attempt the often-fatal leap from television to the silver screen, the boys really aren't brothers at all, and all they do look and sound as though they both crawled out from inside the same beer can. No, they are very talented, very funny and quite nonsensical comedy duo of Dave Thomas and Rick Moranis, hosts of SCTV's "Great White North" segment. Brew serves as a very positive vehicle for bringing their light-handed style of entertainment to the silver screen.

Unlike other actors who sometimes attempt the often-fatal leap from television to the silver screen, the boys really aren't brothers at all, and all they do look and sound as though they both crawled out from inside the same beer can. No, they are very talented, very funny and quite nonsensical comedy duo of Dave Thomas and Rick Moranis, hosts of SCTV's "Great White North" segment. Brew serves as a very positive vehicle for bringing their light-handed style of entertainment to the silver screen.

Unlike other actors who sometimes attempt the often-fatal leap from television to the silver screen, the boys really aren't brothers at all, and all they do look and sound as though they both crawled out from inside the same beer can. No, they are very talented, very funny and quite nonsensical comedy duo of Dave Thomas and Rick Moranis, hosts of SCTV's "Great White North" segment. Brew serves as a very positive vehicle for bringing their light-handed style of entertainment to the silver screen.

Unlike other actors who sometimes attempt the often-fatal leap from television to the silver screen, the boys really aren't brothers at all, and all they do look and sound as though they both crawled out from inside the same beer can. No, they are very talented, very funny and quite nonsensical comedy duo of Dave Thomas and Rick Moranis, hosts of SCTV's "Great White North" segment. Brew serves as a very positive vehicle for bringing their light-handed style of entertainment to the silver screen.

Unlike other actors who sometimes attempt the often-fatal leap from television to the silver screen, the boys really aren't brothers at all, and all they do look and sound as though they both crawled out from inside the same beer can. No, they are very talented, very funny and quite nonsensical comedy duo of Dave Thomas and Rick Moranis, hosts of SCTV's "Great White North" segment. Brew serves as a very positive vehicle for bringing their light-handed style of entertainment to the silver screen.

Unlike other actors who sometimes attempt the often-fatal leap from television to the silver screen, the boys really aren't brothers at all, and all they do look and sound as though they both crawled out from inside the same beer can. No, they are very talented, very funny and quite nonsensical comedy duo of Dave Thomas and Rick Moranis, hosts of SCTV's "Great White North" segment. Brew serves as a very positive vehicle for bringing their light-handed style of entertainment to the silver screen.
Catholicism at P.C.

by Ted Hodkinson

In the four years that I have had the privilege of being a student at Providence College, I have discovered many things about college and even more things about my Catholicism. As my faith has developed over the past few years, I have found myself asking questions or considering issues and events that would serve to deepen my understanding of the Church. This year, I was interested in learning more about my religion through the Providence College Council of the Knights of Columbus, yet I long for dialogue concerning religion as well as a secular context, but I find most of these organizations lack real and comprehensive answers to the questions of the next mix social. Concerning the promotion of Catholicism at P.C., the administration seems to take a "hands-off" approach. They provide daily masses in Aquinas Chapel, occasionally hold masses in the Grotto when the weather is pleasant, but they do little to encourage their students to practice their Catholicism. They provide the opportunity for people to practice their faith, but they do little to actively promote it. Very rarely has the college sponsored a religious seminar, lecture, or workshop. That is not to say that Providence College now, yet the Knights of Columbus and other Catholic organizations on campus have been warned and the newly formed women's religious organization, the Sisters of St. Ann. These organizations make no pretense of being more evangelical. Providence College students do not live under religious policies on the campus. They are not, we are aware that theology is not taught in the campus. In this area there is a distinct need to take over Central America. It is clear that this is particularly to avoid Chad Brown Street. The purpose of this letter is not to cause panic or fear. Rather, it is to bring to the attention of what goes on outside the gates of Providence College; it is not prophesied that Providence College student body or those who read these pages will do this. However, outside of these events, the simple fact remains that in order to the campus or seeks to rigorously promote Catholicism. This is the gist of this commentary, that Catholicism is not part of the Providence College experience; it is just "there." It seems to me that many clergymen are afraid to "push" religion. They say that if they push too hard they will lose people. I agree with this view, but I also believe that if they talk to the people what they want to hear, which is not always "hands-off," they can win the people over. The Gospel truth I am not saying that all clergymen fall into this category, yet there are some people who would be afraid that if they become too aggressive in their approach, they would not be listened to. We need to find what they have to say. In my view, the most effective way to present Christ's message or make it easier for people to accept. We are all aware of the fact that truth we are only deceiving ourselves when we do not want to hear this awful fact and so we euphemize it by saying that they are not being flailed to stir a dialogue.

I have not met many priests or religious who do not provide the example of what it means to be a Christian. Setting the proper example for others to follow is very important in any vocation, yet the role of the clergymen should not stop there. His main concern should be in the evangelization of those who have not accepted Christ or who have accepted him but know little about him. Many students at P.C. know little about their faith and need encouragement in that same sense. It is in this sense that the role of the evangelist is important. It would be a great aid if the student decides to attend Providence College without any prior religious background. The student is enrolled as a freshman. I was in a religious studies course, but all I found were a lot of religious related activities. The great need is to have those who are religious studying related activities, and religious organizations interested in religion. Those interested in religious activities that promote the religious message should not be limited to 45 minutes on Sunday morning. Becoming a Christian is an ongoing process, which needs encouragement if it is to grow and develop. The Cowl needs to be more evangelical and should seek to promote the teachings of Jesus Christ. I am afraid that if they become too aggressive in their approach, they would not be listened to. We need to find what they have to say. In my view, the most effective way to present Christ's message or make it easier for people to accept. We are all aware of the fact that truth we are only deceiving ourselves when we do not want to hear this awful fact and so we euphemize it by saying that they are not being flailed to stir a dialogue.

The middle of September is upon us, and you know what that means—U.S. Congress returning to Washington from their summer recess. They have many topics to work on, but get back on the job. Among the political Adrian Street by the Chad Brown housing project. As I approached the conjecture, I saw a group of young boys who looked like they had been beaten to death, to endlessly wander nowhere and lead a miserable life. I have not met many priests or religious who do not provide the example of what it means to be a Christian. Setting the proper example for others to follow is very important in any vocation, yet the role of the clergymen should not stop there. His main concern should be in the evangelization of those who have not accepted Christ or who have accepted him but know little about him. Many students at P.C. know little about their faith and need encouragement in that same sense. It is in this sense that the role of the evangelist is important. It would be a great aid if the student decides to attend Providence College without any prior religious background. The student is enrolled as a freshman. I was in a religious studies course, but all I found were a lot of religious related activities. The great need is to have those who are religious studying related activities, and religious organizations interested in religion. Those interested in religious activities that promote the religious message should not be limited to 45 minutes on Sunday morning. Becoming a Christian is an ongoing process, which needs encouragement if it is to grow and develop. The Cowl needs to be more evangelical and should seek to promote the teachings of Jesus Christ. I am afraid that if they become too aggressive in their approach, they would not be listened to. We need to find what they have to say. In my view, the most effective way to present Christ's message or make it easier for people to accept. We are all aware of the fact that truth we are only deceiving ourselves when we do not want to hear this awful fact and so we euphemize it by saying that they are not being flailed to stir a dialogue.

The middle of September is upon us, and you know what that means—U.S. Congress returning to Washington from their summer recess. They have many topics to work on, but get back on the job. Among the political Adrian Street by the Chad Brown housing project. As I approached the conjecture, I saw a group of young boys who looked like they had been beaten to death, to endlessly wander nowhere and lead a miserable life. I have not met many priests or religious who do not provide the example of what it means to be a Christian. Setting the proper example for others to follow is very important in any vocation, yet the role of the clergymen should not stop there. His main concern should be in the evangelization of those who have not accepted Christ or who have accepted him but know little about him. Many students at P.C. know little about their faith and need encouragement in that same sense. It is in this sense that the role of the evangelist is important. It would be a great aid if the student decides to attend Providence College without any prior religious background. The student is enrolled as a freshman. I was in a religious studies course, but all I found were a lot of religious related activities. The great need is to have those who are religious studying related activities, and religious organizations interested in religion. Those interested in religious activities that promote the religious message should not be limited to 45 minutes on Sunday morning. Becoming a Christian is an ongoing process, which needs encouragement if it is to grow and develop. The Cowl needs to be more evangelical and should seek to promote the teachings of Jesus Christ. I am afraid that if they become too aggressive in their approach, they would not be listened to. We need to find what they have to say. In my view, the most effective way to present Christ's message or make it easier for people to accept. We are all aware of the fact that truth we are only deceiving ourselves when we do not want to hear this awful fact and so we euphemize it by saying that they are not being flailed to stir a dialogue.

Skullcinations

by Jane McAdiffe

The weekend is here and you're all ready to start enjoying yourself. Life is too short. Romance is hot and steamy as ever. However, beware of theправда вулкана. It is hot and steamy as ever. However, beware of the tendency to over-heat and become a "dangerous woman." So, take it easy, and have a good time. But don't forget to stay safe and have a great weekend!

Rockwell Video Network

Tuning into the video scene

by Jim Vorhach

Columbia School of Soup Kitchen Technology WANTS YOU!

The deadline has been extended and Rockwell has now been in operation for 200 weeks. This has been a long time for the college and the students, who have been looking forward to this opportunity for some time. The Rockwell Video Network (RVN) is a project that has been in development for several years and has now reached its full potential.

The RVN is a network of video programs that are produced by Columbia College and are designed to provide education and entertainment for the Rockwell community. The network consists of more than 100 shows, each featuring a variety of topics, from music and film to sports and current events.

The RVN is a popular destination for Rockwell students and faculty. The network is watched by thousands of people each week and is an important part of the Rockwell community. The RVN is a great resource for students who are looking for a place to express themselves and for faculty who are looking for a way to connect with students.

The RVN is a great resource for students and faculty who are looking for a way to express themselves and for faculty who are looking for a way to connect with students. The RVN is a great resource for students who are looking for a place to express themselves and for faculty who are looking for a way to connect with students.
The perils of mealtime

Off-campus living
tends to become a battle of the will against the budget. The will has good intentions yet the pocketbook and appetite never seem to agree. First thing a shopper notices upon entering the heavenly gates of the supermarket is the goodies. (Actually, I should say the stuff flab is made of). The trick is to wear a blind fold when you embark on your mission. This way, bags of potato chips and packages of cookies won’t grab out at you and ask “buy me!”

What should you buy, you ask? The idea here is to think nutrition. You say you don’t know what that word means, according to Webster’s New Collegiate Dictionary, nutrition is “the act or process of nourishing or being nourished.” As a shopper you should recognize nutrition. Cookies and beer do not top the list.

My advice to you is to read The New Guide to Career Development. In Dewar’s Guide there are several factors presented to help you choose the career that will best fulfill your personal goals. The career you choose may be the one that will bring you the most satisfaction and fulfill your personal interests and goals.

Jim Quinn is a character. William Safire called him “deliberately and deliberately outrageous.” In Benjamin Mott’s introduction to American Tongue and Cheek, Jim is described as “one of our current best, a rude, shrewd, fastly knowledgeable, exaltarily good-hearted American.” Nika Hadeton, food critic for The New York Times, said that he was “the man I most want to go to restaurant with.”

Jim is only too happy to oblige, and in But Never Eat Out on a Saturday Night readers go with him to a not-a-restaurant, but to eight, from the Madison Dinner, an haute cuisine by way of a Chinese kitchen and the back room of a pizza parlor. Along the way, he shares both his knowledge and his irreverent advice:

Tacos Olay!!!

I pound hamburger, 1 package taco seasoning 1 cup diced tomatoes 1 cup shredded lettuce 1 cup shredded mozzarella cheese taco sauce, optional

Brown meat and add taco seasoning. Heat taco shells. Place rest of ingredients in the taco shells after they have been removed from the oven.

What’s your major? A guide to career development

by V. Chwast

* SCTV Continued from page 5

Among college students, particular attention should be paid to the most often asked question. Yet, many students, even when they are able to choose the correct major that will lead them to a successful and enjoyable career.

Recently Schenectady Imports, the distributors of Dewar’s Scotch Whiskey, produced a guide for college students entitled “The Dewar’s Guide to Career Development.” In this booklet, Dewar’s stresses the personal interests and goals an individual possesses. Truth and forecasts for future job openings are essential guidelines, yet “ultimately the path one follows must come from within. Skills, interests and personal needs.

Years ago a person’s career was determined at their birth. Rooted in tradition and bound by culture, as an individual pursued the profession of their parent’s choice. Be it law or medicine. The opportunities are unlimited. One fact is obvious, your career cannot be legislated and that is the number of jobs available in a given field.

In Dewar’s Guide there are several factors presented to help you the student choose the career that will best fulfill your personal goals. The career you choose may be the one that will bring you the most satisfaction and fulfill your personal interests and goals.

Computer Services

Secretaries

Electronic Engineers

Dental Hygienists

Nurses

Systems Analysts

Computer Scientists

Electronic Engineers

Professional Engineers

* Foxey

From continued on page 11

* Foxy

Continued from page 11

Crazy Brewnosher Smith uses a dressy Brewnosher Smith uses dressy Brooks dress- corded in hockey outfits to test the effects of his beer, each of them responding with various motor commands via a series of organ tones. There are also several “tasters” who may find just a bit too foreign, such a

OCCUPATIONAL PRESTIGE SCALE

Page 5

As the beer in the dog dish combo, but it is fresh, easygoing comedy, the kind of stuff you unfortunately don’t get to see a lot of these days.

Brew is a light upper, providing a non-stop 90 minutes of some of the best drunken fun $4 can buy. Beauty, eh?

What’s your major? A guide to career development

by V. Chwast

* SCTV Continued from page 5

Among college students, particular attention should be paid to the most often asked question. Yet, many students, even when they are able to choose the correct major that will lead them to a successful and enjoyable career.

Recently Schenectady Imports, the distributors of Dewar’s Scotch Whiskey, produced a guide for college students entitled “The Dewar’s Guide to Career Development.” In this booklet, Dewar’s stresses the personal interests and goals an individual possesses. Truth and forecasts for future job openings are essential guidelines, yet “ultimately the path one follows must come from within. Skills, interests and personal needs.

Years ago a person’s career was determined at their birth. Rooted in tradition and bound by culture, as an individual pursued the profession of their parent’s choice. Be it law or medicine. The opportunities are unlimited. One fact is obvious, your career cannot be legislated and that is the number of jobs available in a given field.

In Dewar’s Guide there are several factors presented to help you the student choose the career that will best fulfill your personal goals. The career you choose may be the one that will bring you the most satisfaction and fulfill your personal interests and goals.

Computer Services

Secretaries

Electronic Engineers

Dental Hygienists

Nurses

Systems Analysts

Computer Scientists

Electronic Engineers

Professional Engineers

* Foxy

Continued from page 11

Crazy Brewnosher Smith uses a dressy Brewnosher Smith uses dressy Brooks dress- corded in hockey outfits to test the effects of his beer, each of them responding with various motor commands via a series of organ tones. There are also several “tasters” who may find just a bit too foreign, such
ONE OF THE OLDEST WAYS TO BECOME AN ARMY OFFICER IS STILL ONE OF THE BEST.

The Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) is more than a college program. It's a tradition. For 163 years, ROTC has been training people to do a job that also is a tradition. The job of an Army officer.

In 1819, Captain Alden Partridge, a former superintendent at West Point, started what we know today as Army ROTC. He felt our country needed more "citizen soldiers." So he established the first private school to offer military instruction. It didn't take long for his idea to spread. By the turn of the century, 105 colleges and universities across the country were offering military instruction on their campuses.

Today, with Army ROTC available at over 1,400 colleges and universities, the program is stronger than ever. And last year alone, over 20,000 students participated. Some were interested in the leadership and management training. Others enrolled on full-rotation scholarships. And the financial assistance--up to $1,000 a year during the last two years of ROTC--attracted still others.

But all of them had one thing in common: the desire to begin their future as Army officers. Why don't you do the same? You'll graduate to a position of real responsibility. Exercise leadership and management skills. Build a secure future for yourself. And enjoy the travel, adventure and prestige of being a second lieutenant in today's Army.

Army ROTC. Be all you can be. Contact Cpt. Andre Thibeault, Room 164, Alumni Hall or call 865-2023.

FRIAR COUNCIL K OF C ANNOUNCEMENTS

APPLICANTS

All applicants seeking admission into Friar Council K of C must return your application forms by Monday, September 19, 1983. Make returns at the K of C office (Slavin 107-B) or student services (Slavin 204).

FALL BALL

Tickets for Friar Council's Annual Fall Ball will be on sale next week.

Watch for them—and buy early!

PARTYING AND THE PPD*

(* Providence Police Dept.)

A PRESENTATION BY

Major Walter J. Clark

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT TO THE CHIEF OF POLICE

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1983

4:00 P.M.

'64 HALL SLAVIN CENTER

Sponsored by Student Services

ALL STUDENTS ARE INVITED!

Providence College

LAW DAY 1983

THURSDAY

SEPTEMBER 29

11 AM to 3 PM

'64 HALL SLAVIN CENTER

Over 20 Law Schools Will Be There!

DON'T MISS IT.

Sponsored By

THE CAREER PLANNING & PLACEMENT SERVICE, 865-2305

Providence College Counseling Center, Slavin 210

- PLEASE POST -

Montreal

Providence College and Board of Programmers

PRESENT MONTRÉAL

Getaway Weekend

October 21-23

$105.

COMPLETE PRICE

GETAWAY WEEKEND INCLUDES:

- Round Trip Motor Coach Transportation From Your Campus
- Two Nights Lodging At The Fabulous QUALITY INN HOTEL
- Fall Canadian Breakfast Daily
- Welcome Party/Dinner With Beer Or Wine
- Welcome Guide To This Dazzling City
- Free Sightseeing Tour Of Exciting MONTREAL Or Olympic Stadium Swim And Tour
- Professionally Escorted
- All Taxes And Gratuities

CONTACT:

TRAVEL COMMITTEE

B.O.P. OFFICE

865-2493

SLAVIN CENTER

Montreal

Getaway Weekend

October 21-23

Complete Price

- Round Trip Motor Coach Transportation From Your Campus
- Two Nights Lodging At The Fabulous QUALITY INN HOTEL
- Fall Canadian Breakfast Daily
- Welcome Party/Dinner With Beer Or Wine
- Welcome Guide To This Dazzling City
- Free Sightseeing Tour Of Exciting MONTREAL Or Olympic Stadium Swim And Tour
- Professionally Escorted
- All Taxes And Gratuities

CONTACT:

TRAVEL COMMITTEE

B.O.P. OFFICE

865-2493

SLAVIN CENTER

Montreal

Providence College and Board of Programmers

PRESENT MONTRÉAL

Getaway Weekend

October 21-23

$105.

COMPLETE PRICE

GETAWAY WEEKEND INCLUDES:

- Round Trip Motor Coach Transportation From Your Campus
- Two Nights Lodging At The Fabulous QUALITY INN HOTEL
- Fall Canadian Breakfast Daily
- Welcome Party/Dinner With Beer Or Wine
- Welcome Guide To This Dazzling City
- Free Sightseeing Tour Of Exciting MONTREAL Or Olympic Stadium Swim And Tour
- Professionally Escorted
- All Taxes And Gratuities

CONTACT:

TRAVEL COMMITTEE

B.O.P. OFFICE

865-2493

SLAVIN CENTER

Montreal

Providence College and Board of Programmers

PRESENT MONTRÉAL

Getaway Weekend

October 21-23

$105.

COMPLETE PRICE

GETAWAY WEEKEND INCLUDES:

- Round Trip Motor Coach Transportation From Your Campus
- Two Nights Lodging At The Fabulous QUALITY INN HOTEL
- Fall Canadian Breakfast Daily
- Welcome Party/Dinner With Beer Or Wine
- Welcome Guide To This Dazzling City
- Free Sightseeing Tour Of Exciting MONTREAL Or Olympic Stadium Swim And Tour
- Professionally Escorted
- All Taxes And Gratuities

CONTACT:

TRAVEL COMMITTEE

B.O.P. OFFICE

865-2493

SLAVIN CENTER

Montreal

Providence College and Board of Programmers

PRESENT MONTRÉAL

Getaway Weekend

October 21-23

$105.

COMPLETE PRICE

GETAWAY WEEKEND INCLUDES:

- Round Trip Motor Coach Transportation From Your Campus
- Two Nights Lodging At The Fabulous QUALITY INN HOTEL
- Fall Canadian Breakfast Daily
- Welcome Party/Dinner With Beer Or Wine
- Welcome Guide To This Dazzling City
- Free Sightseeing Tour Of Exciting MONTREAL Or Olympic Stadium Swim And Tour
- Professionally Escorted
- All Taxes And Gratuities

CONTACT:

TRAVEL COMMITTEE

B.O.P. OFFICE

865-2493

SLAVIN CENTER

Montreal

Providence College and Board of Programmers

PRESENT MONTRÉAL

Getaway Weekend

October 21-23

$105.

COMPLETE PRICE

GETAWAY WEEKEND INCLUDES:

- Round Trip Motor Coach Transportation From Your Campus
- Two Nights Lodging At The Fabulous QUALITY INN HOTEL
- Fall Canadian Breakfast Daily
- Welcome Party/Dinner With Beer Or Wine
- Welcome Guide To This Dazzling City
- Free Sightseeing Tour Of Exciting MONTREAL Or Olympic Stadium Swim And Tour
- Professionally Escorted
- All Taxes And Gratuities

CONTACT:

TRAVEL COMMITTEE

B.O.P. OFFICE

865-2493

SLAVIN CENTER

Montreal

Providence College and Board of Programmers

PRESENT MONTRÉAL

Getaway Weekend

October 21-23

$105.

COMPLETE PRICE

GETAWAY WEEKEND INCLUDES:

- Round Trip Motor Coach Transportation From Your Campus
- Two Nights Lodging At The Fabulous QUALITY INN HOTEL
- Fall Canadian Breakfast Daily
- Welcome Party/Dinner With Beer Or Wine
- Welcome Guide To This Dazzling City
- Free Sightseeing Tour Of Exciting MONTREAL Or Olympic Stadium Swim And Tour
- Professionally Escorted
- All Taxes And Gratuities

CONTACT:

TRAVEL COMMITTEE

B.O.P. OFFICE

865-2493

SLAVIN CENTER

Montreal

Providence College and Board of Programmers

PRESENT MONTRÉAL

Getaway Weekend

October 21-23

$105.

COMPLETE PRICE

GETAWAY WEEKEND INCLUDES:

- Round Trip Motor Coach Transportation From Your Campus
- Two Nights Lodging At The Fabulous QUALITY INN HOTEL
- Fall Canadian Breakfast Daily
- Welcome Party/Dinner With Beer Or Wine
- Welcome Guide To This Dazzling City
- Free Sightseeing Tour Of Exciting MONTREAL Or Olympic Stadium Swim And Tour
- Professionally Escorted
- All Taxes And Gratuities

CONTACT:

TRAVEL COMMITTEE

B.O.P. OFFICE

865-2493

SLAVIN CENTER

Montreal

Providence College and Board of Programmers

PRESENT MONTRÉAL

Getaway Weekend

October 21-23

$105.

COMPLETE PRICE

GETAWAY WEEKEND INCLUDES:

- Round Trip Motor Coach Transportation From Your Campus
- Two Nights Lodging At The Fabulous QUALITY INN HOTEL
- Fall Canadian Breakfast Daily
- Welcome Party/Dinner With Beer Or Wine
- Welcome Guide To This Dazzling City
- Free Sightseeing Tour Of Exciting MONTREAL Or Olympic Stadium Swim And Tour
- Professionally Escorted
- All Taxes And Gratuities

CONTACT:

TRAVEL COMMITTEE

B.O.P. OFFICE

865-2493

SLAVIN CENTER
Super eight

President's Day Road Race

This Week in Sports
SCOREBOARD

VOLLEYBALL
PC beat UNH 3-0; 15-3, 15-5, 15-1
Record: 1-0

FORMER FRIARS
Basketball star Kerry Phayre (83) is now assistant women's basketball coach for the University of Vermont.
Marianne McCoy (80) was named head coach of women's basketball at Adelphi University in New York. McCoy, a two-time member of the Lady-Friars basketball team, was assistant coach at Dartmouth College before the new appointment was made.

TEENIS
Women's
Men's coach Jacques Faustine was appointed both men's and women's coach.

INTRAMURALS
In late September the IAB will be sponsoring athletic competition in three on three basketball, co-ed water polo, and mixed doubles tennis.
More information can be obtained at the IAB office.

OLYMPIC UPDATE
PC hockey Friars Kurt Kleiner (83), Rich Costello (85) and Paul Guay (85) were chosen to represent the USA in the Winter Olympics in Sarajevo in February '84. To this date, Costello has 3 assists and Guay has been sidelined with an injury. No information was given to the extent of his injury.

Grad Rate of '83 basketball players
1. Big East 77%
2. Big Eight 50%
3. MVC 44%
4. Pac 10 41%
5. SEC 40%
6. ACC 37%
7. Big 10 30%
8. Metro 28%
9. SWC 17%

R.I. all-staters at PC
Cranston West:
Barbara Palumbo-tennis
Cranston East:
Dan Rice-baseball
Hendricken:
Gerry Habershaw-football
Pilgrim:
Nisa San Giovanni-softball
Toll Gate:
Debbie Lottimer-hockey

Mary Burke-basketball
Warwick:
Kerrie Fisette-volleyball

SPORTS NOTEBOOK
Providence College will host a game against the USA Olympic hockey team at Schneider arena in November.

continued from page 1
Father Peterson, coach Lamorielo, and coach Stirling put their trust in me.
"I think that my job will -- well the word that comes to mind is loyalty -- to Providence College and coach Steve Stirling. The players have to know this. We're both working as a team to produce the best results on the ice," Gaffney, a nine-year coach at Pilgrim High School in Warwick, played for Lamorielo from 1968 through 1973. Captain of the team his senior year, he led PC to an overall three-year total of 42-32-3.

While coaching Pilgrim, Gaffney led his teams to two divisional championships in addition to the R.I. Interscholastic League Metropolitan "B" title.
Lamorielo also announced that his long-time assistant, Bob Bellemore, will assume the managerial duties of Schneider Arena and also other functions within the athletic department.
It's nice to hear he will remain at PC in that area of the campus he has helped to build in prestige.

Get down to business faster.
With the BA-35.

If there's one thing business students have always needed, this is it: an affordable, business-oriented calculator.
The Texas Instruments BA-35, the Student Business Analyst.
Its built-in business formulas let you perform complicated finance, accounting and statistical functions -- the ones that usually require a lot of time and a stack of reference books, like present and future value calculations, amortizations and balloon payments.
The BA-35 means you spend less time calculating, and more time learning. One keystroke takes the place of many.
The calculator is just part of the package. You also get a book that follows most business courses: the Business Analyst Guidebook. Business professors helped us write it, to help you get the most out of calculator and classroom.

A powerful combination. Think business. With the BA-35 Student Business Analyst.

Texas Instruments
Creating useful products and services for you.

Coffee House
AUDITIONS
Thursday
SEPT. 22
and Friday
SEPT. 23
from 3:00-4:00
on each day
• Singers
• Musicians
• Student Comedians
All Students Welcome to Audition
"SIGN UP IN BOP OFFICE

Get down to business faster.
With the BA-35.

If there's one thing business students have always needed, this is it: an affordable, business-oriented calculator.
The Texas Instruments BA-35, the Student Business Analyst.
Its built-in business formulas let you perform complicated finance, accounting and statistical functions -- the ones that usually require a lot of time and a stack of reference books, like present and future value calculations, amortizations and balloon payments.
The BA-35 means you spend less time calculating, and more time learning. One keystroke takes the place of many.
The calculator is just part of the package. You also get a book that follows most business courses: the Business Analyst Guidebook. Business professors helped us write it, to help you get the most out of calculator and classroom.

A powerful combination. Think business. With the BA-35 Student Business Analyst.

Texas Instruments
Creating useful products and services for you.

Get down to business faster.
With the BA-35.

If there's one thing business students have always needed, this is it: an affordable, business-oriented calculator.
The Texas Instruments BA-35, the Student Business Analyst.
Its built-in business formulas let you perform complicated finance, accounting and statistical functions -- the ones that usually require a lot of time and a stack of reference books, like present and future value calculations, amortizations and balloon payments.
The BA-35 means you spend less time calculating, and more time learning. One keystroke takes the place of many.
The calculator is just part of the package. You also get a book that follows most business courses: the Business Analyst Guidebook. Business professors helped us write it, to help you get the most out of calculator and classroom.

A powerful combination. Think business. With the BA-35 Student Business Analyst.

Texas Instruments
Creating useful products and services for you.
Sheedy promoted to Head B-ball coach

Lynn Sheedy, a 1980 graduate of Providence College, was named the women's basketball coach in late July. She was selected to assume full-time position in the athletic department that would include coaching softball in the spring and overseeing several administrative duties throughout the year. She was assistant coach last year.

Sheedy was a member of the Lady Friar basketball team during her undergraduate years. She was a three-sport standout, excelling in field hockey, basketball, and softball.

In her junior year she was PC's Female Athlete of the year and currently ranks second on the school's all-time leading scoring list and first on the assist list.

During her basketball career, PC teams posted consecutive records of 18-6, 21-5, 21-9 and 22-7 for an impressive 82-27 mark. They also went to four Northeast Regional tournaments and won the title her senior year, advancing to the division I AAWU National. In announcing the appointment, Athletic Director Lou Ferrante '66 said, "Lynn has distinguished herself as a leader of young women. I am pleased that she will continue to be a part of our department and confident that she will make a major contribution to the continuing success of our overall athletic program!"

Sheedy has a great amount of experience in strategy. Following her senior season, she was drafted to the Iowa Cornettes of the Women's Basketball Association, but the team folded and she was given a try-out by the Nebraska Wranglers.

Lynn joined the Providence staff in fall of 1980 as the assistant basketball and head softball coach. Under coach Joe Mullane Jr. she handled much of the paperwork and recruiting, and assisted with practice.

Hoop rules to vary

The NCAA men's basketball rules committee met recently to decide the fate of the three-point goal and the shot clock. The committee found that more research is needed before determining whether or not to adopt the new experimental rules.

The Big East Conference will award the first conference for another year. However, the number of teams using the rules will be limited to 20 during the 1983-84 season.

Six conferences were allowed to use the rules in the 1983-84 season as a follow-up. Two conferences will use the three-point goal. Shots must be taken from 19.9 feet or farther to count as three points.

Two conferences will be allowed to use the shot clock for another season. The number of teams using the rules will be limited to 20 during the 1983-84 season.

The shot clock was 30 seconds last season. This year, the shot clock will be 35 seconds for all but the last four minutes of the game.

Women's soccer

The Big East Conference will award the first conference for another year. However, the number of teams using the rules will be limited to 20 during the 1983-84 season.

Six conferences were allowed to use the rules in the 1983-84 season as a follow-up. Two conferences will use the three-point goal. Shots must be taken from 19.9 feet or farther to count as three points.

Two conferences will be allowed to use the shot clock for another season. The number of teams using the rules will be limited to 20 during the 1983-84 season.

The shot clock was 30 seconds last season. This year, the shot clock will be 35 seconds for all but the last four minutes of the game.

for all but the last four minutes of the game.

The new rules were used by 12 conferences during the 1982-83 season. However, each conference had variations of the rules, causing a lot of confusion to players.

For example, some schools used 17 feet as the distance required for a three-point goal, while others used 22 feet. The shot clock was 30 seconds with some schools and 45 seconds with others.

Sheedy signs pact

Sheedy has a great amount of experience in strategy. Following her senior season, she was drafted to the Iowa Cornettes of the Women's Basketball Association, but the team folded and she was given a try-out by the Nebraska Wranglers.

Lynn joined the Providence staff in fall of 1980 as the assistant basketball and head softball coach. Under coach Joe Mullane Jr. she handled much of the paperwork and recruiting, and assisted with practice.

The shot clock and three-point goals were introduced as a method of increasing scoring in college basketball.

Teams that did use the new rules last season did improve their average score.

The Big East, however, did not change its stats that much. It had the 45-second clock only. Though it is not a certainty at this time, it figures that the league will get its way - that is, they'll retain the shot clock. More details will be forthcoming.