ABC's The Day After

In response to ABC's airing of The Day After on November 20, several Providence religious and social organizations have scheduled a community gathering at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, November 21 at St. Martin's Church. The purpose of the gathering is to allow people a time to express and share what they are feeling about the potential destruction of our planet through nuclear disaster and to decide what they, as citizens of the United States, want to do about it.

The ABC Special about the destruction of Lawrence, Kansas in an all-out nuclear war is expected to be viewed by more than forty million people. Executives at ABC have called it the most important film they've ever aired.

"We're concerned," said Carole Marshall, one of the organizers of the Providence gathering, "that, without a way to respond, viewers could be thrown into deep despair by seeing The Day After. The film makes nuclear holocaust seem inevitable. It is important to remind people that there is still time to prevent nuclear annihilation.

The community gathering on The Day After is a carefully facilitated three hour program. During the course of the evening, folks (the goal is 100 attendees) will work in small groups, in pairs, in the group as a whole, and as individuals. Various techniques of interaction and process will be used, including verbal communication, writing, drawing and singing.

and other related fields was held October 21 and 22, and it involved such speakers - as Ronald grilled-witz, the President of Helene Curtis Industries, George L. Ball, The President of Prudential - Bush Securities Inc. along with many other interesting and informative speakers. All the while, AIESEC members developed organizational skills in planning national conferences and meeting and converting with top business executives.

AIESEC attracts students with interests outside business : tool Biology, English, Computer Science, Liberal Arts, and International Relations) members will attend to the availability of openings in Public Relations, Management Information Systems, and Journalism. AIESEC can serve as a worthwhile alternative for students that cannot financially afford or fit semesters studying abroad or full immersion programs.

Due to the extreme lack of Providence College student and faculty participation with the organization over the years - the general impression that has formulated among most members from the other universities is that "Providence College is weak... not interested." In reality, the majority of Providence students have not been informed properly of its existence or even any direction towards involvement with the organization.

For information about meetings, membership etc. contact: Mr. Brian Bolivar, 3200 immediately. Don't miss the first AIESEC meeting to be held Thursday, November 17, at 7 p.m. in 64 Hall. Members from the Brown University Chapter will speak in greater detail about AIESEC and answer any questions you may have. You are also welcome to attend Browns' meetings which are held every Thursday at 7 p.m. (short meeting) 295 Angell Street, Providence, IIl Thayer Street, near "Steve's ice cream!"

"major" is or what "year" you are in -- you can become a member of AIESEC anytime during your undergraduate career. You can apply for a fellowship abroad whenever you wish (some prefer to do it over the summer; others after graduation).

If working abroad does not interest you, you can still become involved in the other AIESEC activities (I.e. helping with the Spring Regional Conference to be held in March - planning guest speakers, entertainment, training seminars, duties, you also can help "market" AIESEC to top executives in businesses throughout RI etc.

AIESEC in Rhode Island has consistently been honored as one of the most outstanding chapters in the United States. Colleges and universities such as Brown University and Bryant College are affiliated with AIESEC, and "surprisingly enough" Providence College is listed as one of the "affiliated chapters" in the AIESEC brochures.

The last night of JRW, the formal night, proved very interesting for Diane and her date. "Our bus broke down on the way," I thought I was stuck, but I got another ride. I arrived at the formal in a tow truck." Many people rented limos, but to each his own.

Overall Diane found the whole experience rewarding. "It made me feel good. I was glad everything came off well and was really pleased to be part of a committee that worked so well as a team. There are so many other people I'd like to thank. Even if they don't get the attention they deserve, they know who they are. They have the satisfaction that comes from having completed a job well done. Overall, it was a worthwhile experience."

Thanksgiving Thought

By Ted Hodkinson

So often in our materialistic world one hears people complaining about the things that they have not, have. “If only I had this, my life would be complete” or “I wish I had all the things that he has”. In today’s possession-oriented world we become so preoccupied with hearing someone giving thanks for what they have.

The term “thanksgiving” seems to have lost all of its meaning. Thanksgiving Day has become just another day off from work or school. It has become a day to gather with relatives and friends to talk about all the good things in their lives, of all the people that they love, and all the things that they love doing, then it is all over. We should have this. We may never forget that gift that he has been given: the gift of life. This gift is so basic that sometimes it is taken for granted. As humans, we are not necessary beings. We were created by God because he wanted them. We are a gift; the most important gift of all. This Thanksgiving remember that gift and be thankful for it. Remember that gift of life when you are complaining about some material thing that you wish you had.

I appreciate the gift of my life. It is a gift that one person has never been given me.

By David Preston

The power of the mass media, especially that of television in our society, is wide ranging. Any group who wishes to get its goals to achieve will go to great lengths to get their message out. The media is the only place where you can reach the public, and finding out where to reach the public is always the problem. The media is also the only place where you can find the information that you want to use. The media is also the only place where you can find the information that you want to use.

One of the most important things that they want for their children is education. It has become a day that parents give presents to their children to show how much they love them. It has become a day when parents give presents to their children to show how much they love them.

Skull Kidnapped

Dear Editor:

I read the column by the student known as "Skull" in the November 10 issue of The Cowl with dismay. This poor student is being kept at P.C. against his will, by some unscrupulous friars, in tactics reminiscent of the Middle Ages, kidnapped him and forced him to attend a Catholic college. Moreover these friars must have exerted almost $10,000 a year from his parents to keep him in bondage. (This is analogous to my parents being forced into debt so that I could be a member of Madelyn Murray O'Hare's atheistic organization.) Clearly, no one in his right mind would freely choose to attend a college whose principles are so inimical to his own. I can only conclude that he has been coerced. It is an outrage! It reminds me of one of the worst excesses of the Moonies! The American hostages in Iran suffered little in comparison with this student. Just because the Dominican friars have given up families and salaries, lived in dormitories which are unheated during freezing weather, and afforded no hot water, than the friars who have kept "Skull" at P.C. They are unscrupulous friars.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE WOMEN AT PC

Women of PC be recognized! Wake up! Stand up for what you know is right!

You hear a lot of talk on campus these days about the FRIARS CLUB. Some students are for it, others against it. So be it. We are not entering into that controversy. We want to draw your attention to another group. A group of men. An exclusive group of men. A group that discriminates. They won't allow women to join! Who are they? They are the men of Friar Council Knights of Columbus.

Who do they think they are? Or better, who are they? What do they do? What's so great about the "KofC"?

The KofC -- specifically Friar Council KofC -- is a group of men who are practising Catholic men. They number -- on campus -- about 160. They hold 4 blood drives a year that helps save lives. They are dedicated to the pro-life movement that speaks out on the sacredness of human life. They march once a year in D.C. to prove their point. They have a program going at PC to assist the elderly in the neighborhood around PC. They have a visitation program going at the VA hospital. They serve the campus Masses at PC. They hold an annual Easter egg hunt for the youngsters in the neighborhood. They participate in a State wide Tootsie Roll drive to help the retarded. They donate a lot of money to charities. They have a lot of fraternal activities for the members of the council: outings, trips, socials and an annual Fraternity Night Award social. They are probably doing more than any other single group on campus. Yet they don't receive a penny from Student Congress. And they don't want to. That's why they can discriminate. Their revenue is from members' dues and various fund raising projects such as the Halloween tunnels. Their principles are Charity, Unity, Fraternity and Patriotism. They are a Catholic group that take their faith seriously. And lastly, they are the only Fraternity at PC.

WOMEN OF PC WAKE UP!

Unite! Join the only Sorority at PC! Join a group of women who can do everything that the KofC is doing -- except we can do better. Join the DofI at PC: St. Catherine of Siena Circle DofI.

St. Catherine of Siena Circle DofI (Daughters of Isabella) was founded at PC in 1982. We began as a group of women at PC who were known previously as "The Ladies Auxiliary to Friar Council KofC". History repeats itself. The first Circle of the DofI began as a "Ladies Auxiliary" to a KofC Council in New Haven in 1897.

WE PROTESTED. We got tired of doing "women's work": putting on their make-up for the Halloween Tunnels, fixing their trays of food for their fraternal socials to which we could not be invited. So we decided to form a SEPARATE BUT EQUAL ORGANIZATION.

We found one that already existed founded on the same principles as the KofC: The DofI. The DofI are founded on the principles of Charity, Unity, Sorority and Patriotism. It has its own secret ceremonials of initiation too. The DofI is the women's answer to the KofC. St. Catherine of Siena Circle DofI is a history maker. It is the FIRST College Circle of the DofI. (The KofC have about 60 college Councils in America).

WOMEN OF PC WAKE UP! We admit that the KofC is a great organization -- for men. But we have the potential to be far greater. But we need members. We need women -- practising Catholic women who take their faith seriously. Women willing to join other women at PC dedicated to CHARITY, UNITY AND SORORITY.

The eyes of two nations are watching the women of PC. More than 1,300 Circles of the DofI in the United States and Canada are watching the fate and future of St. Catherine of Siena Circle -- the FIRST COLLEGE CIRCLE in the DofI's History.

Why the name "Daughters of Isabella"? We are under the patronage of Queen Isabella I of Spain -- the woman responsible for Columbus' success! Had it not been for Isabella, Columbus more likely than not would have died on the docks in Spain.

The KofC is firmly established in the "new world" -- the world financed by Isabella. We think it's high time that we took our rightful place in "the new world" as a group of dedicated Catholic women: the DofI.

Want to know more about us? Our goals? Plans?

Attend St. Catherine of Siena Circle DofI "Candidate's Night" on Monday, November 28 at 7:00 p.m. in the Colonel's Corner. Refreshments will be served. It will be a brief but very informative meeting. It could be the most important meeting you ever attended at PC.

PC Earns NCAA Tourney Berth, Huskies Seek Revenge On Sunday

by Richard Testa

By now, you must have heard the news: the Friar men's soccer team has been given the No. 1 seed in the New York - New England Region of the 1983 NCAA Soccer Tournament.

Because of the lack of stands and space surrounding Gay Field, PC must play at the home field of their opponent, the University of Connecticut, this Sunday at noon.

"It's partly a shame we have to play them there," head coach Bill Doyle said Monday, "because the last bit," said Friar head coach Bill Doyle said with a smile.

Yet, he isn't complaining. The Friars are 13-2-2 and will be making their first-ever NCAA appearance. He couldn't be happier.

"I'm very pleased with being placed No. 1," he said. "I didn't know if we'd get it. But they (the NCAA committee) said you beat everyone you were supposed to beat."

"I think we deserved it. I wasn't sure what the committee would be looking for, I was apprehensive."

The only reason PC was unsure of a bid was because they lost to Syracuse, 4-3, last Sunday in the Big East Tournament. (Ironically enough, that game was on Saturday, the site of Sunday's game.)

The Friars came back three times to tie the Orange, yet could not move ahead. SU's 5-4-3 had won the match when he turned a return shot. Peter Rothman put into a goal at 91:06 to remain in the game.

PC's scores were by senior forward Randal D'Andrea (from Brenton LaBranche, senior captain Matt Gilbride (from Eric LaBranche), and junior Art Podgorski (from D'Andre). The score was tied at one at the half. Some figures from the game PC had the advantage in shots on goal 12-, corner kicks 5-0, and were called offside only three times. SU committed 21 fouls to PC's 8.

Some facts about the game: two of Providence's key players, forward Marty Hayes and stopped Matt Gilbride, had suffered injuries during the preceding weekend and played at less than full strength.

How else can you account for four goals scored, Doyle wondered out loud, when you only gave up ten goals the season.

"If we play our disciplined, unselfish game, we can win this anybody," coach Doyle said. "You know, I'm just happy we've got the opportunity - I'm happy for the kids."

O'Flynn Wins IC4A

by Paul Weller

Another chapter of the Richard O'Flynn Running Storybook was composed this week as he ran in the season's first big day in the IC4A Championships.

Richard, Irishman, who characteristically lets his feet rather than his mouth do the talking, pulled away from the class field after just 2.5 miles and maintained his form to the near-hallie-minute of his national dream.

The victory was virtually the last place of the inaugural who has been quietly fitting into place this year; the only blunder being his 3rd place in the Big East where he was ninth.

Balbina with emphasis after the race, O'Flynn claims that he is now looking forward to the NCAAs over the course next week, the Irish Inter-Colleges at Christchurch, some top class meets in the New Year, the Irish and World Cross-Country meet in early March, and then the Olympics in July. "Nothing should hold me back until the time for the Olympics in July."

O'Flynn's performance should not be allowed to overshadow the efforts of former Irish Junior Cross-Country champion Andy Ronan who finished in fourth place. Andy's dramatic improvement in this year has been a revelation and a surprise to

The Providence College hockey team bounced back from two losses this past week, scoring four goals in the final period to take a 3-0 Providence victory Oct. 26 (7-53 remaining in the game.)
